Students Honor Mothers in May Day Fete

Campus Thespians To Present Plays Tomorrow Night

Student Productions To Be Featured In Chapel

According to their annual custom the Domino Players will entertain our mothers again this Saturday night with the One-Acters, written by students in Dr. Douds' English 15 course.

For those of you who don't know, every student who takes English 15 writes a one-act play. After Dr. Douds has checked them, members of the Domino Club read the better ones and choose the final five to make up a program for the mothers who come to visit on mother's weekend, or May Day.

The program this year will include the following five plays: "Blue Birthday," "Capillano," "Molly's Pitcher," "The Best Laid Plans," "Double Trouble."

Skits Reality and Fancy

"Blue Birthday," written by Mary Jane Haessler, is a fantasy about a woman who dreamed she was married to three men besides her real husband. The play is being directed by Jerome Denner. The cast includes Jerry Ross, John Roeder, John Teger, Harold Leeders, and Paul Deysher.

"Capillano," written by Mary Nicol, is a story of a debutante and her ex-lover, who meet again by accident at an Italian restaurant. The play is being directed by John Hertz. The cast includes Bill Dearden, Marie Kauffman, Ethel Mae Yeakel, Eleanor Shubert, John Hertz, Donald Spang, and Albert Sherman.

"Molly's Pitcher," written by Janet Luckenbaugh, is another fantasy. It portrays the love of a clumsy vase for a pitcher in a really remarkable way. The play is being directed by Marjorie Frundt, and Janet Luckenbaugh, Doris Knisley, Margaret Henry, and Jerry Denner are in the cast.

"The Best Laid Plans," written by Lura Heverly, is the story of the complications arising when a woman's husband who had deserted her, returns on their son's seventeenth birthday and asks to be forgiven. The present he brings for his son pleases him better than any of the others, and increases difficulties because the woman refuses to take her husband back. The play is being directed by Jerry Ross. The cast includes, Emma Cora Hafter, Rillie Lee Wright, Bill Smith, Mildred Ruebsamen, and Bill Bottanari.

"Double Trouble," by Betty Bradley, portrays the difficulties of a young gentleman who has invited two girls to a house party, and both come. It is being directed by Jacob Wagner. The cast includes Betty Bradley, Felice Epstein, Richard White, Reid Teiteworth, Gerald Hellman, Cecil Potteiger and Jake Wagner.

Program Starts at 8:15

Bill Lippert will take care of staging and Jane Redenay, at the piano, will entertain between plays. The program, which will start at 8:15, will be free to mothers but cost the students 25 cents unless they have cultural program tickets.

A. P. O. Fraternity To Hold Open House

The Alpha Pi Omega fraternity will hold its annual open house on Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 p. m. It extends a cordial invitation to all faculty members, students, and guests. Donald Blackmore, chairman of the social committee, announced that John Van-deputte, the well-known accordion wizard, will render selections throughout the afternoon.

Junior-Senior Prom To Be Held Tonight

Don't forget the Junior-Senior Prom tonight! The place: Abraham Lincoln Hotel. The music: Royal Marchers. The cost: $1.50 a couple.

The juniors and seniors will be assessed to make up any difference between the cost of the dance and the money collected.

All students are invited.

New Student Council Holds First Meeting To Elect Officers

Schneider, Mortogen, Walls Chosen Group Executives For Coming Year

The new Student Council held its first meeting on Monday afternoon to elect officers for next year.

For vice-president, the members chose Nicholas Schneider, who served on the council during the past year as Junior Class president, and now represents the Kappas. He will automatically become the chairman of the Freshmen Orientation Committee.

Polly Walls was elected secretary and will head the Publicity Committee. The money bag and treasurer's books will be handled by George Mortogen, new Junior Class president.

Committees appointed by the executives will be submitted for approval at its last meeting on May 11.

Der Deutsche Verein Elects Officers

Play a Success At Cultural Olympics

Following the campus presentation of the German play, "Die Unschuldige," which was later presented with great success at the Cultural Olympics at the University of Pennsylvania, the German Club held its regular business meeting on Tuesday, April 21 for the purpose of electing the officers for next year's organization.

John A. Hertz was unanimously elected to succeed Charlie Miesse as President, while Richard Major was elected to assist Hertz as Vice President. The secretarial post was given to E. Jane Redcay, whose chief qualification is her ability to take the minutes in German. Ethel Mae Yeakel was awarded the task of keeping the finances of the society in the black.

Following the election, it was decided to hold a farewell picnic during the final week of school. No date has been set for this festivity.

