Gifts were enlisted from local merchants by a committee of brothers headed by Larry Burstein, '63, fraternity social chairman.

The two hour events was chaperoned by Rev. Ronald Cocroft and Mrs. Roberts, the college nurse. This year the fraternity opened the party to the entire campus.

Roth Cops First In Speech Contest

On Thursday, May 3, the annual Kelchner Oratorical Contest was held during the regular chapel period. This is the first time that the contest was presented as a chapel program. Previously it had been held in the evening.

Timothy Roth, a freshman business administration student from Reading, won first prize. Second prize was won by Carol Hill, a freshman liberal arts student from Washington, D. C. Charles Schleifer, a biology major from Philadelphia won third prize. Thomas Bamford, '62, was master of ceremonies.

"The Three R's: Reaction, Rebellion, Reform," was the topic around which the contestants centered their speeches. Each speech class elected one representative from their class to participate in the semi-finals. A judging board, consisting of the professors who conduct the speech classes, reduced the number of semi-finalists to six finalists. The finalists presented their speeches in Chapel and were judged by Dean Hellerich, Dean Kopp, Dean of Men; and Dean Harding, Dean of Women.

The oratorical prizes are the gift of Charles S. Kelchner, who for many years was professor of modern languages and the head of the physical education department. Kelchner Field is named in his honor.

Other officers elected were Barbara O'Dell, '63, corresponding secretary; Paulette Kullina, '64, recording secretary; and Douglas Steffy, '64, treasurer. Natale DeLuca, '62, as retiring president, spoke to the club members, thanking them for the cooperation they have given him during his last two terms in that office.

The club is in the process of planning for next year's program. For the first semester the general topic will be Latin America. The programs will include speakers working at the United Nations and at the consulates from various Latin American countries. Movies and panel discussions by club members and faculty will be included. Planning for the Model High School General Assembly is also in progress. This annual event, sponsored by Albright's International Relations Club, has as its participants, students from several high schools in Berks County.

Judo Demonstration Slated For Chapel

Thursday, May 17, Nobuhiko Ochiai, '65, will present an assembly program featuring the Japanese sport, judo. Nobuhiko has recently organized a judo club on campus and in view of the widespread interest in the sport, the Student Council relinquished its assembly period in favor of the demonstration. Also participating in the program will be James Morrison, '64, and LaRue Knorr, '65. Nobuhiko stated his desire to convince a female to participate in the demonstration also.

Nobuhiko has been a student of judo for some nine years and as a result he was awarded the black belt, a symbol of proficiency in competition judo. The black belt, a coveted award, is the fifth of seven ranks, the highest of which is held by only two people in the world. Upon commenting on the demonstration Nobuhiko said he will demonstrate competition judo and fighting judo. The object of both types of judo is to throw the opponent in such a manner that he lands flat on his back.

Nobuhiko said competition judo is but eighty years old and the match winner is determined by the competitor who manages to maneuver his opponent so that his back is on the mat. Fighting judo has no winner and is used in self-defense to simply throw an enemy.

Judo and Jujitsu

Judo is distinguished from jujitsu in that the latter employs methods which have as their objective to physically harm an individual. Jujitsu, specifically, has become associated with karate or killing an opponent with one stroke. Karate originated on Okinawa after the Japanese government, fearing civil war, impounded all weapons. The natives discovered the hand could be conditioned by hitting a stone wall with ones fingertips into a weapon of warfare. A well developed hand is capable of breaking a brick or cinder block with one stroke.

Nobuhiko said that he would very much like to demonstrate karate during the fall semester using his brother, an incoming freshman, as an opponent.

Religion Professor Slated For Chapel

On May 15 our chapel speaker will be Dr. Hagen Staack who is Professor of Religion and Chairman of the Religion Department at Muhlenberg College. Dr. Staack was born in Berlin, Germany but his family moved to Hamburg when he was ten. He studied at the Basel University and Geneva University in France.

