ALBRIGHT WINS TWO OUT OF THREE STARTS

ALBRIGHT DEFEATS DICKINSON 5-2.

Albright 5, Dickinson 2

On April 22 Dickinson College met a well merited defeat at the hands of the Red and White squad, evening up the defeat which the former administered a week before.

Thruout the game, Yost of Albright pitched splendid ball, allowing but five hits and holding the Carlisle aggregation safely quiet at all times. Goodiel also pitched good ball, but the Albright team was all

WE WIN FROM P. M. C. 6-2.

Albright Wins at P. M. C.

Albright vanquished P. M. C. nine at Chester on the 29th, in a comedy of errors, featured by good twirling on the part of both mound artists. Reilly and Yost both worked well on the mound, but the erratic support accorded their twirler by the Cadets made the game a miserable exhibition and enabled Albright to win handily by the score of 6-2. The Red and White collected seven while Yost allowed but five. Wag-

Dr. E. T. Devine Speaks To Student Body May 1st.

Thanks to the tireless and prolonged efforts on the part of Dean Bowman—Albright was privileged to hear Dr. Devine, one of America's foremost speakers and writers in the field of social work. Dr. Devine spoke both in the afternoon and in the evening of May 1st—his evening address being in the nature of an after dinner speech. In his afternoon address in the reception room of Mohn Hall, the speaker suggested some practical working definitions in the field of social service. His own sphere, that of social work, he defined as the protection and maintenance of standards of living; helping those whose standards of living are threatened or undermined. With this as an underlying basis, he branched out into various applications.

The theme of the after-dinner talk was, "Problems of the Pacific," in which he outlined the proper position of America regarding the nations of the Orient. Both afternoon

THEMESIAN CELEBRATES 17th ANNIVERSARY

EXERCISES HELD IN THE OLD CHAPEL.

The Themisian Literary society held its seventeenth anniversary, Thursday evening, April 20, in the college chapel. The chapel was prettily decorated with purple and white crepe paper, blossoms, pennants, a large Themisian banner and flowers. The society is especially indebted to the members of the college orchestra for their kindness in playing the marches and one other number, all of which were thoroughly enjoyed by all, as was shown by the hearty applause.

The program, as a whole, proved to be one of the most successful ever given. The musical numbers were well rendered and the Echo and readings offered both the serious and humorous view-points of life. The essay showed much thought in preparation, as also did the society oration. The oration on "Women and Education" showed woman's advanced position along educational lines over that of the woman of preceding generations.

The following is the program in the order given

March ----- College Orchestra
Invocation ----- Dr. Hunt
President's Address -- Grace Statler
Music ----- Girls' Glee Essay—What the World Expects of a College Girl—Mary Marquardt
Reading ----- Grace Snyder
Vocal Solo ----- Verda Wetzel
Oration—Women and Education—
Marguerite Willard
Piano Solo ----- Grace Otto
Themisian Echo ---- Arnita Miles
Society Oration, Grace Pewterbaugh
Alma Mater.

Due to the fact that the anniversary was held on Thursday evening previous only a short program was

Take It From The Air

NOT only music, but news, speeches, messages of every sort, are today being picked out of the air.

"How has this come about?" we ask.

The new impetus given to radio development may be definitely associated with the development of the high power vacuum tube, for that made broadcasting possible. And the power tube originated from a piece of purely theoretical research, which had no connection with radio.

When a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company found that electric current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum and could be varied according to fixed laws, he established the principle of the power tube and laid the foundation for the "tron" group of devices.

These devices magnify the tiny telephone currents produced by the voice and supply them to the antenna, which broadcasts the messages. At the receiving end, smaller "trons", in turn, magnify the otherwise imperceptible messages coming to them from the receiving antenna.

Great accomplishments are not picked out of the air. Generally, as in this case, they grow from one man's insatiable desire to find out the "how" of things.

Scientific research discovers the facts. Practical applications follow in good time.

