FACULTY ENJOY A PROFITABLE AND VARIED SUMMER

Many Interests Hold the Attention of Profs. Who Intermingle Travel and Advanced Study.

HOBBIES ARE FOLLOWED.

Dr. Teel made four principle addresses this summer, speaking at Colorado Springs, Cal., Linwood Park, Ohio, Huntingburg, Ind., and Central Oak Heights, Pa. Later he and his family traveled, visiting, Chicago, Buffalo and Detroit.

Some of the faculty spent part of their summer teaching at Albright. Among those were Professors Voight, Gingrich, Gerlach, Fenili, Smith and Fluck. After the session Miss Gerlach journeyed to Central Pennsylvania, where she spent five weeks at a hunting camp in the mountains near Bellefonte.

Profs. Fenili and Gingrich vacationed respectively in Lyndhurst, N. J. and Chicago, Ill.

Prof. and Mrs. Hunt spent the summer with the latter's father in Chapman, Kansas.

Miss Innis and Prof. Speicher did work toward their Masters degree at U. of P., while Coach Smith continued his course at the Y. M. C. A. College Springfield, Mass.

Mr. Lubold did considerable traveling, visiting in West Virginia and Wildwood, N. J. He also visited New Berlin, Pa. the site of old Union Seminary, the forerunner of the present Albright College.

Prof. Zener served as dean and instructor at two religious camps, one at Arbutus Park, Ohio and the other at Cassata in Bedford County.

During his summer's work visited the home of Prof. Voight, leaving a little girl who will soon answer to the name of Yvonne.

Dr. Hauk who has already traveled rather extensively both at home and abroad, settled down this summer in New York City where he was employed temporarily by the Am. Tel. & Tel. Co. This work was created by the floating of $250,000.00 worth of new stock. Dr. Hauk's position was that of subscription specialist.

While not engaged with the affairs of the company, Dr. Hauk read the proof of his dissertation entitled, "An Introduction to the Posthumous Books of Richard Hooker's Ecclesiastical Polity" which is now in progress of publication.

Dr. Weber spent a large part of the summer in Europe, traveling thru France, Germany, and Italy. This fall Dr. Weber takes up his new duties as dean of men at Lock Haven State Teacher's College. Sincere wishes for success follow him from his many friends on the Campus.

Dr. Greth, besides his regular occupation as pastor, spent much time on his newest book entitled, "Leadership Training Thru Local Churches."

Except for a brief trip to Canada, Dr. Taylor could be found in the Industrial Research Department of the U. of P. He has just finished his book entitled, "Rates and Wages in the Full Fashion Hosiery Industry."

Dr. and Mrs. Graham Cook immediately after school closed journeyed by automobile to San Marcos, Texas, where Dr. Cook was instructor in chemistry at the South West State Teachers College during the summer session. After the close of the summer session they spent three weeks at Yoakum, Texas, and then two weeks on the Gulf Coast at Rockport, Texas. A motor trip to Matamoros and other places of interest in Mexico followed and then the long trip back to Reading for the fall term. On their way to Texas they passed through Virginia, Nashville, Tennessee, Little Rock, Arkansas, and then to Dallas. Their return trip was along the coast touching New Orleans, Atlanta, and North through Virginia and the Capital.

Professor Clarence I. Horn, head of the Biology department studied for six weeks this summer in the laboratories of the Carnegie Institute and the Long Island Biological Association, working

Lecture By Jack Hart Pleases Y's

Large Audience Hears Chaplain Speak on Life Problems.

It was just one week ago tonite that Jack Hart of the University of Pennsylvania gave one of the finest addresses ever given in the College chapel. His appearance was under the direction of the Y. M. and everyone was greatly benefited by the address.

"Jack" came to the campus in the capacity of minister, teacher, lecturer and friend. His wide reaching influence and many associations have afforded him a rare opportunity to study human nature so that he is well fitted to direct life.

Throughout his entire address his individuality of style was noted. His many jokes, stories, and witticisms enabled him to keep his audience in the frame of mind which is his keynote—cheerfulness.

Those who came into contact with him throughout the day found him a real fellow not only as a speaker but in knowledge of life as it should be lived. It is hoped that he will return to Albright in the future.