He received his M.A. at Rostock University, his Master of Sacred Theology at the Berlin Theological Seminary and his Ph.D. at the University of Hamburg.

In 1939 he was drafted into the German Army, his ordination being disregarded, and he saw action on the Eastern front. He was taken as a prisoner of war in Russia but was released in 1945.

He served pastorates in Hamburg, Germany and Allentown, Penna. where he was pastor of a bi-lingual church, preaching in both German and English.

In 1949 Dr. Staack came to the United States and has since become a citizen. He received a research fellowship for study at the Princeton Theological Seminary and joined the Muhlenberg faculty in 1954.

His publications include "The Theory of Knowledge", a history of medieval philosophy published in Germany in 1939, and "The Way of Faith in America", published in 1951.

Dr. Staack has conducted a weekly devotional radio program in German and English since 1951 which is aired on a local station.

Advanced Speech Next Semester

Dr. John B. Douds, head of the English department, has recently announced that the advanced course in speech, English 321-322, will be offered during the next academic year. The course will be offered each year instead of alternate years as has been previously stated in the catalog.

Mrs. Annadora V. Shirk, assistant professor of English, will continue to teach the course.

The course is designed for the pre-professional student. Advanced training in voice and diction is given, and a part of each semester is devoted to training in the oral interpretation of literature. Practice in speaking for special occasions is offered. A large part of the course is devoted to training in advance platform speaking.

This a four credit course the prerequisite of which English 103-104, basic principles of speech.

Student Faculty Board

The students have been clamoring for a long time now about student rights and a voice in their own affairs. Well, it finally looks as though they are going to get this voice. At least they are coming as close as they ever have been in the creation of the new student-faculty board.

Although the setting up of a code of ethics by students themselves and administered by students cannot be seen in the immediate future, the new board is a step in the right direction. It probably will take a year before such a system can be put in operation, but if the members of the student-faculty board now, and in the future, do their work carefully, the outcome, with students eventually having a say in student rules as well as the faculty and administration, will certainly be worth the effort.

We sincerely hope that the first meeting of the newly formed student-faculty board will be a successful one. This may well be the beginning of a system of student regulation that will result in less violation by the students of the social rules and more consideration of the student point of view by the faculty and administration.

Book Review

Birch's 'Blue Book'

By BONNIE PRICE

Though the Blue Book of the John Birch Society is not banned in Boston, Reading, or in any other thriving metropolis of the United States, it is almost as hard to procure as if it were. This writer therefore seized upon the opportunity to borrow it from one who was apparently deemed worthy of reading the message which Robert Welch presented to eleven long-time associates in Indianapolis, in December, 1958. Actually the Blue Book is a collection of the speeches which Welch presented at that time, with addenda for each edition subsequently printed.

The Blue Book is a confusion of fear, theology, philosophies of history, allegations, poetry, and suggestions for attacking Communism in the United States.

Robert Welch states in the first chapter that since the Communist advance has largely been ignored by his friends, they have left their choice between truth and repose in his hands. "And," says he, "I am not only bringing you the truth instead of comfort, but truth which may shatter a lot of comfort you already feel." Welch is in fact stating that his friends are ignorant of what is transpiring in the world, so he must now save them from their ignorance; this is a blatant case of one over-worried and uninformed individual leading other overworried and uninformed individuals, or to put it in more familiar terms, the blind leading the blind.

Welch rambles hastily through his theories (more astutely described as fears): "dynamic neutralists" like Nehru are merely the modern versions of "agrarian reformers" like Wao Tse-tung; "... the labor unions which control shipping and many vital parts of our economy are Communist-ruled;" Communist influence is powerful in almost all the Federal agencies and mass media; the "civil rights" slogan in the South today is Communist-inspired as was "agrarian reform" in China; the Communists are attracting America to relinquish more of its sovereignty to the United Nations while the Soviet Union gains control of the U. N.