Villa Nova 11, Albright 0

At Villa Nova, on April 28 Albright went down under the heavy count of 11-0.

The reason for this defeat may be credited to the fact that the Albright squad had an off-day. Lincoln, however, pitched a wonderful game of ball, and at no time did he have cause to fear the opposing batsmen. The team simply blew up behind him, and then proved unable to retrieve themselves when at bat.

and evening discussions were in the nature of simple practical talks rather than formal discourse. The student body feels that it owes Dr. Bowman a debt of gratitude, not only for securing the excellent speaker but also for the dinner he arranged and the number of distinguished guests who honored us with their presence. Among the guests were Congressman Krieder, Judge and Mrs. Henry and Attorney Becker.

It is hoped that other departments of the school will enable the student body to come in contact with authorities in their special departments.

given on the regular meeting night, April 21. However short the program, the girls showed much interest and sincerely appreciated the numbers rendered.

Misses Sara Statler and Esther Curry entertained with pleasing vocal numbers. Ruth Hosgetter gave a reading entitled "Somebody's Mother" which made our thoughts wander back to our own dear mothers. The Themisian Echo, written by Anna Ritter, afforded the usual amount of entertaining and instructive material.

EDITORIALS

FAREWELL

This issue of the Bulletin marks the last issue by the 1921—1922 staff. We realize our efforts have been but a feeble attempt at what might have been accomplished; but as we look back over our work of the past year, it is with a sense of pride in our accomplishment.

This year's Bulletin marked the change from a literary monthly to a semi monthly news paper. The numerous letters of congratulations sent to us by alumni reflect well the satisfaction felt by the alumni in the change of form of the Bulletin. In our editorials we have endeavored to present school problems as we saw them, not with a criticising attitude, but rather with the hope that conditions might be bettered. In this endeavor we were partially successful. We tried to make the alumni feel that the Bulletin is essentially their paper. In this we were also partially successful as revealed in the increased subscription list as contrasted with some of the preceding years. We gave support in our editorials and news columns to various projects and feel that we were successful in influencing our readers in decided stands on certain questions

However, we realize that we have made mistakes and that we are deserving of criticism, but we are thankful to our many readers who always remained our supporters. The Bulletin of this year owes whatever success it has achieved to the teamwork of the 1921—1922 staff.

To the incoming staff, the staff of 1921—1922 extend their sincerest wishes for their success. May they profit by the mistakes of the 1921—1922 staff. We hope to see the Albright Bulletin of 1922—1923 become a weekly newsy paper that will rank high among other weekly college papers.

With this our closing issue of the Bulletin, the staff of 1921—1922 bids you Au Revoir.

THE NEED OF A NEW DORMITORY

You have noticed that in the last issue of the Bulletin we made special reference to the "250" mark. By this time everyone has undoubtedly become acquainted with the meaning of the reference. Yes, it is our aim to have a student-body next year of 250. There is no reason why Albright should not expand to that number. Too long we have been "snailing" along with an enrollment of fewer than 200. There is no reason why we cannot secure recognition from the other schools, in scholastic as well as in athletic lines.

But, if we wish to expand our number to 250, it is apparent that we need a new dormitory for the boys. Without that we cannot expect to increase our number to any great extent. There is not sufficient room in the old dormitory to accommodate many additional students. It is true that a few rooms have been added but, with this slight addition it will not suffice for the introduction of 100 new students. Furthermore, at the present time there are many single rooms in the old "dorm" into which two fellows are crowded.

Let us also consider what influence a new dormitory would exert upon the outside contingency. Without the needed equipment we are not justified in sending forth the call for more students. But, we feel confident that the need will be supplied. When the public once takes cognizance of the fact that we have accommodations for more student, there will be no difficulty in getting the additional number.

Again, the very fact that we have a new "dorm" will stimulate new interest in the student body. The effect will surely not go by unappreciated. It is true that there has been considerable building done within the past year; and for this fact we are thankful. We also appreciate what it would mean to the school to undertake another step along this line; but, nevertheless, we feel that the step would not be regretted. May we see within the next year, both a student body of 250, and a dormitory to accommodate same.