The evening's program was taken in charge by Harry Paul, the capable Y. M. president. Misses Flora Gross and Mildred Wissinger sang "Going Home" in connection with the devotional part of the program.

BUCKNELL HANDS LIONS THEIR FIRST DEFEAT OF THE SEASON, 26-0

Brumbaugh and Hinkle Run Roughshod Over Shock Troops; Brilliant Lion Offense Hampered by Lax Officials.

Y. M. & Y. W. Delegates Give Reports

Forest Park Scene of Inspiring Conference Sessions.

"All aboard for Forest Park" was the cry heard on June 10. Four representatives from Albright College responded and arrived there to undergo a new experience. These four seniors were Virginia Zug, Marion Costello, Arthur Erickson and Paul Teel.

Forest Park is situated above Stroudsburg in the Pocono Mountains. The site was a new one for the delegates as the conference the previous year had been held at Eagles Mere. Headquarters were at Unity House which together with several cottages provided lodging for the delegates. Provisions for recreation included swimming, boating, tennis, riding, baseball, basketball, ping-pong, handball and volley ball besides numerous trails for hiking.

The work of the conference was exceedingly worthwhile and much of its success was due to its excellent leaders. A definite program was arranged for each day an example of which follows: 7:00 A. M., Rising Bell; 7:30, Breakfast; 8:30, Worship-Wesley May; 9:00, Interest groups; 10:15, Intermission; 10:45, Address—Sherwood Eddy; 11:30, Association Hour; 1:00 P. M., Luncheon; 1:45, Meeting for election of members for Eagles Mere Division; 2:00, Committee Meetings; 3:30, All Stars vs. Do-Dos Baseball game; 6:00, Dinner; 7:00, Discussion groups; 8:00, Symposium "Next Steps in International Relations"—Miss Schain, Dr. Matthews and one other person followed by a sing; 11:00 P. M.

There were more than 500 representatives from leading colleges from this country and foreign lands. One meeting of real interest to everyone was the International Nite program. Delegates represented the following countries: Korea, Germany, Austria, Palestine, Japan, Porto Rico, Canada, India, Czechoslovakia, and China. The latter group was a very interesting play in which street singers took part. One man who created a decided interest among the group was Bruce Curry who lectured several evenings.

Pep Broadcast Features Frosh

Talks Show Fighting Spirit of Lions for Bucknell Game.

The second in a series of weekly "Pep" nites was held Thursday night in the broadcasting studios of WRW. The attendance was a bit discouraging. Some of the Frosh may have been in ignorance of the affair but others seemed to be lacking in spirit and made no effort to attend. However those few who did attend threw themselves wholeheartedly into the songs and cheers.

As a prelude Pop Warner gave a short history of the game of football. Ding Shaffer, Capt. of the team, Franny Hatton and Coach Julian gave short talks concerning the outlook for Saturday's game. "Doggy," equivocal as ever, hinted that as a fitting unit, this year's team is the equal of any Albright has ever produced.

Then Perry Ott, popular co-ed about the campus, in an original poem bewailed the sad lot of the Frosh. A quartet composed of Messrs. Teel, Ice, Funke and Auman opened up several hot dance numbers.

This excellent program interspersed with songs and cheers by the Frosh and under the capable direction of "Johnny" Heilman was brought to a fitting close with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Band Reorganizes For Big Year

Vernon Hiester, Student Leader, A's To Be Awarded Members.

Now that the Freshman have polished the band instruments, we find all the members coming out with a zeal for playing as never previously shown. With a foot here and a foot there the band swung into its rehearsals. The aspects for a successful season are very promising.

There are many benefits to be derived in the band this year. Trips with the football team, and finally A's are to serve as payment for each member's work.

The band, fully organized, accompanied the football team to the game with the Schuylkill Alumni on Monday evening, September 22. A fine display of musical ability and promises of a very good season were evidenced.

Saturday, October 4, the band accompanied the team to Bucknell. With pep and snap it spurred on the group of students, which followed the team.

This year, something new is being tried. The leadership of the band is placed in the hands of a student. Vernon Hiester, the student now filling the position of Band Leader, has shown himself to be very capable.

The students have responded generously and a large number are exercising their lungs for their Alma Mater.

Among the old members of the band are: Albert Mallott, Drum Major; Paul Teel, Paul Bowen, Warren Allen, Norman Shollenberger, Arthur Erickson, Herman Rudolph, Robert Hill, Ernest Bittner, John Bell, Leroy Gehris.

