88.5% of Students Earn Quality Grades, Says Dean

A survey of the academic reports recently submitted by the professors indicate that:

- Quality grades (A, B, C.) were maintained in 88.5% of all work.
- 110 men and 32 women received deficiency grades (D, E, F.) in 738 semester hours.
- 5.5% of student body received 28.9% of all deficiency grades given.
- The current mid-semester rating is slightly below the 10-year record established last year when 89.3% of all work was of quality grade at the mid-first-semester check.

The proportion and distribution of academic deficiencies for the first half of the semester is shown below:

Percentage of all work for which deficiency grades were given
8.1	10.	13.6	12.3	11.5
Percentage of class receiving deficiency grades. (Deficiency Group).
32.3	30.	42.8	41.2	37.5
Average number of hours of deficiency grades per student in "Deficiency Group."
4.6	5.4	5.6	5.1	5.2
Average number of hours of deficiency grades per student for entire class.

German Club To Present Annual "Weihnachtspiel" In College Chapel Sunday

Dr. Memming Directs Annual Cultural Event

One of the most colorful events on the college calendar will take place in the chapel on Sunday afternoon at five o'clock when the German Club, under the direction of Dr. Gerritt Memming, head of the German department, presents its annual "Weihnachtspiel."

The play, with its lovely old carols and colorful costumes, has become a campus tradition. It has become an event for which the college is noted in Reading and surrounding communities. The Christmas play has also become an integral part of the cultural life of the college.

Dr. Memming, who is looking forward to the best presentation in the four years during which the play has been produced, has named the following persons to the cast: Esther Gingrich, as Mary, and Paul Ackert, as Joseph; Harold Werner, innkeeper; Jean Bomgartner, chief angel; other angels, Myrtle Stegman, Emma Shenk, Jane Dick, Marian Hora, Ruth Ennis, Ethel Yeakel, Lucille Wolfe, Geraldine Ross; shepherds, Alois Meinberger, Geo. Henry, Donald Burger, Mr. Vogt; kings, Chas. Miesse, Carl Schneider, and Ted Lunine. The old Christmas carols will be accompanied on the lute by Mrs. Memming, and on the violin by Carl Fredericks.

The "spiel" itself is an old folk play based on the Christmas story. The settings and action are simple, but they tell their story eloquently. The dialogue is broken by frequent carols and traditional Christmas music. The "Weihnachtspiel" has caught something of the simplicity and loveliness of Christmas. It is an event which no student can afford to miss.

CANCEL VESPER SERVICES FOR CHRISTMAS PLAY

The Sunday afternoon vesper services conducted by the combined "Y's" have been cancelled for this week, because of the annual German Club Christmas Play.

WAA Sponsors Dance Tonight

Attention, all students! Come to the Sport Spree! The time?—tonight at 7:30; the place?—the dining hall. Unless you have already been nabbed by one of the many lassies selling tickets, you'd better pay your admission price of twenty-five cents and come to this gala dance.

Music by a recording machine? No sir! There will be jitterbug swing for the jitterbugs, and smooth rhythms for the non-jitterbugs, all furnished by our school orchestra, the "Albright All Rights," making their initial appearance at a school dance, and featuring their own vocalist, Gayl Harris.

Just in case you don't know it folks, this dance is sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association to buy athletic awards for its members.

At intermission, a grand surprise will be presented. Your admission ticket is your chance to see this surprise of the evening.

Only students and faculty will be admitted!

REV. ALBRIGHT SPEAKS AT TEA

"An Introduction to Bibliomania" was the theme of a talk by the Rev. Raymond W. Albright at the college library bazaar and tea yesterday afternoon at 4:30.

Students Jam Chapel To See Dizzy Drama

By MARGARET HOLLENBACH

Booos, crunching peanut-shells and howls of laughter proclaimed "The White Phantom" a huge success. The chapel was crowded with students for the faculty's second brave venture into dizzy dramatics. It was a big night for the students—they could shout the comments they'd been saving for months. The faculty audience consisted mostly in fond wives of the actors and little children who kept asking, "Is that my daddy?" Student comments were unchecked except by popular opinion (as when a chorus requested one heckler to keep quiet).

