Louis Fischer Guest Speaker At Third Annual Convocation

Louis Fischer, just returned from Russia and Western Europe, is the featured speaker for the third annual Albright Community Convocation, Saturday, Jan. 19.

Following a dinner served in the physical education building, Fischer will address the group on "The New Era In World Affairs." Cooperating with the college are the Berks County United World Federalists and the League of Women Voters.

Fischer, a native of Philadelphia, spent fourteen years reporting from the Soviet Union, and devoted many years to an analysis of political conditions in India. The Life and Death of Stalin and The Life of Mahatma Gandhi were the results of these studies.

Current Book

His current book, This Is Our World, contains a general review of world events since 1945. Sumner Welles, in a foreword, says of this revision of Men and Politics that "... few books which have been written upon the subject of international affairs are of such intrinsic importance." This book is frequently used for collateral reading on European and world history in many higher institutions of learning throughout the world.

All alumni and townspeople are invited to the dinner set for 6:30 p.m. and can make reservations in the Public Relations Office for $2.50 per plate. Students may attend the address by presenting Activity Ticket No. 29. The television station, WGAL of Lancaster, will cover the affair.

Previous speakers in these college-community attractions have been Robert Vogeler, in 1954, and Clifton Fadiman last year. More than 500 attended last year's convocation.

Ellery B. Haskell, associate professor of philosophy, is chairman of the affair. Other faculty members on the committee include Clyde A. Harding, associate professor of English, and Dr. Samuel B. Shirk, assistant to the president and director of public relations.

Band Elects Leaders At Recent Election

David Pettit, '58, was recently elected president of the band. Other officers include: Charles deBoeser, '59, vice president; Sarah Dettra, '59, secretary-treasurer; and Wilbert Wollenhaupt, '58, student director.

Pettit appointed the following band committees: publicity, library, music and equipment, and uniforms. George Withers, '60, is chairman of the publicity committee. Other members include William Kutz, '59, Barbara Boyer, '60, and Robert Pearson, '60.

The library committee is headed by Earl Adams, '60. Other members include Edward Traves, '60, and Jane Yeager, '60.

John Newcomer, '59, is chairman of the music and equipment committee. Other members include Lynn Sarig, '60, Wayne Seifarth, '60, and Bruce Williams, '60.

The uniforms committee is headed by Robert Parr, '60. Richard DeLong, '58, Carol Reed, '59, and Thomas Brookover, '60, are also on the committee.

Ice Skating Party Set As Last Y Program

The last Y program of the semester on Tuesday night will feature an ice skating party at City Park, weather permitting. The group will meet in the parking lot at 7:30 p.m. Nancy Ratajcek, '60, is chairman of the affair.

Y Cabinet Announces Semester Plans; Schedule Set At Last Week's Retreat

Square Dance Listed As February Affair

Y Cabinet held a retreat last Saturday morning in Selwyn Parlor to plan its calendar for the second semester. Combined Y presidents, Mary Jo Wolf, '57 and Ehrhardt Lang, '57, led the discussion and the following tentative schedule was planned.

The activities for February include a square dance on Feb. 12. Dr. Milton G. Gell, professor of psychology and director of the Psychological Service Center, will narrate slides on Feb. 19. Feb. 26 features a human relations panel or the presentation of the winning stunts from Stunt Night at Valley Forge Military Hospital.

WUS Drive

The annual World University Service Drive will be held on March 4-8, with March 5 set aside as WUS Night and March 9 as Sports Night. Dr. Felix Gingrich, professor of Greek, will conduct a Bible Study on March 12. An exam break will be held March 19 and nominations for president on March 26.

The April program includes roller skating on April 2, an Easter Egg hunt on April 16, and slides of Y Retreat and Sierra Leone, Africa, on April 23. The annual Religion-In-Life Week is scheduled April 8-12. The Easter Communion service will be on April 17. April 27 and 28 are the dates for the spring Y Retreat.

Programs in May include election of officers on May 7. May 14 is a doggie roast and installation of officers. The last meeting of the year, May 21, will feature a farewell to the seniors.

Bomb Scare Routs Students From Dorm

Students residing in the Albright Court apartments had a rude awakening early Sunday morning, as city police searched the building for a time bomb a mysterious caller to City Hall announced had been planted in the building and set to explode at 2:30 a.m.

After a thorough search of the building, no bomb was found.

Evidently, the "Mad Bomber" of New York has not changed his base of operations. However, it seems that there are several local pranksters who like to make hoax phone calls, too.

