

Procko Wins Out; Bonner Will Head Graduates of '46

Marie Bonner emerged as president of her class, the 1945-46 seniors, for the third successive year, according to the votes of the present juniors who chose their officers last Thursday. Margaret Hendricks was elected vice president, Anna Wartluft, secretary, and June Plowfield, treasurer.

Miss Bonner won the presidency of her class the same day she lost the election of Student Council head to Bohdan Procko. She is vice president of the Domino Club, treasurer of the Alchemists, and publicity chairman of Student Council. For three years Miss Bonner has played varsity hockey and basketball and has sung with the Chapel Choir. She is a member of the Pi Alpha Tau Sorority.

Procko Wins

The Student Council presidency, as last Friday's special election of "THE ALBRIGHTIAN" proclaimed, was captured by Bohdan Procko in the campus-wide election held last Thursday. Mr. Procko, representing the Pi Tau Beta Fraternity for three years in Council, has been the treasurer of that body for the past two years.

Besides being known as a varsity basketball man this year, he has been active in Domino productions, the Intramural Athletic Council, the Daymen's Organization, and International Relations Club.

'Y' Officers

Charles Russ and Irene Fisher will head the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. respectively for the 1945-46 terms. In the men's organization, Mr. Russ will be assisted by Newell Wert as vice president, Robert Holtzapfel as secretary, and Jack Shafer as treasurer. On the women's side, Joy Cutler won the vice presidency, while Marjorie Christ will be secretary and Ferne Allen, treasurer.

Y. M. Prexy

Mr. Russ, who is the present vice president of the Y.M., is a pre-ministerial student majoring in social science. He is serving three Evangelical churches on the Port Trevorton Charge in the Central Pennsylvania Conference. He is secretary of the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity and a member of Kappa Tau Chi, pre-ministerial fraternity.

Y. W. Prexy

A member of the "Y" cabinet since her freshman year, Miss Fisher has served this year as chairman of the worship committee. She is also a member of "THE ALBRIGHTIAN" staff, and Pi Gamma Mu. She represents the non-sorority dorm women on Student Council and has played varsity hockey. She is majoring in social science.

In harmony with the general procedure throughout the nation, classes will be held as usual except for the periods stated above.

Dr. Kreckler Will Preach at "Y" Retreat; Rev. Knisely To Speak at "Y" Induction

Fisher, Russ Accept Charge of 'Y' Office

Tonight in a candlelight service, the newly elected "Y" officers and cabinets will be installed at 7:30 in the College Chapel. The Rev. Bruce Knisely, Y.M.C.A. president of 1942-43 and present theological student, will deliver the message.

Ruth Ritzman and Cecil Pottieger, '44-45 presidents, will charge the new president, Irene Fisher and Charles Russ, who will in turn charge their officers and cabinets. The Y.W.C.A. officers and cabinets will be dressed in white, according to the traditional custom.

On Thursday, April 19th, a Y.W.C.A. Conference will be held at the city "Y". Because of government regulations of conferences, the conference will be city-wide rather than nation-wide. Five committees will prepare discussion material for the entire conference. These committees will include members of both the college and city "Y's". The committees and members are: Leadership: Irene Fisher, Anna Wartluft, Lois Taylor; Work in Other Countries: Ruth Stirn, Julia Hassler, Marguerite Jungblut.

Financing the Program of the National Board: Agnes Snyder, Mary Alice Lippert, Ferne Allen, Jean Harer; Public Affairs: Martha Friedericks, Marian Gerberich, Mary Briner, Mildred Kauffman; Intercultural Organization: Mar-

Heath To Play Jive For Frosh-Soph Hop

Eighty-three 'til eleven-thirty on the evening of Saturday, April 21 will be dancing time for students of Albright. The occasion is the annual semi-formal Freshman-Sophomore Dance to be held at the Woman's Club on North Fifth St. Jack Heath and his orchestra will provide the music for the affair.

Tickets, at $2.20 per couple, are currently available from Heber Yeagley, Warren Pfost, Margery Plowfield, and Doris Hicks, freshmen; and Elaine Schwartz, Elaine Kyle, Reed Fredericks and Edward Daniels, sophomores.

