

19 Seniors Don Khaki and Blue As Grad Garb

When the 84th Annual Commencement is in full swing two weeks hence, some members of the class of '43 will be conspicuous by their absence. Nineteen members slipped away during the class's term on campus, postponing their bids for B. S.'s and B. A.'s and cashing their credits in for bars and stripes. Their addresses range from Memphis to Mobile and points West.

Dr. Masters Attends Various Conferences

Today President Harry V. Masters is attending the East Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical Church which is being held in Ebenezer Evangelical Church, Allentown.

The conference began Wednesday and will continue until Sunday.

Dr. Masters also attended the Villanova College Centennial Sunday and Monday, May 2 and 3. President A. D. Stanford of Villanova entertained the presidents of the various eastern colleges at dinner Sunday evening in the Union League, Philadelphia.

Monday morning, President Masters took part in the academic procession at Villanova.

Orator For '43

ETHEL MAE YEAKEL

Ethel Mae Yeakel's picture is becoming a permanent feature in The Albrightian, appearing this week for the third time. Sorry there is no variety of cuts. Her fans, however, will not mind.

The staff of The Albrightian is anticipating, with each mail, additional communication from Muhlenberg.

Yeakel Speaks For Graduates At Closing Exercises Of Class

Ethel Mae Yeakel will be the 1943 student commencement speaker, Dean George W. Walton announced today. A faculty meeting this past Monday chose Miss Yeakel, a liberal arts student and an English major, from the honor student group to represent the graduating class.

Miss Yeakel, who comes from West Hazleton, Pa., was recently voted the "All Around Student" of her class by her fellow seniors. She also has the distinction of being one of the ten seniors from Albright to be included in "Who's Who Among College and University Students in America."

Well known in many activities on campus, she belongs to Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating fraternity, and Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity. She is the vice-president of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, and a pledge to Phi Delta Sigma, the alumnae sorority.

Miss Yeakel has been a member of the Domino Club for three years and the German Club for four, having served the latter as secretary her sophomore year and treasurer, her senior. She has been a member of the College Bible Class for the past three years. As a freshman she belonged to the Day Student's Club, and as a sophomore, was a hiking leader in the Woman's Athletic Association.

Feature editor of The Albrightian, vice president of the Women's Dorm Council, discussion leader in the Y. W. cabinet, and member of the Student Council are other positions Miss Yeakel holds this year. Four musical organizations saw her services in her junior and senior years. She is the present manager of the Chapel Choir and belongs to the Women's Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, and the Band Color Guard.

Miss Yeakel was the valedictorian of the 1939 class at West Hazleton High School, where she was active in the chess club, debating, dramatics, literary societies, oratorical societies, and the school paper.

It was recommended that the chapel choir be placed under the jurisdiction of the chapel program committee for the next year.

Names and service records of senior members of Council will be submitted to the faculty which will decide who shall receive keys for service.

At the regular meeting yesterday, the president submitted a list of committee members for the coming year. At the time The Albrightian went to press, the committees appointed were as follows: orientation committee, Gerald Hellman, chairman, Harry Hantzes; dining hall committee, Dorothy Lesby, chairman, William Dearden; Joseph Duff; publicity committee, Lucille Griswold, chairman, Louise Auchenbach, Janet Luckenbaugh; social committee, Anthony Cagliano, chairman, Polly Brosman, Donald Spang, Paul Deysher; chapel program committee representative, Marian Christ; constitution committee, Vester Peters, chairman, Polly Walls, Mary Jane Weber; student activities committee, Jane Teitsworth, chairman, Ruth Ritzman, Harold Lueders, and Ernest Kachline.

The Pi Alpha Tau Sorority met at the home of Sally Weaver, 228 South 11th St., on Monday evening, May 3.

During a short business meeting, officers were elected for the next term. Incoming officers are Lillian Schwenke, president; Elizabeth Werley, vice president; Polly Walls, recording secretary; Eleanor Platt, corresponding secretary; and Ruth Smith, treasurer. Mildred Ruebsamen will be chaplain. Plans for the traditional Pat tree planting to be held Mothers' Day, Sunday, May 8, were discussed. The tree will be planted close to the other Pat trees on campus.

The Phi Beta Mu Sorority elected Polly Brosman, president; Jane Redcay, vice president; Mae Jean Picking, corresponding secretary; Jeanne Miller, recording secretary; and Janet Luckenbaugh, treasurer.

