

Special Meeting Held By College Council On Campus Problems

Twenty-three persons attended a recent confidential, off-the-cuff, off-the-record meeting between Student Council and the administration. According to available information, a number of questions pertaining to the relationship of the college's students and the administration were discussed.

Only the list of persons in attendance at the meeting was officially released by the 23-member group. Further information was not made available officially because, in the words of Dean of Men John W. Kopp, "The policy of the entire meeting was confidential."

The Albrightian did learn, however, that student suggestions which were formulated as a result of the meeting are now under consideration by either administrative or faculty committees. Dean of the College George W. Walton expects action on these items within three or four months.

Items Discussed

The topics discussed at the meeting revolved around, 1. the position of Council on campus as stated in its constitution versus the actual position it seems to be now assuming, 2. the present and future composition of the student body, 3. student discipline, 4. the college's sports picture and 5. Albright's collegiate status.

The meeting was convened at the request of Council following a suggestion by Mrs. Anna H. Smith, chairman of the faculty committee on student organizations and activities. The executive committee of Council selected those administrators it wished present at the meeting on the basis of their positions and the questions to be discussed.

No Explanation

No explanation of who selected the students has been given. All were from Student Council and selected on the basis of the organizations they represented in Council and their ability to give opinions.

Frank York, '58, president of Council, explained the meeting as one to "let off steam." From the administration's point of view, the meeting was to determine the basis for the student's negative attitude toward the faculty and administration.

Following the meeting, York said, "I am well satisfied with the results." According to him, there will definitely be visible results in the future.

Dean Kopp said, "The success of any good meeting depends on the (Continued on page four, col. four)"

Elections Set For Next Week

Elections for May Day positions will take place next week, reported Robert Goldsmith, '59 (Pi Tau Rep.), at Tuesday's meeting of Student Council. Goldsmith serves as chairman of Council's elections committee.

Voting for the May Queen and the Maid of Honor will take place Monday and Tuesday. Balloting for the May Queen's Court will be held Thursday and Friday, Feb. 13 and 14.

50% Needed

Goldsmith urged all students to cast ballots in the elections because, under Council's Election Code, 50% of the student body must vote for a legitimate election to have taken place.

The chairman further stated that all senior women are eligible candidates for the May Day positions. Since there are 28 senior women this year, Goldsmith introduced a motion to change that part of the Election Code which stated that the names of all candidates must appear on the ballot.

New Wording

The motion, passed unanimously, provides that in place of putting all the names on the ballots, the pictures and names of all candidates be placed in the vicinity of the ballot box.

Two student suggestions discussed by Council were, 1. having the Band play at the remainder of the home basketball games and 2. holding record dances in Krause Hall after the home basketball games.

Paul Reetz, '59 (Ind. Day Rep.), pointed out that such a dance could (Continued on page four, col. two)

Joy Detweiler, Steven Roth Top Cast For Domino Production 'Pygmalion'; Rieser, Kutner Gain Supporting Roles

Joy Detweiler

Steven Roth

'My Fair Lady' Based on Play

George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," the play from which "My Fair Lady" was adapted, will be the second production of the Domino Club's 1957-1958 season. Joy Detweiler, '60, and Steven Roth, '61, in the roles of Eliza and Higgins, will head the 13-member cast.

Wilma Rieser, '58, and Alan Kutner, '60, will play the supporting roles of Mrs. Higgins and Pickering. The remainder of the cast is made up of James Gelselman, '60, Nancy Heilman, '60, James Schuman, '60, and Gerald Work, '60.

Remainder Of Cast

Also, Sara Ann Blouch, '61, Ellen Cassidy, '61, Ronald Eisenberg, '61, Raymond Fager, '61, and Virginia True, '61.

"Pygmalion" will open in White Chapel Hall Thursday, Mar. 13 at 8:15 p.m. It will also be presented Friday and Saturday, Mar. 14 and 15.

The play is under the direction of Patricia A. Hostetter, instructor in English. Sarah Dettra, '59, and Vaughn Mervine, '59, will assist Miss Hostetter.

Miss Detweiler appeared in the role of Toinette in "The Imaginary Invalid," the Domino Club's first production this season. In high school, she played Kathy in "The White Lawn" and Beverly in "For All Eternity."

Other Roles

Miss Rieser played the role of the mother in the play "Cheaper By The Dozen" in her senior year in high school.