The co-chairmen of the dance, Kenneth Good and Warren Pfost, made it known that refreshments will be served. Corsages will not be the order of the night, by special request of the committee.

Mr. Good's committee is composed of Roberta Calamara, Reed Fredericks, and Virginia Woerle. Mr. Pfost is assisted by Judy Scheuler and Shirley Sperans. Joy Cutler heads the sophomore publicity, and Marjorie Plowfield the freshmen. Elaine Schwartz and Jean Borgstrom will decorate the dance floor in the form of a spring garden scene.

Cutler, Wert to Plan Entertainment Feats

Dr. Joseph Willard Kreckler will be the speaker at the "Y" Retreat at Blue Mountain Camp on May 5th and 6th, according to the announcement released today by Newell Wert and Joy Cutler, co-chairman of the Retreat.

One of the outstanding ministers of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, Dr. Kreckler is serving the St. Paul's Evangelical Church in Red Lion, Pa., at the present time. He is a graduate of Albright in 1920 and the Princeton Theological Seminary in 1927. Dr. Kreckler was the 1943 baccalaureate speaker here, and received a doctor of divinity degree from Albright in the 1944 Commencement.

Mr. Wert and Miss Cutler are making all plans for the weekend, while Robert Buxton and Irene Fisher will handle registrations. Worship leaders will be Agnes Snyder, Robert Zeigler, Charles Kachel, Ferne Allen, Newell Wert, Joy Cutler, and Miss Anna R. Benninger. Mildred Kaufman and Warren Pfost will plan the recreational activities. Marjorie Christ will take charge of music, and Newell Wert will lead the singing.

Among the types of recreation to be enjoyed at Blue Mountain Camp are boating, canoeing, swimming, tennis, badminton, table tennis, and hiking.

Since the spring of 1943, "Y" retreats have been held spring and fall at Blue Mountain Camp, which is a summer camp of the local Y.W.C.A. Last spring, Janet Luckenbaugh and Fred Clewell were co-chairmen of the retreat, and this fall Jane Teitsworth and Charles Russ were in charge.

New Officers to Take Oath In Chapel, April 19

Bohdan Procko, newly elected president of Student Council, will take the oath of office Thursday morning at chapel program. After Paul Deysher, retiring president of Council, administers the oath, Mr. Procko will induct the 1945-46 Student Council.

Jack Teger, president of the class of 1945, will present the mantle to Marie Bonner, president of next year's senior class, who has been re-elected by her class for the third consecutive year. In addition to the new and retiring presidents of Council, the presidents of all classes and the new Student Council will be present on the stage. Awards of a key will be given to senior members who have served meritoriously and have attended three-fourths of the meetings.

Following the induction ceremony, a March of Time about South Africa film will be shown.

This morning, Dr. Gerritt Memming conducted the chapel program.

Domino Sets Date For May 17-18

Thursday and Friday, May 17 and 18 have been reserved on the calendar for the presentation of the forthcoming Domino Club production, "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde. The performances will be in the College Chapel at 8:15 p.m.

At a recent meeting of the cast and Miss Ruth Shaffer, director, definite rehearsal dates were set.

Essential Readings Discussed by Kirkus As Book Service Head Speaks in Chapel

The Cultural Program Committee brought to us last week a most distinguished and entertaining person—Miss Virginia Kirkus, the founder and manager of the Kirkus Bookshop Service.

According to Miss Kirkus, the idea for the organization came to her in a dream she had aboard a steamer returning from Europe. Evidently the dream was a very worthwhile one because she now has an extremely profitable business on her hands. Kirkus' job is to review new books for the libraries and bookstore throughout the world. And, lately she has spent a good deal of her time lecturing to women's clubs, colleges and similar organizations.

A very gracious manner and complete knowledge of the book world made Miss Kirkus' appearance an event on campus. The topic of her talk was "What Makes A Best Seller?" and she proceeded to outline four main points, with pertinent side remarks along the way.

