

Student Campaign Raises $19,319 For Field House

592 Pledges Represent 85 P. C. Participation;
Junior Class Leads; Connor Heads Captains

A grand total of $19,319 in 592 pledges was raised in the three week student campaign on campus to aid the building program for a physical education and field house structure, it was disclosed by Robert M. White, general chairman, at the last report meeting on Tuesday. With 65 pledges worth $1,399.75 handed in at that time, the official drive fell just short of its $20,000 goal, with 85 per cent of the student body participating.

Last week it was announced that the city and county drive had gone over the $100,000 top by $2,900 and donations and advanced gifts still were pouring into the campaign office of the Centennial Fund. Including the student sum with the general drive's total, $410,000 or more will have been received since the beginning of the current year. The alumni phase started Monday toward a $50,000 goal. At the beginning of the campaign the College had a $240,000 balance on hand to apply toward the $700,000 construction and endowment expense.

Leading the class divisions was the junior class, Jay Shenk, chairman, with a total of 160 pledges, and $5,544.50, followed by the sophomores, led by Vincent Gentile, with 158, and $4,799.30. The freshman class had 153 pledges and $4,681 for third place, while the seniors recorded 121 pledges, totaling $4,294.10. Group A, Juniors and freshmen, Ralph Stutzman, co-chairman, had 313 pledges and $10,225.50, while Group B, sophomore and seniors, Doris Chanin, co-chairman, had 279 pledges and $9,093.40.

Average Pledge $32.60

Average pledge per person contributing was $32.60. In this category the seniors led with a $35.49 average, with the juniors, $34.65, freshmen, $30.59, and sophomores, $30.38.

Top team captains by number of pledges in the drive were Terry Connor, a junior, with $1,311.50, representing 35 pledges; Betty Bratton, a senior, $1,058.10, and 22 pledges; and Rodney Haas, a sophomore, $962.25, and 32 pledges. Leading by amounts were Connor, Harold Matter, senior, $1,252, Bratton, and Carol Krecker, freshman, $1,042.

Individual star solicitors included, by number of pledges, Matter, 11, Krecker, 10, Bratton, 9, Betty Martin, freshman, 9, Connor, 8, and Haas, 7. By amounts the leaders were Matter, $700, Martin, $447, H. Lee Frankfort, junior, $376, Fred Neuroth, senior, $360, Connor, $353, Ann Louise Killian, William Heidebaugh, and Herman Idler, all sophomores, were tied with $225.

Seniors Discuss Plans For June 1 Dinner

At a meeting of the senior class on Tuesday, March 7, Winifred Johnson, chairman of social activities, announced plans for a senior dinner and program at the Green Valley Country Club on Wednesday, June 1. The cost of the affair, which begins at 6:30 p. m., will be $6.50 per couple.

Frank Bird also reminded the class of the all-school roller skating party sponsored by Student Council at Holland's on Friday, March 31.

Farmer to Speak At S.C.M. Confab

Mr. James Farmer, a worker and speaker on inter-racial relations in New York, will be the platform speaker for the inter-collegiate Student Christian Movement conference on inter-racial and inter-cultural relations to be held here at Albright on the weekend of March 18-19.

Mr. Farmer is a dynamic young speaker who has had outstanding experience in dealing with practical problems of prejudice. He has cooperated on projects with his friend Bayard Rustin, another outstanding worker for racial equality, and was formerly a field worker with The Fellowship of Reconciliation.

Two Albright professors, Prof. Elmer Smith and Rev. Eugene Barth, will be discussion group leaders for the conference. Also on the campus that weekend will be group leaders from other colleges, and Rev. Hart Helmich representing the regional Student Christian Movement staff.

Invitations have been sent to 60 colleges and delegates will be here to represent each college. All Albright students who are interested in this problem are invited to come to the sessions.

The theme for the conference is "That All May Be One." These are the words from a prayer of Jesus' which have been adopted as the motto of The World Student Christian Federation. In the United States the problem of inter-racial and inter-cultural relations is probably the greatest barrier to the realization of this goal and desire of Jesus "That all may be one."

Lions Hope to Retain MASC Laurels Against Royals in Season's Final Game

The question of who will reign as basketball champions of the Western Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference for another year will be answered tomorrow night, when Albright's Roaring Lions, the defending champions, tangle with the Seranton Royals at the Northwest hardwoods starting at 8:30 p. m. A preliminary contest between the jayvees of both schools will get under way at 7 o'clock. Four seniors will ring down the curtain on their college careers in this, the final varsity fray of the first season coached by Eddie Gulian at Albright. The Lions have a 16-8 record up to date.

