

Welcome Parents

Albright will put out its welcome mat tonight when the first of the annual Parents' Weekend festivities will take place. For our parents and our friends, Albright students have planned a weekend full of activities especially for the many guests who will be on campus today and tomorrow.

Highlighting this year's program will be a Music Festival featuring the combined choruses of Albright, Kutztown, and Drexel Institute. Orchestras of Kutztown and Albright will also present selections. We sincerely hope that all of you will plan to attend this program.

The festive Mardi Gras will be held this evening on campus, and the annual May Day Coronation Ceremony will take place tomorrow afternoon. The parents' worship service on Sunday will conclude the principal activities of the week-end.

This is the last issue of "The Albrightian" for the present Editorial and Business Staffs. It could be no more fitting than to dedicate this issue to our parents who are visiting campus this week-end. We are very happy that you could come to our campus and see more of the College about which you've been hearing so much.

The welcome mat has been placed before you. Won't you come inside and make yourself at home?

Parents to Arrive Tonight For Annual Weekend Visit

Festivities of the annual Parents' Weekend will begin tonight when many students' parents and friends will arrive on campus for the traditional Mardi Gras. Joyce Thompson and Harold Matter are general co-chairmen of the weekend program, sponsored by the Student Council.

Campus fraternities, sororities and other organizations will participate in the Mardi Gras, scheduled from 8 to 11 tonight, Richard Dexter, chairman, announced. Various concessions operated by the groups and a dance beginning at 10:00 p. m. in Union Hall are on the program.

Breakfast for parents and students will be held at 7 a. m. tomorrow in the College Dining Hall. Between 10 and 11:30 a. m. the parents will register in Selwyn Hall Parlor. At this time a coffee hour will be held by the Women's Student Senate.

May Day

The annual May Day Coronation Ceremony will be held on the lawn in front of the Alumni Memorial Library at 2 p. m. in the afternoon. Following the program, during which the coronation and various dancing will take place, an open house for the parents will be held in the dormitories.

The Parents' Banquet is scheduled for 5:30 p. m. in the College Dining Hall. Dr. F. Wilbur Gingrich will be the principal speaker; Dr. Harry V. Masters will give the invocation. At the same banquet, Mrs. M. Yudenfreund, aunt of Marilyn Himmelstein, Class of 1951, and Dr. H. Pollack, father of Jane Pollack, Class of 1952, will speak for the parents of Albrightians. Answering them will be Joan Lavson and James Gerhard for the students. The College's Mixed Quartet will sing several selections at the dinner.

Music Festival

Concluding Saturday's activities will be the gala Music Festival in the College Stadium at 8 p. m. at which time the choruses from Drexel, Kutztown, and Albright, and the orchestras from the latter two schools will present various selections. In case of rain, this program will be held in the auditorium of Reading Senior High School, 13th and Douglass Streets.

Following breakfast in the Dining Hall on Sunday morning, at 8:30 a. m., the traditional Pi Alpha Tau Sorority Tree Planting Ceremony will be held. Beverly Morgan, newly elected president of the Sorority, will conduct the ceremony. Her mother will speak for mothers of the Sorority in accepting the honor given to them.

Worship Service

At 11 a. m., a worship service for the parents and friends visiting campus will be held in Union Hall. The Rev. Eugene H. Barth, Director of Religious Activities, will speak at the service. Dinner at 1 p. m. in the Dining Hall will close the week-end festivities.

Assisting Miss Thompson and Matter in the week-end plans are Marilyn Himmelstein, in charge of the banquet; Clea Rein, registration; and Raymond Schlegel, publicity.

400 Students in Music Festival Tomorrow Night

As the highlight of Parents' Weekend, Albright will be host to Kutztown State Teachers College and Drexel Institute of Technology tomorrow night when they all will participate in a Musical Festival in the Stadium at 8 p. m.

Professor Roy C. Thomas, director of the instrumental and choral music for Kutztown, will bring 100 people for the chorus and 48 for the orchestra. Mr. Wallace will have 140 students with him for the chorus. These directors will lead their own groups in their separate selections. Mr. Hans Nix will conduct the Albright College Orchestra and Dr. John H. Duddy will direct the Mixed Chorus of Albright plus the combined choruses and orchestras of the three colleges for the finale.

Kutztown Orchestra

Kutztown's orchestra will open the program with the playing of "The Bridal Rose" Overture by Lavallee. The Teacher's College chorus will sing: "Onward Ye People," by Sibelius; "Go Down Moses," by Cain; and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" as arranged by Waring. "Knightsbridge March" by Coates played by the Kutztown orchestra will close their part of the program.

Mr. Heaton will then direct Drexel Institute's choir in the singing of three numbers: "Soldiers Chorus" from Gounod's opera "Faust"; "The Finale to Act Three of Oscar Strauss' "The Waltz Dream"; and "The Immortal Song" by Tschakowsky-Gaines.

