PROF. P. E. KEEN TAKES OVER DE- BATING INTERESTS

Departure of Prof. Keller Leaves
Work of Developing Strong Debating Team in Hands of Prof. Keen.
Tryouts To Be Held Soon

With the resignation of Prof. I. C. Keller from the Faculty, there went also the influence of the individual who has been largely responsible for the success of an extra curricular activity which has contributed greatly to Albright's standing in the past few years. Debating at Albright has claimed the interest of a large number of the students and this activity has been a success, due largely to the untiring efforts of the coach and the fellows who made up the team. However, Professor Keller's departure will not, we hope, seriously interfere with the work of the debating teams this year.

The work of the Public Speaking and Debating departments has already been taken up by Prof. P. E. Keen. We feel that in Prof. Keen we have a man who will very acceptably fill the position. His ability as a public speaker is recognized, and as a coach of the debating squad, he will make an exceptionally valuable aid to the men who will comprise it. He lives up to his name in that he is keenly analytical.

In the near future, tryouts for the debating squad will be held, and already a great deal of interest has been shown by a large number of fellows. With such an outlook, this year's success is practically assured.

"Y" ROOM RENOVATED AND MADE MORE HOMEY

Many Improvements Made During the Summer Months Which Make Room
Popular—Victrola and Addition of Magazines Attracts Boys

When we returned to school this year most of the fellows were pleasantly surprised to see the old "Y" room looking bright and new. A number of changes that have added to the better appearance of the room are: the entire room has been repapered and the floor oiled, chairs and tables have been varnished and new window shades placed at all the windows. The curtains have also been washed, the piano shined up, and the pictures placed in artistic positions. The victrola has again made its appearance and quite frequently pleasing music is heard. However, one of the handicaps is the small number of records on hand. To every reader of this article the "Y" sends a request for any records which they may have that are not being used. We assure you that the young men of the college will appreciate any additions to the present limited supply.

One of the new attractions in the "Y" room is the fine, large group of magazines that have been placed there for the use of the fellows. An appropriation by the cabinet for reading matter for the "Y" room has made possible the subscriptions.

SPECIAL CONCERT FOR STUDENTS

Students and friends of the College in Myerstown and vicinity are asked to hold open December 15th for an unusual attraction in the College Chapel. "Mme. Gray-Lhevinne, considered by many critics the greatest of the women violinists of contemporary time" will give a recital on that date. Further announcements will be made later.

Students Heartily Invited To Attend
And Become Affiliated With One
Of Albright's Most Beneficial
Organizations

One of the organizations whose aim it is to be of benefit to the religious life of the students at Albright is the Christian Endeavor Society. Many of the students come into contact with the society through attending its meetings which are held every Sunday evening in the college chapel.

It is the desire and plan of the Executive Committee to make the meetings as interesting as possible. One thing is certain, the meetings are just what we make them, and it is our duty to make them the best they can be. The C. E. society, functioning as the training school of the church, is the place where the opportunity to express one's religious ideas is given. To those who have not as yet become connected with the organization the invitation is heartily extended.

MISS MOYER PLANS MORE EXTENSIVE WORK

Intends To Make the Art Course
More Helpful and Interesting Than Ever—Nature Study and Sketching Emphasized

Miss Moyer is again resuming her work as an Art teacher of this institution. Only those who have taken art from her can tell of the inestimable value of her instruction. Her students say over and over that they have gotten more from their Art course than any other one. It is a great pleasure for one to find himself producing attractive scenes, portraits, etc. when at one time he would have disgraced the family to lift a brush.

Miss Moyer is much concerned about her work this year. She is planning an extensive course in nature study, and wants to make classes for sketching of humans. She also is desirous for a sewing class.

Only a little self confidence, Miss Moyer tells us, and we all can be artists. She is very anxious for the new Art studio and wishes more of the students would take an interest in the work so that we might have a creditable Art room.

The following are the Art students:

FACULTY LADIES AC- TIVE IN MYERSTOWN WOMEN'S CLUB

On Monday evening, Sept. 22, The Women's Club of Myerstown held its opening meeting. At this time the officers were installed, with Mrs. Miriam Karnsitz, '15, as President. After the transaction of business, a social hour was enjoyed by members of the Club. A number of the ladies of our Faculty belong to this organization, which has sponsored several progressive movements in Myerstown.

