CHEMISTRY STUDENTS VISIT CARPENTER STEEL CO.

On Tuesday, February 20th, the Reading Chemists' Club, accompanied by the junior Albright members of the club, a number of students of the Reading High School, and their guests, made a visit to the Carpenter Steel Company. The group met in the offices of the Company, where a short business meeting was held. Following this meeting the visitors, under the direction of Mr. Paul Tyson, Chief Chemist of the Company, and his assistants, were conducted through the mills.

During the trip the guests of the company witnessed two of the furnaces in action, and thrilled to the sight of the white-hot steel being poured into the moulds from a huge ladle. Among the other interesting departments visited were the chemistry laboratory, the rolling mill, the "picking" vats, the shipping room and the offices of the company.

The guides adequately explained each operation and assured a very interesting trip to all. Despite the cold weather, everyone enjoyed the trip immensely and are indebted to the Carpenter Steel Company for the courtesy shown in extending this opportunity to see the mills in action.

In order to properly entertain the Pennsylvania Academy of Science at their spring meeting, which will be held on our campus this year on March 30 and 31, the Easter recess will be postponed one week.

Recess will begin after the last class on Thursday, March 29.

Work will be resumed at 8.00 A. M. on Monday, April 9.

ANNUAL JUNIOR ORATORICAL TILT HELD MARCH 27th

Winners to Compete in Yearly Junior-Senior Contest Held April 27

The annual Junior oratorical contest will be held this year Tuesday evening, March 27, in the college chapel. It was necessary to change the date as scheduled in the catalogue, because of a conflict with a college debate date. The contest is open only to Juniors who prepare and write their own oration. A prize of fifteen dollars is awarded the winner, and is presented by Charles "Pop" Kelchner, former professor and coach of Albright College. Mr. Kelchner has always been a strong supporter of the forensic art and maintains this award annually to keep alive the interest in this particular field.

The two people winning first and second place respectively in the Junior contest are entered in the Junior-Senior oratorical contest, which this year will be held Thursday, April 27. The winner of this contest receives the award of fifteen dollars in gold. Last year the winners of the Junior division were Marshall Brennehan and Edwin Minnich.

Professor Viogt, who undertakes the coaching of the Junior aspirants, urges that all third year people consider the matter thoroughly and consult him immediately if they decide to enter the contest.

READING HIGH PRINCIPAL ADDRESSES STUDENTS ON SUBJECT "PERSONALITY"

Professor John P. Lozo, principal of the Reading Senior High School, addressed the students and faculty of Albright College at 10.00 o'clock on Monday morning. Professor Buckwalter was in charge.

Professor Lozo spoke on "Personality." His talk centered mostly on the importance of a teacher having a positive personality. He said that a personality could be acquired. One should follow after the best styles, and a style of his own will be developed. Will-power is necessary in the development of a personality.

Some of the essential factors of a positive personality, according to Mr. Lozo, are good manners, courtesy, good personal appearance, good posture, well-modulated voice, and a good command of English. A person possessing a positive personality is usually alive with interest. They have tact and have a good sense of humor. His address, though brief, gave many valuable suggestions to the future teachers present.

SENIORS LEAD IN SEMESTER SCHOLASTIC RATING; FRESHMEN CLASS ESCAPE CELLAR POSITION

Pi Alpha Tau and Pi Tau Beta Continue to Set Pace in Sorority and Fraternity Groups; Sophomore Class Have Highest Deficiency Rating

LOUIS MADERNNIS WINS FIRST PLACE IN ANNUAL PRIZE ESSAY CONTEST

The results of the annual Washington-Lincoln Essay Contest, restricted to members of the Freshman class, placed Louis Madernnis, of Wernersville first, Mrs. Evelyn Essick of Reading, second, and Leonard Stephan of West Wyomissing in third place. The unusually fine group of essays submitted for consideration occasioned much difficulty to the discriminative powers of the English Department.

Louis Madernnis took the primary honors with a composition on an aspect of the life of Lincoln as "The Emancipator of the Nation." Mrs. Essick's essay entitled "What's in a Sobriquet," was selected as the second choice. Third place was awarded to Leonard Stephan for his discussion of "Abraham Lincoln's Place in History." There were several other essays of commendable quality covering various phases in the lives of the beloved presidents whose birthdays we are celebrating this month.

