Menges Reveals Ivy Ball Theme

The Ivy Ball, highlight of Albright College's fall social season, is scheduled for Friday evening, October 23, in the physical education building. Tickets for the event are three dollars per couple, and can be purchased in the dormitories and the administration building during the ensuing weeks.

Martha Menges, '60, chairman of this year's committee, is expecting a large turnout and hopes that this year's festivities will surpass all previous ones. The theme has been announced as "Halls of Ivy".

Tradition

This year's committee is trying to restore some of the tradition which has been lost through the years, and requests that the attire be semi-formal. The Tilman-Fisher Orchestra will provide music for the cotillion. Hours for the Ball are 9 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Members of the Ivy Ball committee are: Herbert Miller, '61, orchestra; James Garofalo, '61, tickets; John S. Weaver, '61, advertising; Arlene Pope, '61, decorations; Barbara Parks, '62, and Phyllis Binkley, '62, refreshments; and Nancy Ratajczak, '60, program.

Nominations for Homecoming Queen were opened at an open meeting of Student Council, Tuesday and will continue until today. Any girl on campus is eligible for nomination.

Votes will be cast by each student Oct. 12 through Oct. 17 on the first floor of the administration. The first six runners-up will become members of the Queen's court. The girls will ride on the Freshman class float during the halftime float parade at the Homecoming Day football game against Scranton University.

Patricia Cush, '60, Homecoming Queen 1957, is chairman of the Homecoming elections.

Domino Club's Fall Play Cast Announced

Patricia Hostetter, instructor in English, has announced the cast for the Domino Club's fall production, The Man Who Came To Dinner. This three-act comedy which was written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, was first produced in 1939, and is a favorite for college and small theatre presentations.

The four leads were presented to Howard Deck, '61, leading actor in the club's Spring 1959 presentation, Inherit the Wind, Charles Mengle, Jr., '60, Nancy Heilman, '60, and Patricia Cush, '60.

Supporting Actors

Supporting actors are Barbara Wilcox, '63, Mary Ann Morse, '62, Alan Kutner, '60, Stoward Uher, '63, Frances Jervis, '60, Barry Lewis, '62, Michael Stankowicz, '63, John Frankhouser, '63, and James Schuman, '60.

Others in the cast are Anne Gilbert, '60, Virginia True, '61, Terry Haines, '62, Mitchell Gordon, '63, and Frank Satko, '63. Other cast members are to be announced later.

The play, which will be held in Krause Hall November 19, 20, 21, will be a theater-in-the-round production.

John Price Makes Plans For Y Retreat

Camp Hope, near Phillipsburg, New Jersey, will be the site of the Fall Y Retreat, October 17 and 18.

John Price, '60, president of the campus YMCA, is general chairman of the Retreat. Price has announced cars will leave Krause Hall parking lot, Saturday morning, October 17, at 9 a.m. The group will return Sunday about 5 p.m.

Guest Speaker

The Reverend Warren Loesch, pastor of Calvary EUB Church, Mohnton, will be the guest speaker. Pastor Loesch is an alumnus of Albright.

The cost of the weekend will be approximately two dollars. A maximum of 52 students will be able to attend this retreat.

Agnes Oakes, '61, is chairman of worship and the general retreat program. The meals, which will include Saturday lunch and dinner, as well as Sunday breakfast and dinner, will be planned by John S. Weaver, '61.

Ernest Giest, '61, chairman of registration will use his committee to begin registering students this weekend. Alexander Stewart will handle transportation.

The Reverend William R. Marlow, chaplain, will accompany the student group to the Moravian camp.

Six Freshmen Join Newspaper Staff

Two freshman men are the only new reporters on the Albrightian's news staff. Michael Dolfman and Leonard Seltzer join Nancy Ratajczak, '60, and Bonnie Burns, '62, two upperclass women on this staff.

The sports department instituted a precedent at Albright with the assignment of two women, Patricia Brobst, '63, and Barbara Miller, '63, to the coverage of women's sports.

