1994 Homecoming

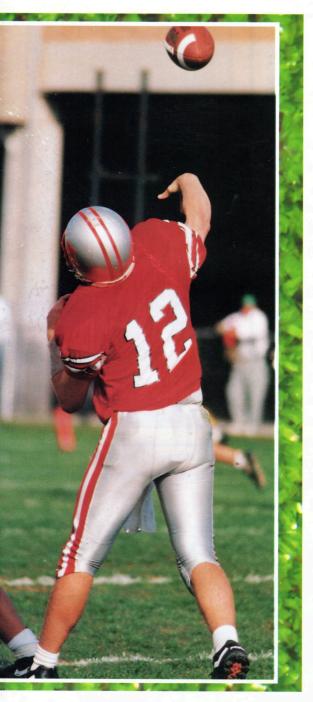

Albright Wins!

fter an excellent game on Homecoming Day, the Albright Lions proved victorious and beat Moravian, 41-31. This is the annual game we all look forward to, a time for Albright athletes and fans alike, to prove their loyalty to our school and make us #1. The Lions played hard and strong for over three hours to make the win and please the Homecoming crowds. This October game is always our biggest attraction for many Albrightians, with 1,750 attendants this year. Many alumni come to support our football team and pay tribute to their Alma Mater. This is a time not only for football, but for fellowship and fun for many students and alumni. As evident by the cheers from the crowd — it really is true that at Albright, 1994, "It's Getting Better All The Time!"

Football Game

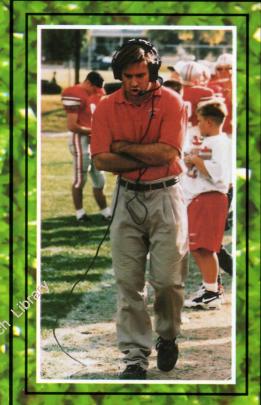

Beating Moravian was the best win the Albright football program has had since I have been here. It was all made possible through the new football coaching staff, developed by Coach Kiesel.

Albright 1994

azzling us again with their smiles and waves as they promenade around the football field at half-time, the 1994 Homecoming Court looked beautiful. The 1995 Senior class chose their court, and then watched these active Albrightians stand proud on Homecoming Day. Both the senior class and the Lion Diplomats work hard on Homecoming Day in October to make this parade a successful event. The alumni and students look forward to the parade and wait in anticipation for the announcement of the Homecoming King and 1994 King — Christopher C. Prewo Queen. It is always an exciting and time honored tradition at Albright that "Is Getting Better All The Time."

Homecoming Floats 1994

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Homecoming Float

1994 Homecoming floats were as splendid as ever during the half time parade. It was filled with giant floats made by the Greeks, CCB and RSA. The time taken to build them was obvious to every spectator, for they are Getting Better All The Time. The creators sitting and standing upon them looked happy to be a part of this Albright tradition that we look forward to each Homecoming.

Holloween Fun 1994

he leaves are changed and falling. The sky is a bright red. The air is crisp and clear. October is here, and that means Holloween! This strange and scary holiday can still be loads of fun, even for Albrightians. This year, some students celebrated with a holloween costume party on Hampton Boulevard. This Dance Fever King, John Travolta look alike — Brad Warren — hosted a blast of a party. The cost to get in to this Holloween bash was simply a costume, and the fun never ended once you walked in the door. Everyone came in disguise, from monsters to cats, to hippies and cows. There were even some flappers, and a cute little elderly couple. All these costumed Albrightians spent the holiday dancing and partying the night away, and a great time was had by all. This Holloween night, 1994, proved to many Albrightian that around here, "It's Getting Setter All The Time." Now the question is, who's having the party next Holloween?

Kramer, (Craig Fass) and a very confused Bobby Colombus are obviously having a great time at this party.

ese three tough guys, Josh Beler, Mike Ginelli, and Brian Turtle, make us all and to go to the next Beastie Boys concert. Right?

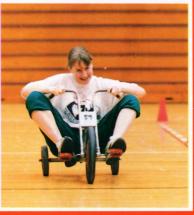

Who are these masked cuties with Pete Vignevic? They just might be his best looking dates at Albright yet this year.

Sports Night 1995

S ports Night is a revitalized Albright tradition that reminded many of of us that this place is Getting Better All The Time. With the help of Herb Miller, 61, the athletic department organized the 1995 Sports Night, and it was a blast. Students could be found doing many exciting activites. The evening culminated with a Belly-Flop Contest, won by a very brave and afterward very red, Tony Burkhardt. Thanks to Mr. Miller for re-introducing this tradition to Albright, we look forward to it again next year.

Bowl-An-Albrightian

uring Spring
Fever Weekend
this year, CCB
sponsored yet another new and exciting event.
They had a BowlAn-Albrightian activity that made our heads
spin, literally!
Some of us were brave enough

to get into this caged red ball, and then get rolled down the alley into a mass of giant bowling pins. The pictures on this page captured some of the excitement, and perhaps even some of the motion sickness of the event. These human bowling balls felt a lot better getting in than getting out of that big cage. Each year, CCB requests allocations from the Student Government Association to be able to host activites like this one. With the Campus Center Board in charge of Spring Fever Weekend, we are all sure to have a blast. It is because of organizations like this one that Albright is Getter Better All The Time! Three cheers for the Bowl-An-Albrightian!

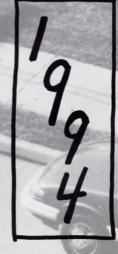

nce again — Albrightians celebrate the excitement of the Homecoming Football game with the traditional Tailgating! This anticipated event is a day of fun and fellowship for current and alumni Lions alike. It is an afternoon of smiles, laughter and memories of past college days at beloved our school.

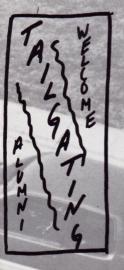

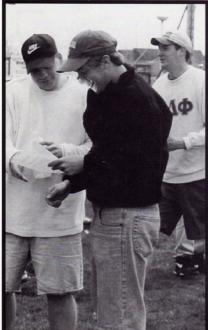

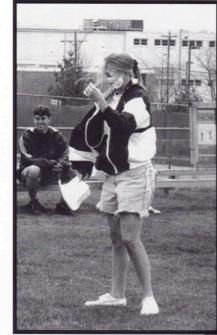

bove all tailgating is a day of promises and plans between friends to get together again before the next Homecoming. This is a unique day of the year when almost everyone has one thing in common — we all go to or graduated from the same great school. It is that similarity which makes the day so special and memorable each year. It is precisely this day of Tailgating that brings many of us back to our roots to have a great time back at Albright!

PIE MAFIA — Phi Delta

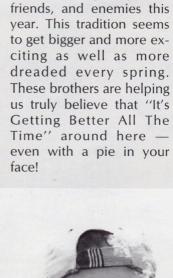

Back Again! From first year students to seniors. From students to administration. From girl to boy. From Greek to Independent. No one is sacred! At the time when you least expect it — BAM — there's a pie in your face! The annual and ever dreaded Pie Mafia was attacking Albrightians ironically at their request — again this Spring Fever 1995.

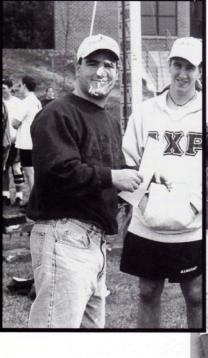

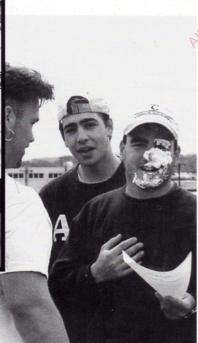

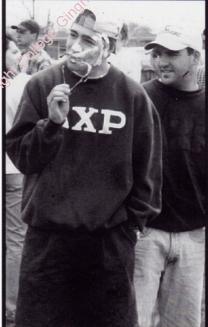

These brothers of Phi Del-

the money from Albrightians fast enough to pie our

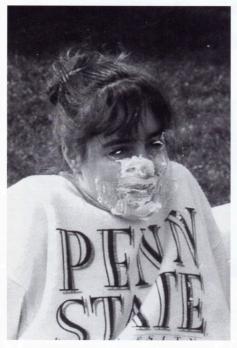

Theta — STRIKES AGAIN!

Each and every one of us comes to Albright feeling a little bit like a fish-out-of-water. We have moved away from our well known and comfortable high schools and circles of friends.

Our lifelong friends are not with us to make the transition easier — they are somewhere else having the same problem! We learn quickly that the solution is to make new friends.

Many visitors describe Albright as a friendly and welcoming place to be. And, if there is a way to prove this, it is simply by looking around and noticing all the smiling faces at our school.

By recognizing all the new lifelong friends we make during our four years here, we agree that Albright is precisely that friendly place visitors desribe it to be. It just gets better all the time!

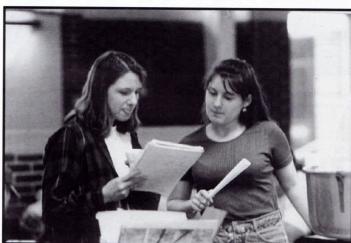

Once again, sponsored by Albright Environmental Action, the Earth Day celebration was a success. We had a human velcro wall with Albrightians leaping to new hights to stick to it, a basketball shooting game — attracting a majority of Albright's team, and lots of snocones and cotton candy for everyone! Unfortunately, due to rain, the festivities were held in the Campus Center but that did not make them any less fun. Albright's Earth Day celebration is Getting Better All The Time around here!

Greeks

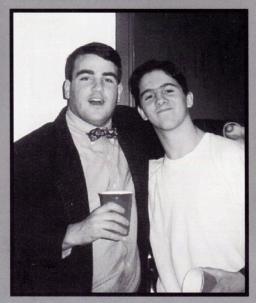

Albright's Greeks add excitement and fellowship to our college community, and as evident by their enthusiasm and laughter, every Albrightian can tell, . . . They're Having More Fun All The Time

Greeks Are Making Albright...

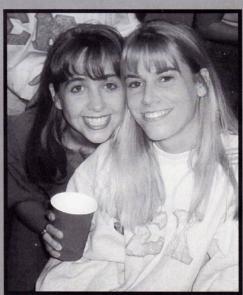

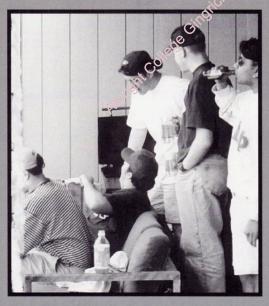

Better All The Time!!!

Panhellenic Council & Inter-Fraternity Council

The Albright College Panhellenic Council is the ruling board of Albright's national sororities. It is a national organization which strives to promote unity within the Greek system and among the administration, faculty, and students of Albright. The purpose of the Panhellenic Council is to oversee formal sorority rush, coordinate Greek Weekeend in conjunction with IFC, host certain faculty events, such as the holiday tea, and to provide other events promoting Greek unity and strength. The officers are President Beth Kerstetter, Vice President Melissa Wagner, Secretary Rebecca Lawler, Treasurer Michelle Ramos, and Lia Beard.

Panhel and I.F.C. work together consistently to make sure Albright's Greek Organizations are "Getting Better All The Time."