The installation service of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. was held in the college chapel last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The former presidents, Bruce Knisley and Ruth Hand, passed a candle, symbolizing the light of service, to the succeeding presidents, Jacob Wagner and Joanna Wentz, who accepted the challenge for the coming year. They, in turn, lighted the candles of the other members of the executive committee. These include vice presidents, Gerald Hellman and Ruth Ritzman; secretaries, James Snelbaker and Mary Nicol; treasurers, Paul Mattson and Louise Auchenbach; and Daywomen's representative, Jane Teitsworth.

Following this, the newly appointed cabinet members lighted their candles from those of the presidents. The Y. M. C. A. cabinet consists of the social action committee, Robert Klencz, chairman, Franklin Ritter, Earl Bixler, Robert Bahn, and John Young; worship committee, William Lippred, chairman, Lamar Derk, Fred Clewell, Vester Peters and William Blackley; social committee, James Snelbaker, chairman, Anthony Cagliano, Paul Deysher, Richard Schlegel and Reed Teitsworth; orientation and membership committee, Warren Loesch, Charles Russ and Warren Heffner; publicity committee, Cecil Pottelger, chairman, Eldon Snyder, Vincent Ressler, Vaughn Buehler and Richard Dohner; Bible class committee, Gerald Hellman, chairman; and handbook committee, Robert Klencz, editor.

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet consists of the chairmen of the worship committee, Geraldine Bowker; frosh commission, Mildred Ruebsamen; recreation committee, Jeanne Miller; church relations committee, Mary Jane Weber; W.S.S.F., Polly Walls; conference committee, Gretchen Bieber; social service committee, Emma Cora Hafer; ethnic minorities committee, Martha Friedericks; Sylvan Chapel committee, Betty Rex; publicity committee, Mae Jean Picking, press, and Mary Eschweil, posters; refreshment committee, Margaret Shepperd; Bible Class committee, Betty Anne Lutz and Irene Fisher; and librarian, Doris Armes.

Following the installation service, brief cabinet meetings were held to decide on delegates for the conference to be held at Camp Kanawata from June 2nd to the 9th. Vester Peters was appointed Representative in the General Assembly for the Y. M. C. A., but delegates to the conference have not yet been chosen. Joanna Wentz is Representative for the Y. W. C. A., and the other delegates are: Martha Friedericks, Mary Alice Lippert, and Betty Anne Lutz. Jeanne Miller and Mae Jean Picking are alternate delegates.

Men Hold IF Ball Tonight; Sorority Function May 15

National Emergency and Shortened Term Necessitate Combined Semi-Formals

Climaxing the events of the second semester will be the annual spring sorority and fraternity dances, combined into the interfraternity and intersorority balls since the war.

The interfraternity ball will be held this evening at the Abraham Lincoln Ball Room. Music for dancing from 9 to 12 will be supplied by the Victory Serenaders. During intermission, the fraternity members will give their favors to the girls. Decorations will be confined to the banners of each house.

The committees in charge of all the arrangements consists of a representative from each of the four fraternities on campus, namely: Robert Bennett, A. P. O.; Dwight Dundore, Pi Tau Beta; George Horn, Kappa Upsilon Phi; and Paul Caris, Zeta Omega Epsilon. Prof Clyde A. Harding is the faculty advisor for the dance. Chaperoning are Prof and Mrs. John Evans, Dr. and Mrs. Gerritt Memming, and Prof and Mrs. Clyde Harding.

Sororities Also Combine

The two sororities will hold their combined spring dance on Saturday evening, May 15, at the Berkshire Country Club from 9 until 12 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Royal Ambassadors.

Each sorority has its individual committee; the two are collaborating on the mutual arrangements. Edith Bitler is chairman of the Phi Beta Mu group with Sara Fisher, Ann deFarges, and Mae Jean Picking assisting her. On the Pi Alpha Tau committee are Eleanor Platt, chairman; Lillian Schwenke and Elizabeth Werley, Rev. and Mrs. Lester Stabler, Treasurer and Mrs. Charles Gordon and Prof and Mrs. Newton Danford will chaperone.

Both functions are of semi-formal nature with flowers optional. Both dances are open only to the members of the organizations and their alumni, or specially invited guests.

Pi Alpha Tau and Phi Beta Mu have extended an invitation to Lieutenant and Mrs. Davis, in addition to members of the faculty.