Typist Joan Farr, '63, and Joanna Oberlander, '63, complete the newly appointed staff.

No one has been added to the feature department. Anyone interested contact the feature editor either at the student publications office or the Phi Beta Mu House.

Chemists Plan Active Season

Under leadership of Jerald Bauer, '60, the ACS plans an active season. Speakers and films for the regular meetings, held the second Wednesday of each month, have been procured. A field trip to a local plant has been planned.

All pre-medical and chemistry majors are invited to attend the first meeting to be held in the science hall October 14 at 7:30 p.m. After a short business meeting, William J. Wiswesser, a research chemist will speak to the group. Wiswesser has devised a system of notations for organic compounds which is rapidly being accepted throughout the world.

The Lehigh Valley chapter of the American Chemical Society will meet at Albright this month. Dr. Paul M. Leininger, professor of chemistry, is the secretary of this organization. Membership is open to persons holding a B.S. in chemistry.

Eighteen Candidates Nominated During Student Council Meeting

WSA Extends Invitation To Selwyn Tour

All students have been invited to tour the new facilities in Selwyn Hall including the new Health Center tomorrow from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. The Women's Student Association is sponsoring the tour and a fellowship hour in the new Selwyn Lounge.

Nancy Foote, '60, vice president of the W.S.A., is chairman of the affair. She will be assisted by senior home economics students, the freshman counselors and freshman women. The student guests will be served refreshments following the tours.

Women Tour

Ladies of the Women's Auxiliary of the college toured new Selwyn yesterday as a part of their first meeting of the school year. Albright women acted as guides and hostesses for this group also. Grace Engleman, '60, and Eleanor Schmickley, '60, directed the guides and hostesses for this affair.

Friday, September 25, 1959 the Albright faculty members and their spouses toured the additions to Selwyn Hall and were entertained at tea in the new Selwyn Lounge. Nancy Foote, '60, Carolyn Thomforde, '60, president of the Women's Dormitory Association, and Judith Miller, '61, acted as chairman of the tea. The freshman counselors were guides for the tours.

Local Pastor To Speak At Vespers

The Reverend Harold C. Hollinger, pastor of Calvary Reformed Church of the United Church of Christ, Reading, has been named speaker for Sunday's fall Student-Faculty Vespers. Students and faculty are invited to worship together at this biennial service arranged by the student vesper committee.

Program

Vespers will begin at 5:00 p.m. in White Chapel with a violin prelude played by Mrs. E. Luke Matz, wife of Dr. Matz, professor of sociology. John Price, '60, president of Albright College YMCA, will serve as worship leader. Student soloist for the service will be Ronald Shannon, '61. Mary Ellen Hunsberger, '60, will accompany Mrs. Matz and Shannon.

Following the vespers, faculty members will eat with the students in the college dining hall. A buffet luncheon is planned.

Students on the vesper committee are John H. Weaver, '61, Eleanor Schmickley, '60, James Schuman, '60, Robert Cotter, '62, and Paul Zieber, '62. These persons serve throughout the school year as representatives of the student YMWCA and Kappa Tau Chi, pre-ministerial fraternity.

Paul Fenske Speaks To Chapel Audience

Paul Fenske, recently returned from Hong Kong, is visiting the campus to interpret the 18th Ecumenical Student Christian Conference on Christian World Mission which will bring together 3,000 students from 36 different countries around the world. He spoke in chapel yesterday, and will remain on campus today.

Background

Fenske, the son of a minister, is from Winside, Nebraska. He has a BS degree in agriculture from the University of Nebraska in Lincoln and a BD degree from Eden Seminary in Webster Groves, Missouri. He has held offices in local, state and regional organizations, both denominational and interdenominational. He was a field worker for Christian Youth in Action as a member of a youth caravan and as a delegate to the Third World Conference for Christian Youth held in Poona, India. He and Mrs. Fenske have just finished a three year term as missionaries of the Board of International Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Fenske spoke of his experience in working with students at Chung Chi College in Hong Kong. Many of the strategic issues facing the church and the world are focused in this city between two worlds.