Members of the Pennsylvania German Class and their friends journeyed to the Cloisters at Ephrata and then to the Pa. Dutch Museum at Landis Valley, where much was learned concerning the dwellings, the life, and the customs of the early settlers of the Pennsylvania German district of Lancaster County.

Prof. George Backs New Swing Band

During the past several weeks, a new organization on the campus has been working hard in preparation for a heavy schedule of activities next term.

The "Albright Srenaders," under the sponsorship of Professor Oliver George, are tentatively scheduled to play for Student Council and campus dances in the future. Fred Howard, Charles Eltz, Donald Rein-

Ella Propst To Be Crowned Queen of May, Saturday Afternoon

Elaine Shade Maid of Honor To Preside Over Court

Highlight of the Mother's Day program this week-end will be the pageantry of the May Queen coronation.

At three o'clock, Sally Weaver and Ray Hain will give the official opening addresses on behalf of the Albright daughters and sons. As the representative of the mothers, Mrs. H. Stewart Yost, mother of Robert Yost, will give the response. Following that, the blare of trumpets will announce the colorful procession beginning with the formation of the arch of honor. Through the arch the freshmen, sophomore dancers, the junior girls, the crown bearer, and the queen's court will pass and the queen followed by her train bearers.

The mistress of ceremonies, Katharine Taylor, will read the proclamation of May Day. In addition to receiving a crown for the first time this year, the queen will be presented with a scepter. After her coronation, the dancers will pay her homage. Their program consists of the following dances to be presented by freshmen and sophomore girls: Jay Steel Age, Prelude Moderne, and Intermzzo, and the traditional Maypole dance by the junior girls. The recessional marks the conclusion of the coronation ceremony.

The May Queen, Ella Propst, will be attended by her maid of honor, Elaine Shade, and her court of honor including Natalie Brant, Olen Boyer, Dorothy Gaul, Olga Bitler, and Margaret Wolfe. The crown bearer will be Betty Werley; the train bearers, Marion Nichols and Polly Wessler, and the pages, Margaret Hopkins and Gloria East. Forming the arch of honor are the following senior girls: Marjorie Frundt, guardian of the arch, Marie Zaffro, Mary Jane Ward, Verna Fye, Marion Bittenbender, Helen Rothemel, Virginia Schoener, Ellen Whitmoyer, Jeune Scherren, Marjorie Sherman, Betty Siegel, Irene Snyder, Marian Myers, Mary Levan, Katharine Gebb, Henrietta Dize, and Jean Bomgardner.

Katharine Taylor has been May Day chairman and Betty Jones, custodian of the crown. In charge of costumes were co-chairmen Helen Rothemel and Dorothy Gaul, and Miss Elder. The dance committee consisted of Luella Meyer, Polly Brossner, and Mrs. Eva Mosser. Mrs. Anna Herre Smith acted in a honorary capacity for the entire program.

The charge will then be given to the May Day chairman and the custodian of the crown for next year.

hold. George Rhodes, Emerson Hammer, John Hertz, Robert Shapiro, and Joe Brand are the talented musicians forming the present group.

However, all positions will be open to competition this week. Musicians interested may sign up at the switchboard before Wednesday, May 6th.

So Long Chris And Good Luck

The first Senior to be called out of Albright for induction into the armed forces is Chris Bratotis, an active honor student on campus. Chris will leave Tuesday morning, May 5, for Uncle Sam's Army.

Consequently, Chris will miss commencement exercises and Senior exams. He will, however, receive his degree.

New Y Cabinet Heads Installed Tuesday By Candlelight

McKay and Gingrich, Retiring Leaders, Present Challenge

Tuesday evening, in an impressive candlelight chapel setting, the combined "Y's" installed their new officers and cabinet members for the coming year.

Esther Gingrich and Arthur McKay, retiring presidents, conducted devotions and gave the challenge to the incoming leaders, Ruth Hand and Bruce Knisley.

In accepting the challenge, Miss Hand and Mr. Knisley spoke of the candles as symbols of the spirit which will guide the "Y" in leadership, fellowship, and service next year.

All officers and cabinet members formed a candlelight procession at the close of the worship program.

Following the devotions, the new cabinets met to plan next year's calendar of events. Tentative plans were discussed for the fall "Y" retreat, freshman orientation, Tag days, Religious Emphasis week, the annual W. S. S. F. drive, and Mardi Gras.

The "Y" is planning to make use of a national motion picture service in bringing to the campus pictures of special interest.

The "Y's" will also resume Sunday vesper services and emphasize the work of the Christian faith group in enriching campus spiritual life.