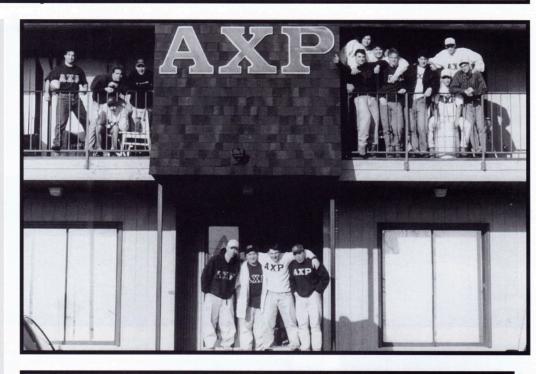

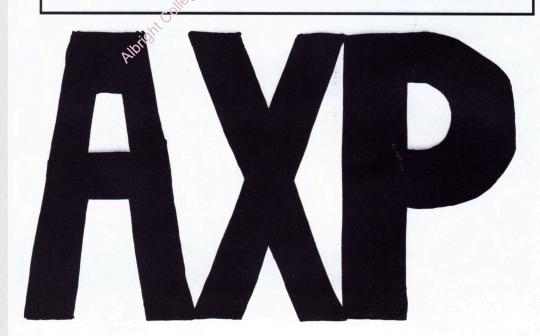

Inter-Fraternity Council is the governing body which oversees the activities of all the social fraternities on Albright's campus. IFC works with the organizations to promote brotherhood on campus. IFC consists of the following officers for the 94-95 term. They are President James Cavallo, Vice President Paul McCracken, Secretary Jason Hort, Treasurer Love Joy Nazareth, Sergeant of Arms Jarrod Schoffler, and Darren Was. The fraternities who are members of Inter-Fraternity Council are, Alpha Chi Rho, Pi kappa Phi, Pi Lambda Phi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. The IFC often works with Panhel to coordinate some of the Greek activities.

The Delta Phi Chi chapter of Alpha Chi Rho has been on the campus of Albright College since 1987. The "Crows" have proven their commitment to service through philanthropies, which include regular visits to the children of Bethany's Children's Home, the sponsoring of a Haunted House with proceeds going to MDA, and the MDA weekend 24 hour Bike-A-Thon. The newest philanthropy of AXP has been to sponsor a less fortunate family for Christmas. In recognition of its efforts, the Brothers of the Delta Phi Chi chapter were awarded the Best Chapter Without A House Award and the Landmark Chapter Award at the Alpha Chi Rho National Convention in June of '94.

ounded in 1851, Alpha Delta Pi has the distinction of being the first sorority ever founded for women. 136 chapters span the United States and Canada. Here at Albright College, the Eta Lambda Chapter upholds the valued characteristics of leadership, scholarship, and service as set forth by the national organization. Social life is also a valuable aspect of the sorority. Many of the sisters are involved in campus activities such as Campus Center Board, Lion Diplomats, Dorm Council, and Domino Players, as well as Albrights Athletics Program. The sorority volunteers in local soup kitchens and the Ronald McDonald House. Finally, Alhpa Delta Pi was recognized once again for its outstanding overall GPA at Albright's Honors and Awards Ceremony.

Phi Mu Fraternity prides itself on it's involvement on the campus of Albright. One of our favorite Activities, the annual Halloween Haunted House, is co-sponsored with Alpha Chi Rho Fraternity. This fundraiser is one of the many ways in which we raise money for our Philanthropy — the Chi dren's Miracle Network. We also provide Designated Driver services for our sisters every Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night. This year, Phi Mu was the only sorority to have sisters participating in the annual MDA marathon and were the top fundraisers. Our sisters are involved in every aspect of campus activities and leadership, such as orientation, CCB Lion Dips, and various sports. In all of these areas, our sisters are not only involved, but we help to develop and initiate upon which student life on this campus is built.

The Zeta Chi Chapter of the Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity was chartered on November 10, 1990. As we celebrate our fifth year of brotherhood, our 18 brothers, and 9 Zeta Asociate Class Members strive for excellence in nearly every on camous orgainzation and most varsity sports teams. We are highly devoted to PUSH America, our national philanthropy, which is an organization dedicated to helping people with mental and physical challenges. This year, the brothers held a miss-a-meal, distributed coin collection cans throughout campus, and organized a 100-hour scaffolding sit to raise both money and awareness for the severely handicapped. We also embody a diversity which we believe provides strength to our frathernity maintaining a racial, ethic, social and religious cornucopia of members. While we are proud of the accomplishments of our past, we anticipate as a brotherhood the opportunities the future with hold for us to create an even more fulfilling college experience.

he Pi Kappa Omega Chapter of Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity was chartered at Albright College on March 18, 1988. Since then the brothers of Pi Lambda Phi have continued to represent themselves on campus and off through numerous activities. Pi Lam's have continued to excel in athletics on both the collegiate and intramural levels. Our brothers have held many executive positions within various orgainzations on campus throughout the years. Pi Lambda Phi not only places a large emphasis on the importance of academics but also has an excellent reputation within the community, thanks to its numerous charitable contributions and efforts to worthy causes. Pi Lamba Phi is a small fraternity that prides itself on being a close-knit organization that maintains high standards in all aspects of college life. The brothers of Pi Lambda Phi believe that joining fraternity "is not for four years but a lifetime", and they strive to convey that concept day in and day out on Albright's campus.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon Colony of Albright College is approximately three years old. In the fall of 1992, a group of first year students decided to come together to form an organization which was founded by honor and virtue. Through hard work and determination, they have succeeded in becoming a functioning chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. This group prides themselves on giving back to others as much as people give to them. While this characteristic most certainly exists within the brotherhood, it does not stop there. They exuberate their pride through philanthropies like Big Brothers and Big Sisters of Berks County, and Berks AIDS Network. The presence of the SAE colony is also obvious on every Friday through their unique tradition called "Pride Day" (Tie Day). The members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Colony are very diverse in their activities and contribute to every aspect of Albright academic and athletic life. Yet when it comes to the objectives and goals of the group, they become one. They brought SAE to this campus to make a change. Their caring for others can easily be felt by their mere vistence at Albright.

As sisters of Sigma Kappa, we share a bond of sincere friendship and unity. In turn these charasteristics help us to grow socially, intellectually, and spiritually. During our 8th year here on Albright's campus, through strong sisterhood, we continue to make essential contributions to the campus community by being active in SGA, intramural sports, Domino Players, Soccer and Softball, just to name a few. Outside of Albright's campus we ejoy visiting the CAUM Home as part of our Adopt-A-Grandmom Gerentology program, as well as selling lollipops to raise money to help "lick the fight" against Alzheimers disease, and developing a softball tournament to raise money for Blue Spruce. Socially, once again we had the opportunity to enjoy mixers, formals, airbands, and build a float for the Homecoming parade with the Pi Lamda Phi Fraternity. It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was a time we'll never lorget. But, through it all, we did it together! Remember, for in the end it not just four ears, it's a lifetime. Sigma Phi Epsilon is Albright's largest and most active fraternity with thirty-five members. While Sigma Phi Epsilon is a social fraternity, it is also active in campus and community service. The willingness of the Brothers to give of themselves is Evident in their heavy involvement in campus activities and organizations. The brothers serve as orientation leaders, steering committee members, executives of IFC, captain of the soccer team, captain of the lacrosse team, treasurer of SGA, members of CCB, dorm resident assistants, class officers, homecoming King, football, and many other campus orgainzations. The brothers take great pride in making contributions to both the college and local community. We will continue to strive in our many endeavours, and have set high goals for the coming year. We hope to continue our strong commitments to service projects such as elementary school tutoring, Adopt-A-Highway, and Project America. Moreover, we will continue to strive for academic excellence and maintain our high grade point averge.

We believe, as an interest group of Phi Delta Theta, that our primary concern is for all members of the Albright community, all Brothers of Phi Delta Theta, and each member in our interest group. Our goal is to become an active fraternity on the campus of Albright College that is thought of as a beneficial organization, not only to the Albright community, but, to the Phi Delta Theta international.

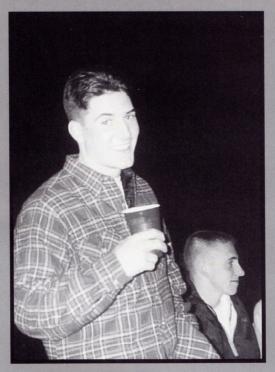

We are concerned with having loyal members who, with the help of the rest of our members, can grow as individuals. We do not believe in an exceptionally large organization on this small campus. Our recruiting is important, and we look for people who will provide leadership, riendship, and service.

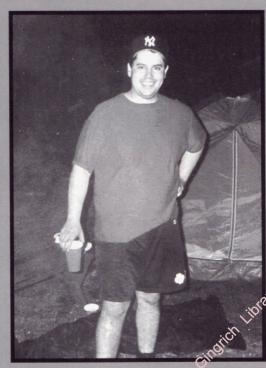

Our public image is quite important to us, yet, individualism should remain. The views of a select few should not always have an effect on our actions.

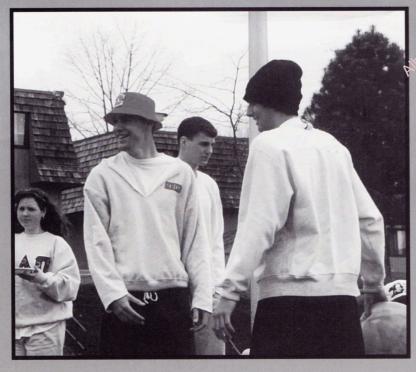

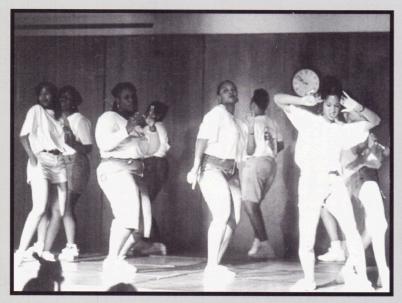

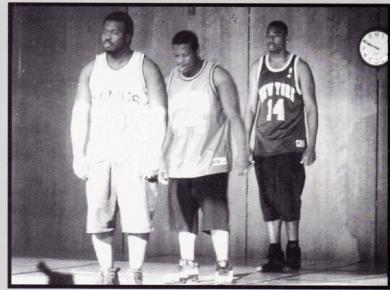

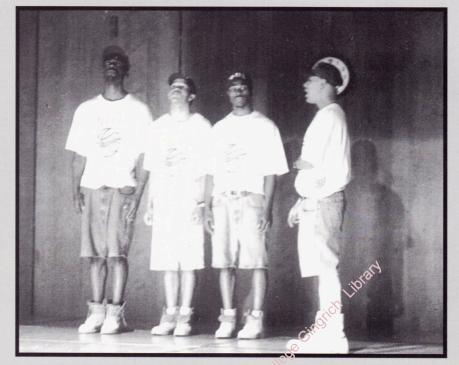

AIRBANDS

Once again — Albright students enjoyed watching our peers perform at the annual Airbands, sponsored by Phi Delta Theta. These brothers put on yet another wonderful show for all to see. We cheered and laughed on Greeks and Independents alike. Airbands is an Albright tradition that we look forward to each year.

he 1994-95 football season was in the eyes of the players somewhat of a dissapointment. While the rest of the campus and surrounding area might have been satisfied with a 4-5-1 record for the season, the Albright football team was not. Even though the squad was laoded with a starting line-up of various freshmen and underclassmen, the Lions had their hopes set on a winning record. With a disappointing tie to King's College and a loss to Lycoming in the beginning of the season, Albright started off slow, but began their prowl later. It all began with a huge victory over nationally ranked Moravian. With only two losses from their statring lineup, Pat Morris and Tom Shea, the football team returns in 1995-96 twenty starters. Next year the Lions will stop at nothing to have a winning season. They will be led by their four captains, Bill Holly, John Passero, Dave Oscar, and Ryan Ditze. The Lions will have a MAC Championship within their grasp.

here was a large gap to fill, losing 9 seniors to graduation. Co-captain Wendy Roberts held the team together with her leadership and great defensive skill. Defense was led by sophomores Pam Morris, and freshman Hope Bishop and Goalie Tese Tschoppee. Cocaptain Janice Johnson helped to keep the enthuiasm and spirit of the girls high, no matter what was happening on the scoreboard. Under a new coach the team played many close games, and it is fair to say that the effort of the team was not reflected in their season record. Next year they look for a strong returning Senior class to lead them in a winning season.