Homecoming Queen Election Next Week

Eighteen Albright women were nominated for Homecoming Queen at Student Council's last meeting. The eighteen candidates and any others who may be nominated before Friday's deadline will be elected next week. Election plans, as announced by the student elections chairman, David Leber, '62 (Dorm), call for six days of voting. The dates for the election are October 12 through October 17.

The following is a list of the eighteen women nominated at the Student Council meeting: Peggy Adams, '62; Sara Blouch, '61; Celia Callendo, '61; Carol Conway, '62; Cynthia Cook, '61; Eva Damen, '61; Barbara Davis, '62; Nancy Keeley, '60; Judith Miller, '61; Carol Ann Morris, '62; Lynn Knowles, '61; Susan Overholser, '63; Barbara Schaefer, '61; Doris Shock, '60; Carolyn Sharpless, '62; Claire Vogel, '60; Dorothy Werner, '61; and Carol Wilson, '61.

Other Business

The issue of the sales tax on college textbooks and supplies was also discussed at the meeting. Several positive courses of action were proposed but upon the recommendation of President Stitzell it was decided that the council would wait until information was complete on council's previous attempts to change the sales tax law.

Martha Menges, '61, chairman of the Ivy Ball, announced the progress that her committee has made. The theme for the October 23 dance

Y Cabinet Outlines Plans

Plans for first semester combined activities were announced at a recent cabinet meeting. In a letter to cabinet members, the co-presidents, Dorothy Siegel, '60, and John Price, '60, presented the program as formulated during a pre-school cabinet retreat at Blue Mountain YWCA camp.

Fewer meetings have been scheduled for the year to provide a more interesting format. Alternate Tuesday evenings have been established as Y meeting night. Perennially favored programs have been included in the roster, but the system has been changed to permit the addition of various programs.

Joint Meeting

Lebanon Valley College has been invited to share in a campus talent program on our campus, October 20. Faculty panels, student discussions on current campus problems, and a Fireside Chat session are planned for future meetings; one meeting will be devoted to the summer experiences of those who were abroad this summer.

Game night, Christmas caroling, the traditional holiday dawn communions, and the children's Christmas party have returned to the schedule. An addition to the format is the "Final Fling", intended to be a brief respite from semester exam studying, at which time light refreshments will be served and continuous cartoons will be shown.

Macel Hillaire Cultural Program Postponed

"One-man Theatre" Features Hillaire's "Smile Of France"

The cultural program originally planned for Tuesday morning, October 13, has been postponed. Marcel Hillaire, the noted French actor, has been making a movie in Hollywood and will not have completed this work in time to perform during chapel. It was announced that tentative arrangements are being made for Mr. Hillaire to appear at a future date, quite possibly November 3.

Hillaire came to America to play some 200 different versions of "The Frenchman" in movies, on television, and on Broadway. Among the movies he has appeared in is "Sabrina", with Audrey Hepburn. On Broadway he appeared in the musical comedy, "Silk Stockings", and played opposite Jean-Pierre Aumont in "The Heavenly Twins". He has played a variety of roles on television in productions of the Kraft Theatre, Studio One, U. S. Steel Hour, Armstrong-Circle Theatre, Arthur Murray Show, Robert Montgomery Presents, Jackie Gleason Hour, and Alcoa Theatre.

He wished to compose a picture of French life which could not be readily seen on the screen and in the theatre, so he adapted his original "one-man theatre", a success on the French stage, with his portrait of "The Smile of France".

Skull And Bones Hears Zoo Curator At First Meeting

Wednesday evening Skull and Bones, the campus biological society, held its first meeting in the Science Lecture Hall.

Roger Conant, curator of herpetology at the Philadelphia Zoo, spoke to the group on his work and experiences in the field of zoology.