Roth appeared in the title role of "The Valiant" in high school.

The tale of "Pygmalion" is a modern parallel of the story of Pygmalion, legendary sculptor and King of Cyprus, who fell in love with his own statue of Aphrodite. The goddess, at Pygmalion's prayer, brought the statue to life as Galatea, and Pygmalion married her.

Shaw's Play

Henry Higgins, professor of phonetics, is Shaw's "Pygmalion." After meeting a cockney flower-girl in a rainstorm, he wagers that in three months he can change her into a lady.

Higgins wins his wager—a new personality has been created in Eliza Doolittle, the flower-girl. But to Higgins' dismay, he finds his "laboratory case" has entered his whole life, with emotional entanglements he had not anticipated.

York Terms Library Opening For Exam Period A Success

Frank York, '58, Student Council president, has announced that he was personally satisfied with the results of the Saturday opening of the library during the semester-end exam period.

Over 65 students used the library on the first of the two Saturdays when it was open from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The following week over 35 students used the library during the same period of time.

Trustees To Convene

The Albright College Board of Trustees will meet in annual session on campus Wednesday. George C. Bollman of Adamstown will preside.

Following committee meetings Tuesday and Wednesday and the annual session itself Wednesday, the trustees will join the Albright faculty for dinner at 5:30 p.m.

This is the first year that classes will be in session during the board meeting.

Enlargement

Better publicity is the aim of York for the second semester openings, with the hope that continued success will lead to an enlargement of the program next year.

Dr. Raepel has cited lack of funds and sufficient staff members as the reason for not continuing to open the library Saturdays on a weekly basis.

The librarian described the conduct of the students during the trial openings as quiet and courteous, but commented that some students seemed to have been urged to come.

Prospective Candidates

The Albrightian will be glad to print at any time, as a news item, the announcement of the candidacy of any eligible student for the office of Student Council president for 1958-59.

Students wishing to announce their candidacy should contact The Albrightian office in the basement of the administration building.

Athletic Council Retrenchment By Establishing Schedule Maximums

Schedules in all varsity sports will be restricted in the future by action of the Athletic Council. At its last meeting, the Council approved the recommendations of a special three-member committee calling for a retrenchment in scheduling policy.

* Specifically, the number of inter-collegiate contests established as maximums for the college's nine varsity sports was set at: football, eight games; cross country, 10 meets; basketball, 22 games (exclusive of tournaments); and wrestling, 10 matches.

Limits Set

Also, indoor track, four meets; baseball, 20 games; tennis, 15 matches; and golf, 10 matches. These maximums do not include play-off or championship events.

The schedules from the spring of 1957 to the present time show nine football games, 10 cross country meets, 24 basketball games, 11 wrestling matches, four indoor track meets, 21 baseball games, 15 tennis matches and 14 golf matches.

In addition to setting up the scheduling limits, the Council also named certain other athletic restrictions: football season may not begin before the last week of September and there may be no more than two basketball games a week.

Also, baseball games may be scheduled on no more than two days a week, there will be no rescheduling of baseball, tennis or golf events once the season begins and there will be no more than two golf matches a week.

Home and home arrangements in spring sports have also been eliminated to provide an opportunity for cutting down on the schedules and, in some cases, for scheduling a wider variety of opponents.

The report of the committee, following approval by the Council, was also approved by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, Bishop George E. Epp, chairman.

The new retrenchment policy may not be fully realized immediately since the schedules for 1958-59 have already been partially planned.

Bollman Selects

The special committee was appointed by George C. Bollman, chairman of the Council, and consisted of Dean of the College George W. Walton, Harry R. Matten and Eugene L. Shirk. Dean Walton and Matten are members of the Council, while Shirk, as faculty manager of athletics, is an advisory member.

The task of the committee was: 1. to compare Albright's athletic schedules with those of other colleges in this area and 2. to set up recommendations for maximum limits on the number of varsity athletic contests.

Quiet! It's Secret: SC-Administration Meet

"Confidential" has been the description given to a special Student Council-administration meeting held recently. Only the names of the 23 persons who attended the gathering have officially been released. Allegedly, the meeting was off-the-cuff and off-the-record. Reports indicate that there was preparation for the "off-the-cuff" meeting, inevitable since it was planned and not spontaneous. Available information also indicates that at least some record was kept (though it may not have been actually written down until after the meeting) of the "off-the-record" meeting.