Having won the initial game earlier in the season, 62-48, against the Red and White at Seranton, which ultimately meant the present tie, the Royals will be out to repeat their performance. It will be the second year in a row that Albright and Seranton have had to play a sudden death fracas to decide the MASC title. Last year the Lions went to the foreign courts to snare a 79-57 victory and the crown. Both arch rivals are currently tied at three games won and two lost. Albright lost to Moravian and the Royals, Seranton to Moravian and Lebanon Valley.

The Royals have had tough sailing in their last six games and therefore the Holcomb men will be out to gain this all important win. Thus far this season the boys from Seranton have racked up a nine and sixteen record. On the bright side of the ledger the Purple and White eased by LeMoyné the first time, 55-53, drubbed little Wilkes, 86-26, dumped Hartwick, 58-53, squeezed by Kings, 54-52, and erased Moravian in their initial contest, 78-68, besides thumping the Lions, 62-46. Also on the credit side are the triumphs over Leba-

Council to Select Prexy Nominees

Next Tuesday, March 14, Student Council will nominate two juniors who have attended a majority of Council meetings for one year for the presidency of the Council. Those eligible are John Wise, Ray Schlegel, Jay Shenk, Virginia Kitzmiller, Marian McGintchen, Robert Miller, John Hoffert and Kathleen Guenther. Elections will take place April 12, 13, and 14.

The constitution drawn up by the Council committee will also be presented at next Tuesday's meeting. Anyone interested in this much needed and improved document should attend the meeting to get full information of the problems confronting the Council in writing a representative, democratic, sound, legal constitution.

The Leadership Training course offered every Thursday at 4 p. m. in Room 103 has been very poorly attended. Presidents of all organizations on campus are urged to encourage attendance. Particularly freshmen and sophomores (Continued on Page 4)

Lenten Emphasis Week to Feature Dr. Nels Ferre

Dr. Nels Ferre, noted Christian leader and author, will be the campus speaker for Religious Emphasis Week, March 27-30, announced Rev. Eugene H. Barth, Director of Religious Activities.

Dr. Ferre is a graduate of Boston University and did post-graduate work at Andover Newton Theological School, and Harvard University. He has had pastoral experience in Dorchester, Mass. In 1936-37 he was a Sheldon Traveling Fellow from Harvard University to Europe. Since 1939 he has been Abbot Professor of Christian Theology, Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Centre, Mass. Dr. Ferre is the author of "Faith and Reason," "The Christian Fellowship," and "Swedish Contributions to Modern Theology."

Dr. Ferre will speak at the chapel services to be held each day at 11:10 a. m. Freshmen and juniors will attend the chapel services in Union Hall on Monday, March 27, and Wednesday, March 29. The sophomore and senior classes will hear Dr. Ferre on Tuesday, March 28, and Thursday, March 30. Chapel worship services will be prepared by the Y. N. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. every day except Tuesday, when the Student Council Chapel Committee will be in charge.

Devotional services are scheduled for 7:45 p. m. Monday through Thursday evening in the College Chapel. These will be followed on Tuesday and Wednesday by informal discussion group meetings in the Lower Social Room at 8:45 p. m. These meetings will be open to all students and faculty members.

Monday at 4:15 p. m. Dr. Ferre will meet with the faculty members at their regularly scheduled meeting.

F.T.A. Sponsors April Conference

William H. Emerich, president of the Future Teachers of America Club, has announced Saturday, April 15, as a special F.T.A. Campus Conference Day for high schools in the surrounding area. Approximately four members will be selected from each high school to attend the conference.

Domino Club To Present Spring Play

Mrs. Shirk Names Cast For April Production

"Thunder Rock," a three-act play by Robert Ardrey about a man who is afraid of his world, will be given by the Albright College Domino Club on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, April 13, 14 and 15, Mrs. Annadora Vesper Shirk, director, has announced.

The 12-member cast was selected following tryouts early this week. In order of appearance, the members are:

- | | |
|--------------------|-----------------|
| Streeter | Jay Shenk |
| Nonny | Robert Waldner |
| Inspector Flanning | John Savidge |
| Charleston | Harry Nelson |
| Captain Joshua | Richard Stinson |
| Briggs | Harry Kousaros |
| Dr. Stefan Kurtz | John Reside |
| Melanie | Doris Chanin |
| Miss Kirby | Yvonne Veigt |
| Anne Marie | Beverly Bresler |
| Chang | Leonard Buxton |
| Cassidy | Howard Platzker |

"Thunder Rock" according to Mrs. Shirk, is a play for these times. It is the story of a man who is afraid of his world and who isolates himself by taking a job as a lighthouse keeper on Thunder Rock in Lake Michigan. In this lighthouse he creates an imaginary world for himself, which he peoples with men and women who were shipwrecked on the rock in 1839.