Timing, in Miss Kirkus' opinion, is the first and most important factor in making or breaking a best seller. The fact that people like to read about other people is another point that must be considered in the rise of a book to popularity. Of course, there is resorting to sensationalism, but that is not real writing, according to Miss Kirkus. The lowest form of it is "sordid things unrealized done". A guest in the audience was Miss Mildred Jordan, well-known Reading author.

The Cultural Program Committee should be commended on the several fine speakers it has brought to our campus this year. Miss Virginia Kirkus is not the least of these by any means.

"Y's" Amend Laws, Change Wording

The following changes have been made in the constitutions of the Young Men's and the Young Women's Christian Association. There is a by-law in the constitution which requires that the changes be printed in "The Albrightian". The amendments are:

a. Insert between "arranged;" and "He" the following: He shall plan the Association's calendar and detail the programs to the proper committees.

b. Change "Program" to "Constitution."

d. Insert between "prescribe;" and "At" the following: He shall be chairman of the budget committee.

Article VI.—Section II.

At Half Mast

The nation bows its head in grief for the untimely death of our leader and commander-in-chief, Franklin D. Roosevelt. The familiar figure is no longer in the White House, steering us through the dangers of depression and war. The news of his sudden death was so shocking as to leave the nation completely stunned. Now we ask ourselves and one another, "What of America? What will happen to the war and to the peace?" We fear for the future. Yet in 1933, as he was taking the oath of office as president of the United States for the first time, Mr. Roosevelt said, "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself." He said those words to a people frantic with worry for the future. That message of hope can be delivered today, so timely is it. The United States of America does not have to fear for the future. We are a nation of 130,000,000 people, possessed of untold and even unknown mental and spiritual resources, as well as physical resources. President Truman has at his side the same experienced and efficient cabinet that our late president had. What is more, President Truman, like the rest of the American people, has as his goal the pursuance of a just and lasting peace. The American nation can face the future sorrowful in its loss but unafraid.

"We Aim"

As you may have noticed, this week the masthead of "The Albrightian" lists a new group of editors and a new business manager. It is the custom for the new staff to state to its readers its editorial policy. Our editorial policy is simple; we aim to give to the readers of "The Albrightian" accurate, adequate, and unbiased news coverage. It is also our aim to contribute as vital an element to college life as any student publication can. In performing our function as an organ of student expression, we intend to emphasize those elements which are in keeping with Albright's traditions of the past and her best interests of the future. The publishing of a student newspaper is no one-sided affair; we need your help. Your assistance may be threefold: cooperation in giving news to the staff; contributions in the form of letters to the editors and other items of general interest to the readers; and suggestions for improvements and new features you would like to see.

Our thanks to M. J. and Felice for their invaluable assistance to us in our first efforts, and may we profit by their experience.

Anybody Home?

Has anyone seen Joe lately? The Joe who got a ballot in chapel last week but forgot to use it until he saw the election results posted the next day. Or the Joe who said "Sure, we want Stunt Night," but was among the missing when ideas and plans were wanted.

Twice in one week, students were called on to put across a student event—an election and an entertainment. And twice in that week, Joe wasn't there. A mere 97 votes were cast in the all-campus election last Thursday to determine the holders of the highest student officers on campus. This number is 38 per cent of the present student body.

Half the organizations on campus responded with an "Aye" when participation in Stunt Night was requested. Two days before the program was to be staged, only two of those, namely Phi Beta Mu Sorority and Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity, were prepared to present their stunts.

How about it, Joe?

The Inquiring Reporter

Still in the 'springy' mood, your Inquiring Reporter wandered wistfully across campus to accost a few lucky ones, and ask—"How did you get your man to propose, or vice versa?"

Phyllis Abrams, English, '45:—Well, it was fall, and we had been to a concert of the most beautiful music at the Dell—under the stars—and—???

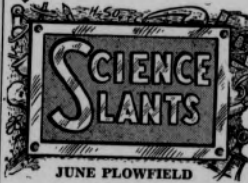

Alleen Schearer, pre-med, '45:—Bud proposed the old-fashioned, romantic way, but I was too embarrassed to say anything except "Will you please get up?" (She must have said 'yes', too, judging from the sparkler.)