Albright Orchestra

Albright's orchestra will play excerpts from Wagner's operas as well as the Grand March from Verdi's "Aida." Dr. Duddy will direct the mixed chorus in "Holiday Song" by Schumann; "Russian Picnic" by Enders; and "Mighty Fortress Is Our God," by Luther-Mueller.

Climaxing the festival Dr. Duddy will conduct the combined orchestras and chorus in "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," by Bach and "God of Our Fathers," arranged by Joseph Maddy.

Buffet Supper

A buffet supper will be served to the chorus and orchestras at 5:30 in the Student Union Building. In case of rain the concert will be held in Reading Senior High School at the same time. Tickets for the concert may be purchased in the Treasurer's Office or from any member of Albright's musical organizations.

Pianist Listed on Cultural Program

The last program of the Albright Cultural Series to be held Tuesday, May 17, will feature Rudolph Reuter, noted pianist, Dr. Milton W. Hamilton, chairman, announced recently.

Originally from New York, Reuter began his musical career at a very young age. Having studied at the State Academy in Pechin from which he graduated with honors, Reuter traveled as concert pianist throughout the USSR. Returning to this country, he played in most of the states of the United States. The program will be held in Union Hall at 11:10 a. m.

Miss Seisler To Speak for Class of 1949

Dorothy R. Seisler will be the student speaker for the Class of 1949 at Commencement Exercises Sunday, June 5, announced Dr. George W. Walton, Dean of the College.

As previously announced, Dr. Harry Carman, Dean of Columbia College, New York, will speak at the 3:00 p. m. ceremony to be held on campus. Bishop John S. Stamm will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon to the graduates at 10:30 a. m. that same morning in Union Hall.

Student Speaker

"Cue" Editor

Miss Seisler, editor of the Senior Class yearbook, "The Cue," is an English major from Reading. During the past year, she was president of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, and secretary of Delta Phi Alpha, honorary German fraternity. Listed in "Who's Who among College and University Students in America," the student speaker has been a member of the Future Teachers of America, Radio Workshop, German Club, Daywomen's Organization, and International Relations Club.

A former Feature Editor of The Albrightian, Miss Seisler was last year awarded the Phi Delta Sigma Alumnae Award given to the junior woman obtaining the highest scholastic rating in her junior year. She will appear in the Court of Honor at the May Day Coronation Ceremony tomorrow afternoon.

Take Your "Cue"

The 1949 edition of "The Cue" will be issued to all students and faculty next Thursday, May 19, Dorothy Seisler, "Cue" editor, announced yesterday.

Distribution will be made from the Student Publications Office in the basement of the Administration Building.

German Groups Sponsor Contest For High Schools

The Goethe Bicentennial Celebration was high-lighted by a poetry contest and program in the College Chapel last Wednesday evening. Dr. F. Wilbur Gingrich, Mr. Luther Grossman, and Ingelore Gramm served as judges for the contest.

Shirley Shade from Oley High School won the first prize of ten dollars for her poem "Der Fischer" and Claire Gries of Wilson High School received honorable mention for her presentation of "Sanger." Other winners in the contest were Isolde Kreuzer, Reading High School; Gloria Miller, Oley High School; Doris Yeager, Oley High School; Joan Wyle, Reading High School; and Richard Berger, Wilson High School.

Alfred Kasprovicz was awarded first prize of $25.00 in the essay contest on "Goethe the Man", in connection with the Goethe Celebration of the German Club and Delta Phi Alpha Fraternity. Second prize of $15.00 was given to Kathleen Guenther and third award of $10.00 to Kathryn Miller. The contest was sponsored by the Wyomissing Industries.

The Festival Celebration opened in last Tuesday's Chapel program when Dr. Gerritt Mervin, head of the German Department, spoke on the subject, "Goethe's Life, Work and Philosophy."

Katherine Miller played a piano solo, the First Movement of Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, and Miss Ingelore Gramm told a German story.

Dr. Hans Gramm, of the Wyomissing Industries, spoke in yesterday's Chapel on "Goethe and His American Friends."

Horton Leads "Y" Campers As Spring Retreat Concludes

One of the biggest "Y" Retreats ever held by the campus YW-YMCA took place this past week-end at Bynden Wood with Dr. Walter Marshall Horton, professor of theology at Oberlin, leading the four seminars.

"What constitutes a full life for the individual," was the subject which Dr. Horton spoke on in that we should all have a general goal of effort which is stimulated by our object of principle trust—God. In order for us to gain a full life we should determine what the chief end of man is; Dr. Horton said that it was to glorify God, and to enjoy Him.

A Good Society

In the second seminar on Saturday our thinking was directed toward the topic "What constitutes a good society?" Dr. Horton said, "A good society must learn to combine Liberty and Justice for all." A sign of optimism was given by Dr. Horton when he said that there are groups in this world which are dedicated to a common cause, and share their experiences together.