NO HIGH SCHOOL LYCEUM COURSE PLAN- NED THIS YEAR

The students will be disappointed to learn that there are no plans for the High School Lyceum Course this winter. However, we are assured that there will be a number of interesting entertainments during the cold months, the exact plans of which have not as yet been made.

... EDITORIAL ...

Students and Alumni of Albright College! You are all interested in your Alma Mater and wish to see her prosper. Then, now is the time to start doing your bit! Here at school we are setting a goal, not only for this year, but for coming years. That goal is a larger Albright, a better Albright, a more progressive Albright. To obtain that goal we must have the cooperation of every student and Alumnus.

What can you do? Select a definite line of work and place yourself near prospective college students. Just now we've set out to get an enrollment of at least one hundred for next year's Freshman class. Already there are twenty enrolled; the largest number ever secured so early in the academic year at Albright. Why not take up this work and help keep the College at Myerstown.

With an increase in the student body will come an increase of school equipment. Visualize a twin building to the present Science Hall, the new one to be a Chemical building, the old one a Music and Art studio; additional wings to weird old Mohn Hall.

More students, better equipment; that means widening the sphere of instruction, a larger curricula, a more progressive Albright.

You have a wide awake President. Fall in line.

Dr. Chas. W. Super Presents 12 More
Books To College Library, Making
His Total Well Over the 100 Mark

MISS GARLACH & PROF. ZENER
ALSO ADD BOOKS TO LIBRARY

Dr. Charles W. Super, Union Seminary 1863, has again presented the Library with 12 volumes from his own library. They embrace history, autobiography, political and social sciences, education and fiction.

Dr. Super is a grand uncle of two of our former students, was for a number of years president of Ohio University, at Athens, Ohio, has traveled a great deal and is the author of quite a number of books, copies of most of all of which have found their way into our Library.

Dr. Super paid us a brief visit on September 16 and was shown as much of the college as the brief time allowed. He is a very interesting old gentleman and we regret that he could not stay longer with us. All the books he presented to our Library number considerably over a hundred.

Since the opening of the term Miss Garlach has presented two books and Prof. Zener a copy of the Pittsburgh Conference of 1923 containing a full account of the merger of the two Pittsburgh conferences.

RED AND WHITE OPENS GRIDIRON SEASON WITH VICTORY AND DEFEAT

NEW ATHLETIC FEAT- URES ADDED FOR ALBRIGHT CO-EDS

"Clock Golf" Already Tried Out and Lawn Bowling and Archery to Be Added Later—Dr. Bowman Plans
To Keep Girls Healthy

The girls of Albright College, as well as prospective students and alumni, will be pleased to learn of a new departure in athletics for girls at this institution. For some time Dr. Bowman has been considering the introduction of new features, in addition to tennis and basketball. Recently he purchased a set of "Clock golf" which has already been tried out on the campus. Further plans include the purchase of equipment for lawn-bowling. Dr. Bowman (Continued on Page Three.)

SENIOR RECEPTION A MOST ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Dr. Bowman Speaks and Each Class
Gives Stunt—New Students Made
To Feel A Part of Albright

On the evening of the 23rd of September, the Seniors gave their reception to the students and Faculty. It was an unusually enjoyable affair, and much of the formality which is usually evident seemed absent. After the Seniors had received the Faculty and students, the real entertainment of the evening began. Each class did its part, the Freshmen beginning the program. Mr. Krimmel sang a solo and an encore; Mr. Wissler gave a Jewish reading. The Sophomore class gave a pantomime of home life and a novel rendition of an old favorite song. The Juniors held a mock session of the late Democratic convention with Wm. Jennings Bryan, McAdoo, "Al" Smith and the Dark Horse as its leaders. Miss Gindlesperger read for the Seniors and responded with an encore. Then the Senior girls sang "Frolics Funicula." Refreshments also furnished an important part of the program and following this was a Grand March. It was a jolly crowd that sang the Alma Mater and gave a "Boonm" for the Seniors, concluding a memorable evening.