250

Two hundred and fifty students in the Albright student body should be the aim of the Faculty, Trustees, Alumni, and Albright student body, for the coming year of 1922—1923. If any person can give any definite reasons why we should not have a student body of this size, the columns of the Bulletin are open for opinions against this figure. However, no reasoning person will attempt to argue against large student body.

In order that we may have a larger student body, there must be organized effort put forth on the part of each of the above agencies. It will not do any good for us to say that we should have a larger student body and let it go at that, hoping that Providence may provide the desired increase in numbers.

The student body may do much towards bringing the desired increase to Albright. The County Clubs should be a big factor. Each club should include Alumni members as well as students. During the summer months when many a High School graduate is undecided as to where he or she shall attend school next year, the County Clubs can influence the undecided ones by organized drives for student, by holding social affairs to which prospective students may be invited and by conducting an efficiently organized press campaign in the local papers.

The individual student can play a big part. Bury the hammer and be a booster. Bring to the notice of the prospective student our success in athletics, intercollegiate debating, and various phases of school life. Emphasize the success of our graduates and our standing with the State Department of Education. Bring out all the good points of our school and make the prospective student feel that Albright is the school which should become his Alma Mater.

dents, get busy, boost Albright and make that mythical 250 student body a reality.

Our aim is a 250 student body for next year.

A CORRECTION

Final Standing in the Intercollegiate Debating League

One of the participants in the intercollegiate debating league has asked the Bulletin to correct the standing of the league as given in the Bulletin of April 12th. The standing that we gave in that issue was as near correct as we had information at that time, Juniata and Gettysburg not having debated at that time.

The final standing of the league is as follows:—

Albright ----- 14 points.

Juniata ----- 13 points.

Ursinus ----- 7 points

Gettysburg ----- 2 points.

The results of each debate were as follows:—

Albright Affirmative 2—Ursinus Negative 1.

Albright Negative 3—Ursinus Affirmative 0.

Albright Affirmative 2—Juniata Negative 1.

Albright Negative 1—Juniata Affirmative 2.

Albright Affirmative 3—Gettysburg Negative 0.

Albright Negative 3—Gettysburg Affirmative 0.

Ursinus Affirmative 0—Juniata Negative 3.

Ursinus Negative 2—Juniata Affirmative 1.

Ursinus Affirmative 2—Gettysburg Negative 1.

Ursinus Negative 2—Gettysburg Affirmative 1.

Juniata Affirmative 3—Gettysburg Negative 0.

Juniata Negative 3—Gettysburg Affirmative 0.

The above record is as near correct as we have knowledge. Mr. Undercuffer, Manager of Debating at Ursinus College, has the correct data. The Bulletin will be glad to make any further corrections if the above record is not correct. On the basis of the above record, Albright claims the championship of the above intercollegiate debating league.

GLEE CLUBS MAKE BIG HIT IN LEBANON

A very delightful, as well as successful trip was enjoyed by the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs when they journeyed to Lebanon, April 18th. The combined Clubs gave a concert in the Malta Temple under the auspices of the St. Paul's Evangelical Church. The boys and girls were in excellent spirits for the concert, being filled with all the "pep" that is allotted to college students. It is true that most of us were a bit weary after having returned the previous day from the Easter vacation; but, despite this fact, each one entered into the concert with all the vim that he or she possessed. From the very outset there was exhibited an unusual amount of enthusiasm; even while journeying to and from Lebanon. Perhaps this was due to the absence of a chaperon. Strange to say, we were left alone for once, but we are confident that we acted like ladies and gentlemen.

