TWO BRANCHES OF EV. CHURCH AGAIN UNITE

MERGER IS CLOSELY RELATED TO FUTURE OF ALBRIGHT

Detroit, Sat. Oct. 14.—The merger of the United Evangelical and the Evangelical Association Churches was consummated. The General Conferences of the two churches, which had been holding separate meetings for a week previous, came together on this date and signed the basis of union, thus uniting once again the followers of Jacob Albright. The spirit manifested by both bodies at the meeting has caused the most sanguine expectation for the future success of the church, now known as the Evangelical Church.

With one exception, the sixteen delegates from the East Penna. Conference refused to vote. They were instructed by their conference before hand to take this action. Their opposition is due to the basis of union. A special session of the East Penna. Conference will be held in the near future to determine just what their attitude will be. The conference in session at Detroit is discussing the objections as presented to them by the delegates of the East Penna. Conference. A change in the basis of union is extremely unlikely. It is probable that satisfactory amendments will be added.

The following action relative to the colleges in the East Penna. Conference was taken:

"Resolved that we recognize the two existing schools, Albright College and Schuylkill Seminary as the colleges of the eastern portion of the church and that if it be found feasible to merge the two schools at Reading, Pa., the college resulting from the merger shall be named Albright. The Theological School now maintained in connection with Schuylkill Seminary shall bear the name of L. D. Krause."

Rev. John F. Dunlay has been elected as one of the Bishops of the Evangelical Church. He was Pres. of Albright College from 1909 to 1915, and has served since that time as a member of the board of trustees and the executive committee of the college.

MANY TRYING OUT FOR BOTH GLEES

The annual organization of Glee Clubs is now taking place. Places left vacant by last year's graduating class are being filled up from the ranks of new students. Tryouts are being held for the coveted places in the Male Chorus and Miss Phillips, conductor is gradually making the assignments in the Girls Glee. Several promising new voices have been discovered and the year promises to be a success, in spite of the losses sustained by graduation. At a recent election, Alice Gilmore was elected assistant manager of the Girl's Glee. The manager of this year is Frances Faust. Willard Miller holds the position in the Male Glee. Both managers are already busy making arrangements for engagements in the annual Spring tour.

Y'S CAMPAIGN FOR ANNUAL BUDGET

PLAN SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS FOR WEEK OF OCT. 21-28

October the 21st to 28th is going to be "Y" week at Albright. Both "Y's" are going to combine in a smashing campaign for an increased budget, revival of interest and creation of a greater impression of the place of importance that the "Y's" hold in college life.

Features of the week as far as is planned at present, will be joint "pep" meetings with special speakers, novel methods to increase pledge money in the Budget System, tea served to the ladies of the school and additional features to be announced later.

As a general wind-up on Saturday night, Faculty, students and friends will be the guests of the "Y's" at a glorious Hallowe'en party in the old gym. An added attraction is the home game of that date with Schuylkill Seminary.

Everybody Boost! Get Busy! A booming time is in store for the "Y's."

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATING DISCUSSED

A meeting to discuss a more effective organization of inter-collegiate debating in Pennsylvania was held in the Penn-Harris Hotel, Saturday afternoon and evening of October 7th. The meeting was called and presided over by Prof. Gates, coach of Penn States' debating team. The afternoon session was devoted to a general discussion of general conditions of the debating world, and

CALVIN McHOSE IS ELECTED CHEER LEADER

At a meeting of the Albright Athletic Association held October 13th, Calvin McHose was elected cheer leader; to succeed "Rip" Kreuger who will graduate this spring. Three assistants will be elected to aid McHose in his efforts to organize a yelling section for the coming athletic events.

At the same meeting a vote was taken to find out the attitude of the students regarding a football game with Lebanon Valley College on Thanksgiving Day. The entire student body, with two exceptions, voted in favor of such a game between the neighboring institutions.

LYCEUM COURSE HAS MANY BIG NUMBERS

A FULL HOUSE GREETED the performers in the first number of the Lyceum Course on October thirteenth. The attraction was the National Quartette, which for two hours kept the audience in an uproar with lively wit, songs, clever impersonations and general entertainment. The next number was but a hint of the good things that are planned for this season's course. Rarely does a program contain as many treats as are in this year's schedule.