On Sunday Dr. Horton gave his answers to the two questions discussed on Saturday. The basic step which he considers necessary for a full life is a general act of

Thank You for Everything

If it weren't traditional for a retiring editor to end his job with a message in this column, this person would not say a sentimental word—but we occasionally follow tradition and use this opportunity to express appreciation to everyone who has helped during the past year.

Here at Albright we are very fortunate in having a student newspaper—a newspaper written, organized, and published entirely by the students. This is a privilege which we, as college students, rightly deserve.

The power behind the printed page is great; 'The Albrightian' is perhaps the most influential and important force on campus. College students should use this power constructively, to further their aims and ideas that are prompted by right and truth—not by malice or a greed for power.

With this issue of 'The Albrightian', a wonderful Staff of competent workers will hand over their positions to the newcomers of next year's Staff. It is to this year's faithful workers that I want to say "thank you"—the most sincere "thank you" that could ever be said.

To Bob Reed, my right-hand man, my deepest appreciation for all the moral support and help you gave throughout the whole year. The many hours spent in helping to determine our newspaper policy were so valuable in producing this year's 'Albrightian,' and will never be forgotten.

To the College Administration, especially President Masters, Mr. Stabler, and Prof Harding, our advisor, a big "thank you" for the utmost cooperation and consideration given to the Staff and to me. Without your help, 'The Albrightian' could never have been printed.

To our printer, Mr. Leeland, and his competent workers—another "thank you" for your faithfulness through thick and thin—we always came through! And to all others in Reading with whom we did business—our deepest appreciation for your help with the newspaper and the experience we gained from working with you.

To my friends, my parents, and the girls at Sherman Cottage, my deepest gratitude for your help, advice, and understanding.

To all Albrightians and other readers—thank you for your support—we hope you enjoyed this year's 'Albrightian'.

And finally, to Bob Hoffman, my successor—all my very best wishes for making next year's 'Albrightian' the best ever—I have fullest confidence in your doing a wonderful job—a job of which all Albrightians and the Administration, and College Alumni will be justly proud. It is my hope that you and your Staff will keep 'The Albrightian' the newspaper of the students—an uncensored newsheet, published by and for them.

And an overall "thank you" to everyone who has helped in allowing me to fulfill this position and gain from it one of the most valuable experiences of my life.

My best wishes to next year's Staff, future 'Albrightian' workers, and all Albrightians everywhere.

Sincerely,

Mary.

MARDI GRAS

RICHARD DEXTER
Chairman

Once again Student Council brings the annual Mardi Gras to the campus, and, in the traditional pattern, the night will be one of relaxation and entertainment for all. Come, and join the fun. The stimulating atmosphere of carnival time is guaranteed to sweep away worry and tension.

Nearly all of the campus organizations will participate with many types of concessions, all of which will be unique and enjoyable. The evening's events begin promptly at 8 o'clock D.S.T. and some of the concessions presented are: A minstrel show and "Guess your weight" by the A.P.O. fraternity; movies, cartoons and selected local films, to be shown in the chapel by the Women's Student Senate; "Spill the Milk," "Ring Pitch," and a dart board by the Zeta's. The Spanish Club will teach Spanish-American dancing under the capable leadership of Senorita Rodriguez. The Freshman Class will have a game of "Dodge Ball." The K.T.X. "Duck the Dummy" for an excellent "Dizzy" Dean's. The Dormitory Women will operate a shooting gallery, and offer a cake to the person lucky enough to guess what the cake contains. And in case anyone gets hungry or thirsty, the Mr.'s, Daywomen, and Dames Club will offer refreshments, such as sandwiches, soft drinks, coffee and ice cream. These are but a few of the concessions operating; there will be many more to add to the pleasant surprises of our carnival.

The concessions will operate until 10 o'clock at which time the entertainment will continue in the S.U.E. with a dance held for the benefit of our DP fund drive.

In the event of rain the Mardi Gras will be held inside the Student Union Building, so plan to come with your family and friends and relax and enjoy the evening.

Was the circus in town? Is the D. P. Drive sponsoring a side show? Have rampant inmates from Wernersville escaped again? No, it was just that fraternity and Sorority Hell Week arrived. With it came all the customary fuss and frantic frivolity. The costumes or, more accurately, get-ups were creations of a stretched imagination and much originality. If the purpose was to have the pledges feel noticed and slightly apart from the "run of the mill" students, then I believe that it must have been carried out successfully.

Gentlemen?

The Zeta's looked very dapper in their dark, dress coats, with a white flower in the button-hole. A straw hat and white gloves, added the summery touch, while black bow tie and shoes, supplied that finishing bit of formality, and the canes and glasses denoted the air of distinction.