The sororities in order to cut down non-essential expenses during the war have decided not to give favors.

Wash-Out Allergic To Too Much Suds

Wash-out is a mighty cute little dog and can be easily distinguished from the pack of wolves which usually clutter the campus, but let's not chase her away by too much cuddlin', gals.

The Seventh College Training Detachment — those uniforms at Albright — are rather attached to the little mut and have adopted her as their mascot. They intend to stick to rigid rules on how a soldier should bring up a member of the canine species to be the ideal pet and will take advice only from Dr. Gell and any student rating an "A" in child psychology. The rules state that Wash-out doesn't need all those baths and perfumes the doting sisters in our midst deem necessary. She is not to be a sissy. And after all, she is only a puppy and doesn't need all that laundering until after she is six months old at least. So, Hands Off!

'Y' Committee Plans Go-To-Church Sunday

This coming Sunday, the last Go-to-Church-Sunday in the "Y" sponsored series will be observed. The group will visit The Friends' Meeting House on North Sixth Street. After Bible Class, students will meet in the front of Army Headquarters and proceed from there to church.

In charge of arrangements are Pat Smith and Stewart Bingman, co-chairmen of the Church Relationship Committee.

Wentz, Wagner, and Cabinets Installed by Hand and Knisley

The installation service of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. was held in the college chapel last Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The former presidents, Bruce Knisley and Ruth Hand, passed a candle, symbolizing the light of service, to the succeeding presidents, Jacob Wagner and Joanna Wentz, who accepted the challenge for the coming year. ard Dohner; Bible class committee, Gerald Hellman, chairman; and handbook committee, Robert Klencz, editor.

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet consists of the chairmen of the worship committee, Geraldine Bowker; frosh commission, Mildred Ruebsamen; recreation committee, Jeanne Miller; church relations committee, Mary Jane Weber; W.S.S.F., Polly Walls; conference committee, Gretchen Bieber; social service committee, Emma Cora Hafer; ethnic minorities committee, Martha Friedericks; Sylvan Chapel committee, Betty Rex; publicity committee, Mae Jean Picking, press, and Mary Eschweil, posters; refreshment committee, Margaret Shepperd; Bible Class committee, Betty Anne Lutz and Irene Fisher; and librarian, Doris Armes.

V Book Drive Opened At Student Assembly

The assembly programs Monday and Tuesday, May 10 and 11, will be in charge of the Defense Council. Council members will explain to the students the Albright Victory Book Campaign. Students and teachers can start immediately to look for books which have proved interesting to them and are ready to be passed on to soldiers. Some of the books will be sent to the Victory Book Campaign headquarters in New York City. The Council will use the rest of the books to start a library for the soldiers on campus. Books of all types (including text books) will be accepted if they are in good condition and fairly recent editions.

President Masters will address the students at the closing Chapel services on Wednesday and Thursday, May 12 and 13.

Election Of Officers Conducted By Council

Student Council held election of officers for 1943-44 at their meeting Thursday, April 29. Newly-elected office-holders are: Gerald Hellman, vice president; Polly Walls, secretary; and Louise Auchenbach, treasurer.

It was recommended that the chapel choir be placed under the jurisdiction of the chapel program committee for the next year.

Names and service records of senior members of Council will be submitted to the faculty which will decide who shall receive keys for service.

Here We Go Again!

Here's the 29th issue of THE ALBRIGHTIAN and the end of the next-to-last week of school; and, up the this point, THE ALBRIGHTIAN has been guilty of delinquency detrimental to the happiness and welfare of the members of the senior class. It has, in fact, been on the verge of shattering one of Albright's time-honored traditions — but THE ALBRIGHTIAN never fails!

We, therefore and herewith, come out in support of the abolition of final exams for seniors.

The faculty, at their meeting this past Monday, have decided that seniors shall have finals. This is in accord with the policy of the administration. The editors of THE ALBRIGHTIAN are not seniors and don't care a hoot about senior exams . . . until next year. In addition, none of the seniors are complaining because few of them are carrying heavy academic schedules. Nevertheless, we must preserve tradition.

The infallible argument runs like this: surely after four years, the professors know whether or not a student deserves a degree; in the last few weeks, seniors are so busy that they haven't time for exams; and, finally, after a long semester of work, there is no point in burdening the profs with additional, unnecessary grading. We must preserve the profs.

