"WEEKS" TO COME

American big business and the men and women who comprise it are often subject to abuse and mistrust. Often individuals who are associated with big business are seen in the role of the 'fatcat industrialist' conceived by the public. Albright College has been selected to participate in a new and different type of educational experience in cooperation with the Western Electric Corporation. The Executive - in - Residence concept involves entertaining a major corporate leader on our campus for a week. He shall serve as a resource person in order that one may gain more insight into current practices in industry philosophy, employment needs, and plans for the future.

The program emphasizes the human aspect of business. The opportunities which will be offered during the week of April 25 are designed to withdraw from the old 'defense-of-business-monologue' mold. Mr. E. Wayne Weeks, General Manager of Western Electric's Reading Works, has consented to dialogue and to work with students in a variety of settings throughout his five-day experience. A Faculty Forum on April 26 at 3:30 pm will be of special interest to students in several disciplines. It shall deal with the now-famous 'Hawthorne Experience' (a psychological study of labor/management relations).

Dinners with groups of students as well as several receptions have been planned in order to reach as many persons as possible for input and exchange. If you have questions, comments, or if you would just like some honest conversation about the corporate outlook in America, be sure to seek out Mr. Weeks between April 25-29.

Remember----If you don't put in your two cents, you can never expect any change!

DESIGN CONTEST ANNOUNCED

Ever want to be a Picasso, or a Marc Chagall or a Diego Rivera?

Ever seen a concrete well just begging for a painter's brush and good designs in jazzy colors?

If you have ever come out of the sub you could have walked straight into one. If you turned right so as not to flatten your nose against said concrete well and proceeded a short distance, then made a left into the doorway leading to the basement of the theatre, you just passed two more blank weeks.

The Fine Arts Commission is sponsoring a contest to decorate these three concrete surfaces. There are more wells in the passageway leading to Bern Street, but that will remain to be developed at a later time. The wall facing the sub entrance has prime visibility and is considered most important. The more intimate area leading into the theatre basement, however, lends itself to some very interesting possibilities including the doorway area.

Students are invited to submit designs or murals for the above areas. Scale drawings of the walls are available in the Freedman Art Gallery, the Art Department and Campus Center Desk. The winning designs will be announced at the opening of the Student Art Show on Wednesday, May 11th.

Senate Note :

The Albright College Senate is holding an open meeting to discuss changes in the Campus Center Snack Bar for the 1977-78 academic year. All students and faculty are invited to attend and participate.

The meeting will take place in the Audio-Visual Aids Room at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 28th.

Dale J. Vandersall, Sec., Albright College Senate

SNACK BAR PLANNED

As a result of the Albright College Senate's action in its November 1976 meeting, plans are underway to provide a staffed snack bar in the basement of the Campus Center during the next school year. The College Senate, 'Recommended that the College implement a non-automated snack bar by the 1977-78 school year.'

Under the leadership of Junior, Charyl Sullivan, a committee has been established to review plans for equipping and renovating the area. When plans have been finalized, work will begin at a time convenient to student needs.

Support for the renovation will be sought from parents of students as a part of Albright's Annual Fund campaign. All parents have been notified of a telephone campaign that will take place on Sunday and Monday evenings, May 1 and 2. Albright's director of annual fund, Carlton Dodge, is recruiting thirty students to do the calling on these two nights. If you are willing to help, please sign up in Sherman Cottage. Calls will be made from a local business from 6:30 until 9:00 p.m. each night. The goal for the telephone campaign is $10,000 -- which will be used to purchase equipment for the new snack bar.

Dear Editor:

It has been brought to our attention that the day on which perspective freshmen came to visit Albright was scheduled for April 2. This year April 2 coincides with the first Passover Seder, a major Jewish Holiday. We feel that this shows a lack of consideration for the Jewish students presently attending as well as those planning to attend this institution. This is not the first time that something of this nature has occurred at Albright. For example, final examinations have previously been scheduled on Saturdays, the Jewish Sabbath.

We feel that a religiously oriented school such as Albright should be more sensitive to all of the religious groups represented on this campus. We would prefer to think that this is not as much a lack of consideration as it is a lack of planning.

Sincerely,

The Hillel Chapter of Albright College.

Dear Members of the Hillel Chapter:

Considering that the first Passover Seder did not begin until sundown Saturday night and the Admissions Department Program was over much before this, one would have plenty of time to be at home for the holidays (unless of course you live in Canada). Also, the Spring Preview Program is run traditionally during our Easter Vacation each year, and this was the only logical time it could be done.

Sincerely,

A Fellow Jew (who stayed for the Admissions Program) and member of the Albrightian Staff in conjunction with the Editor of the Newspaper.