FACULTY NOTES

Members of Faculty who attended the F. & M. game, Sept. 27, were: Prof. Keen, Prof. Keiss and wife, Prof. Zener and wife, Mrs. Ellis, Misses Flory, Strassner, and Garlach.

Prof. Zener left Tuesday, Sept. 30 for Milwaukee, where he will attend a Missionary Convention. He was elected as delegate to this Convention by the Pittsburgh Conference of the Evangelical Church.

Miss L. Moyer, instructor in Art, spent the week end of Sept. 27, at Miss Froelich's home in Wernersville.

MRS. BOWMAN EN- TERTAINS LADIES OF COLLEGE FACULTY

Mrs. C. A. Bowman entertained the ladies of the Faculty, at her home, Thursday afternoon, at four o'clock. A number of the ladies brought sewing, and all spent an enjoyable social hour.

Mrs. Landis and Mrs. Wilson, former Voice Instructor here at Albright, were the guests of honor. Others present were: Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Keen, Mrs. Zener, Mrs. Fluck, Mrs. Keiss, Mrs. Dech, Mrs. Walton, Misses Garlach, Strassner, Flory, and Moyer, and Mrs. Bowman.

Benfer's Huskies Take Over Loyola
Collegians In Opening Game On
Albright Field By 14-0 Score

LOSE TO F. & M. AGAIN IN HARD-
LUCK GAME BY 21-7 SCORE

After Battling Lancaster's Best To Standstill For Three Quarters And
Holding 7-0 Advantage, Albright's
Defense Goes To Pieces.

Albright easily won the opening game of its season by defeating Loyola College, on Saturday, Sept. 20. The score at the termination of the final period was 14-0. That score however does not stand as a full representation of Albright's strength because of the fact that many substitutes were sent in so as to give Coach "Haps" Benfer the opportunity of observing the strength of his reserve material as well.

The game was an exciting and intensely interesting game to watch. There were thrills in abundance. Kengle made many large gains thru the line while Ebert and Hollenbaugh made substantial gains through the line and on close end runs. "Shorty" Gasull, the brilliant little quarterback on Benfer's eleven seems to know the trials that lead to long runs for touchdowns on the Albright Field for in the Loyola game he again got away on a 90 yard run for a seven pointer. It was this same touchdown that brought the laurels of victory to the Red and White. Gasull received a high punt from Byrne the Loyola fullback. He ran at top speed, zigzagged from side to side and barely dodged the arms of the opponents before, being pursued by a Loyola back, he eventually dove over the goal line for a touchdown.

In the third quarter Gasull completed a play through the line which netted a 40 yard run and a touchdown. Following is the line-up and the score by periods:

Griggs	L.E.	O'Connell
Everett	L.T.	Simpson
Noss	L.G.	Zemeitis
Smith	C.	Sullivan
Snyder	R.G.	Watson
Frock	R.T.	Pollowitz
Wissler	R.E.	Shanahan
Gasull	R.B.	Enright
Hollenbaugh	R.H.	Linn
Eberts	L.H.	Gersuch
Kengle	F.B.	Byrnes

Score By Periods
Albright 7 0 7 0—14
Loyola 0 0 0 0—0

Touchdowns: Gasull, 2; Goals from touchdowns: Gasull, 2; Substitutions: Loucks for Snyder; Angle for Gasull; Garrett for Angle; Raffensperger for Garrett; Dodd for Griggs; D. Gramley for Everett; Yost for Noss; Schoenly for Smith; Mahaffy for Frock; Harris for Hollenbaugh; Holvey for Eberts; Haas for Kengle.

Notes of the Game
Talking of thrill? One could not help feeling a thrill at the sight of Byrnes who was by far the outstanding man of the Loyola defense; he made nine-tenths of the tackles and was in virtually every play. He did all passing, punting and frequently ran the ball himself. He is the (Continued on Page Four.)

NEW PRINCIPAL FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Prof. Chester Hartzler, A.B., A.M. has taken up his duties as Principal of the Myerstown High School. Prof. Hartzler has had splendid preparation for his work, having previously taught in Girard College, Philadelphia. He has also taken a course in Education and School Administration in the University of Pennsylvania, where he has secured his A.M. degree. He has been well received here and has the heartiest wishes of his Alma Mater for success in his work.