Albright Students To Attend Model UN at City College

Lillian Boyer, Gerald Englehart, Marilyn Himmelstein and William Skinner will represent New Zealand at the Model United Nations which will meet from Monday, April 10, to Wednesday, April 12 at City College, New York City. Professor William R. Bishop will accompany the group as advisor.

Miss Boyer, a senior, will be the New Zealand representative on the Political and Security Committee. On the agenda for discussion are three items: threats to the political independence and territorial integrity of Greece, the Korean issue, and Atomic Energy Control.

Francis Auermiller, Patricia Pierce and David Fulmer have been named to assist Miss Boyer.

Englehart, a junior, will be seated on the United Nations Machinery Committee. Listed for discussion here are the Interim Committee or the Little Assembly, weighted voting, and the veto. For his assistants, Englehart has chosen James Hevalow, Donald Ibach and Fred Kaul.

Miss Himmelstein, also a junior, will be a member of the Social, Humanitarian and Cultural Committee which will discuss freedom of information, discriminations against foreign labor, and exploitations of labor. Mrs. Margaret Pringle will assist Miss Himmelstein.

Skinner, a senior, will be a member of the Economic and Financial Committee which will discuss mainly Point Four. This deals with assistance to be given to backward countries and is an outgrowth of President Truman's inaugural address. Assisting Skinner will be Marie Kaputo.

The March meeting of the International Relations Club, to be held on Wednesday, March 15, in the Lower Social Room, will be in the form of a workshop. The committee chairmen will present their reports.

A Matter of Fact

In the February 24 issue of this paper there appeared a front page news article concerning the leasing of an off-campus house by the Alpha Pi Omega Fraternity. The event was termed "the first time in the history of Albright College that a fraternity has acquired an off-campus house," and "A.P.O.'s make fraternity history." A great clamor, which indicates the article was read or gained attention, (a thing which is very encouraging to ye editor) was aroused from rival fraternities over the question of "the first time in Albright history" and "make fraternity history." It seems that other fraternities claim the honors and cite facts and dates.

Of course we could succumb to the cries of alleged inaccuracies by putting the blame on poor and inadequate research, overenthusiasm, and other alibis. Also it could be stated that such criticisms are demonstrations of "small potatoes," littleness, and the green-eyed monster. We could retract the statements entirely or qualify them with "individual fraternity history," and "in recent Albright history." Nevertheless, the article was right or wrong as it stood.

The avowed facts are, first, that in 1918 both the Zeta and the Kappa fraternities had houses off the college limits while Albright was in Myerstown, Pa. These two organizations are actively functioning on campus today. Second, 22 years ago, the college year 1928-29, records shown reveal a Beta Sigma Beta fraternity had a home on Linden Street and the Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity had a house on 12th Street, with Lloyd Stutzman, former Albright professor of German, as house father. Thus the A.P.O. leasing would be only individual fraternity history and not all-college history.

May we humbly point out that the first declaration eliminates itself as a point of refutation, namely, because Albright College was not in Reading in 1918 as it now stands after the merger with Schuylkill College here in 1929. In that year also the Albright Bulletin and The Schuylkill News adopted the current name. The 1929 date of merger also shows that the Beta Sigma Beta (long since disbanded) and the Kappa Upsilon Phi houses were under the administration of Schuylkill College and not Albright.

All of which goes to prove nothing, you may say. Well, we always did say a little argument was good for the spirit and a little rivalry, an aid to progress. Anyone else have some information to contribute?

Defeat Scranton

Lay down your studies Saturday night and get out to Northwest Junior High to support Coach Ed Gulian and his varsity Lion basketeers. They're gunning to end the season in a blaze of glory by defeating the Scranton Royals and thereby retain the Middle Atlantic Western Division laurels for another year. Game time—8:30 p. m.; junior varsity game, 7 o'clock.

This week's Dandy Lion is unique in that he seems to be one of the few senior classmen with a red mane. Of course Alvin Frederick Neuroth, Jr., is not this week's Dandy Lion merely because of his superbly dyed red hair. His job of Assistant Editor of The Cue has kept Fred on the run between Kutztown and Reading. In that capacity Fred is often overheard answering the telephone in The Cue office by announcing: "This is the other Cue editor speaking!" When Fred is not devoting his attention to The Cue, he may be attending an I.R.C. or a Pi Gamma Mu meeting. Then there are the many Tuesday nights on which Fred enacted some dynamic role for the Albright Radio Workshop. Only this week Fred prepared himself for the smart, distinguished and sophisticated attire of a Pi Tau Beta fraternity pledge. Sidekick Harry Hart will go through pledgehip with him to lighten his burden on the theory that "Misery loves company."