We The Editors

Then there is the old gag about having term papers due the day of an exam, adding to one's misery. One ex-editor went so far as to suggest that term papers were equivalent to semester cross-examining and therefore one should be eliminated. Three guesses as to his choice!

We, the editors, were we not the victims of tradition and four seniors on THE ALBRIGHTIAN staff, would come forth with a policy all our own, namely:

1. The seniors have been at Albright four years exposed longer than anyone to blue book quizzes.
2. Because of their superiority in years, they should know more.
3. Any senior will be glad to tell all he knows. (Try asking one, and watch his chest swell with pride.)
4. Make examinations compulsory for all seniors this year. If the administration finds that they cannot pass standard interrogations, cancel all exams next year. (Plug for the Juniors.)

Well, seniors, we seed our duty and we dood it!

Thanks For Listenin'

A note of commendation is due the Chapel Program Committee for the noticeable improvement in student assembly presentations. Lots of griping was done in the direction of chapel programs, and an equal volume of thanks is forthcoming and is directed to—or at—whoever is responsible for the appreciable change in the general tenor of them. It's not so bad getting up for eight o'clock chapel after all! We just didn't understand why we were getting up, but with explanations from the Chapel Committee, Old Sol setting his alarm for an earlier rise, and the absence of the usual fragrance in the chapel, we anticipate the half-hour—decidedly a step into progress.

Inside Albright

By ROBERT KLENCK

One of the nice things about becoming a hero is that you have a chance to lie abed—if you have gone about becoming a hero in the right way. A recommended procedure is to attempt to slide into second base while keeping one foot on first. What happens is that you immediately become the center of attraction and everybody thinks you are quite brave except the Kappas and the umpire, who think you are quite out.

The next thing to do is to have your roommate hasten to the drug store and purchase a bottle of their special liniment. If it is pink and has a homemade label so much the better. Rub the afflicted part well, being careful not to get the liniment on the furnishings, particularly the bathtub—unless it is desired that the tub acquire a permanent ring.

Sure Cure

The following morning take two laps around the bed—(if one end of the bed touches the wall, hurdle it). This puts you into fine shape for the center to chapel. Allow at least eight extra minutes. This will get you to chapel two minutes late which means that your tardy arrival allows you to sit directly behind Rillie Lee Wright, who was only one minute late.

After chapel there are several alternatives, of which two are especially good: (1) become hysterical; (2) go to history. If hysteria involves difficulty, then by all means go to class. There is always the possibility of falling down enroute and then to come hobbling in in the middle of the Italian unification. This may get you a bid to I.R.C.

By this time you are about ready to go to the infirmary. But this is not as easy as it sounds. First there is a nurse to get by. Then the doctor. Then there's the nurse again. But if you put on a real good hero act, it is possible to rate a pair of blue p. j.'s, a pitcher of water, and a "private" room with two air corps men. If you have gone this far and have a chance to pick your two air corps men, select one named Jack and the other Adam. This is essential because Jack gets white pills and Adam pink ones. You don't get any which makes you look even more of a hero.

Our Hero

The climax comes when they cement your garter to your knee with a plaster cast and hand you a pair of crutches. If you protest, saying in a "manful" voice—"Oh, I don't need those things!", you admit that you're the modest hero type. (The modest hero type is the best). But try to avoid saying—"Er—on second thought, I believe I will try them"—after they have put the crutches back in the closet. A good way to get around this awkward situation is to take two steps and fall on your face. Especially with your face!

A more direct, sudden-death method of becoming a hero is to drink two consecutive cups of Texter's Classical Cafeteria Coffee. Obituaries will be published in THE ALBRIGHTIAN at our regular rates.

Meanwhile

Between being a hero, it might be worth everybody's while to sit down and look over the roster of "Y" committees for next year. It has long been a popular cry in many areas of this campus that "the Y's have too much power!" You will recall that A Disgusted Upperclassman dashed off a letter to the editors several months ago, making this very point. Bruce Knisley, writing in behalf of the "Y's", replied the following week in what appeared, to us at least, a very fair and most eloquent statement. Of course our reaction was not identical with those of several other individuals and groups.

An analysis of the crack that the "Y's" have too much power will discover the implication that the "Y's" are a relatively non-representative group, operating in areas beyond their intended bounds, and usurping the right of direction in several other places from the pointers of different organizations.