Next Tuesday at 7:00 P. M., another very important combined cabinet meeting will replace the regular worship service.

Zetas Elect Next Year's Officers

Balmer Elected To Succeed Buxton

At the last meeting of the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity, the following officers were elected to hold positions during the coming year: Cliff Balmer of Ephrata, Penna., was elected President; Dick Weber, Vice President; Vester Peters, Secretary; Bill Demidovich, Treasurer; and Pat Nappi, Chaplain.

Crowning, One-Acters Reception Planned

The second annual Mother's Day Weekend will be held tomorrow and Sunday under the sponsorship of Student Council. The committee has prepared a full program for both days.

Tomorrow's program will begin with a visiting period from 2 to 3. The main event of the day, the coronation of the May Queen, will take place at 3. From 4 to 4:30 the mothers will register. At 4:30 Mrs. Masters plans to receive the Junior and Senior women and their guests in Selwyn Parlors. At the same time the fraternities and dormitories will hold open house.

Dinner will be served in the dining hall at 6:15. From 7 to 8, there will be a faculty reception in Selwyn Parlors. At 8:15 the traditional one-act plays, written and directed by students, will be presented in the chapel.

Service to Be Held Sunday Sunday's program will begin with a memorial tree planting at 10, sponsored by the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority. This is a new practice, started last year, that is to be made a regular part of the May Weekend activities.

This will be followed by trumpeters announcing from the Administration Building balcony the "Mother's" Service in the chapel, with an address by Dr. Harry V. Masters. The closing event will be a dinner in the dining hall at 1.

The Mother's Weekend Committee is headed by Raymond Sweet, and manned by Raymond Hain, Bruce Knisley, Sally Weaver, and Mrs. John Smith.

PATS Select Weaver To Be New President

New Member Formally Inducted

Officers for the coming year were elected by the Pi Alpha Tau sorority at its regular meeting on Monday night.

The following are the new executives: Sally Weaver, president; Mimi Weidner, vice president; Jerry Ross, recording secretary, and Ruth Hand, treasurer. Pat Smith was appointed corresponding secretary and chaplain.

Eleanor Platt was formally accepted into the sorority during an initiation ceremony held before the regular meeting.

Included in the business were final arrangements for the planting of a sugar maple tree as an annual Mother's Day dedication on Sunday, May 12.

On Monday evening the Pats will gather informally to bid farewell to their senior sisters.

Screen Tests—Yes, At Albright

By SEMOUR MENDELSON

If you passed the botany lab recently and heard shouts of "camera"—"action"—"cut," perhaps you paused to see whether Hollywood had come to Albright. Well, you didn't see Ann Sheridan, Olivia de Havilland, or Clark Gable but you could have recognized Olga Bitler, Marjorie Sherman, and Chick Mehlke, the stars of the latest VEC hit, "The Dearborn Form Board" or "The Puzzle of the Wooden Blocks."

For a special project this semester, the members of the visual education class decided to make a laboratory motion picture. They selected the dearborn form board which is a psychological test for mental ability. While the experimenter times the subject, the latter tries to fit small blocks of wood into varied-shaped openings in the board.

The motion picture was made under the technical supervision of Professor Zener, head of the visual education class. The students planned, directed, and staged the film. The complete film runs 240 seconds (that sounds longer than four minutes) and uses 50 feet of cellophane. An Eastman Kodak 8 mm. motion picture machine was used.

Three students, Olga Bitler, Marjorie Sherman, and Walter Mehlke acted as subjects while Marion Bittenbender took care of stage settings and Seymour Mendelson worked the camera. Titles were used in the film.

This motion picture project was the first ever undertaken by any students at Albright. Ever reviewing the film, the students and the professor agreed that the job was satisfactory. Of course, there was plenty of room for improvement but for their first attempt, the results were good. President Masters will review the film in the near future. As for the Visual Ed. class, they have left a visual record of their work in the laboratory.

Confidential: the film showed which students were photogenic.

Why Traditions?

This weekend the school plays host to an important group of visitors—the mothers of Albright. Into two days have been packed some old and some new traditions which in previous years were celebrated one by one and were red letter days on the calendar.

The newest tradition is the Mother's Day Weekend. It is one of the most festive occasions of the whole year because it is then that we can show our appreciation to the part of Albright that stays at home.

The crowning of the May Queen and the One Act Plays are both old traditions on campus. These and many other traditions make the student feel that his college career is more than the four years that he spends here. It is all the years behind him; the years of One Act plays, of crowning of May Queens, of athletic and Gold A awards and prizes. It is upon this past that we can build future traditions.