SOCIAL EVENTS

During the time that has elapsed since the opening of school, the college body has been privileged to attend a few receptions and other social affairs. These have been well attended, but the fact is—most of us went there with a long face and came back with it unchanged. What is wrong with our social affairs? Is it the fault of the hosts or the hostesses that so many of us return from a party and say, "I had a punk time. Everything was so dry?"

We'll admit that some few people can never be pleased. But Albright contains no such persons, we believe. We are ready to enjoy anything that offers interest. The fault of our uninteresting social gatherings belongs to the hostesses.

Albright's receptions are too much a routine—the same from creation to eternity. How monotonous the unchanging becomes! There is a pleasure spot in every hostess heart if the hostesses will use a little systematic study in arranging a program to suit the needs of the gathering. Do those in charge ask themselves for what sort of persons they must provide recreation, if there is any kind of such that will please all present? Do they find mixed groups—some preferring one sort of fun, other another sort, and plan only one thing for the whole crowd?

Why is it that the three-years-ago Church receptions are looked upon by all the old students as the most enjoyable times in their college life? And why is it that the Faculty receptions are called the dullest affairs in the college life? Contrast the programs of the two and you will see why. In the former every one joined in the games which were played. There was a satisfier for every like. In the latter all the hosts had to do was to shake hands. The hand shake is fine if we only could provide a little filling for the sandwich. We are very sorry that those Church parties are no more, for they went a long way in making the new students feel at home. The Faculty and Senior receptions could be a good substitute. After all we are much like children. We detest standing by and looking on. If we could only get in the game and help to play! We can't dance it's true. But there are a lot of things hostesses can do to see that their parties won't make their hosts feel blue.

HEAT

Some say it's a broken furnace. Others say it's too warm to have heat. The first may be true, but the latter strikes discord.

We've a lot to think about now—sore throats and colds. We've plenty to do—use a microscope to find a square inch of heat in which we can seat ourselves comfortably for study. Oh, it's fun to get up early and dress in a cool, refreshing room. But it's tough to have to sit there for hours with chills running thru your spine like an electric current—would it were.

When the gang begins to draw the handkerchiefs and sniff with a cold, it's time we make our fronts bold. Mr. Fireman, you know, never having visited our rooms, knows not if we're frozen pickles or stewed prunes. We like the fresh air. It puts us in vigors. But if Mr. Fireman could just warm off the chill we wouldn't need to be giggers.

Campus Chatter

The parrot understands it to be his business to reproduce all the chatter that goes on around the campus, but chatter means "gay talk," and how's the poor bird to listen in on any gay talk after that F. & M. game? That which doesn't exist, certainly can't be reproduced.

But now, come to think of it, there is a bright side to even that F. & M. game. Because, if there is no gay chatter floating around for the parrot to pick up, then he at least may reasonably be excused for presenting to his kind readers some of his own original ideas. At last long-craved opportunity has knocked at the door of Campus Parrot. Ray for the F. & M. game!

Seriously speaking, however, although the game was a great disappointment to every member of both student-body and faculty, yet there are many consolations. The biggest one, we think, is the fact that everyone did the best that he could. The men on the team were ready, and put up a splendid fight; and the student-body was out almost one hundred per cent strong. The knowledge that we did our best should offer some satisfaction, and it should offer also the information that our best is not quite good enough. Moreover, we ought to be thankful for that information, because now we can go ahead and make our best better; lacking information, we couldn't. So that much for that. We're set for the next time. Come on everybody, we're going to beat the others. Who said we haven't got as much stuff as anyone else!

Well, now that that's off our mind, and its all settled that we're to be future victors, we can recall a few pleasant events that have lightened the heavy gloom. There were the receptions, held by the Faculty and the Seniors respectively. They were fine. All those who'd never smiled before learned just how it is done, and even had smile impressions stamped on their faces to start them right in the gentle art. That's not a joke, either, for we have definite proof that some of these impressions lasted for several hours. So of course everyone has given his approval to these two social functions.

There was the Loyola game, too. That was a good time for Albright, for it was a big event of the season because it was at home. And it's on the list of Albright victories with a 14—0 score.