Among the regular numbers will be lecturers by Dr. M. H. Nichols, famous traveler, pastor, writer, Nov. 16th; Judge Ben Lindsay, noted for his work in the Juvenile courts of the United States, Dec. 16th.

Lighter entertainment will be offered by the Pelletier Players, who

ALBRIGHT LOSES TO DICKINSON SQUAD

"DEDDY" MILLER MAKES SENATIONAL RUN OF 80 YARDS SCORING TOUCHDOWN

Dickinson pried open their 1922 season by defeating us in a hotly contested game on Middle Field, Oct. 7. The game was played in a drizzle of rain that made it impossible to pull off trick plays, and as the result Dickinson's heavier team soon wore out their lighter opponents.

Dickinson was first to score when Daily the big fullback pushed the ball over after three minutes of play. After failing to kick the goal, Tempelin kicked to Albright, and Miller our class little quarterback carried the ball thru the entire Dickinson two for a touchdown. It was a magnificent run of 80 yards from one extreme corner of the field to the other extreme corner. He also made the extra point by means of a field goal.

In the second period the Dickinson team carried the ball for a series of five first down after which Daily again went over. The local team kicked the goal. The half ended with the score 13-7 in Dickinson's favor.

After a series of close end runs at the opening of the third period Daily again tallied for Dickinson, and ran the score up to 20 by kicking the goal. In the final period Dickinson again score when Albright fumbled the ball, and an Albright man was tackled behind the Dickinson line giving them a safety. Dur-

HARRY WILHELM VISITS ALBRIGHT

Harry Wilhelm formerly of Myerstown, now located in New York, a former student of Albright spent the week in his home town and visited the college several times. On Thursday evening, October 5th he entertained in an impromptu way in the chapel by playing a number of selections.

Wilhelm is a concert pianist of rising fame and displays remarkable ability. He is engaged in Chautauque work and has left to fulfill the Fall Season tour of engagements.

For the second time in two years Albright College defeated P. M. C. at Chester. The Red and White won by the score of 13-6 over the Cadets in a grueling game featured by many brilliant plays and bad refereeing.

Miller scored the winning touchdown in the final frame and also drop-kicked for the extra point.

On the second play of the game, Worst of P. M. C. fumbled, and Saltern recovered. The big halfback made 20 yards on two plays, putting the ball on P. M. C.'s 10 yard line. Here Albright was penalized for holding, but in 3 touchdowns Saltern made up the difference and scored. Miller missed the point when his kick went wild. P. M. C. tried to tie the score in the remaining part of the period, but failed to dent the Albright line.

Saltern opened the second period by throwing a pass to Kline but he missed. Albright then punted and Worst returned the ball for 15 yards before he was stopped. Craig went around right tackle for 15 yards. Worst then kicked to Albright's 40 yard line. Here P. M. C. was given the ball on a penalty. Worst threw a pass to Riley for 20 yards. This was followed by a first down, and on

LOCAL CHURCH ENTERTAINS STUDENT BODY

Faculty, students and church members shook off their august dignity on Monday evening, October the ninth and frolicked together in the social rooms of the College Church, at a reception given by the members of the church. A rollicking jolly time from start to finish it was, and everybody entered into it with a zest and enthusiasm that made the whole affair a great success.

The entertainment committee must have searched far and wide, or else scratched heads for weeks and weeks for the original and clever program that was planned. The whole company of guests were divided into groups each named after one of the twelve months. A search was made in the room for the symbol representing that month and when the groups had ultimately been organized, each group was re-

LACK OF "PEP"?

It seems rather tragic that our team has left for every game of this season without the incentive of the old-time A. C. "pep" meeting to start them off. And why is it? Can it be blamed upon the cheer leaders? Does the fault lie in the student body? The blame most decidedly cannot be placed on either. Coach Benfer says, "Give them a chance and this student body will out-shine many far larger schools in genuine school spirit and pep".

