A dedication of a yearbook to all of the professors at Albright College would be a well deserved tribute by the class of 1968 to all of the men and women who have contributed to the sought after title of "graduate." One of these instructors, because of his varied interests and genuine concern for the human beings who make up the college community, is known by more than those students who have shared classroom experiences with him. He does not remain inaccessible in his office or his home, but mingles with students and other professors in the Campus Center and in all areas of college activity. Perhaps his rapport with students stems from the fact that he has never ceased to be a student himself—a student of history, but also a student of people. Without this man there would be no 1968 Cue to dedicate. His belief in students and in their ability to fulfill their ideas has made it possible.

The class of 1968 dedicates its edition of the Cue to Dr. William W. Hummel.

dedication

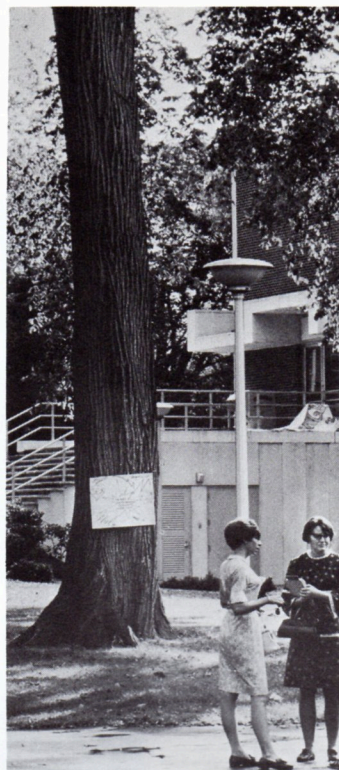

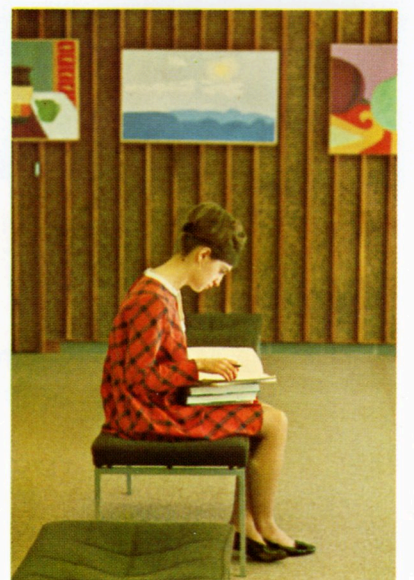

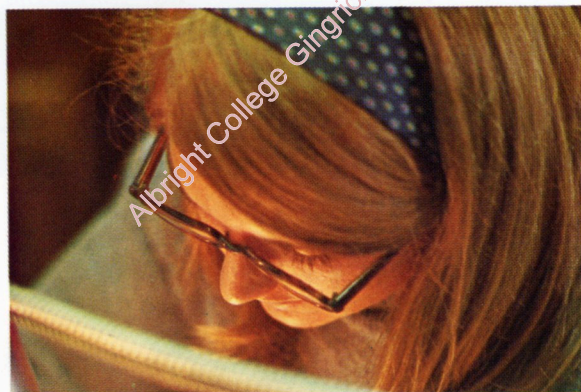

a moment of contemplation
before the doors of challenge

the world said no
and closed its door
the young man kept knocking and the door soon came ajar

. . . heavy footsteps on worn asphalt,
in quest, in haste, he runs into the arms of the master to conquer the isolated words hidden behind iron and brick.

