Junior Women Choose 1957 May Day Heads

Mary Jo Wolf, '57, and Jeanne Palm, '57, were recently chosen by the junior women to serve as Mistress of Ceremonies and Custodian of the Crown respectively for the 1957 May Day Program.

The duties of the Mistress of Ceremonies include planning the music, costumes, and dances for the May Day Ceremony. She also serves as commentator for the ceremony.

The Custodian of the Crown assists the Mistress of Ceremonies. She also guards and protects the crown until next year.

Miss Wolf, a home economics major, was recently elected president of the YWCA. She is also a member of the Phi Beta Mu sorority, the Glee Club, the Home Economics Organization, Women's Student Senate, and Future Teachers of America Association. She is also active in hockey and basketball.

Council Names Four To Post

Officers for the 1956-57 Student Council were elected at that group's regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. Arthur Saylor, '57, was named vice-president and Sylvia Schiavo, '57, Mary Ellen Appleman, '58, and Philip Eyrich, '58, were elected corresponding secretary, recording secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

The elections were conducted by Student Council President Clement Cassidy, '57, who also presided over the meeting, which was the first for the new council. Saylor also served as vice-president of Student Council during the past year.

Other Candidates

Other candidates for office were Frank York, '58, Barbara Pelkus, '58, Patricia Nein, '58, Richard Wagner, '58, and Joel May, '57.

Prior to the elections, Cassidy distributed copies of the new Student Council constitution to all members and went over the sections concerning elections of officers for that body.

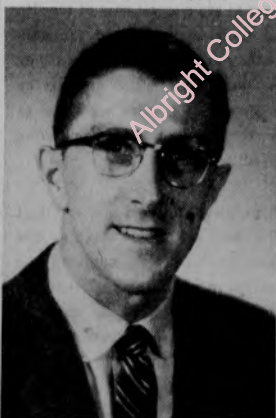

Committee preference sheets were distributed to the council and a brief description of the Student Council committees was given. On these sheets, the council members were asked to designate what committees they would like to serve on.

Horst Elected To Presidency

Melvin Horst, a social science major from Reading, was elected president of the senior class last week.

Horst is also a photographer for The Albrightian and The Cue, and a member of the Day Student's Club. He also holds membership in Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, and Kappa Tau Chi, honorary pre-ministerial fraternity.

He recently won second and third place in a photography contest sponsored by the Kappa Alpha Mu, National Press Photographers Association and the Encyclopedia Britannica in cooperation with the Association of College Unions.

The other officers of the senior class include Dale Yoder, vice-president, Barbara Ross, secretary, and John Mosko, treasurer. They were elected at a previous date.

17 Colleges Will Participate In Competition Beginning Today

Albright will be host to the 44th annual Middle Atlantic States Conference Track and Field Championships this weekend in the Albright Stadium. St. Joseph's and LaSalle reign as the pre-meet favorites among the 17 schools entered in the competition, which will begin this afternoon at 3:30. Approximately 375 athletes will participate in the 16 events scheduled to be held.

New Scholarships Given Next Year

Seven new scholarships will be available in the near future, announced George W. Walton, dean of the college. The following five scholarships will be available next year.

The Albright Alumni Association will award to an entering student next year $200 in addition to any other scholarship grant. Only sons and daughters of alumni are eligible.

The Reading chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, international cultural sorority for business and professional women, will grant $100 to a "deserving junior or senior woman of high academic standing."

Three Grants

As a result of the recent Centennial Fund Drive, the following scholarships will be available: the Charles T. Davies Memorial Scholarship for a deserving young man, the Homer Addams Memorial Scholarship of approximately $400 per year for a top ranking student who gives evidence of financial need, and the Parke Pressed Steel five year scholarship in mechanical engineering and the two year special supervisory training program.

Two scholarships which will be available next year are the Agnes Bahr Smeltzer Memorial Scholarship which provides financial assistance "to a deserving young woman who is a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church" and the Robert Calvin Douds Memorial Scholarship which provides financial assistance to a deserving student.

Sororities Announce Next Year's Officers

The two sororities elected their officers for the coming year at their last meetings.