Gary M. Stone, '60, president of the group, explained the membership system of the club. The annual pre-medical symposium, to be held at the Woman's Medical College in Philadelphia this year, was discussed. Tentative plans were also made for a special trip to the Brookhaven Laboratories, Long Island, New York, scheduled for Thursday, December 10.

Refreshments

Among the refreshments served following the program were snake meat hors d'oeuvres.

The group will meet next month for a special program on cancer. James J. Diamon, M.D., of Reading, will act as lecturer and consultant using special slides and films for this meeting. The program will be sponsored by the Reading Cancer Society.

Current officers of the Skull and Bones club include: Barton Smith, '60, vice president; Sandra Karetas, '60, secretary and Nancy Ratajezak, '60, treasurer. Doctors Clarence A. Horn, E. L. Bell and Albert Schwartz are faculty advisors for the society.

EUB Students Attend Social

Over 100 EUB students were entertained Sunday evening at Christ EUB Church. The program was staged to better acquaint EUB students, faculty, with local ministers, and to observe World-Wide Communion Sunday.

A light supper beginning at 6 p.m. was followed by a period of introduction and socializing. Singing and worship with the observance of Holy Communion completed the evening.

The program at the 11th and Robeson Sts. church was formulated by a committee of faculty and students. Faculty members serving on the committee were Annadora V. Shirk, assistant professor of English; and the Reverend Mr. Robert S. Smethers, director of church relations; the Reverend Mr. William R. Marlow, chaplain; and the Rev. Mr. Asher Gottschalk, pastor of the church.

Students on the committee were Ruth Hansen and James Schuman, '60; Agnes Oaks and James Garafalo, '61; Carol Matz and George Seighman, '62; Miriam Cooper and Janet Blumberg, '63.

Pledging

Fraternity and sorority rushing dates have been approved by Dean Mahlon H. Hellerich for fall '59. The following is a calendar for fall pledging for the fraternities as submitted by P. D. Seip, interfraternity president, and Dean J. Kopp.

 Saturday, October 17 — Open House Alpha Pi Omega
 Saturday, October 31 — Open House Zeta Omega Epsilon
 Saturday, November 7 — Open House Kappa Upsilon Phi
 Monday, November 9 — Balloting in Krause Hall 9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Balloting in fraternities 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, November 10 — Four fraternities send results of their balloting to the office of the Dean of Men.

Thursday, November 12 — Report from the Dean as to the results of the balloting in Krause Hall and the fraternities.

Monday, November 16 — Bids to students by the fraternities. Pledging begins.

Monday, December 7 — Induction. Tentative Intersorority rushing dates are as follows:

Friday, October 16 — Preferential Ballots.

Monday, October 19 — Voting.
 Sunday, October 25 — Pledge Induction (tentative).

Monday, October 26 — Pledging begins.

Monday, December 7 — Final Membership Induction (regular meeting).

Student Council

"Halls of Ivy" and the music will be furnished by Tilman Fisher and his orchestra. It was further announced that arrangements for chaperons had also been completed.

The council also refused to reject a plan by which a joint committee of faculty and students would submit names to the "Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities" publication. It was decided that further information on the publication was necessary before a final decision on the proposal could be reached.

Future Educators Announce Program Of Coming Events

Last Wednesday the Student Education Association held a short introductory meeting at which time the president, Robert Jones, '60, explained the events planned for this year. Jones introduced the officers for the fall semester: Edward Traves, '60, vice president; Anna Clemmer, '60, corresponding secretary; Margaret Young, '61, recording secretary; Jay K. Miller, treasurer; and Eleanor Schmickley, publicity chairman. The dues for the year were established at 50 cents.

First Meeting

The first regularly scheduled SEA meeting is October 14. Anyone interested in teaching is invited to attend. October is the Membership Drive Month for the PSEA. At the first meeting the future educators will have a guest speaker.

Other activities planned for the year include a visit from a representative of the PSEA, Kyet Balera, who will lead a round table discussion. Dr. Levan P. Smith, superintendent of schools in Reading, who will demonstrate the interview of a prospective teacher; local high school FTA groups, who will join the SEA in a combined meeting.