According to custom, a five-dollar prize will be given for the highest ranking essay and three-dollars for the essay taking second place. This sum is annually contributed for this purpose by the Alumni of Albright College. The prizes are to be awarded to the winners after the reading of the papers in Chapel, Thursday morning, commemorating the birthday of Washington, February 22nd.

DR. GRETH ENTERTAINS NEW PHILOSOPHY CLUB

Dr. Greth and his wife entertained members of the Philosophy Club at a tea in their home on Wednesday afternoon of last week. The topic presented by Miss Mary Jean and discussed by the group was that of Theosophy. The trend of thought in the field of Theosophy was traced and studied from older as well as contemporary writers. It had been planned to elect new officers for this semester, but it was decided that the present ones should continue in office.

The Philosophy Club of Albright College has been quite active since its organization a short time ago. One of the subjects of discussion at a previous meeting was that of Mormonism, a topic presented by Mr. Burger. The next one to be considered will be Russellism, which is to be presented by Mr. Basom on Wednesday afternoon, February 28, at the home of Mr. Flinchbach. The subject of discussion for the next meeting has not yet been decided upon.

DEBATE NOTICE

Due to weather conditions, the debate with Western Maryland College scheduled last Tuesday evening, will be held in the College Chapel Saturday afternoon, February 24, at 2.00 P. M. Albright team will be composed of two men and will assume the negative aspect of the proposition.

COLLEGE AVERAGE IS 2.83

Three Seniors Maintain "A" Average for Work Throughout Semester

A study of the academic rating of Albright students for the first semester 1933-34, and a comparison with the records of previous years reveals several interesting facts. The Senior class with a rating of 2.45 (B) for the semester holds an undisputed position of supremacy among the class groups as this is the first semester since 1929 that both the men and the women of the Senior class have led all other class groups. This is also the first semester since 1929 in which the Freshmen have been able to dispell the long inherited tradition that they are the guardians of the cellar position in the intramural academic league. This semester the yearling class with a rating of 2.97 has relinquished the nether position to the Sophomore class whose ratings in both the men and women groups have fallen below the Freshman class average.

The academic leadership of the class of 1934 over the other classes of the college is also evidenced by the fact that 81.5% of the Seniors maintained averages of above 3.0 (C) while only 65% of the Juniors, 55% of the Freshmen and 50% of the Sophomores attained that rating. In the lower brackets of student ratings the Seniors have fewer representatives as only 1.2% of their class fell into the deficiency rating of "D" (4.0) or below, while 4.8% of the Juniors, 8.8% of the Freshmen, and 17% of the Sophomores were unable to escape this unsatisfactory rating.

That repetition creates habit even in academic activities seems to be substantiated by the tenacity with which "first placers" have been holding their own. For the third consecutive semester the Pi Alpha Tau sorority has maintained the lead among all sorority and fraternity groups on the campus, having won the position from the Phi Delta Beta sorority which held it during the second semester, 1931-32. For the fourth consecutive semester the Senior women of the college are leading all class groups—a position held previously by the women of the Junior class during the first semester of 1931-32.

For the seventh consecutive semester the men of Alpha Pi Omega are holding down second place among the fraternities. This position was previously held by the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity during the second semester of 1929-30. The longest tenure of rank is held by the Pi Tau Beta Men who for the eighth consecutive semester have maintained the academic lead among the fraternities. This position has not changed hands since the first semester of 1929-30 when the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity held that place of honor.

Such evidences of continued leadership on any campus certainly deserve a word of commendation; but also should stimulate keener competition for supremacy in academic rating.

The relative standing of the various class, sorority and fraternity groups on the campus for the semester follows:

AN UNPLEASANT SITUATION

For some time there has been a general resentment among the students of the college concerning the manner in which the guests are treated upon visiting our college dining room. I refer specifically to the way in which they are required to pay for their meals. It is not our intention to openly criticize the tactics used, but is little less than offensive, not to speak of humiliating, to be approached in the blunt manner employed by those in charge of our dining room and presented with a ticket denoting the price of our meal. This is followed by a fumbling in the pocket, changing of money and general confusion at the table.