Chess Team Meets Ursinus Tomorrow

The chess team will have a meet against Ursinus College tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Room 204 of Teel Hall.

Members of the Albright team include Richard Miller, '57, Gerald Skrocki, '57, Phillip Goldfeder, '58, Wilma Rieser, '58, and Ahto Kaljulaid, '60.

The team has scheduled another meet with Ursinus, and two with Franklin and Marshall College.

Honorary Sorority Gives Seven Bids

Seven senior girls recently received bids to the Phi Delta Sigma Honorary Alumnae sorority of Albright College.

They are Kathleen Forry, Jeanne Palm, Lucy Pryor, Barbara Ross, Elizabeth Weilenmann, Cynthia Winner, and Mary Jo Wolf, all of the class of '57.

This honorary sorority was organized in 1913 with the purpose of rewarding the efforts of undergraduate women, whom a special committee thinks best fulfilled the ideals of character, loyalty, dependability, congeniality, service through campus activities, and scholarship during their four years at Albright. The pledges after serving a pledgeship from February to June, will be initiated into the sorority on the Saturday preceding commencement.

Psychology Major

Miss Forry a psychology major from Wyoimissing Park currently is secretary of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, secretary of the Glee Club, a member of the Octet, chaplain of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority, secretary of the Teel Hall dormitory council, and editorial assistant of The Cue.

Miss Palm, a native of Manheim, Pa., is majoring in psychology and sociology. Her senior activities include: president of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority, president of the Dormitory Council, Pi Gamma Mu, International Relations Club, and The Cue staff. She was a member of The Albrightian staff in her freshman and sophomore years.

Reading Resident

Mrs. Pryor, majoring in history, resides in Reading. She is active in the Y.M.-Y.W. cabinet, serving as secretary of that organization in her junior year, F.T.A. and World University Service. She also served as president of the Selwyn dormitory council last year.

A French major from Reading, Miss Ross is vice president of the Phi Beta Mu sorority and is her class secretary for the fourth consecutive year. She has also served as president of the French Club in her sophomore, junior, and senior years.

Hailing from Cliffside Park, N. J., Miss Weilenmann is a psychology major. She is secretary of the combined Y's, recording secretary of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority, and a member of Pi Gamma Mu, IRC and The Cue staff.

Miss Winner, who lives in Clayton, N. J., is majoring in home economics. Her activities include: corresponding secretary of the Phi Beta Mu sorority, president of the Women's Athletic Association, president of Heo Club, and a Y cabinet member.

Also a home economics major, Miss Wolf hails from Philadelphia. She is president of the Y.W., recording secretary of the Phi Beta Mu sorority, and a member of the Glee Club, Heo Club, and F.T.A.

Former Albrightian Awarded Scholarship

Kermit J. Goda, Jr., a student at Albright College last year, has been awarded an International Nickel Company scholarship at the University of Pennsylvania, where he is studying metallurgical engineering.

The first of such awards by the company, the scholarship covers tuition and fees plus $300 annually for books and a portion of living expenses during Goda's remaining two years at the University. Coupled with the scholarship, Albright College received an unrestricted gift of $1,000 from International Nickel.

A graduate of Reading High School, Goda enrolled at Albright College in the cooperative engineering program. He studied liberal arts for three years at Albright and transferred to the University of Pennsylvania for two years to study engineering.

At Albright, he was a member of the Pi Tau Beta fraternity and the Physics Club.

Spanish Club Foes Puerto Rican Riddies

Approximately 30 Puerto Rican children were entertained at a party held in their honor last Saturday afternoon by members of the Albright College Spanish Club. The children who are presently residing in Reading gathered in the Pine Room for two enjoyable hours of games, songs and a movie.

Wilma Rieser, '58, program chairman of the event, announced that the party was touched with as much of a Spanish atmosphere as was possible. Games were played in Spanish and a movie was also shown in Spanish. Other entertainment consisted of Annette Kiesling, '58, playing the marimba with Ruth Shaefler, '59 accompanying her on the piano. Also, several songs were sung by Agnes Memming, '59, and Mrs. Hershfield, who is a resident of Chile and is now touring the United States.

Nilda Calder, '57, president of the Spanish Club, and Consuelo Jordan, professor of Spanish and advisor of the club, were also in attendance.

Six Feature Films Secured By SC

Clair Matz, '58, announced at the Student Council meeting on Tuesday that a series of six feature length films had been secured to be shown in the spring on Friday nights. The first film will be shown on Feb. 6 and is entitled "The Babe Ruth Story." The other titles are "Casbah," "All The King's Men," "Hot Rod," "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," and "Lost Horizon."