Walkathon scheduled for May 15th

On Sunday, May 15, 1977, hundreds of thousands of American Jewish families-- the young and the old, parents and children, friends, strangers, and neighbors-- representing the full spectrum of Jewish communal and religious life from coast to coast will be walking together in a spirit-raising, fund-raising demonstration of their solidarity as a people. This event is the first National Walk-a-thon--WE WALK AS ONE!

For the Jews in Reading this is not a new concept. Over the past three years we have demonstrated, to outside communities our solidarity as a people through our Youth Walkathon. This year will be no different. We are asking not only our youth, but families young and old, large and small, to join in this march for unity on Sunday, May 15th.

Please keep this date clear and check your mail for more information. Although our community is small in numbers, let us show that we are strong in spirit.

Sincerely, Bobbie Lawit, Youth Director, Reading Jewish Community Council.

Home Economics Department Receives Accreditation

The 'foods and nutrition' program offered by the Albright College Department of Home Economics has been granted approval by the American Dietetic Association, Dr. Donna L. Cowan announced.

The granting of approval was based on the presentation of curricular and professional standards by the department, and its receipt in so short a period of time after submission is a tribute to the concentrated effort of the faculty, students, and administrators concerned.

Albright's foods and nutrition program now meets the academic standards set by the ADA which involves four broad areas: physical and biological sciences; behavioral and social sciences; professional sciences; and communication sciences. The courses in these areas are combined effectively to create a unique blend with emphasis on the liberal areas - the underlying philosophy of the college.

As an integral part of the home economics offerings, the approved program is designed to interpret, evaluate, and apply the nutritional aspects of food for improving the health of individuals, groups, and communities. This approval broadens the career options for students, which might include the administration of programs in foods, nutrition, and dietetics; further research and graduate study; and involvement in industry and community and government agencies.

In an effort to enrich Albright's existing offerings and meet the published demands in employment the Department of Home Economics has added, in recent years, several new courses in different areas which include the newly approved emphasis, clothing and textiles, housing and design, family relations and management, child and human development, and have economics education.

Dr. Mahmood A. Kahn, a member of the faculty since 1975, is coordinator for the program. The recipient of the Ph.D. from Louisiana State University, he has published several papers in the fields of foods and nutrition. Among his numerous professional and organizational affiliations is the American Dietetic Association.

Dinner Theater Planned

This summer there will be a new experience on the Albright Campus. During the month of June a summer theater will be in operation. The show is an original musical revue, entitled 'A Little Bit of Angst'. Written by Charles Gallagher and Kenneth Blekicky, the show deals with the life and times of Harry Angst - a modern everyday man.

Tryouts are open to anyone. Have a song and music ready; an accompanist will be provided, or bring your own. Also have a one and a half minute monologue prepared. Auditions will be May 6 at 8:00pm, in the theater. Pay for the month will be $300 and free room. See Dr. Lynn Morrow for details.

Linda Adlestein, Fleetwood, a teacher in the Berks County Pre-School Program and a photographer for Berks Filmmaker's Inc., is exhibiting a collection of her works in a 'one-woman show' in the Library Gallery of Albright College April 17 to May 9.

LOONEY TOONZ

This week, folks, we delve into the subterranean realm of Heavy Metallia. If you go into any record store these days and go to the assorted section in no more than five minutes you can drop $25 or more on these species of animal. In short, the number of people making heavy metal music is staggering.

However, I won't devote any time to such well knowns in this category like Queen, Rush, Kiss, or Aerosmith. Instead I'll try to introduce the reader to some of the more interesting newcomers.

First in line and perhaps the best of them all is Cheap Trick. Hailing from Kansas, these boys nevertheless bring a decidedly English style of heavy rock to the ears on their debut album. There are ten numbers on the album and nine of them are out and out acts of unbridled guitar violence. Robin Zander's voice is similar to that of Alice Cooper.

If you haven't heard of the Runaways by now I'll tell you not to worry. Don't waste your money on 'Queens of Noise'. The girls have forsaken all of their punch and aggression for slick production methods. The numbers all limp along at half speed and get no help from wimpy vocals. There's not a memorable cut among them. If you want the real thing, go out and snap up their first album. Besides having some fine rock and roll it has a great picture of the girls inside.

Next comes Piper. This three guitar band from Boston has produced a truly commercial first album. Bill Squier's anguished vocals are perfectly balanced by the strident interplay of the guitars. Four of the numbers on this disc could easily make it on AM radio. They are 'Out of Control', 'Who's Your Boyfriend?', 'Telephone Relation', and 'The Last Time'. This album's a gem.

All I can say about Mr. Big's 'Photographic Smile' is, 'Avoid at all costs'. The lead singer's chirpy vocals remind one of second rate Slade while the herky jerky rhythms sound like the work of a Chinese organ grinder. They may be good in concert but this is real trash. Deposit in nearest circular file.