The play was a mystery thriller. Mrs. Harris was the determined woman who had rented a haunted house. Prof. Danford was the vacant-faced, derby-hatted policeman who didn't know anything, but "meant to find out." Miss Fenili was the heroine and the campus sweetheart, judging by the reactions of the audience. The hero, Prof. George, figured out the whole plot with his trusty slide-rule. His mother, a high-brow society woman, was Miss Elder. The one who stole everyone's heart was Miss Kleppinger as Eleven Moore, the partly-colored maid. We think the prize slam of the evening was someone's question after the play, "Oh, was that you hair, Miss Kleppinger?" The White Phantom was the man with the villainous moustache, Prof. Harding. That man's getting quite a rep! The play was directed by Robert Work who was assisted by Miss Norton. Miss Benninger was prompter and mistress of properties. Harry Arnold was the stage manager. George Henry collaborated on make-up.

Neatest bit of coincidence in the play was Mrs. Danford's walking in just as her husband was making cracks about his wife. And one crack that got lost in the noise should be noted. Miss Fenili said that if her aunt had never been kissed, she couldn't have died — you can't die until you have lived. We applaud publicly Prof. Harding's interpretation of the word "dumb-waiter."

A big feature of the evening was the concessions. Profs. Buckwalter, Nix, and Cook sold peanuts, candy and Coca-Cola. The audience was soon knee-deep in candy wrappers and peanut shells. Paper airplanes filled the air. If we can judge from the hilarity and wise-cracks, faculty stunt-night has become a campus tradition.

Christmas Seal Drive Under Way

The annual Christmas seal drive is on! Get your dimes ready, for that's what leaders of each class on campus are assessing students to pay for the 4,700 stamps allotted to the school by the Reading Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. Clarence Horn has charge of the Albright campaign, with Donald Burger as student head. In exchange for the proceeds from this sale, the Reading association gives, free of charge, the necessary serum for administering tuberculosis tests to seniors and freshmen. According to Dr. Horn, the association will also provide for X-Rays at $2.50 each.

Heart-Throb Sammie Wows 'Em With Snappy Test Reactions

Who is the latest heart throb on the campus? Here are some clues; see if you can guess who he is? He's not in the backfield nor is he on the line. He spends most of his time in bed and has four girls around him all the time. He knows all the answers. He is the youngest student at Albright.

Well, if you don't know who he is by this time, you haven't been around. It is Sammie, the fifteen-month old practice-house baby. Last week Sammie was given an intelligence test in the child psychology class, and he surprised everyone with his quick reactions to certain tests. Dr. Geil used the Kuhlmann Test which is the latest in human intelligence tests. Dr. Kuhlmann of the University of Minnesota published only last April, and Dr. Geil is one in a handful of clinical psychologists in Pennsylvania who can administer it.

Everybody who has seen Sammie is immediately captured by his bright smile and fluent conversation which consists mainly of "Da, Da," and "Bye, Bye." Sammie is the youngest and most sociable person on campus. He loves to have people come and play with him when he is in his pen, but if they peep at him when he is trying to sleep in his carriage, it brings out his worst side.

Sammie's future is undecided, but if you'd ever hear him banging on a tin pan with a wooden spoon you would certainly think he'll be able to beat a mean drum when he grows up and probably succeed Gene Krupa.

Designed by Rockwell Kent, famous artist, this poster emphasizes the strength and movement which are characteristic of the artist's work. "Protect Your Home From Tuberculosis" is the theme and the outstretched arm is a symbol of that protection.

Jasper Deeter To Speak Here

The Domino Club will present the director of Hedgerow Theatre, Jasper Deeter, in a lecture on the theatre at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, December 13, in the college chapel. Mr. Deeter is the founder and director of Hedgerow Theatre, the outstanding amateur repertory theatre in America.

Hedgerow is a cooperative group in which every member assists in all phases of dramatics. The star of one night's show may be taking tickets the next evening. Mr. Deeter, with his wide experience in the theatre, is an especially interesting speaker.

Mr. Robert Work has been trying to arrange for Hedgerow to present another play on campus. There was some difficulty about selecting the play. Meanwhile, he secured Mr. Deeter for December and David Metcalfe for a lecture on make-up in January. One of the Hedgerovians remarked that if Mr. Work couldn't get them all at once, he'd get them separately!