However, all of these customs must retain a potency if they are to have the influence they were meant to have, and the only way to retain this is to put our hearts and souls into the work and planning that goes into each activity. Each year must add, not only work, but also spirit and enthusiasm to the preceding year.

The mothers, many who have seen years at Albright that none of us remember, must be shown that we have increased manifold in stature, but still retain the traditions that have been enriched by the years.

Echoes of May Days Past

By ETHEL MAE YEAKEL

A college is not really one's Alma Mater until one knows its traditions and its memories of bygone days. In the Schuylkill College Scriptus of 1930, I found this touching bit of sentiment as a forward:

"Leaving thru this book once more,
Looking back o'er days of yore;
May she laughs you laughed
And she sighs you sighed
Be dearer than ever before;
May she school you loved
Be the school you love
Now more than ever before."

The tradition of May Day seems to have grown up with the college in both of its branches—at Myerstown and at Reading, for in 1930 The Speculum, the Cue of Myerstown ancestor, describes the May Day 1929 fete in this manner:

"No month of May would be complete without this gala occasion which graces our campus annually. Weeks of preparation and growing enthusiasm make the success of each May Day a greater one for Albright. Hearts have stood at a standstill as the beautiful Queen of May, accompanied by her attendants and assistants, marched across our campus, sat upon the throne of honor, and had placed upon her head the crown of glory, honor, and respect as Albright alone can do."

Schuylkill College upheld the same tradition in a slightly different ceremony that same year, according to the Scriptus: "They did the affair up in the old English way on Albright's green and the procession included pages, flower girls, a crown-bearer, and a court jester. The peasant folk entertained the company with their airy dances and English fancies to the music of the old masters. There were rollicking rudy-tuffy dancers, English songsters with their saucy 'Oh, No John, No John, No John, No,' dainty ribbon dancers, and female 'lads' who did a Morris Stick Dance (whatever that is!). Everyone joined heartily in the May Pole Dance which concluded the festivities."

In those days the new queen was crowned by the queen of the preceding year, and, of all things, there was also a May King who was crowned in a much more boisterous manner at a May Night Fete which included a midnight rollcall of the Frosh, a Tin Can Band, and a parade down to 5th and Penn where songs and cheers were given. The uncrowned king was carried around on an improvised chair-throne. Back on campus again there was a platform ceremony made up of cheers, a presidential speech, and the coronation by the President. At first this affair was apparently a distinction—the most popular young man on campus being chosen as King; but later it became only a mockery and involved a great deal of ridicule for the unlucky sovereign. It was finally discontinued.

In 1931, the Cue, as it had finally been named, featured a story of May Day which describes a spring pageant with a fairy queen, frolicking flowers, flitting butterflies, six little pastel court fairies, and industrious elves. The queen

See that tall lanky guy heading for the science hall? That's Ducky Leimbach. Of course that isn't his real name, but the kids back in grade school liked that better than Paul. When he went to first grade, Paul walked pigeon-toed. But you know how smart six year olds can be. They said he was duck-toed, so they called him "Ducky." After the mistake was realized, it was too late to correct, so "Ducky" it stayed.

What Have You?

By DOROTHY REBER

Do you have that rare element essential for a personality? Whatever you care to call it — "IT," "oomph," "ping," "glamour."

The administration is attempting to diagnose the personality difficulties of individual students and take remedial measures to affect a change. The profs, eager to aid in the analysis, are cooperating to a man in checking the nine items listed and described on the sheets handed to all students in the chapel. This Friday after serious reflection on student assets and liabilities, the faculty will submit the results to the office, for consideration. Students consistently labeled weak in one or more items will personally be informed in order that a desired improvement may be effected.

Those not informed may obtain in the Dean's office a profile of the results upon request. These tests will be used with discretion at all times—especially with respect to employment. Try the test yourself? Do you have "IT"?

Poetry Contest To Close Today

Campus Laureate Announced in May

Today the annual Douds Poetry Contest closes; and at Commencement, the name of the Poet Laureate of the Albright campus will be announced. Last year a freshman, Julius Ash, who is no longer attending Albright, won the $10.00 prize. In 1940, Jane Spotts was the winner, and three years ago, the winner was Jerome Denner.

If there is a poetical genius on the campus who is able to write a poem in the next few hours and has not yet heard of the contest, the only restriction is as follows: poems must consist of at least 14 lines. One person may submit an unlimited number of poems. Dr. John B. Douds announced that he will submit to the Albrightian some of the outstanding poems written in his English classes.