Robert Van Hoove, '58, was appointed chairman of Stunt Night, which will be held on Feb. 15. Clement Cassidy, '57, charged the Council representatives with the task of promoting Stunt Night in their various organizations they represent.

There was discussion on the proposed election code and suggestions were offered by the representatives. William Wray, '58, is chairman of the Elections Committee which has the task of formulating the code.

Daniel Skeath, '59, reported to Council on the Domino Club review for next Friday for the benefit of a fund to bring a Hungarian student to Albright. Louis Rossi, '59, is working on publicity for the affair.

Richard Miller, '57, reported that the Book Exchange did a $294.31 volume of business during the first semester. A total of 127 books were sold through the Exchange.

Refugee To Benefit From Domino Show

The Domino Club will sponsor a special "Flunker's Follies" variety show in Krause Hall, Friday, Jan. 18, with proceeds from the show going to a fund to sponsor a scholarship to Albright for a Hungarian refugee.

Thalia Voight, '57, and Robert Blatt, '58, are in charge of the production. Patricia Hostetter, instructor in English, is faculty advisor. Student Council is also assisting the project.

According to present plans, the show will consist of a program of student variety acts. The appearance of a prima donna ballerina will be an extra added attraction.

Admission to the show will be by donation and the program will be open to the public.

Suggestion

Have you ever considered the many activities supported by your college fee? Among other things, the college fee supports the Domino Club, the Cue, the Albrightian, the Alumni Association, the Y groups, and Student Council.

Can you imagine how inefficient the operation of these organizations would be if each group had to contact every Albrightian to receive its funds? Can you imagine how nerve-racking it would be individually to be asked to pay a dollar to this group, two dollars to another, and three dollars to still another? Can you realize the bookkeeping problems that would emerge from such a system? We must admit that the college fee has many advantages.

However, there is still another activity that might be included in this fee. Every Albrightian belongs to a class and every class needs funds with which to operate. Under the present system, each class appoints people to collect dues and these people spend the entire year trying to hit their classmates when they have an extra dollar. During the entire year therefore, the class is in a semi-active state because of lack of funds. Why couldn't this situation be alleviated by applying the same principle other all-campus organizations use? Would anyone oppose a dollar increase in the college fee? The allotments could then be made to each class depending upon the number of members. Under this system each class could be in an active state throughout the entire year. S. J. G.

Action

At the Student Council meeting on Tuesday, the question of the formation of an election code was again brought up before the representatives. For those who recall, the need for such a code was vividly displayed last spring in the election for the president of the senior class. The shocking fact was brought to the forefront that there were no rules governing class elections at all. It was voted by everyone that a set of rules adequately covering class elections was needed. The Albrightian, in its issue of May 5, 1956, commented that, "One of the first items of concern for the new Student Council should be an election code that would govern all class elections." Some people were irritated at the school paper for publishing an editorial on a proposal that was obviously going to become a reality. Since that time, eight months have passed and as yet no election code has emerged from Council, although the idea is being worked on.

At Tuesday's Council meeting, further steps were taken to bring about the code. The Albrightian is encouraged by the progress that has taken place and recognizes that the leadership of Council is trying to have the election regulations formulated. Nevertheless, the time before the 1957 spring elections is diminishing rapidly. As that time gap closes, it will become increasingly difficult to form an acceptable code because students will begin to view the new regulations in respect to the coming campaigns.

Action should be taken in the very immediate future to bring about a swift, but not hasty, formulation of the election code. In that way, Albright's students can approach the coming elections with the assurance that there be no repeat of the 1956 fiasco. P. A. E.

Please prepare yourself for an authentic report of Reginald Needleman, IV, one of the finest and most wonderful persons one could ever have the pleasure of meeting . . . if you don't believe this just ask him. From almost the day of his birth he had two main troubles—Mr. and Mrs. Needleman, III. They already had acquired too many bad habits in their pre-middle age to be retained properly, so brave Reginald forced himself against his better judgment to give up the idea of trying to raise them and turned to furthering his own magnetic personality by an education.

Chosen

He enrolled in Benedict Arnold Finishing School and within a short time was chosen the boy most likely to be married. Along with this honor he was selected class wit for having written a melodramatic story about Sydney Ferguson and His Electric Grandmother, and for such philosophical sayings as "Show me a fish who can perform delicate brain operations and I'll show you a sturgeon." He was also president of his class, vice-president of the fishing club, chairman of the machine shop, president of the junior anatomists knifing team, treasurer of the lost and found club, and a three letter man: J for throwing the disc, E for automobile speeding, and R for cross country with full pack. He might have made four letters, but he had no time to study and flunked his pre-medical course. At the tender age of 18, he left school because of something the principle said he didn't like—"You're suspended!"