thinking silly
laughing silly
acting silly
isn't silly at all
it's life

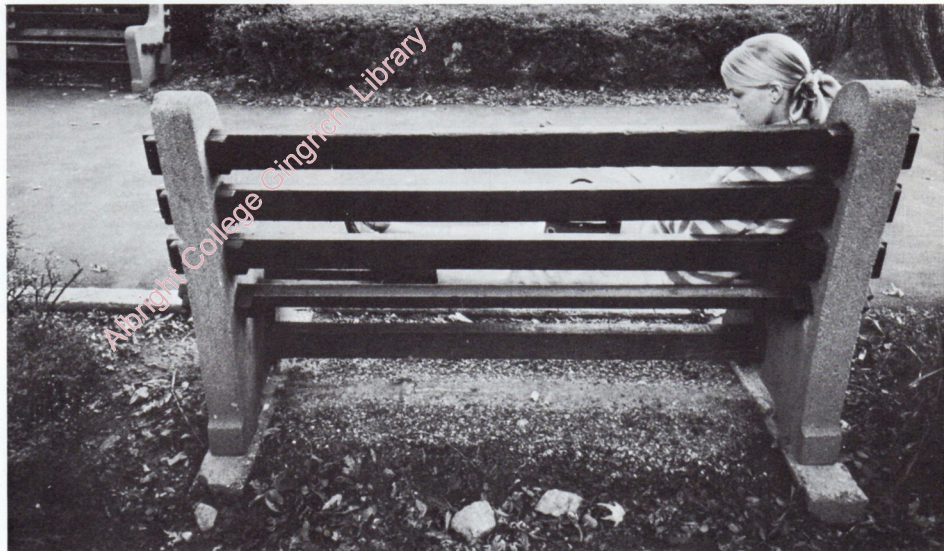

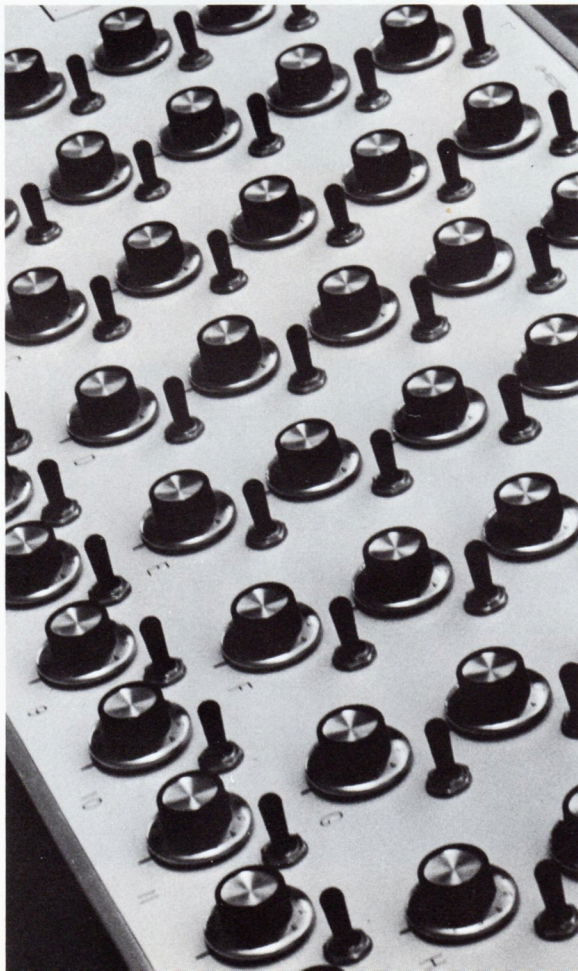

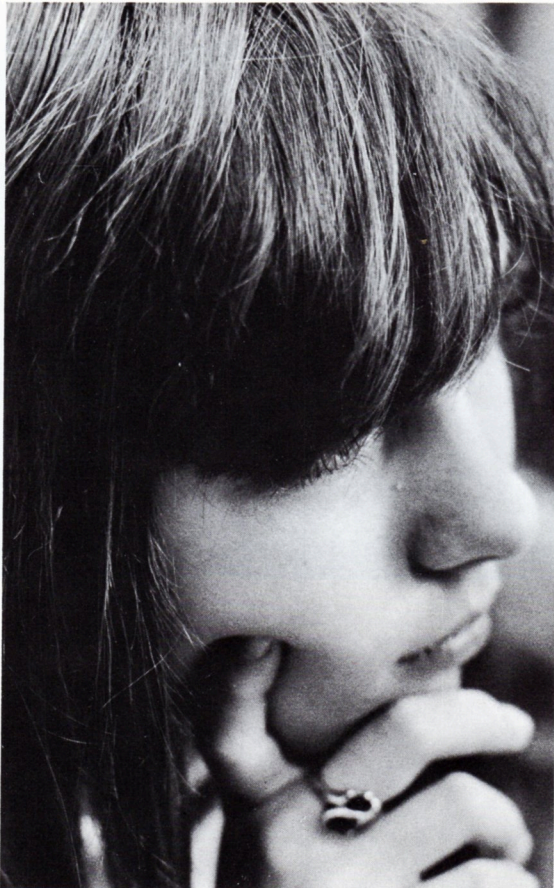

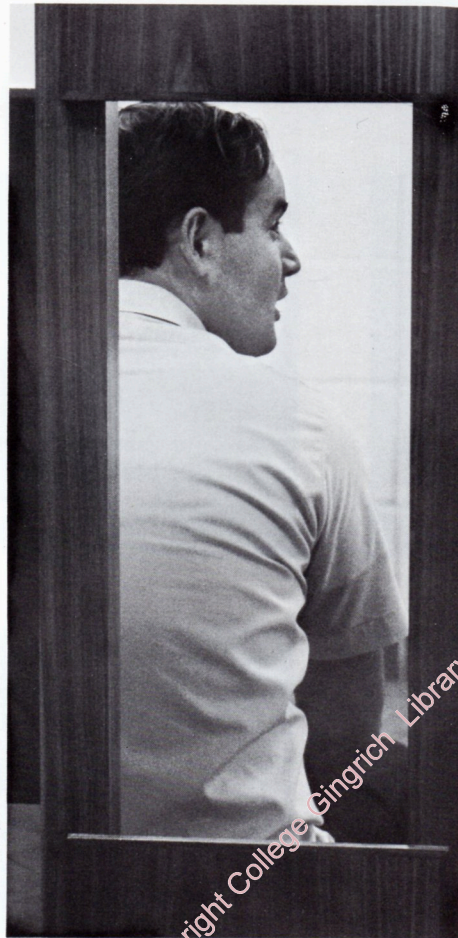

