Parents of Frosh Attend Luncheon, Visit Classes

Parents of the current crop of freshmen were given the opportunity to observe a normal day in the college lives of their sons and daughters when they visited the college on Tuesday for the annual Parents' Day. No special program, other than a luncheon, was planned, but the dorms and classrooms were open for inspection all day.

Because of the large number of freshmen this year, only the parents of the new collegians were in attendance. The college announced that a special Dads' Day is planned for November 4. A feature of the day will be the Albright-West Chester football game. A Mothers' Day will be arranged for sometime in May.

Because of the lengthened lunch period, other classes were shortened, about the only evidence of a special program. Chapel was held at the usual time with Dr. Geil as speaker. All students except frosh, ate earlier than usual in order to give more time to the luncheon program for the freshmen and their parents.

Entertainment at the luncheon was provided by the Girls' Glee Club and by Jeanette Snyder, pianist. The Glee Club sang "Rain" and "The Alphabet" by Mozart. Miss Snyder played Chopin's Valse in C Minor and "Malaguena" by Lecuona.

Dean Walton presided and President Masters was the chief speaker. Outstanding campus personalities introduced included Miss Norton, dean of women; Dr. Gingrich, freshman adviser; Lewis Briner, resident adviser in the freshmen boys' dorm; Donald Burger, president of student council, and Rev. Leroy Briniger, director of public relations.

Visitors on the campus included Mrs. Winfield H. Ammarell, Birdsboro; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Arnold, Reading; Mrs. Floyd Bachman, Reading; Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Bast, Reading; Mrs. Millie Bench, Reading.

Orchestra Elects Officers For Year

At its weekly rehearsal on Monday, October 9, the Albright College Orchestra organized for the year. Its members unanimously elected Paul Ackert as president and Margaret Savidge as secretary. Marie Bertolet was elected treasurer.

Under a new academic ruling, the members of the orchestra will receive credit, and an orchestral rehearsal will be recognized as a regular college class. A "cut" system will also be initiated.

This year Mr. Hans Nix, the conductor, anticipates a finer and better orchestra. He has already received three engagements for the orchestra. Toward the end of the year, the orchestra will give a concert on the campus.

"Y.'s" TO CONDUCT STUNT NITE TUESDAY

The joint "Y.'s" will sponsor a stunt nite in the chapel on Tuesday, October 24, at 8 p. m. All the social groups on campus will take part in the fun-fest.

Academic Rating At 10-Year High Last Semester

The highest academic rating since the second semester of the 1930-1931 school term was set at Albright College last spring.

During the last semester in 1939-39, a general average of 2.69 or B—was set by the students. The ten year high set at the turn of the decade was 2.61.

Although these figures are rather late in being published, they might provide inspiration for some people.

The following are the students who won recognition on the Dean's list: ("A" ratings)

Class of 1939—Carl Bauman, Kenneth Betz, Lewis Briner, Louis Bush, Paul Eisenacher, Jane Evans, Joseph Gable, Charlotte Guenther, Martha Hall, Dorothea Klein, Thelma Kutch, Vivian Pear, Rodney Price, James Reed, Sidney Sattenstein, Senta Schmidt, Mabel Thomas, Paul Wallat, William Woods.

Class of 1940—Donald Burger, William Butscher, Jane Buttorff, Mary Capallo, Jane Dick, Betty Dietz, Mary Dunlap, Louise Eastland, Martin Epstein, Paul Golis, Ada Gossler, Alan Hamilton, Emerson Hoppes, Winifred Hunter, George Hurley, Byrdie Kalish, William Kirlin, Louise Keller, Edith Keys, Bessie Knerr, Gene Lau, James Snyder.

Class of 1941—Catherine Buzzard, Albert Falcone, Adele Fergeson, Marjorie Lebo, Carl Mogel, Marian Flummer, Thelma Rebert, Margaret Savidge, Emma Shenk, Esther Sippel.

Campus Organizations Plan Informal Programs For Home-Coming Alumni Saturday

The whole sophomore customs committee agree on one thing: that the frosh are good sports. They think the frosh show much willingness to cooperate, do what they are told, and take everything with a smile. Of course, the sophs admit that they won't let the frosh get away with anything.