Now since the parrot has thought up two original happy ideas, he's going to be a pessimist for a while. For a beginning, he's going to take the liberty to suggest again a game of tennis. He did two weeks ago, gently hint that he'd like to play, but no one seemed to take him up. All this very fine weather going to waste, however, gives him courage to speak again. It surely seems a pity that when tennis courts exist here on the campus, the students should have to go several blocks away in order to play. Sophomores, get busy, and show the Freshmen what they're doing.

The weather is fine for tennis, there is no doubt, but it surely is not ideal for living in Mohn Hall with no fire in the furnace. During the cold wave that came week before last, going to one's room in the girl's dorm was like walking into an underground vault. If there had been just a little warmth to take away (to quote Professor Zener) the gruesome chill, everyone's spirits would have been better. We know that Dr. Brown is doing his utmost to keep Albright a commodious place at which to live, but it seems as though something rather important was overlooked when there was no provisions made for heating Mohn Hall in cold autumn evenings.

This is what happened to the Sophomore poet. Is there anyone who never bought a "bargain" pair of shoes, and who therefore cannot sympathize?

My Squeaky Shoe

I have a squeaky, squawky shoe
That sings a merry song;
I never lack for company,—
It's singing all day long.

But sometimes when the halls are still,
And I would quiet be,
Why that old shoe just squeaks the more,
And most disgraces me.

And when most folks interpret it,
This thought comes in their pate,—
Her shoes do look most awful nice,
But squawk one-ninety-eight.

And so I know not what to think
About my squeaky shoes,
For it insists on haunting me
In spite of all I do.

I guess I'll leave it squeak until
That awful squeak wears out;
Oh blest relief! for then I'll walk
Like other folks no doubt.

ECCENTRIX

Statistics show that 4,539 men were killed by gas last year: 16 inhaled it, 45 lighted matches in it, and 4,498 stepped on it.

"You are to be excused early today", said the Prof. "Please walk lightly thru the halls so that you don't waken the other classes".

Garrett's Ford chugged painfully up to the gate of the Athletic Field and the ticket seller demanding the usual fee for automobiles, called, "A dollar for the car".

With a sigh of relief Pete looked up and said, "Sold".

Many students who got all tired out while on their vacations are prepared to rest up on their work at school.

The fact that a young man wears his brim turned down does not say that he is the Prince of Wales.

As the football teams are all coming back in good shape, the American system of education seems safe.

It seems difficult to persuade some students that the school bells have that beautiful and mellifluous tone which the pros attribute to them.

Vegetarians claim longevity is due to abstaining from meat—but how about the fellow who has lived on earth all his life.

Every student would like to know if every hour missed through every conflict could make up one credit for graduation! They claim they attend classes in spirit if not in body.

A problem approaching colossal dimensions is the conflict between science and the languages. We would suggest arbitration through a League of the Faculty.

BUY A HANDBOOK AND INSURE A SIMILAR PUBLICATION NEXT YEAR

The attention of the students is again called to the 'Handbook' that has recently been published by the combined Christian Associations of the college. The book is an exceptionally valuable publication and it ought to be in the hands of every student of the college. It contains many good suggestions and an extensive amount of information that will be valuable, not only to the new students, but also to the students who have been here for some time.

The publication of this 'Handbook' is a new venture on our campus and to insure its being published in this and future years the initial edition should be purchased by every student who has not already secured one. The price of the book is only fifty cents and this amount does not nearly cover the cost of publication. A large number of 'Handbooks' are still in the possession of the presidents of the Christian Associations.

PEPPY PEP MEETING HELD FOR TEAM BEFORE F. & M. GAME

Albright's spirit ran high when all the students gathered for a lively "pep" meeting in the Chapel, Friday, Sept. 27. After the cheering and singing was started by Steltz, Coach Benfer gave a snappy, up-to-the-minute talk.

He plead for the old time feeling to be revived. He stressed the fact that the team was doing its best, and it was up to the students and Faculty to back it by cooperation in pep meetings and appearance at the scrimmages.

Then Steltz urged more faithful cheering along the side lines. He again led the "Boo-ho Yell" for the Coach and squad.