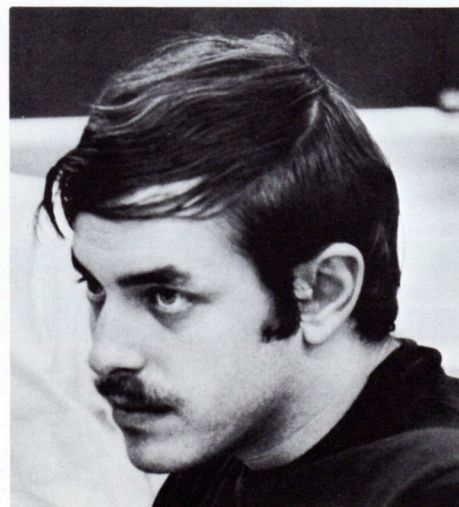

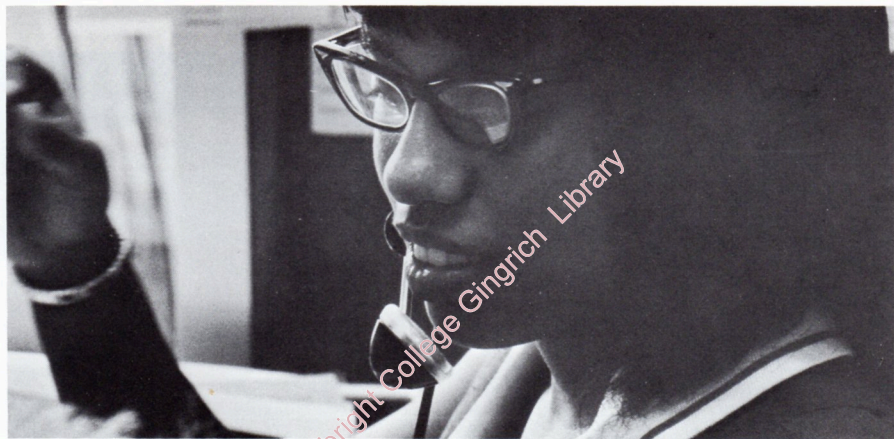

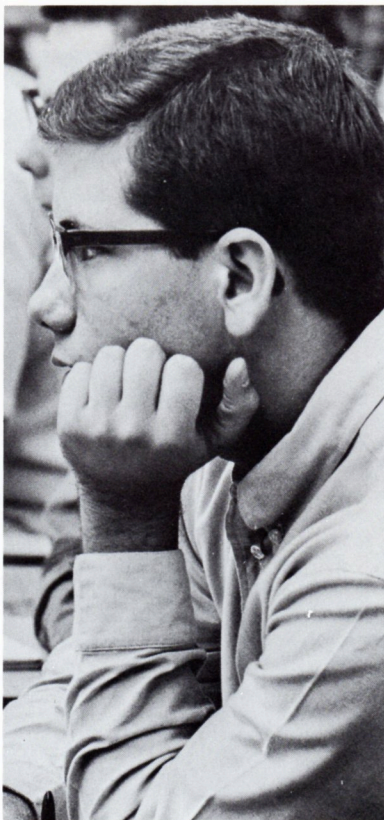

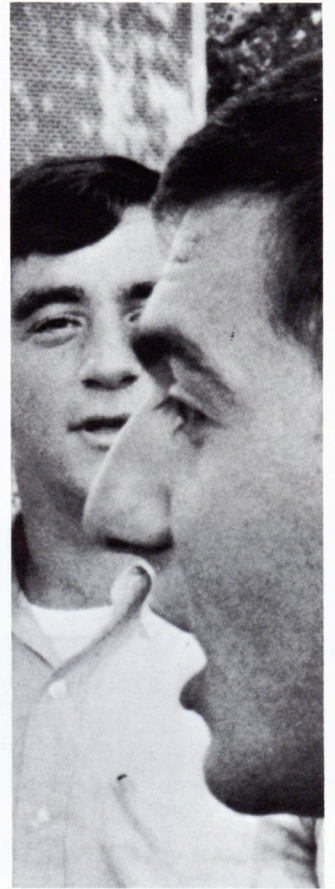

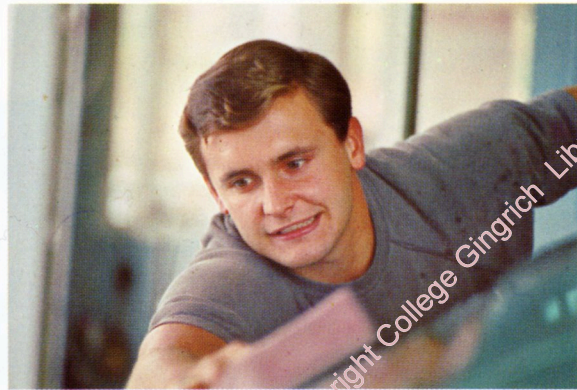

the letter home
sending smiles, reflections