Stranger Than Fiction

This is not exactly true, but whatever accuracy it does possess, lays the "blame" upon the "sighted" or "imposed upon" groups themselves. By virtue of his being a student at Albright College, each one is therefore an accredited member of the "Y". It is he who elects the officers of the organization. The relation between "Y" leaders and the student body should be no different politically than the relationship between the student body and Student Council. And we have been through all that many times. Sometime when you're resting, look over the list of committeemen for next year's "Y" program. Every fraternity and resident group is represented in the "Y.M." cabinet; the same applies to sororities and others in the "Y.W." council. One unorganized group is not represented. This is regretted, but the situation is difficult. Their assimilation into the program can come about—though this will require whole-hearted effort and cooperation on the part of both parties. THE ALBRIGHTIAN would like to go into this more deeply. Your comments and suggestions are solicited.

LIONS IN THE RANKS

Somewhere in North Africa, Seymour Mendelsohn, '42, met Paul Di Biasi, '40, at a Red Cross Snack Bar. How these Albrightians do get around.

And from Camp Hood, Texas, Saul Pokras, '44, writes that he and Richard Major, '44, met Ethel Norton, former dean of women at Albright, at a U. S. O. headquarters at the Texas University in Austin. She saw to it that they had a nice week-end in the company of "the prettiest girls on any campus."

Herb Loyer, '46, is recovering from a knee operation and is eager to hear from the gang on campus. His address is: Pvt. C. H. Loyer, Ward 11, Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Domino Schedules One-Actors In Two Closing Performances

Don't look now, but that bewildered jerk just behind you tearing his scalp from his hair is—get prepared—another director, the fifth to be exact, getting ready to borrow your last shirt, loveseat, armchair, or possibly your girl or boy friend, for the one-actors on this coming Saturday and Monday nights at 8 p. m. in chapel junction. Even if the directors must beg or borrow human and material properties for the occasion, the "show must go on." Those five creatures glaring at the five directors, Kauffman, Yeakel, Hafer, Hertz and Reber, are the authors whose hands are still soaked with writers' ink—Schearer, Hyman, Mattson, Latta and Kern. In a release to The Albrightian early today, it was discovered that the writing staff minus recently inducted Carl Kern will be in front row $1.10 seats, flanked by parents and friends, at the first nighter performance Saturday. Soldiers, hemmed in by more soldiers, will be on hand Monday for the second night production that features an enlarged Kampus Kapers, a Tony Cagliano super-super. The casts—alive and dead (there's a corpse in "Back from the Dead")—are meanwhile entangled backstage in beauty shop equipment ("Sacrifice") consuming an excellent dinner ("Show Them the Way to Go Home"), and crashing into excess china. Scouts Ancona, Friedericks and Volt of "A Scout Is Brave" are out scouting for the missing body in "The April Rains." Question 1: Who is the corpse and will he fit the casket if found and if ever gets built? Question 2: When can we rehearse in the chapel, when can we rehearse in the, when can we rehearse, when can we, when?

Now if you're wondering why those brawny men have been gulping their food and rushing to the chapel every noon for the past three weeks, come to the chapel on Saturday night and see the fruit of their labors.

All of them are members of the cast of "Kampus Kapers," which will be presented for students and their parents on Saturday, May 8, and a repeat performance for the air cadets on Monday, May 10. These two dates will reveal the numerous talents heretofore hidden by these energetic thespians. Their vast potentialities are indeed beyond the ordinary imagination and only visual proof will verify such a statement.

MADELINE HAAG
"Spring Rains" Daughter

In striking contrast to a blaring overture, the dainty "ladies" will trip—and that will probably be literal—airily onto the stage to perform terpsichorean maneuvers resembling nothing less than the Ballet Russe. In sequential order, there follows a novelty number featuring "Shuffles" Schneider, Harpster and Horn going goggle-eyed over Lena Horne; Cagliano jiving along to "Shout Sister, Shout"; Patty, Maxine and Laverne Hertz, Leinbach and DiStefano give their original—but definitely—rendition of the Andrews family. Promenading in true modeling form, Ritter, Rudzinski, Hyman, and Prakow take their places on elevated pedestals while the "Nelle" boys, Harpster, Hastings, Schneider, Horn, Cagliano, and Deysher tap a snappy routine like professionals (encouragement, you know).

LITTLE THINGS

Why do you suppose PAUL DEYSHER took two arms full of books along when he and TONY CAGLIANO saw "Cabin in the Sky" last Monday night? . . . Maybe he thought it was for rent.