The Girls' Club rendered three main numbers which were appreciated to the highest degree. The Boys' Club likewise appeared three times, and brought forth a strong applause at each appearance. Those who featured in a special way were: Miss Trostle, Misses Wetzel and Statler, Mr. Brown, Mr. Raffensperger, and the String Quintette. Miss Trostle pleased the audience in a special manner with her solo—"The Winds in the South." Misses Wetzel and Statler proved themselves worthy of being called proficient duet-players by rendering in a remarkable way the "Hungarian Rhapsody". Mr. Raffensperger, as usual, entertained the audience in his unique way with several readings, being accorded time after time. But perhaps the numbers which received the greatest applause were those rendered by the String Quintette composed of Livingston, Brown, Heller, Roland, and Miller. For an encore they appeared as The Agony Six, with Ted Kemmerer featuring on the Washboard. This new feature took the Lebanon audience off their feet, for they had never before witnessed such a musical contrivance.

The jolly Clubs closed their concert with the Alma Mater and a Boom Yell for Lebanon.

Daddy: "How many cigars do you smoke in a day?"

Gook: "Oh, any given number."

EXCELSIOR LITERARY SOCIETY

On the 21st of April a short meeting was held. The retiring president, Mr. Shaffer delivered his ex-augural address and the new president, Mr. Fuhrman delivered his inaugural address.

The meeting on the 28th, however, was full of "Pep" and was very much enjoyed by all. The feature of the evening was a spirited debate between Kachel and Beecher on the Affirmative side and Sheely and Kaufman on the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that the Daylight Saving Plan should be enforced in Pennsylvania".

COLLEGE NOTES

Hm, let's see—we'd like something serious to start out these columns, something with sense, but we can't just think of anything.

Oh, yes, here's something so serious that it is pathetic: The Male Glee Club left for a week-end trip over the 28th of this month, and it's so lonesome for some of the co-eds.

The week-end of the 6th of May will be darkened by the loss of the Girls' Glee when they travel to Reading, Philadelphia, and "other points of interest", as the time tables say.

It's awfully cold these days. The other day Betsy Scott shivered and buttoned her sweater closer, and said disgustedly, "Oh, don't say it's Spring?"

What on earth is the world coming to? Parchesi, Rook and Pit are Mohn Hall's latest dissipations. We are waiting for the Faculty Blue Laws before we start on rock candy. Latest improvements—gravel is being rolled on the paths. We wonder if the Shoe Trust had anything to do with the deed. It is almost as hard on shoes as sneaks.

Week-end visitors were: Misses Sadye Kaltreider and Josephine Benfer and Mr. Norman Kaltreider, all of Red Lion.

Miss Frances Foust spent the week-end at Bethlehem.

A warm reception is awaiting a prowler who infests the Mohn Hall Campus at night. He has scared quite a few girls and authorities have been notified of his actions.

The demand for tennis courts has been actively demonstrated by the popularity which has characterized the spring opening. A new schedule and rules for use have been posted and have solved part of the difficulty of distributing the few we have. Why be hampered by so few when there is ground for as many as the students could use?

Will someone volunteer to teach Mary Marquardt how to use the newly installed showers at the Hall? One pair of perfectly good bedroom slippers has been sacrificed. What will Papa Marquardt do when the bills come in?

Clair Dice had her voice for one solid hour on Saturday, April 29.

Miss Ruth Mengle, '20 visited the college during the week.

"Cy" Fuhrman has retired from business in Main Building. It is reported that he made enough money to take his place among the "400", and also that he wished to have the unique experience of trying to study his lessons the few last months of school. Myron Teter aspires to the position of candy dispenser for the coming days.

Math class is a constant source of bewilderment to K. Snyder. His favorite question is "What is he talking about?"

GIRLS' GLEE TRIPS

On Thursday, May 4, the Girls' Glee Club left for their first three-day trip. The first concert was held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium at Reading. The W. M. S. of St. Paul's U. E. church had charge of arrangements for the concert. By the untiring efforts of the Executive Committee the concert was made a success.

The second concert was held at Mohnton on Friday evening. This concert was under the auspices of the U. E. churches at Shillington and Mohnton.

