Stults Proves Validity Of Queen Election

Council Considers Ballot Motion Unconstitutional

An important issue was brought before Student Council on Tuesday when Harry Houck, representative of the Pi Tau fraternity, questioned the validity of the election of Homecoming queen candidates. Mr. Houck claimed that this election was not conducted according to a motion passed last spring by council. The motion stated that "all campus" elections should be conducted by a secret ballot.

He then moved that Student Council should declare the election invalid but accept the results with the stipulation that a public apology be made by council to the student body. Thomas Stults, Daymen representative, and chairman of the student activities committee, which conducts the elections, then explained that according to the Student Council constitution this election can not be considered an "all campus" election. And furthermore if it were considered an all campus election the constitution states that the ballots must be signed.

Therefore, Mr. Stults asked the secretary to strike from the records the motion made by Mr. Houck last spring on the grounds that it was unconstitutional. Mr. Houck immediately withdrew his motion concerning the validity of the election.

President Harry V. Masters came before council with two reports. The one requesting the student body to take an active part in the Community Chest Drive. President Master further reported that he was contacted by the president of Lebanon Valley College concerning a possible exchange of campus vocal and instrumental groups the night preceding the football game. This would be done in order to promote school spirit and cooperation.

New Gym Named Site For Ivy Ball

The annual Ivy Ball, sponsored by the Student Council, will be held on November 8, from 8:30 until 11:30.

In former years this dance was held at an off-campus location. Last year it was held at the Rajah ballroom, and the committee at first considered this location again. It was then decided that since the gymnasium of the new physical building would be ready for use this all-campus dance would provide a good opportunity to christen the gym for dancing.

Committees were appointed for the affair by Robert Bieler, who is social committee chairman of Student Council. The committees are as follows: co-chairmen of the Ivy Ball, Eugene Lang and Patricia Miller; decorations, Gordon Oplinger and Dorothy DeLaney; refreshments, Alan Schlegel and Jack Fetterman; advertising, Ivan Moyer and Richard Adams; tickets, William Housum and Mary Jane Titlow.

As yet no orchestra has been announced.

Beauties Seek Homecoming Crown

CAROL ALTHOUSE, '54

ANNJEANETTE INNIS, '54

Winners Represent All Three Classes

With 46 percent of the student body voting, one freshman, one sophomore and three junior women were chosen as contestants for Homecoming queen. Winners in the election were Carol Althouse, '54, Barbara Bliss, '56, Annjeanette Innis, '54, Margaret Israel, '54 and Patricia Upczak, '55.

The queen will be selected from those five at the Homecoming dance on Friday, October 17, in Krause Hall. The alumni president from each of the four fraternities plus a non-fraternal alumnus will judge the contestants. After the girl is chosen she will be crowned Homecoming queen and will receive a trophy. The girl who finishes in second place will attend the queen and also receive a trophy. Reigning at all other Homecoming festivities, the queen will be guest of honor at the dinner on Saturday night and at the football game which follows.

The total number of students voting for the contestants was 253, announced Thomas Stults, chairman of the student activities committee of Student Council. Although the freshman women received 119 of the votes, they had enough solid votes for only one girl to win. The remaining four victors were separated by a few votes. Only one vote separated two of the winners. Balloting took place last Thursday and Friday.

Bauer To Take Cue Pictures In 3 Weeks

The taking of organization and group pictures for the CUE will begin in three weeks according to Ronald Schlossberg, photographic editor. Mr. Paul Bauer of 608 Franklin St., of Reading, has been selected as commercial photographer and will begin taking organization pictures here on October 28, 29 and 30.

Senior Pictures

The taking of senior portraits will begin on the evenings of November 3, 4, 5 and 6 from 7:00 to 9:00 p. m. and Friday and Saturday morning, November 7 and 8. This year all men are requested to wear ties and coats or jackets for group pictures and women should wear stockings and no anklets. Students will not be represented in pictures unless they dress according to above specifications.

Girls All Hail From Penna.

Miss Althouse, a medical technology major from Lancaster, Pa., is interested in the women's athletic program here at Albright. She is a member of the hockey, basketball and baseball squads. Belonging to Phi Beta Mu Sorority, she has light brown hair and green eyes and is 5' 5" tall.