and the miles you've gone each day

down the lane of thought that one day you knew you'd make it

Albright College Gingrich Library

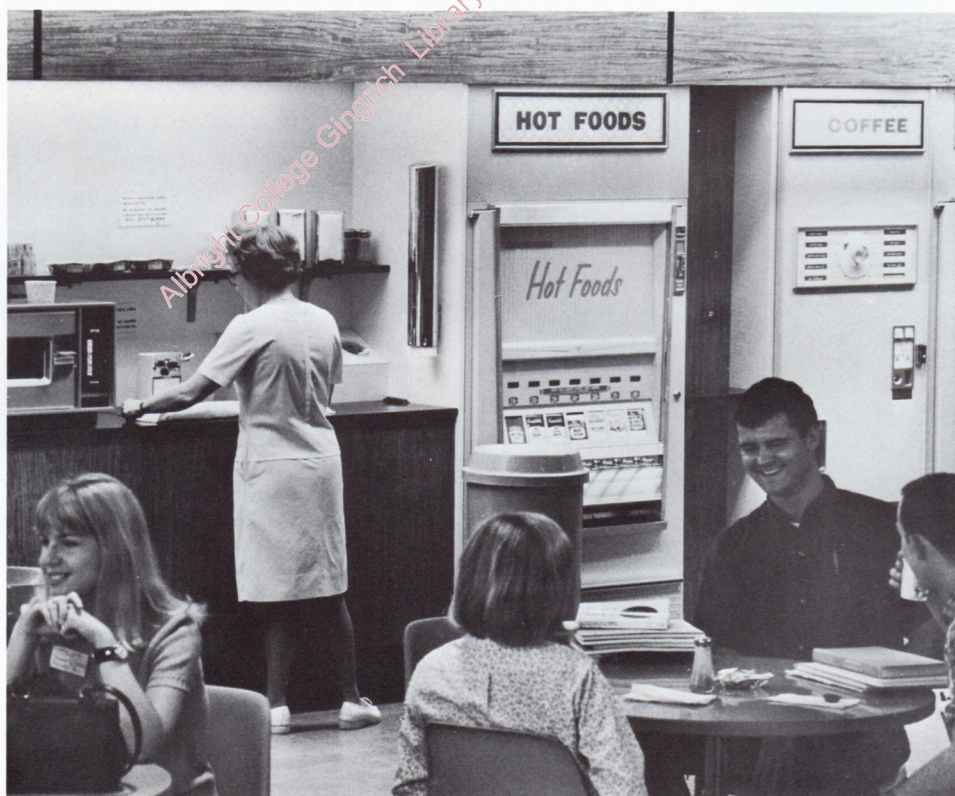

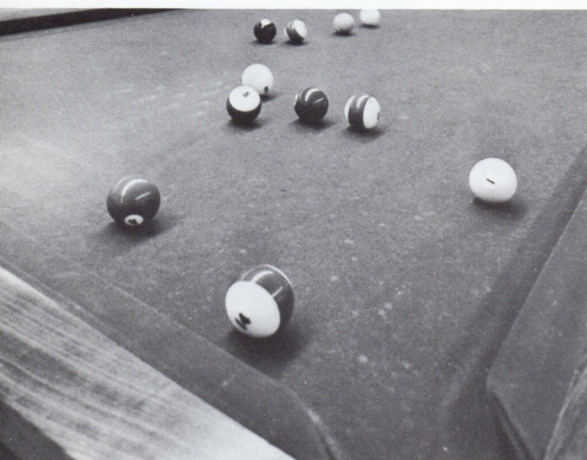

knobs
buttons
drops of hope