Originally, not even the names of the participants were released officially. The 15 students who attended the meeting were supposedly there to represent the student body, yet only after pressure from The Albrightian was the student body allowed to know who represented them. Even now, no word has been released on who selected the student participants.

On one hand, it has been suggested that news about the meeting has not been released because the gathering was just a "bull session" and not of interest to the student body. Another participant in the meeting has explained that no information could be released because of the importance of the suggestions that resulted from the meeting. These suggestions are supposedly now being considered by certain unnamed faculty or administration committees, and will be acted upon at some undetermined time.

The meeting was thus informal and unimportant, but must be kept hidden from the eyes of the students because of its significant achievements. The questions considered involved the students, but this, it seems, does not alter the fact that they are not entitled to know, even in a general sense, what was discussed.

Just as easy to explain is the fact that although no information concerning the discussions will officially be released so that the student body will know accurately what transpired, some of the participants have allowed enough information to leak out to indicate some of what was discussed—just about enough to start inaccurate, unauthentic rumors.

Another interesting fact that has arisen is that no one will assume responsibility for leadership with regard to the meeting on the part of the administration. Student Council President Frank York, '58, is acknowledged as the student leader, but no administrative official is willing to serve as an administration spokesman. Thus while York has made requests to the administration for permission to release information concerning the meeting, it is impossible to ascertain just who on the part of the administration will make the final decision on such releases.

The Albrightian believes that the ideas behind the meeting was basically sound, but cannot see what will be accomplished in a constructive sense by the official secrecy on the part of the administration. The general purpose of the meeting was to better student-administration relations. This aim can best be served by having a well-informed student body, able to make sound evaluations of the student's role on the college campus.

Secrecy Causes Change

Due to the veil of secrecy officially placed around information concerning the recent Student Council-administration meeting, The Albrightian has had to part with its policy of checking news through official sources for this issue. The article on page one referring to the meeting is based on what little official information was released plus the best available news from other sources. The Albrightian hopes that in the near future all possible information regarding this and other meetings will be released so that we may present the complete picture to the student body. Meanwhile, because of the important nature of such meetings, The Albrightian will continue to present the most accurate available information from other sources.

Progress In Science

By RICHARD STEFFY

Assuming that most collegians have kicked around the issue "What is mind?" I should like to review it quickly and add to the confusion. The mind phenomenon has been variously defined throughout the ages as a non-material SUBSTANCE that resides within the body; as a RELATION of external objects somehow grasped symbolically within the person; as an INTENTIONAL ACT designed to direct and select sensory perception; and in other ways as well.

Description

Although these attempts as presented here do seem to approach a description of the qualities of mind; each one, carried to its fullest meaning and logical implications, tends to lack qualities of the other. They also leave certain basic philosophical problems of error and knowledge unanswered.

Thus, no system of philosophy from Plato on has yet succeeded in presenting an adequate single theory. Psychology plays it safe by being pragmatic. It adopts functional and operational definitions of mind such as "the sum total of experiences," or "the unconscious and conscious activities of the person."

Important Conflict

Perhaps the hottest battleground today in this argument is the physicalism-mentalism skirmish. This questions whether mind is simply a product of biological forces or brain actions (physicalism), or is a separate substantive (mentalism). The latter view contends that mind is dependent upon brain, yet is separate and different from brain.

I bring up the physicalism-mentalism question as background to two influences that might lend insight to the ultimate nature of the mind.

The one viewpoint is oriented toward physicalism. This approach has been fostered by the new science of CYBERNETICS. Cybernetics exists as a product of modern industry.

Revolution Result

The Industrial Revolution late in the eighteenth century served to put extra power in man's muscles. He could press a button and work was accomplished. As machinery became more complicated, a new type of control machine was designed to push the buttons for man. An age of electronic eyes, computing machines and automatic control systems has arrived.

The development and study of these systems is included under the subject matter of cybernetics. The study is not limited to the products of automation, however. It has attempted to shed light on any biological "machine" and the nervous system as well. The mathematicians who have published on this subject hope to define a vocabulary and concepts basic to interactive processes of both animate and inanimate mechanisms.

Formally defined, cybernetics is the science of control and communication processes. This includes those processes occurring within man as well as those that run machines.

Albright Personality

Al Ellis

By GEORGE WITHERS

One of the most easily recognized students on Albright's campus is Al Ellis, with his jaunty walk, practical jokes and pet expression, "Don't sweat it!"