Also listed on the agenda for SEA programs are films, a panel discussion entitled, "What They Never Told Me", by Albright alumni who are in the field of teaching, and the election of new officers in February.

Information On Major Fields

Anna R. Benninger, registrar, released the statistics on the major fields followed by Albright's 827 students this semester. This is the first such lease on the planned careers of students.

Business administration leads the major fields of interest with 159 pursuants. The pre-medical course runs second with 78, and 70 are engaged in the history curriculum.

Other science majors include: biology, 22, laboratory technology, 20, pre-dental, 17, college nursing, 16, veterinary medicine, 4, natural science, 2, and pre-optical, 1.

Other Fields

Forty-three students are preparing for a vocation in chemistry, 39 in engineering. The mathematics and physics departments boast 34 majors, 21 in math and 3 in physics. Two sophomores are the lone manufacturing trainees.

Our language department shows 55 students studying for English, French, German, and Spanish opportunities. Albright records show 65 in Home Economics. These statistics reveal 62 majors in psychology and 34 in sociology. The remaining 44 Albrightians are taking political science, social science and philosophy.

Tax Fight

As a result of the Temple Resolution concerning the sales tax on school books, our Student Council has renewed the effort to investigate this matter. However, our Student Council president, or even Council as a body, cannot take one step without the support of each taxpayer on campus.

Why should we, as members of a tax exempt institution, be required to pay tax on books we need to attend classes at this college? When we, as members of various campus organizations, buy articles for these organizations, we are given the privilege of not paying tax. Yet, when we buy the same articles for personal use in class, we must pay the newly initiated four per cent sales tax.

If our nation wants more college graduates, why can't it give us the same considerations it gives the institutions which we attend? Should there be this differentiation? Should there be this separation of non-profit organization and student?

Back Student Council in its investigation of the state sales tax.

Learning

A little learning is a dangerous thing
 Drink deep or taste not the Pierion Spring.
 —POPE

The rush of the new term has quieted and thoughts have turned to classes and books.

Your four years at Albright will be only a small part of your lifetime; nevertheless, don't let this span be thrown to the winds. In today's world, there isn't a battle of arms, but a battle of knowledge. To think intelligently on today's world, you must have the knowledge with which to think. These years cast the mold for your later thoughts. To glide through college is to shake your foundation. This is the basis of your future life. Dismay not over the harsh course of study, but gain strength from the words of others. However, don't accept these words without searching for their meaning. Apply the knowledge gained in college to your life.

Whether scientist, philosopher, or businessman, your decisions will be based on your college experience and habits. Scratch the gloss from your books, delve into your education. For what you learn is merely what you want to learn. Remember, you are tomorrow's world.

Equip yourself with the tool of life, then use this tool in all your encounters. For with its use it grows stronger and deeper. Of what value is a tool, unless it is handled properly? Learn to apply this tool.

The Classical students digested the food of life to its capacity. Follow in their footsteps and consume, don't sip, the nectar of knowledge.

—AND, I NEVER LOWER MYSELF TO ARGUMENT WITH A STUDENT — I FLUNK HIM.

Paging Back

The following is the first in a series of articles taken from past "Albrightians". It is an excerpt from "The Albrightian", November 11, 1933. It shows that although progress may be slow, it's inevitable, so don't lose hope.

One of the widely discussed problems in connection with the social life of our campus is that of dancing. There seem to be certain factions connected with our school administration that prohibit this harmless form of recreation. We are perfectly willing to concede these restrictions if adequate and definite reason could be given us, however, there seems to be a general resentment throughout the student body as regards this restriction.

Recently an article written in connection with this matter was handed me by one of our prominent seniors. Whether it was intended as a sarcastic gesture in opposition to this articular regulation I am not able to say. However, read it and judge for yourself.