The Pi Tau ladies were less outwardly distinguished in their dress. Everything looked quite normal upon inspection of the dink hats, pledge pins, white shirts, red and black ties, and jackets. But that was only the half of it. The lower extremities were bared by trousers, sawed-off above the knee, yet the legs were well concealed by high socks and heavy shoes.

Sack Cloth an' Dashes

It may have appeared that the Kappa pledges had to rush from bed in order to render a time announcing service, but the p.j.'s and gunny sack tunic were just the Hell Week attire of the Kappa's. Stove-pipe masks were the newest invention to conceal unwanted blemishes, and were covered at the height of their two feet by the pledge caps. The A.P.O. pledges sported

Many Thanks

As the end of the year approaches, the red level on our D. P. Drive chart crawls closer to the top. Let's get together for the few hundred dollars still needed and push up and over our goal!

We sincerely wish to thank the following persons who have made generous personal cash contributions to help us bring two homeless students to Albright:

Sam Smiley, Ralph Levinson, Jack Dunitz, Yale Evelev, Benjamin Spector, Joseph Imber, Nat Grossman, Nat Fein, Morton Wolper, Moe Muchnik, Max Fischer, Benjamin Taub, J. Haller, Israel Losch, Morris Hassel, David Schein, Harry Fischman, Temple Oheb Shalom, Mr. and Mrs. Lacc-kep, Dave Geiger's collection box, Erma Gray, Harry DeWire, Rev. Harry Price, Annette Eisenbrown, John Werley, James Boaman, Leah Kramer, N. L. Leininger, R. K. McKay, Frank Soltysik, Jim and Elizabeth Boyer, Mary Stepanik, Mr. and Mrs. Tyndall Ice.

Lee Morris, Macy's Restaurant, Mrs. Samuel Elmo, Stella Nicholas, Mrs. Forte, Billy the news-stand boy, Mae's Gift Shop, Lee Appel, Joe Kubison, Doris Chanin, Al Spurio, Joe Donato, Frank Massano, Paul Siegfried, Frank Ricci, Al Ponzol, Louis Randazzo, Mickey Norton, John Spadafora, Jean Albright, Mrs. Frank Foreman, Marty Miller, Frank Voss, Stan Taub, Paul Jones, William Flamm, George Rocktashel, Leroy Snyder, Mrs. Mabel Fitzgerald, Earl Butz, Dr. Robert Yost and son, Albert Blessing, Bertha Lonaberger, Mrs. Fred Lee, Charles Gordon, Mrs. Raymond Arnold, Ralph B. Paul, D. M. Mervine, Earl's Hardware Store, Wilbur Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Downes, and the high school boys who work in the Albright kitchen.

And also a vote of thanks is due those students who worked with our D. P. Employment service and contributed half of their first pay ranging from one to five dollars: Galen Klinger, Elliott Sauerterg, Rudy Leonardo, June Christman, Tom Savage, Jim Gerhardt, Howard Platzger, Don Diebert, Sid Howarth, Clyde Gessner, Lois Smith, Bob Miller, Vince Gentile, Bob Long, Pete Sperryak, Barbara Wrisley, Anona Serfass, Eleanor Williams, and Jane Pollack.

DANDY LIONS

When we at last located our blonde, blue-eyed Dandy Lion, she was trying to rescue her lunch bag from one of the hungry Albright males who was on a raid for a mid-morning snack. Jean Long must really know how to make good sandwiches.

As we raced down the path with Jean, we tried to take notes on all her activities, but since the entire list would require being made into a bound edition, we decided to tell you only of her most important accomplishments.

Jean, who majors in social science and psychology and minors in sociology, has been secretary of the senior class this year. For the Future Teachers of America she acts as secretary, and both the Pi Beta Mu Sorority and the Women's Athletic Association have honored her with the office of vice-president. Chairman of both the Recreation Committee of the Y.W.C.A. and of the Social Activities Committee of Student Council, our Dandy Lion is on the staffs of The Albrightian and the Cue. Sports fans claim her attention, for in addition to being an excellent basketball player, she is captain of the cheerleaders and of the girls' tennis team. At this point, Jean was busily cutting up material to be distributed for the May Day dresses; she's Mistress of Ceremonies for the May Day program tomorrow.

Of all her activities during the past four years at Albright, Jean says the most memorable to her are the dances, the doggie roasts during freshman year, and all those trips to the ice hockey games.

As far as the future is concerned, Jean confides that she's another one of those perplexed seniors. But she adds that she knows how to sew, cook, and bake a good chocolate cake. The best of everything to you, Jean.

Hell Week Brings Frantic Frivolity to Campus

by Jane Pollack

Say buddy—which is the shortest route to Bernhart's Dam?

white shirt and knickers with a demure bow tie of blue and yellow. Their crowning glory was the chapeaux. These ranged all the way from a knitted cloche affair to a kelly-green derby, though St. Patty's day is over and past.