A good force of Freshmen also are: George Wright, Edwin Minnich, Philip Fisch, R. Tyndall, Benjamin Funk, Carlyle Aken, Bill Burg.

Sophomores Hold First Session

Franny Hatton Named Treasurer Squad Practices Begin.

On Monday, September 29, the Sophomore class held its first meeting for the year. The present, Stanley Brooks, presided. Franny Hatton was elected treasurer and will fill the place of Harold Stauffer who had not returned to Albright. New ideas and plans for a busy year were presented and discussed. All football players not on the varsity squad were asked to come to practices of the Sophomore team. The work of building up a team has already started and daily practices are underway.

Reading Chemists Meet Tonight

Dr. Graham Cook, President.

This evening, 6 to 8 o'clock in the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room, the Reading Chemists' Club will meet for dinner after which the regular business meeting of the society will be held.

All students interested in chemistry are cordially invited to attend. Dinner will be served at $1.25 per plate. Officers of the Club are—Dr. Graham Cook, of Albright College, President, Paul Tyson of Carpenter Steel, Vice-President, and Paul Merkel, City Chemist, Secretary.

LIONS OUTFRUSH BIONS

A hard-fighting Albright team journeyed to Lewisburg on Saturday and received its first defeat of the season 26-0. The score does not indicate the intensity with which the battle was fought. Coach Julian started the reserves, planning to wear down Bucknell with a defensive game. This strategy failed, because the heavy second team was too slow, and Bucknell rushed thru for two touchdowns before the game was five minutes old. Julian then sent in the varsity and the fans saw some real football for the rest of the game. Even the Bucknell players admitted that they more than had their hands full with the scrappy Albright varsity.

Bucknell scored twice at the start of the game. A poor kick gave the Bions the ball deep in Albright's territory, and they quickly rushed it across, Hinkle making the score. Bucknell returned the ensuing kickoff to the 30-yd. line. In the first play Brumbaugh slid off tackle and evaded Albright's secondary defense and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. Then the varsity came to the rescue. Late in the half a poor kick against the wind gave Bucknell the ball on Albright's 33-yard line. The Bions pushed the ball gradually to the six yard line, where a five yard penalty placed the ball on the one yard line. Mezza plunged for a score. The final score came in the closing minutes of the game, as Hinkle intercepted a pass and ran 60 yards to Albright's 10-yard line. Three plays and Hinkle scored. Captain Schaffer protested that Kinkle had not crossed the final marker, but the referee stood by his decision.

For Bucknell, Hinkle and Brumbaugh were outstanding stars. Hinkle, big and fast was a hard man to stop and he gained the most ground for his team. For Albright it would be unfair to pick one or two men as the stars. Every last man gave his best and the last three quarters belonged to the Lions. In the last three quarters Albright scored 16 first downs to Bucknell's 8, but the breaks favored the Bions. Albright's linemen from tackle to tackle fought their heavier foes to a standstill. Karlip and Daub were strong on the ends, and very few Bion end runs or reverses netted gains. In the backfield Haines and Hino were brilliant until laid low with injuries, which necessitated their removal. Weigle furnished some splendid plunging. Time after time Weigle rammed the heavy Bion line for gains ranging from two to seven yards. Emmett stood out defensively after replacing Hino.

The game was very rough at times. The officials left the game get out of their hands and much roughness, some of which was intentional, resulted. Haines, Hino, Brookes and Daub had to be assisted from the field, while others were severely battered. It is significant that most of Albright's backs suffered knee and ankle twists during the game, some of which were in plain view of the spectators.

The game clearly showed Albright's power, and a successful season is anticipated.

THE DEAR OLD CUSTOMS.

All over the world during the past few hectic weeks, the Class of 1934 has found itself alternately paddled and patted on the back. It has been deluged with advice from deans and from seasoned upperclassmen about where to eat and what courses not to take.

A few important facts stand out from the whirl, the first is that there are more freshmen than ever this year. Colleges in the middle west and on the Pacific Coast note that the business depression did not have its expected effect on the enrollment, as the class of 1934 will probably be larger than any previous one.