Ten Communist aims for the U.S. are expanded government spending for missiles, etc., as wastefully as possible, higher taxes, unbalanced budgets, inflation, government control of prices, wages, materials, socialist controls, centralized government, Federalized public education, pacifism, and American appeasement of the Kremlin. Following this "exposure" with which he must have had some help from the HUAC; Welch states: "You may think I am an alarmist. Frankly, I am." Undoubtedly Welch enjoys the subtlety of the understatement.

Welch then launches into that favorite American pastime of name-calling, Toynbee is a "meretricious

Kistler Plans Trip

Dr. Charles E. Kistler, Professor of History, will undertake a tour of Europe this summer, including a side trip to the country of Turkey. Embarking from New York City on May 25th, he is scheduled to arrive back in the United States on August 14th. It is probable that he will use knowledge gained from the trip in his forthcoming textbook on the history of civilization.

His itinerary includes the countries of England, France, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Austria, Holland, and Switzerland. Arriving in Southampton, England, he and his wife and son will travel to London, and from there to Paris, France. In France he will journey through such cities as Chartres, Reims, Fontainebleau, Tours, Brive La-Gallarde, Carcassonne, Avignon, and Nice, with a sidetrip to Monte Carlo.

In Milan, Italy, he will view the cathedral located there as well as the Church of Santa Maria delle Grazie, where "The Last Supper," the famous painting by Da Vinci, is located. From there he will travel to Venice, where among other things, he will take a trip on the Grand Canal via gondola.

Florence

Florence is the next city on Kistler's itinerary, and here he intends to see the Piazza della Signoria, Neptune's Fountain and the Santa Croce Church, where the tombs of Michaelangelo, Machiavelli, and Rossini are located. In Rome, he intends to travel to the famous Pantheon, Capitoline Hill, the Roman Forum, Palatine Hill, and other ancient sights.

After visiting a few more Italian cities, Kistler will travel to Athens, Greece where he is scheduled to see the National Archeological Museum, the Academy, and the famous Acropolis. Sidetrips to Old Corinth, the most important commercial center of Old Greece, and Delphi, site of the ancient sanctuary of Apollo, are planned.

Istanbul

In Istanbul, he plans to see the Byzantine museum of St. Sophia, and the Blue Mosque, famous for its six minarets.

Highlighting his trip to Vienna, Austria will be the "Historical Vienna Tour", including the Black Prague monument and St. Stevens cathedral, the "Panorama of Vienna Tour", featuring Beethoven's house and Schubert's birthplace, and the "Vienna Woods" tour, including the Mayerling Hunting Lodge.

Other European cities that Kistler and his family plan to visit are Salzburg, home of Mozart's birthplace and Innsbruck, Munich, Zurich, Lucerne, Interlaken, Basle, Cologne, and Amsterdam.

Awards Dinner

The annual Faculty-Student dinner will be held Monday, May 21 at 5:30 P.M. in the college dining hall. Mrs. Annadora V. Shirk, Assistant Professor of English, will be the master of ceremonies. The invocation will be delivered by Rev. William Marlow, college chaplain.

By LESLIE POWERS

As I skronk down Maple Lane I find myself cheerfully humming. "This is good," I think to myself. "I have not yet cracked under the strain of coming exams. I can even hum!" And then it hits me, I have been humming "Tiptoe Through the Tulips".

Selwyn Hall has been permeated, yea, marinated in this soggy tune. Wherever I go I hear it, pounded out on the piano in the Pine Room or wrung from the one in the Lounge, sung in showers at midnight or chanted down the halls at 7 a.m., and all through the day intermittently tossed back and forth by the high-pitched voices of Selwyn girls. And now I find myself humming the insidious song.

As I unsuccessfully try to stamp it from my mind I can picture the May Day Program in all its lofty beauty. I can see the twenty-five Selwyn Hall girls dressed chicly in their old sneakers, white blouses and pastel skirts, aprons, and Dutch caps. I can see them standing in a semi-circle, swaying gracefully to and fro, like young tulips, looking as sweet as cherubim.