The fraternities were represented in the same outfits all three days, but the sorority girls varied their daily Hellenistic fashions. The costumes ranged from blind men to Southern Belles. Ah yes, for three irrational days, our fair campus inhabited schizopronics and mountain climbers, spring blossoms and gypsies. Who were they? I'll give you three guesses.

It seemed that all the pledges resorted to hopping at some time or other during Hell Week. Naturally, it was not because they were mad or annoyed about their duties, but the game of leap frog was very popular. Wednesday night turned into a free for all down on Penn Street. All four fraternities left campus around 7:30 Wednesday night. A leap-frog race sent the Pi Tau's and Kappa's bounding from the Crystal Restaurant up to Seventh Street. The pledge-masters helped matters along with the aid of a paddle and believe me those fellows were really jumping! The Kappa's, A. P.O.'s, and Pi Tau's battled it out earlier in a peanut race. The A.P.O.'s must have had the longest, strongest noses, for they were the victors of the contest.

One luckless pledge had to measure the distance from Seventh Street to the Square one foot at a time. Another found out that it took some 1100 lengths of a sausage to cover that space.

The Zeta's were not left out of the act by any means. In fact they really put on a show! On the corner of Fifth and Penn Streets Jack Miller, Paul Levan, and Tom Fruitiger did a song and dance routine to "Good Bye My Baby" that Al Jolson himself would have a hard time beating.

A Hunting We Will Go

After these antics, it was back to Albright and into some old clothes and the order of the night was to march out on a scavenger hunt at nine o'clock. The search was for a grand total of forty or fifty articles which ranged from faculty signatures to retrieving frogs. Miss Benninger added her name to fifty safety pins, and there were other interesting objects of the quest. And then came Thursday night, bringing with it the note hunts. All the frats took up this diabolical little idea, so if you see a lost pledge on the other side of some mountain or other—give him a note and send him home. Most of them arrived back at school just too late for breakfast the next

Bill Walker Chosen As New President Of Kappa Tau Chi

Election of officers for 1949-50 and a discussion of pastoral psychology highlighted the meeting of the Kappa Tau Chi Fraternity on Thursday, May 5, in the Lower Social Room. The new officers are: president, William Walker; vice-president, Ronald Cocroft; secretary, Donald Repsher, and treasurer, Kenneth Kline.

Dr. Milton G. Geil, Director of the Psychological Service Center, presented the basic principles of pastoral psychology, following which an informal discussion was held. The speaker stressed the importance of counseling to the work of the minister and the need for training and guidance in this field. It is important to remember, he said, that the mere seeking of guidance is a part of the therapeutic process. The client must realize that the counselor does not have the answer to his problems, but should help to free him from restraint. It is necessary for the counselor to create a feeling which will make the client wish to express himself. The counselor must have unapproachable integrity.

Resources

Doctor Geil emphasized the fact that every person has within himself the resources to improve himself and solve his problems. The counselor must help to remove the tensions which hinder the discovery of these resources.

Robert Pike, John Heim and Eugene Snyder were in charge of the meeting. The last KTX meeting of the year will be held on Thursday, May 19, in the Lower Social Room. A panel consisting of the Rev. Eugene H. Barth, Prof. Ellery B. Haskell and Dr. F. Wilbur Gingrich will discuss the life of Christ. The new officers will be installed.

Mu's Will Induct 8 Pledges Monday

On Monday, May 16, at 7:30 p. m. in Selwyn Hall Parlor, the following pledges of the Phi Beta Mu Sorority will be inducted: Jacqueline Artz, Joanne Baker, Dorothy Deam, Judith Dundore, Ramona Lattore, Carolyn Scull, Doris Weida, and Barbara Wisley. Members of the Phi Beta Mu Alumnae Sorority will attend.

Election for next year's officers will be held and refreshments will be served. Marjorie Gardiner and Polly Swope are in charge of the refreshments.

Alchemist Club Plans Picnic and Field Trip

The next meeting of the Alchemists' Club, scheduled for Wednesday, May 18, will be a combination picnic and field trip through the Maiden Creek Filter Plant. Members who plan to attend are asked to contact Robert Batdorf, president, or any of the officers of the club before noon of Monday, May 16. The club will meet at the Filter Plant at 4:30 p. m. on the day of the trip.

Earl Koenig was the recipient of the annual Delta Phi Alpha award for outstanding work in the field of German literature. During the meeting, Dr. Memming discussed Goethe, and the forthcoming Goethe Bi-centennial. Also under discussion was the essay contest on the subject: "Goethe, the Man and His Influence on Contemporary Writers."

Cornell Student President of I.N.A.

Richard Pogue, managing editor of the Cornell Daily Sun, was elected president of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association at the annual meeting of the Association held at Temple University April 30.