The 1994 soccer season was filled with more downs than ups unfortunately this year. The season began with a new coach, jeff Schoelenberger, a former all American goalkeeper. The guys had two major set backs that were hard to overcome. The lack of players on the team made it tough, and as injuries set in, the season mired in a series of losses.At the end of the season with the entire team in place it finished with back to back wins. The future looks bright for the team with its new coach and young players, they should continue to advance in the MAC. With players like Jim Sweeny, who made the MAC 2nd team as a freshmen goalkeeper, the guys should look forward to more success in the future.

he women's tennis team played hard this season, but they are the first to admit that the future looks brighter than the past at this point. The team finished with a 4-7 record this season in the league. They faced such adversaries as a new coach, and a small team. The new coach, Lynne Jurlglelwicz, was a great enthuiastic and talented addition to the women's team. She cheered up the courts with her experience and positivism as well. And off the court, she was teaching political science at Albright. With her help, they finished 5-9 overall. Also, with the help of rookie Jarra Rusnock the team will excell into the future. Jarra won a Silver medal in the MAC Championships and the Albright Freshman Sportsman of the Year Award. With continued enthuiasm and talent, better things are to come for these women.

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

This year, the Men's Cross Country that the try team finished sixth in the Lebanon Valley College Invitational out of twenty seven teams. They also finished fourth our of nine teams at the Philadelphia Small College Invitational, and they finished tenth out of twenty six teams at the Dickinson College Invitational. In addition the men finished fifth in the Middle Atlantic Conference. After all of these impressive victories, those guys must have been very tired. The men's cross country team ended with a very good season record, 5-2-1, and brought Albright pride to their sport. These men are traditionally a very strong team for Albright and once again, they did not let us down. Most interesting was that throughout the course of the season, there were only six healthy runners at any given time at each meet, yet they still maintained a congratulatory ending.

he Women's Cross Contry team had a successful season with a record of twelve wins and five losses. This was the best record of all fall sports and the third winning record in a row for the Women's team. The women were led by return runners Lori Choynowski, Jen Smith, and Beth Watkins as well as freshmen Maggie Ward, Alyson Simpson and Lauren Summa. Jeanette Kuhn, Kim Olexa, Maryanne Trainer and Lori Style contributed to the depth of the team. Donna McCarty was plagued with injuries but still managed to support the team throughout the season. The women finished first at the Drew Invitational and will have all of the top seven runners returning next season. These women are an excellent example of Albright dedication, and we look for more winning seasons to come from them in the future.

A fter losing six seniors who all held starting positions in 1994, the 1995 squad had a lot of recovering to do. Their season which ended not quite how they wanted, was basically a year of rebuilding. The girls all realized this was to be expected so they worked hard to create that foundation so that the next season could have better results. They were ten team members remaining after 94, and every one of them worked hard, often putting in overtime hours to help the team in the future. Captain Lisa Calvert said "We play against many tough teams in our league and now that we had a season to re-cooperate from our loss, we are ready to play and win!" The rest of the girls all agree with Clavert's attitude and look forward to a 1996 season with Albright on top. Determination and dedication to the team and to winning, will help the volleyball squad make the best out of the foundation they built this year.

he Badminton team played well overall for the season. The team was plagued by injuries, illnesses and no incoming freshmen, which considerably affected the team's performance as a whole. Many teammates participated in tournaments over the course of the season, including the Mid-Atlantic, the Northeast Collegiate and the PAIAW. The team wishes to thank everyone who helped support their winning season. These girls are traditionally a very strong team for Albright and are quite talented. Although many regard Badminton as a backyard sport during summer family picnics, it is much more serious for these women. They take it to heart, and they play with their hearts. The record shows that they are doing an excellent job, and we should be proud to have such athletes upholding Albright excellence.

he Albright College Men's basketball team had guite a roller coaster ride during its 94-95 season. Coming off an impressive 17-8 record and a MAC playoff in the 93-94 season, the team entered this year with much deserved high expectations. However, the Lions struggled going through much turmoil and adversity. The team had to deal with the head coach's resignation, as well as a six game losing streak to start. But, the team showed much character and put an impressive eight game winning streak together in which they won the revived Albright Izod Invitational Tournament. They finished the season with an 11-13 record, respectable after such a dismal start. The team looks at this season as a learning experience to overcome any obstacles in the future, and are hungry to prove themselves next year as they welcome newly hired head coach, Ken Tyler. Coach Tyler already has the team motivated for the next season, so don't be surprised to see the Albright Men's Basketball team bounce back in 95-96.

his year, new head coach Sue Stubener, led the team to an improved season. With only one returning junior and two returning sophomores, the new freshmen played a major role. These young women were forced from the start to make the team their own, and build a foundation for their four years here. With that in mind, they achieved an improved record over last year. MAC Rookie Of The Year Jarra Rusnock was a key performer for the Lady Lions. Co-captains Janice Johnson and Jackie Close helped the young team to a great season of improvement, by teaching them perseverance and keeping them enthuiastic about the game. The team will only lose one player next year and is looking forward to next season with an estimated nine incoming freshmen so far.

he Albright Wrestling team finished their season with a 5-13 record which was not representative of their performance, as the hard work and dedication of the team outweighed the points on the scoreboard. Under the tutelage of first year coach Mike Williams, the team overcame many obstacles. With no wrestling room for the second year in a row, the wrestlers were forced to practice in the basement of Walton hall. Al-though the room was so small the team had to be divided into two shifts to practice, the team per-servered and finished the season with impressive victories over Swarthmore, Western Maryland, Rutgers-Camden, Haverford and Lebanon Valley. The team was led by captains Brian Johnson, Jason Albert, and John Ullman. Juniors Chad Vosburg, Todd Outwn, Dan Moser and sophomore John Ungarelli recorded several victories for the team. The performances of freshmen Bilo Bouab and Mike Grey also helped lead the team to some wins. Senior Jarrod Schoffler came out for the team to fill the 167 weight class, despite having never wrestled before. His enthuiasm and hard work was an inspiration to the entire team. With most of their talent returning next year, they look forward to a prosperous season.

The men's team took and impressive second place at MAC's, second only to Elizabethtown. The team was quite young, with seven new additions. They all added strength to the team, and newcomer Eric Hoffman even medalled at MAC's for Albright.

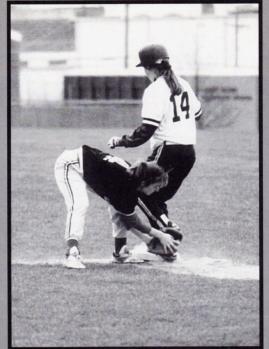

The women also took an impressive sixth at MAC's with four new additions to their team. While the women have seen better MAC's results in the past, they say that their record did not show the team's talent becase the Albright girls usually took first, second or third in the meets througout the season. But, they did not have the depth to win in the meets.

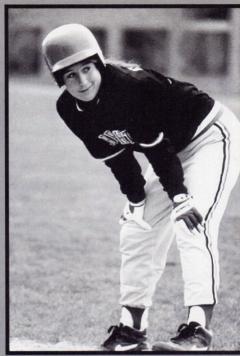

Overall, the team became very close this season, due to their time spent in Florida. Only five swimmers did not qualify for MAC's, so having a majority of them at such an important meet meant a lot to everyone. They look forward to another successful season next year.

These girls worked hard and remained dedicated throughout the season to improve upon their skills and their record. Both accomplishments were made. The team picked up two more wins than last year, ending with a better record. With a relatively young team, this was an important year of building. Graduating seniors Jill Bradley and Betsy Miller helped to teach the younger girls their love, enthuiasm, and talent on the softball diamond. Also, with the help of a new coach, Brian Stufflet, progress is in the making. This energetic coach tells the girls that there is no place to go but forward, and they all agree. We can look for good things to come from the Albright College softball team in the 96 season for sure!

he 1995 season for the Baseball team was certainly one we will all remember forever. The team ended a century-long drought of missing post-season play when they defeated Bethany (West Virginia), 3-2, in the Eastern College Athletic Conference. The team not only reached post-season play for the first time in school history, but captured the ECAC Southern Region title with an 8-4 victory over Ursinus College in the championship game. Coach Stan Hymen commented, "It may have taken us 100 years to get here but we made the most of our opportunity. Now people can say that we haven't lost a post-season game in 100 years. That's quite an accomplishment." The signicifance of the 1995 team's accomplishments was noted in USA Today, The NCAA News, Baseball America, and Collegiate Baseball. The Lions set 16 school records in '95 including most wins in a season. The Baseball team definetly did their job letting the nation know that at Albright, "It's Getting Better All The Time!"

MEN'S TENNIS

he 1995 men's tennis season was one of the tennis program's finest. This year was one of the most successful yet, as the team finished as MAC runners up for the third time in three years, making a record for Albright. Freshmen Bill Fleeger led the team at the number one position and finished his excellent season in the singles tournament. Dave Arnold contributed great wins at the second position, and has much to look forward to next year as a returning senior. He and Toney Burkhardt won the MAC doubles tournament for Albright's first MAC title. Burkhardt finished his career with the all time singles, doubles, and career points records, as well as records for consecutive singles and doubles wins. He will be missed next year by both the coach and the team. Overall the contributions by each of these talented athletes, and all the others on the court, helps keep Albright's tennis team one of the best.

Men's track and field had few to build the team, but that didn't stop them from having a winning season and setting tracks for a promising future. The men finished with a record of 8 wins and 3 losses, and they maintained their sports tradition at Albright of being one of the best. An accomplishment that all the men were proud of was their showing at the Messiah Invitational. They finished 7th out of 17 teams. Coach Don Gotshall commented that the team was doing a good job, and with a few more people and a little more commitment, they had a bright future. He upgraded the program this year with a mix of dual meets and invitations, both to challenge and strengthen the team. Hopefully this new program was a success and the men should be looking forward to another wining season in 96.

he women's track team had an exceptional season this year. They finished with an overall record of 9 wins and 4 losses, quite a good showing for Albright. These Lady Lions had a tough obstacle to clear early in the season - a lack of athletes. They competed throughout the season with a very small team, but a lot of enthuiasm to make up for the lack of players. It was due to the dedication of teammates like Lori Choynowski and Luaren Summa that kept the team going. Also, youngsters Ward, Meade, Simpson and Carrigan kept the team on the top by making goals to set school records together. The commitment of these women will help Albright stay abreast of the competition and keep winning. We look for good records and hopefully increased numbers to come in the future for the women's track team.

Put on your oldest clothes, dig those Nike's from 1990 out of the closet and make them fit. Tie your hair back and jump into the big, slimy mud pit! Oozeball 1995 was even more fun this year, making Albrightians believe "It's Getting Better All The Time" at our school. This traditional Spring Fever sport attracts spectators and players alike, Campus government is centerd in the Student Government Association composed of thirteen students. Its purpose is to promote the interests of the students which are consistent with its perceptions of the best interests of the college. The SGA is empowered to regulate the studetn activities fee and determine the allocation of collected funds, appoint students to college committees, supervise elections for organizations on request, and represent the constituencies of the college. This year, the SGA made great improvement in communication throughtout the Albright Community. They created a Senate which each organization is required to be a part of, they remained in close touch with Trustee Board Members, and they staved abreast of concerns by administration, faculty, and especially the student body.