Women's Glee Club Holds Elections

The Women's Glee Club elected the following women to office last Thursday, April 23; president, Jane Redcay; manager, Joanna Wentz; and treasurer, Rillie Lee Wright. This Sunday the Glee Club is going to Shamokin to sing at the morning and evening anniversary day services.

Libraries

By LOUISE EASTLAND

Every once in a while there is a particular reason for recommending books aside from the fact that they are timely, well-written, interesting, etc. The occasion today for urging you to read DAYS OF OUR YEARS and THAT DAY ALONE, is of course, the fact that the author of these books, Pierre van Passen, is going to be here at Albright as our annual Commencement speaker this year. Both of these books are available in the college library.

DAYS OF OUR YEARS is the life story of the author. It is put together obviously from recollection and material published in small circulating magazines, yet, in spite of this, there is a unity in the book. He tells of his early life: youth in Holland, preparation for the ministry in Canada, then the first World War, which diverted him into American journalism. He became a newspaper correspondent, and his desire to expose all he saw sometimes got him into trouble. He says of this period, "I was always forgetting that my role was confined to that of a neutral observer of trouble."

Mr. Van Passen has seen some revolting things. He tells us about them with frankness. His interest in them, however, is never that of a sensationalist.

As a journalist, the author campaigns for a better world. Civilization is passing, a world is going under, but at the same time a new world is in genesis. "Whether we like it or not, history is moving in the direction of a single unified world economy . . . Because mankind is drawing together both technically and in consciousness of belonging together, it may also be said that when the new day dawns, as it surely will, not only one or two peoples will greet the springtime, but all . . ."

It is perhaps because of passages like this that Mr. Fadman says of DAYS OF OUR YEARS: "It is the special quality of this book that beneath all its complex unravelling of political and social forces and its masses of reporting, one feels what one can call a spiritual base."

THAT DAY ALONE is a collection of articles, semi-fictional narratives, musings on politics, musings on the future. It covers such a range as reminiscences of the author's childhood in Holland, tales of a Dutch village invaded by Germans, comments on the meaning of Hess' flight to England.

In these days of passive mirroring of events, Mr. Van Passen is not afraid of being caught with a message. He says: "The task of Christianity conscious of its calling is to bring religion down from heaven to earth . . . the real adversary of Christ is the godlessness of pious formalism." As in DAYS OF OUR YEARS, he talks of the new world which is on its way. He sees no alternative to a planned economy, either as a free association of all the peoples of the earth or as the enslavement of the nations by one dominant race. He thinks the supreme direction of the new international organization must be placed in the hands of the two great English-speaking commonwealths, not as dominating imperialisms, but as leaders. He ends on this note: "Slowly the hopes and aspirations of mankind turn into concrete achievements. There is something utterly pathetic in all of man's individual endeavor. But not in the collective march of humanity to its ideal.

"A day will surely come when man, having grown tired of walking alone, will turn to his brother. On the day when we shall have learned to feel the sorrows and the joys, the suffering and the hope of others, as our very own, that world order of love and justice for which the universe yearns and of which the planets in the stillest night are the splendid but imperfect symbol, shall have come nearer."

"On that day alone the brotherhood of man will have become a reality!"

The Library has also received from Mr. Stefansson three of his own books: HUNTERS OF THE GREAT NORTH, the story of his first trip into the Arctic; UNSOLVED MYSTERIES OF THE ARCTIC, mysteries for which Mr.

Well, that big softball scrap between the Kappas and the Zetas finally came off—and left us just where we were before as far as the intramural standings are concerned. This league race is still wide open for everybody but the luckless PI Taus.

Clem Boland pitched a masterful game for four innings, but in the descending darkness of the fifth he blew up. Before the Irishman tossed Phil Mertz's bunt to Ves Peters for the final out, he walked five and gave up two hits to let four Kappa scores trot across the pentagon. These markers enabled the sons of the Phi to equal the seven which the Zetas had pounded out of Chuck Klein's hurling before Tony Stish stepped in to stem the tide.

The ump's called the game then, as a prolonged argument in the second frame had made the game run late. So stick around, it's a three-ringed circus. The Zetas and Kappas must meet twice again.

The Frosh also kept their rejuvenated team in the running by taking three games. In beating the Zetas, 5-3, and the Theologs, 10-2, they helped keep things even in the loop. The Theologs showed their willingness to help a good cause, too, by knocking off the Kappas 8-6 behind Ralph Frymoyer's fine throwing. The PI Taus, most consistent team in the league, ran their losing streak to nine.

The annual award night for the Women's Athletic Association was held on Wednesday, April 29. The newly elected president, June Strawbridge, personally handed the various awards to the individuals.