Frank Simmons of George Washington University was elected vice-president, and Art Purfall of Hofstra was elected secretary of the Association. The new prexy is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences at Cornell University; Simmons is chairman of the board of directors of the George Washington Hatchet; and Purfall is editor of the Hofstra News.

Harding Talks to Sigma Tau Delta

At the last meeting of the Sigma Tau Delta, Thursday, May 5, Professor Clyde Harding gave a very interesting talk on "Humorous Verse." In this presentation he explained that there are several types of humorous verse, such as burlesque and parody. The election of next year's officers will highlight the next meeting on May 12.

morning and wondering, among other things, what their own names were.

The PAT's had started on their note hunt Thursday night in the parking lot. They searched for the twelve clues hidden in bottles out to Bernhard's Dam, ending up at the Park on Hampden boulevard for franks and cokes. The sisters were along all the while to see that no money was spent on transportation. So at Friday noon customs came to a welcome end for most of the pledges.

That Friday night the Kappa and A.P.O. fraternities had their dances. The Kappa's were inducted at the Tower before the dance and the A.P.O.'s waited till Monday. The PAT's were inducted then too, thus bringing to a close the period of trial and tribulation. It is all in the day's pledging and according to most, the three days fully lived up to their title of Hell Week.

Traditional Ceremony Will Pay Homage To Queen, Her Court, and Senior Women

Albright's traditional May Day Coronation Ceremony will take place tomorrow at 2:00 p. m. on the College campus at which time Joyce Ruth will be crowned Queen of the May by Lois Lackey, Custodian of the Crown.

Kazuye Kiyono will attend the Queen as Maid of Honor and Jean Long will serve as Mistress of Ceremonies. The Queen will also be attended by six members of the Court of Honor: Mary Bechtel, Mary Fry, Anna Lauver, Shirley Miller, Arlene Schell, and Dorothy Seiser.

Arch Formed

The senior women will form the arch through which the Queen, her Court, and the dancers will pass. The senior women are as follows: Rosemarie Behler, Thelma Degler, Marie Delle Palme, Doris Downes, Jean Fehr, Virginia Fox, Dorothy Holl, and Sylvia Hoppaugh.

Dorace Hornberger, Elaine Huber, Barbara Knauer, Nancy Matten, Alma McLaughlin, Esther Messersmith, Fredaberyl Moyer, Dorothy Rath, Rachel Ravitz, Elaine Reichlein, Joyce Scheiffer, Jean Schwartz, Violette Seibert, Helen Seiber, Jeanne Snyder, and Pauline Swope.

Charlotte Winner and Doris Hill will be the pages. Barbara Mogel and Dorothy Deam will be train bearers, and Joanne Schenkemeyer will wear the Queen's crown.

May Poles

The following junior women will participate in the traditional May Pole dance, "Country Gardens":

Hamilton to Participate In New York Seminar

Dr. Milton W. Hamilton will participate in the New York State Historical Association's second annual seminar on American Culture to be held July 5 through July 15 at Cooperstown, New York. Dr. Hamilton will be an instructor in the seminar, "Tides of Taste in New York State."

Depicting an "Early American" theme, the May Day Ceremony will include festive dancing. Those dancing to the tune, "Skip to My Lou" will be: Faye Bailey, Betty Ann Cohn, Marilyn Himmelstein, Marion Miller, Patricia Moore, Margaret Anne Smith, Molly Soles, and Eleanor Spring.

commitment to live the best that you know or will be able to learn in the future. This commitment should be renewed continuously. Once we can learn to have a full life for ourselves we can begin to cure the sick society in which we are now living. Dr. Horton said that we must check the drift away from God in order to revitalize our society.

A Full Life

The "Y" Retreat made it possible for those participating in it to get as near to a full life as possible. There was ample opportunity for good fellowship in sports activities, square dancing, stimulating discussion groups, and most of all a good opportunity for fellowship with God in individual and group meditations.

Surely those who participated in this grand week-end give their hearty thanks to Percy Brown, John Fausnaught, Gordon Farscht, Kathleen Guenther, Esther Messersmith, Shirley Miller, Violette Seibert, Ralph Stout, and the many others who contributed their services to make the Retreat a success. Our special thanks go to the co-chairman of the Retreat, Margaret Ann Smith and Larry Bott, and to our faculty leaders, Rev. Eugene H. Barth, Prof. Ellery Haskell, Prof. Louis Smith, Miss Anna Benninger, and Mrs. Annadora Vesper.

FOUR GAME WIN STREAK SNAPPED BY L. V.

Daymen Romp to Victory in I-M Track Fraternities Outscored 43-39 In Successful Intramural Meet

A new era in intramural sports has been ushered in at Albright. Not content with running off undefeated with the National League softball crown, the red hot Daymen's organization walked away with another first, the annual intramural track meet held last Monday afternoon, compiling a grand total of 43 points to the fraternities' sum of 39. Leading the off-campus males, Dick Reitz and Jim Rittenhouse collected ten points each, and their newly elected president, John Werley, gathered in nine. Dave DeWitt also scored five markers for the winners. Altogether the heretofore little regarded Daymen snatched six firsts, 2 1/2 seconds, and five thirds.