Olga Bitler says there are some frosh who offer polite excuses for not wearing customs; but, on the whole, they behave very "do-silly." They all know their Alma Mater (note to the upper classmen) and have the cutest signs seen on the campus in many seasons. Miss Bitler made some wise observations, saying that the frosh actually like their customs on rainy days. Besides, the frosh are surprised to note that, under sophomore compulsion, they can do things they never thought they would have nerve to do.

Marie Zaffiro wasn't quite as sentimental about the frosh. She thinks that on the whole the frosh are good sports, "except for a few cocky ones whose high husses are beginning to stagger."

Jimmy Pomeroy thinks the boys have lots of spirit, more than former classes have shown.

Clem Boland really had the best comment. He thinks the girls are very good looking.

ALBRIGHT STAFF TO MEET THURSDAY

An important meeting of the ALBRIGHTIAN staff will be held in room 101 on Thursday, October 19, at 3:30 p. m.

'Kaffee Klatch' In Library After Moravian Game

The alumni are coming home tomorrow!

That explains all the window cleaning, floor polishing, carpet-sweeping and general house cleaning going on in the frats, sororities and dorms.

For a big majority of Saturday's home-coming program is dependent upon the initiative of the respective organizations on campus.

The big show, of course, in the annual Moravian-Albright grid tussel scheduled for 2 p. m. In the evening the alumni will eat dinner with their former classmates.

A Kaffee Klatch for the grads will be held in the Alumni Memorial Library immediately after the football game. It will be sponsored by the Berks county chapter of the alumni association.

Most of the campus groups will entertain their out-of-school colleagues with parties, smokers, etc.

Pi Tau Beta's hayride followed by a barn dance and treasure hunt hold the spotlight among these activities.

The Zeta's have appointed a special committee to prepare what they term "a surprise program for the returning brothers." Their new home is an added incentive to "bring back the boys."

The A. P. O.'s also have new quarters which will be open to the home-coming alumni.

Open house in the freshman dormitories, third floor of the "ad" building, former home of the A. P. O.'s, is also on the official Saturday schedule.

Y.W. Poll Requests Cooperation In Religious Groups

The purpose of the Y. W. C. A. on campus according to a recent questionnaire presented to all women students recently, is to provide an opportunity for better understanding among religious faiths.

A majority of the 61 ballots returned in the survey agreed on that point. As a runner-up, the women suggested the "Y" should provide for the study and discussion of religious faith and its implication for personal and social living.

Of the 61 questionnaires returned, 21 came from seniors, 11 from juniors, 11 from sophomores, 12 from freshmen, two from faculty members and two unclassified.

The most popular questions were those listed under Preparation for Marriage. Most girls wanted to know how to prepare for marriage in college and what relationships should exist between men and women on campus.

Albrightian To Sponsor Football Guessing Contest

Now is the time for all good soothsayers, prognosticators, predictors, or what have you, to come to the aid of their parents, their heart-beat or just plain friends who would like to see Albright clash with Upsala in the Lions' stadium on Saturday, October 28.

For the ALBRIGHTIAN is offering two ducats for the aforesaid event to the best guesser on campus. A list of 20 football contests being held throughout the U. S. tomorrow appears on the sports' page. Try your hand at naming the winners and possible scores. The latter will be used to eliminate ties.

And the time for your foretelling is very short. The ballots must be cast before tomorrow (Saturday, October 21) noon in the registrar's office. Results will be announced in the ALBRIGHTIAN next week. This battle of wits will be a weekly one, so keep your eyes peeled for the next issue of your favorite publication wherein there will be another ballot and another contest.

Here are the games: 1—Albrightian-Moravian; 2—Reading-High-Bethlehem; 3—Army-Yale; 4—Boston College-Temple; 5—Brown U.-Holy Cross; 6—Bucknell-George-

Campus Courtesy

Emily Post, with all her dicta about what's right and wrong in manners, doesn't help much on a college campus. We don't have much etiquette, but we do try to have a little courtesy. We've asked students to name the most flagrant offenses against common courtesy at Albright. Here are the results: read 'em and blush.