Fatti Rumaker, psych., '45:—It was a fight to the finish, but I won! Elizabeth Pottieger, social science, '46:—When I thought he was leading up to it, I said, "Well, go ahead and ask me" . . . so he did.

Madeline Gable, English, '45:—"Maddy, someday will you share a little dream house with me?" (Who wouldn't?)

Al Loesch, pre-min., '45:—I can't answer that question . . . She did it. (Oh come now!)

Janet Luckenbaugh, home ec, '45:—The buttons on my jacket ended at "thief." (you know—rich man, poor man, beggar man, etc.) I guess Walt thought it his duty to save me from such a fate, so—!

PRECAUTION—this ten letter word should mean a great deal to the chemist who handles everything from the ingredients of T.N.T. to a steam bath; nevertheless, although warnings are given, many are the students who fail to heed such precautionary measures.

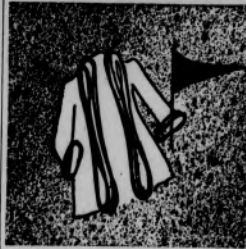

From now until the end of the semester it is imperative that the old adage "a stitch in time saves nine" be kept in mind by any chem student—fresh to senior—as it is only natural for students to rush to make their almost impossible deadlines. RUSH may mean the injury of many a chemist while running an experiment; furthermore, it may mean the danger of many other individuals.

This can be seen in the careless frosh who nonchalantly forces a piece of bent glass tubing, which has not been fire-polished, thru a dry stopper, only to find that his finger got in the way of his own strength. Or in the chemist who attempts to clean a test-tube by boiling cleaning solution with the result that someone's eye is hit with the stinging solution. Or in the student who uses a chipped beaker proving that he too has blood in his veins. Or in the chemist who wants to see what makes his hydrogen generator tick, so he removes the bunsen flame while the tubing is inserted in a pan of water. Or in the student who sets up intricate apparatus only to discover that he has a closed set-up. Or also in the passing stranger who lights a match in an ether-filled room. These are only a few of the possibilities in a chem lab, so come on, kids, value your life—be CAREFUL!

Students Lead Prayer, Hold Vespers Sunday

Noon-day prayer groups this week will be led by Robert Buxton, Tuesday; Robert Ziegler, Wednesday; Berwin Hainley, Thursday; Howard Smith, Friday; and Marian Gerberich, Monday.

Marjorie Christ will speak this Sunday evening at Vespers in Sylvan Chapel at 7:30. Robert Buxton led last Sunday evening's service.

Albright About Town . . .

Now playing at the Warner theatre is a sure-fire hit "Roughly Speaking". This is a lively comedy about love and marriage, and Rosalind Russell can be thanked for making it a huge success. Don't miss it if you're in the mood for real entertainment, and who isn't?

The Loew's is showing a picture called "In the Bag," and guess who's in it? None other than the famous feuding pair, Fred Allen and Jack Benny. If you like their sort of comedy, this is another must.

A new show is also at the Astor, "Sudan" with Maria Montez something for the boys.

"A Song to Remember," with Paul Muni and Merle Oberon, starting at the Embassy, is based on the life of Chopin and it was voted one of the best pictures of the year. Audiences across the country are raving about the glorious music in the film.

The Orpheum is reviving the comedy hit, "Believe It or Not," with Phil Baker. I'm sure that everyone of you has listened to him at least once over the radio. Now you have a chance to see the program on the screen. A story is interwoven in it too, which makes it even more interesting.

Now don't take us too literally, we know you have tests, term papers, and other such minor matters in your calendar—remember, these were just hints, that is all!

Campus Carrousel

The War Bond Drive:

It has been made evident during these last few days that Albright is working on a War Bond Drive. Yet, some of us feel that there is not enough publicity going on. Right—because there is not. The drive is supposed to last for an entire month. If we should put all our resources of publicity on the campus now, interest should be slacking within the next two weeks. Since we expect to have a final, and successful rally at the end of the drive, this would interfere with it. So remember—nobody is holding anything out on you. Try to sell bonds and stamps to your family and friends—Buy them here at Albright, because it helps us to reach our goal. Refresh your memory by looking over the letter that was mailed to you a short time ago, and remember—it's up to you to make this a real AMERICAN and ALBRIGHTIAN War Bond Drive . . .