The only freshman to be elected, Miss Bliss is 5' 6" tall and has blonde hair and blue eyes. An honor student from Jenkintown, Pa., Miss Bliss was selected May Queen at her high school last year. She is majoring in business at Albright. Miss Innis, a liberal arts student, is 5' 7" tall and has blue eyes and blonde hair. Everyone will remember her as having the female lead in the Domino production last fall. A local girl, Miss Innis is also active in the Phi Beta Mu sorority.

Brown-haired, brown-eyed Miss Israel comes from York, Pa., and stands 5' 3" tall. An English major, she is a member of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority, Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity and Domino club.

Another local girl, Miss Upczak will be leaving the campus at the end of this year for nurses training at the Reading hospital. Miss Upczak, 5' 6", brown-eyed brunette, is a varsity cheerleader, a member of the hockey and basketball squads and a Phi Beta Mu sorority pledge.

Tabulation Shows 50 More Day Students

The registrar's office has recently released figures indicating the enrollment totals for this year. There are 383 men students, 168 of which are boarding and 215 day. The number of women students totals 163, with 80 girls boarding and 83 day.

Pennsylvania leads the list of home states, with a total of 438; New Jersey is second with 68; and New York is represented by 27. Three foreign countries are also represented — Jamaica, Bermuda and Germany.

There are 104 Lutherans in the total enrollment, 87 Catholics, 83 E. U. B.'s and 67 members of the Reformed Church.

The business administration department has 105 students and there are 43 in the pre-theological curriculum. 41 students are in the teaching course, and 39 are pre-medical students.

Rev. D. Allen To Speak At 'Y' Retreat

Seems, Miller Act As Co-Chairmen

"Great Questions by Great Teachers" will be the general theme of our Fall "Y" Retreat under the leadership of Rev. Dean Allen on October 25-26, at Blue Mountain Camp in Hamburg, Pa.

Rev. Allen, who was graduated from Albright in 1940, received his B.D. in the Evangelical United Brethren School of Theology and then in 1948 secured his S.T.M. in the Lutheran Theological Seminary. He is at present minister at St. Matthew's Evangelical United Brethren Church, Reading.

Registration October 13

Neal Krape, '54, in charge of registrations, announced that registrations will be accepted as early as October 13th in the hall of the administration building and will continue through October 23. The registration fee is $4.00, $2.00 of which is payable at the time you sign up and $2.00 at the camp registration which is at 12:30 o'clock Saturday, October 25.

First Seminar

The topic of interest on Saturday afternoon at the first seminar will be "What is Truth." Discussion groups will follow each seminar. The second seminar will center around the question "What do ye say that I am?" and the third seminar on "What shall I do to Inherit Eternal Life?"

Between each seminar time will be provided for recreation, fellowship and fun in general stated Virginia Seems, '53, and Max Miller, '54, co-chairmen of the retreat.

Domino To Give 4 One-Act Plays

Domino club will present four one-act plays on October 24 in the chapel. The plays were selected from those written by sophomores in creative writing class last year.

"Tea for Ski," written by Donald Downs, will be directed by Robert Waldner. His cast will include Betty Williams, Sally Aicher, Elissa Swisher, Barbara Topkin, Rodney Bentz and David Frankhouser.

Stella Tryka wrote the second play entitled "Sophistication." Directing the production, Virginia Seems will cast Claire Speidel, Virginia Mangin, Donald Miller and Jean Filbert.

"Go Ahead; Sue Me" is the third play. It was written by Patricia Weiherer and will be directed by Jacqueline Zwayer. Mahlon Gebhardt, Joan Slep, Stanley Order, Donald Hallas, Roberta Grimbring, William Ford and Thelma Arnold will be included in the cast.

Nancy Lou Walker will direct "The Ice Storm" which was written by Roger Spang. She has chosen for her cast Helen Schoener, Lois Hughes, Robert Walker and Peter Schafstall.

Try-outs for the plays were held last Thursday night at the conclusion of the first Domino club meeting. There was a short business meeting first at which time Miss Seems, acting president, appointed the necessary committees for the coming year.

Let's All Take Note

No one need have any apprehensions concerning the validity of the recent elections for Homecoming queen candidates. The election was conducted properly and the turn-out percentage-wise was good considering the circumstances such as the fact that many students did not know each other. Furthermore, due to the speed which it had to be conducted, no previous publicity could be given to it.