Lastly, I must mention Starz. The biggest in terms of sales of all these bands, they may no longer deserve to be termed beginners. The first album combined lots of guitar with a talent for melody that most of these acts lack. However, it tended to become monotonous after a couple listens. This is no longer so. The boys have just released a single called 'Cherry Baby' and if its any indication of the quality of their upcoming album 'Violation' I can hardly wait. Listen to it once and you won't be able to either.

Next week: REO Speedwagon keeps pushin!

Futurism is photo theme

IMAGES OF TIME, Past, Present and Future is the theme for a national photography contest announced this week by TIME Magazine Publisher Ralph P. Davidson.

Prize-winning photographs will be selected by a panel of judges consisting of world-renown photographer Alfred Eisenstaedt, former White House photographer David Kennerly and Lee Jones, editor of Magnum Photos. The winning photographs will be published in a special advertising section on photography entitled 'Photography: The Universal Language' in TIME's November 28, 1977 issue.

Details of the photography contest will be announced in the April 4 issue of TIME. Deadline for entries is September 1, 1977.

Mini-Conference Scheduled

Danforth Associates from more than twenty colleges and universities in the Allegheny Region will gather at Albright College on Saturday, April 30, for one-day mini-conference on 'Teaching Values in the Areas of Politics and Science,' Dr. Eugene Barth has announced.

The conference, the first of its kind in the local region, is co-sponsored by the Danforth Foundation, ST. Louis, Missouri, and Albright College. The sessions are designed to provide greatest opportunity for discussion and fellowship. Most events are scheduled in the college's Campus Center, beginning with registration at 9 am.

Addressing the campus guests are Dr. Robert M. Veatch, senior associate of the Institute of Society, Ethics, and the Life Sciences, Hasting-On-Hudson, N.Y., who will discuss 'The Impact of Values on Technological and Scientific Decision Making at 9:30 am, and Dr. Richard A. Falk, acting director of the Center for International Studies, Princeton University, whose topic at 11 am is 'Values as They Relate to Political Decision-Making.'

Dr. Leonard Barret, Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., is chairperson for the afternoon panel discussion on which Mrs. Veatch and Falk will serve as respondents. (Dr. Barret is a graduate of Albright College). A series of small-group discussions also are scheduled to enable more in-depth consideration of various aspects of the general topic.

Danforth Associates are college and university faculty who have serious commitment to undergraduate teaching, and who benefitted by Danforth Foundation grants to help fund their graduate studies. Associate selections are based, in part, on their dedication as teacher, interest in scholarship, and efforts to improve faculty-student relationships.

The men dropped their first three matches to Gettysburg, Elizabethtown, and Muhlenberg by respective 9-0, 7-2, and 6-3 scores Coach Dale Yoder hopes that veteran Greg Westman will be able to team with the freshman trio of Ben Bucca, Mark Harris, and John Brusck to give the Lions a winning combination.

The women also took it on the chin in their 1977 opener losing to Kutztown State 3-2. The Lion winners were Peggy Schmidt in singles and the combination of Nancy Jo Greenawalt and Nancy Weaver in doubles.

In the only other sports action of the week the golf team dropped to 0-2 on the year as they were defeated by Haverford College 419-443 at Haverford. The Fords Kirk Luntey fired a 76 over the Merion Country Club course to lead the victory. The Lions' Doug Artz was low for the Lions with an 80.

Freshman Dwight Volz broke the Albright College pole vault record twice this week as the cindermen won one and lost two to even their season record to 2-2. Volz vaulted 13 feet 6 inches in taking second place in the triangular meet Wednesday, April 13 against Muhlenberg and Franklin and Marshall to break the 1966 record of Carmen Commuale of 13-2 3/4". The Lions placed second in that meet with 46 points. F&M won with 98 points while Muhlenberg finished with 37.

On Saturday, The Lions again lost to a strong Lebanon Valley team 92-53, but Volz outjumped teammate Joe Shea to record his second record of the week: a leap of 13 feet, 11 3/4 inches. Shea cleared 13-4 3/4 to take second. Volz was unsuccessful at three tries at 14-3".

Volz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Volz, is a former Mercer County, N.J. pole vault champ from his days at Ewing High School. Saturday's vault bettered his own personal best by one-half inch.

BASEBALL

The baseball team also swung back into action this week with a sweep of a double-header against Elizabethtown winning 9-8 and 3-1. Senior pitcher Tom Glossner went the distance in the first game, and he was credited with the win despite having lost a 6-3 lead. Glossner ignited the winning rally in the seventh by leading off with a homer. Such fireworks weren't needed in the second game as the Lions followed the three-hit pitching of freshman Bob Jims to the 3-1 win. The victories evened the Lions' season record at 2-2.