But what chance is offered? We are forbidden the Chapel for such purposes. The kitchen and dining-room forces justly object to the delay incurred by putting the dining-room to such uses after meals. No substitute has been offered for meeting-places of former years which have been torn away. There is, absolutely no place at our disposal in which the student body can be gathered and held long enough to rouse and accomplish the spirit and feeling of the old-time meetings,—that A. C. spirit of which we have justly boasted. The Freshmen have not had the chance to experience this feeling. It is mere tradition to them as yet.

The "old pep" is still here. It is dormant only through lack of chance to exercise. But under present conditions,—with no bleachers for use at games, with no place for old time mass-meetings,—how long will it be till "Albright pep" is a thing living only in our memories? Albright Spirit is in danger of becoming mere tradition.

Ours is a small college and our teams must of necessity come up against great odds. Is it fair to them to have to go into every game without at least one "pep" meeting to show them that we are back of them with every bit that's in us? For the sake of our team then, for the sake of the future tone and spirit of Albright College herself, we beg that this need be supplied; that some place be set aside for the regular old student mass and "pep" meetings.

COME, LET'S ENJOY COLLEGE LIFE

While reading a book the other day, I came across this question: "Do your religious fellow students appear to enjoy life more or less than your non-religious fellow students?" I was immediately impressed with the question, and tried to solve it. The question is a fair one and demands no little thought in answering it.

Let us take the very nature of the question. In the first place there is implied the possibility of religious students getting more joy out of College life than the non-religious question we must consider the question of religion. Surely it will be conceded that religion is a benefit, students. If there is a possibility may it not be a probability. Let us see.

To get to the very bottom of this be it of any character. All religions do not stand on the same plane. Some are on a very low standard compared with Christianity, but after all the religion of a people is representative of its highest standards. Therefore, if a people live in accordance with their religious beliefs, without a doubt they will be enhancing their own lives.

Now, since religion is an asset to an individual's life, and since he becomes a better man by adhering to its principles, does it not follow that he will get more enjoyment out of life? In the final analysis, what is it that makes life enjoyable? Unquestionably it is a combination of these three principles—benefiting one's self, helping others, and glorifying our Master. And, since Christianity which is the religion of us students is based upon these three principles, very obviously we will enjoy life the more by living up to its standards,—for they are the making of enjoyment.

Therefore, why not try to live out our religion in school life? We will be happier ourselves, we will make others happier, we will honor our Maker.

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATING DISCUSSED

(Continued From Page One) an open forum was held. The evening session was of a more definite nature. Representatives of Penn State, University of Pittsburg, Washington and Jefferson, Allegheny, Westminster, Lafayette, Franklin and Marshall, Swarthmore, Lebanon Valley, Bucknell, Juniata and Albright were present. Prof. Keller, head of the English Department of Albright and coach of the debating teams represented Albright.

Dr. Russell C. Conwell, possibly the greatest lecturer America knows, will present his "Acres of Diamonds" sometime in November. Dr. Harry McKeen, famous community expert, will lecture in December. Elsie Baker, the well-known soprano soloist, will appear on February the sixteenth. The exact date of the features will appear later.

quired to perform a stunt, expressing a resolution that was to be carried out in this new school year. Varied and amusing were the stunts, and each group tried to outshine the rest.

Other features of the evening were musical numbers,—a piano duet by Misses Faust and Wetzel, and a pleasing violin solo by Good Brown. Refreshments were served, followed by reports of six detectives who had scouted secretly during the evening for the funny things they heard and saw. A Boom yell for the entertainment committee expressed our appreciation and ended up the evening.

the next play Worst went around right end for a touchdown. He missed the extra point when his drop kick went wide.

Score at End of Half, Albright 6—P. M. C. 6

On the kickoff, Miller of Albright fumbled on the 35 yard line and Craig of P. M. C. recovered. After two nice gains, Worst fumbled and Saltern recovered. The Red and White star then made 15 yards off tackle and Miller followed by a 50 yard sprint, the play going directly center. He was stopped on P. M. C.'s 5 yard line just as the whistle blew for the period.

Starting the four period on P. M. C.'s one yard line, Miller again rushed thru center for the touchdown. He also kicked the goal by means of a drop kick.