The Campus Center Board provides nonalcoholic social activities for the campus. The board works diligently several hours each week to provide fun and entertaining activities. It is this CCB that helps make Albright a more exciting place to be. They are responsible for things such as Oozeball, Spring Fever Weekend, Movie Nights and Comedy Acts. Without their expert planning and dedication to Albright, the social life for many Albrightians would be less than exciting. CCB deserves much thanks for all they do for our student body.

RESIDENT STUDENT ASSOCATION

he Resident Student Association (RSA) continued to expand and strengthen our influence in providing campus unity. RSA is responsible for very sucessful campus wide events this year, such as Spirit Week, Spring Formal, Homecoming Bonfire, and a Picnic on the Soccer Field. RSA worked with the Student Services Staff to coordinate our involvement in the Readign Holiday Parade. Albright is lucky to have such an organized and enthuiastic RSA, for they do nothing but enhance the social community we share.

I he 1994-95 academic year marked the tenth anniversary of the Lion Diplomats, the student-alumni association. During the past year, the Lion Dips assisted the Alumni office in coordinating events to actively involve the alumni with current students, such as Homecoming and Alumni Weekend. The Lion Dips also spent their time and energy planning events, oozeball and the senior grad dinner are some activities that are quickly becoming traditions ar Albright. The members of this enthusiastic organization are dedicated to the Albright spirit and are easily identifiable when wearing their red and white rugbys.

CLASS OF 1995

1995 Class Officers President: Katie Smith

Vice President: Chantal Newton

Secretary: Laurie Mrozak Treasurer: Katie Bruckman

he class officers for the 1995 graduates were very busy the last few days of school. They worked throughout the entire year to make the graduation ceremony memorable for all who attended. But, more importantly to the seniors, they planned the Senior Week activities that have become an Albright tradition. The seniors finish up finals one week before everyone else, and then they are off to have some Albright fun for the last time. The senior week activites, such as the 10th Stree Crawl, the trip to Baltimore, and the endless nights of dinner and drinks at local bars will be remembered forever thanks to the planning of their class officers.

CLASS OF 1996

1996 Class Officers

President: Deirdre Diener Vice President: Chris Patrick

Secretary: Jon Hodgson

Treasurer: Anthony Stephan

he Class of 1996 officers worked hard this year to begin to make arrangement for the 1996 graduates. They worked endless hours to try and find a speaker for their graduation ceremony. The officers sent out a questionnaire for all juniors to fill out and help decide the speaker. The results were tallied and the class realized that they have a lot of work to do for next year, and the foundations they laid will help them build to make graduation day memorable for all.

CLASS OF 1997

he class officers of the 1997 graduates had a good year leading the class. They spent some time watching the officers of 95 and 96 to see and learn how to prepare for graduation. They thought of some new ideas for their Senior Week and Graduation, but most of all they spent some time and effort to come together as a class. Their individual and communal contributions to Albright are important to the rest of us, and through the leadership of their class, they are becoming a strong group of representatives of what it means to be an Albrightian.

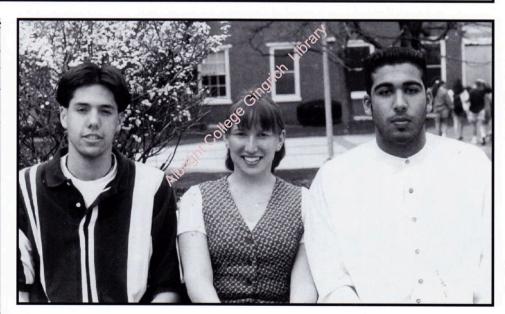

1997 Class Officers President: Ryan Graham Vice President: Paul Sinclair Secretary: Karen Lentz

Treasurer: Tom Jones

CLASS OF 1998

Under the leadership of it's new officers, the Class of 1998 sponsored a Valentine's Dance, "mocktail" reception with the faculty members of the Student Life committee, and an open forum for all first-year students. These class officers began planning and organizing as soon as they were elected early this year. It is the goal of the officers to make their class become unified to represent well Albright College. They have many more exciting ideas planned for the upcoming year, and are well on their way to making new, and contribiting to old Albright traditions.

African American Society was organized to consolidate mutual interests and affirm ethnic identity. This organization was further established to foster fellowship among African American students and a greater understanding of the African American culture and people within the college community. Finally, this society is a service organization, formed to enhance campus wide progamming thereby promoting tolerance, understanding, and education within the Alright, Reading, Pennsylvania, and National Communities.

ASIAN AMERICAN COUNCIL

Hyuen Mai, Mindy Vaughn, Dave Le, Diane Woznicki, Richard Chum, Jay Shin, John Kim

Asian American Council has a main goal of educating its members on what it really means to be Asian and American. We try to provide a support group for those who have difficulty balancing both cultures. Another goal of our orgainzation is to learn about the adversities facing Asians andminorities in general. Our members try to educate tmenselves about those issues, then go out and educate others. Among the events we are trying to organize is a film series involving Asians in movies and getting Amy Tan, author of the Joy Luck Club, to come to campus to speak on the adversity of growing up in America with a strict Asian parent. In the spring, we will be holding our annual Asian-American Day, when we have a dinner that is prepared by our members and a speaker.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

he International Students Association is one of the major organizations on Albright's campus. Set up in 1989 it has served the Albright community faithfully for the past five years. People might get a misconception from the name of the group that it is exclusively for internatinal students, but anyone is allowed to join. The basic objective of the ISA is to create an awareness among the Albright community about foreign cultures, customs, and people. The ISA holds different events, discussions, and symposiums to promote understanding among the students. But, one should not assume that the ISA is an assocition which is limited to boring intellectual stuff, they also orgainze trips to different places around the country for everyone to go to.

WOMEN OF THE WORLD

Newly created Women of the World is a welcomed addition to the Albright campus. This organization was created in line with the African American, Asian American, and International Students organizations. It is to promote understanding for women's issues in the Albright community. The organization is dedicated to fighting domestic viloence, rape, sexual harassment, and other adversaries to women in our age. It is a group of women from all races and classes and backgrounds, uniting in hopes to make a difference in the challenges that face women of the world today.

AGON — LITERARY MAGAZINE

Devon Mazzone, Julia Pankratz, Chilufya Chilangwa, Natalia Kay, Liz Dugan, Pete Sedlak, Nat Bard, Maria

he AGON is good, old fashioned, Mom and apple pie creativity! Our goal, conservatively based, (and subtly ironic and satirical) is to allow the students, faculty, and administrators to delve into the realm of creation. Here worlds are created, people destroyed, and aesthetic desires fulfilled to their utmost potential. In the end creativity reigns supreme as no one can stop the process of the mind. All members are free thinking individuals united behind a belief in free expression. The ideas expressed in this magazine are not necessarily those of the editors, staff or you! We are wiser through knowledge, creativity, and free consciousness.

THE CUE

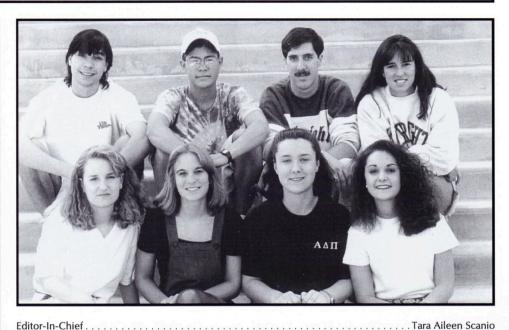

Michelle Treiber, Tanya Korb, Natalie Famous, Jennifer Knoll, Jackie Rocha, Amy Risnychok, Janice Johnson, Lisa Calvert, Kara Hahn, Christine Carr, Veronica Sudia

Albright's annual yearbook, The Cue is completely designed, written and produced by the student editors, staff, and the entire student body. Contributions are made by individuals, or by groups such as Greeks or organizations. The Cue is funded by the student activity fee allocated to it by the SGA, and by sales made from the book itself. The yearbook has been an annual tradition at Albright since the school existed, and has remained a direct production of the time, and the students of that era. It is a time consuming project, and totally volunteer by all of it's contributors. But, to say there is no reward can not be true. For when the book is introduced each year, and many Albrightians gather around copies, laughing and remembering together from the pages they read, that is reward enough!

THE ALBRIGHTIAN

he Albrightian is Albright's student ren newspaper. The paper is an open forum for students, administrators, faculty members and staff. This vear's staff worked long and hard, many times until sunrise and beyond, to bring to the college latebreaking news that was to have an impact on Albright's future. The editorial staff would like to thank the staf writers who devoted their time and effort reporting campus events to the Albright community. And, for the 1994-1995 school year, the Albrightian was once agian a successfull publication of which we could all be proud.

Vogue is a student organization associated with the Visual Arts and Design department, though membership is not exclusive to those within the related majors. Under the advisement of Professor Connie Heller-Horacek, students are exposed to the various creative and exciting aspects of visual display that range from decorating to communication skills. The club seeks to provide leadership and social opportunities to members through its involvement with both on and off campus activities. The latter include the Human Ecology Senior Show, fashion shows, renovation projects in the Reading community, and other service oriented tasks. In addition, Vogue sponsors several trips to New York City and Philadelphia to explore the cultural attributes of the cities.

Albright's Visual Arts Organization has been around for a few years now, but surprisingly not many students know about this club. The organization is dedicated to creating visual arts. They are mostly involved in video and photography. The organization has the ability to experiment with these forms of art and dedide if they may be a career option. The group hosts an exhibit in the Freedman Gallery each year to show the Albright Community what they can do. The club is open to all members of Albright and is fully funded by the Student Government Association.

CINEMA CLUB

he Cinema Club is an orgainzation that fosters the making of films and videos by Albright students. It supplies film and/or tape along with cameras and editing equipment as well as offering its members frequent opportunities to show their work to the Albright community. Technical workshops as well as in-person visits by film and video artists (help in conjunction with the film series and BFI) are some of the other features of the club. In conjunction with the International Film Series and the Freedman Gallery's Student Art Show (in May), the club sponsors the annual Student Film & Vidoe Show which is open to the campus and general public.

he Muscular Dystrophy Association at Albright College is an organization that heightens awareness of and raises money for MDA. Over the past 16 years the committee has raised over $155,000. This money provides for summer camps, medical supplies, and research and development for individuals in Berks County afflicted with the numerous forms of Muscular Dystrophy. The organization holds various fund-raises througout the year, and their main event is MDA weekend in the spring semester. It is a campus wide fund raiser that revolves around the annual 24hour Dance-A-Thon. Many student run organizations and also many of the Greeks associations on campus participate in this popular event in conjunction with MDA.

SAGE

SAGE is a consciousness raising group that promotes gender equality on Albright's campus. It was founded by students concerned with promoting the status of women and facilitating equality of opportunity for all members of the Albright community, regardless of gender. The organization strives to promote awareness of gender related issues on the Albright College campus, to encourage and promote non-sexist and gender-inclusive discourse and activity within the academic community at Albright, and also to advocate change in accordance with the progressive ideals of a community concerned with equality and justice.

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL

Amnesty International is a world wide movement working impartially for the release of all prisoners of conscious, fair and prompt trials for political prisioners, and an end to torture and executions. Albright's amnesty group works to free political prisioners by writing letters and sending petitions to foreign governments on behalf of specific prisioners. The group works hard with good and decent ideals in mind, hoping against all odds that their dedication to eliminating some of the atrocities of our world will be successful.