However, there is one incident which seems to recur in all the college elections. This is the rather immature manner in which some students profess to vote. For instance, in this election several ballots had to be invalidated because obviously a boy would not be very well qualified for Homecoming queen. Several people did not sign their own name to the bottom of the ballot, but rather signed anonymous name or some other students name.

Since only one vote separated winners from non-winners, it is obvious that invalid ballots might conceivably throw an election. Another example to the point would be the last "all campus" election in which the results of three offices might have been changed by the nine invalid ballots.

Student Council has been considering the use of secret ballots. But how can this be successfully carried out if the students persist in such unethical practices? It seems a shame that we as students on a college level are not able to conduct our affairs in a more mature manner. We need your cooperation to successfully achieve the goal of secret ballots on campus!

Grab the Brass Ring

This week our spotlight falls on a few more of the "goings on" around campus. Y Cabinets already have a full social calendar, which includes a fall retreat, a Thanksgiving dinner for a local family, a toy repair program for the Christmas party and the all-school Sport Carnival. If you are interested in lending a helping hand at these events, Evelyn Kressler and Robert Meyers are the people you should contact.

Those who love the theatre are always welcome to take part in the two major productions or the one-act plays which the Domino Club presents each year. Mrs. Shirk, faculty advisor, is looking forward to having aspiring actors, make-up artists, prompters and property men attend the monthly meetings and rehearsals of this organization.

Albright also offers a full athletic program for those who are sportsminded, such as football, basketball, baseball and track. Women's sports include hockey, tennis, basketball, softball and archery, which are under the supervision of Coach Eva Mosser, who is assisted by members of the Women's Athletic Association.

If you play any kind of musical instrument, you will want to become a member of the college band or orchestra conducted by Mr. Hans Nix. Glee Club and Chapel Choir, directed by Dr. John Duddy, are also open to those people who have singing ability. Again, grab the brass ring.

Don't Miss It!

Homecoming's a coming. Are you? Word has come to us that several student organizations are planning various activities for that weekend in order to help make it really outstanding. Many new and different things will be evidenced. The question is are you participating? If you have not made any plans to participate as yet, do so now, if only as a spectator. In any event you can't afford to miss it.

Not Too Bad

An Open Letter to the Frosh:

So you think you have it rough! We'll have you know that Albright orientation is a Turkish delight, a ride on velvet compared with the fiendish tortures involved in similar programs in various other colleges.

Muhlenberg, for instance, (as reported by that college's weekly) has a Freshman Tribunal which has the powers of the U. S. Supreme Court and a strict code based on the premise that all frosh are guilty until proven innocent. To be proven innocent the frosh must be at least eighty years of age and accompanied by his parents. Frosh are treated as the scum of the earth ("which they are" . . . Muhlenberg's words) and are penalized by punishments such as carrying bricks or buckets of water, shouting "Fresh Fish" in front of the library and wearing something too horrible to mention, if they forget their dinks.

Rider College, in addition to a program that resembles ours, has a ruling that each frosh must have the signatures and home addresses of at least fifty upperclassmen by a given date. That could be fun . . .

The saddest news about customs was revealed in a letter to the paper of A. and M. Clemson. The news was that all school spirit was dead . . . just because the blankety-blank administration had outlawed the use of paddles. Ah yes, who does feel like screaming at the games if he isn't black and blue?

Confidentially though, the frosh don't need customs to get into trouble. At Gettysburg they can get in a peck of it by simply walking into class. One frosh girl walked into a class, noticed that all the others were upperclassmen, got confused, opened a door to get out and walked into a closet. That's where customs come in handy. They would have made that girl so afraid of upperclassmen, that she never would have gone into the room in the first place!

—P. D. W.

By their own admission, University of North Carolina coeds spend most of their leisure time talking about boys, marriage, boys, diamond rings and boys. One male said he was disappointed. He had read somewhere that college was the most likely place to mind a mate on his own educational level. At last report he's been dating a waitress in Raleigh.

For Upperclassmen Only

Some time ago, an article by one J. Z. appeared on this page which was chuck full of advice to freshmen, and how they should treat those suffering from that malady, upperclassmentia Albrightia. But how about the poor unfortunates who are the victims of this disease? How shall they act and react? Here are a few hints on how to treat the Frosh.