In order to make sure that the audience does not exceed the capacity of the chapel, those who wish to attend the lecture may get cards free of charge in the Public Relations Office.

German Refugee Talks in Chapel

For several days this week Albright was host to a German refugee!

Through the Social Action Committee of the Y. M. C. A., Dr. Klaus Hilzheimer, now of New York City, was the guest on campus. He spoke in chapel services on Monday and Tuesday. The American Friends Service Committee cooperated in bringing Dr. Hilzheimer to Reading.

He came to America in August, being accused of non-Aryan characteristics by the government. In Germany he had studied at the famous universities of Jena and Goettingen, where he supported himself by scholarships and stipends. He majored in literature and eventually earned his doctor's degree. He has written several plays and many articles.

On the campus Dr. Hilzheimer roomed in the freshman dorm. Coming Sunday afternoon, he spoke twice in chapel, and held student conferences Monday and Tuesday afternoons. He returned to New York late Tuesday.

The Snooper

By ANNE ONYMOUS

We wonder how long it will take Johnson to recover from his "Mary" weekend.

Mr. dance or not, Hastings seems to have lost ground in favor of out-of-town friends of Joe's.

A word to the wise suffices.—Have you met Miss Jones since she's back in circulation?

What frosh would like to "Horn" in on a fair Spanish senior's time?

The Gayl that swept the country is about to sweep the campus with her soft melodious rhythms. Warning: You'll be taken by storm.

Why does a certain barber on campus make trips to Johnson so often this semester?

Stories of the Week

At the switchboard:

"Good evening, Albright College."
"I'd like to speak to the Men's Dorm."

"Can you tell me which one? There are several on campus."

"Well," said the sweet, young voice, "I guess I want the single men's dorm."

Ed. Note—Well, you at least knew she didn't want the Zeta's.

While walking down the path, Audrey Goodling met two frosh girls and asked them whom they were taking to the dance. Sally could answer immediately for she was taking the same swain to both sorority dances. But little Miss Peggy hemmed awhile, and then blurted out, "I'm sorry, but I don't know whether you're a Pat or a Mu."

Quote of the week—

Paul DiBlasi—"I don't come from a monkey!"

We'll bet that Popelka and Plaskonis will never smell peppermint again. Next time you'd better say that you can't smell because you have a cold in the nose.

The Snooper saw at the Mu dance: Don Burger feeling as though he had won the elimination dance—Natalie and Butscher carried off the honors . . . Golis' theme song, "I stand and I wait and I wait and I wait" . . . Miesse and Lucille Wolfe acting as chief jitterbugs . . . Ross and Bitler leaving at intermission for another jamboree . . . the boy from Muhlenberg being the target for much comment.

FLASH—Who was that well-known Senior who got his dime back?

P. S.—Beware, we may have been "Mewing" last week, but we'll pick up some "Patter" at the dance this week!

Y.W.C.A. Features Fashion Parade

The Y. W. C. A. featured a fashion parade in the chapel on Tuesday. It was a class project of Miss Virginia Jackson who selected all gowns from the Jeanette Hop, Fifth and Penn streets, Reading.

An exclusive selection of sportswear, date, frocks and dinner and formal gowns with accessories, were modeled by the following members of the home economics department: Evelyn Belmont, Natalie Brant, Edna Bialek, Caroline Hastings, Helen Markey, Evelyn Heller, Virginia Gaul, Thelma Shimp, and Olga Bitler.

Albright Chemists Publish "Photon"

The first issue of the "Photon" was printed under the sponsorship of the Alchemists. The "Photon" is the official organ of the Intercollegiate Student Chemists' Society of which the Alchemists is a member.

The "Photon," whose editor is Alan R. Duke, is a bi-monthly publication, made up of the news of the various member colleges and universities. A copy is made available to every member of the Intercollegiate Student Chemists' Society.

The annual convention of the Intercollegiate Student Chemists' Society will be held at Albright College on Saturday, April 20, 1940.

Alumni Notes

The Berks County Chapter of the Albright College Alumni Association held a card party in the dining hall of the college last week. Approximately 150 persons attended.