The last concert of the first trip was held, Saturday, May 6, in the U. E. church at Plymouth Meeting, Pa. Rev. Baker, an alumnus of Albright, class of 1914, is the pastor of this church.

At every place the club rendered a concert the people were very sociable and entertained the girls royally. The girls were very appreciative of the extended hospitality and hope to return some time in the future.

The concert program follows:

Part I

"Sparkling Sunlight" ----- Arditi
Glee Club

Vocal Duet—"Gypsies" -- Brahms
Misses Trostle and Sara Statler

The second trip that the girls are planning to take will be in York county. The concerts will be held in Wrightsville, York, and Red Lion, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, beginning with May 11.

HARRY WILHELM APPEARS IN HOME CONCERT

Perhaps the most eagerly anticipated and most appreciated concert of the year was that in which Harry Wilhelm appeared with the Russian Cathedral Quartette with whom he has been associated as accompanist for the past two years. Mr. Wilhelm is one of the most widely known and most popular of Albright's former sons, and it was with great pride that old friends read the flattering press notices that preceded his appearance in his home town.

Suffice it to say his performance on Tuesday evening, April 25, more than reached all expectations aroused by the press notices and our own confidence in his ability. After having witnessed the superior talent of the Russian quartette, too, his admirers cannot help but feel that it is an added testimony to his ability that he has been able not only to secure but to retain for so long a period his position as their accompanist. This quartette in its brief two years on this side of the Atlantic has won almost nation-wide recognition as one of the highest companies, both in price and quality, on the concert platform of today.

JUNIOR PROM

Saturday, May 20, is announced as the date of the annual Prom given by each successive Junior Class. Considerable time and expense are being taken with arrangements for the Prom of this year, and every effort will be put forth to make it a success. One hundred invitation cards will be sent out among the Alumni, and the game with F. & M. on the home field in the afternoon of that day will, it is hoped, be an added inducement to favorable responses to these invitations. Further information and the Prom cards may be secured from anyone of the following committee: Ray B. Lackey, Marion Weigle, Arnita Miles, Paul Dech, and Charles Rafensperger.

Y. W. C. A.

Wednesday evening, April 26, was Eagles Mere night for the college Y. W. The four girls who attended the conference last summer gave reports of the place, meetings and general information. Miss Pewterbaugh told of the trip to the place and of the wonderful spirit of fellowship which prevailed among the girls during the entire ten days of the stay there.

Miss Woodring told of the various means of recreation; such as tennis, boating, swimming and hiking. A unique number on the recreation program was the reception held for all the girls the second day of the conference.

Miss Gilmore related the details about the general assembly, lectures, held in the auditorium every morning and evening. Two of the prominent lectures at these assemblies were Rev. Raymond Cawkins, D. D., First Congregational church, Cambridge, Mass., and Rev. Earnest F. Tittle, D. D., First M. E. church, Evanston, Illinois.

Miss Willard told of the different courses offered and told the personnel of the leaders of these classes. She also told of the group meetings of the girls to discuss problems which are vital to young college girls. These group meetings, led by a member of the group, were inspirational and the conclusions reached were reported to leaders of the conference and from the various reports, resolutions were drawn.

Miss Faust, the newly elected president, and Miss Loucks, vice president, and Miss Wetzel, undergraduate field representative with another girl who has not yet been elected, will attend the next conference which will be held June 20—30.

ZETA HOUSE PARTY AT MT.
GRETNA APRIL 21 TO 23—
THREE BIG DAYS

On the evening of the 21st, twelve happy co-eds left the Hall of Moans, joyously anticipating a coming party. At the same time, ten merry fellows left the old dorm, equally expectant and anxious for the joys which this coming yearly House Party would bring.

And needless to say, the expectations were fostered by each of these 22 hopefuls were far short of reality for joy, eats, good times, "n everything", reigned supreme.