answered the questions
you had yesterday

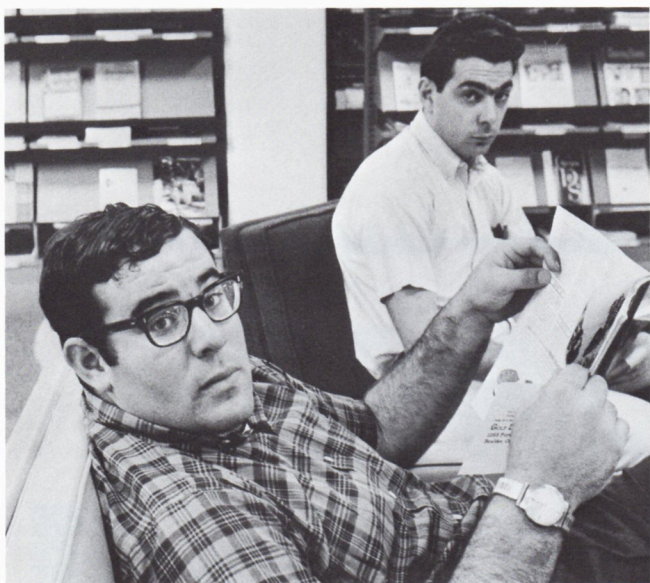

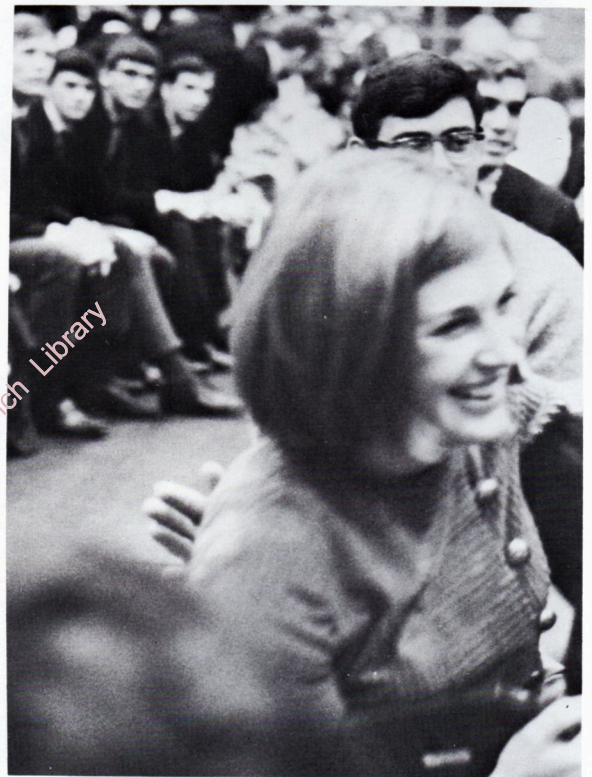

as man grows
he chooses to look life squarely
face to face
if he hits the right pocket
he can laugh
and play the game another day.