Dr. Ramon G. de Molina and his wife, natives of Madrid, visited campus recently, as the guests of James Mohn. Dr. de Molina and Mr. Mohn attended Schuylkill College during the years '23, '24, and '25. After his graduation from Havana University, Dr. de Molina toured Europe, visiting in fifteen countries. At present he is a practicing attorney in Havana, and is trained for the consulate service.

It has recently been announced by Mathan Gery, director of the Reading Community Players, that Joseph Richter, jr., will have the lead in Sundermann's eighteenth century play, "Fires of St. John." This presentation will be given at the Woman's Club on December 7 and 8. Richter will have the part of George Von Harten, romantic leading character of the show.

Although this performance will mark Richter's first appearance with the Community Players, it is not the first time he has appeared before local audiences. While he attended Mt. Penn High School, he filled numerous roles with the school's dramatic units. At Albright College, Richter was one of the leading players in the Domino Club. Recently he aided in organizing the Drama Guild composed of Albright alumni, who will present performances in the college chapel.

Kappa's Hosts To Alumni

The Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity observed homecoming day on December 2. Among those alumni returning for the day and attending the Muhlenberg game were: Peter Foltz, Peter Alerinox, Charles Barnard, Erne Thompson, Mark Matz, Wesley Stevens, Hank Ross, Jack Stiller, Edward Nicoli, Frank Brandenburg, Douglass Sechler, Willard Burger, Ted Muri, Bob Keppler, Edward Zelonis, Paul Bollman, John Heilmann, Larry Hatton and Ray Kelchner.

Zeta's Furnish Home

The Zetas are going in for culture these days, subscribing for "Life" magazine. They have also decided to buy covers for the chairs in the house. The new rugs have finally arrived.

The house is really starting to look quite "snazzy," with the new curtains, chair covers and rugs.

A new rule was recently passed to forbid sweeping of dirt under the edge of the rugs.

All Bright Observations

By ALFRED COMSTOCK

The weather, the short end of a 3-0 score, and the fact that it brought to an end Albright's 1939 grid season, all contributed to make last Saturday's game a rather dismal affair. However, "Doggie" Julian was happy, and I suppose it is only sensible for us to recognize the fact that "every dog has his day!"

Could it be possible that the unlucky score could have been attributed to the wicked connivance of the White Phantom? It was rumored, on good authority, that that malevolent and ubiquitous spectre was seen on the football field—in fact, all four of him! Still worse! The White Phantom struck. And, none other than I myself was the hapless dupe of its diabolical duplicity. What happened? A couple of minutes before the whistle blew, my scarlet huggie skull cap, with the white earmuffs, was snatched from behind; pulled from off my score and concealed ere

I could detect the cape. Since then I have received no clues as to its whereabouts, other than three mysterious cryptograms signed "muff," and all left at different places on campus, where it was known that I would soon find them. While not one who is prone to be superstitious, I feel, nevertheless, that the White Phantom must somehow be the force guilty of perpetuating this heinous crime!

Albright has its Maginot Line, too, and judging by appearances I'd say that it has received a more severe battering than the French fortification along the Western Front. I speak, of course, of the circular "detaining" wall, back of the administration building, which has thus far proved to be a vulnerable point of attack by the safe drivers.

Relatives, Friends Visit Students

Peggy Carpenter, who is now attending the Pierce School of Business in Philadelphia, was a guest of Thelma Rebert for the weekend.

Jean Goodling spent a few days with her sister, Audrey.

Alumni who put in an appearance at the Mu dance were Mildred Lois Klinefelter, Ruth Holmes, Kitty Becker, Elvina Woerle, Elizabeth Polhemus, and Eleanor Ramsay.

Mary Hahn attended the Albright-Muhlenberg game on Saturday.

Verna Fye will spend the weekend visiting her brother, Dr. Paul M. Fye at Hempstead, Long Island. He is an alumnus of Albright and is now assistant professor of chemistry at Hofstra College.

11 CHEM MAJORS

chief of the department of chemistry, the group will visit the Chemical Industries' Exposition in Grand Central Palace on Friday afternoon and evening, the graduate laboratories of the Columbia University chemistry department on Saturday afternoon. The visit to Columbia University is on an invitation from Dr. H. C. Urey, head of the chemistry department, and Nobel prize winner in chemistry.