Realization

Reginald suddenly realized for the first time in his brilliant career that life is too important a thing ever to be serious about it. So he cultivated a swashbuckling mustache complete with a pair of Elvis-Pretzel sideburns and became a professional wheel player. He specialized only in wheels attached to the steering column of automobiles. His greatest ambition was to make THE FOOT ON THE GAS the leading cause of death.

His first big opportunity came when he met a girl from air-conditioning school and learned one hand driving. He quickly discovered that to use both could be dangerous since someone had to hold the wheel. Although he was still a small-time operator, from here on he began to establish a list of credits to his beautiful name.

| | Hits | Misses |
| Parked cars | 19 | 3 .999 |
| Moving cars | 8 | 14 .333 |
| Unidentified objects | 3 | 0 .000 |

One fact must be remembered, however; Reginald could not have gained all of this success without drinking to excess. Schnapps did for him what lanolin did for Charles Antell's hair. He never gulped more than half a slipper-full and yet this was enough to give him an entirely different outlook on life, for he was now blind in one eye. Even with a good eye left, talented Reginald was utterly depressed because he still hadn't achieved his foremost goal in life: THE FOOT ON THE GAS.

The solution hit his royal highness all at once. He could at least do his part and help stamp out this dreadful living by becoming a statistic. And all he had to do was simply trade his life and become gloriously famous. Unfortunately, Reginald never lived long enough to sacrifice his life. He walked into

Albright Personality

Barbara Ross

By Billie Williams

Barbara came up the street from Reading High School to Albright College. At the Castle on the Hill she was salutatorian of her class. She carried this honor over into her college work, her name appearing frequently on the Dean's list.

During her freshman year, Barbara joined the Phi Beta Mu sorority. This year she serves as vice-president, thus assuming the chairmanship of the two dances.

French Major

Since French is Barbara's major, she joined the French Club and was elected its president in her sophomore year. She has held that office up until the present. She also was elected secretary of her freshman class and has continued in that capacity for four consecutive years. During the summer, Barb has worked at the Berks County Trust Company. Mumma's jewelry store is her income during short vacations. However, her main occupation is discussing the problems of the world over a package of cupcakes in the SUB. Barb has also been known on occasion to knit articles that were started during her high school years!

Republican

The national presidential election last year interested Barb to a great degree. She joined the Republican organization here on campus and went on caravans and attended dinners for the city Republican league.

It is not yet definite whether graduate school is in Barb's future or not. No matter what she may enter, we wish her happiness and the attainment of her goal.

Musicale

By Edward Traves

The musical organizations of Albright College are once again planning to embark on another successful concert season. The Glee Club has a number of engagements prior to the annual spring tour. On March 8, they will render a concert at Honeybrook School; then on March 21 at 12:45 p.m., they will journey to Perry Township High School; the last concert prior to the tour will be given at Fleetwood Joint High School under the direction of the head of the Music Department, Mr. L. R. Yeager.

One Tour

Contrary to the custom of previous years, the Glee Club will undertake only one tour this year, instead of the usual two. They will begin their series of concerts in Harrisburg, push on to Lewistown, cover the Johnstown area and give concerts at Somerset and Carlisle enroute to returning to Albright once more. Following the tour, two more concerts are on the tentative schedule. At 7 p.m. April 7, Nativity Lutheran Church on the corner of 13th and Amity Streets, will be the site for the Glee Club's first post-tour concert. Oley Township rounds out the agenda by engaging the Glee Club to sing at Union High School on April 12.

The repertoire of the Glee Club has been increasing steadily ever since the end of the holidays. Among the selections selected thus far are "Wonderful Copenhagen", "If Thou But Suffer, God To Guide Thee", "I Believe", "The Lost Chord", "Gloria To God In Heaven", and the theme song of the Glee Club—"To Thee We Sing".

Band

The rejuvenated Albright College Concert Band is looking forward to fulfilling their engagement at Moravian College in Bethlehem. This will probably be the first public appearance of the band sporting their new uniforms. The uniforms are charcoal grey, with red and white trim. They are patterned in military style.

There is still time for students that have talent along instrumental music lines to join the band. At the present time the concert band numbers 30 but musicians are needed to fill the other 15 uniforms. Support your band. Attend practice Monday and Wednesday at 3 o'clock.