Most of us think the rest of us aren't friendly. We look the other way to avoid saying hello. That's really inexcusable on a campus this size. How about it? I'll say hello to you if you promise to answer with something better than an icy stare.

Table manners come in for a few comments. After all, boys, there's enough food for everybody—you needn't wolf it down. Someone objects to bargaining through hordes of hand-holding couples to go to the "Y" room after meals. The parlors are open, you know, and they're much more private.

The upperclassmen would like to be recognized. Frosh, please read rule 12 (about class precedence) and obey it! We want doors opened for us. The bookstore needs either a one-way traffic system or a little courtesy. The grab and run purchase who pushes ruthlessly through the mob as if he owned the place earns our undying hatred.

The profs deserve a little courtesy, too. Even if you are bored and sleepy, you needn't combine a windmill stretch and a roaring yawn to prove it. And must you slam your books shut and run as soon as the bell rings, leaving the prof to talk to himself? The answer to that is a little courtesy from the professor. How can you get from the science hall to the switchboard in time for the other fellow to get back to the science hall again? If you'll time your lectures, we won't run out on you.

There's only one rule we need for campus courtesy: that is, give the other guy a break!

Mrs. Harding Is P. G. M. Speaker

Mrs. C. A. Harding was the guest speaker at Pi Gamma Mu's first meeting of the year, held at the home of Dr. Milton Hamilton, secretary-treasurer of the local chapter.

After Mrs. Harding's talk on "Juvenile Delinquency," the group joined in a general discussion. Tea and sandwiches were served.

Those present included Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Hunter, Jane Buttorff, Jane Dick, Louise Keller, Mary Capallo, Ada Gossler, Paul Golis, Alfred Comstock, Lewis Erner, Professor Evans, Dr. Greth, and Dr. Hamilton.

Alumni Attend School, Teach

Miss Jeannette Shelley of the Class of '38 is teaching in the Home Economics department of the Elizabethtown, Penna. High School.

Miss Fern Vach of the class of '38 is attending the Helen Moore Hoffman Secretarial School in Reading.

Seven graduates of the class of '35 were recently graduated from medical schools—John Deininger and George Knoll from Jefferson Medical School; Harold Strunk and Joe Vargyas from George Washington Medical School, and Sidney Wenger, Harold Krohn, and Harold Krling from Hahnemann Medical School.

German Club Starts Year With Doggie Roast

The German Club's 1939-1940 program is under way!

It started last Thursday, October 12, at the country home of Myrtle Siegman, where a doggie roast was held.

Boasting a large percentage of freshmen, the group sang German folk-songs, listened to the recordings of famous German composers—Wagner and Beethoven — and watched Charles Miesse put on an aquatic show in spring water that was not heated.

The club held a meeting last Tuesday night when Mrs. Gerrit Memming, wife of the club adviser, instructed the German students in the art of folk-dancing.

Dominos Workshop

At a meeting of the Domino Club on Wednesday, October 18, a workshop production directed by Helen Markey was presented.

The cast included Earl Stetler,

Marie Kauffman, Alan DeLong,

Janet Kitzmiller, Dorothy Gaul,

Marie Zaffiro, Paul Di Blasi,

Dwight Dundore, and Eleanor

Troutman.

Production committees for "The Far-Off Hills" were announced as follows: costumes and settings, Evelyn Heller, chairman; Dorothy Gaul, Emma Shenk, Marjorie Frundt, Virginia Black, Marie Zaffiro; business manager, Bob Kline, chairman; Ruth Ennis, Eleanor Vollmer; stage management, Harry Arnold, Earl Stetler, Margaret Hollenbach, Maxine Pincus, Ethel Yeakel, John Hertz; publicity, Ada Gossler; ushers, Marie Kauffman, Betty Baker, Janet Kitzmiller; make-up, Peg Thompson.

Zeta's Meet

Several important matters were discussed at the regular meeting of the fraternity on Monday night. One of the most important things was the setting of a tentative date for the fall dance. The dates in mind are November 4 and December 4. The place at which the dance will be held has not yet been chosen. Last year's successful "jam-meeting" was held at the Iris Club in Wyomissing.