Having a pleasing personality and definite leadership qualities, Al was elected president of the Men's Dormitory Organization in his sophomore year. In the spring of the same year he pledged Pi Tau Beta social fraternity.

In his junior year he served in the capacity of recording secretary for the Pi Taus and rose to the vice presidency of that organization in his senior year. In addition to these offices, Al served as a member of the Inter-Fraternity Council and vice president of the junior class.

When questioned about having a pet-peeve, he answered, "Yes, the inconsistency of Albright — at times!"

During summer vacations, Al has been employed by Mack Motors as a factory worker and also as elevator operator in North Plainfield, N. J. After work he can be found pursuing his favorite hobbies, swimming, fresh-water fishing and playing tennis.

With his significant background in college politics, Al should have little difficulty in his major, political science. Following graduation from Albright, Al intends to enroll at the University of Pennsylvania for graduate work.

Letters To The Editor

Cultural Programs

(Ex: Dr. Haskell:

When are you going to . . . begin supplying some really good speakers in your cultural programs? After all, I am a very intelligent student, an Albright student, at that (!) Don't you know that a mere Yale scientist is hardly competent to keep me awake, amused and listening for 40 minutes?

Don't you realize I'm studying fundamentals of speech and can't be bothered with such topics as a renowned scientist might discuss? Don't you realize that I already know pretty much about science and all this Sputnik stuff? After all, I've had a year of Natural Science Fundamentals shoved down my throat!

Don't you know that to listen to such a speaker might require a little attention, a little active thinking, some interest and maybe some respect? Really, Dr. Haskell, I can't afford to waste my time and effort in this manner. I study so hard and such long hours that I need to take a nap during chapel! Appreciate a Yale scientist? Me? Never!

Like I said, why don't you get some really good attractions for

Meditation

Before you make up your mind about the rightness and wrongness of anything, you must try as much as possible to get first hand information. This is scholarly approach. Maybe it is time we stop reading "commentaries" and taking what others say about the Bible. It is only in our personal experience and devotion that we can fully know who God is—of course, by the help and guidance of the Holy Spirit. Why not call "time out" everyday to commune with God through Bible reading—systematically?

your special programs. Something that the intellectually superior students of Albright College, like myself, would listen to willingly. Would you like some suggestions? How about Elvis Presley or "Roman" of TV's Shock Theatre or a Mickey Mouse film short? I leave this matter respectfully up to your good judgment, sir.

A man "proud" to be one of Albright's intellectually superior student body.

P.S.—How about that Dutch pianist you had last semester? Seriously, now, he was pretty good, but, doctor, he took so LONG! Couldn't you politely ask these guys to keep it short, say under 15 minutes? My sharp mind, already crammed full of culture, (since I came to Albright, of course) is bored very easily.

West Chester, Wagner Will Meet Lions

IN THE LION'S DEN

By LEE SWARTZ, Sports Editor

Weekend losses to Hofstra and Army have dropped Albright's basketball record to 6-9. Both games were subpar performances on the part of the Lions. Statistics, averages and percentages were all lowered for the Albright team. It seems as though the main fly in the Lions' ointment all season long has been lack of defensive finesse, and this dubious distinction was most conspicuous in their last two games. The opposition's field goal percentage against Albright this year has been an amazing 45 percent. Is this because every team just happens to have a hot night against us? No, it is because they have gotten consistently easier shots at the basket.

Defense Difficulty . . .

Coach Renken has tried almost every type of defense imaginable this year including many variations of the man for man and zone patterns, but except in spots, all efforts have proved for the most part ineffective. Certainly defense has been stressed and practiced all year long. Dr. Renken believes that his team needs more practice in the fundamentals of the game and he is not alone in this opinion. However, it is his hope that through continued practice, the team will be ready to cope with its later season opponents.

Looking to the positive side of the ledger, two Lion players hit double figures for the first time this year. Paul Marrella scored 12 points against Hofstra and Ken Eberle also tallied an even dozen against the West Point Cadets. Marrella's set shot, one of the best on the team, was in fine form and Eberle's jumper, which also connected for six points at Hofstra, has become more consistent. As a freshman Eberle saw limited action on the varsity squad including a 17 point spree against F&M. One of the best drivers on the club, "Jake" often amazes the fans (and himself) with his fantastic layups.