At "Ben's" suggestion an unique feature was carried out. In order to give the football men the "personal touch", as he called it, they were asked to "run the gauntlet". This concluded the affair and every one was brimming over with feeling for the on-coming game.

Silver Bay Delegates Give Reports To "Y"

Dietz and Price Give Interesting Accounts and Impressions of Large Conference Held at Silver Bay Last Summer—Club To Be Formed

Tuesday evening, Sept. 23, at the regular meeting of the 'Y', Dietz and Price, the delegates of the Y. M. C. A. to the large student conference at Silver Bay on Lake George, N. Y. gave their reports. Their impressions of the great conferences, speakers, discussions, and general good times made all the men feel as though they would like to take the trip next year. An effort will be made by the program committee to secure for our 'Y' meetings this year some of the speakers who were on the program at that great conference. It was reported that more than 600 delegates representing 19 different countries were in attendance at the conference.

The trip was made in the old time "college style" and proved to be an interesting one. Long lifts and pleasant experiences made the entire hike one to be remembered by the hikers.

In the near future the organization of a "Silver Bay" club will be taken up. All the fellows who plan to make the trip to Silver Bay next year will be permitted to become members of the club. Any money that they may wish to pay into the treasury of the club will be given back to the fellows at the end of the school year whether they make the trip to the conference or not. Albright ought to have a group of at least six fellows at Silver Bay next June and we hope that the organization of a club of this kind will create a spirit that will make certain at least this number.

MISS MAUREY LEADS Y. W. C. A. ON TOPIC "IDOLS OF TODAY"

The first Two Commandments on "Idols of Today" was the discussion in Y. W. C. A. Miss Erma Maurey as leader gave a splendid talk on the subject, showing how fashions, money, ambition, selfishness, were gods of to-day. The new Y. W. C. A. invocation was learned and will from now on be a part of all services. A large number of girls attended this meeting and this is a good sign of the help Y. W. gives the girls, and also of the interest the girls are taking in Y. W. Misses Iva Statler and Rosalie Walters were elected as ushers for the remainder of the term.

ALUMNI NOTES

Alumni present at the F. & M. game, Saturday, Sept. 27th, were: J. Kenneth Snyder and John H. Ginter, '24; Sara Statler and Harvey J. Kline, '23; Bernard Kingsley, and wife, (Charlotte Kurtz Kingsley '19); Harry B. Sheely and E. Fried Dice, '24.

Prof. I. C. Keller '07, formerly Prof. of English at Albright was a visitor here Saturday, and also attended the game.

man assures us that a portion of the campus will be put in shape for these two games. If enough interest is shown by the girls it is entirely possible that an instructor in Archery may be secured. The introduction of these forms of athletics would be a very progressive step for Albright College.

On Friday afternoon, September 26, on the invitation of Dr. Bowman, six girls motored to the Lebanon Country Club, to get some idea of the regular golf game, the fundamentals of which are the principle of "Clock golf." Those comprising the party were: Misses Violet Kinsinger, Gladys Wagner, Eva Wright, Helen Wagner, Erma Maurey and Arline Herr.

NOTABLES ON THE CAMPUS

Readers, let me introduce to you Dr. Bowman, President of Albright College. What's that? An introduction is unnecessary? Of course you're right! Where could we possibly find a Bulletin subscriber who wouldn't instantly associate that name with the genial personage who now presides over Albright College. You've all felt the hearty handshake, and listened to the pleasant words of greeting and welcome, so appreciated by any new, homesick student. If you haven't, you've missed something worth-while.

His credentials? Well, Readers, Dr. Bowman has an M. A. from Central Pennsylvania College and a Ph.D. from Richmond College. A Ph.D. certainly sounds big to any of us students who are working so hard to attain to the dignity of an A.B. or a B.S. Yes, that represents learning, and study.

If any of you have listened to Dr. Bowman's Ambitions, you've heard an ardent enthusiast on the expansion proposition. The Bulletin wishes you luck, Dr. Bowman, and we feel sure that every Albright son and daughter is going to do his and her bit toward filling Albright to overflowing next year.

Have any of you seen that tall, stately young lady, Janet Kaltreider by name, on the campus? If you don't know her yet, get acquainted, but once you know her, you'll like her as we did.