Special preparations were made on Tuesday for the benefit of freshmen parents who visit the house.

The boys from the Zeta house will do their part at stunt night, October 24, in the chapel. Al Comstock, imitator par excellence, will do his "stuff." The other boys will also try to make things interesting. The "choir-room quartet" has been practicing for two weeks.

Kappa Kut-Ups

Mario Nicetera has been appointed as monitor of behavior in the college dining hall. His duties consist of controlling the animal spirits of the brothers and constantly setting a fine example for the other diners.

Something new in inter-fraternity sports—a three or four man team which can bring home the trophy!

STUDENT'S DANCE

Student Council sponsored a dance in the dining hall last Friday night. This, their first event of the year, was very successful, for a large crowd turned out to dance to the rhythms of the whirling disks.

Science Notes

Albright College will play host to the members of the Lehigh Valley section of the American Chemical Society for their October meeting tonight.

Dr. George L. Royer of the Calco Chemical Company, Inc., Bound Brook, N. J., will speak on the "Application of Micro-chemistry and Microscopy to the Dyestuff Industry." The meeting will be held in the Merner-Pfeiffer hall of science at 8:15 p. m.

Activities will begin with an informal dinner in the college dining hall with J. Bennett Nolan, prominent Reading attorney and historian as the speaker. Recently returned from Europe, Mr. Nolan will present "some comments on Germany by a recent visitor."

Dr. Royer, a graduate of Akron University, specialized in optical chemistry at Cornell University from which he earned his Ph. D. degree in 1932. Since that time he has been employed by the Calco Chemical Company, manufacturers of dyestuffs, pharmaceuticals, and intermediates.

Serving as secretary-treasurer of the division of micro-chemistry of the American Chemical Society, Dr. Royer has presented numerous papers on microscopy, microchemistry and spectroscopy to various scientific groups. He is also chairman of the society's committee for standardization of microchemical apparatus.

Dr. Graham Cook, Albright chemistry department head and member of the society, is in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Graham Cook, chemistry department head, will speak to the Mohlar Scientific Club, at Dickinson College on October 25. He will speak on silk stocking chemistry.

Philosophers Plan Program

The campus philosophers assembled for their first meeting Thursday night, October 12, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Greth.

Vice-President Ellsworth Snoddy took charge of the discussion on the selection of a topic for the year around which to build.

From the various suggestions made, the group chose to discuss axiologies (the science of values) and their conceptions under various philosophic systems.

Snoddy will present the first research paper at the next meeting of the club on October 26.

LIONS COVET MORAVIAN WIN

The Lions Den

Don't expect to see anymore predictions about the results of football games in this column for a few weeks—for the present it seems much better to write about things which are more certain than the results of Albright's games.

A number of people contend that Albright lost to Bucknell on the toss of the coin before the game. This, from all appearances, was the case. As a result of the flip of the coin, the Lions had their backs to their own goal line at the beginning of the game and stayed that way for the duration of the battle. It is tough to score while playing defensive ball and that is what Albright was doing all afternoon.

The high wind was certainly a factor in the defeat of the Lions. It made wide-open play—laterals and the like—very difficult; and hence straight football was used, as it always is when nothing else works. Here, with straight football, Bucknell had the edge. They were a team on the rebound—out to win after two defeats—and they blocked and charged the Albright Lions right off their feet. It is true that some of our men looked good in spots; but that was the trouble all afternoon—the play was spotty in the wrong spots.

The way things look now, we can only hope that the fellows will snap out of it and come back against Moravian just as Bucknell did against us last Saturday. Above all, though, don't let the team down now. Give them your whole-hearted support—now is the time they need it most. Let them know you are all behind them—win, lose or draw.

This fall it appears that one of two teams from the Theolog building will take the intra-mural football title. Both the Theolog's and the Pi Tau's have shown up well in early games. The Pi Tau's are leading the league at present and, unless a dark horse appears upon the scene, they will win the first half.