The Home front:

It sure must feel nice to look over this issue of The Albrightian. Nobody will possibly notice any mistakes after that last issue . . . Believe it or not, but someone asked me whether the printer made a few mistakes in that last issue. (No names mentioned, and don't blame your friends.) It feels funny to carry this copy to The Albrightian office without seeing some of the things that were so peculiar to it, for instance dark glasses, etc. . . .

Dandy, this week, roars a lusty bellow for a tiny packet of T.N.T. in the person of Mary Jane Weber. This supercolossal bundle of dynamite is innumerable. Leadership is ever since her entrance in the summer of '42.

Her outstanding attributes are almost innumerable. Leadership is only one of them. This attribute has been tried and proved by her captaincy of "The Albrightian" for the past year. Whether it's rushing copy to the printer, or re-editing on streetcars, she is efficient. Her journalistic ability was made evident, too, by the fact that she won the coveted Douds Poetry Prize, and in her junior year managed the business for the "Cue".

Verbally, her talents extend beyond her frequent witticisms. She has been a member of the debating team since her arrival at Albright. As if this weren't enough, she also copped the Kelchner Junior Oratorical Prize.

She holds membership in practically every organization on campus. Pi Alpha Tau sorority, and Sigma Tau Delta, elected her vice president. Student Council, Tau Kappa Alpha, and Pi Gamma Mu proudly claim her a member. She is also extremely active in Y.W.C.A.

Majoring in social studies, she is solving Problems of Democracy at Reading High this semester. Despite her small stature, she manages to be a successful administrator, and is keeping future citizens right under her tiny thumb. The fact that they like it is characteristic of her tactfulness.

To be sure Dandy's laurels are merited by this brown-eyed mite. And as M. J. rushes about campus with never ending vitality, Dandy and the rest of us just sigh with weariness at the thought of her many tasks. But with energy equal in vigor to M.J.'s, Dandy gathers all his strength and growls again in praise and pride to this week's dandy, Dandy Lion.

LIONS IN THE RANKS

Home Ec Omelet

What do Home Ec girls dream of? Bendix washers, of course. Gayle Haupt will accept one for a birthday, Christmas, Easter, or wedding present. She's not particular. (Who would be?)

Popular Science is interested in the welfare of the housewife. They've perfected a machine for drying the wash. Put the wet things into it, set the controls, and soon it's out—ready to be ironed. These laundry aids will be available after the war. (That last phrase is used so often, printers should have a type block made for it.)

Bringing Home the Bacon

Did you know that if you dip bacon into cold water before cooking, it keeps it in nice long strips for sandwiches. Did you know that a small fish-bowl can be used for whipping cream, and will keep the cream from splashing out? (We advise that you remove the fish first). If you weren't 'hep' to all this information, thank the Home Ecers.

All this talk about accentuating the positive—but nothing about how to do it. The girls of the clothing department will give a demonstration on the subject. "How to Minimize Figure Defects" will be the topic at a fashion show at the regular meeting of the Women's Patron Division, Wednesday, April 18.

Peggy Shalter is interested in a machine that pins up the hem in a dress automatically. People work harder and harder to find ways to make work easier, and easier! (Philosophic, aren't I?)

Frosh Nominate Class Officials

Marjorie Christ, James Hedglin Warren Pfost, Ray Pottieger, and Robert Ziegler are the nominees for president of next year's sophomore class as chosen at the freshman class meeting last Wednesday. For secretary, the class nominated Grace Miller, Jean Jaglom, and Marjorie Plowfield; for treasurer, Jack Shafer, Robert Holtzapfle, Jeanne Flickinger. The results of the election which was held yesterday came too late to be included in this issue.

In Memoriam

Albright extends its deepest sympathy to the "Y" family in the death of their father last Saturday evening. "Mr. Albright," as the father of the "Y" family is always called, had been ill for a year and a half. The family have been recipients of a Thanksgiving basket, Christmas gifts, and other forms of help during this year.