"Perhaps if we followed the rules for dancing as given up in the handbook of Eastern Stroudsburg State Teachers College, dancing would be allowed on our campus. Here they are:

How To Dance

1. There shall be no continuous dancing in the corners, that is, couples must follow the general line of direction, making a complete circuit of the floor while dancing.
2. The correct position is as follows: The leader places his right hand at the base of his partner's right shoulder blade and extends his left arm sideward, palm up. The girl stands a little to the left of her partner, rests her left hand on the right shoulder of her partner, extends her right arm sideward and places her right hand with the palm down on her partner's left hand.
3. Stand erect when taking the position for dancing, and remain in an erect position throughout the dance.
4. Only social dancing will be permitted. Stage steps, skipping, bobbing, wriggling, kicking, tipping, continuous spinning and other unnecessary movements of the body are to be strictly avoided.
5. In dancing always regard the comfort of your partner by maintaining the proper position.

Why dance? Hiking is less expensive."

That's one of the things that Albright was talking about only 26 years ago. The campus has come a long way since that time, but it's got a long way to go. Progress and change always wins in the end, no matter how hard you fight it.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

In reference to your publication of October 1, I feel a moral obligation to reply to several allegations put forth in the editorial entitled, "October, 1959".

I think some of the trouble lies in the sparsity of capable assistance from the viewpoint of numbers, rather than that of ability. For the editorial cited statements which were misleading, if not outright inaccurate.

Concerning the Ivy Ball, it is unfortunate that the final concrete plans were all established immediately preceding and during the time when the paper went to press, so that when the student body received the news, it was outdated.

As for Friday night activities "being in the bud", this is an unfortunate circumstance; however, with treasury books being audited, chaperones being canvassed, and, as far as I am concerned, the major consideration of studies, I feel that there is no ground for complaint. As long as a chairman gets his work done on time with as much facility and success possible, I will be satisfied.

In regard to the amusing and classical statement that "no one, not even the Student Council president, is certain where the book exchange is established", I can only say that as a human being, I am granted the normal quota of forgetfulness for trivia; however, I have never been plagued by amnesia, which would have to have been the case considering all the preparation that was necessary for the functioning of this activity (and which was consummated long before the upperclassmen were back on campus).

More surprising is the attitude that must have been taken when Student Council convened its first meeting. For all of the essential groundwork that was covered and the plans for the future which were enumerated, not one was mentioned. Nor was any mention made at the success of the Orientation Committee, which President Harry V. Masters took specific pains to commend by letter to Student Council. No, I sincerely believe that the accurate report of the facts was lacking. I hope that this may be eliminated in the future by confirmation of facts before printing. I offer my own services in this task. I hope the staff will feel free to call upon me whenever the need shall arise.

Respectively yours,
 Willard Stitzel
 President, Student Council

IN THE LION'S DEN

By Craig Leffler, Sports Editor

Tony LoSapio, Albright College's stalwart center of the gridiron squad, was named the first center choice on the All-East collegiate football squad last week by the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference. Tom Olivo, one of Albright's halfbacks, was among the nominations for the halfback position, also.

The veteran LoSapio, who is a senior on this year's squad and hails from Madison, New Jersey, was chosen for his performance on the night of September 26 when Albright trounced Drexel, 23-12. Tony scored one of the Lions' touchdowns, himself, by pouncing on teammate Bob Nagle's fumble in the Drexel end zone.

LoSapio was part of the defensive line which held Drexel to a mere 33-yard total rushing offensive. He was also honored in last year's Pretzel Bowl game against Muhlenberg as the outstanding lineman of the contest.

Retractions . . .

Frequently, grammatical errors and inaccuracies arise in journalistic work and this reporter, of course, is no exception in that respect. At the head of the Drexel football review in last week's issue the name of Jim Adam was incorrectly spelled as Adams. Sophomore Jim Adam, the very able Albrightian sports assistant and writer of the story ought not to be confused with James Adams of the freshman class. In the cross country article, John Grove was misplaced in the list of freshmen on the team. Although this is Grove's first year on the squad, he is a sophomore. The sports editor's apologies are extended to all those concerned.