The Albrightian staff is in deep mourning this week for the absence of its illustrious "dry-humor" Associate Editor . . . BOB KLENCK is spending a restful interim in the well-guarded infirmary of Barracks B as the result of a knee injury which occurred while sliding into second base in the A. P. O.-Kappa softball game.

Anything can happen at Albright . . . Witness the spectacle of Millie Ruebsamen and Jim Snelbaker driving to the May Day Ball in Jim's red and white motorcycle . . . Evidently the pedestrians on Penn Street had never seen motorcycle occupants wearing formal clothes—neither had we! . . . After the Ball—the M. P.'s on Penn Street eyed with suspicion the congregation of air crew men and Albright belles that collected on any corner where there might be a restaurant with space left.

The ball did have its dire results . . . JUNE STRAWBRIDGE lost a four-year wager with brother DENNIS when she waltzed her first one-two . . .

MERVIN RUNNER is taking care of the devotions for the Vesper Service this Sunday.

Did everybody get a glimpse at FRITZ HOWARD in his Navy togs? That's great he'll be around a few days.

Clubs Re-Staff For New Year As Semester Draws To Close

With election returns and new member lists coming in at thirty-six miles an hour, it is necessary for THE ALBRIGHTIAN to publish this "club special." Thus we meet the demands of the W.P.B.

Heo Sends Member

Janet Luckenbaugh was sent by the Heo Club as delegate to the Conference of the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association at Wilkes-Barre, Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1. War restrictions limited the club to one delegate to the conference.

Wednesday, May 5, members of the Home Economics methods class plus two senior Home Economics students took a field trip to visit the vocational schools in Philadelphia. The home economics departments and the nurseries of the Murrell Dobbins and the Bok Vocational Schools were studied specifically.

Those participating in the field trip were: Betty Miller, June Strawbridge, Mildred Ruebsamen, Margaret Shepperd, Ruth Smith, Ruth Arndt, Polly Brossman, Jean Seidel, Alda Matz, Adele Bast and Edith Bitler.

French Club Re-elects

Wednesday evening, April 28, the French Club held its last meeting for this term at the home of the president, Lillian Schwencke, 1415 Linden Street.

At the business meeting, the club elected the following officers for 1943-44:

President, Lillian Schwencke; vice president, Madeline Haag; secretary, Marian Barger; treasurer, Felice Epstein.

Following the business meeting the program centered around the "Life and Works of Moliere." Marian Barger discussed Moliere with the group and Betty Bradley gave a synopsis of his masterpiece, "Tartuffe." Madeline Haag, Mary Nicol and Marian Barger then enacted a scene from "Tartuffe." Miss Garlach served as a judge for a game of mix-match quotations in French.

The meeting was concluded with a social period.

Induction Ceremony

Nine pledges were inducted into Sigma Tau Delta, honor English fraternity, at a recognition service at the home of Prof. Clyde A. Harding. The initiated included Helen Brown, Mary Nicol, Mary Jane Weber, Lura Heverly, Madeline Haag, Rachel Willauer, Marion Barger, English majors; Paul Deysher, Phyllis Abrams, English minors. Dean Mary Jane Stevenson, honorary pledge, will be inducted at a special service later in the semester. Membership is offered to English majors on the basis of character, scholarship, and general promise.

Following the recognition service conducted by the retiring officers, Dorothy Reber, Ethel Mae Yeakel, and John Hertz, and Jane Reckay, junior member, a meeting was held on the theme, "Modern Design in Writing." Games were played that contributed to the purpose of literary expressions. Original poetry written by each initiate comprised the remainder of the program.

International Relations Club

At a special meeting Wednesday, April 28, the International Relations Club elected Louise Auchenbach, president; Irma Peoples, vice president; Betty Claire Voeste, secretary, and Joyce Moyer, treasurer for the coming year.

Newly-elected officers were in charge of the regular meeting this past Wednesday evening in the Alumni room. Underclassmen invited to join the club submitted questions for a quiz program.

Students who have received bids to the organization are:

Mary Bowlin, Doris Armes, Phyllis Carter, Madeline Haag, Mary Jane Weber, Martha Friedericks, Edna Mae Culp, June Plowfield, Margaret Hendricks, Dorothy Scheib, Marguerite Hibbard, Bohdan Procko, Peter Shanaman, Ernest Kachline, George Lakow, Allen Hyman, Forrest Compton, and George Weber.