The attitude toward freshman hazing seems to be changing gradually. At the University of West Virginia, the Student Council has officially abolished hazing, and has provided instead for a Freshman Court to work with the Traditions Committee in enforcing freshman customs. Which means that freshman rules are under the charge of a definite group, and not any upperclassman (sophomores being traditionally the most ardent) cares to take a hand. Bucknell has gone still farther, and is attacking not only hazing, but the freshman traditions themselves. In a letter to the editor of the Bucknellian of September 18, a freshman declares: "I have not come here to revert to the antics of my pre-school days. . . My purpose is and has got to be serious." And this attitude is supported in an editorial in the same issue which denounces the time-honored green caps and compulsory acrobatics as "silly and childish."

But hazing is still far from a lost art. At Park College, "originality and humiliation" are still the purpose of the freshman rules. The "Trojan" (University of Southern California) describes "some new and particularly effective ways of making the frosh respect their university," ranging from freshman tree-sitting contests to removing painted remarks from the sidewalks with only "bricks and elbow-grease." At Creighton, the freshman wears a green cap with a bright red bill; at the University of Wichita, garters with socks that do not match. The student in Holland who is a candidate for one of the University corps must have his head and enter his clubroom by the window. The new Corps member, needless to say, is easily recognizable for several months.

An interesting device for helping the bewildered newcomer is the Harvard "Crimson's" Confidential Guide to Courses, which is a really frank appraisal from the student's viewpoint, of the value and interest of various fields of study. As a "Crimson" editorial puts it, "The faculty is amply represented in the catalogue and the various conferences with instructors. . . This is a defined undergraduate opinion. It offers a means of ascertaining just how well the various instructors accomplish their aims as teachers." One has a mental picture of the Harvard faculty peering in trepidation at the "Crimson's" very outspoken comments on certain courses; but in spite of its inevitable shortcomings, the Confidential must certainly be helpful to the harassed freshman facing, as he is so often told, "the whole field of knowledge"

LITERARY

LIVES AND LETTERS By Rudolph Shook, '33

The summer ends. The miniature golf enthusiasts turn to bridge. Browned society women wait in line at the drug store for preparations to make them pale again. The world turns from a vigorous vacation to a peaceful winter of work—

Newman Levy and John Held, Jr. summarize their painful experiences of the summer in a mad volume called "Saturday to Monday" an anthology of the week-end-in-the-country hours. It is filled with satirical verses about those people, hard beds, and charades we had to bear. We all know

THE STRENUOUS HOST

I regard as a menace
The hosts who play tennis
And I'm one who dislikes
Those who drag you on hikes.
The golf playing host
Is the one I hate most.
And a round of croquet
Knocks me out for the day.
Oh a plague on those well meaning Strenuous loons
Who consider their homes
As a branch of Muldoon's.

A charming and most frank verse for a guest room is suggested:

The kids are asleep on the sofa
While the wife has to sleep on a cot
We pass it off brightly and act most politely
But really we mind it a lot.

Of course, we're delighted to see you.
May nothing your comfort here mar;
But you can't realize in a house of this size
What a awful damned nuisance you are.

Though certainly not intellectual food "Saturday to Monday" is very amusing.

The glamorous Greta Garbo attended the preview of her latest picture, "Romance" at the Belmont Theatre in Los Angeles. She dipped in wearing her dark glasses, but they are no longer a disguise for the great Greta. Word seemed to have spread to half the city that she was there, and the crowd that could not get in waited outside the theatre. She delayed her departure, but the crowd delayed with her. When she did appear it was all the officials could do to get her into her town car and clear a path through the seething Garbo maniacs for her chauffeur (lucky fellow) to transport the Queen of the Movies away.

The argument about dollar books rages pro and con, but the publishers calmly continue to print the more inexpensive editions. Most of the literary world is horrified by the idea of producing literature and selling it, like tooth paste, in a drug store, and predicts a fall to cheapness and sensationalism as a result. The liberal minded optimists say that although there will be some lowering of standards to attract the people whose minds and reading leave a lot to be desired, the people who love literature will buy without regard to the price and will tend to keep up the standard. They add that there will continue to be published higher priced editions for people who care. Some authors have issued their latest novels in the new editions are H. G. Wells, Coingsley Dawson, P. G. Wodehouse, and Edgar Wallace. There are, of course, new editions of the best sellers of recent years at $1.00.