Challenge To Interested Upperclassmen . . .

Following are the sincere and concerned words of an Albright freshman reporter which can be heeded by all students and alumni, but which are specifically addressed to the upperclassmen . . .

Being new Albrightians and newly interested in Albright College sports some questions naturally arise in the minds of the freshmen. This writer, in particular, has several queries for upperclassmen in reference to the home football game against Drexel.

Is it actually considered immature to cheer or applaud at football games? Do you as upperclassmen consider it so? This question is asked sincerely and as objectively as possible. There was little loud cheering at the game besides that which followed the familiar cry "Button Frosh." I wish that upperclassmen would think this over and also consider it as sincerely and as objectively as possible.

Having been a member of the Albright "family" for only several weeks this writer soon realized that it's considered immature or something of the sort to cheer at football games, and to stand up and scream would be unthinkable. You say "Let the children cheer. Button Frosh!"

Then the result reverberates from the stands, but what happened to you, the leaders of the "family"? Did you leave? No, you're still sitting there and watching the cheerleaders. You think they're pretty good, and loud too. However, you can't understand why they make such spectacles of themselves—jumping up and down like six-year olds.

Do you remember that time long ago when you were kids in high school? You probably cheered then, especially when you were seniors, for then it was your team and the best players were in your class. They were your friends and you always let them know it. Why not now?

Surely, you'll feel conspicuous at first, but look around you. There are some upperclassmen that actually yell! Think! Do they act childish when they're not at the games? They don't? Well then, what's stopping you? You surely care if Albright wins or not. If you didn't care you probably wouldn't have gone to the game.

The Red And White Look Ahead To Lycoming After Lebanon Valley Tussle

Warriors Out For Second Straight Win

The Warriors of Lycoming College will take the field against Albright this Saturday in Albright Stadium as the Lions continue their gridiron warfare. This will be Albright's second home encounter and the third encounter of the series against Lycoming which began in 1957 when the Warriors and Lions battled to a scoreless draw in the Pretzel Bowl.

Lycoming will have essentially the same team that defeated Albright, 24-8, last year in Williamsport. In that battle Albright's only score came in the fourth quarter on a short pass from Gary Chapman to Tom Olivo, who sprinted goalward in a play that covered 57 yards. Then Chapman passed to Mike Varano for two points.

The initial Lycoming score came in the first frame on a one-yard drive. In the second quarter Bob Martz fell on a loose ball in Albright's end zone to rack up six more points for Lycoming.

The Warriors also scored on a one-yard effort by Burt Richardson after Leroy Thompson intercepted a pass on the Albright fifteen.

In Lycoming's first game this season the Warriors blasted Bridgeport, 30-6.

Albright Cross Country Squad Drops Opener

Coach Eugene Shirk's cross country crew inaugurated its 1959 season last Saturday at Haverford College. Unfortunately, Haverford was not inclined to be a generous host as it bested the Albright Lions in a 21-36 runoff.

Haverford's Matty Stwickler captured the blue ribbon by running the course in the time of 24 minutes, 25.9 seconds. Sophomore John Grove of Albright College led the Red and White runners by notching second place just behind Stwickler in a clocking of 24 minutes, 28 seconds.

The hosts also earned the third, fourth, and fifth spots in the meet. Barry Goodhart placed sixth, while Paul Hensel steamed in for the seventh position for the Red and White. Haverford then notched the eighth and ninth places as Albright's Jay Miller and Dave Leber came in tenth and eleventh, respectively.

The Lion harriers will attempt to outdistance the Bullets of Gettysburg, Friday, October 9, on the home course. Their next away encounter will be held at Lafayette College, Tuesday, October 13.

Albright Nabs 18-0 Victory For 2-1 Log

The hungry Lions of the Albright grid wars simply devoured the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley last Saturday, October 3, in an 18-0 feast in the Lebanon High School Stadium. The Red and White, now owning a 2-1 record, ate up a total of 318 yards, including 277 yards rushing against a beefy Lebanon Valley line.