Off the campus Fred is active in a private club which Hart and Hayum preside over, called "The Mandolin and Canoe Club," and which enlivens weekends in Birdsboro. Fred has given up the idea of becoming West Reading's "Friendly Undertaker," and is presently on the lookout for a good newspaper job with opportunity for advancement in the obituary department. First, however, there has been some talk of a long trip he plans to take soon after graduation. Presently he is trying to enroll the aid of girls in Home Ec. 36a to complete his travel-wardrobe! Good luck, Fred, and be sure to write us from the rice-fields of the Yangtze river.

The New Passion

There is a new game sweeping the country that is second only to Russian-roulette. Grades may fall, H-bombs may explode, but Canasta goes on.

Modern man is no longer physically capable of living in this new environment. The demand is for huge hands to deal the cards and huge eyes to see the marked aces. Small, crossable legs and flat bottoms are also convenient for playing on the floor. The process of evolution has already begun. Those girls you see hobbling across campus aren't suffering from damp weather—it's "canasta legs."

Sex is fast becoming outmoded. In the late Victorian era we have just survived, one could depend on good looks, money, or a car to get a date. Men seduced women by whispering sweet nothings, while women enticed men with bedroom eyes and Turner figures. All this has changed. Sex appeal is replaced by a high "canasta I. Q." Notice the recent ad in the Birdsboro Dispatch: "Young man with three Jokers wishes to meet young lady with four aces. Object—matrimony."

A noted psychiatrist recently interviewed confided that a prepsychotic heboprenic paranoid patient had a canasta dream! Highly significant.

The approach of Spring with her birds and flowers may prove that the Freudians were right after all. Meantime, pass the Joker.

While Glancing Through

In The Suffolk Journal, Suffolk University, we find the following appropriate little passage, which, incidentally, was stolen from the Hazleton Collegian under "The Editor's Dilemma":

"Getting out a newspaper is fun, but it's no picnic. If we print jokes people say we are silly. If we don't they say we are too serious."

If we clip things from other newspapers, we are too lazy to write them ourselves.

If we don't, we are too fond of our own stuff.

If we don't print contributions we can't appreciate true genius.

If we do print them, the page is filled with junk.

Now, like as not, some one will say we swiped this from some other newspaper—we did."

Music, Music, Music!

The time was ripe for change—for something radically new. Classical forms had held composers to a set of unwritten laws for a very long time. The restless music of Chopin had paved the way for the over-due coming of Debussy in the blank pages of what was to be the future of music.

Debussy was born in 1862 at St. Germain En Laye, France. He was noticeably precocious while still very young and received his first piano lessons from a pupil of Chopin. He enrolled at the Conservatory of Paris when he was ten and continuously won prizes until he walked away with the Prix de Rome in 1884, his reputation as a composer assured.

Debussy pressed forward constantly with new forms of tone and harmony. Instead of classic forms, he listened to nature, the works of men and his own emotions to produce the shifting elusive tones which lay between major and minor and consonance and dissonance.

He studied the Russian composers, especially Moussorgski, and the then ultra modern impressionistic schools of art and literature, applying colorful symbolism to his music that had not been heard before.

About his compositions, "The Afternoon of a Fawn" has been said to be the most perfect orchestral composition. His piano music turned the piano from an instrument of form into an artist's brush for the pianists of his time, and his opera, "Pelleas et Melisande," has been called a lesson in French art.

As years went by, his circle of friends became smaller, his ways more eccentric and his health poorer. Debussy travelled through Europe, finally stopping in London where he died on the 26th of March, 1918, with the noises of war in his ears.

Here we go again to give you the latest scoops about our Home Ec. girls. The junior girls have certainly been making the head lines! Their fashion show, written and produced by Ruth Bray and Joanne Deiter has been presented at six high schools so far and two more shows are on the schedule. It has been estimated that 1,300 high school girls have seen this fashion show.

Even though our girls have encountered some drawbacks, such as difficult settings and a small seating capacity for the crowds of girls, the show has really been a hit. At one show a young male guidance director was spotted down in the audience. From all appearances he was enjoying the show, but when a red flannel night shirt was modelled he got up from his seat and left.

Girls at Albright can see this fashion show when it will be presented for the Women's Auxiliary here at school on April 5.