One reason psychology and psychology are so continually popular is that they are about yourself. "The Human Mind" by Karl Menninger, M. D. is one of the best books yet written on this fascinating subject. He discussed in detail and with a broad modern viewpoint the different types of mental illness maladjustment to environment and adds sound advice for their treatment. It is a large book, but so well written and interesting that it seems too short.

IF I SHOULD DIE

I think if I should die today
And none of all my dreams come true
That I should gladly face the Way
And not a day of life would rue.

For I have known so many things,
The joy of loving arms and lips,
The bird that in a woodland sings
Where sunlight through green foliage slips.

I've known a mother's tender care,— Infinite love surpassing all—
The gay wind tossing free my hair,
Spring, with its lush aged-old call.

If God, with His wisdom, should see That richer joys were never meant
To brighten all my life for me
I know that I should be content.

—R. B. D. Tappan '33

"CHOKES"

Mil Wissinger—Why do you call
"Al" Humpty Dumpty?
Period—Guess, because he fell for me and it broke him.

Hino is not a butcher's son but he gives the girls a cold shoulder.

Joe Betz—Look Dad, I won the loving cup.

Dad—You young pup. Is that what I sent you to school for?

"Now," said Mrs. Cook, "I want you to write a composition. Don't write anything you've seen or heard before.
Write just what's in you."

Here's what Sullivan wrote.
"Inside of me there is a liver, a heart, two lungs, and a stomach.
There's some potatoes, a steak, two pickles, a piece of bread and some Ice Cream."

IN MEMORIAM.

"Pickles" our beloved bird, passed to that eternal rest October 4, 1930.
His sweet companionship is sadly missed.

—Katy and Sally.

A girl I like
Is Sadie Bellows
She never brags
Of other fellows.

Some upperclassmen said "I'm so glad classes have started. I can hardly wait to do some outside reports."
Yes, and a few other upperclassmen seem to be taking a correspondence school course this year.

Chirped a Frosh, "What are these "fresh air" courses I hear so much about? Nothing Oscar, nothing at all.
Merely review a few books and follow that up with a few detailed written reports to hand in. The profs. are attempting to discover the new styles in handwriting, that's all.

In and About the Cinema

The Versatile Dorothy Mackaill, star of such pictures as "The Barker" and "The Captive Women," can be seen again in a role that is different from any of the others she has done. In "The Office Wife," a Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production now playing at the ASTOR THEATRE, she portrays the secretary of a busy executive. You can imagine the drama. The secretary is engaged to a young reporter. Her employer's wife is carrying on a flirtation with another man. The busy executive does not know about his wife.
Neither does he know that his secretary has fallen in love with him.

This is an unusual story full of "human interest," with Dorothy Mackaill and Lewis Stone in the leading roles.

There are today on the American screen (and the death of Jeanne Eagles) only two really fine artists,
Arlene and the inimitable Ruth Chatterton is the other. In the portrayal of emotional roles she is truly magnificent. Her "Madame X" was the triumph of the year and now she appears in artistry than the former role. Clive Brook, her favorite leading man is in it too.

DELEGATES REPORT

He had the facility of bringing the ideals which Jesus taught down to present day life and making them of living concern to everyone. Those who heard him can never forget the force of his simple direct talks. Sherwood Eddy who just recently returned from an extended tour of Europe gave some helpful sketches of the Russian and Indian situations today. He spoke of a great admiration for Gandhi and a personal interview he had with him.

The discussion groups met with unanimous approval. They averaged from 10 to 30 people and were led by conference leaders. Many viewpoints were brought out when the group included men and women of different races.

At meal times the seating arrangement varied. Sometimes the delegates from one college would sit together when the dining room would echo with college cheers and songs. At other times the delegates would choose numbers for places at tables. This resulted in new and interesting acquaintances.

The conference brought many new thoughts and ideas for each delegate to take back to his organization but it also brought inspirations resulting from contacts with both God and man which the individual can only harbor in himself.

Irma Stahl has been duly appointed chief sanctioner to all Dr. Houk's opinions in class.

Sally Varner is again receiving telephone calls from Chicago. New York and elsewhere. Ship ahoy!

Alan McCarrall was slightly injured in a fall so Period went on duty on Wednesday night.