ALBRIGHT POLITICAL CLUB MEETS

Favored With Two Fine Addresses By Students

The Albright Political Club, an organization composed of students who are interested in politics, met in Recitation Hall, Thursday for their weekly meeting. After a few preliminary remarks by the president, Chas. Raffensperger, Newton Miller gave an excellent talk on "The Elimination of the Turk from Europe." Mr. Miller, after some original research work, very clearly demonstrated the position of the Balkan States should the Turk be eliminated.

Edgar Behney gave an excellent talk on the Muscie Shoals proposition. Behney was full of his subject, and gave a very minute discussion of the possibilities of the project should it become the property of Henry Ford.

It was decided that next week should be "new members" week and Ralph E. Kaufman and Albert L. Swank were selected to be the principal speakers.

Mr. Dale Gramley was accepted as a member at this meeting, bringing the total membership to ten.

Y. M. C. A.

Miss Garlach had charge of the meeting for the evening of Oct. 10th. She spoke of the life of the French people as she saw it this summer in France. The purpose of her task was to present the religious and moral sides of the life of the people in the larger cities of France.

The religion of France is largely the Catholic faith. The country has many beautiful cathedrals. As she spoke of the different renowned churches and shrines, Miss Garlach presented for illustration post card pictures of them.

One of the interesting things that was mentioned was the French people's love for Jean d'Arc. Many statues and shrines throughout France have been raised in her honor.

From her observations, Miss Garlach found the French a pleasing-mannered and delightful people. They did not seem to crowd the cabarets, as is often rumored, but did exhibit an intense love for opera.

THEMISIAN

The program for Friday evening was wholly a Freshman program. A wide range of talent was exhibited and the participants on the program displayed interest in and evidenced time spent in preparation of their parts.

The first number on the program was a piano solo by Marion Huber, followed by Doretha Snyder as declaimant. Then Eva Wright gave her first impression of Albright which proved to be very favorable. Mabel Hunsicker favored us with a pleasing vocal solo, after which Helen Wagner, Mildred Lackey and Fern Stanford endeavored to prove respectively that the Scientific, Latin-Scientific, and Classical courses were the best courses for the average person in College. Gladys Wagner then revealed her ability as a reader, and Margaret Neast closed the program with the Thesimian Echo.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER WORK

Lyman Hoover, visiting member of the Student Volunteer Band, spent October third and fourth at Albright under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Hoover gave over his time to personal interviews with those interested in Student Volunteer work, and met with the cabinets. A general talk was given on Tuesday night, and a few minutes of Wednesday chapel service were given over to Mr. Hoover. Mr. Hoover recently graduated from Butler College and is preparing for foreign work as a Student Volunteer.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

The Department of Education has added some interesting, new phases to its program. The local schools are co-operating and in the near future, Seniors will conduct intelligence tests in the grades and in the high school.

Work of this kind is making practical application of the course in Education being offered under the efficient direction of Prof. Zener.

Y. M. C. A.

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 10th, the "Y" assembled in the college chapel under the leadership of President Lackey. A large number of students, together with Rev. Heck and Prof. Benfer of the faculty were present. The delegates to the Y. M. C. A. Conference at Silver Bay gave their reports. This conference which is the largest of ten similar ones, held the largest session in its history last summer.

J. Kenneth Snyder gave first a few general impressions received at the conference: (1) The tremendous importance of the Y. M. C. A. especially in looking after the welfare of students; (2) As long as we have men like the leaders and the seven hundred men in attendance at the Silver Bay Conference, Christianity need have no fear. Mr. Snyder then gave a recount of the different departments and explained one of them, the Forum. It comprises, "Discussions on immortality, prayer and the Bible." When we pray, we must also do all in our power to bring to pass the desired results.

Mr. Snyder's next topic was the "international relationships of the 'Y'" of students and of Christianity. European countries, especially Russia are looking to America for help. They are destitute of hope unless we extend aid. Dr. John R. Mott, international president of the "Y" says, "The world to-day is in a molten state, (plastic). We should be glad to live today—to have a part in moulding the world of tomorrow."