FISHER, RUSS ACCEPT

Marjorie Christ, Elaine Kyle, Mary Louise Schappell, Miriam Kramer. The Albright Y.M.C.A. will be in charge of the closing evening worship service of the conference.

The Conference will open at 3 p.m. and will be addressed twice by the special guest, Mrs. C. Douglas Mercer, of Boston. Supper will be served at 5:30, reservations for which should be phoned into the local Y.W. by tonight.

The issue of having a Japanese-American student at Albright will be put to an all-campus vote soon to decide the question definitely. The forum held on this subject last Tuesday night seemed to indicate an agreement of the representatives of the various organizations on the affirmative, and the administration has given its approval to the idea.

The group expressed the opinion that getting the right type of person was more important than the sex of the person, although some of the group were of the opinion that men would be able to adjust to a new situation more easily. It was decided that the student, unless absolutely necessary, should pay his way.

One of the main topics of discussion toward a Japanese-American Cooperation was stressed as the important element in making the experiment work. The opinion was expressed that these students want to be treated just like any other student. They do not want students to be too over-solicitous for their welfare any more than they want to be ostracized.

III. Everybody,

What a beautiful day to be—studying. I just finished copying the vitamins—common name, chemical name, and formula. That's right, organic again.

Remember JERRY KOBRIN? He was a great promoter of the Albright campus in the Reading papers. He is an officer candidate. His address is O/C JERRY KOBRIN; Co. I; Second Platoon; The QM School; Camp Lee, Va.

HERBERT SILVESTRI S 1/c (FC) 9216869; USS Saratoga (CV-3); c/o FPO; San Francisco, Calif. writes to say that instead of being put on a small destroyer as he requested, he was put on the largest ship in the fleet—the USS Saratoga, an aircraft carrier.

In Holland

2nd Lt. GEORGE MORFOGEN O-3011190 is now at the 8th Field Hospital; APO 350 c/o PM; New York. He is somewhere in Holland.

Here is a letter from ENSIGN GERRY BOWKER to the entire student body, so that includes all you kids, too.

"Boy, those spring activities really sound neat. I'd like to be in the "in" but my fling has gone forever. This spring weather here made me homesick for Albright. "So Many Memories" could be my theme song. Guess I never will out grow spring fever. You know, it suddenly dawned on me—(suddenly after about six months thank-you, I owe you kids a few thank-yous. I know I've been on campus a couple of times, but then I was always too busy talking to be very thankful.

Albright Greeting

Your Christmas album and Easter greeting, and the roll of honor with its recent addition and "The Albrightian" has made my life in the service a happier one. It's a grand feeling to know that your alma mater still remembers you after you've gone—if you don't believe me, ask about 200 other fellows and girls, I know. Mae Jean has done a grand job with her Lions-in-the-Ranks, but I know from experience it comes from co-operation. Good luck, kids, and boost that 7th War Loan. Give all you've got to Albright and you'll get double your giving back. Sincerely, Gerry Bowker, '44."

Thanks a lot, Gerry. This letter is just an example of the many letters and cards that we received every week. Gerry did a good job with this column last year. I am proud to be her successor.

ENSIGN ERNIE S. KACHLINE, USNR sent another address. It is Unit 503; Division 7; ATB; Little Creek, Va. The card that Ernie sent had the picture of an instructor pointing out the different types of planes. The fellows, when they are finished with the course, can identify aircraft by split-second glances.

PVT. KENNETH FAYLOR 33 837-503; 1st ST Co. 3800 SU; A. & M. College of Texas; College Station, Texas writes that he has been in the hospital with the flu. He expected to get out very soon after he wrote the letter. I hope you made it, Kenny. Ken said that he went back to GI haircuts. They are less trouble than the other kind.

A powerhouse Zeta softball team got off to a good start by trouncing the A.P.O.'s 9-1 in a game played last Wednesday. Led by C. Russ and F. Saylor, with two hits each, Zetamen were never headed after the first inning. Landis and Pfost, each with a home run, helped to seal the victory for the winners.