Because the beginning of the end is already here, it is the purpose of this column to give a parting glimpse of the 1942-43 sports picture before we call it "fnis." And it is a rather important fnis, for in some aspects of college sports we cannot look forward to a bigger and better future. Football is out for—well say, for a while. It will be some time before Albright has as spectacular a basketball season as this year's. But although there is only a dim future in interscholastic sports, there will be added emphasis on the intramurals. Back to the present:

Albright's football season turned out to be a run-of-the-mill affair, after a whirlwind start. The Lions handed Coach Dietz a .444 record for his final season at Albright. One bright note was the 7-6 F. and M. defeat, the first since 1935. The complete record is:

In the intramural football contest the Kappas came out on top, with the Zetas taking the runner-up spot. The record:

Table with 4 columns: Team Name, W, L, T, P.P. P.A. Pts. Includes Kappas, Zetas, Frosh, etc.

The spotlight of this sports year fell on the basketball season. Shattering records in every direction, the Roaring Lions completed the season with the near-perfect record of 15 wins and 4 losses for a percentage of .789. As mythical kings of the Eastern Penn-

Sophs' Take 7-5 Game Against Jr.-Sr. Squad Frosh Ball Players Aid Sophs In Unofficial Contest

The Soph and Jr.-Sr. teams refused to let the lack of players impede their progress (?) on the softball diamond Tuesday afternoon. Thirteen lassies braved the cold weather to go through the usual capers.

It has been said that the 7 sophs defeated the opposition, 7-5, but no official score was kept. Mary Eschweil and Marie Bonner, assisting the second year girls, and Joyce Moyer were the game's slingers. Jean Miller and Bert Blauch formed the soph battery with Gerry Bowker, Jean Seidel, and Irma Peoples as the junior combination.

The tennis women have finally taken to the net and, once in a while, a racket connects with the ball. Tennis leader Emma Hafer announced that tryouts were held for the team on Monday. Those trying out were Madeline Levy, Madeline Haag, Marie Bonner, Marie Kauffman, Dorothy Powick, Polly Brossman, Edith Bitler, Dorothy Reber, and Joyce Moyer. A meet has been scheduled with West Reading on Monday consisting of 3 games of singles and 2 of doubles.

Archery Fans Increase An archery tournament is being sponsored by the National Archery Association. All colleges with women students are invited to enter teams. Local tournaments are to be held on the local campuses during April or May. The results of the highest 8 contestants are sent in to the association and the college is then classified.

Each girl must shoot 24 arrows at a distance of 30, 40 and 50 yards, under the supervision of an instructor. Since the contest is being held during Albright's exam week, the local archers will probably not enter this year. But plans will probably be made for entries in the next contest.

Zetas Retain Lead In Campus Softball; Two Wins Assure Kappas Second Place A. P. O.'s Win Two, Lose Two; Pi Taus, Theologs Trail Behind

Although they are no longer invincible by virtue of a 6-3 defeat at the hands of the Kappas, the Zetas maintained their hold on first place in the intramural softball league by taking two games from the Pi Taus and the A.P.O.'s to end the week with a .900 average. The second place Kappas pulled up on the Zetas a half game by beating the A.P.O.'s and Zetas, leaving them two games out of first place. The rest of the teams retained their former positions in this week's standings.

The flashy A. P. O.'s easily defeated the Theologs, 17-3, in last Thursday afternoon's intramural softball game. A bevy of A. P. O. hits and Wayne Abbott's four-hit pitching gave the Chapel boys a decided advantage.

Leading by a meager 2-1 score, the A. P. O.'s opened up the fifth inning with a whirlwind hitting attack. Singles by Jim Snelbacher, Carl Osenbach, Bob Bennett, Frank Vidinski, Jack Gundlach, Al Makovsky, and Red Gable put 6 runs across the plate. The Omegamen continued their rapid pace in the seventh by scoring 9 more runs to set up the ball game.

Making a clean sweep of the day's contests, the A. P. O.'s took over the Pi Taus Thursday evening, 10-5. Twirler Wayne Abbott supplied the fireworks for the winners by collecting 2 singles and a home run. Four-baggers were also drawn by Carl Osenbach of the A. P. O. ten and Bud Mendelsohn of the Pi Taus.