Not to be outdone, several non-home economists have signed up for a course on the basic needle and thread rules. These girls, Ethel Harris, Marilyn Himmelstein, Jane Reynolds and Barbara Kast, to mention a few, are really making rapid advance on their cotton dresses, toppers, wool skirts, etc.

Let's hope the weather will remain cool a little while longer so our sophomore girls will be able to model their good dresses.

A great day is coming up for the Home Economics Department when their annual meeting of alumnae home economists and others in that field in Berks County will be held on April 13. The guest speaker will be Dr. Clifford Adams of Penn State, a writer on the Ladies Home Journal staff.

"About Ben Adhem"

(Line 14 of this poem is to be inscribed on all professors' grave markers, provided they can afford to have one.)

Our Albright Adhems, "may their tribe increase,"
 Do sit, at times, in classes—"in a dream of peace,"
 And snore, while in the darkness "of the room"
 Filled with the seed of knowledge, which so seldom
 "Blooms," a prof is speaking from a book of gold.
 Exceeding peace does make the dominie bold,
 And to one colleague, frowning, this one day he said,
 "What sowest thou in toil from day to day?
 What yield these tender minds seemingly dragged
 To class misled?"

With a sad look made more of sweet despair,
 Answered the prof, "Not much. These young'uns take to love—"

Not to deep mysteries written in books of old.—
 "So, then, what is the worth?" replied the dominie—
 But cheerily then the prof thus said: "I pray thee then.

They are not all the same; don't be concerned so,
 If a few come here to slumber, or just for a B. A.,
 Not with a yearn for learning, that is, for learning's
 Sake, and may not treat the classics with all the due respect."

Most of our Albright young'uns (their tribe will sure increase),

Do have a spark, a longing; go forth alive,
 In quest for truth and love and beauty in a true, honest way.

So, if there are a few who have not thus been blessed Lo! Albright's About Ben Adhems will always lead the rest!

(Any resemblance between this and Hunt's poem which bears the same name is purely accidental).

SCRANTON HERE FOR DECIDING MASC TILT

Tennis, Golf Teams Discuss Seasons In Recent Confabs

A tennis organizational meeting was held last Monday afternoon at 4 p. m. in Room 103 of the Administration Building. Plans were discussed for the coming season, especially the gala Southern journey. The clay court season will officially open on Tuesday, April 4, with a match at Elon College, Elon, South Carolina.

The varsity squad is to be based on the results of a ladder which will be played off between now and the start of the season. This ladder is open to all, the final first six men of which will form the nucleus of the inter-collegiate team. To date 23 men have entered the ladder competition, their names and present standing being based on former varsity matches and the annual fall tournament. They will advance to the top of the ladder by challenging players above them, complete rules and standings for the matches being posted on the bulletin board of Union Hall.

Last Thursday at 10 o'clock the golf team held their spring jumping-off meeting in Room 103. Details of the coming season were discussed under the guidance of the Faculty Manager of Athletics, Eugene L. Shirk. Up to this time eleven men have reported as candidates. They are Joel Gilbert, Earl Langford, Art Dunlop, Ray Chelius, Bill Eaken, Ronald Black, Ken Dougherty, Ted Whitby, Gene Simon, Ed Funk, and Bob Johnston.

Ron Regar Trophy Award Postponed

It was recently announced that the annual presentation of the Ron Regar trophy for the season's most valuable basketball player will not take place at the final contest with Scranton University this Saturday night, but will occur here at Albright after the hoop season is entirely closed. This decision was made by the nominating committee composed of Bill Reedy, chairman, Gordon Williams, and Jack Flowers. The decision was made by the committee to forestall any fatal distractions in this hyper-crucial contest. The trophy is presented annually by Ron Regar, local sports luminary.

SO LONG, ED!

Tomorrow night Eddie Anlian plays his last game on the Northwest hardwood as an Albright basketball player. For those who have followed Ed's hoop career it is impossible to put into words the thrills Ed has given his fellow students and the fans with his unbelievable performances and wizardry on the basketball court. He broke Albright's single season scoring record with a 432 tally in his freshman year and following up on this, he has continued to wreck havoc with the record books.

This year Ed is climaxing his sensational scoring with his best effort yet, already having poured through 446 points for the season to better his old mark of 432. The past five games have seen Ed score with phenomenal consistency (he has an average of better than 25 per contest for these past games) to skyrocket his four year total to 1,626, assuring himself all-time national recognition.