advertised as food for thought you let your mind wander
as the room gets a little smokey
with the murmurs
from your kind of people

FACULTY/ADMINISTRATION

president

A college is a particular kind of community, not quite like any other kind, yet made up of human beings as are all the others. A college is not nearly as heterogeneous in its composition as a city, and by no means as heterogeneous as a labor union. It is dedicated to a singular purpose—the production of educated people—yet that process is not nearly as simple as, say, the production of automobiles.

In this rapidly changing world our colleges serve as custodians of the intellectual capital of mankind; they also serve as centers of innovation and change, of investigation of the application of knowledge to current needs and of re-examination and criticism of society.

The old clichés and the old ways of thinking won't do in this new world. Our college must produce graduates who can do more than memorize facts—because even facts change. We have to educate students to think, to grasp concepts, to relate facts and events and think through logically what this chain of data means.

Above all, college must produce people who are flexible, who can change from the set patterns when the facts warrant it, and who aren't afraid to think boldly when the times call for it.

Arthur L. Schultz

Robert E. McBride, A.B., B.D., Ph.D.

dean of the college

I suppose that the question of integrity and personal honesty is at the heart of my own educational philosophy. We cannot be twentieth century men six days a week and live with moral understanding on the seventh. Most of us find it difficult to be honest with ourselves and each other. Integrity means being a whole person. It means living by a consistent set of values and rising above expediency on the moral plane, existentialism on the philosophical plane, and hypotheticalism on intellectual plane. Granted it is not an easy job, but then who said this was an easy world to begin with?

In admissions we try to be honest with students and encourage them not to apply if they don't have a chance of getting in. We usually end up spending more time with the unacceptable applicants than the acceptable. We try to find someplace where the former can be successful, but some people don't take rejection graciously and we have to be tactful. It would not be fair for us to let a student be last in his class. When we accept a student we can't tell what he will do here, but we know he can do our work.

In March of 1964, the Albright College Library opened for business in its modern, attractive building in the center of the campus. Since that time Albright has seen many changes and improvements—new courses of study, new instructors, an increased student body, expanded campus and facilities. The library too has made itself a part of this forward movement by being able to offer to the students and faculty of Albright College an expanded program of studies.

In four short years over twenty thousand books have been added to the library, bringing the total number of volumes in the collection to 105,000. In addition more than one hundred periodicals and scholarly journals have been received. Also, through co-operation with other institutions of higher learning the knowledge and ideas contained in countless numbers of books are available.

"The true University these days is a collection of books."

SPORTS

Albright College Church Library

The 1966 version of the Albright College football team bounced back after losing their first three games to win five out of their last six, including the last four in a row. With a squad numbering only twenty-eight players, the Lions ran wild against Gettysburg and clawed the Bullets 33-0 for their first 1966 victory. Herb Nauss was named on the weekly, All-East Team for his outstanding play. The fired up Lions, overcoming their lack of depth with great determination and aggressiveness, next recovered after a close defeat at the hands of Delaware Valley, to win their final four games in a row and thus finished above .500 for the first time since 1964. Weekly All-East selections named in these latter games for outstanding performances included Terry Jones (vs. Delaware Valley), Terry Rhodes (vs. Upsala), and Herb Nauss (vs. Drexel). Herb was also selected as ECAC Defensive Back of the Year, and along with sophomore halfback Dennis Zimmerman was named on the first team of the MAC All-Star Team. Jim Kearns, Mike Grant, Ted Agurkis and Frank Klassen all received honorable mention on the same All-Star squad.

The 1968 season opened and the Albright Cagers had a new look. Lacking a super scorer the Lions had to rely on a squad with balanced scoring and depth. Coach Wilbur Renken made it known from the beginning that his team had depth when he started, "Coming off the bench, Jim Stocker, George Ritter, Jim Kelly and Rich Peterson are pretty nearly equal to our starters." However, despite this abundance of talent, the Renkenmen did not begin to pay dividends until mid-season.