The highest award any girl can receive at Albright for her participation in sports is the gold key which was received by Jean Bomgardner, Kitty Gelb, Mary Levay, and Elaine Shade.

Sweaters were given to the following girls who reached the 1500 mark: Betty Laverty, Joan Belmont, Dorothy Reber, and Esther Whitehead.

Those having received an "A" award for 1000 points were: Lucille Griswold, Alda Matz, Betty Laverty, Jean Seidel, Dorothy Reber, June Strawbridge, Sally Weaver, Betty Siegel, and Esther Whitehead.

Numerals, the award for having attained 500 points, were given to Bertina Blauch, Ann deFarges, Erna Leinbach, Jean Miller, Mary Potteiger, Gretchen Bieber, Dorothy Leiby, Alda Matz, Virginia Morris, Katherine Muhs, Jean Seidel, Alda Seitzer, Polly Walls, Joanna Wentz, Marie Kauffman, Betty Jones, Dorothy Gaul, and Katherine Taylor.

After the distribution of the awards the freshmen, sophomores, and seniors each enacted a class stunt. Then sticky buns and milk were served as the refreshments, ending the evening's party.

Michaels Stars, as Kappas Win Trophy for Second Straight Year

Pats Cop Loop Crown Blank Non. Sors; 18-0

Whitehead Gives Three Hits To Win

LEAGUE STANDING

| Team | Won | Lost |
|----------------|-----|------|
| Pat's | 3 | 0 |
| Mu's | 2 | 1 |
| Non-Sorority 1 | 1 | 2 |
| Non-Sorority 2 | 0 | 3 |

By defeating the Non-Sorority Two team, the Pat's won first place in the Sorority-Non-Sorority league. Esther Whitehead is accredited for the wins for the leading sorority. Joyce Moyer and Polly Walls led the hitting streak with three runs apiece, while the other Pat players had two hits apiece. Eleanor Platt starred with two home runs as the Pats defeated the humble Non-Sorority team 18-0. Whitehead pitched a three-hit shut-out game.

The only hits for the Non-Sorority Frosh were singles by Borisewich, Eischen, and Scheib. The Non-Sorority 2 forfeited to the Non-Sorority 1 team to remain in last position.

Breen, Boland, Bitting, Hantzes High Scores

The Kappas, paced by big Paul Michaels, won for the second straight year the intra-mural track crown in a triangular meet, run last Saturday in the stadium. The running saw the champs gather 31 points to lead the second place Zetas by three markers, and the Daymen by five.

The Kappas scored only two firsts, John Durko placing ahead of the pack in the shot-put, and Sam Sehl placing first in the high jump. However, the winners took four second, three third, and one fourth place to dominate the day's track activities.

High scoring honors were shared by Clem Boland, Jim Breen, Zetas; Harry Bitting, Harry Hantzes of the Daymen. Boland showed old-time form in running away with the 440 and 220-yard events. Jim Breen, the other big Zeta scoring gun, placed first in the century, second in the 220 and came up for third place in the broad jump.

Harry Hantzes led a small Daymen's squad with first in mile and half mile events. His team mate, Harry Bitting, was close behind with a first in the broad jump, second in the century, and third in the high jump.

By DICK MAJOR and SAUL POKRASS

With the end of the school year staring us in the face, we thought it might be well to summarize the feats of the Roaring Lions in the field of athletics for the past year.

In the pigskin sport, Albright won six and lost four to close the season with a .600 average. Our in-and-out gridders rose to the height of spilling West Chester's undefeated season and sank to the depths of a 42-0 trouncing at the hands of Bucknell. The second 14-3 win in a row over Muhlenberg helped make the season a success, but that heart-breaking loss to F. & M. after leading most of the way hurt plenty. The season's record:

|-----------------------------|----|----------------------------|-----|
| Albright 20, Blue Ridge | 0 | Albright 12, F. and M. | 13 |
| Albright 14, Muhlenberg | 3 | Albright 27, Penn Military | 29 |
| Albright 6, Carnegie Tech | 12 | Albright 6, Bucknell | 42 |
| Albright 0, West Chester | 0 | Albright 26, Millersville | 13 |
| Albright 13, Lebanon Valley | 27 | | 140 |
| Albright 13, Moravian | 0 | | |

The Lion Cubs turned in a .500 average for the year by winning two and losing two. The Frosh came across with two fine victories against local semi-pro teams, but couldn't get going against the outside competition. Their record:

|----------------------------|----|
| Albright 5, Gablesville | 0 |
| Albright 3, Neversink | 0 |
| Albright 0, F. & M. Frosh | 12 |
| Albright 0, Boerstown M.I. | 19 |
| | 29 |
| | 31 |