But it is not only as a scorer that Ed has distinguished himself. As a leader, sportsman and all around competitor, Ed has shown that extra special something that no one who ever saw him play can forget. Off the court black-thatched Ed is a quiet, modest fellow who stays with his studies to the extent of Dean's List honors each semester. We indeed regret saying, "So long, Eddie Anlian."

Khourri, Gates Top Fac Bowling List

The history department in the person of John W. Khourri headed the weekly list of faculty bowlers with an average of 145.5. Surprising as it may seem, Professor Donald S. Gates ranked second with a phenomenal score of 126.3. The highest individual game score was posted by Edwin R. Dunkle, who rolled a burning 166 game for his first of the evening.

Here are last Tuesday's scores:

APO B's	0	9	.000

Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity kept its Fraternity Intramural Basketball League title by completing its season with a record of eight wins and two losses, while the second place APO's shadowed them with a 7-3 record. As the Independent League neared its closing contests the Nohawks and Aces held a tie for first place and the Joy Boys and 16's followed them closely on the second rung.

In a postponed game played last Wednesday night, the Kappas defeated the Pi Taus, 35-23, while last Monday evening they trounced them, 41-23. Jimmie Joe Ward led the victors' scoring in the first fracas with 12 tallies but was overshadowed in the latter when Joe Czutno raked up 14 for the evening.

Nohawks, Aces Deadlocked

The Nohawks and Aces continued in their deadlock for the top Independent rung as the former edged the Joy Boys, 29-25, and the latter squeaked past the 16's, 34-33. Norm Dettra and Don Stevens contributed 20 markers between them to lead the victorious Nohawks, while Don Grigsby and Bill Cohrs divided 23 points for the winning Aces.

A victory for the ultimately second place APO's was the result of a postponed meeting with the Red Rockets last Wednesday. But their luck failed them on Monday when the Rockets knocked them out of a frat pennant tie by handing them a 44-34 setback. Big Connie Detting parted the meshes for 18 points and was given valuable assistance by Billy Mayers with 10.

Zetas Trounce KTX

The Zetas concluded their non-to-successful season with a close 30-29 victory over the game KTX quintet last Monday and a more decisive 33-21 win last Wednesday. Pete Rothenel raked up 14 points in both contests to lead the winning Zetas.

In a cellar battle of the Independent League the Cats, ranked by Karol Ruppel's 15 markers, emerged from the win-loss column with a desperate 42-24 victory over the APO B's.

Kittens Cop Second Straight Victory

Hoping to continue on their recent winning ways and to avenge an early season 53-40 defeat, Albright's rejuvenated Junior Varsity squad is looking for a victory over the Junior Scranton Royals. In this final contest of the season the Kittens will be seeking their seventh of the year.

In the preliminary fracas last Saturday evening the Baby Lions copped their second straight victory with a decisive 70-50 win over the Elizabethtown Jayvees. Rod Shippe led the victors attack with seven field goals and one free throw for 15 tallies. He was followed by Don McCarty, Pete Albert, and Roy Boush, who raked up 11, 10, and nine points, respectively.

Kingree of E-town was high for the night with a grand total of 17 tallies.

Femmes to Battle Teachers, Lebanon Valley in Finales

Absorbing their third defeat in ten starts of the season at the hands of the Temple Owlettes on Saturday, 63-47, the Albright Lionesses are now turning their attention to the two remaining games, both next week on foreign hardwoods.

This Tuesday, March 14, at 7:30 p. m., the Femme Cats travel to nearby Millersville State Teachers College with the jayvee tilt scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m. The State lassies have had a fair season, but the Lionesses have high hopes of repeating last year's 50-32 victory.

Then on Thursday evening Mosser's charges will head for Lebanon Valley College for the final game of the season. In the tilt between these sister schools last year, the Cats came out on top, 39-25. Last year's meeting was a double victory for the Red and White hoopers as the junior Lionesses also registered a 48-41 victory over the L. V. C. juniors. The Lionesses are going to go all out in these final two games with the hopes of bringing the season to a close with an outstanding nine and three record.

For the first half of Saturday's game with Temple, the Lionesses gave every indication of a possible victory over the Philly gals. The half ended in a 30-30 deadlock. However, the Albright lassies fell behind in the third quarter, 54-41, and despite a valiant effort in the fourth quarter they could register only six more points as the Temple lassies split the cords for nine additional points to insure their victory.

Captain Zeock carried away the game scoring honors with 27 counters. Nan Stump added 15 for the losers. Lenco, Paul, and Fetter were high for the visitors with 23, 21, and 19 markers respectively.

The junior Lionesses succumbed to the junior charges of Temple, 25-9.

Lions Meet Royals

have an experienced squad made up of seasoned players plus some outstanding second year men.