Following are some of the problems that were then presented: (1) Should one keep quiet when evil is done?—He should not, provided his own life is as nearly righteous as he can make it, and he does not speak in an "I am perfect" manner. (2) Our life work should be chosen in harmony with what we like, provided it is consonant with the will of Almighty God. (3) Smutty stories should be excluded from the college campus—just as they should be tabooed in all other phases of life.

Blaine W. Schick after a brief introduction, gave chiefly, a resume of his summer's welfare work in New York City under the auspices of the "Y". The talk was centered on three phases of "Y" work; for the soldier during the war; for the College student; and in the great cities. In the most congested parts of New York City, the work takes the form of helping to give the foreigners American ideals and standards of living and to impart to them light on the subject of Protestantism. The "Y" is also active in giving assistance to foreigners at immigration headquarters on Ellis Island. The value of this work can not be estimated in dollars and cents.

That the criticism of the "Y" during the war was unjust is shown by the fact that the greater part of the 3,000,000 new members since the war are ex-serve men. Mr. Schick's report constituted a strong appeal for co-operation in Y. M. C. A. work.

DR. HUNT ATTENDS MEETING OF COLLEGE PRESIDENTS ASSOCIATION

Dr. Hunt attended the meeting of College Presidents Association of Pa. at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Friday, Oct. 20th. One of the topics under discussion was, "How to Take Care of Increased Number of Students Seeking Admission To Colleges."

"Why did they arrest the blind man?"

"The cops saw him blush when the fair co-ed passed."

PRETZ STICKS

Old King Coal was a merry old soul. A merry old soul was he. A ton that used to cost $4.75 Now costs $12.33.

Speaking of the fuel shortage reminds us that about the only way to keep warm those chilly evenings is to sing, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," in three flats but let them go out on the fourth floor to save fuel.

It is reported that the reservation of seats for the Lyceum course there was a great rush for combinations of two's under the balcony. Guess why?

The boys of Main Building are divided into three classes; those who go out for the four o'clock stroll with the fair co-eds on Sunday afternoon; those who could if they would; and those who would if they could. Cheer up you of the third class. One of the largest and most expensively furnished buildings in New York City is a strictly bachelor apartment house on Lexington Ave.

The detectives at the church reception overlooked the fact that it sounded at times like old home week in a coconut grove.

In spite of the fact that liquor is not obtained as easily as it was two or three years B. V. D. (Before Volstead Days), it is reported that they still keep the "skeleton in the closet" in the Biology Lab.

The scoundrel who took the ivory off the piano keys in the "Y" room was evidently trying to get a head.

Not all the wise beings are housed in Main Building. One was heard hooting from one of the trees of the campus several nights ago.

SPECIAL TALK IN CHAPEL

In the Monday morning chapel service, October 16, we were privileged to hear a splendid and interesting talk by Mr. W. F. H. Wentzel of the Presbyterian Board of Temperance and Moral Welfare located in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Wentzel is a very fluent and pleasing speaker. He is presenting his talk to practically all Colleges and schools of higher education in Pennsylvania. It constitutes a strong appeal for students to co-operate in eliminating from our country the ruthless killing of dumb animals under the pretext of sport. He made a rapid survey of certain practices, including the bull fights of Mexico; the pigeon traps in many parts of the world; and of the many animals and birds which are slaughtered annually to gratify the tastes of fashionable people. The talk is an appeal to keep alive within ourselves that spark of human kindness called sympathy.

TOWN NOTES

During the week of October 9th. many people from the local fire companies, the Goodwill and Keystone, attended the State Fireman's convention held at Harrisburg and all reports indicate that the convention was very successful. The Famous Acme Band of Myerstown helped to furnish the music for the big parade. Messrs. Kyle, Roland and Weiss of the Albright College Band accompanied the Acme Band to Harrisburg.

On Wednesday evening in the High School Auditorium, the Pelletier players presented the "Merchant of Venice" to a well filled house. They are a very popular and talented company and are always welcomed to Myerstown by large, enthusiastic and appreciative audiences.

Post Master Koller and many of the local Post Office force and rural carriers attended the Postal employees Convention in Harrisburg, Wednesday, Oct. 11th.

Rev. J. M. Miller is busily engaged in completing the last lap of the new side walk on South College Street. This walk has improved the appearance of the street very much.