The Zetas won the game in the first inning when they garnered five runs, four singles, a walk and Pfost's homer. From then on, Saylor, the mighty mite from Kutztown, had an easy time. The lead was padded in the third inning when the winner got four runs on two singles, Saylor's double and a home run by Landis.

The A.P.O.'s scored their home run in the sixth after two were out, when Lang's double, and error and Hyman's hit produced a run. Saylor, who pitched hitless balls for four innings, never was in serious trouble as he struck out five men. When Harting was reached for five runs in the first, he was renamed in favor of Hyman who gave up the remaining four runs.

Intramural softball got off to a good start on Wednesday, April 10, with the A.P.O.'s opposing the Zetas. In spite of the fact that the game went along smoothly here were, however, a few minor difficulties which will have to be ironed out before the softball loop can enjoy smooth rolling. The most important and probably the most perplexing problem seemed to be getting the teams on the field on time. Some of the participants on both teams worked in the dining hall and consequently had to get to work as soon as possible. In the future, I think, in all fairness to the other team, team captains should see to it that their respective teams are off field at the specified time.

Albright's clash of the sexes is finally going to be held on Friday, April 20, in the form of a softball contest. After two false alarms it seems that Horatio will finally be put on the block. At the beginning of the school year it was hoped that hockey could be used as the contest for Skunk Day; but, after giving the matter careful consideration it was felt that the risk involved with a game of this type was too great. So the Skunk Day Big Wigs turned to basketball. This also proved to have too many hurdles and the event had to be canceled until spring. It seems that now there are no obstacles in the way and that the Albright lasses will have a chance to avenge that defeat of last year.

Since Albright will have excellent tennis facilities in the near future, tennis enthusiasts are starting to wonder what the officials have in store for them. In connection with this we would like to suggest a tennis tournament for both boys and girls, and perhaps also the Intrafrat Council might organize a Fraternity Tennis League.

More on Intramurals

With the A.P.O.'s, Zetas and Pi Taus fielding baseball teams, a spirited league is in prospect. The Zetas lifted the curtain Wednesday afternoon by living up to pre-season dope and drubbing the A.P.O.'s 9-1. The game of the season will be when the Pi Taus, the pre-season favorites, meet the already tested Zetas.

The Pi Taus have plenty of power with hitters such as Red Angstadt, Bob Deach and Jim Hedglin on their team and seem to stand a good chance of winning.

Baseball Banter

By JIM HEDGLIN

Now that opening day is drawing night, the major league teams are coming down the home stretch in their Spring training program. The last phase in this program is usually a long list of exhibition games, but due to transportation difficulties, this list has been reduced to a minimum. However, the players seem to be coming around and they expect to be in good shape when the season gets under way April 17.

This season is destined to be one of the most unusual in the annals of baseball. Instead of being a group of players with great physiques, they will be a varied assortment of 4-F's, service discharges, and a large group of youngsters who would not be playing pro-ball if it weren't for the war. Never before have there been so many players with serious physical handicaps playing professional baseball. The most notable of those in the past was "Three Fingers" Brown, who became one of the best pitchers of his day despite the fact that he had only three fingers on his pitching hand. A glance at the training camp briefs will show how different this season will be.

For instance, there is Pete Grey, of the St. Louis Browns, who is playing first string outfield with one arm. Also there is Bert Shepherd, who is a former American League pitcher for the Washington Senators with one leg. In the outfield of the Philadelphia Athletics, you will see Harold Peck, who is wearing a special-made shoe to fit his left foot on which he has only two toes. The most important fact about these men is that they are making good as a profession that, before the war, you just didn't stand a chance unless you were physically fit in every way. When we read about fellows with fight like that it makes us prouder than ever that we are Americans. Baseball truly is America's National Sport.

Lads & Lassies Vie For Horatio As '45 Skunk Day Melee Looms

In an attempt to avenge last year's merciless hockey defeat a fearless female softball squad will undertake to defeat a hard slugging male aggregation in the annual Skunk Day classic to be held on Friday, April 20, at 4:40 p.m. on the School of Theology play field.