HUMAN SERVICES ORGANIZATION

he Human Services Organization encourages participation in volunteer programs and community service to enhace the education of students. This year the group participated in Adopt-A-Grandparent program, volunteer tutoring at Reading High and at Albright, organizing a Blood Drive, as well as helping with Berks AIDS Network and the MS Society. The group also invites speakers onto campus to talk about the rewards and necessities of volunteer services to the communities in which we live. The group is self motivated and student run, and always looking for someone else to join in on their crusade to make ourcommunity a better place to be.

he Brother and Sister Exchange is a program that matches each incoming first year student with an upper classman. This "Big Brother or Sister" helps their "Little" feel at home and adapt to college life. Many lasting friendships have been formed through B.A.S.E., continuing to enrich the quality of life at Albright. The Bigs and Littles have many opportunities to meet at the beginning of the school year. Often they share majors and or interests and find that they are in the same classes or organizations together. The life of a first year student can be intimidating and frustrating at first, but with the help of a Big, the transition from high school to Albright is a little smoother.

Students Against Drunk Driving is a national organization that was introduced to Albright this year by a group of concerned first and second year students. This organization is concerned with the safety of not only every Albrightian, but with the community at large. They are devoted to making sure students are aware of the risks of drinking and driving, and that they do not take those risks. Also, they sponsor activities and programs throughout the area high schools and religious groups to promote awareness to the rest of the community. This organization does not pretend to be blind to the underage drinking that occurrs in our time, instead they are dedicated to making sure that the people involved with drinking are responsible and safe participants.

NEWMAN ASSOCIATION

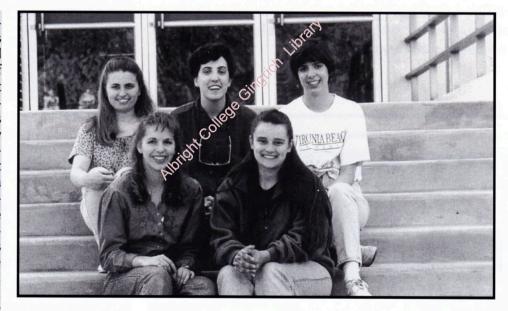

he Newman Association attempts to meet the spiritual needs of all Catholic students on Albright's campus through weekly Mass and Confessions and a variety of other activites. All students are encouraged to participate in community service projects, such as clothing drives and soup kitchens that are planned each semester. Through the Catholic Social Agency the Newman Association can provide information and support services for individuals affected by HIV/AIDS, unexpected pregnancy, and alternatives to abortion. Counseling is also available for stress, substance abuse, and eating disorders.

CHRISTIAN ALTERNATIVE TO PARTYING

he newly created Christian Alternative to Partying, known as CAP, organization is dedicated to serving the social needs of Albright students who are not interested in the traditional college party atmosphere. This group was formed because they recognized a need by many students, including a good amount of first year students, to have a fun social life without the apartment parties so many others are patrons to. The group hosts alternatives to partying, such as non-alcoholic dances, movie nights, gatherings to play games, sporting functions, and day trips. The group hopes to have a great amount of participation in the upcoming years, for the more people there are, the grander the plans can be, and the more non-alcoholic fun can be had.

SIGMA TAU DELTA

Sigma Tau Delta is Albright's English Honor Society. The goal of the group is to promote and pursue the study of literature on campus. The group sponsors events such as a reception welcoming first year English concentrators to the campus. They also host a reading of Holiday literature in December. This year, they hepled with the Founder's Day celebration in conjunction with Nikki Giovanni. As a group, they are dedicated to studying and learning all types of literature, from poetry, to short stories, to novels to today's most modern fiction and non-fiction. The Sigma Tau Delta honor society promotes a love of all types of literature.

PSI CHI

Psi Chi is the National Honor society in Psychology founded for the purpose of encouraging, stimulating, and maintaining excellence in scholarship and advancing the science of psychology. Students who are eligible for membership must have taken at least three psychology courses and must have a 3.30 grade point average in psychology and a 3.00 grade point average overall. Albright College's chapter holds an induction ceremony yearly to induct new members and to welcome them into this honorable community of psychology majors.

Aaron Haack, Karen Marongelle, Aimee Nichols, Carol Smith, Oksana Lasowski

MATH ASSOCIATION

The Math Association is involved in many activities throughout the year. Each spring the group sponsors an Experience Event for the benefit of all students. Members attend conferences at other universities as well as host competitions here at Albright. Also, they created a GRE tutoring program to assist prospective graduate students in the areas of logic and mathematics. All majors are welcome to attend and participate in the Math Associations involvement on Albright's campus.

BETA BETA BETA

Beta Beta Beta is the Biological Honor Society, but anyone can join. They offer off-campus trips to Baltimore Inner Harbor, Philadelphia Zoo, Hawk Mountain, and various other trips throughout the year. The group has a house in Huntington, PA, where research is done as well as rock climbing and caving excursions. They sponsor guest lecturers, professional school representatives, and individual research projects to name a few. They encourage better student/faculty relations and assist in achieving a close personal and professional relationship. Tri-Beta is dedicated to improving the understanding and appreciation of biological study beyond the classroom. They seek to encourage scholarly attainment and cultivate intellectual interests by recognizing those students who demonstrate superior academic performance and strive for excellence.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a Premedical Honor Society. The requirements for becoming a member of the organization are minimum GPA's in the sciences and overall scholastic average. Once a member of AED, participation is expected. The society strives to promote awareness of health issues and related topics on campus. AED has done this through such projects as Blood Drives, Cholesterol Testing and Daffodil Day to raise money for the American Cancer Society. Ideally, the goal of any honor society is to reward students for their academic performance, AED is also committed to this cause while at the same time providing a service to the Albright community.

STUDENTS IN FREE ENTERPRISE

Students in Free Enterprise (SIFE) is a nonprofit organization that was founded in 1975 by a group of business leaders. This organization is dedicated to the cultivation of the entrepeneurial spirit as well as fostering an understanding of how the free enterprise system works. Although this organization has been around for almost 20 years, it is relatively new to Albright College. SIFE members benefit from various experiences, including better communication skills, creaticity, team building, and management skills which help the students become the leaders of the future.

ACCOUNTING & BUSINESS ASSOCIATION

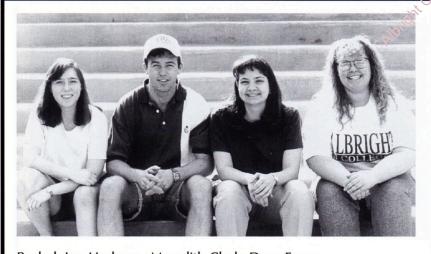

Membership in the Accounting & Business Association is open to all students of Albright College with an interest in the fields of accounting and/or business administration. As an organization, we sponsor speakers and trips relating to careers in these areas. Annually, we sponsor members in the AT&T Investment Challenge. We also conduct mock interviews in conjunction with Career Planning and Placement in order to help students prepare for employment interviews prior to graduation. In an effort to promote our activities, we have posted a bullitin board in the campus center. The board will feature internships opportunities, positions of employment, job fairs, meetings, trips, and speakers.

EPSILON NU

The Pre-Law Society, Epsilon Nu, is an organization for all students interested in prusuing a career in law. Traditionally, the group hosts speakers in the field of law, and conducts mock trials to give students a feel for what their future career could be. Also, the group hosts admissions counselors from area law schools to tell undergraduates about the procedure of applying for a law school. This year, under the direction of Professor Bruce Auerbach, the Pre-Law Society had the opportunity to study together for the LSAT's. Also, Auerbach had put together a hand book which outlined an undergraduate course study, estimated times to take the LSAT's, when and how to study, and when and how to apply for law school, as well as how to fund a law school education.

EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERV-ICES

The Albright College Emergency Medical Services is an organization established to encoutage medical training and to offer quick assistance to people on Albright's camous. It is new to the campus as of this year, and was started by a group of students concerned about the safety of their peers. The club sponsors a variety of sessions for diferent lebels of training covering everything form basic CPR procedures to Emergency Medical Technician training. People with certified training can join the club and serve the Albright community by offering care. Right now, the club covers various sporting events in campus. The club works very closely with the Albright Security.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

The Men's club Volleyball team is a group of guys at Albright who enjoy the sport, and have formed a squad and made their way into a club league. It is not unusual for Albrightians to see this group of guys practicing together in the gym for a big game. They are dedicated to playing and have ahd some really great games, and a pretty good season. They have hopes of becoming a varsity sport at Albright soon, and look forward to proving to our league that the Albright Men's Volleyball team can hold their own. They help out now with the Women's Varsity Team, usually through encouragement and support, and look forward to their upcoming season, either in a Varsity or a Club league capacity.

MEN'S RUGBY

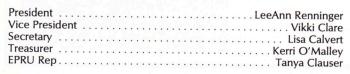

The Men's Rugby Team is new to Albright. It is a tough bunch of guys, usually found on the field between Science and Teel Hall praciticing for a big game. And, no matter who they play, it is always a big game! These guys play in the traditional way, with not only their muscles and minds, but hearts and souls. And, the traditional partying accompanies each game, no matter if they win or lose, the opponent on the field becomes the drinking buddy at the after party. Many Albrightians enjoy watching the guys play, but there is some question about which is more entertaining, the game or the party afterward!

WOMEN'S RUGBY

As hard as it may be to believe, there is a Women's Rugby Team at Albright. These girls were the spectators of the men's team when they realized that watching just wasn't enough — they wanted to play! A group of girls began to advertise and in no time at all, they established a team with the help of the men's coach. The girls started out this year, and may not have had a winning record, but they gained the experience necessary to play again next year. For a group of women who had never even touched a Rugby ball before, they did a great job and look forward to fine tuning their new talent, getting down and dirty on the Rugby field.

he Albright Women's Soccer Club is a new addition to the Albright College campus. This year, they competed against several area colleges at both the club and varsity level. Their first season was very promising, and they are looking forward to being the first varsity women's soccer team at Albright in the fall of 1995. They are coached by Frank Brady, and are doing a great job representing the Albright Community. These girls are hard working, dedicated, and devoted to the sport. They give it their all each and every game, and we should look for good things to come from in the future.

he Albright Men's Lacrosse Club began two years ago and has improved tremendously with each season. The team is comprised of a talented core of young players that competes in the National College Lacrosse League (NCLL). The players, managers, and coach have all been able to build a strong program here at the college and look towards establishing a strong tradition of lacrosse in Reading, PA. The team is dedicated and hard working, and they way they play the game proves their devotion. Many Albrightians spend the afternoon watching the guys play a game on the football field, and under the direction of Greg Eichhorn, it is always entertaining.

SEVENTH HEAVEN

In it's second year at Albright, Seventh Heaven won Songfest at homecoming with their version of Boyz II Men's "It's So Hard To Say Goodbye To Yesterday." They also appeared "Live from the Shower" in three spirited performances this past spring. They closed the year by performing at the annual Honors & Awards Banquet. As senior Kieran Daly graduates and Chris Ruggere and Chris Crowe leave to pursue other interests. the remaining members of the group hope to carry on the new a capella sound that the Albright community has so strongly supported.

IACOB AWARDS

The Jacob Awards are held once a year in honor of the founder of Albright College, Jacob Albright. This ceremony takes place in the beginning of May in honor of Jacob Albright's birthday. We also honor individuals that have contributed something unique and special to the Albright community. Among those honored are students, staff, and faculty, and administrators. There are eight catagories that we present awards for at the ceremony. The catagories are Faculty Member of the Year, Staff member of the Year, Administrator of the Year, Resident Director of the Year, Class Contribution Award, People's Choice Award, Unsung Hero Award, and lastly, the Service Above Self Award. It is always an enjoyable evening for all involved.

ALBRIGHT ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION

Albright Environmental Action is dedicated to promoting campus awareness of environmental issues. Our primary concern is implementing a productive recycling program on campus. Other activities involve adopt-a-spot cleanups of Penn Commons and camping trips. For Earth Day AEA sponsors various activities.