Those who will make the trip in addition to Dr. Cook are: James Snyder, William Brandenburg, Martin Epstein, William Kirlin, Gus Cohen, George Hurley, Thomas Frystack Dick, Walton, Carl Yoder, Richard Ziegenfuss and Harold Winterhalter.

The Lions Den

By ALAN R. DUKE

Now that the regular football season has sung its swan song and, with the exception of a few bowl games to be played, has been safely tucked away in moth balls until next fall, the thoughts of sport fans are turning to basketball.

You have probably noticed that the Lions will play three basketball games after our Christmas vacation has begun. If you are wondering why the schedule was so arranged, just remember that the basketball schedule was made up last spring and that the change in the date of Thanksgiving and the subsequent change in our Christmas vacation is responsible for this rather odd situation.

Coach Harris is looking for big things from the team this year. The squad will be molded around five competent seniors who have played regularly throughout the last two campaigns; and with such a nucleus, the team should really go places this winter.

It appears, however, that the varsity will have to step to keep pace with the freshmen hoopsters who have reported for practice. There is a wonderful wealth of material among these yearlings and the competition they can give the varsity should make the Lions a better club.

There is a rumor going around the campus that "Zeb" Czaikoski will be trying this year to grab that top spot for high scoring honors that he held for a large part of the season last year. "Zeb" was beaten out by a few points at the end of the season and wound up in third place, but if he has retained his "hot hand" he'll be on top this season.

Women's A. A. Elects Officers

Women interested in athletics at Albright College held a meeting Monday evening, when officers were elected for the newly formed Women's Athletic Association.

Those elected were: president, Lydia Faist; vice-president, Margaret Savidge; secretary, Margaret Wolfe; treasurer, Betty Dietz.

A system of awards was established whereby a girl must receive a certain number of points in order to gain a specified award. The system is as follows: 500 points, class numerals; 1000 points, letter "A"; 1500 points, jacket; 2000 points, gold key.

The W. A. A. will sponsor a dance on Friday evening, December 8, in the dining hall. Music will be furnished by the College orchestra and the admission price will be twenty-five cents.

Music Department Presents Recital

The music department with the co-operation of the "Y's," presented an organ and voice recital by Miss Jane Redcay, organist, and George C. Bollman, baritone, in the School of Theology Chapel on Sunday.

The program included miniature suite, by James H. Rogers; "Concert Study," by Pietro A. Yon; "St. Kevin," by Russell H. Miles; "Hear My Cry," by Harold Milligan; "Song Without Words," by H. Engelmann; "Cavotte," from "Mignon," by A. Thomas; "Londonderry Air," by The Birthday of a King," by Neidlinger; "Christmas in Sicily," by Pietro A. Yon, and "March Pontificale," by Fomoele.

17-Yard Field Goal Sinks Dietzmen In Muddy Finale

A field goal booted from the 17-yard line by one of America's ace place-kickers, gave Doggie Julian's cagy Muhlenberg grid squad a 3-0 victory over the comparatively weak Lions in the season finale on the local stamping grounds last Saturday.

The defeat, Albright's fourth in a nine-game schedule, came in the second quarter when Julian inserted Franklin who booted the ellipse between the uprights for the only score in 60 minutes of conservative and slippery football.

The statistics follow:

Mu's Dance at Wyomissing Club

The Phi Beta Mu Sorority held its semi-formal winter dance at the Wyomissing Club on Saturday, December 2. The girls and their guests danced to the music of Charles Wade and his orchestra. The dance was chaperoned by the Misses Elder and Fenili.

Freshman girls who were guests of the sorority received bracelets bearing the sorority seal. Those girls included: Mary Lou Houck, Peggy Thompson, Marion Hora, Helen Hain, Betty Wolfe, Irene Snyder, Lucille Wolfe, Sally Weaver, Miriam Weidner, Christine Hartman, Gerry Ross, Virginia Black and Marie Kaufman.

5 IRC Members Attend Conference

Five delegates of the Albright International Relations Club will attend a conference of the Middle Atlantic IRC at the New Jersey College for Women, New Brunswick, N. J., today and tomorrow.