Heart Broken

By Ima Largeclp
 Alias Sandra Strickler

Dear Miss Largeclp:

I have a beautiful face, a terrific figure, and wear lovely clothes. I also know that I am very talented and have a wonderful personality. The only catch is — I never have any dates. What's wrong? I need your help!

Thank you,
 Miss DD
 (Dateless Dora)

Dear Miss DD:

From reading your letter, I have decided that you are just a tiny bit conceited and should try to evaluate your true worth. If this fails, are you sure there isn't something even your best friend won't tell you?

Good luck,
 Miss Largeclp

Dear Miss Largeclp:

I've been going with the same guy for two years. I'm beginning to wonder if he really loves me, as he only calls me once every three months. Do you think he could possibly be taking me for granted? Should I continue to wait around for him, or should I begin to date others? Help!

Miss FF
 (Frustrated Flossie)

My dear Miss FF:

I have thought your problem over carefully and have come to this conclusion.

My dear, you're through — finished! You might as well go out with other guys. If your boy friend was still interested, he would call you at least once a month. Join the girls of Selwyn Hall and take up knitting.

Sincerely,
 Miss Largeclp

Dear Miss Largeclp:

I have admired a certain football player from afar for almost three months. I see him on campus almost every day and I try to be at the same place he is whenever I can, but he rarely speaks to me. Do you think he realizes that I am madly in love with him? What am I going to do to make him know I exist?

Miss AI
 (Always Ignored)

Dear Miss AI:

Get into the thought of the man of your dreams by doing the following:

1. Talk, sing and giggle as loudly as possible when he is around.
2. Wear tight red sweaters with tighter orange skirts.
3. Dye your hair mint green.

How can he fail to notice you? How can anyone on campus fail to notice you?

Best wishes,
 Miss Largeclp

Greyhounds Here For Court Duel Tomorrow Night

Albright Passers Lose Four Games; Seasonal Record Now Stands 2-6

IN THE LION'S DEN

By Phil Eyrich, Associate Editor

History repeated itself last Saturday night as the Albright courtmen dropped a game to the Pirates of Seton Hall after holding a substantial early lead. The final count was 92-72. Last season, when the game was played in the Albright fieldhouse, the Lions held a nine-point lead as late as midway in the second half, only to lose out 79-68. This year, on the Pirates' home floor at South Orange, N. J., Coach Will Renken's charges were on top until, with four seconds remaining in the first half, Charlie Lorenzo converted twice from the foul stripe and gave Seton Hall a 34-32 edge at the intermission.

Again, as in last season's contest, Dick Gaines, Seton Hall's candidate for All-American honors, paced the Pirate quintet to victory. Although held to just three points by Fred Dietzel's close defensive work in the first half, Gaines broke loose soon after the second chapter began and ended the night with 29 points and the game's high-scoring honors. His passing on the fast break was also responsible for a substantial number of his teammates' field goals.

Lorenzo Stars . . .

Credit must go to Lorenzo, a 6-4 senior from East Orange, N. J., for coming off the bench late in the initial half and sparking the Pirates to their 34-32 halftime lead. He scored nine of the last eleven points Seton Hall had in the first chapter to put Coach John (Honey) Russell's team in the forefront. In the second half, it was a case of too much experience as the Seton Hall passers took command early and eventually spread their margin to 20 points. Even so, the Lions remained in contention most of the way. Late in the game the Renkenmen cut the Pirates' lead from 18 to 11 points in the period of about a minute, but at this point the Albright comeback stalled when Ron Berthesavage and Gaines each hit on drive shots for the hosts.

Gaines, who Dell Magazine calls "the best rebounder for his size in the country" and "an All-American," commented after the game that the Lions' squad was "a real bunch of hustlers with some good shots" and added that Albright was "real tough both this year and last" in its meetings with the Pirates because of some "real good boys on the team." Gaines, who stands a personable 6-0, is obviously the key to the success or failure of the Seton Hall quintet, although the Pirates' squad is filled with taller and equally-experienced personnel.

The Albright jayvees astounded everyone by jumping into a 34-14 lead in the first half against the Seton Hall frosh, despite the fact that the Pirates held a height advantage of almost five inches a man over them. Eventually this edge in height gave the hosts the victory, even though their play was sub-par for a Seton Hall five.

Action Begins In Court Leagues

The intramural basketball league began action on Monday with a slate of eight games. The Independent team edged the Dorm "A" team by a 53-52 score in the first overtime in a game that was close all the way. Gerry Work scored the winning tally and ended with a total of 14 points for the night. Bob Harter, eight points, Ed Shurilla, 17, and Terry Reedy, 12, were other scorers for the Independents.