The Lions hastily gulped an appetizer midway through the first quarter as Tom Olivo chewed off the last 12 yards for a touchdown. Most of the probing had been done by Co-captain Gerry Bricker, the night's leading ground gainer, who picked up two first downs. Prior to this TD the Lions were refused a touchdown serving as halfback Mike Varano received a Gary Chapman lateral and scooted goalward from the midfield stripe. The lateral was ruled as an illegal forward pass.

Hungry, But . . .

However, coach Potskian's charges appeared a bit fussy about the main course as they toyed with the Dutchmen in failing to register any score in the second quarter. The Lions had been inside the L.V. five twice without reaping any benefits. The Dutchmen snapped back as they spilled Chapman for a seven-yard loss just when the Lions had decided to dig in for six more points.

Albright played the part of a greedy guest and refused to return any touchdown favors to the dismay of the Dutchmen. The Blue and White were constantly harassed by an ungrateful Albright defensive line. Lebanon Valley quarterback, Bill DeLiberty, took to the air lanes, but often found himself grounded by the onrushing Lions.

Halfback Les Holstein fought doggedly in attempting to penetrate the Albright line and cooperated with right end John Myers in snaring quite a few DeLiberty missiles. However, the Dutchmen found tough going every time they crossed the midfield stripe into Albright territory. In fact they couldn't get inside the visitor's 30-yard line.

Varano Gets Results

In the fourth quarter Varano tired of waiting to be served and took matters (or rather the football) into his own hands. He started off on the right side of the line, received some key blocks, swerved sharply to his left, and raced diagonally across the field in eating up 22 yards for a TD.

However, the Lions and Claude Lynch, in particular, hadn't had their fill. Freshman tackle Ben Overly blocked an L.V. punt deep in the realm of the Blue and White; Lynch plucked the pigskin from the air on the three-yard stripe and danced across the goal line to complete the scoring efforts.

Cheering Section

The need for positive action on the matter of cheering support at Albright's home football games has been called to the attention of the sports editor by several Albright students. Positive action, as opposed to the constant reminder about the lack of support, could be far more profitable.

An appreciation of this thought could be gained with the idea of a compact, unified cheering section. Indeed, it isn't a startling proposal. Consequently, unless other arrangements will be made it would be a good idea for all persons enthusiastically interested to sit in the front rows of sections B and C in the stadium near the cheerleaders on Saturday night. The unity of action would be far more effective than individual efforts scattered throughout the crowd and might encourage others to respond in a like manner.

At the close of the initial week of intramural football competition, the APOs record of three wins and no losses leads the six-team circuit. The Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity took over second slot by posting a 1-0-1 log. The Kappas, splitting two games, occupy third position.

First half play will end today when the Kappas take on the Pi Taus in the mid-season clincher.

This fall's schedule opened on Monday, September 28, with two games going. The Zetas tied the Pi Taus, 13-11, and the APOs downed the Kappas, 20-6.

Charles Kache figured in both Zeta touchdowns, as he passed to Martin Muesel for one and intercepted an enemy pass for the second. Merrill Marisseau passed for the extra point to total thirteen. Conell Reinhardt threw to Ed Teses and Bob Brockley for twelve punters and one to Bob Jones for a PAT to earn the Pi Tau baker's dozen.

The APOs began their winning ways on opening day with a 20-6 romp over the Kappas. Bud Kauffman led the winners with eight points.

Four APOs contributed to their total of twenty points the following day when they defeated the Pi Taus, 20-0, for their second victory. Their third win came by forfeiture as the Daymen failed to show up for the game.

The Kappas earned their victory by posting a 7-0 verdict over the Dorm.

The Zetas broke into the win column by outscoring the Dorm, 19-6. Six-pointers were contributed by Musket, Charles Cambell, and Jack Tucker, with a PAT from Jon Vastine. Dennis Deady tallied for the Dorm.