Placing in every event except the 220 yard dash, the Daymen's nearest rivals were the Zetas with 18. Norm Snook and Paul Levan had ten and five points for the second placers. For the third place Pi Taus, Al Sheffer garnered seven. The Kappas and A.P.O.'s could find only nine points between them, while the K.T.X. found the cupboard completely bare.

Although a slight drizzle came down during the late broad jump and javelin trials, the nine event carnival went off in fine order, with a swell 42-man representation, all of whom should be thanked for their interest, spirit, and participation.

In the three heat 100 yard dash, Snook, in the third heat, cut the tape in 10.7, which is not a bad time for an "amateur." Cal Green and Werley took second and third for the Daymen. Again Snook put the Zetas in a temporary lead by capturing the 220 yard dash in 25.6, with Bill Hutchinson of the Kappas and Sheffer of the Pi Taus coming in next. This was the only event in which the Daymen were blanked.

Werley Snags 120

Werley then snagged his first place in the 120 yard low hurdles in the fast time of 14.6. Oscar Mogel of the Pi Taus and DeWitt of the Daymen trailed him. DeWitt came in first in the 440 yard dash, ahead of Sheffer and Gerald Ready, another Dayman.

Reitz carried off the laurels for the Daymen again in both the high and broad jumps with marks of 5 ft. 2 in. and 18 ft. 10 in. respectively. Werley tied Sheffer for second in the high jump and came in third behind Ted Batdorf of the Zetas in the broad jump.

The Daymen also cornered the field in the shot put and discus throw, as Rittenhouse hurled the put 34 ft. 9 ins. and tossed the discus 100 ft. 10 ins. Fred Rosen, an A.P.O., and Dick Chambers of the Pi Taus, finished second and third in the shot; and Wilson Serfass for the Kappas and Mort Witman, a Dayman, placed in the discus.

Levan took first in the javelin with a toss of 138 ft. 9 ins., while John Angstadt and Rosen followed him.

Varsity Officials

Much credit for the great success of the track meet goes to the varsity trackmen who officiated: Lu Brenner, starter; Rick Reich, referee; Dick Leitham, Joe Kubisen, Fred Roland, Gerry Potts, Lee Cappel, and Jack Snook. Timers were Intramural Director Neal Harris and Athletic Director and varsity coach, Gene Shirk. Coach of the victorious Daymen was Dave Roland.

To the organizer, Lloyd Parsons, the proverbial hats go off, and to the triumphant Daymen—congratulations. Here's to a bigger and better intramural track meet next year (and best wishes to the disillusioned frats).

Cappel Receives National Recognition

Giving Albright another headline and national recognition, Lee (Cap) Cappel was listed first in Pennsylvania and seventh in the nation by compiling a 4786 percentage for field goals attempted and made. Cap dunked in 90 out of 188 during the 1948-49 campaign.

Shirkmen Nab Two Wins Over Juniata, Ursinus Thinclads

9 Entered in MASC At Gettysburg

Coming to the peak of their performance the Red and White Track and Field team made it two in a row at Juniata last Thursday by trimming the Indians 65-61. Heading the winners' side for Albright were Lee Cappel, Al Harnly, Joe Kubisen, Gerry Potts, and Howie Brenner, who shined in the field events. The win was the Shirkmen's second out of five dual meets this year. Harnly and Kubisen broke two Huntington field marks.

Both Cappel and Harnly rolled up fifteen points. Cappel captured the only track events gained by the Lions as he took first in the 120 high and 220 low hurdles. Cappel also added up points by placing second in the javelin and third in the shot put and broad jump. Harnly too was a double winner in the pole vault at 11 feet and, breaking a Juniata record, heaved the javelin 183 ft. 1 in. Al came in second in both the high jump and broad jump, in which the Lions had a clean sweep.

Kubisen Sets Record

Also breaking a Juniata field record, Kubisen tossed the shot 42 ft. 3 ins., for a first place. Brenner had the sixth Albright first by broad jumping 19 feet four inches. Brenner also garnered a third in the 100 yard dash and a second in 220. Potts helped the Lions sweep the shot put and javelin and placed second in the discus. Ed Anlian had two seconds in the 440 and 880. Other point gatherers included Dick Reich, Roy Bousch, Dave Roland, and Bevan Wald.

Collecting five points on the track and two in the field for Juniata were Roy Bousch, Stauffer, Murray, O'Leary, and Harper. Hackman and Pfeifer backed them up.