Winter Track . . .

For the first time in the school's history Albright met Army in track. The meet was an indoor event held in Army's spacious field house the same day that the Cadets faced our basketball team. The Army Plebes, who faced our cindermen, were definitely at an advantage, for their squad works out all winter long. Most of Albright's athletes had but meager practice in preparation for the meet and some had none at all. The results can be expected, Army Plebes 79 2/3—Albright 29 1/3, but some of the Lions performed well. Bradley Brenneman captured the pole vault at 11 ft., 6 in., and placed second to Charlie Smith in the broad jump. Smith's winning jump was 19 ft., 10 1/2 in. Bob Wetzel took the 80-yard high hurdles in 8.2 seconds. Smith also placed second in the high jump.

In "A" League intramural basketball, APO opened their defense of the first half crown with a 51-35 victory over the Independents. Sam Rumford led the way with 15 points for the victors. The Zeta fraternity, first half runnersup, whipped the Kappas 49-39 behind Lowell Scherer's 13 points. Jerry Delet tallied 18 for the losers.

Jayvees Drop Two; Record Now 4-5

The Jayvee basketball team slipped below the .500 mark for the first time this year with successive losses to Moravian Jayvees, 73-70, and Denny's Cafe, 70-52. Both games were played at Albright. This runs the Jayvee record to 4-5.

The Moravian contest was hard fought all the way, with the lead changing hands on numerous occasions. Dick Greene led the Lion "cubs" with 21 points followed by Dick Moylan and Cordell Reinhardt with 16 points apiece. The Greyhound "pups" won the game through a balanced scoring as six men hit at least eight points.

Pegram Shines

Against Denny's Cafe, Albright met a team of experienced ex-college and high school stars. Denny's, led by Willie Pegram, ex-Reading High Star, controlled the boards and hit with deadly accuracy as they led all the way. Greene again was the leading scorer in the game with 19 points.

The Jayvees face West Chester frosh tomorrow in the fieldhouse at 6:45 p.m.

Dietzel Keeps Scoring Lead

After the completion of the first 15 games, Fred Dietzel leads Albright's cagers with a total of 297 points for an average of 19.8 per game. Freshman flash Stan Kaminski is the runner-up spot with 213 counters and 14.2 points-per-game. Bruce Storms' rebounding in the past eight games has given him a commanding lead in that department with 166 for an 11.1 per game average. Kaminski again runs second with 131.

Also Leads Percentage

In field goal shooting percentage, Dietzel also ranks first, hitting 120 goals in 207 attempts for 44.9. However, at the foul line, Dick Kelley's 10 for 12 (.833 percent) leads the parade. The following is a cumulative summary of statistics for the 15 games played.

	G	F	P	Ave.
Fred Dietzel	120	57	297	19.8

Rams To Play At Albright On Saturday

Albright's cagers, after losing weekend games to Hofstra and West Point, next meet West Chester and Wagner in an attempt to improve their 6-9 record.

Tomorrow the Lions take on West Chester in the fieldhouse at 8:30 p.m. The Rams will be directed by 12-year veteran coach, Emille Emesersour. During his 12-year tenure, he has won 123 and lost 86 games. Included in the win column is a 73 to 62 victory over Albright last year.

Boast 8-3 Record

This year the Rams have a 2-2 record in the Southern division of the Middle Atlantic Conference. Recently they were upset by Hofstra in the last few minutes of play. Their overall record this year is 8-3. The Rams will have a height advantage over the Lions.

Leading the Ram attack will be Terry German, a six-footer who can rebound and shoot well. Last year he hit 409 points for a 19.5 points-per-game average. He will lead a veteran squad composed of Carson Carr, Jim Rosa, Tom Kingsnore, and Nelson Phillips.

The Rams are well-balanced with scoring balance among their starting five. In the Hofstra contest the Rams starting five played the whole game.

Meet Veteran Team

Wagner will meet the Lions Wednesday at Staten Island. Wagner had an injury-riddled ball club when they sported a 10-16 mark last year. However, they have their ace Charles "Lonny" West and nine letter men back this season. Tops among the nine are Harry Orlando 5-10, Fred Blackwell 6-5, and Milfred Tierce 5-10.

Coach Herb Sutter will probably call on Lonny West for most of his offensive and defensive punch, but reports are that West is not as adept as he was before he broke his leg last year. Two years ago he scored 553 points. Orlando is the Seahawk's scoring and play-making leader.