The season opened with four lettermen back in starting roles. These were Captain Mike Eckenroth, John Scholl, Ron Lloyd and Andy Mytinger. John Zarubnický rounded out the starting five. After the first twelve games the Lions posted a dismal record of two victories and ten defeats. LaSalle and St. Josephs walloped the Lions, 82-40 and 90-62 respectively; they fell victim to Elizabethtown, 72-63; were upset by Muhlenberg, 69-65; were soaked by Colgate, 73-63, and Otterbein, 81-59, in the Albright Invitational Tournament which was won by Mt. St. Marys; they were upended by Wilkes, 80-69; toppled by Lycoming, 89-83, despite thirty-four points by "Jumpin'" John Scholl; and were thumped by Susquehanna, 77-66, and Bucknell, 82-50. Two victories were gained to tip the scales slightly: a 72-51 win over Upsala and an 86-83 squeaker over Gettysburg. Nobody could tolerate this "recession" in Albright basketball. Things needed bolstering so Coach Renken called on some of his "blue-chip" reserves. Before a home town crowd against Lebanon Valley there were two new faces on the starting five. Freshman Bruce Mackintosh and junior Jim "Mad Dog" Stocker joined Ecky, Scholl and Lloyd. This combination plus clutch help from Ritter, Holland, Kelly and Zarubnický clicked for three consecutive victories over Lebanon Valley, 70-66, Scranton, 80-66 and Delaware Valley, 68-65. Prosperity once again reigned at the Albright College Field House. One of the season's highlights was senior Mike Eckenroth's eighteen tallies against Lebanon Valley which enabled him to join Albright's select "1000 Point Club."

The prosperity, mentioned above, was short-lived. Four straight defeats followed: Wagner, 62-96; Lehigh, 44-54; Moravian, 75-80; and Susquehanna, 62-64.

They played in a vast field house with only a few spectators. Gradually, the stands would begin to fill as spectators arrived early for the varsity game which followed. The fans caught a glimpse of the junior varsity game and some enthusiasts even cheered. As the game drew to a close, the stands filled. Ten times the junior varsity game closed in a victory for Albright. Seven times in a defeat. The victories were over Gettysburg, Croll and Keck, Wilkes, Lycoming, Susquehanna, Lebanon Valley, Delaware Valley, Albright's Intramural All-Stars, and Moravian.

The Lion "Cubs" exhibited fine desire and hustle under mentor Carl "Dewey" Boltz. The squad had nine freshman filling its ranks along with four upperclassmen. The leading scorers after fifteen games for this "Fountain of Youth" were Jim Kelly, 13.0; Joe Bucci, 12.4; Terry Rhodes, 12.3; and Vern Kulp, 7.9. The spectacle of the season occurred when Coach Boltz unleashed his "Cagers" on the intramural standouts. They responded by scoring 100 points against only 51 for the "Monday-Thursday Night Boys."

The girl's varsity basketball squad initiated an eight game schedule in their second season as intercollegiate hoopsters with a victory over the Reading Hospital team. The fine shooting of Linda Trzaska and Kathy Loesch along with the tricky guarding of sophomore Pat Snyder, spurred the Lionesses to a half-time comeback which resulted in a 33-32 victory. The Albrightians were again victorious on their home court over the Lebanon Valley six stopping the scoreboard at 35-19. In their first away game, the girls displayed their recurrent second-half enthusiasm but lost 53-36.

Frosh Linda Trzaska and Kathy Loesch co-captained the 13 man team. This being only the second year for women's varsity basketball at Albright, the team showed marked progress in skills and confidence on the court. With Coach Whitely's devotion and the return of four juniors, four sophomores, and five freshmen to nucleate next year's team, future seasons promise even greater progress and success.

Run, baby, run, . . . makin' every minute count . . . Coach Popp likes to see his gang run and run they did in 1967 as the Lions raced to nine track and field victories against only five defeats. The season was dotted with individual heroics and graduate Carmen Komunale, "The Jim Thorpe of Albright College," was the most heroic of all when he sprinted, vaulted, threw and leaped to six first place finishes in a meet against Lebanon Valley. That afternoon, Carmen won the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, the discus, the pole vault, the long jump and was on the victorious mile relay team. Carmen also led the squad in total points by accumulating 145¼. Freshman Dave "elastic lad" Boyles was second with 128 points followed by Mike Eckenroth with 75½ and Ernie Mancini with 69¼.