True, the matter is trivial, however, it is only through the proper provision for such small things that our college can hope for complete harmony and true loyalty on the part of her students. It is the desire of all, that the systems in our different departments might function as completely as possible. Our dining room system falls short of the best college standards because of this trivial matter.

Not long ago I had the privilege of entering the dining hall of a neighboring college in the capacity of a guest. During the course of the meal I inquired of my friend in what manner I would be called upon to pay for such. He informed me that payment on my part was not necessary because of a procedure their school adopted which provided that the student receive a certain number of "guest tickets" each semester. It occurred to me that our school might do well to adopt a similar system and eliminate the unpleasant situation that frequently arises in our dining hall. Upon further inquiry I discovered that the school of my reference has employed this system successfully for the past two years, and that previous to this time they had been confronted with a situation similar to ours.

The "guest ticket" idea would not only eliminate the awkwardness created by the present system, but would prevent the student from taking advantage of college hospitality which is the case when he is given an unlimited privilege.

PHYSICISTS CONSTRUCT LARGE ELECTRO-MAGNET

The Physic's department under the direction of Professor Knapper is constructing a powerful electromagnet which will have a uniform field strength of 20,000 gauss when a current of 6 amperes with 110 volts is flowing through it.

The American Rolling Mills Co. of Middletown, Ohio, donated 647 pounds of armco iron for this project. The Carpenter Steel Co., through the kindness of C. W. Gaul and Trnest Poole forged the yoke and pole pieces. Mr. Woodward, owner of the Excelsior Brass Co., furnished brass to construct the spools on which two miles of wire will be wound. The department is greatly indebted to these parties.

That a slight mental depression seems to have temporarily infected the campus at least in spots is suggested by a comparative survey of the grades of the last three semesters. The college average of 2.83 for this semester is slightly below the records for last year when 2.715 was attained during the first semester and 2.75 during the second semester. During this past semester only 14% of the student body won positions on the Honor List, while 16.7% placed during the second semester, and 15.3% during the first semester of last year.

The Honor List of students who have attained an average of above 2.0 (B) for the past semester's work contains 27.2% of the Senior class, 20.6% of the Juniors, 7.7% of the Freshmen and 4.3% of the Sophomore class. The members of the Senior and Junior classes on this list are granted the privilege of voluntary class attendance for the second semester of this year. Three Seniors of this Honor List—Leroy Brininger, Clyde Mullen, and Mildred Reichley—deserve especial mention as being the only students of the college who have received no grade below the "A" ratings for their work through the semester.

The Semester Honor List, including the high schools in which the honor students prepared for college, follows:

PROMINENT PEOPLE . . .

WILLARD BURGER
(Kappa Upsilon Phi)

This debonaire chap hails from Lebanon and despite the fact that he is small of stature, he has proved himself mighty in word and deed here at Albright. Willard is one of the few men who may claim the distinction of combining the two qualities of campus leadership plus athletic prowess. In the latter division we find him prominent on the tennis court, being captain of that sport this year. The job of head cheerleader fell upon his shoulders this year and he has acted in this capacity in an excellent manner.

His campus activities are many and varied. In the literary field he has performed creditably on both the Albrightian and Cue staffs, and has served as class treasurer the past two years. The winter season finds him as the efficient and capable manager of the Varsity Basketball team. Willard is one of Prof. Knapper's proteges; we wish him renown as an up and coming physicist.

By virtue of having attained an average of 2.0 (B) in their work, the following students are deserving of the recognition of Honorable Mention for the semester:

William Burg, '34, Wm. Penn H. S. of York; Jeannette Henry, '37, Wyomissing H. S.; Kathryn Knerr, '37, Denver (Pa.) H. S.; Howard Mayer, '34, Frankford H. Take It From Me . . .

Jay Fay

Somebody has made an error someplace and it should be rectified. When the awards were passed out at the football banquet the cheer leaders and the members of the band were neglected in a fashion unworthy of their position. In past years it has been the custom to award the senior cheer leaders a GOLD megaphone and the band members a GOLD key symbolic of their activity in the band. This was overlooked no doubt and will be taken care of as soon as the one who has charge of this can do so.