Wrestlers Take Two; Even Record At 3-3

The Lion wrestlers notched two victories in their last three meets and have evened their season's record at three wins and three defeats. They began the season by trouncing Lebanon Valley and succumbing to Delaware and Lycoming, in that order.

Coach Gerald Barger's charges mauled Elizabethtown, 23-11, and then fell before the Bears of Ursinus, 21-11, on the home mat. In their last encounter the Lions smothered Dickinson, 17-11.

Chavez And Green Star

Albright's best showing has been in the light 123 and 130-pound classes. Frank Chavez in the former division won his last three matches with two pins and one decision. Ron Green, who is undefeated for the season in the 130-pound class, also registered two pins and a 5-0 decision in his last three matches.

In the 137-pound class, Terry Stoltz was decisively won by John Hollinger and Harold Redden of Elizabethtown and Ursinus, respectively.

Basketball Team Beats Two League Rivals

The Albright Lion varsity basketball squad recorded wins over Swarthmore and Juniata, while losing to Moravian, Hofstra, and Army recently. The season's record now stands at six wins and nine losses.

The Lions dropped in 41 points in the second half of the Moravian game, but the Greyhounds fought off the Lions to record a hard fought 86-80 triumph. Stan Kaminski, Fred Dietzel, and Dick Kelly led Albright with 22, 21, and 19 points, respectively.

PLAYER OF THE MONTH

By MICHAEL TEITELMAN

The most improved varsity sport on the Albright campus is wrestling. Spearheaded by outstanding freshmen, the grapplers have split even in six meets. Ron Green, from Towanda, is The Albrightian Player of the Month for January for his brilliant record in the 130-pound class. Green is undefeated in six meets, the only Albrightian with that distinction. He has lost but two matches in three years of wrestling.

Undefeated In School League

In high school, Green was undefeated for two years in the Roosevelt Trail League. He was undefeated in the 120-pound class and the 127-pound class. In his junior year Green was runnerup to state champ Tom Quinn in the District 4 championships.

This year, Green has pinned four opponents in six matches and decided the other two. The pins were against Lebanon Valley, Lycoming, Elizabethtown and Dickinson. Green defeated the Delaware 130-pounder Joe Maddux, the first defeat for Maddux in almost three years.

The 5-10 and 133-pound Green is a pre-medical student. The combo of Frank Chavez and Green in the two light classes has given Coach Gerald Barger a potent force. According to coach Barger, Green is well versed in the fundamentals of the ancient sport, is quick and strong for a 130-pound wrestler.

The Lions then broke a three game losing streak by recording an easy 75-55 win over Swarthmore at home. Dietzel had 23 points and Kaminski scored 21 points to pace the Lions in scoring. Ernie Firestone added another 10 points to the Lion score.

The Lions made it two wins in a row by beating the Juniata Indians. Five men hit double figures for the winners, with Dietzel tossing in 17 points to lead the attack. Kelly added 14 points, Kaminski recorded 13, and Bruce Storms contributed 10 for a 72-65 victory.

Play Road Series

The Lions next went on a two day road trip seeking wins seven and eight at the expense of Hofstra and Army, but ended up receiving defeats eight and nine.

The Lions could only score 17 points in the first half against Hofstra, who scored 29 points. The second half improved slightly, but Hofstra took the game, 67-57. Both squads made 25 field goals, but the Lions gave Hofstra 28 charity tosses. Hofstra converted 17 of them. The Lions, in turn, received 11 free throws, and converted seven. Dietzel again paced the Lion scoring, recording 13 points, with Paul Marrella gathering 12.

Army Builds Lead

The Cadets of Army had a field day at the expense of the Lions as they jumped off to a 16-2 lead, increased the score to 26-7, and then to 32-13, before ending the half with a 42-22 lead.

In the second half, the Cadets scored 46 points, to record an 86-56 win, as the Lion defense fell apart at the seams. Cadet sophomore Darryl Kouns rolled up 33 points for Army's individual high of the season.

The Lion attack was led by Kaminski, with 14 points, Dietzel, who scored 13, and reserve Ken Eberle, who came off the bench to score 12 markers.

Do You Agree?

Campus Poll Indicates Views On Today's Student

A majority of both students and faculty indicated belief that many of today's college students do not belong in institutions of higher learning during a recent survey by The Albrightian.