Two school records were broken in 1967. Dave Boyles raced to a new record in the 120 high hurdles with a 15.0 clocking and Mike Eckenroth was clocked in 56.2 seconds in the 440 intermediate hurdles to become the record holder in that event. "Ecky" and vaulter Claude Mignon are the seniors who vied for Coach Popp's 1968 cindermen. 1967 victories were over Lebanon Valley, Delaware Valley, Haverford, Franklin and Marshall, Bucknell, John Hopkins, Muhlenburg, Wagner and Juniata. Defeats were at the hands of PMC, Lycoming, Gettysburg, Ursinus and Swarthmore.

The gruel of running five miles . . . finishing 106th at the MACs . . . the sweet taste of an orange—this is all cross country. An outsider's assessment of the sport may be padded with such comments as "out of sight," "stark crazy," "daffy," "fanatics." After all, while everyone packs the stadium to watch the football wars and munch hot dogs, the cross country team is running five miles over macadam, wooded paths, rocky rises and muddy marshes. Albright had a group of dedicated men on its 1967 team who ran cross country for their personal satisfaction. Half of the squad were freshmen and there were no seniors. Freshmen Al Adelman, Bob Fallan, Dan Pfeiffer and Mark Tatarian were consistently the top finishers for Albright. Against Muhlenberg Adelman finished first and this meet turned out to be the highlight of the season as Albright ironically won the event. "I don't believe it!" We had not done that in two years. The 1967 squad is the seed for a Cross Country Renaissance here at Albright. All the guys will be back in 1968 to give their coach, Mr. George Mack, some much deserved victories.

Kelchner Field, for the second consecutive year, was the home of the MAC Northern Division pennant winning Albright Lions in 1967. On April 22, 1967 the Lions swept a doubleheader from Moravian by scores of 1-0 and 3-2 to take over undisputed first place. They ruled the roost for the remainder of the season, winning six out of their final seven games. The season was concluded with a five game winning streak and a whopping won-lost percentage of .812. Among the thirteen victims of the rampaging Lions were such powerhouses as La Salle, Lafayette and Temple. The outstanding freshmen contributors on the squad were pitcher-infielder Dennis Zimmerman, outfielder Roger Gallo and pitcher Terry Rhodes. Sorely missed will be the graduates, those dependable veterans who always hold a team together: Dick Yoder and Ron Hallman who were MAC all-stars, Pete Nichols, Billy Kudrick and Bob Engler. 1968 seniors for Coach Potsklan's Slugging Lions are infielders Woody Ranck and Steve George.

The Lion's road to the pennant went like this (Albright's score given first): Scranton 9-3; Gettysburg 0-3, 4-3; Juniata 10-6; Lafayette 6-1; St. Joseph's 8-12; Susquehanna 14-3; Moravian 1-0, 3-2; LaSalle 5-2; P.M.C. 1-7, 5-1; Wilkes 8-2; Temple 5-4; F & M 5-4; Ursinus 10-0.

Poised, adroit, head cocked to the side, eyes brilliant, veins bulging, wrestler John Ericson, 167 pounds, stalks his opponent across the mats. He strikes—there is a flurry of action . . . strain . . . sweat . . . entanglement. John is on top, where he usually is. He has been on top for four years as Albright's premier wrestler. His three and one-half year record totals thirty-eight victories against only six defeats and two ties. He was undefeated in his sophomore year and lost only once while a junior. John was the only senior on Coach Now's squad that also had only three juniors. Thus, there will be a wealth of experienced grapplers for the future.

Those that regularly spent their Saturdays rolling in euphoria on the mats for Albright were Len Ennis, 123 lb.; Larry Wildermuth, 130 lb.; Dave Fielder, 137 lb.; Fred Weaver, 145 lb.; Mike Quick and Jerry Zweitzig, 152 lb.; Bill Sharp, 160 lb.; John Ericson, 167 lb.; Dave Much and Hank Gedney, 177 lb.; and Paul Kauffman, hwt. With three meets still remaining, this year's squad had three victories and five defeats. The victories were over PMC, 21-18; Ursinus, 22-9; and Muhlenberg.