The Dominoes are getting ready to put on another play. Again, watch for Retrograture Features.

Perhaps the sign "Slow School" will be removed from 13th St. since plans for a dance are under way.

Will Pete Masonius really go to Bermuda or is he stringing the co-eds to get their reactions?

S. Richard Wiley scouted the campus for a girl to take to the game. He stayed home. Moral: Cheer up, better days are coming.

Frosh Fellow (at Connecticut Aggies game) Don't tell anyone, but I climbed over the wall so that I wouldn't have to pay to get in.

Did Parke Adams get the hat when he bought the car or the car when he bought the hat? Or were both free?

Y. W. C. A. Holds First Open Forum

Miss Innis, Faculty Sponsor;
Special Program Given.

On Wednesday, October 1, the regular weekly Y. W. C. A. meeting was held in the Y room of Selwyn Hall.
The president, Marion Costello, presided and a large number of girls were in attendance. The Scripture was read by Alma Bergtresser and Pauline Richards lead in prayer.

A quartette composed of Mildred Wissinger, Flora Gross, Ruth Kroust, and Irma Stahl sang. Miss Florence Innis, elected advisor for the year, was introduced by the president. Miss Hazel Hill recited "Prayer of a Sportsman" and Flora Lobb read a poem entitled "Be Strong."

The discussion of the evening was on the question "Why are we in college?" Different answers and opinions were contributed and many interesting viewpoints revealed. The meeting was closed by repeating the Mispah Benediction.

Library Adds Valuable Copies

During the summer vacation several valuable gifts of books were added to the library. Mr. and Mrs. Chas Paul gave nearly one hundred volumes in memory of the late Horace F. Yumdt, Esq., of Reading. Among these books are the History of the Civil War in four volumes by Mignet's, Johnston's and Carlyle's History of the French Revolution; also:

Ropes—"The First Napoleon."
Hopper—"Waterloo." Bueche—"History of Civilization in England." Dillon—"Laws and Jurisprudence of England and America."
Foraythe—"History of Lawyers."
Harbottle—"Dictionary of Battles."
Bismarck—"Autobiography" 2 Vols.
Bache—"Life of Gen. George G.
Meade."
Meade—"Memoirs of Gen. Robert E.
Lee."
Longstreet—"From Manassas to Appomattox."
Wise—"End of an Era."
McClure—"Lincoln and Men of War Times."

Miss Katy Levan of Pottsville presented nearly two hundred volumes from the library of her Aunt, Mrs.
Sarah Bartholomew. Most of these are modern works in literature and religion.
A list of the more important ones will be published in an early issue of the Albrightian.

In both instances the librarian was invited to select the books from the respective libraries.
Dr. Fred G. Livingood presented a copy of his book on the "Eighteenth Century Reformed Church Schools in Penna."

A number of new books were added by purchase. Among them are:

SPORT LIGHTS

By James D. McGuigan.

Honestly—this job of witing remarks and reviews is not what it used to be. I suppose times have changed.

Regardless of the attitude we have when we look back upon Saturday's game, we can honestly feel that we certainly played the game and played it FAIR and Square. There isn't so much immediate consolidation in that, but it does help a bit. The Chery and White put up a game fight against those bucking Bisons. Whether it was greater football strategy or merely a more experienced team will have to be answered by the individual himself. We will have to be content with bidding our time and remember that another chance should be forthcoming next year.

The game was rough. Those who saw it will agree on that. Our sympathies are with Bo Bo Brooks and Stan. Hino who seemed to get the bad breaks. That is, breaks of injury instead of luck.

Agreeing with the philosopher, we will let the past take care of itself and gaze upon the future. This Saturday we play Mt. St. Mary. Our glamour and football pep should increase as the days roll on.

Glad to see our Golf Team tie with Reading High. More power to you, in future matches.

So you don't forget, the football scores to date are—

- Albright 0—Schuylkill Alumni 0.
- Albright 19—Conn. Aggies 0.
- Albright 0—Bucknell 26.

Golf Team Plays Reading High

In a brilliant game the Albright Collegians played the Reading High School Golf team to a draw, 7½—7½, at the Berkleigh Country Club. The match, the first of the season, was closely contested, Rader of Reading staging a fine comeback to defeat Hoffer of Albright. Clark and Hoffer, two Freshmen, show promise of developing into some very good material for future matches.