"Mickey" Faust (presiding at joint cabinet meeting) "Mr. Benfer you look as tho you were inspired,— what do you have to say?"
 Kenneth Benfer: "Oh, I was only looking at you."

Sat Upon

Keller: "Lamb is a writer to be sat down—and read."

COLLEGE NOTES

The Athletic Association has distributed the Rule Books for this year. The Blue Laws were anxiously awaited and breathlessly scanned for new features, but very few new ones appeared. The objections against hazing are particularly stressed and rigid enforcements are promised.

New ventures in athletics are taking place among the girls. At scrimmage one evening the All-Mohn Hall Foot-Ball team appeared. There were no try-outs for positions because each one was eligible to any position. No coach was needed either. The cheering on the bleachers was led by Betsy Scott, a dark-horse, as it were, but who won laurels for herself and the new team.

The tail-end of a mid-night feed was rudely interrupted the other night by stern discipline appearing on the scene and ordering all participants immediately to bed. Wasn't it sweet that it happened at the tail-end instead of at the beginning?

The pleasant odor of oil-stoves pervaded Mohn Hall atmosphere for several days before the heat was turned on. You see—oil-stoves are good for quite a few things—, not the least among them heating purposes.

First Star Course Night was awaited with a great deal of interest, for then you know is when all the new cases show first signs of budding. But we had reckoned without our host because we forgot the new Freshman rules—"No Freshman may accept or request the attentions of the opposite sex for social functions".

JOKES

Somebody: "Where's Gook?"
 Snyder: "Sick in bed."

Bets. Scott: "Gee, if the foot ball men don't get better we g'ris will go out and play Dickinon."

Snyder: "G'ris couldn't play; they would be disqualified for holding hands."

Kline, in Biology class room seeing the skeleton facing the corner: "Professor, he must be ashamed of himself this morning, having his face turned that way."

Prof. Walton: "If you had no more on than he has you'd be ashamed of yourself also."

While There's Life There's Hope
 Harris: "How long has Minnie been on the waiting force?"
 Mowery: "Forty years."

He: "I passed your home last night."
 She: "Thanks."

Nuf-ceed

"Am I good enough for you?" sighed the fond lover.
 "No," said the girl candidly,
 "You're not, but you're too good for any other girl."

Prof. Zener: "If you would go to Australia, pick up a husband and bring him back would he have to be naturalized?"

Miss Mengle: "Well er-er-er—he'd have to be civilized."

FRESHMAN POEM
Jessie Statler '25

If studies are burdensome, lift them away;
Do her work for the whole next day;
If she's sad and lonely for her friend,
Run, bring him to her bed side send;

Or if it's because she despises him,
Entertain that one she hates like sin;
Give him the best that you can give;
Let him know for you he can live;

If it's pleasure she wishes, just take her place,
And let her enter the pleasure-race;
You plan her work, recite her Math;
Keep her on the "Hitched to—Star" path;

Let her win with pleasure a mile,
But you sit back all the while.
If she's sad and very pallid,
Run for the batter, bring in the salad;

Maybe the rolling pin would bring to her cheek
Color of red and make her speak.
If accidents come to one or a few,
Like falling feet in the water too,
You be there to pick up the water
Leave her sprawling it doesn't matter;

Just take care that no ruin befalls
Our dwelling places or even our halls;
Don't rush out when we're about;
Wait till we've gone; then heller; and shout.

If you missed your class and got the doubt
From your teacher, or your own young pout;
On Saturday nixt you must clean the hall,
The other ladies will some you call,
They've only come to show you how,
Then broom, buckets, rags you will allow;

Once a month you must mow the lawn
Between six thirty and early dawn;
Watch the dandelion, crush them under,
Sprinkle the flowers, look for thunder.

See that mosquitoes flee far and wide,
Off the campus not by our side;
Among your members we're lucky to find
A piano tuner; please bear in mind
Before she leaves, to keep down expense,
She must tune the keys for no recompense.

Some one of you must count the stars,
And notice when the planet Mars
Falls to the earth and rebounds again;
Note with pencil this data for men,
When, the moon is full or changed ben,
If it's only one or under ten;