Leading the Holcomb men in the 1949-50 scoring column is six foot two, ace sharp shooter Jack Leighton with 270 points in 23 games. Leighton has led the scoring for the last two years and recently broke the three year scoring mark of 607 points set 10 years ago. Leighton's marksmanship with his set shots has long been a thorn in the side of the Lions. Also causing the Gulian men concern will be the streaking soph from Philly, Tom Rittenhouse, who was a member of the All City and All-Eastern State Champs. Mr. Big on the squad is Joe Sadowski who tips the scales at 202 and towers at center with his six foot six inch height.

Taking the rebounds is another sophomore with a future, Gene Carbone, who gets his share with his six two stature. Sharing the guard duties is the old man on the squad, twenty-six year old Walt Stocknick.

Tulley Sees Action

Reading's contribution to the Scranton cagers is Babe Tulley, former Central star. Known for his baseball ability, the six three homebred sees reserve action at center.

Putting on the Red and White basketball togs for the last time are four seniors; namely, Jessie Ervin, the speedy dwarf of the squad, John McKenna, scrappy and aggressive guard, Ray "Sonny" Chelius, ace set shot of the crew, and Captain Eddie Anlian, who has broken about every record available besides getting national mention for being among the few to score over 1,500 in their college careers. The Union City marksman has piled up 472 points thus far this season and his four year total is 1,652.

Probable lineup: Scranton Albright Rittenhouse, Anlian Leighton, Ruoff Sadowski, Cappel Carbone, Bieber Stocknick, H. Bieber

Lions Trounce Blue Jays; Post Two Road Victories

Albright's Lions roared to their 16th victory of the season last Saturday night as they soundly defeated the visiting Blue Jays from Elizabethtown, 85-62, before a sparse gathering of fans in the Northwest gymnasium. Capt. Eddie Anlian led the victors with 25 tallies as he continued rolling on his merry way setting record after record.

Only two nights before, Coach Eddie Gulian's proteges concluded a successful two-day road trip by noting out a fighting Juniata College team, 65-54, at Huntingdon, Pa. Albright's cagers had made their successful tour debut the night before when they came from behind to romp over Bucknell's host Bisons, 76-67, at Lewisburg.

Capt. Anlian managed to rack up a grand total of 79 points in these three contests to boost his four-year grand total to 1,626 points. He also amassed 446 points for his year's work to date, thus breaking his previous one year record of 432 set in 1946-47. All this was done with two games left to play.

E-town Ties Count

The visiting E-town marksman attempted to make a tussle out of their meeting with the Lions as they tied the count at nine and 11 points, but when the hosts grabbed a 13-11 lead after nine minutes of play they held it for the remainder of the contest. The Gulianmen made up for lost time in the second canto as they broke loose with a rash of 28 points while holding their opponents to 10 and walked off the floor at halftime on the long end of a 41-21 score.

They increased this lead early in the third period, and with Dan Bieber, Anlian, Lee Cappel, and Bob Ruoff doing most of the scoring, they built up a respectable 53-23 lead before the capable reserves were rushed in. The Lions' 59-35 third quarter lead was too much for the visitors, who only outscored their opponents, 27-26, going down the stretch.

The hero of the Cats' tight win over Juniata was Danny Bieber, whose set shot just 45 seconds before the final gun sounded provided the margin of victory. Anlian scored 22 points in this contest to boost his total to 1,601.

The fray was a nip-and-tuck affair from start to finish, with the Huntingdonians holding 22-20 and 37-30 leads at the end of the first two quarters. But the ultimate victors kept whittling down their opponents' lead, and Cappel, Anlian, and the Bieber brothers worked to cut the margin to two points as the third period closed, 50-48. It was in the last chapter that Danny Bieber went to work and found the range for five field goals, including his game-winning deuce from the 15 foot mark to insure the Lions a hard earned victory.

Anlian Provides Punch

Anlian provided the visiting Cats' punch at Lewisburg as he felled the tassles for 32 tallies, 30 of which came in the last three periods of a battle which saw the Lions emerge victorious, 76-67, over the Bucknellian hosts. The Bisons grabbed a 24-10 first quarter lead, but the visitors found themselves in the next stanza and reduced the deficit to 36-32. Anlian's third period shooting spur pulled the Cats up to the Bisons, 54-54, only to be on the short end of a 58-54 third period score. However, a steady skell of fourth stanza Albright points gave them their ultimate victory.