1. Remain poised and calm at all times. Even if the freshman who sits next to you in history class wants to know why the law of gravity doesn't apply to Doctor Kistler when he leans backward out of the window while lecturing, don't be fazed. Think of an answer. (You might say that Dr. Kistler was once a tightrope walker and acquired a delicate sense of balance while doing this, or that he has an agreement with Isaac Newton.) Regardless of what you say, don't let him know that he has you stumped. He has been taught to respect you, and appearances must be maintained.

2. Never allow a frosh to feel superior to you. If one informs you that Adlai Stevenson is his uncle, top him.

3. Before you worry too much about what you'll do if you don't have a more imposing relative than the freshman, I'll come to your aid. (It took me a while to think of a solution.) You can tell him that Count von Higginspeiler is your cousin. He won't want to display his ignorance by asking who the count might be, but if he should venture to inquire, you can reduce him to a quivering pulp with a withering glance which conveys the impression that anybody who is anybody knows who the Count is, and that your opinion of this frosh has sunk to a new low. Note—Foreign names sound the most imposing.

4. Humor the frosh. They have been instructed to do what you say and are expecting you to give them a hard time. Don't let them down. Give them all sorts of errands and chores to do. (If you have a conscience, you can rationalize by saying that you are preventing homesickness by keeping them busy.) Whenever you see a group of, or preferably, a single frosh, shout "Button Frosh," or demand that they sing the alma mater. Never be satisfied the first time. Demand that the alma mater be sung at least four times. Never thank them. If the singing or cheering is especially good, you might say, "Okay, but next time try it in the key of E."

Hint—It takes at least six minutes to sing the alma mater four times, so this treatment is best begun about nine minutes past the hour, after you have made certain that the frosh has a class that hour.

4B. At the faculty reception, you can demand that all frosh display their Compasses, or become indignant when you find a freshman girl (or girls) not wearing red and white socks.

Follow these few hints and you will be all the freshmen were told to expect (the worst).—E. S.

Jim

Albright's first Dandy Lion of 1952-53 is known to all as the gavel-wielder of Student Council—James Buch. Proving the adage that good things come in small packages, Jim has been active in his four years on Albright's "thirty-five rolling acres."

A day student from Mt. Penn, Jim can call college his second home. He can be seen toting that impressive briefcase (with the red "A" on its side) around campus day and night.

Pi Tau Beta claims Jim as one of its peppiest members. This pep will be conveyed to spectators at sports events this year on the cheerleading squad. For the third year the managerial end of the varsity basketball team is included on his list of activities.

The business administration student has no definite plans and Uncle Sam will be taking care of his career for a few years after graduation.

Agonia Again

Agonia, September 32, 1952 TP.

—Our talent scout in charge of athletics, Subb "Sid" Eise, reports that our glorious rival, Betch U. has added several new courses to its catalog this semester. They are aimed at orienting the college student so that he may go out into the world on an equal basis with his non-college contemporaries. The new courses are as follows:

Goldbricking 4ab, a required freshman course, teaches the student to cast off the shackles of ambition and to loaf with poise and confidence.

Another required course, offered as an elective to sophomores, is Pinochle 1 ab, which teaches the fundamentals of this useful and profitable amusement.

Running concurrently with Pinochle 1 ab is Prestidigitation 2a5b, which covers cribbing, stacking cards, juggling books, etc. Offered also is Prestidigitation 9b, also called Self Hypnosis, which teaches the student the art of getting the most relaxing sleep in every class.

In addition to the above courses, which are required of the freshmen, there are several courses offered on a purely elective basis. These are Preselection 1, 2, 3, and 4. All are offered to students having more than 60 semester hours of credit.

Preselection 1 ab is better known as Pony-picking. The course is designed to give the student a thorough understanding of the parimutual system, and how to weigh one hot tip against another. This also includes getting horses to talk, bribing jockeys, etc.

Preselection 2 a covers selecting and measuring cigar butts, and various methods of getting people to discard the butts while they are still smokable.

Preselection 3 b covers the selection of blondes, brunettes and redheads. It teaches the student to avoid the big eaters, the fur-coat-for-Christmas types, and the bottle blondes. Also included is the psychology of winning million-

Albright In Review

Lions Meet G-Burg Tomorrow At Battlefield

It looks as if the quarterback slot, left vacant by Chauncey Krout, is going to be filled by a capable performer for the next few years.