COLLEGE REPUBLICANS

The Albright College Republicans are a politically active organization that has reorganized during the 92-93 school year. Since the organization has flourished both in numbers and activities, it is common to see the College Republicans around the Berks County throughout the year doing the leg work for Republican candidates. The Albright College Republicans are known as one of the most active clubs in the state. In April of 1995, Terry Miller was elected State Chairman of the Pennsylvania College Republicans and Chris Patrick assumed the position of Executive Director.

Making Memories

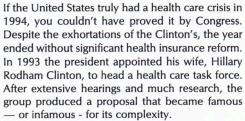

Frank Corder suffered from depression, had a history of drug and alcohol abuse, and probably was suicidal. But nothing may ever explain why the Maryland trucker stole a small plane near Baltimore and crashed it into the White House lawn shortly before 2AM on

Corder, 38, died in what one federal investigator described as "a pretty pathetic thing — a final act of desperation."

Neither President Clinton nor his wife and daughter were home when Corder smashed into a magnolia tree on the South Lawn. The single engine plane came to rest against the mansion wall and burst into flames.

Corder had taken antidepressant medication, and friends and relatives said he was discouraged by the recent breakup of his marraige and his father's death. Butm they disagreed ocer whether his flight was a publicity stunt or a suicied attempt.

Meanwhile, sentiment for change seemed to be limited to the minority of Americans who lacked health insurance or feared losing it. In the absence of a public outcry, there was insufficient support in Congress for the Clinton bill, which called for universal coverage. But the president had promised to veto anything less.

Mrs. Clinton took some of the blame for the failure. She said she had underestimated the effectiveness of the opposition, and didn't realixe that the complexity of the administration's plan would turn people off.

The nation's 108th Supreme Court justice couldn't wait to get to work. So Stephen G. Breyer was sworn in at a private ceremony on August 3, nine days before a public ceremony in the East Room of the White House.

Breyer, who said he wanted to begin hiring law clerks and attending to his paperwork, was sworn in first at the Vermont summer home of Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist.

He replaced Justice Harry A. Blackmun, whose retirement took effect when Breyer took the oaths required by the Constitution and the federal Judiciary Act of 1789.

Breyer, a 55-year-old federal appeals court judge from Massachusettes, was easily confirmed by the Senate. Senators from both parties praised his qualifications and his integrity, and described him as a problem-solver who approaches issues with an open mind.

In 1995...

Two men who had regarded each other with suspicion for six decades shook hands on the South Lawn of the White house, and once again peace in the Middle East seemed more than a dream.

A year after he shook the hand of Palestine Liberation Organization chairman Yasser Arafat, Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin did the same with King Hussein of Jordan.

The two nations had been enemies since the creation of Israel in 1948 following a brief, bitter war between Jews and Arabs.

"Out of all the days of my life," Hussein said at the White House peace ceremony, "I don't believe there is one such as this."

President Clinton, who played host as Rabin and Hussein signed an agreement, shared their optimism. The old enemies, he said, "give their people a new currency of hope and the chance to prosper in a region of peace."

When your parents and many of your professors were your age, we also celebrated the signing of landmark legislation of our era: the Economic Opportunity Act, the Civil Rights Acts, and the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Now Bill Clinton, a student during the New Frontier and the War on Poverty, signs the Crime Bill. What a long strange trip this has been."

- Dr. Tom C. Brogan

Flanked by the relatives of crime victims, President Clinton signed a $30 million crime law, but warned his audience at an elaborate White House ceremony that the bill would not stop the violence plaguing the nation.

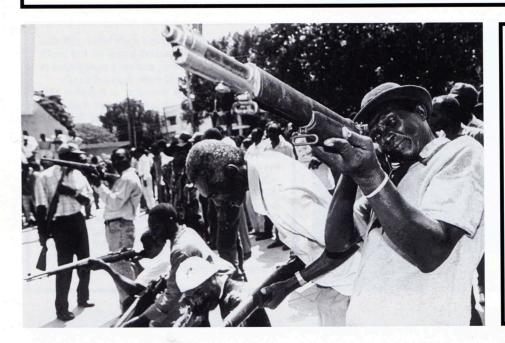

"Our country will not be safe again until all Americans take personal responsibility for themselves, their families and their communities," Clinton told about 2,000 people on the South Lawn. "Even this great law cannot do the job alone."

The law banned many assault firearms, allowed the death penalty for dozens more federal crimes and provided billions of dollars over six years to build prisons and hire police.

Clinton handed pens he used to sigh the law to two men who had lobbied hard for its passage through Congress: Stephen Sposato, whose wife was killed by a gunman, and Marc Klaas, whose daughter Polly was kidnapped and killed.

... As Albright

The United States went to the brink of invading Haiti, its poor, unsettled neighbor to the south. But at the last minute Haiti's military rulers bowed to the United Nations and promised to cede power to the duly elected president whom they had ousted, Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

Their decision was greeted with great relief by the Clinton administration, which was worried about meager public support for an invasion, and especially for the casualties it might have required. With troop planes in the air and flying toward Haiti, three special U.S. envoys — former President Jimmy Carter, retired General Colin Powell and Sen. Sam Nunn — struck an eleventh hour deal with Gen. Raoul Cedras and colleagues.

About 21,000 U.S. troops eventually landed on the island. They were followed by an international force charged with keeping the peace until Aristide, who had been in exile in the U.S., could consolidate control.

It was a rainy month in Georgia, where two weeks of record flooding in July killed 31 people, destroyed hundreds of bridges and roads, and even uprooted caskets from cemetaries.

Tropical storm Albert dumped nearly two feet of rain, flooding the Flint and Ocmulgee rivers in the central and southwestern sections of the state. About 35,000 people fled their homes, and more than 400,000 acres of crops were inundated after flooding began on July 5.

Officials reported hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage; 46 counties were declared national disaster areas; and Macon's 155,000 residents went without safe tap water for several weeks.

Finally the floods abated, but the hardship continued; a state agricultural official said it would be years before farmers recovered. Top soil was washed away, farm pond dams were washed out, and nearly 1,000 barns and other farm buildings were damaged.

The civil war in Rwanda began with a plane crash that killed the president. Before the year was over another 500,000 Rwandans had been killed and another 2 million had fled the African nation for the relative safety of squalid refugee camps in Zaire and other neighboring countries.

President Juvenal Habyarimana died in a mysterious plane crash on April 6, igniting long-simmering tensions between the Hutu tribe, which comprises 90 percent of the population, and the Tutsi tribe, which accounts for 10 percent.

A rebel group comprised mainly of Tutsis had been trying to unseat the president, who was Hutu. His tribe blamed the Tutsis for his death, and Hutu extremists began a series of mass killings that a United Nations panel later characterized as genocide - "concerted, planned, systematic and methodical."

The violence was awful, but it was nothing new. The Hutus slaughtered thousands of Tutsis in uprisings in 1959 and early 1960's.

They headed north on almost anything that would float, including rafts made of the flimsiest materials: oil drums, inner tubes, wooden planks. They were Cuba's boat people, tens of thousands of people desperate to come to the United States to escape the poverty and hunger of their increasingly isolated Communist nation.

Many did not make it because of storms, sinkings or the U.S. Coast Guard, which intercepted more than 1,000 of the crafts on one day in early September.

But the flood of migrants receded shortly thereafter. Reversing a 28-year-old policy of not granting Cubans asylum, the United States agreed to admit at least 20,000 a year.

In return, Cuban leader Fidel Castro promised to halt the flight of boat people. Police gave rafters a few days to get their crafts off Havana's beaches and made sure no new ones were drawn up.

Tens of thousands of firefighters fought a summer-long battle against scores of fires that burned more than three million acres of woodlands across the parched Western states.

So many young people were fighting fires in Idaho by late August that state colleges allowed preregistered students to return to classes as much as three weeks late. Residents of mountain homes near Boise were routed by a single fire that consumed 27,000 acres.

The firefighters ranged from seasoned pros to raw recruits. In California's Sierra Nevada, exhausted, disheveled men and women declared victory on August 24 over the 46,800 acre Cottonwood fire that had burned for eight days.

One Forest Service (refighter looked at a bedraggled gathering of singed, soot-covered firefighters as they took a break near Loyalton. The scene, he said, looked like "a hippie wedding gone bad."

Civil war continued to rack Bosnia- Herzegovina in 1994, despite the efforts of a United Nations peacekeeping force.

The conflict, as complicated as it was savage, began in 1992 when Bosnia's Serbian minority rebelled against a decision by Yugoslavia's Muslims and Croats to secede. After two-and-a-half years of fighting, more than 200,000 people were dead or missing.

The war was notorious for "ethnic cleansing" the successful Serbian campaign to drive Muslims from northern and eastern Bosnia. Of about 2 million people uprooted by the war, 750,000 were non-Serbs from those areas.

Bosnian Serbs had to contend with NATO air strikes. Also, United Nations sanctions and diplomacy appeared to put some distance between the Bosnian Serbs, who rejected an inter-national peace plan and their allies in Serbian Yugoslavia.

"If rock 'n' roll is here to stay,' 1994 made it clear that Aerosmith is too." The band of bad boys from Boston proved that heavy metal need not rust, taking three awards at the 11th annual MTV Music Video Awards ceremony at Radio City Music Hall in New York City.

Aerosmith, pop icons in threee decades, collected three prizes for their "Cryin" video — Best Group Video, Video of the Year, and Viewer's Choice Award.

In interviews, the band's members have admitted to having mellowed since their wild days and nights on the road in the 1970s and '80s. But Steven Tyler, the band's exotic looking lead singer, showed a bit of the old spirit at the MTV ceremony: he exchanged raunchy jokes with — who else? — Madonna.

It rained. Thousands crashed the gates. People with tickets couldn't get in or had to wait for hours. Portable toilets overflowed. Food occassionally ran short. Drugs were everywhere.

Woodstock '94 looked a lot like the origional 1969 rock festival — right down to the fans, who wouldn't have missed it for the world. Promoters set up distant parking lots and shuttle buses for the 200,000 people who paid $135 each for tickets — advance sale only. But about 350,000 people showed up. Many ticket holders couldn't find a parking space, and some walked up to 12 miles to get to the concert. A few gave up and went home.

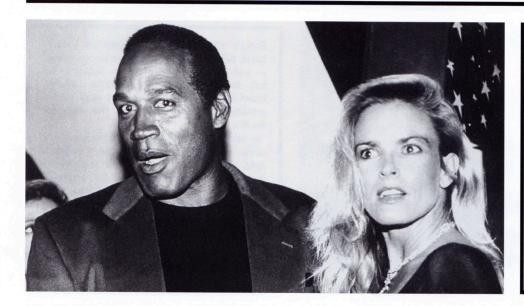

On stage, Bob Dylan, who did not play in 1969, sang "Just Like A Woman." Joe Cocker wailed "With A Little Help From My Friends," just like 25 years ago. Melissa Ethridge impersonated Janis Joplin, a late veteran of Woodstock I, in "Piece Of My Heart." When it was over, the rain-drenched and mud-covered lumbered home from the sloppy fairgrounds looking like the walking dead — who died smiling.

oodstock '94 was three crazy days of thousands of strange people moshing in the mud, eating bad pizza, drinking really expensive Pepsi, sleeping in cold tents and getting rained on. Nothing would stop me from doing it all over again!"

The News,...

O.J. Simpson always lived a life on camera, but nothing could have prepared him, or his fans, for the role he would play in 1994.

The first reports were surprising enough: Simpson was suspected in the brutal murder of his ex-wife Nicole and her friend Ronald Goldman.

But, it was his arrest that proved unforgettable. Instead of turning himself in as promised, Simpson had a friend drive him on a rambling jaunt along California's freeways.