LeRoy Long, Dave Walk, and Don Matclavage starred for the Dorm "A" squad. They collected a total of 32 points, scoring 16, 13, and 13 respectively.

In other A League games, the Kappa five ground out a 54-51 win over the APO courtmen and the Zetas were victorious over the Pi Taus, 44-39.

Games in the B League found the Freshmen whipping the Gladiators, 65-32, the Dorm quintet edging the Daymen, 45-43, the Pike five turning back the Pi Tau "B" team by the close margin of 30-29, and the Kappa "B" squad downing the APO "B" team, 39-36. The Zeta "B" team won its game with the Westsiders by forfeiture.

Bill Brennenman leads the A League in scoring with 25 points and Barry Gable tops the B League with a total of 19 markers after one round of play.

The intramural schedule for the coming week follows:

Red And White Five In Five-Game Losing Streak This Season

Albright College's varsity cagers dropped four more games recently to run their string of losses to five straight and push their overall record to two wins and six losses. The Lions lost to St. Joseph's 71-55, Lehigh, 62-55, Seton Hall, 92-72, and West Chester, 72-63.

The Red and White were defeated on December 12 by the St. Joseph's Hawks, one of the East's ranking teams. The game was close most of the way, with Bruce Riddell scoring 17 points and Bruce Storms 11 for the losers. Kurt Engelbert, a candidate for All-State honors, was the leading scorer of the game with 28 points. St. Joseph's sported a strong rebounding club that hit on nearly 50 percent of its shots to sew up the victory. Storms had 12 rebounds while playing little more than half the game.

Albright visited the Lehigh Engineers on January 2 in a return match. The Lions had previously defeated Lehigh in the opening game of the season, 54-45, and had a personnel edge on the Engineers. Albright, giving up countless baskets on bad passes, fumbles, and lost balls, could not keep pace with its hosts. Lehigh, led by a rough, if not polished, center, Arnis Balgavis, who repeatedly came off the floor to grab the rebound and make the field goal, out-hustled the Lions and earned the hard-fought victory. Balgavis' 14 points were high for the victors as Riddell scored 15 points to lead the Red and White.

Bucknell Provides Opposition For Albright Quintet On Tuesday

Two highly regarded regional quintets, Moravian and Bucknell, will provide the opposition for the Albright courtmen during the coming week. Tomorrow night, the Lions will be host to the Greyhounds of Moravian and on Tuesday night they will travel to Lewisburg to meet the Bucknell Bisons. Both games start at 8:30, with Jayvee contests set for 7:00.

Junior Varsity Wins Second

After losing to St. Joseph's and Seton Hall, the Jayvees picked up their second win against six defeats at the expense of the West Chester Jayvee squad, 69-52 on Monday night.

Against the St. Joseph's frosh, Tom Faust contributed 14 points and Lou Molnar 10 in a losing cause as the Jayvees fell 54-46. Hoping to hit a winning stride against Seton Hall, the junior Lions walked off the floor with a 10-point half-time lead. However the Seton Hall team came back strong in the second half to end with a hard-fought 73-60 win. The Lions had three men scoring in double figures as Richie Greene hit for 21, Charlie Smith

PLAYER OF THE MONTH

Bruce Riddell, senior member of the Albright varsity courtmen from Lansdowne, has been chosen The Albrightian's player of the Month for December. The 6-4 Riddell has been a regular on the Albright quinet for four years as a center and forward.

This year Riddell leads the Albright quintet in points scored with 127, field goals with 45, foul shots converted with 37, and rebounding. He has also been a standout defensive performer this year as well as in the past.

Riddell needs only 22 points to attain 1000 points for his collegiate career. He will then be in the same class as former Lion greats such as

After a slow start, the Greyhounds have copied three consecutive contests in recent games with wins over Tampa, 100-69, Lebanon Valley, 81-61, and Adelphia, 87-65. The victory over Lebanon Valley snapped the Flying Dutchmen's four-year win streak on their home floor. Albright lost to LVC on the latter's court in December by a 74-68 count.

A year ago the Lions split even in two contests with the Greyhounds. Albright won, 81-73, in the home game, but lost, 74-70, in the rematch at Moravian. Russ "Skip" Fegley, a native of Reading, is the key player on the Moravian quintet and has recently surpassed the 1000-point mark for his varsity career.