On the arrival of the party Friday evening, everything was in readiness, for Frater Hoffman had transported everything there beforehand by machine and with the assistance of several of the boys had decorated both cottages profusely. So everybody began at once to have a good time—and everybody did. For what more could they ask? With one of the finest chaperons who ever chaperoned—Mrs. Woodring, the best cook who ever set foot inside a kitchen,—Mrs. Roland,—and the two most splendid people as their honorary guests—Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Davis, more than enough eats, a big Victrola, a repertoire of eighty fox-trots, cameras, automobiles, and everything worth while who wouldn't or couldn't have "a whale of a time"?

And they did! Never were three days more happily or profitably spent; never did people, old and young, mix more merrily or live more joyously than did the Zetas at the memorable House Party! And when it was time to come back,—Oh, how they hated to leave! But all still too highly elated over the wonderful time just passed, no one had thot of worrying about the discouraging prospect of returning. So lighthearted and gay, everyone joined most heartily in a tremendous Bhoom yell for the guests, posed on the steps of the cottage for a group picture, and whizzed merrily off toward the station. Here Frater Kebaugh, in a most thrilling rescue ever staged, pulled Miss Rosser's valuable suitcase from the path of the onrushing express. Noble work, "Key", noble work. Tailor bill—fifty cents.

The following were present at the House party of the Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity:—

Mrs. Woodring, Mrs. Roland, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Davis, Misses Mary Woodring, Arnita Miles, Anna Mingle, Grace Pewterbaugh, Grace Snyder, Edith Rosser, Martha Shambaugh, Alice Gilmore, all of College; Miss Ruth Curry, Johnstown and Miss Eugenia Berger, of Ursinus College.

Fraters H. D. Blank, E. G. Hanger, J. O. Hartzler, C. E. Kachel, F. E. Luckenbill, H. P. Landis, D. L. Hoffman, F. E. Dice, H. B. Sheeley, E. S. Long, and F. E. Kebaugh.

A PLEA FOR TENNIS COURTS

That Albright needs tennis courts can be plainly seen by all those who will. It is a sport which both girls and boys can play. Just why Albright does not have more and better courts is more than the writer can ascertain.

Many who are enthusiastic about tennis do not get a chance to play every day because of the lack of courts. In any other sport anybody who wants to develop must practice every day when possible. How can those who wish to develop into good tennis players do so if they can't get on the court half of the time? Tennis is a game which develops muscles, and lungs, and makes one think quickly and accurately.

After a day of heavy studies what is better than to get out into the open air? What is better to relieve the mind of its strain than a good exciting game of tennis? Boys can participate in sports in which girls may not engage, but tennis is one sport in which girls may safely take part.

Tennis will also help to develop the school socially. Some students who very seldom speak to one another will in making arrangements for and in playing a game of tennis become better acquainted with one another.

Tennis is a growing sport. It is a sport which has come to stay. Albright has shown her worth in other sports and in debating. We want her to rank always in the front lines in everything. Will she lag in tennis?

In the last issue, the students were severely criticised for their general ignorance regarding current events. The responsibility for this defect does not rest entirely with the students, especially in the position of the girls. The men have a reading room supported by the college, which is open to them every day of the week during the day and evening. This is to be commended and it is to be regretted that a large percentage of the men do not make use of the opportunity to read the dailies and the weekly magazines.

The girls are every bit as fond of and anxious for the perusal of current history as it is obtained from the papers but what opportunity do they have for it? There is a small partitioned—off place at the end of the second floor hall in Mohn Hall which is known as the reading room.
The name would be appropriate if the girls were not capable of other reading besides that of the "Evangelical" and the "Christian Herald", for these magazines may always be found in their places. The "Independent" and the "Ladies' Home Journal" are sent from the library to the Hall, but rarely does one find a recent issue of either there. The "North American" and "Public Ledger" are daily delivered to the front porch of the Hall; but if the girls can find these papers in the Reading Room (?) on the same day, they are surprised at their luck.