Pi Tau's Lead Football Loop

Sporting a record of 4 wins and one tie, the Pi Tau football squad is leading the inter-mural wheel. A close second with three victories, one loss and two splits, is the Theolog Dorm aggregation.

The Kappas moved up a notch yesterday by virtue of a Zeta forfeit; while Clem Boland's six-pointer advanced the Day Students' win figures to two. They nosed out the Frosh Dorm.

The standings:

Battle Greyhounds Tomorrow Before Home-Coming Throng; Timm Offers Strong Opposition

SPORTS SHOTS

By CARL MOGEL

Dick Riffle flashed his old form for the Philadelphia Eagles against the New York Giants last Sunday when he carried the ball six times, gaining a total of 92 yards, an average of more than 15 yards per try. His best effort was a sensational, twisty, 53 yard runback of a Giant kickoff.

Coach Neil O. Harris is sending his freshman squad through the paces each night in preparation for the Muhlenberg tiff next Friday at Allentown. Football is definitely on the upgrade at the Mule school, which means a strong, powerful experienced frosh squad has been assembled by Doggie Julian, head coach.

Rumor has it that Albright will de-emphasize football starting next year. If Pittsburgh can do it and win games maybe it is worth a try.

Campus Etiquette rated about twice as many votes as Avoiding Campus Politics. Several girls suggested topics for discussion. Among them were an "Honor System," "Faculty and Student Relations" and "Day Student Problems."

As for public affairs, the girls are willing to let the boys worry about economics, and want to spend their time working on the problems of propaganda, peace, and racial brotherhood.

Informal group meetings led by students, faculty members and outside speakers are more popular than most forms of meeting. Addresses by outside speakers, and inter-collegiate forums were second and third choices.

Many girls requested a more adequate social program. Others listed vocational problems, and others wanted to know how to bridge the gap between idealism in college and the realism in the world.

Injuries Force Dietz To Make Radical Changes

The Albright Lions pry open the home season tomorrow afternoon at the stadium with the vastly improved Moravian Greyhounds before an expected capacity Home-Coming throng.

The Dietzmen are looking for their initial victory of the 1939 campaign and their sixth straight over the Bethlehem school which has yet to defeat or tie our local gridsters.

In the last two years the Lions have found the Blue and Grey easy victims, defeating them 25-0 in 1937 and 35-0 in 1938. This year, however, the clubs will be more evenly matched as Judson Timm, the new head coach at Moravian, has gathered the strongest team in the school's history.

The Red and White will have to be on the alert to stop the offensive tactics displayed by the Timm-coached aggregation in all three previous games. Although beaten by Lebanon Valley, recent conquerors of Franklin and Marshall, the Greyhounds topped the Vailian's 15 to 4 in first downs and 238 to 22 in yards gained from scrimmage, which shows their typical offensive power.

The Moravian attack features Larry Resati and Jimmy Fritchman, a blocking and running combination which has plenty of experience. Steve Lydorak, hard running Liberty High luminary, will also provide plenty of trouble for the Lions. His broken field running has been a high light in the Blue and Grey offense.

Coach Timm is grooming his exceptional pass receiver and punter, Big Jim McConologue, to be the center of a tricky aerial attack. McConologue, who towers 6 feet 4 inches, and weighs 190 pounds, can really travel when he gets into the clear.

Injuries to Al Gustitus "Cockey" Robeson and Chet Wielgolinski, have forced "Lone Star" to make radical changes in his starting lineup. Ray Thorpe formerly the starting left end, will probably handle the center post while Bob Baum, sophomore hopeful, will fill in at the vacated end position. Gustitus, responsible guard position goes to Jildo Zanot, who has had plenty of varsity experience. The probable starting lineups:

| Albright | Moravian |
|----------|-----------------|
| Baum | LE. McConologue |
| Johnson | LT. Hobbs |
| Zanot | LG. Burkhart |
| Thorpe | C. Policelli |
| McCann | RG. Desimone |
| Hydock | RT. Burcin |
| Snyder | RE. Wright |
| Soja | QB. Rosati |
| Duke | LHB. Sydorak |
| Assman | RHB. Croman |
| Pepelka | FB. Fritchman |