Bucknell has compiled a nine-win, one-loss record entering this week's competition. The Bisons have lost only to powerful West Virginia Tech in the Hofstra Invitational Tournament while rolling to wins over Cornell, Gettysburg, Lehigh, Colgate, Delaware, Wagner, Springfield, Hofstra, and Juniata.

John Beatty, Mike Corrigan, and Mike Tannenbaum have been the big guns for Bucknell so far this season. They head a list of eight lettermen on the Bison's squad, which will have a height advantage over Albright.

Tall Squad

Coach Ben Kribbs can rely on Jim Beidleman (6-7), Harold Danzig (6-6), Bob Ericsson (6-6), and Beatty (6-4) to give the visitors rebounding strength. Corrigan, who hails from nearby Kutztown, came off the bench in several of Bucknell's early games to enable the Bisons to be victorious.

Bucknell downed the Lions twice last season, 66-63 and 95-88. The Bisons have moved up in basketball prowess in recent years and should be a tough match for the Red and White.

Eddie Anlian, Hops Galden, and George Conrad.

He believes that the best game of his basketball career came against Lafayette in his freshman year when he scored 25 points against the powerful Leopards.

Riddell's best shots are the two hand set shot from the side and a sweeping hook shot when playing the pivot. Playing as a forward this year, he has scored consistently with a two-handed jump shot.

Albrightians State Opinions About Acts Of Aggression

A recent all-campus survey on the question of the week, "What position should the United States take regarding future acts of aggression?" revealed the following comments, as gathered by Robert Poff, '60.

Niel Singer, '60: "They should either give the United Nations a freer hand in the work that they are doing, or else strengthen their foreign policy so that we stay on good terms with other countries."

Lee Swartz, '58: "As long as the U. S. is a member of the United Nations, they should back the U. N. one hundred percent against all forms of aggression."

Apt. D-5: "Since the United States does not have the ability to suppress aggression on its own, it should co-operate with the United Nations in subduing acts of aggression."

Ronald Shannon, '60: "The position the United States should take regarding future aggression should be that as directed to us by the United Nations. In the United Nations our hands are bound tight, we can't move towards any type of aggression on our own without their consent."

Thomas Grant, '59: "We should support, as far as world opinion would allow, any act of aggression that aims at furthering individual freedom. We should condemn and, if necessary, suppress and act if aggression threatens individual freedom. Such a policy would of necessity, have to bypass the United Nations' immediate approval for by the time the United Nations could act the greater part of the fighting would be over."

Dennis Bohn, '60: "As an active member in the United Nations, the United States should wholeheartedly support the decisions of the United Nations concerning any form of aggression in the world."

Francis Jervis, '60: "I think we should protest and send any aid that we can to the victims."

Joanne Entz, '60: "If such action would threaten world peace, I believe the President will take the appropriate stand."

Albright Passers

The Pirates, gifted with a generous supply of height (the starting team averaged 6-4.5) and a classy ballplayer in Dick Gaines, were surprised to find themselves behind 14-4 early in the game. Albright out-rebounded its towering opponents and led with three minutes to go in the first half, 23-23. Charlie Lorenzo put Seton Hall in the lead with a last minute spurt. The Pirates led at halftime, 34-32.

In the second half, Gaines, who had been held to three foul shots previously, went on a scoring rampage. He scored 26 points in that period to finish the game with a total of 29. In the second half also, the Pirates bigmen began grabbing the rebounds and thus were able to run up the score to a final 92-72 count. Bruce Riddell turned in one of his finest performances, scoring 23 markers for Albright.

The Lions faced a small but scrappy team on Monday night in the West Chester Rams. Although they outsize their opponents in every position, the Lions cagers were outplayed in every department. A pair of sharp shoot-shooters, Bill Huebner and Terry German, bombarded the hoops all night, scoring 24 and 20 points respectively. Stellar defensive play by Tom Carr, the Ram center, kept Albright in trouble throughout the game. Carr, a shot-blocking specialist, was at his best in the close game as West Chester won, 72-63. Merrill Eckhart scored 17 points for the Lions.

Riffle Resigns As Assistant Grid Coach

Richard "Dick" Riffle, '37, resigned recently as assistant football coach here at Albright due to the pressure of other activities. He was backfield coach for the Lions during the 1955 and 1956 seasons.

While at Albright, Riffle was a Little All American football player in an era when Albright was a small-college grid power. A half-back, he is considered to be one of the finest grid stars the college has produced.

He played professional football following his graduation from Albright, and is presently employed by the Carpenter Steel Company of Reading.

No successor has been named to the vacated position.

British Schools Offer Courses For 1957 Summer

Summer study at British universities is open to American students in 1957 according to an announcement made today by Kenneth Holland, President of the Institute of International Education, 1 East, 67th Street, New York City.