The Phi Beta Mu sorority elected the following officers: president, Marilyn Wertz, '57; vice-president, Barbara Ross, '57; recording secretary, Mary Jo Wolf, '57, corresponding secretary, Cynthia Winner, '57; treasurer, Lynne Hagenbuch, '57, and chaplain, Nilda Calder, '57.

The newly elected officers of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority are: president, Jeanne Palm, '57; vice-president, Mildred Tims, '57; recording secretary, Elizabeth Wellenmann, '57; corresponding secretary, Sylvia Schiavo, '57; treasurer, Marie Lorchak, '57; chaplain, Kathleen Forry, '57; and historian, Carolyn Smith, '57.

This afternoon, trials will be held in the high and low hurdles, the 100-yard, 220-yard, 440-yard, and the 880-yard dashes. In addition to these trials, the semi-finals in the low hurdles and the 220-yard dash will be run.

Tomorrow afternoon, the semi-finals and finals will be held in all 16 events, starting at 1:30. Besides the 14 regular track and field events, there will be a Frosh Mile Run and a Freshman Medley Relay. The relay will consist of four segments of 440, 220, 220, and 880-yard lengths, in that order.

Competing Schools

Alfred, Bucknell, Delaware, Franklin and Marshall, Haverford, Juniata, Lafayette, LaSalle, Lebanon Valley, Lehigh, Muhlenberg, Pennsylvania Military, St. Joseph's, Swarthmore, Ursinus, and Albright have entered teams in the championship competition. Lafayette has registered the largest squad, 44, while St. Joseph's and Lehigh will employ 35 and 34 athletes respectively.

St. Joseph's and LaSalle have again been installed as the favorites to capture the team crown. In last year's MASC meet, the Hawks edged the Explorers 45 1/2-42. Lafayette and Lehigh are expected to be next in the scoring, followed by Delaware.

Albright placed sixth among the 14 schools that competed in the 1955 championships.

Three Hawks

Frank McLaughlin, Jim McAlpin, and Joe McManus are the leading thincads for defending champion St. Joseph's, and the Hawks have ample strength in all events to make them a distinct threat to the aspirations of the other 16 teams.

Eleven MASC track and field champions will return this year to defend their crowns.

Don Hopkins of Ursinus (100-yard dash), McAlpin of St. Joseph's (220-yard dash), McManus of St. Joseph's (440-yard dash), McLaughlin of St. Joseph's (880-yard dash, mile run), Bill Shirk of Albright (two mile run), Don Martin of Franklin and Marshall (high hurdles), Vic Gaven of La Salle (low hurdles), Jim Radcliff and Ken

Y Holds Induction In Egelman's Park

The combined Y's inducted their officers for the coming year Tuesday at Egelman's Park.

The vice-president of the YWCA is Mildred Folk, '58. The YMCA vice-president is Albert Ellis, '58.

The secretary and treasurer for the combined Y's are Elizabeth Wellenmann, '57, and David Fife, '58, respectively.

Experiment

Last week The Albrightian tried an experiment that turned into a dismal failure. A survey was made among several students to determine their reaction and opinion to a somewhat controversial issue on campus, with the idea of printing some of the opinions in The Albrightian. There is no need to comment about the issue now, as it has lost its timeliness and news value. However, the reasons why the experiment was a failure do deserve comment. According to the reporter who made the survey, "students were reluctant to express their opinions for publication and many thought that the least said about the particular matter, the better."

These responses pose two questions. Why should any student be reluctant to express an opinion for publication? And, why did several students want to avoid the issue? Perhaps, some students were afraid that their opinions would not be "popular." If that was the case, what did they fear? Certainly, no one would penalize them for standing by their convictions. After all, this is still a democratic country . . . and college. The second response is even less reasonable. Why avoid the issue? First of all, the so-called issue was not really so terrible. Newspapers have been carrying far more serious stories about similar happenings on other campuses throughout the country. If the local issue cast an unfavorable reflection on Albright for a few days, why try to hide it? Surely, our college's reputation is held in higher esteem than to have one incident shatter its goodwill in the community. Then, too, avoiding an unpleasant situation never solved a problem. Homework, studying, and tests are not very pleasant. If we avoided them, our quest for an education would be futile. As we learn by facing up to the need for study, though it may be unpleasant, so shall we progress by facing any issue head-on, ready to give it our utmost consideration.