Perhaps we were a little disappointed in our court squad's showing because we expected too much. Nevertheless our boys turned in a fine record of 13 wins and 7 losses for an average of .650. In the league competition their record was eight and five to put them in a third place tie with Gettysburg. The season record:

| | | | |
|-----------------------------|----|-----------------------------|-----|
| Albright 51, Moravian | 42 | Albright 63, Gettysburg | 47 |
| Albright 51, Bucknell | 43 | Albright 49, Bucknell | 46 |
| Albright 30, Reading Cloth. | 28 | Albright 35, F. and M. | 37 |
| Albright 52, Kutztown | 30 | Albright 51, Moravian | 53 |
| Albright 54, Wyoming | 73 | Albright 64, Lebanon Valley | 58 |
| Albright 48, West Chester | 31 | Albright 24, Gettysburg | 52 |
| Albright 80, Ursinus | 33 | Albright 30, Muhlenberg | 44 |
| Albright 50, F. and M. | 59 | Albright 57, Lebanon Valley | 36 |
| Albright 50, Villanova | 40 | Albright 58, Muhlenberg | 46 |
| Albright 53, Kutztown | 41 | | |
| Albright 54, Long Island U. | 59 | | |
| Albright 49, Ursinus | 46 | 1086 | 906 |

The Frosh bettered their big brothers' record with 15 wins against 4 losses for a .789 average. Of their four vanquishers, one was a local semi-pro team and the other three were all beaten later in the season by the Cubs. Their record:

| | | | |
|-------------------------------|----|------------------------------|-----|
| Albright 59, Alumni | 45 | Albright 35, F. & M. Academy | 25 |
| Albright 51, Hershey Jr. Col. | 35 | Albright 37, Patton School | 25 |
| Albright 30, Reading Cloth. | 28 | Albright 45, F. & M. Fresh | 17 |
| Albright 38, Clover Farms | 49 | Albright 52, F. & M. Academy | 25 |
| Albright 45, Patton School | 29 | Albright 28, Lebanon Val. | 39 |

Le Cercle Finales Presents French Film

On Thursday evening at 8:15 p. m., the French Club presented a sound film entitled "Le Regain," which translated means "The Harvest." The film was a Marcel Pagnol Production, regarded by such famous personalities as Norma Shearer, Fannie Hurst, Howard Barnes and Frank Nugent as one of the most beautiful ever to come out of a French studio.

The pictures depicted the spirit of a farmer and his wife who, during the horrors of war, loyally devoted their efforts to the soil. The truth, sincerity, and deeply rooted scene in which the story took place, made "Le Regain" the fragile tone poem that it was.

Pats and Mu's Land Places on All-Stars

Levan, Mu.—First base.
Matz, Non-Sor.—Second base.
Hopkins, Pat.—Short-stop.
Platt, Pat.—Third base.
Gelb, Pat.—Short center.

Announcements

June Strawbridge, girls' table tennis leader, announced that all girls who did not play at least five matches were removed from the ladder. Jean Seidel and Dorothy Reber are accredited with the most games played and the most winning games. Since the ladder started in an alphabetical arrangement, those girls had to fight hard to reach the top. The five leaders are Louise Auchenbach, Jean Seidel, Dottie Reber, Olga Bitler and Jenn Bomgardner.

Tennis leader, Olga Bitler, has arranged tennis matches between different classes. Most of these matches will get under way shortly since the weather now permits. All aspirants are urged to see her, and make arrangements for matches.

Because of conflicting sports, Dorothy Reber remarked that only several of the many badminton matches scheduled were played.

President Masters To Address Students

Final Chapel Program For Discussion of Future

Dr. Masters will conduct the final assembly program in the chapel, May 6 and 7, in which he will discuss the general outlook for the future of college students.

He will review the international happenings which have affected the students, and also discuss the problems which confront them. The president has been very active in working out a program for the students during the emergency in conjunction with other leading educators.

Rev. J. J. Arnold, Evangelical missionary to Africa, gave an interesting lecture on April 27 and 28, relative to incidents encountered during his work there. He displayed a collection of African household implements and articles of clothing.