Six-week courses will be offered at Oxford, at Stratford-on-Avon, and at the capital cities of London and Edinburgh.

A limited number of scholarships will be available to American students. Two full scholarships are reserved for graduate students. Award and admission application forms may be secured from the Institute of International Education in New York City or from its regional offices in Chicago, Denver, Houston, San Francisco and Washington.

Closing date for scholarship applications is March 1, for regular applications, March 30.

British Universities

British Universities have combined annually since 1948 to organize a special program of summer schools. Courses are planned to serve the needs of post-graduate students, but highly qualified undergraduates in their junior or senior years will be accepted. Many American universities allow credit for attendance at these sessions to both graduate and undergraduate students.

Courses to be offered next summer are: Shakespeare and Elizabethan Drama, the University of Birmingham course given at Stratford; Literature and Art in Georgian England, 1740-1830, at the University of London; Literature, Politics and the Arts in Seventeenth-Century England, at Oxford University; The European Inheritance given by the Scottish Universities at the University of Edinburgh; and English Law and Jurisprudence at the University of London. The last course is open only to students enrolled in accredited law schools and law graduates.

Each of the schools provides a variety of excursions to places of interest in its area and often arranges visits which are not open to the general public.

These courses are not designed primarily for undergraduates. In previous years, graduate students, teachers and mature people working in a variety of professional fields have attended the schools with profit.

Education Organization To Observe Centennial

By Margaret A. Shull
President, National Education Association

The National Education Association, which includes a majority of the teachers and school administrators of America, will observe its 100th birthday in 1957.

For almost a century the NEA has worked with all those who believe in the schools. It has assumed that there is a joint responsibility between citizens generally and teachers for the welfare of children and youth—so naturally it expects all, not just teachers, to join in observing the Centennial anniversary of the founding of the organized teaching profession in America.

Special Commission

More than a year ago the NEA set up a special Commission of 21 leaders from both inside and outside education to plan the Centennial observance. This Commission had chosen as the Centennial theme: "An Educated People Moves Freedom Forward." By this theme the Commission wishes to involve all people, not just teachers alone, and remind every citizen of his stake in the schools by calling attention to the close relationship of education and freedom.

This Commission also set up three general objectives to guide the program of observance:

1. To consider the decisive role of education in a changing world.
2. To stimulate to action to provide adequate education for the increasing millions of children.
3. To strengthen the teaching profession in its service to people of all ages.

The first of these objectives is meant to use the Centennial occasion to get people to look critically and appreciatively at their schools. It calls upon everyone to pause for a calm, clear look at the whole of the nation's school program in the light of a century's experience, to see the difference schools make in a world where change, though dramatic and confusing, is taken for granted—and to see what his own local schools are doing and what they need.

Second Objective

The second objective is aimed at calling attention to the pyramid of school problems with which the century culminates. The Commission feels that the whole future of education has endured for a century in American education depends upon whether or not the nation faces the climatic problems the century has brought.

Objective three represents a responsibility of the teaching profession itself. It calls upon teachers, in a day of desperate shortages, to dedicate themselves to greatness thru a greater appreciation for their own work—to see every student as important, even under pressures that tend to make them lose human personalities in routine and detail. It calls too upon young people who might become capable teachers to consider joining the profession with its challenging responsibilities—to help "strengthen" it.

Thirty Projects

The NEA had some thirty projects approved by the Commission to carry out the Centennial program. This report reaches the school press of the nation thru one of those projects. Students, whose welfare has always been regarded by the NEA as the highest purpose of a responsible teaching profession, are invited to participate. They are called to examine their own schools critically and appreciatively—not for the finding of any "sermon" on the greater advantages this generation is being given by its elders, nor for seeing what "wonderful" teachers they may have today, but for the role students themselves have in helping to build the progressively better schools America has been trying to build for a century.

While projects making up the NEA Centennial program will get some coordination and promotion from NEA headquarters in Washington, D. C., the observance will not take place in Washington, but all over the nation. For a century the NEA has depended upon those who believe in education everywhere to join it in behalf of schools. What is more natural than that on the occasion of its Centennial it continue to do so.

for 12, and Molnar for 11. Travelling to West Chester, the Jayvees enjoyed the best night of the year in winning 69-52. The Jayvees had not less than five men scoring in double figures. Greene led the team with 16 points to boost his season's total to 117 points. Bob Snoup and Lowell Scherer had 14 each, Faust contributed 12 and Smith 11.