Little Mike DePaul looked like a veteran as he led his team to three first downs and their first touchdown of the season in the opening quarter of the Lafayette game. He gained considerable yardage on quarterback sneaks and he climaxed a drive in the last quarter with a one yard plunge for a T.D. Coach Gulian also used Bob Carney and Roy Dragon to spell DePaul. They both handled themselves well and will be a constant threat to DePaul.

The Lion offense looked very good against the Leopards. Jack Sudol looked especially well as he averaged seven yards per try. His punting was not up to last year's level, but he was not called on to kick very often.

The Red and White forward wall made Lafayette look like a high school team as they continually opened big holes for their backs to scoot through. All the Lion backs made good sized gains, the longest being Sudol's 62 yard jaunt around left end.

But that was not the only highlight of the game. The fans were brought to their feet by a pass, intended for Bob Krize, which was caught by burly tackle Fred Hess after it had bounced out of Krize's hands.

Ray Stoneback had a chance to get some glory when he latched on to an enemy pass at the midfield stripe, but he was finally brought down after a 26 yard sprint towards pay-dirt.

Pass Defense
Your reporter had the opportunity to observe Eugene "Berky" Ward lead his Bullets to a 14-13 win over the big University of Delaware Blue Hens in a game that was the carbon copy of the Bullets' 21-20 victory over the Lions last year. It is our opinion that Ward, a 5'9", 150 pound senior, is one of the finest passers in this area. Last year he completed 65 passes in 124 attempts, and showed definite signs of surpassing that total as he completed pass after pass against the bewildered Blue Hens. This only means that unless something drastic is done to pep up our pass defense, Ward will flood the air with flying pigskin, and from all appearances will complete a large majority of them.

But, Ward is all the Battlefielders have. As Duke Wuzzardo and Co. found out last week, no one is going to make much yardage thru the center of the Albright line with such stalwarts as Blackie Wiedman and Herb Mackler ready to bang down any offensive threat.

Pairings Announced For Fall Tournament

The pairings for the fall tennis tournament were announced this week. The tournament is expected to go four rounds with the losers eliminated until one victor remains.

The opponents as listed in Kraus Hall are as follows: Weeber-Eshelman; Stambaugh-Rhoads; Drexler-Stauffer; Reusing-Brown; Schiavo-Snyder; Ermold-Berkstresser; and Grisby-Conrad.

Gulian-Men Seek Second Win Of Year

Gettysburg Sports Seven Game Streak

Seeking their second victory of the season the Albright Lions will travel to Gettysburg where they will meet the Battlefielders tomorrow at 2:00 P. M.

Coach Johnny Yovicin's charges now have a seven game winning streak, five from last year, and victories over the University of Delaware and Western Maryland this season. The Bullets edged the Lions 21-20 here last year, and then went undefeated the remainder of the season to end up with a six and three record.

Yovicin, in his first year as head coach at G-Burg replaced Hen Bream, who tutored the gridiron sport there for 26 years. He is a former Philadelphia Eagle football player and a minor league basketball player.

Berkey Ward Returns

Nearly 30 lettermen were among the 46 candidates who reported at the beginning of the year. Only six gridlers were lost through graduation. The outstanding returning letterman is quarterback Eugene "Berky" Ward, the boy who completed 14 consecutive passes against Franklin and Marshall last year. Overall Ward found 65 receivers in 124 attempts for 905 yards and eight touchdowns for the entire '51 season. Not only does Ward pass, but he handles the punting chores as well.

Other offensive backs who returned are Joe Ujohai, who scored one of the Bullets' three touchdowns here last year; Tony Natale, the leading ground gainer for the season; Bob Eppelman, fullback and Bill Yocum, a halfback.

On defense the Battlefielders will have safety man Earl Yost, who raced 93 yards with an intercepted pass for the winning score over the Lions last season; Don Holland, who was injured last year, and Jim Hammond.

On the offensive line at end Walt Hemberger, who led the receivers last year, is fighting it out with Ron Jacobi and Ken Bowman for the starting berths. Bill Vignola and Jim Rooney will most likely start at tackle while Ron Miller and Bill Weitze will fill the guard slots. Veteran Phil Dolson will get the nod at the pivot.