"The Haves and Havenots" will be the title of an address by Dr. Moritz J. Bonn, German economist lecturing in this country. Other distinguished speakers will address the conference as guests of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace which sponsors these groups in colleges and universities throughout the country.

The delegates are Alfred Comstock, Paul Golis, Mary Klein, Thelma Rebert and Dr. Milton Hamilton.

DR. GEIL PRESENTS TALK

Dr. Milton Geil spoke to the Men's Forum of Calvary Reformed Church last Tuesday night. His subject was "The Psychology of Dictators." Dr. Geil also attended the Psychology Forum at the Pennsylvania State Hospital in Philadelphia last Thursday night.

Lion Hoopsters Work Out For Initial Tilt With Kutztown Next Saturday

SPORT SHOTS

By CARL MOGEL

The inside facts on last year's Wyomissing Poly-Albright College basketball game, as shown to your columnist by Coach Harris, prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that the Junior College does not deserve a game with our team this year or any other year unless corrects certain practices and adopts a favorable attitude toward the college.

Complete statistics for 1939 football show the following results:

Albright Opponents

First downs	85	84
Yds. gained rushing	1237	84
Passes attempted	152	148
Passes completed	60	49
Passes intercepted by	17	16
Yds. gained by passing	944	733
Points scored by	166	102

Remember these happenings on the gridiron this fall? Jake Hydock's sensational play at Bucknell; discovery of Jim Breen and his 38-yard quick kick against Moravian; Stan Kuklis's 50-yard dash against Upsala and 61 yard run against West Chester; Jim Breen's two sensational dashes of 91 and 70 yards at Dickinson; West Chester's late game rally against the Albright sophomores; Ray Thorpe's and Ted Soja's unbelievable pass catches at Franklin and Marshall; the Lion's gallant defense against Muhlenberg, which stopped the Julian tears no less than five times within the 10 yard stripe; the Red and White's crushing defeat of their ancient rival, Lebanon Valley; touchdowns by Al Gustitus and Chas. Wielgolinski.

Ted Soja's shoulder injury which prevented the signal-barker from seeing action in his last collegiate game, was the Jersey lad's first accident in his seven years on the gridiron.

Intra-fraternity basketball will not begin until January according to Coach Harris. The same seven teams which competed for the touch-football title, will be after the basketball toga now worn by the Kappa's.

The freshmen were initiated into fast competition on Wednesday night when they engaged the Reading High squad in a practice affair. The yearlings are the classiest cub squad since Cliff Doremus, Charlie Swartz, Ray McCrann, Jake Hydock, and Randy Horowitz, represented Albright three seasons ago.

ADDRESS HYGIENE CLASS

Miss Adams of the Visiting Nurse Association was a guest lecturer at the Home Hygiene Class last Thursday morning. She gave a very interesting talk on communicable diseases.

Practice Nights In 13-Union Gym; To Play 19 Games

The Albright basketball squads, both varsity and freshmen, began preparing for a strenuous campaign last Monday in the gym of the Thirteenth and Union school. All practices are being held in the evenings with the freshmen working out from 6:45 to 8:00 p. m., and the varsity taking over from 8:00 to 9:45.

This year all home games, of which there are eight, will be played at Northwest Junior High. The varsity will play a total of nineteen games while the frosh will battle sixteen opponents. All frosh games will precede varsity tussles, with the exception of one game with Hershey Industrial School in the Chocolate town on January 6.

The Varsity schedule follows:

Sat., Dec. 16—Kutztown State Teachers—home.
Mon., Dec. 18—West Chester State Teachers—away.
Tues., Dec. 19—Elizabethtown—away*.
Fri., Jan. 5—Ursinus College—away.

When you come back after Xmas

Take advantage of the "COLLEGE SPECIAL"
ROUND REDUCED FARES
TRIP

These special school and college rail tickets, with their liberal extended return limits, are immensely popular with and a great saving to students and teachers. When you're ready to come back after Christmas, buy one and save money. When Spring Holidays come you can use the return coupon to travel home again or use it at close of school.

The ticket agent in your own home town or any railroad passenger representative will gladly give you full details regarding return limits, stopover privileges, prices, etc.