Perhaps a review of the 1925 Speculum would help you to a better knowledge of Janet's activities than we can describe in the limited space allotted to us in this paper. We know Janet for a member of the Girl's Glee Club, a brilliant student, an athletic enthusiast, especially along tennis and basket-ball lines, and the very able Y. W. president for 1924-25. Janet is also a devotee of the "Duck Path" where she may be found after every meal,—and then some.

Dame Rumor has it reported that Janet has designs on Africa after she leaves the halls of Albright. We know you'll be in good company there Janet, since someone else we know has similar plans, and we wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors. Having some knowledge of your executive ability here at school, it seems safe to predict that the heathen will be in good hands when you arrive.

Beacons of the sky

Between Cleveland and Rock Springs, Wyo., along the night route of the air mail service, tall beacons have been placed every twenty-five miles.

Revolving on great steel towers, General Electric searchlights, totaling 1,992,000,000 candle-power, blaze a path of light for the airplane pilot.

What the lighthouse is to the ocean navigator, these beacons are to the conquerors of the air.

This achievement has been made possible by engineers of the Illuminating Engineering Laboratories of the General Electric Company, working with officials of the Post Office Department. A startling achievement now will be a commonplace of life in the new America which you will inherit.

CLERIC RECEIVES FOUR NEW MEMBERS AT 1ST MEETING

Monday evening, Sept. 29, the Cleric held its first meeting for this school year. Pres. K. L. Benfer called on a number of the fellows in the conducting of the opening devotions, after which he gave a short talk on the purpose of the organization and the program for the first semester.

Four new members were received into the organization. A committee consisting of Dietz, Mehaffie, and Price, was appointed to draw up a suitable initiation for the new members, who were:

Glenn A. Morris.
Oscar Kneller.
Jacob Getz.
Claire Keafer.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

NEW 'Y' OFFICE

The latest adventure of the 'Y' cabinet is the fitting out of the room formerly occupied by the 'candy man' of the school as a 'Y' office. The floor has been newly varnished and a number of chairs and tables, bookcases and other fixtures have been added to its equipment. The room will be used for 'Y' cabinet meetings and also as a supply room where books published by the Association Press will be put on sale. The men of the school are requested to drop in occasionally and look over the fine reading matter that will be on hand at the favorite stopping place.

Students Show Pep
And Interest In Game

Entire Student Body Accompanies
Team To Lancaster And Hoid Big
Parade Between Ha-ves—Spirit
Not Dampened By Defeat

Saturday morning, Sept. 27, everyone was ready for the trip to Lancaster long before the scheduled time. Coach's talk, Friday morning and the "pep" meeting, Friday evening had put all in the mood for early preparation.

Dinner was served at eleven in order to get an early start. Most of the food was carried back to the kitchen untasted because the crowd was too excited to eat. At eleven-forty-five all were on the way.

A large bus and many touring cars conveyed the large body to the city. The bus held about thirty-three students and three teachers. The trip seemed rather slow to all the anxious occupants who wanted to fly rather than, apparently creep along. The couples were rather quiet, saving their throats until they could make better use of them at the game.

The cars landed in Lancaster early. Students were seen there Saturday morning about 10 o'clock. The bus arrived in time to see the kick off. The many autos packed around the field and the filled bleachers showed the high interest in the game. The Albright bleachers were crowded with students, Alumni and friends. The climax of unified spirit in the Albright assembly was reached at the end of the first half when a huge march took place over the F. & M. field by the Albright crew.

The return trip was begun at once, and by seven-thirty all were once more in Myerstown. The Taste Good Shop was soon rushed to overflowing with the hungry students.

The game, we lost, but not a mite of spirit was lacking in team or student body. The sore throats of many is one mark that remains to reveal the enthusiasm which was present.

CANDLES MAKE Y. W. REC-OGNITION SERVICE IMPRESSIVE

On Sunday night, Sept. 21, 1924, the Y. W. C. A. Recognition Service was held in the girl's Reception Room. As each girl, whether old or new, entered the room, she was given a candle. After the opening song and prayer, the president read the statement of the principles of the Young Women's Christian Association. While reading, she held in her hand a large candle whose light was to symbolize the love of Christ. Then, to the accompaniment of music, each girl lit her small candle by the large one and in double file marched out of the Reception Room. This simple act was very impressive for it emphasized upon each girl's mind the radiance which Christ makes in our lives.