The defensive alignment will see Bowman and George Pence at the wings, Bill Forbes and Jay Williams at tackle, and Ray Reider and all-stater Bill Ewing at guard. Bud Pettit will back up the center of the line.

Lion Offense Same

The Red and White offensive lineup will most likely be the same as last week: Bob Krize and Bruce Eickhoff ends; co-captain Bob Zapora and Fred Hess at tackle; Jack Clopper and Norm Ruppert guards and Len Zahurak at center.

Freshman Mike DePaul will be at quarter while veterans Tony D'Apollito, Bruce Tenley and Jack Sudol will man the other three posts.

Co-captain Blackie Weidman will lead the Lion defense from his left guard slot while Fred Strahlendorf mans the other guard post. Joe Hayick and Ed McNeill flank Ted Kujawski and Dennis Gillen while Herb Mackler and Ray Stoneback backup the line. Jack Peiffer and Jack Huntzinger are at halfback while Bill Locher is at the important safety spot.

Yovicin is a strong advocate of

Thinclads Open With Royals Today

The 1952 Albright cross country team should be considerably stronger than last year's, which went unvictorious.

Only one runner from last year is gone, Ray Hoopes. Leading the letter runners back to the fold is Don Seltzer, former Reading high ace. Seltzer, the top man on the Lion squad last year, has been training hard and should be in top shape for this afternoon's meet with powerful Scranton University at home.

Other lettermen returning this season are Mahlon Frankhouser and Jim Rocktashel, juniors, and Clip Muller, a sophomore. Two other veterans are Jed Lengel, a sophomore, who had leg trouble last year and Dick Flammer, a junior, who didn't run last season because of ineligibility. Russ Orlando and George Kline, both sophs, are also working out.

Heading the freshmen candidates is Bill Shirk, former Muhlenberg High athlete, who has had considerable running experience in the service. Bob Artz, ex-Mohnton High track star and two former Reading High frosh, Paul Gehris and Tom Savage are also making bids for the squad.

There is a slight possibility that Albright may change its cross country course to the "Campus Style." This is widely used in Pennsylvania and would be beneficial to the runners.

Coach Eugene Shirk said in an interview last week, "the team is much stronger than last season and we have twice as many men running. We will have an improved season."

Shirk would like to offer an invitation to any men interested in cross country to come out and work out with the team.

At this time the schedule is not complete except for the Scranton meet this afternoon.

Nine Teams Comprise I-M Football League

Coach Bobby Hick's Intra-Mural football league began its eight-game schedule on Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 when the A.P.O.'s met the Pi Tau's. The Kappa's also played the Daymen. Yesterday the Rebels and the Jerseyites tangled while the Frosh met the Wildcats. Four games will be played each week, two on Wednesday, two on Thursday, and Fridays will be reserved for rained out dates.

The league is comprised of nine teams which include the four fraternities as well as three freshmen teams known as the Wildcats, Jerseyites, and the Frosh. The other two teams are the Daymen and the sophomore Rebels.

Jim Barrett's A.P.O.'s, coached by Bill Himmelman, should be a definite threat to Bill Cohr's Zetas, last year's champions. However, Al Schlegel's Pi Taus, Bill Britton's Kappas, Ace Adam's Daymen, the sophomore Rebels, and the three frosh teams should make it an interesting campaign.

Coach Hicks also announced that the trophy this year will be awarded to the winner of the Shaughnessy playoffs. The first four teams will participate in a one game elimination series in which the first and third teams and the second and fourth teams play each other to decide the finalists.

the balanced T-formation which was used so successfully by Hen Bream against the Lions last year.

Albright Stops Lafayette In Decisive 28-6 Victory

Sudol Scores Twice, D'Apollito, DePaul Once

Opening up with a vicious running attack, the Albright Lions scored their first win of the season last Saturday afternoon over Lafayette at Easton, 28-6. The visitors were never threatened after piling up a 21-0 lead at the half to cap their second decision over the Leopards since the football rivalry was resumed last year.

Albright's first scoring began early in the first period on the Lafayette 10. With Mike DePaul running the T-formation at quarter, Albright's backfield of Jack Sudol, Bruce Tenley and Tony D'Apollito raced through sizable holes in the Leopard forward wall for consistent gains as only one pass, a 24-yarder from Sudol to Tenley, was used. The score came as D'Apollito circled right end from the nine.