The Albrightian, like any good newspaper, attempts to present news and features that will interest, inform, and entertain its readers. The survey story would have accomplished all three of these functions. It matters little, however, that the story was not printed. But these two items do matter. The fact that the reporter did not get proper cooperation from students interviewed is, indeed, unfortunate. If The Albrightian is to be an effective student publication, it needs the support and cooperation of all students. And that does not only apply to this matter. There have been several instances during the year when cooperation from a few sources left much to be desired. It is hoped that this condition will be rectified in the future. Secondly, it is ridiculous that supposedly mature college students could not express an opinion on the survey question without reservation. Apparently, some students cannot think for themselves or else they are too disinterested to care about what goes on around the campus.

Certainly, we can do better than that.

Highlight

This weekend is the highlight of Albright's Centennial Year Sport's program. For the first time in its history, this college will be host to the Middle Atlantic State Conference Track and Field Championships today and tomorrow in the Albright stadium.

Throughout this year, there have been numerous high-points in this school's athletic program. The work of Athletic Director Eugene Shirk has channeled these highlights into a culmination in the MASC games.

Approximately 376 athletes will be on our campus this weekend and the students of Albright can contribute to the success of the MASC meet by being courteous and helpful to the visiting students, as well as to the people who will be attracted here to witness the competition.

At an affair such as this, not only Albright's track and field team, but the college itself is on trial to see how well it can handle an event of this proportion. Don't let the college down!

Our own athletes need our support in the competition today and tomorrow. Although the Lion thinclads have entered some top-notch performers in the championships, these trackmen face an uphill fight. If the student body turned out to spark the team in its try for MASC laurels, the thinclads' chances of placing in the meet would be considerably enhanced. Let's back the Lions!

May Day

Albrightians can be proud of the Parents' Weekend that has just passed. It exemplified the high standards we have set for our school during this Centennial year. The May Day Festival was presented tastefully and ran more smoothly than any that can be remembered. It was not so long in length that the audience grew tired of seeing people standing on a lawn doing nothing, and yet it was not so short that it lost the symbolism of the occasion. The costumes looked professional and the dances were performed well.

Our campus was at its prime and nature worked hand in hand with the Parents' Weekend Committee in guaranteeing the success of the affair. The varied programs offered gave the parents an opportunity to see a small part of the life that their offspring lead for three months out of the year. Since they are financing it, either in part or completely, it is nice for them to see the profits that are being reaped.

The Glee Club did an excellent job in both acting and singing. The dramatization of two numbers was effective in providing variation and entertainment. We have come to accept the high quality of the concerts as usual, since the Glee Club has been superior.

Gratitude should also be expressed to Leonard Van Driel and his assistants for the delicious meal that was provided on Saturday night. Although our appreciation for all the things Mr. Van Driel does is not often expressed, it is felt and this time it should be made known. May the precedent set this year be followed, or even surpassed, in the coming years.

Albright Personalities

Glenn
Lambert

By Ginger Lloyd

One of our outstanding personalities of '56 is none other than Glenn Lambert. Glenn is quite collegiate with his crew cut, his sharp shirts from an extensive wardrobe, and his cordavans. He is often referred to as "Bones" by his close friends.

Being very interested in the field of science, Glenn has spent his curricular hours in the Science Hall during the past four years. His free time has flown by in extracurricular activities which range from membership in Skull and Bones, in which he has kept the financial books this year, to being a member of The Cue feature staff.

Orientation

Since he is amiable and interested in the welfare of his fellow colleagues, Glenn served on the Orientation Committee in his junior year. At that time, he took a shine to a certain freshman girl, who is now a sophomore, and he is still orientating her!

Alpha Pi Omega has consumed a lot of this popular senior's extra time, and he has served his brothers well since he pledged his freshman year. Once again, we find he keeps track of the financial status of the fraternity.

Glenn served as vice president of the Interfraternity Council last year and he has represented the APO's in intramural sports throughout his college career.

Class Officer

Having that honest look about him, his classmates trusted their funds to him during his sophomore and junior years. (Maybe that's why he has such a unique wardrobe?)

Glenn's sincerity and friendliness are definite assets and, although we'll miss this fun-loving senior next year, we can be assured that he will be a success in his field of endeavor.