An incident happened at the Lebanon Valley-Albright game last week that more or less places a blot on our Athletic record. The people in charge of this department should always realize that at other schools the sports department of the opposing college is generally admitted to the athletic contest without expense. This was not the case when the sports editor of the Lebanon Valley paper presented his credentials and it was quite some time before he was admitted. We hope that this does not happen again as it is detrimental to our athletic department and our own ALBRIGHTIAN. We take this opportunity to apologize to the Lebanon Valley man who was thus treated.

The Lions are out of the running as far as the Eastern Penn. Conference is concerned. There still exist a mathematical chance but that chance lies in the hands of fate. Dropping the contest to the Bulls practically eliminated ourselves from finishing in the coveted place. Albright has a good team and it is only probable that the Lions will finish second or third. They have four more conference games and if they can cop all of them it will mean they finish in the first division.

Oslislo had the misfortune of breaking a record that is probably one for the books. Some of the local scribes claim that it was the first time this year that he had been held scoreless; in the Gettysburg game. This writer looked into the matter and found that it is the first time since the All-Conference guard has been playing college basketball that he has been held scoreless. This is a record that future members of the Albright teams can aim for but it is doubtful that the record will be broken in a good many years to come.

The Lions garnered their fourth win of the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference, Wednesday evening, when they overcame the Ursinus Bears by the small margin of two points. The smithmen received quite a scare from the Collegeville boys when during the last few minutes of the game the score became even and it was nick and tuck until the final whistle blew, leaving Albright in the lead with a small margin.

Johnson, of Ursinus, was a constant threat and tallied 18 points to become high-score man of the evening. The Red and White offense was led by "Nick" Iatesta and "Red" Woods, who garnered twenty-four points between them. "Radio" DeFanco returned to the line-up after a brief absence and gave an excellent account of himself, playing one of the finest defense games of his career.

Due to the incompleteness of the second half games, it is impossible to determine the standing of the other teams. The Lions Club are favored to hold runner-up position.

A play-off between the Lions Club and the A. P. O.'s, which will determine the winner of the Intra-Mural B. B. Trophy, will take place at the Reading "Y," Wednesday evening, March 7th. The game will be played as a preliminary for the varsity game between the Lions and Gettysburg.

Those who served on the Cue Dance Committee wish to thank the members of the Staff, of the Junior Class, and everyone on the campus who helped to make the affair at the Berkshire last Saturday night such a decided success.

It is sincerely hoped that the response to the actual sale of the 1935 Cue will be equally as enthusiastic!

A number of the lads who live over the gym broke into print again by bringing a flock of good looking babes into the dining room on Sunday.

George and John Deininger, Z.O.E.'s will attend the Junior-Senior Prom at Wilson College this week-end.

From what I hear the Frosh aviator was more interested in that blonde classmate of his than in the workings of a steel mill.

Harriet Venus, Katherine Winter, Lillian Slater and Miss Florence Inns attended the Home Economics Conference at Temple University last week end.

Rumor has it that a night watchman chased three of the members of the faculty off the campus on a certain stormy night.

The Alpha Pi Omega Fraternity members and freshmen will be entertained at the home of Professor Von Aesch on Friday evening, February 23. Professor Von Aesch is an honorary member of the fraternity.

The signs of Spring awaken a feeling of joy into the heart of your columnist and his cohorts. Young love will soon be blooming again and there'll be something to write about.

Eugene Allen, now a student at Jefferson Medical School, visited friends on the campus Saturday and Sunday.

The Junior who earned himself the name of "Dewey" would turn purple if I revealed the fact that he got the sobriquet thru using a widely advertised toilet product.

Madge Dieffenbach will attend the Swarthmore-Hanover basketball game and dance on Saturday.

One thing that many people learned at the game Wednesday night was the reason they call that rotund Sunburyite "Booby."

Mr. Robert Evans, of Temple University, was the guest of John Bostwich over the week-end.

A recent alumnus called "Barrel" and shaped like one escorted his flame to the game but escaped the usual accolade accorded to such rash individuals.