But we're not cherubim. We're college students. I remember that sort of thing in grade school, but no one dared take it farther than that. Not only is it an insult to college intelligence, but it is an insult to the parents we invite, who come, some of them, from great distances. They have come to see their adult sons and daughters, and they will see them in a performance that lends them the dignity of six-year-olds.

Tomorrow for the program the girls in Teel will be dressed in Spanish costumes, singing, as the May Day Committee has directed them to do, that touching ballad "Vaya Con Dios". However I have heard from a Teel Hall sophomore that even this is preferable to last year's May Pole cavorting. She suggested that the May Day Program is nice for upperclassman girls whose parents are coming to see them, since it gives the parents another chance to gloat over their daughters, looking pretty and being seniors in college. Another suggestion that she made was that if a May Day presentation was necessary, they might have a short program in the afternoon, followed by a longer one in the evening, featuring glee clubs. These at least are groups that are used to singing together, and they are generally pleasing. And certainly they make a better impression than do college girls dressed up in Dutch costumes, doggedly singing "Tiptoe Through the Tulips".

Y Elections

Following the recent all-campus elections in which Janet Blumberg, '63, and James Clayter, '63, were elected co-presidents of the Albright College Y.M.-Y.W.C.A.; the "Y" Cabinet met to select the people who will serve on the "Y" executive board.

Six Elected

Those students elected were: Carolyn Much, '63—vice-president of the YWCA; Carl Schneider, '63—vice-president of the YMCA; Judith Campbell, '63—recording of the combined Y's; Donna Shumaker, '63—corresponding secretary of the combined Y's; Kent Estler, '64—treasurer of the combined Y's, and Paul Jacobs, '64—student council representative of the combined Y's.

At this time Albright's annual awards will be given out. Dr. Harry W. Masters, president of the college, will handle the academic award presentations while Dean Mahlon Hellerich will name the honor graduates and those students attaining a place on the Dean's list.

Mr. Eugene Shirk will direct the presentation of athletic awards and the Phi Beta Mu sorority will offer a musical selection. Dr. Masters will present the interfraternity Council award.

First Meeting

The first meeting of the joint student-faculty board is scheduled for Wednesday, May 16 in Room 201 of the Chapel-Auditorium. The purpose of the meeting is to start work on a student code of ethics which will, in turn, have to be approved by the faculty as a whole and the board of trustees before going into effect.

Two Halves

Both the student and faculty halves of the board have met separately and this will mark the first meeting of the two halves. The student half of the board consists of 16 members chosen by student council. Faculty members of the board are Dean Mahlon Hellerich, Dean Mary Harding, Dean John Kopp, Dr. Felix Gingrich, Rev. Eugene Barth, Mrs. Consuelo Jordan, Dr. Luke Matz, Mr. William Bishop, Dr. Stanley Smith, and Rev. William Marlow.

Bruce Birkholz

Bruce Birkholz, co-captain of the 1961 and 1962 Albright track teams, has been chosen as the outstanding senior athlete for this edition of the Albrightian. Prior to attending Albright, Bruce graduated from Union High School, New Jersey, where he excelled in track and was a member of the National Honor Society and the Lieutenant Governor New Jersey Key Club.

220 Record

Through determination, hard work, and the gift of speed, Bruce had accumulated sixteen first places during the 1961 track season and was runner-up in the 100 and 220 yard dashes in the 1961 Middle Atlantic Conference Championships. Also, he is the co-holder of the record for Albright's 220 yard dash (time 21.9 sec.). So far this season he has been undefeated in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and was a member of the Albright's 1961 and 1962 mile-relay team which recently set a record time in the Penn Relays. On May 18 and 19 the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships will be held at Rutgers. We want to give our best support to Bruce and the rest of the track team in their efforts to become the Middle Atlantic Conference Champs.

Having achieved these many track distinctions at Albright, Bruce's services will be sorely missed next year. Upon graduation he plans to become a pilot in the Naval Air Force after attending Aviation Officer Candidate School this fall.