The contest was close up to the fifth inning. With the score 4-3 in their favor, the A. P. O.'s came through in the sixth with 3 runs and then added the same amount in the final chapter. Although the Pi Taus put across 2 runs of their own in the seventh, it was not enough to turn the tide.

With hits a dime a dozen, the Zetas put on the pressure again, this time to outslug the Pi Taus to a 15-8 win Friday afternoon. Home runs were numerous as the Zetas collected 4 in the initial frame, hit by Tom Bertino, Elmer Davis, Wait Hauser, and Dick Weber. Although the Pi Taus collected almost as many hits as the winners, they were too scattered to be effective. Bertino of the Zetas was the big gun with a perfect day at plate, getting 5 out of 5.

Softball Standings As Of Wed., May 5

The first inning was the big noise for both teams, the Zetas getting 8 runs and the Pi Taus adding 5 of their own. After that inning Bob Deach, the Pi Taus pitcher, held the Zeta squad down to 7 runs in six innings. But the Pi Taus were powerless at the plate.

The Zeta winning streak was finally snapped last Friday night by the rival Kappa team by a decisive 6-3 score. As is traditional, hits were few and that was the Zeta Waterloo. Because they were unable to connect on Jimmy Bunn's fast ball, the Zetas could garner only 5 hits in the whole game.

Each team came through with one run in the opening frame, but the Kappas did their damage in the second inning. Two of the 4 runs were made on Jim Kane's home run to deep center, scoring Jim Harpster from first. Other hits in this inning by Rudy Rudzinski and Phil Mertz accounted for the other 2 runs.

Bunn's tight twirling kept the Zetas scoreless for 4 of the 7 innings. Two of the hits he allowed were four-baggers by Tom Bertino and Elmer Davis. By retiring 7 Zetas singlehanded, Bunn contributed a large share of the Zeta upset.

The Kappas added another victory Monday afternoon by taking over the A.P.O. softball ten. Jim Kane led the Kappas as they slugged their way to victory. For the losers, Al Makovsky was the bright spot, putting in a tight defensive game in left field.

Both teams got two runs in the opening inning, the Kappa runs coming across on an error. The winners continued to dominate the play, picking up 5 more runs in 3 innings. In the fourth, the A.P.O.'s got 2 more runs as Ogo Klenc's single sent 2 A.P.O.'s home. Klenc wrenched his knee sliding into second on the next play when Bud Abbott fouled him. The Kappas picked up one more run in the sixth to win the game by an 8-4 score.

Although almost facing their second defeat, the Zetas put on an eighth inning rally and finally won out, 10-8, over a stubborn A.P.O. ten. Outhitting their opponents 15 to 8, the Zetas also took advantage of the frequent free passes given them.

The Zetas led off with a 2-run scoring attack in the first inning. The A.P.O.'s came back in their half of the frame with a single run. By picking up 3 runs in the fourth and in the fifth innings, the Zetas seemed to have the game under control.

In their half of the sixth, the A.P.O. ten set out on a 6-run scoring spree. Walks issued to Frank

Soldier Softballers Play All-Star Team

An all-star team picked by the five teams in the intramural softball league met an Air Crew ten last night on the Theolog diamond. Six Kappas, five Zetas, one Pi Taus, A.P.O., and Theolog made up the team. The soldier squad was picked by Coach Harris, their physical training director. Because The Albrightian went to press before the game was played, the results cannot be published. The team was as follows:

Pos. Player Frnt. Includes c-Peters, Zetas; c-Bull, Kappas; p-Bertino, Zetas; p-Bunn, Kappas; 1b-Mertz, Zetas; 2b-Stark, Zetas; 3b-Davis, Zetas; ss-Kachline, Zetas; if-Duff, Zetas; cf-Burns, Kappas; rf-Horn, Kappas; cf-Puncavage, Kappas; u. out-Bennett, A.P.O.'s; u. inf-Heffner, Theolog.

Vidinski, Joe Brand and Harry Hantzes, and singles by Bud Abbott, Irv Solomon and Paul Mattson helped to provide the scoring punch. The telling blow of the inning was a triple by Bob Bahn. By scoring 6 runs, the A.P.O.'s left the game tied up at 8-8.

Neither team could score in the seventh frame, but it was in the eighth that the Zetas took the decision. Both Joe Duff and Dick Weber got on base with walks. Singles by Elmer Davis and Wait Hauser then brought in the winning runs.