Betty Wolfgang and Shippy Ketner are on the sick list. Best wishes for a recovery!

I thought I'd collapse when that bespectacled Sophomore nonchalantly strolled into the game wearing spats. Incidentally I wasn't the only one who enjoyed the spectacle.

Professor and Mrs. Eugene Page will spend the week-end in New York City.

I've heard that the lug who refereed the game was supposed to be a hot shot. The crowd as a whole seemed to think he was Lousy (note the capital L). Some guy who sat right in front of me almost busted a lung heckling the official.

John Bell, an alumnus of the A. P. O's, and now a dental student at Pennsylvania, visited the quarters over the week-end.

Margaret Strauss, an alumnus of the college, will spend the week-end as the guest of Marian Myers. "Peg" is now a history teacher at Revere, Pa.

Three of our Senior girls presented the crowd with an excellent view of synchronized movement in their well timed gum-chewing.

The Kappa Upsilon Phi Annual Spring formal dance will be held Saturday, April 27th.

I wonder if that Irish Sophomore really means it when he says he's off the fens for life. I recently saw him demonstrating the Zulu mating call to a Frosh who is most aptly named "Punch."

Martha Felmlee, Lillian Slater, Harriet Venus, and Katherine Winter recently spoke to the Junior Division of the Young Woman's Club of Reading on "Entertainment."

In case you haven't heard . . . it has become a common practice to request phonograph records to be played over the radio for some of our students. I wonder how long it will take the broadcasting studio to realize that it's all a gag.

Miss Mildred Mather and Miss Helen Martin, both of Camden, were the guests of Jim Ross and Knut Danford over the week-end.

Among other things that hand me a chuckle are the actions of that dark-haired Sophomore at the basketball games. She walks in with a vapid grin on her pan looking like the canary that swallowed the cat (don't bother to write me a letter, I deliberately changed the simile to fit the circumstances).

Carl Buechle, Kappa, was a guest at a sorority dance, held at the Hotel New Yorker last Saturday evening.

Albert Kuder attended the Junior Prom at Moravian College last Friday night.

The "Cue" dance held last week-end at the Berkshire Hotel, was a big success. About one hundred and twenty couples attended the affair and the prizes were won by Willard Parger and Helen Yohn.

INT.-NAT. REL. CLUB HEAR RUSSIAN SPEAKER

Mr. Ivan Agureeff, native Russian, was guest speaker at the meeting of the International Relations Club, February 15, in Selwyn Hall. He talked before a group of twenty-five students and professors on "Russia, Contrast Between the Old and New."

Discussing first the economic situation under the Czarist regime, Mr. Agureeff traced the condition of the serf from the so-called freedom granted him by Alexander II in 1861 through the growth of the labor class until the outbreak in 1917. At that time the masses rose triumphant, crushing beneath them the corrupt and parasitic nobility.

Russians now enjoying free speech and press, free medical care and remarkable changes in the educational system, are encouraged to learn and are not deliberately kept in ignorance.

There was an informal, animated discussion at the conclusion of the talk, while Mr. Agureeff passed around booklets illustrating the progress that Soviet Russia has made.

SENIORS PRESENT PROGRAM

At the regular Y. W. meeting on Thursday night, the senior girls presented the program with Catharine Yerkes in charge. Washington was the theme for the program. A tribute to the immortal man was read by Martha Felmlee. A vocal duet was sung by Sarah Hoffman and Dorcas Haines, and Harriet Venus played a piano solo. An entertaining poem entitled "Washington's Kiss" was given by Peg Wittmann. Ethel Sprinkle and Marion Myers were in charge of the worship service.

If You Telephone Home!

WHEN the skies fall (as they fall on all of us) . . . when college life palls (as it will at times) . . . "talk it out" with the Home Folks by telephone. To hear their voice is next best to seeing them.

How quickly you'll snap back to normal! A telephone "voice visit" can brighten your whole week. That's why so many college students telephone Home as a regular practice, once a week at least.

FOR LOWEST COST and GREATEST EASE . . .

Use the inexpensive Station to Station service when you telephone Home. (By making a "date" the Family is sure to be there.) Call after 8:30 P. M., when the low Night Rates are in effect.