As a national television audience watched, Simpson's white Bronco moved hypnotically along the freeways. Police cars followed in formation, and crowds formed along overpasses.

Here we began what may be the most famous murder case in American history.

It was a match made in tabloid heaven: the child of one of the biggest stars in rock history married the other biggest star in rock history. Lisa Marie Presley, Elvis's only child, got hitched to the reclusive Michael Jackson. After weeks of dodging photogrophers outside Jackson's Trump Tower apartment in New York City, the couple made a very public coming out: they opened the MTV Music Video Awards ceremony.

After an announcer intoned, "Please welcome Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jackson," the newlyweds strolled out onto stage. The couple held hands during their brief appearance and axchanged a long kiss as the audience cheered wildly.

A deaf woman from Alabama became the first contestant with a disability to win the Miss America Pageant. The 68th Miss America was 21-year-old Heather Whitestone. After receiving the crown, she signed "I Love You" amidst thunderous applause from the audience.

Her slogan in the competition was "Youth Motivation: Anything is Possible." She was proof enough of that, having lost most of her hearing when she was 18 months old.

Whitestone became Miss America 1995 in part through her talent routine, a ballet performed to music that she couldn't hear. Instead, she counted the beats in her head and synchronized her dance moves to reflect changes in pitch.

Whitestone said she didn't think it would be hard for a deaf woman to be Miss America. "I think I'll do just fine."

The 1994 baseball season ended not with a home run or a strikeout, but with a conference call and a fax. On the 34th day of the major league players strike, the team owners canceled the rest of the season, including the World Series.

"This is a sad day," said acting commissioner Bud Selig in a fax distributed to the news media.

He got no argument. Not from Tony Gwynn of the San Diego Padres, who lost his chance to bat .400. Not from Matt Williams of the San Francisco Giants, who lost his shot at Roger Maris' home run record. Not from superstars Barry Bonds and Ken Griffey Jr., who lost more salary in a day than most Americans earn in a year.

And certainly not from fans, who suffered through a fall without a World Series for the first time since 1904.

The season floundered on the owners' insistence on capping player salaries. The players refused to go along, went on strike, and in a little more than a month the season was history.

A jet-propelled astronaut unhooked his lifelines to the Space Shuttle Discovery and flew free, 150 miles above Earth. It was the first untethered spacewalk in 10 years.

Mark Lee (Astronaut in photo) was followed by fellow astronaut Carl Meade. They had but one jet pack between them — costing $7 million — so they had to take turns.

"This thing works like a champ," Lee said as he hovered over Discovery's cargo bay, firing the pack's 24 tiny nitrogen gas jets for proplusion and steering with a joystick.

In the trickiest exercise of the sevenhour spacewalk, each astronaut propelled himself along the length of the shuttle arm, which was bent at an angle. Then they scooted from the shoulder to the elbow, around the band, up to the end, and then back down again, all without using their hands.

The jet pack was designed to be a life preserver for space station crews of the future. It weighs just 83 pounds on Earth, but — like everything else — nothing in space.

Before Lee and Meade, only six astronauts had walked in space without a lifeline to the mother ship.

Japan's nightmare of a disastrous urban earthquake came true on January 17, 1995 when a powerful quake tore through several western cities, toppling hundreds of buildings, touching off raging fires and killing more than 5,000 people.

The country had been rattled by a series of stong quakes since late December, when the quake with a magnitude of 7.5 jolted northern Japan.

The city of Kobe, the site of the worst destruction, is a gateway for more than 12 percent of Japan's exports.

Chechen rebels have stung the Kremlin with bitter truths: big is not always better, the desire for independence is a powerful weapon, and Moscow's military machine can be made to bleed.

Outmanned and outgunned, the Chechen's fierce resistance has stunned and humiliated the Russian army and made fools of generals desperate for victory.

The furious Russian attempt to destroy Grozny and topple Chechen President Dzhokhar Dudayev has only unified the Chechens, a nation of more than 160 clans usually feuding among themselves.

Each day, Russia throws more troops and firepower at the Chechens to no avail. After sending in tens of thousands of troops, victory eludes the Russians.

A string of Pacific storms led to the deaths of at least 11 people and caused more than $300 million in flood damage across the state of California in Janruary 1995.

The storms battered much of the state, from the wine country north of San Francisco to the beaches of Malibu in the south, leaving downed power lines, leaking gas lines and hundreds of dead livestock.

In Humbolt County, authorities called on the National Guard to help them collect the rotting carcasses of sheep ad dairy cattle that floated down the eel River.

Gov. Pete Wilson said in his State of the State Address, "We've conquered every challenge that man or Mother Nature could throw our way."

Newt Gingrich wanted to be speaker of the House years before he managed to win a house seat, and he long ago laid plans for the Republican takeover most of his colleagues considered an impossible dream.

This is the Georgia congressman's season of triumph. he is celebrating it in typical contradictory fashion — highminded one moment, flamboyant the next. He has said himself that he needs to tone down his style, but he hasn't yet taken his own advice.

Gingrich, 51, was an assistant history professor at West Georgia Colege in rural Carrollton, GA, when he started running for Congress. He made it on his third try, in 1978, presenting himself as a moderate with strong family values.

The San Grancisco 49ers scored early and often on Janrua 29 to defeat the San Diego Chargers 49-26 in a Super Bowl that quickly turned into the rout the experts had predicted.

For 49ers quarterback Steve Young, the victory not only put his name in the record books, but allowed him to escape the ghost of his predecessor, Super Bowl hero Joe Montana.

Young, unanimously named the game's Most Valuable Player, passed for 325 yards without an interception and ran for 49.

His six touchdown passes broke the Super Bowl rocord of five that Montana set five years ago.

"Whatever critics he may have had, he proved tonight that he's one of the greatest quarterbacks of all time," 49ers coach George Seifert said of Young.

GRADUATION

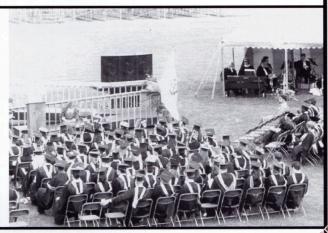

Albright's Graduation Day is what we work so hard to achieve. On this jubilant day, our time at Albright is ending and our futures are beginning. With a strong base to build upon in life, . . . It's Getting Better All The Time, thanks to Albright.

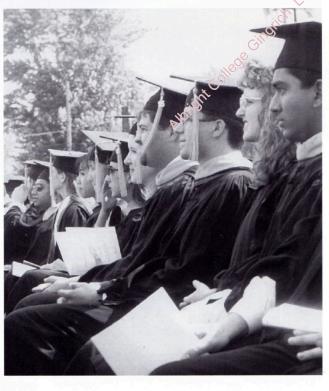

Velcro suspension snapped, and then the rust Flew in the air. Chantal could only shake Her head and smile. Seidel, for old time's sake Visited the library, and began to grieve, 'This is my home,' she cried, 'I will not leave!' Finally, Debbi Adams went to fetch her, Carried her out, restrained, upon a stretcher." "In spite of all the troubles," Tara said, "We've done well. Our class' success seems bred In the bone. McGovern now works at the Met. And PT, Tommy Shea, and Dave are With gigs from Reading to down the shore; Vice-President Cashwell asks for no more Than State Farm Insurance, at which he writes Both policies and poetry and cites His hero, Wallace Stevens, Reading's poet (Though graduates of the college rarely know it). The teachers from our class range far and wide; With Krupa, Malko, and Faust we do not hide Our bright light under bushels, we proclaim Our talent loud with every single name; Through Heidi Schaich, and Key, and Carr, we make Our mark by proxy, for our children's sake. Klein, Tripp, and Kassem formed a women's network Which, nationwide, requires a lot of jet-work. Aniloff, Cullen, Dettling, and Ditter, (Alphabetical, so no one's bitter) Epler, Grosseibl, Harnett, and Hetrich, (Each one of them professional and quick) Plus Noll, Opperman, Phelps, and Picariello, (Each one trained just as well as the next fellow) Schaub and Schoch, and then the missing Link, Such expertise in one firm makes you blink; Yet they can't rescue Maria's red Beemer From the IRS, nor save that wretched

Dr. Premal Patel, from so miscounting His income — oh, the subpoenas are mounting.

Unlucky Debbie Chess, I am not lying,

Was turned down for a job without applying.

Jill Bradley turns a profit with her hearse;

And, after all, one easily could do worse."

All three marvelled at the class' triumph,

Until Alicia suddenly said, "Humph! Can you imagine children from that crew?

Will Jason Albert's infant son drink brew?

Cruise chicks? Will Brian's girl survive the hurdle

That everyone denominates her'Turtle'?

Will Bonnie's children, as a choir, sing?

Will Davis' sons each wear a navel ring?

Will Kim allow her daughter a tattoo?
Will sons of Eleni Antonopolou Say, 'Can I ask you something?' from the womb?

About such things it's dangerous to assume,

But tell me, can you think of one thing awfuller

Than a little baby snookums Schoffler?"

"Let's not look ahead," said Katie, "but behind,

Considering events that can remind Us of the Class of '95, its glory; Our graduation week makes quite a story.

That Monday senior fling at Third and

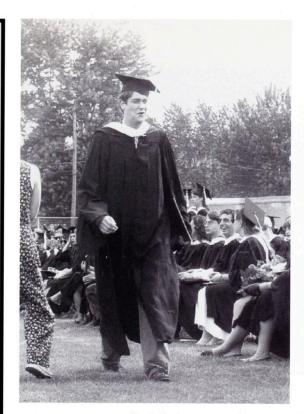

That Monday senior fling at Third and Spruce

Was memorable, though some, alas, like Moose

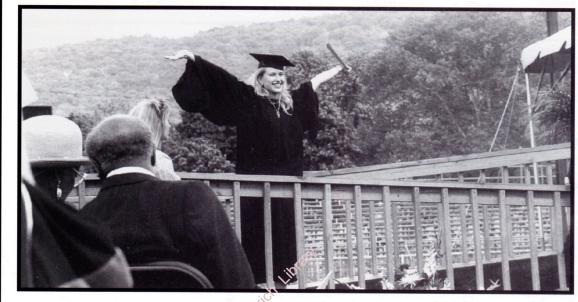

Were absent. But, Wendy, Thea, Maura,

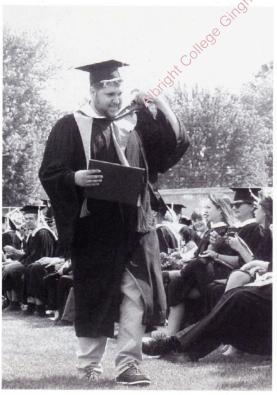

Ketch, McCloskey, Valerie Tangorra, Nucera, Eddie, all at the same table, Betsy Miller, and perhaps I'm able Amanda to remember, and I think, They all enjoyed the company and drink.