Alan Gibstein

By Kathy Zellers

Since this is one of the last issues of The Albrightian, it is a good time to feature the paper's efficient business manager, Al Gibstein. This dark, good-looking senior pre-med student hails from Mt. Penn. Although he usually could be found in the Science Hall the first semester, it is more difficult to find him now, as he has no afternoon classes for the first time since he came to Albright.

Al spent his first year of college at Temple and came to Albright as a sophomore. He has enjoyed his years at our school and said that for him Albright "sewed up the future".

Business Manager

In addition to being our business manager, Al has been a member of Skull and Bones for three years. He is also on The Cue staff and is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity. He has enjoyed participating in intramural sports for the Daymen.

A few weeks ago Al was the master of ceremonies at the annual speech banquet which showed his poise before an audience.

Swimming Teacher

This summer Al will be one of those lucky people who have a nice job—teaching swimming in New York State. The rest of the year he serves as a waiter.

Al will be one step closer to his goal when he enters Hahnemann Medical School in the fall to prepare for his medical career. Good luck, Al!

Shirk, Huntzinger Head Lion Entries In MASC

Lions Tie Muhlenberg; Lose To Moravian 6-2

After having won two games in a row, the baseball team registered a tie and a loss during last week's competition. This left the Potsdammen with a six-win, four-loss, two-tie record for the present campaign. Albright battled Muhlenberg to a 7-7 tie last Thursday and then dropped its second game this year to the Moravian Greyhounds by a 6-2 score on Saturday.

The Mules took an early 6-1 lead over Albright in the game played over Kelchner Field last week, but the Lions'knotted the count at seven all in the eighth inning to earn an eventual tie. The contest was called at the end of the 14th inning because of darkness.

Tom Pollock (1-0) started on the mound for the Red and White and allowed the visitors three runs in the first inning and two in the second. After Albright tallied once in the third, the Mules notched single runs in the fifth and eighth frames to end their scoring for the day.

Behind 6-1, the Lions roared back for four runs in the sixth. Bob Fiorindo led off with a walk and

Shirkmen Win Two Triangular Track Contests

Albright captured two triangular track meets during the past week as the Shirkmen prepared for the MASC Championships. The Lions turned back Bucknell and Ursinus 664-584-29 and Gettysburg and Haverford 574-494-47.

In the meet with Gettysburg and Haverford, the Lions were victorious in only four events but nevertheless edged second place Gettysburg 574-494-47. Haverford was right behind with 47 tallies.

Shirk, Setticerze, Wetzel, and Huntzinger registered wins in the mile run, shot put, high hurdles, and discus respectively.

Others Place

George Mack, Don Gottshall, Tom Faust, Shirk, Ray Feick, and Wetzel placed second in other events. Coach Gene Shirk's thinclads captured their first triangular meet of the season with a win over Bucknell and Ursinus before a Parents' Day crowd last Saturday. Bill Shirk and Bob Wetzel showed the way to victory by copping the mile and two-mile runs, and the low hurdles, broad jump, and a tie in the low hurdles respectively.

Other Lion winners included Don Gottshall in the 880-yard dash, John Setticerze in the shot put, and Jack Huntzinger in the discus.

In winning the 880-yard dash, Gottshall set a new Albright record in that event of with a time of 2:00.5. The previous record had been held by Eddie Anlian, former Albright athletic standout. George Mack's time in the same event was just a shade over Anlian's old record.

Slim Margin

In total points, the Big Red took 664 points; while Bucknell and Ursinus trailed with 584 and 29 points respectively. It was the Lions' first triangular win of the season against one triangular loss. In dual meets, the Shirkmen have a 3-1 record.

The Dickinson meet scheduled for last Wednesday was rained out.

Greyhounds Win

In a game at Moravian, the Greyhounds defeated the Lions 6-2, duplicating a feat they accomplished on Kelchner Field several weeks ago. Moravian scored two runs in each of the first three innings and outlasted the Potsdammen in that game.

It was the 10th straight win for the Moravian aggregation, who have yet to be beaten.

LaVerne Engle (4-1) was the Lions' losing pitcher.

The Albright tennis team defeated Muhlenberg 5-4 for its fifth straight win and the golf squad lost to Bucknell 8-1 in recent competition.