These papers and magazines will furnish the girls with the materials necessary for them to do regular varied and enlightening reading, provided they are accessible. Since they are provided, it is only fair that some steps are taken to make it possible for their use.

There are five large empty rooms in Mohn hall, any of which could be turned into an excellent reading room with practically no expense.
There are extra tables and book racks in the basement which would admirably serve. Chairs are also available. There is need for more than one chair which we have now.
If such a room be provided and the reading material placed there with definite understanding that no girl must remove any material from that room, perhaps in the future the girls will be better informed on present day matters.

THE KAPPA FRATERNITY PARTY

The Franklin House was the scene of a very successful banquet held by the Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity, on Sat. April 22. Promptly at 8 o'clock the fraters with their guests, arrived and proceeded at once to the banquet room, which had been very prettily decorated with the school and fraternity colors.

The well-filled table which greeted the eye could not fail to arouse the healthy college appetites, and with one purpose in view the treats disappeared with precision. In fact, the entire menu from oyster cocktails to deme-tasse was much enjoyed by all.

Following the repast, Dr. C. A. Bowman, the toastmaster of the evening, gave a much appreciated address. Miss Eyer and Fraters Livingood, Basom, Wagner, and Dech also responded with appropriate toasts.

The group then adjourned to the parlor where the social committee, consisting of Fraters Livingood and Wagner, took charge. An evening of interesting entertainment was provided. So well did they succeed that there was not one dull moment, and the singing of the Alma Mater brot to a close one of the Fraternities' most successful Banquets.

Those present were:

As guests Mrs. C. A. Bowman, Misses Grace and Sara Statler, Edith Trostle, Ruth Hetrick, Katherine Eyer, Audrey Cocklin, Irene Kline and Blanch Bordner.

Fraternity members: Frater in Facultate, Dr. C. A. Bowman, Fraters, Livingood, Basom, Wagner, Mohn, Kline, Bower, Dech and Crumbling.

She Knew a Hog

A woman was waiting to buy a ticket for a concert when a man bumped into her. She glared at him, feeling it was done intentionally.

"Well," he growled, "you needn't eat me up."

"You are perfectly safe," said she, "I am a Jewess."

Young Gazip—There goes Mrs. Lastword. They say every cent her husband makes she puts on her back.

Old Progie—Poor fellow! He must have been out of work when that gown was made.

The banks are now doing almost as much advertising as the cigarette manufacturers.

TENNIS

Great interest has been taken in tennis this year. In order that all may have an opportunity to play, a set of regulations has been drawn up by Coach Benfer. A schedule board has been placed at the East Entrance of the Main Building. The morning is divided into hour periods and the afternoon into half hour periods, however, persons are allowed to play longer provided no person has scheduled the preceding or following periods. After 7:30 P. M., players are privileged to schedule themselves for any of the vacant periods for the following day.

The following are the approved regulations:

All players must sign for the use of the courts between the hours of 6:30 P. M. and 7:30 P. M. on the day preceding the use of the courts, and are granted the use of the courts in the order of signatures. Persons may not sign by proxy.

Persons may sign for only one period at a time and may play for only one period at a time unless periods remain unscheduled.

Courts No. 2 and No. 3 are the only courts that may be used jointly. Court No. 1 to be exclusively for the use of the boys.

Boys not scheduled to play tennis may not loiter around courts No. 2 and No. 3 on the girls' campus.

By mutual agreement players may exchange rights of priority of play. Any recognized tennis tournament under the direction of the Athletic Department or a recognized college organization approved by the Athletic Department have priority in the use of the courts at any specified time.

Courts shall not be used when notices have been posted stating that courts are not in condition to play.

Persons violating any of the above rules will be deprived of the use of the courts for two weeks.

Players are responsible for the use of the nets. All nets must be placed in their respective boxes at close of last playing period.

Courts to be under direct administration of the Athletic Director. Report all violations of the above rules to the Athletic Director.