Rev. Trickett Speaks At Vesper Service

"Ears That Hear" was the title of the address given by the Rev. Homer Trickett, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Reading, at the final Sunday student-faculty vesper service. Rev. Mr. Trickett based his talk on the parable of the sower, explaining the meanings of the types of soil on which seed is planted as related to types of people and their reception to the teachings of Christ. "Christ depended on the good, receptive ears," Rev. Mr. Trickett stated, "to produce from the seeds that he planted."

Several readings were given by Ralph Stutzman and William Colten read the Scripture lesson. The Rev. Eugene Barth introduced the guest speaker. After the service a buffet luncheon was served to both students and faculty in the College dining hall.

Council to Select

This week's meeting featured Mrs. Annadora Shirk and a talk on speaking techniques in small meetings. Next Thursday talks will be given by Prof. Clyde Harding, Miss Ann Benninger, Eugene Pierce, and Dean Ruth Williams.

The problem of 12 o'clock classes which deprive some students of lunch and take away a period when all students on campus could be reached for the implementation of important all-school activities was discussed. Mr. Harding, faculty representative to Council, explained that 12 noon classes were needed to take care of the present enrollment and conflicts in schedule. The Council determined to ask the Administration to restore the free 12 o'clock period.

Council is sending a letter to Mr. Eugene Pierce recommending making the television set in the Union Hall available to students during the evenings. The Council recognizes the difficulty of obtaining chaperones but would be agreeable in helping to plan a feasible program for the set's use in the evenings.

Pats and Kappas Receive Trophies At Sports Night

With a bag of pop corn in one hand and a coke in the other, many excited Albrightians gathered in the Union Hall last Friday night to cheer their favorite teams to victory in the annual Y Sports Carnival. The great enthusiasm of the spectators and the determination of every player continued throughout the entire evening, but as the Carnival came to a close the Pats and Kappas were cheering a little louder and a little stronger than the other teams, for it was easy to see they were going to be the victors. At the evening's conclusion the Phi Alpha Tau Sorority and Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity received the victors' cups; the Pats for winning every event in which they participated, and the Kappas for winning every event but one.

In women's events, the Dorm-women came in a close second by winning all but two of their five events—ping pong, badminton, and steal-the-bacon. The Dorm men also held their position in the race by gaining a total of forty points. The Zetas and the A.P.O.'s tied for third place with thirty points apiece.

Great fraternal spirit was shown during the exciting tug of war between the A.P.O.'s and the Kappas. This spirit seemed to capture the entire audience and lingered with them throughout the wrestling match between the A.P.O.'s Al Thomas and the Dorm-men's Joe Nunes. The fiery finale came when Dick Stinson boxed with Harris Nissenison. Nissenison was the winner.

State IRC Groups Hold Conference At Shippensburg

The second annual conference of the Pennsylvania Association of International Relations Clubs was held March 3 and 4 at Shippensburg State Teachers' College. Lillian Boyer and William Skinner attended as observers for the Albright club, which, although not a member now, at its next meeting will discuss the question of joining the Association.

The topic, "Is U. S. Foreign Policy in the East Consistent with U. S. Security?" was discussed by guest speakers Dr. Channing Liem, Korean educator, and John C. Kunkle, U. S. representation from Pennsylvania. The delegates offered their suggestions and solutions in the three round tables which were China, Japan and Korea, the Philippines and the United States of Indonesia.

The most controversial resolution passed was: "Be it resolved that the United States government recognize the Communist People's Republic as the official Chinese government immediately." It was noted the policy of the Communist government would be merely recognize the situation as it exists.

A Continuation Committee was formed consisting of three faculty advisors and four students whose primary tasks are fostering greater friendship and cooperation among member clubs, promoting a greater exchange of club program activities among the various member colleges of the Association and of planning joint meetings during the year of member colleges in the same area. Gannon College, Erie, Pa., was selected as the site of next year's convention.

Recognition was given to the Albright I.R.C. for showing its interest by sending observers, and a cordial invitation to join the Association was extended by attending member colleges.

L. V. Psych Class Visits Clinic Center

In conjunction with a two-day field trip to study outstanding college psychological clinics, a class of clinical psychology students from Lebanon Valley College visited the Albright Psychological Service Center on Friday afternoon, March 3.

Dr. Clare Cooper, professor of Lebanon Valley's new class in clinical psychology, accompanied the group of 16.

The Wechsler Intelligence Test was demonstrated to the visitors, after which they were given firsthand information on the operation of the clinic.

The Lebanon Valley students began their field trip on Wednesday, March 1, at the Vineland Training School, Vineland, N. J. Their next stop was Temple University, where they examined the psychological laboratory. They also observed the clinic at the University of Pennsylvania.