SCIENCE SLANTS

By MIM WEIDNER

Powder Puffs and Pastimes

We know all about how the science men sweat over hot test tubes all day long in the science hall but we've often wondered how they spend their spare time. We've also wondered about the women behind the men at the microscopes, the science wives. This is what we've found:

Prof. Green says his favorite pastimes are quote: "Chewing tobacco and guzzling beer." He's only kidding. All his spare time is spent in reading and listening to Inner-Sanctum mysteries. Mrs. Green attended the University of Pittsburgh and California, Pennsylvania State Teachers College. She was a school narm until Marcus so confused her with his talk of Echinodermis, Insecta, and Asterias Vulgaris that she married him. She thinks all Biology teachers are crazy. Mrs. Green's favorite pastime is beating her husband in pinocle. Green says he keeps his wife firmly under control. We wonder.

Mrs. George met Prof. George at Washington State College which they both attended. Mrs. George majored in home economics and education. She doesn't think much of Physics. At school, she took only one Physics course. Mrs. George is an excellent swimmer and is trying hard to teach her husband to swim. Prof. George's favorite pastimes are golf, baseball, and thinking up quizzes for Physics.

Mrs. Horn is the only one of the science wives who is a scientist herself. She is a chiropodist. She attended Temple. The Horns seem to be a science family. Janet, their daughter, is a laboratory technician. Prof. Horn's favorite pastime is teaching the Reading Hospital Nurses how to take care of their varicose veins.

Mrs. Cook received her B. A. degree at Hunter and her M. A. at Columbia University. She taught English in a New York City high school and also here at Albright. She thinks a lot of chemists but not much of chemistry. She took one science course in school which was Geology. Her favorite pastime is going to the theatre. Dr. Cook spends his spare time gardening.

Echoes of May Days

was dressed in the traditional white flowing gown, but with "matching wings" and a scepter of flowers. Pan was the M. C. and playful imps—one of which was our own Miss Fenill—"annoyed" the party. Then there were wallflowers, dandelions who were shunned by the fairer flowers, and, to make the scene complete, a Black Fairy who brought on worms and showers to spoil the party, but the Fairy Queen raised her wand and the Sunbeams and Rainbows came in to triumph over evil—like it happens in books.

The '32 Cue records the establishment of a new precedent in which a junior crowned the chosen senior.

Several years later Greek Day and May Day were combined and the queen and court were draped in Grecian robes. After the coronation the queen was entertained by the presentation of the annual Greek play.

So you see, May Day is an Old Albright custom. In recent years the Mother's Weekend angle has been added and the May pole dance has been delegated to the junior women as their special function. But basically the tradition remains the same, and although it was almost wholly done away with this year, precedent won out over defense measures and Queen Ella will be crowned with all the usual finery and Maypole dancing and Mother-guests.

Attractive Mrs. Danford took commercial work in school. Before she was married, she was a secretary. Her favorite pastimes are taking care of the two little Danfords and reading. Prof. Danford enjoys boating and golf in his spare time.

Overheard in Lab.

Marie Kauffman: "I don't think I'd make such a good doctor 'cause I'm such a killer."

Mary to Kitty: "Don't you think Danford looks like Pat Ryan?"

YOUR COLLEGE CAN NOW HELP YOU BECOME A NAVAL OFFICER

Freshmen, Sophomores, 17 THRU 20. Enlist now!
Stay in college! You may qualify for a Naval Commission on the sea or in the air.

Freshmen, Sophomores. Here's a challenge—and an opportunity. Your Navy needs trained and Trained men to become Naval Officers! And your college is ready to give you that training now.

Here's New Navy Plan
If you're 17 and not yet 20, you enlist now as an Apprentice Seaman in the Naval Reserve. You then continue in college, including in your studies courses stressing physical training, mathematics and physics. After you successfully complete 1½ calendar years of college work, you will be given a classification test.

Aviation Officers
If you qualify by this test, you may volunteer to become a Naval Aviation Officer. In this case, you will be permitted to finish the second calendar year of college work before you start your training to become a Flying Officer.

However, at any time during this two-year period after you have reached your 18th birthday, you may, if you so desire, take the prescribed examination for Aviation Officer . . . and, if successful, be assigned for Aviation training. Students who fail in their college courses, or who withdraw from college, will also have the privilege of taking the Aviation examination.

Deck or Engineering Officers
If you qualify in the classification test and do not volunteer for

Aviation, you will be selected for training as a Deck or Engineering Officer. In that case, you will continue your college program until you receive your bachelor's degree, provided you maintain the established university standards.

Other Opportunities
If you do not qualify as either potential Aviation Officer or as potential Deck or Engineering Officer you will be permitted to finish your second calendar year of college and will then be ordered to active duty as Apprentice Seamen. But, even in this event, because of your college training, you will have a better chance for advancement.

Pay starts with active duty. It's a real challenge! It's a real opportunity! Make every minute count by doing something about this new Navy plan today.