Across the room sat we three ADP, and Sheila, Anjanette, her GDI, And Tiffany, so festive, on a spree,

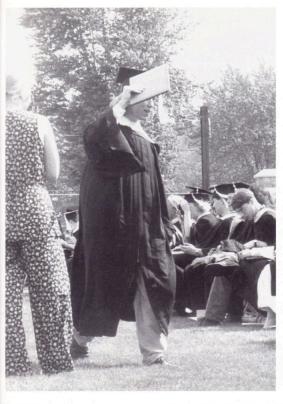

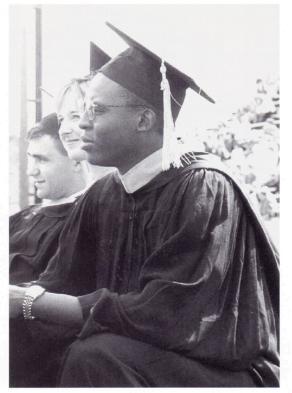

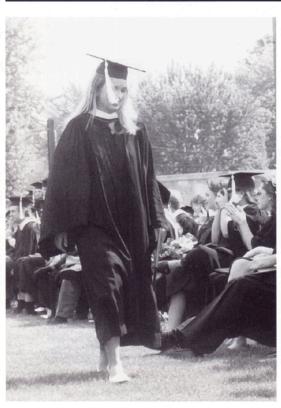

All of us expectant, all carefree. Meanwhile Kim Spotts proposed a memory game

To her companions, some whom I can name,

Like Kasia, Sari, and Christina, who Just managed to repeat the jingle through

'I'm not a pheasant plucker, I'm the pheasant plucker's mate, And after she had faltered raised her glass

To auld lang syne and her beloved class."

"The memories," said Tara, "are so clear,

And they, and all my friends to me so dear,

But year by year they seem to disappear;

We'll never see each other now, I fear:

Angela Borger, Heidi Eisenhardt, Mike Kirby, Jayne Charneski, all so smart,

Andy Alia, Kari, Heather Whitcomb, Jeff Darnowski, Mahlon Hayes, and some

Others I could nemtion. Oh, I've lost track

Of all these worthies. Now I want them back,

By phone, or letter, any conversation

I'll seek them through the Alumni Association!''

And so, my friends, great Class of '95, Now redolent of past but so alive With future, take a lesson from this fable:

Throughout the years, as far as you are able,

Keep in touch, with friends, with every person here,

With Alma Mater. Let me proudly cheer

Brad Warren, Reggie Walker, Patrick Vogt,

And Patrick Gibbs, and Heidi Focht, Tami Hottenstien and Spencer Finch. Of course, you know already life's no cinch,

And yet your manifest intelligence, Your mettle, native talent, diligence Will see you through. If you need an example,

Look around your class and take a sample

Of your corporate excellence and genius,

From Sarah Hughes, your colleague Richard Mabus,

Cheri, Shelley, Shigemitsu, Jason, And other paragons on whom I hasten

To heap my praise. Remember Kelly, Jill,

Maureen and Dana, Sharmini and Wil,

Messrs. Lange, Le, Medland, McNamara,

Martin, Kennis, Mayer, and Maehara, Myers, Karen Miller, Ann Manderewicz,

Jeff Reiniger, Keefe Long, John Rochowicz,

How will the school survive without Seth Young,

Jen Wilkenson, Virginia Snyder, Bung, Tom Smith, Chris Prewo, Jerry Ferro, Jeanette Kuhn, Amy Chamberland: the slightest

One's a jewel, our best and brightest. Couldn't we keep one member of each pair,

One Berstler, Reis, or Nye — it's only fair.

Now as we open every envelope, We anxiously await, we truly hope For word from Biglan, Bryant, Bernhart, Bates,

About their occupations, children, mates,

Adria Cianciulli, Nicole Christman, Neal Lebo, Brian Ling. Oh! I can list men

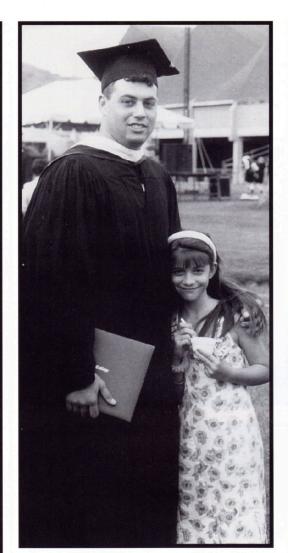

And women of likely fortune, Rose and Peace

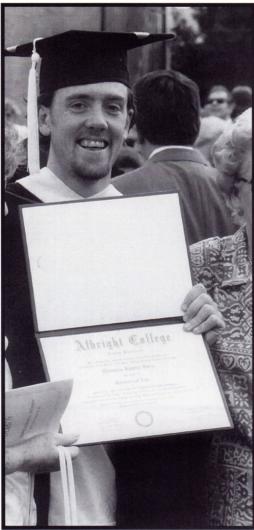

And Kathy Mahon, and those with a long lease

On life, like Eric Henao and John Kramer,

Tani, and Dan Merkel, hall-of-famer, Ron Lattanzio, and Sangita Shah, George Phillips, Daniel Stuart, Dinesh Marwah,

Amir Naraghi, Boris Ondercin, Matula, Morgan, Cnadice Anderson, All present to my memory, a tableau

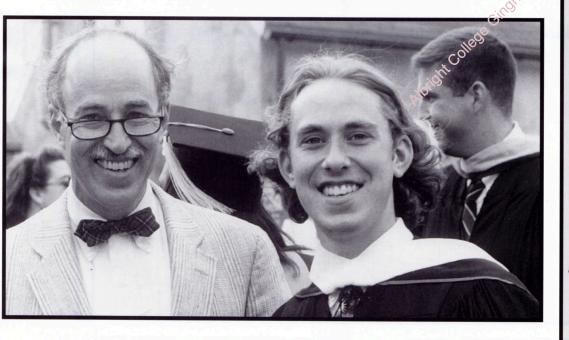

O'er which my inward eye runs to From David Woomer there on Laurie Right hand, to Ashish Soni and Tom So many faces light with Lion pride When we mention Alix Pascale, Joe

Jen Lopez, Muick, Jefferson, McClung, And others whose successes we had sung Before commencement. And Claudia Reiner Jason Budd, Dawn Fox, and Caryn Shriner, Kim Sobjak, Eric Stahl, and Tammy Meade, We wish you like good fortune, may God speed You, and confirm all your great expectations Toward which we offer our congratulations. Oh frabjous day, calloo, callay to Bruce And Shane, and to Michelle, as usual so spruce. Rebecca Rhodes, Jim Rutter, Lauren, Lara, Anne Cassidy, Pam Diely, can you spare a Hand or two? Applaud an august classmate And yourselves, Dworanczyk, Dunphy, Sean, late Colleagues DiGiovanni, Dykty, Stephen, Rockett, Richards, Ross, Schoolcraft, and even Ms. Carolyn Ristaino, Jeffrey Spotts, And Tony Burkhardt, Brian Frankel, lots Of others, Kristian Hunter, Thomas Landis, Kachina, Kanyo, Strider, and this hand Stretched toward Shuman, Waterman, and Ward, Ginelli, Gordon. But now we've cut the cord And you are free to go, you cannot stay: That's our sad message on this happy day. Ms. Katie Smith, much thanks for your indulgence At this mere token, this verse refulgence. But now, I see, we've whiled away our time For pleasantries, and broken, rattling rhyme. God bless the splendid Class of '95: May you ever prosper, live in joy, and thrive. by, Michael Adams

T tried to write a poem expressing what I feel in my heart, and nothing seemed to come out right. Words could not capture the depth of my love nor the pride in my heart when 9 sat down to paper. So, I chose instead to simply tell you how grateful I am to the Lord for allowing me to be your mother. I treasured the gift of raising you, delighting in your giggles and effervence that always filled our home with joy. Watching you emerge from infant, youth, and teen into a young lady and now a beautiful woman has been the highlight of my life. I love you for who you are, the values which you hold dear and the manners which are such a part of you. I love the way you care for others, show respect for your elders, and are always there for a friend no matter what the circumstances or how far the distance. I love your observant nature, how you notice even the minute details of any change, and the way you appreciate things done for you. I love all the deep thought and care that go into your every gift, and how you keep material things in perspective. I love the confidence you project, the sense of truth in your life, and the grace with which you hold yourself. I love you for your constant and unfailing support of me, Mike and our marriage, Eara and Shad, and the depth of your loyalty to us. I love the importance you place on family, the love you have for your grandmothers, and the faithfulness of your heart. As you graduate from college and embark on a career of your own, I know in my heart you will succeed. For you possess all the qualities to make life rewarding and fulfilling and to give the world the best that you are. I love you, Eiffany, Mom We cheered when you took your first steps as a child.

Eexcited were we when you made your first goal.

Now we applaud the young woman who's earned a

Degree, a diploma, a prospective new role.

You've been Daughter and Student and Athlete and Sister, Reaching out to your friends, you've been Counselor, too.

Cercoming some obstacles, you've had to be tough

But from inside, your kind, gentle spirit shines through.

Every job, every trip, every game taught a lesson:

Remember the triumphs and learn from the past.

The pride that we feel simply cannot be measured; we Share in your joy — Graduation, at last!

We Love You, Mom, Dad, Rich, Bonnie and Dan To Alexander,

..as a child of the Light,
may you always radiate to others that illumination
which finds its expressions in you and you alone.

All of our love and congratulations,

Brian, Congratulations!

It wasn't always easy along the way, but you made it and we are so very proud of you.

As today marks the culmination of all you have worked so hard to achieve these past years; may it also mark a brand new beginning and a brand new learning experience in our lives. Let us always remember to never stop reaching for our highest dreams and goals.

May God bless you always with happiness and success.

A shadow was cast,
And wind blew the leaves
Outside your window.
Fall pushed summer away.
Even with the chill,
Your eyes were sunshine,
Warming the days
With your loving soul.
You suffered through pain and heartache.
With the loneliness of solitude,
Your mind filled with desperation,
Your dreams out of reach.
On the silence of darkness,
Came your strength from within.

You may go unnoticed, By those passing by. Your feint voice,

Ss too powerful to hear. Now you must leave, Chis cocoon you have spun, Co share your mind with others, And show them the way.

Look hard for an opening, For a way to leave. And when you find it. Stand tall and strong, For you have let

Your love light shine through. Love,

THE CUE — 1994-95

After a few tumultuous years at Albright, it finally feels like things are getting better around here—hence the theme of the book— "It's Getting Better All The Time." We have seen marked improvement in everything at Albright from Administration to fund-raising, to faculty-student relationships, to Student Government, to student body organizations. It feels like the worst is behind us—we made it Albright!

One way to recognize the positive changes at Albright is simply to listen to the students. There are far less complaints and many more praises of our school. We are recognizing the importance of traditions, such as Homecoming and MDA — and keeping them strong, while simultaneously reviving old ones like Sports Night. These are precisely the things that are making Albright a better place to be for all of us.

So, to celebrate the positive changes at Albright over the past four years, we decided to make one, too. For the benefit of the student body, we increased the sixe of the yearbook from 8x11 to 9x12. We like to call it the Bigger, Better Cue! The 1994-95 edition is stuffed full of pictures and memories to last us forever. Take note of all the fun times we had this year and help us to recognize that at Albright, "It's Getting Better All The Time!"

Sincerely,
Natalie L. Famous
Editor-in-Chief

THANK YOU..THANK YOU...

Without the help of the following people, The Cue could never have been produced — Ed Patrick Jr., Mark Huff, all the Editors in the Cue Suite, Jason Budd for the artwork, Stan Hyman for sports information, and especially all the people in Organizations and Greeks who provided us with the information we needed, and to those who happily gathered to smile for a picture or two! Thank you to the mailroom staff who never lost a single package (at least as far as we know!) and always took care to help us send and receive the right stuff! And, of course, deserved thanks go to Cynthia Marsh who still knows all the answers — I don't know what The Cue would do without her!

COLOPHON:

The Cue is an annual production of the yearbook staff of Albright College, in Reading, Pennsyvania.

The Cue was printed by Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas, represented by Ed Patrick, Jr.

The photographs were produced by DaVor Photo, Inc., represented by Mark Huff.

The total number of books printed was 500. This volume contains 192 pages, including 8 color pages.

The estimated cost of this book is $22,000.

The Cue Staff is listed in the front of the book on the Table of Contents.