Sixty-one percent of the students and ninety percent of the faculty personnel polled agreed that a large number of today's college students are not equipped, in various ways, for a higher education.

Slightly more than half the students polled, however, answered negatively to the following question. "Recently a University of Colorado professor stated that 80% of those students now in college do not belong in college. Do you agree or disagree?"

Disagree

Fifty-five percent disagreed with this statement, largely because the percentage was too high. Many of these went on to say that a substantial number of college students cannot cope with the demands of a higher education.

All of the faculty interviewed also disagreed with the 80% figure, on the basis that it was too large a proportion of the total number of students.

Student comments ranged from, "I think most of the kids go to college just for the fun of going," too, "I think all of the kids in college belong there."

'Goof-offs'

Among those who agreed with the professor's statement, two men ventured that, "there are many kids who just goof around and don't even care about their studies," and, "there are a lot of kids in college who are just wasting time."

Two women commented that, "most of the boys who go to college belong there, but as for the girls, most of them don't belong."

One student who disagreed said, "I wonder where that prof. got the nerve to say a thing like that. Sure the kids who go to college belong there. If they didn't meet the requirements they wouldn't be there."

Professors listed the factors of incentive, preparation, conduct and intelligence as the most frequent causes for a student's not belonging in college.

Diversified opinions were found among the faculty as well as the students. For instance, a social science professor felt that the students are to blame for pulling down academic standards, while another professor thought that the fault for low academic standards lay with the teachers.

only run about 50 minutes (from the average time such games end, 10:10 p.m., to 11 p.m.) and questioned whether the response, effort and expense would be worthwhile for such a short time.

Council decided to leave a decision on the dances to the discretion of the Friday night activities committee, headed by Reetz. The suggestion concerning the Band will be investigated further.

Two students were accepted into Council membership replacing representatives that resigned. Rachel Hinman, '60, is a new Phi Beta Mu social sorority representative, and Janet Weber, '59, is a new independent member representative.

Larry Heinrich, '58, (Ind. Dorm Rep.), treasurer, reported a balance of $86.27 in the Council treasury as of the meeting.

Additional business included a report on the student book exchange, currently in operation in Krause Hall under the direction of Dorothy Siegel, '60, (Ind. Dorm Rep.), and an announcement by Reetz that a dance will be held tonight in Krause Hall.

Athletic Council Signals Schedule Retrenchment

tee stemmed from faculty comments concerning the number of classes missed by participants in the spring athletic program (particularly baseball and golf) last spring. Consequently the matter was brought to the attention of a summer meeting of the Council by President of the College Harry V. Masters, and the special committee was formed.

First Survey

A preliminary, informal comparison of schedules with area colleges indicated to the committee that Albright generally had larger schedules than other colleges. A further formal survey of 18 colleges that Albright meets frequently in athletics substantiated this conclusion.

The latter study showed that Albright participated in more intercollegiate athletics during the 1956-57 year than any of the colleges surveyed. Furthermore, Albright had a total of 65 spring sports events, when the average for the 18 colleges was 42. (Not all of the colleges surveyed have as many sports as Albright does.)

Albright was also found to be at the head of the list with regard to basketball games scheduled.

The schools surveyed were Bucknell, Dickinson, Elizabethtown, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Juniata, Lafayette, LaSalle, Lebanon Valley, Lycoming, Moravian, Muhlenberg, Pennsylvania Military, Scranton, St. Joseph's, Susquehanna, Ursinus and Wilkes.

As replies to the survey, some athletic coaches and college presidents urged restricted schedules. No derogatory comments regarding Albright's sports program have ever been raised at intercollegiate meetings according to President Masters and Shirk.

President Masters gave as the major reason for the retrenchment a desire on the part of the college to insure that no one area of a student's activity demands too much of this time. Not only game time, but practice time must also be considered, he added.

Attitude Known

The decision to cutback the basketball schedule was made by the Council with the knowledge that basketball coach Dr. W. G. Renken would, "prefer not to have any reduction," according to President Masters. The cutback was planned to shorten the season by one week.

President Masters stated that he understood Dr. Renken would like the Council to reconsider its action with regard to basketball, but that he had received no official request.

Shirk commented on the over-all retrenchment, "The only place where there has been cause for complaint is in spring sports. I can see no reason for complaints in any other sport. Absences from class due to football and basketball are negligible."