Sudol Races 62 Yards

The next score came more quickly. After the Leopards stopped a Lion drive on the 25, Andrew Colson booted to the Albright 38. On the first play from scrimmage Jack Sudol showed he has successfully negotiated the change from defensive half to fullback by going around left end for 62 yards and the score. A timely block by end Bruce Eickhoff on the Lafayette safety man made the trip easy. Tony D'Apollito added his second of four extra points from placement.

As Albright's defensive line continued to thwart any Leopard attempts at retaliation, an 18-yard kick that went out of bounds on the Lafayette 42 set the stage for the third tally. Tenley and D'Apollito accounted for 24 yards on two plays after which Sudol carried for seven and then the final 11 to pick up the six-pointer. The last two touchdowns were engineered with freshman Bob Carney in the signal-calling spot.

After a scoreless third quarter in which both teams experimented with second stringers, the Lions again got moving early in the last quarter. They had lost the ball on a fumble on the Lafayette 26 after moving 43 yards, but they got it right back on Tom Vernosky's fumble. Sudol and Tenley juggled it to the nine from where the latter took it to the one. It took four cracks from this point before De-

Paul finally sneaked over. The Lafayette touchdown came with seven minutes left in the contest on a pass, Joe Callahan to Tom McGrail, good for 35 yards, and the Leopards thus avoided a shutout. They continued to toss the pigskin in the final minutes, but could connect no more.

The convincing Albright victory was reflected in the statistics as the Lions rolled up 17 first downs to their opponents' three. On the ground Albright had 344 yards from scrimmage while the Maroon could net only 11. In the air Lafayette had an 81-33 edge.

The Lions evened their record at 1 and 1, while the Leopards have yet to win in two starts.

Eligible students who intend to take this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Three Europeans Enrolled As Frosh

Helga Windhoevel, a German girl, and Ian and Lief Nicolaisen, two Danish brothers, are enrolled in the freshman class at Albright. Helga, an only child, was born in Uruppertal, Germany, near Cologne. She came to the United States July 28 of this year for the first time. Her summer was spent with relatives on a farm in Massachusetts. A nineteen year old liberal arts major, Helga plans to return to Germany next year and attend a chemistry school in Krefeld for two years. After this she will take over her father's paint and varnish factory.

When asked how she liked Albright, Helga said, "It has a really beautiful campus." She feels, too, that "in the classroom, the attitude between the teachers and students is of a more personal and informal nature than in Germany." She termed college life as being "an entirely new experience and expressed approval of dormitory life. She added that "there is no actual difference between German and American youths; however, American students act older and more sophisticated." Helga was unable to state whether or not she likes the United States for she has seen very little of it thus far.

Danish Boys Interviewed

When interviewed, both Ian and Lief said they were born in Greenland, however, their parents are from Denmark where they are still living. They came to the United States in 1940 and lived in New York State until 1946. Since then, they have been residing in Wellsboro, Pennsylvania.

Ian, a nineteen year old business administration major, plans to go into business after his four years at Albright. He thinks college life is "all right" and likes Albright "very much." When asked how he likes the United States, he replied, "Just perfect!"

Lief, a twenty year old chemistry major, transferred from the University of Delaware. He plans to become a chemical engineer. He feels the same as his brother about Albright, college life, and the U. S.

As to a comparison of youths in Greenland and America, Lief feels that "there is no comparison for they really aren't quite civilized." "In Greenland," he continued, "colleges are replaced by trade schools."

They have a sister, Mona, who is working for B. Altman in New York City. Their mother is a graduate of Beaver College in Jenkintown, Pennsylvania.

The interior decoration of the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity house has almost reached its completion stage. After many hours of voluntary labor, all the rooms have been prepared for the coming school year.

At the monthly fraternity meeting extensive plans have been made to welcome and entertain Zeta alumni and guests at the annual Homecoming celebration.

In the intramural side of sport life at Albright College, the Zetas will be defending their third consecutive championship. William Cohrs, a veteran member of the preceding championship teams, has been elected captain. Although several key players will not be available this year, many of last year's starters will return to brighten the outlook.
