rules for all-campus elections, which by the authority of its constitution Student Council conducts, the Coun-cil representatives passed an election code at their meeting on Tues day, March 5. William West, '58 chairman of Council's Election Com '58 mittee, presented the section of the code for discussion at the meeting.

Working with West in the formu-lation of the code were Clair Matz, '58, Arthur Saylor, '57, and Philip Eyrich, '58.

The regulations cover the elec-tions for class officers, Student Council president, Homecoming Queen, and the presidents of the Y organizations. The rules for the May Queen's election were orginally in corporated into the code, but were rescinded at the special meeting of Council on March 7 and temporary regulations were substituted. This action followed a series of protests against portices of the original code several junior and senior girls.

Class Officers

The rules dealing with the elec-tica of class officers include the fol-le wing provisions: calling of meet-ing for the purpose of nominations to be decided upon by the incum bent president of the class and the chairman of Student Council's Election Committee, holding of a pri-mary election on the day of nomi-nations if more than two persons are nominated for an office to rethe number of candidates to voting on official Student Countwo. cil Ballots, collecting the ballots in dividually, allowing at least one week between the primary and general election, and the encouraging of candidates to campaign.

With regard to the election for Council president, a student's name may now appear legally on the nominating petition of only one prospec tive candidate.

Elections for the Y presidents are to be held in conjunction with the balloting for the Council president and provisions are to be set up to insure that only male students can vote for president of the YM and women students for the YW head.

Tonight!

"All The King's Men." an Academy Award winner featuring Broderick Crawford and Mercedes McCambridge, will be shown in Krause Hall at 8 p.m. Everyone is invited. Admission is free.

By Phil Eyrich, Associate Editor

By Phil Eyrich, Associate Editor The curtain has fallen on another cage season here at Albright and, despite some improvement in the won-loss column over last year, the Lions still ended with a losing record of 10-15. The 1955-56 aggregation finished at 8-18. Albright did conclude the season in a blaze of glory by upsetting both Bucknell, 66-57, and Elizabethtown, 82-74, within four days. Previously the Lions had blown all chances of finishing at the top in the Northern Division of the Middle Atlantic States Basketball Con-ference by losing to Franklin and Marshall, 90-76, Hofstra, 81-71, and Moravian, 89-69. They did, however, extend the MASC's representative to the NCAA post-season, university-division tournament, Lafayette, be-fore bowing out at 76-69.

The Lions pulled several upsets during the season by defeating such squads as Lehigh, Franklin and Marshall, Wagner, and Bucknell, in addi-tion to dropping close games to Lebanon Valley, Scranton, and Lafayette. Perhaps much of Albright's trouble came from a lack of consistent re-bounding strength and inexperience. Looking ahead to the prospects for next year, the bright spot that immediately comes up is that Fred Dietzel and Merrill Eckhart will return. This pair of sophomores had followers of the Lions talking more than once during the season just ended and, with the experience they gained this year, much is to be expected of them in the seasons to come.

The big problem will be to fill in around them with at least two good rebounders and another all-around player; these gaps will have to be filled if the Lions can look forward to improving on their 10-15 record next year. At this stage, it would seem that the 1956-1957 jayvee squad will produce at least one promising performer for the varsity in fresh-man Richie Greene, whose scoring enabled the Junior Lions to cop most of their 10 wins this season.

Player of the Month . .

Fidyer of the Mohth . . . Fred Dietzel, 6-0 varsity cager from Ephrata, has been selected The Albrightlan's Player of the Month for February. A sophomore guard, he scored 132 points in 10 games in that month for an average of 13.2 points-per-game. In addition to his scoring, Dietzel's rebounding and ball-handling were decisive factors in the Lions' February wins over Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Wagner, and Lebanon Valley.

And Marshall, Gettysburg, wagner, and Lebanon vaney. Against the F&M Diplomats, he led the Albright scoring parade with 24 points as the Lions pulled one of their biggest upsets of the campaign. Noted for his brilliant play on Albright's home floor, Dietzel bagged 18 points at Gettysburg and exhibited his best performance on the road this season. He followed that effort up by scoring 16 a few nights later in a losing effort against Scranton, and his 16 points against both Wagner and LVC were instrumental in Albright's winning surge in both of those games. Dietzel joins Bruce Riddell and Captain Jim Foreman as Lion cagers who were named Player of the Month during the season just concluded.

Coming Up .

As

The spring sports season is rapidly approaching here at Albright. The baseball and golf teams have begun drills and the call has been issued for the trackmen to report. Tennis is also expected to begin soon. All four teams play extended schedules each year. Albright usually en-joys its best athletic success in the spring section of its sports program. ... Tonight in the fieldhouse, the roaring Red Knights of Reading High School (20-2) will take on the Boyertown Bears in another PIAA post-season game at 8 p.m. This is the semi-final round of the District 3, Class A playoffs, with the winner slated to meet Hanover.