STUDENTS SEE "ABRAHAM LINCOLN"

On the evening of Sept. 22, a number of Albright Students had a Theatre Party at the Academy of Music, Lebanon, Pa. Mr. Corrine D. Ellis and Dr. C. A. Bowman were in charge as chaperons.

The picture shown, "Abraham Lincoln," was exceptionally fine and was enjoyed by the following persons: Messrs. Harris, Gasull, Shop, Leinbach, Dodd, Steltz, McFall, Getz, Schoenly, Miller, Gramley, Benfer, and Misses Grace & Doretha Snyder, Kathleen and Freida Miller, Wagner, Helm, Herr, Kaltreider and Kinsinger.

The return trip was made on a special car. All present spent an enjoyable evening.

Prof. Zener, giving advice to prospective female teachers in an Educational class says, "the condemnments—Oh, that isn't the word—better leave them at home". We finally concluded he meant cosmetics.

RED AND WHITE OPENS GRID-IRON SEASON WITH VICTORY AND DEFEAT

Byrnes whose failure to return to Georgetown University this year is being lamented so much by the Washington and Baltimore papers. He played two years as regular full-back for Georgetown and is considered one of the best backfield men in the South.

Albright pierced the Loyola defense for a total of twenty two first downs, fourteen of them coming in the second half. Loyola gained only two, both of them coming in the first quarter.

Snyder, big Albright guard wrenched his knee in the second quarter and had to leave the game. He came back strong and scrappy in the second half however.

Johnny Smith, Albright's brilliant center, has justly won the name "Fighting Center" for himself.

F. & M. 21—Albright 7

Albright, by the defeat at the hands of F. & M. on Saturday, September 27 suffered one of the most heart rending and tragic defeats of all its athletic history. After leading our most bitter rivals for three fourths of the game by a 7-0 score and with wonderful strength in crashing through the F. & M. defensive for large gains it was almost certain that the Lancaster aggregation would at last taste the bitter cup of defeat at the hands of Albright. However, in the final period, by a most unexpected and at the same time amazing rally Coach Mayser's well known pupils opened up with a volley of forward passes. In the beginning of the fourth period Childs, a former Stevens Trade and F. & M. Academy star went in at half-back and, after Albright's line had held like a stone wall, crashed across the line for their first score of the game.

From then on Albright's line and backfield men seemed to grow weaker and weaker under the terrible onslaught of the fresh men who were steadily running out to relieve others. In ten minutes forward passing had netted sufficient gain to score two more touchdowns.

Albright's only touchdown was made by Ebert after a brilliant march down the field. Getting off to a bad start the Myerstown Collegians came back stronger as the first half went on. F. & M. had Coach Benfer's eleven in their own territory for the first five minutes through a fumble by Kengle on the five yard line when the F. & M. held on the first kick-off. Captain Johnny Smith, the brainy point of the Red and White instilled fight into his men. From this point, Albright braced and forced the Lancaster boys back into their own territory for the remainder of the first half. Both lines held like stone walls and punting was resorted to by both clubs with Albright gaining the best of the dual. Kengle started the kicking for the Myerstown eleven, but fell short and Everett the big tackle was called on. His kicks were all good for from thirty five to fifty yards. The first period ended with the ball in F. & M's territory when Sammy Yohn, Mayser's signal caller intercepted a forward pass.

Albright held and in an exchange of punts Gasull got away for a feature run of the game after he had been boxed in by practically the entire opposing eleven. Gasull, caught Craigen's punt on his own thirty five yard line and returned the pigskin thirty yards on a sensational run. This run renewed life on the Myerstown eleven and a march down the field was on with every Red and White player taking part in the attack.

On the three yard line Albright had to surrender the ball on downs. Again an exchange of punts gave the Myerstown eleven the advantage and with Gasull, Eberts, Angle and Kengle all taking turns at running the ball they marched down the field for the second time.

But this time they hit the F. & M. line hard and Ebert from the goal yard line crashed across the goal line for the first score of the game.