Albright's pet skunk Horatio will come out of hibernation on this day (it is hoped) just long enough to find out which sex will claim his personage for the coming year. During the last year, Albright's fragrant

Muhlenberg Defends Title on April 21

Saturday, April 21, marks the 22nd annual Albright Track Meet. The twelve county High Schools that have entered the meet are: Birdsboro, Boyertown, Hamburg, Kutztown, Mohnton, Mt. Penn, Muhlenberg, Oley, Shillington, West Reading, Wilson, Wyomissing, and Robesonia.

Muhlenberg, last year's champion, will be defending its title against such favorites as Mt. Penn, Birdsboro, and Robesonia.

Kline Stars

For individual honors, Bill Kline, Oley star, is expected to an annex the 220 and 100 yard dashes and the broad jump. Kline was winner of these three events in last year's meet. Tony Dadamio, from Birdsboro High School, will be gunning for his specialties the mile run and the half mile. The graduation of Mohnton's Gene Geiss leaves the weights field fairly open to competition, although, Baer of Wyomissing and Greenwald of Muhlenberg are favored contenders in this division.

Here are the standing records for this annual classic.

little pet was well taken care of by the male students who earned the right to the little fellow by trouncing the females in last year's contest.

Mary Eschwei and Robert (big boy) Deach will be the captains of the girls' and boys' team respectively. Miss Eschwei reports that either Judy Scheirer or Marie Bonner will handle the pitching duties for the fairer sex. From the other side we learn that, Forrest Saylor will toss the apples to the ladies.

Ginny Woerle, Phil Carter, Jean Borgstrom and Eschwei seem to have the most power when it comes to hitting the ball and are bound to give the male combination a bit of trouble with their slugging. Miss Woerle has already caused much comment with that circuit clout of a week ago in the Freshman-Sophomore game. Mrs. Eva Mosser, as was the case last year, will again coach the women's team.

As for male material Bob Deach reports he has plenty of hitting power and that if boys play ball they should be able to win the game with plenty to spare. To support Deach's statements are sluggers like Tiny Landis, Ed. Lange, Jim Pottieger, and Moose Biehl. Bob Procko is the home run man on the boys' team, having driven the ball out of the park on many occasions. Coach Harris will be the mentor for the fellows and will again attempt to do all in his power to see to it that Skunk Day stays with the fellows.

Last year, Skunk Day was in the form of a hockey contest. Because of many difficulties a repeat performance of this type game was impossible this year and thus softball will be used as the contest for the deciding of the champion sex.

Sports a la Femme . . .

To inaugurate the women's softball competition, the freshmen and the sophomores played the first tilt of the season last Friday afternoon, ending in an 11-1 tie at the end of the fourth inning. Starting off the season with a bang, both Virginia Woerle and Judy Scheirer hit two home runs in the game. Since the game had to be called at the end of the fourth inning, it will be finished at some future date.

On Friday afternoon, April 14, the freshman girls softball team defeated the upperclass women 13-6. Faye Sheetz was the freshman mainstay collecting a pair of homers for that cause.

For the first time in several years there will be a varsity tennis team. Drexel, Cedar Crest, and Moravian may be possible opponents in varsity contests during May. Practice will start as soon as the courts are finished. Holdovers from last year's outstanding players on the court are Marie Bonner, Madeline Gable, and Joyce Moyer. Jeanne Flickinger and Margaret Walker are freshmen contenders for berths on the team.

Bob Procko has been batting and catching balls for the Pi Taus with only one hand. It seems Bob has injured the "pinky" of his left hand. And speaking of injuries and baseball . . . Eddie Daniel's lovely brown eye has undergone a quiet process of evolution; it is now an attractive black, red and blue. A very hardball was magnetically drawn to it while Eddie was playing for the A.P.O.'s. . . Wow! Ginny Woerle and Judy Scheirer hit two terrific home runs apiece in the Freshman-Sophomore softball game. Contracts are being set up to import the above mentioned girls as well as Marie Bonner, and Mary Eschwei to play on the fraternity teams.

This week's sight of all sights: The Alice Marbles of the Albright campus playing tennis no the courts behind the grade school—quote, "No nets, no nuthin'" unquote. . . And who were those athletic ladies climbing trees last week? Fun, huh?