The summaries—

ALBRIGHT	READING HIGH
Hoffer, 1	Rader, 2
Bair, 3	Hoffman, 0
Clark, 3	Pichini, 3
Blumberg, 2½	Anewalt, ½
McCarroll, 1	Sharffer, 2

CELEBRITY

MARION COSTELLO

Merrily piping his way into the hearts of man, the old God, Pan, again revealed himself in the person of Marion. This versatile co-ed has engaged in dramatic work, having appeared as Mother in the Junior Class play "Oh Kay." She is interested in Y. W. work, being the president for the term; sorority work, being President of the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority; a member of Tau Kappa Alpha, debating fraternity; Pi Gamma Mu, Social Science Fraternity; is a recipient of the gold "A" Albright's highest commendation for excellence in all phases of college life; the wearer of happiness for all with whom she comes in contact.

Pan is soon to steal away from us to teach of the sunny skies of Spain and the happiness of life itself. Would that we like the children of Hamelin, might follow the piper to his realm of love and joy.

Dean Walton Makes Extensive Trip

Answering the call of the wanderer and the challenge of the open road, Professor George W. Walton and family spent six weeks during the summer on a 5,500 mile field trip rambling by auto through fifteen states of the Middle West seeking botanical and geological information as well as physical recreation and social education which such travel affords. A few of the highlights of experience and observation enjoyed enroute may be summarized briefly as follows:

- Visiting the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh.
- Sleeping in the car by the roadside service station in Ohio when stranded at midnight far from town.
- Harvesting with the "combine groups" in the wheat fields of Kansas and enjoying the hospitality of western friends.—Indulging in ice cream, fried chicken and iced tea.
- Plowing through dusty detours of Oklahoma or skidding through slimy gumbo of Kansas and Colorado.
- Gliding along sunflower-hedged highways through Kansas prairies with turtle doves, blue jays, red-headed woodpeckers, prairie dogs, badgers and jack rabbits adding color and action to the treeless tracks of buffalo grass, sage, cactus and yucca.
- Steering our course over an 81 mile level, straight-away through Kansas prairies towards shimmering mirages without falling asleep.
- Sitting on pinnacle rocks in the Garden of the Gods watching the sun and the clouds play hide-and-go-seek with the snow elad summit of Pike's Peak.
- Viewing the natural glories of the Southern Rockies from the top of the trail at Raton Pass, New Mexico, at an elevation of 7800 feet.
- Climbing 37 miles over sinuous roads winding through sylvian sanctuaries of Cimarron Canyon, flanked by towering palisades and tangled peaks past Eagles' Nest Lake at an elevation of 8450 feet, to the top of the world on the Spruce clad summit of Palo Flachado Pass at an elevation of 9250 feet; then
- Coasting down a 29 mile slide off the roof of New Mexico to the quaint Indian town of Taos.
- Mingling with the blanketed Indians in their adobe Pueblos.
- Gliding down the 1000 foot precipice into the canyon of the Rio Grande.
- Exploring the ruins, deserted 1500 years ago, of the Puya Cliff dwellers on the mesa of Pajarito Plateau near Es Panola, New Mexico.
- Visiting the oldest church (Spanish Mission of San Miguel) and the oldest house in the United States in quaint old Santa Fe.
- Swating mosquitoes between snatches of sleep at a tourist camp in Albuquerque.
- Turning homeward when only 900 miles from the Pacific Coast—sacrificing the experience of the petrified forest, the painted desert, the grand canyon and the Mojave desert—be-

Wednesday evening, January 7th, Florence Austral, Dramatic Soprano, and John Amadio, Flutist. The fame of this singer has spread around the world. It is a pleasure to have her come to Reading, as well as to hear Mr. Amadio, famous flutist.

Wednesday evening, January 28th, Sergei Rachmaninoff. This is the first appearance of the artist in this city. To say we are fortunate in having him come would hardly express our appreciation. Nobody will want to miss hearing the eminent Russian pianist, composer and conductor, who as a pianist, sets for his own music in his own way.

Monday evening, March 2nd, Mischa Elman, Violinist. We hardly need to write anything about this world renowned artist, who at twelve years of age, was pronounced a musical prodigy. Suffice to say that Elman today is the supreme violinist of his time.