Captain John Schiavo of the netmen advanced to the quarter-finals of the MASC tennis tournament before losing out in the championships.

Carl Witonsky and Bill Breneman participated in the MASC tennis and golf championships respectively, but failed to place in the standings.

Swarthmore won the tennis crown and Bucknell won the golf laurels in the MASC competition, which was held last weekend.

20 Thinclads Will Represent Red And White In Competition

Twenty athletes will represent Albright in the Middle Atlantic States Conference Track and Field Championships which will be held today and tomorrow in the Albright Stadium. Bill Shirk heads the list of Lion entries as defending MASC champion in the two-mile run. Four other Albright thinclads are back this year who placed in last year's MASC competition.

Coach Gene Shirk has picked upperclassmen Jack Cunningham, Ray Feick, Paul Gehris, Don Gottshall, Ken Greenawald, Jack Huntzinger, Norm Klingerman, George Mack, John Setticerze, Bill Shirk, Willy Smith, Dick Thrasher, and Bob Wetzel to carry the standard for the Red and White this weekend. In addition, a relay team will be chosen to represent Albright in the Frosh Relay event from the following five runners: Jon Bradshaw, Tom Faust, Dick Kelly, Paul Slapikas, and Frank Voci.

Lion Ace

Shown above is Albright's Bill Shirk, who will attempt to repeat as MASC two-mile champion in tomorrow's competition in the Albright Stadium.

Seeks Repeat

Bill Shirk won the two-mile MASC crown in last year's meet at Lafayette with a time of 9:47.3. Thus far this year he has failed to match that performance, his best winning time this season being 10:11 in the Lebanon Valley meet. With keener competition this year, Shirk is rated an outside chance to duplicate his feat of a year ago.

The Lions chances for capturing at least one MASC individual championship rest a great deal on Huntzinger, Albright's star performer in the discus event. He placed fourth in MASC competition last year. Huntzinger's best winning toss in 1956 has been 134' 2" in the meet with St. Joseph's and Juniata; a year ago the MASC discus crown was won with a throw of 142' 11".

Greenawald, Albright's entry in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, finished third in both events last year at Lafayette, but due to an early season injury will have a difficult time repeating his 1955 standing.

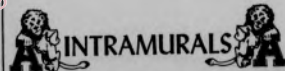

Mack Improved

Mack and Thrasher finished fifth and sixth respectively in the Frosh Mile in the 1955 MASC games. Mack is entered in the 880-yard dash and the mile run this year, while Thrasher will compete in the mile and two-mile runs. Coach Shirk rates Mack his most improved runner.

Gottshall and Wetzel also are strong contenders for MASC honors. The former will run in the 440-yard and 880-yard dashes, the latter in both the high and low hurdles.

Albright's Frosh Relay team is expected to place in that event.

The other Lion entries and their events are: Cunningham, javelin; Feick, discus, javelin, shot put; Gehris, 440; Klingerman, javelin; Setticerze, shot put; and Smith, 100.

Pi Taus, Kappas Tie For Honors

The Pi Taus and the Kappas tied for first place honors in the first half of the intramural baseball campaign. Each had identical records of four wins, one loss, and one tie.

The APO's, Zetas, Daymen, and Dorm teams followed the league leaders in that order. A playoff was planned to determine the final first-half champion.

Key Contest

In the crucial game of the first-half competition, the Kappas went into an early lead over the Pi Taus, but the latter tied the score late in the game on a home run by Don Pryor.

In the only game recorded as yet in the second half of play, the Kappas continued on their victorious path by downing the Dorm team, 8-3.

Pi Tau	4	0	1
Kappa	4	0	1

Students Take Local Survey

Sixty students under the direction of Dr. Elmer L. Smith, assistant professor of sociology, recently completed a city and county wide survey of the Community Chest of Berks County.

The survey was made in order that the Community chest could determine the effectiveness of its educational program and the extent of the public's awareness of the work and needs of the Chest's agencies throughout the city and county.

During the survey, students interviewed one family in each block of the city and throughout Berks County boroughs, towns and communities.

The survey is the second program of this type made by Albright students. A previous one was made in 1953.

Stuart Distelhorst, chairman of the chest's educational committee, assisted by Dorothea A. Hassler, aided Dr. Smith in directing the survey.