Bears Edging

Triumphantly ending a three meet losing streak, the Albright track team nudged the Ursinus Bears for a 69 5/6 to 56 1/6 win on Saturday, May 7. Next meets on the card are the Middle Atlantic Track and Field Association Championships today and tomorrow afternoons and a clash at Shippensburg May 18.

Versatile Al Harnly sparked the Lions with first place in the javelin and high jump, and a second in the pole vault event. Roy Bousch and Eddie Anlian together took the 880 yard run, while Fred Roland copped the two-mile, and Dick Reich dashed through the 220 in a time of 23.8 seconds. In the field Gerry Potts and Lee Cappel combined with Harnly to make a clean sweep of the javelin event. Cappel also won the 120 yard hur-both teams were evenly matched as 11 turned in scores under 80 on the Juniata par 70 course.

Dickinson On Top

Next Monday, the Lions will entertain Dickinson's golf team and take on Drexel next Thursday. The last match of the season will be played at Moravian on Friday, May 20.

Juniata, Wagner Downed Before 6-1 Loss to Lebanon

Ursinus Here Today, Drexel Away Saturday, Moravian Home May 17

Harris, Gates Ump Skunk Day Next Thursday, 4 p.m.

Don't be amazed if you see a small black and white figure busting around campus. No it's not a bedraggled pledge, only "Little Horatio" making precise preparations for the fifth annual Albright-sponsored Skunk Day this coming Thursday, May 19, on the Science Hall Field. At exactly four o'clock that fateful afternoon, the male sluggers will take to the softball diamond to avenge their shameful setback from last year when Mosser's Mammies took advantage of the handicapped lads to capture their first feminine

Coming to an abrupt halt in their winning campaign, the Lions dropped a 6-1 ball game to the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley after enjoying a four-game win streak. Included in the streak were the beatings handed Wagner and Juniata, 8-3 and 2-1, respectively. On the menu are Ursinus, here, this afternoon, Drexel, in Philly, tomorrow, Moravian at home on Tuesday, and Lebanon Valley for dessert, here, on Thursday.

Mike Zajac, a tiny lefthander for the Anville chorus, had complete control of the situation until the seventh inning when he gave up his first hit. In addition, he gave up three more and set down eleven sluggers. Spotty fielding again reared its ugly head behind the pitching of George Baumgart. A total of eight errors, nine hits and four walks accounted for the six runs. Albright's one marker came on two walks issued to Jim Fromuth and Stew Beyerle, interspersed with a fielder's choice by Jim Delp which moved Fromuth to third. Fromuth came home on a passed ball, and just about removed the seat of his pants on the slide.

Muller Beats Mensing

Getting back to a more pleasant subject, Albright tore into another Dutchmen aggregation, this time from Staten Island, when they bumped Wagner by an 8-3 score. Seeking revenge for last year's 6-2 loss, Paul Muller not only pitched the victory but added extra punch by driving in two runs. Powerful Jim Delp had a good afternoon at the platter with 5 for 5. Russ Millard smacked a big triple in the ninth to add his second RBI for the day. Ed Mensing, the losing pitcher, who had administered last year's defeat, lasted only 3 1/3 innings and was followed by two more hurlers who were unable to stop the hitting Readingites.

Hook Martone sat on the "sitting Indians" of Juniata, handcuffing them to their tottem poles by allowing only four hits. They got their bit of charity in the first inning on two walks and a miscue. Followed by the bat were big Jim Fromuth and Ern Glas. The lanky first-baseman had 3 for 4 and the fugitive from Adamstown had 2 for 5.

Netmen Whitewash L.V., Lose to Bisons

As if whitewashings were the orders for the week, Albright's netmen absorbed a 9-0 lacing from a loaded Bucknell team on May 4 and then came out on the long end of the score last Monday against Lebanon Valley also to the tune of 9-0.

It was a hot Bucknellian crew that swept everything in sight except the pavements when the Bisons racketeers mauled Coach Leo Bloom's charges. Jim Mengel, Tom Kane, and Paul Kissinger tried valiantly to ring up points by extending their opponents to three sets, but eventually fell before the smooth strokes of the Bisons. This was the third victory for Coach Peters' men who defeated Susquehanna and Penn State previously.

Dutchmen Nailed

On Monday the Lions reversed the proceedings as they nailed the Flying Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley 9-0. Bob Ruoff, John Donner, Jay Shenk, Mengel, Kane, and Kissinger all came through with singles victories while the combinations of Ruoff-Kissinger, Dohner-Shenk, and Mengel-Kane provided the doubles wins. This triumph made the Cats' record 5-7-1 for the current campaign.

This afternoon the Ursinus Bears will be here.

Busy Week Ahead

Tuesday will find the racketeers opening a busy week as they try to repeat an early season 7-2 win over Moravian. Wednesday the Albrightians travel to Dickinson and hope to make it two straight over the Harrisburgers, having won the initial fry 5-3. Then the Lions return home Friday to encounter the Gettysburg Bullets.