Cinder Eaters Win At Penn

Grant Krow, who last year wound up fourth in the Penn Relay college high jump, leaped 6 feet, 4 inches to capture first place on Saturday, April 28. He shared the crown with Jerry Wettstone of Penn State and Ray Bury of Fairleigh-Dickinson who also jumped that height. Krow nearly won the championship outright, but on the final jump, just nudged the bar enough to topple it off.

Hanlin Relay Record

Another bright spot was the winning effort of the Albright mile relay team in the Pop Hamlin Memorial Mile Relay. The race, run by the small colleges in the MAC, was a near repeat of last year's when the Lions won and Haverford came in second. This year, through the efforts of the same members, Birkholz, Derr, Krow, and Salaneck, broke the tape with the record time of 3:26.4.

Unfortunately, the relay team was not able to do as well in the Silver Baton series. Bill Salaneck came out of the blocks fourth, John Derr dropped to sixth, Barry Goodhart pulled up to fourth once again, and Bruce Birkholz held that position to the end. West Virginia won the heat in 3:26.8 while the Lions were timed in 3:32.

Batmen Post Second Place

Behind the steady pitching of Denny Hepner, Albright beat Lebanon Valley 6-1 this past Saturday. Hepner gave up only seven safeties while striking out eight Dutchmen.

Albright opened the scoring column in the third inning with a two run effort and added another singleton in the fourth. L.V. tried to rally in the fifth, but could manage only one run. Albright continued to pile up the score adding two in the sixth and one more in the seventh but L.V. could not get rolling again.

The Albright twelve-hit attack was paced by Jim Huie's three for three with an RBI and a run scored, and by Norm Ruttenburg who blasted a homer for one of his two hits. Steve Simon and Hepner also had two hits a piece. The Lions opened their home season Friday by crushing Muhlenberg in a non-league encounter, 7-4. Ray Sommerstad went the route giving up 10 hits but fanning 12 Mules. The game was nip and tuck up to the seventh with Albright's offense being provided by Norm Bausch's homer with two aboard in the first inning. However, the Lions found their range in the eighth as Norm Ruttenburg contributed two RBI's in the uprising.

The wins place Albright 4-3 overall for the season and 2-1 in league competition. Albright's bid to remain as Northern MAC baseball champion was strengthened by Elizabethtown's 10-9 loss to Lycoming. The Lions are the only team to have less than three defeats and are second only to Moravian's 4-0 record.

Delaware

Although the Lions outthit the Blue Hens of Delaware 4 to 5, they succumbed to a 2-run eighth inning rally to drop a squeaker 3-2.

Albright tallied one in the second frame only to be tied by Delaware in their turn at bat.

The game remained scoreless until Albright's sixth inning when the Lions pushed across another marker. The 2-1 margin remained until the eighth when the Hens' runs dropped the Albright seasonal record to 4-4.

Jim Huie was the lone two hit batter for the Lions while Norm Ruttenburg and Bob Guglielmino accounted for the two RBI's.

Ted Grenda and Bill Gronos were thorns in Albright's side all afternoon knocking out 4 of the Hens' hits between them. Ray Sommerstad, despite his 5 hit effort was given the loss.

Blue Book

Interspersed throughout this mass—or mess—of verbosity, one can discover some of America's finest poetry, such as "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Much of this poetry appears in chapter seven, "... And Help To Build A Better World" Herein he states that the dilemma in which the U. S. is embroiled today is a direct result of the lack of faith in God; when this faith is regained, Welch is certain that all problems will be solved. (Robert Welch evidently decided that understatement weren't serving his purposes.)

In concluding his statements of facts, faith, and fiction, Welch brought forth this gem of wisdom: "All we must fight and build and use to win is sufficient understanding."

Ironically, the Oracle of Indianapolis encourages all those who receive his words to strive for that which he is himself unable to grasp.
