First Debate Of Season Lost By 2 To 1 Margin To Strong Southern State Team On Home Rostrum

NEW BALLOTS INITIATED

Opponents Make Brilliant Assault Upon Old Convention System

Opening the Albright College debating season, Friday night, in a single debate with the Western Maryland team, the affirmative team, representing the Red and White came out a close second to the boys from Dixie in a rather indifferent debate, who took back with them two out of three judges ballots to the land of the South.

Getting away to a late start, in order to let the large crowd which was witnessing the basketball game between the Albright girls and the Reading Y. W. to trek into the chapel before the argument started, the debate was fairly well attended, especially in view of the fact that the play over town lured away many prospective listeners.

In the absence of Warren Wadsworth, regular first speaker, who was forced to accompany the basketball team to the Temple game, at Philadelphia, Miss Lenora Hemstreet opened the debate in behalf of the affirmative. She showed that the direct primary system was theoretically unsound, after giving a history of the movement. Heckert and Hood followed with bitter attacks on the system, showing how it is failing to serve its purpose. The Western Maryland speakers, John Sterling, Harry Mathias, and Hubert Johnson, (Continued On Page Two)

SENIORS WIN CLASS CROWN IN EXTRA PERIOD

Finally Overcome Stubborn Sophomore Resistance To Outpoint Rivals 40-37 In Thrilling Encounter

SCORE TIED EIGHT TIMES

The Seniors, in the play off for the interschool championship, after an extra five minute period that was full of thrills, finally beat out the Sophomores, 40-37. The game was thrilling from the opening whistle, the score being tied at eight different times throughout the game, neither team having any decided advantage in the playing. At half time the score was tied at sixteen all, and at game time was tied 31 all. It was the startling come back of the Seniors in the last few minutes of the regular time that enabled the score to be tied, for with but a minute to go they were trailing by six points, but Garrett and Haney got loose for three baskets to tie it up as the whistle blew to end the game.

GIRLS ENJOY TEA AT HOME OF MRS. BOWMAN

President's Wife Was Host To A Number of Girls Last Week

The girls and teachers from Mohn Hall were the guests of Mrs. C. A. Bowman, on Wednesday afternoon of the 22nd, from 2:30 to 5:00 P. M. Delicious tea and refreshments were served during the early part of the afternoon, the idea being, that in celebration of Washington's birthday. Following this the girls gathered around the fireplace, popping corn, while others played the piano. As the supper hour drew near the group dispersed, having spent a very pleasant and joyous afternoon.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE PRESENTED IN CHAPEL

B. A. Garaside Lectures On University Work In China—Portrays Better Side of Chinese Life

HELD UNDER AUSPICES OF Y.

Tuesday, Feb. 21st, Dr. B. A. Garaside gave a very instructive as well as entertaining, illustrated lecture on "The Universities of China."

He gave a picture of China, which one seldom ever hears about, that of the educated youth of China in its schools.

He showed buildings and campus of the university with which he had been associated for a number of years. The buildings are large, and so well equipped that one could hardly imagine that these are now in war torn China. They would put to shame many colleges in China.

Then again he showed the physical side of the school with their basketball games and their track meets.

This shows that this school is training the minds, but also the bodies, so that the educated youth may be better fitted to battle against the present evils persisting in China and eventually save China.

DEBATERS STOPPED "BULLETS" LAST NITE

Red and White Forensic Hopes Met Battlefield Boys In Dual Contest—Advance Article Correct

Last night the Albright college debating teams stopped the Gettysburg "Bullets" in a dual debate, the affirmative team on its home floor, while the negative performed its piece of hero work on the Battlefield floor.

The Bulletin has written a number of articles in advance this year in order to get them in the earliest edition. A number of articles have been incorrect. For it sometimes happened that things did not just pan out the way they were supposed to, and the old assertion by "Bobby" Burns still held water. He may have builded better than he knew when in a moment of fun he propounded this profound philosophy that "the best laid schemes of mice and men gang oft a-gley—". But in this instance the Bulletin claims the signal foresight of a prognosticator (only here it may be hind-sight).

As the Bulletin went to press of course the outcome of the Albright-Gettysburg open forum debate was unknown, although a number of the (Continued on Page Two.)

THEMISIANS AUGUR TWENTY YEARS HENCE

Amusing Versions Of Albright Of 1948 Presented—Program Broadcast; Bill For Baby Grand Piano Presented

At a previous meeting of the Themisians, all the girls of the society were divided into three groups. The first group which consisted of the following girls had charge on Thursday evening, Feb. 23rd, 1928:

Carol Heffing, Irene Wright, Clara Wilkes, Ellen Miles, Kathryn Dech, Catherine Stelts, Grace Poff, Marguerite Ling, Esther Dettlerline, Pearl Ansel, Evelyn Bowser, Dorothy Dunlap, Flora Gross, Blandina Foster, Elizabeth Bittle, Blanche Seibert, Rebecca Swope.

The program which this group presented was especially interesting and entertaining—all the girls are looking forward to the programs which the other two groups are planning to present. The meetings of twenty years ago, when Miss Elmira Strunk was president, were contrasted with the meetings as they will be presented twenty years hence.

THREE DEBATES ARE SCHEDULED FOR NEXT WEEK

Two Dual Meets And One Single To Be Held—Affirmative Team Will Make Two Day Trip

The varsity debating team has two major dual debates next week, with an extra single debate thrown in for the affirmative, which will give the local stalwarts of the rostrum a very busy week. The dual debates are with Franklin and Marshall, and Elizabethtown, with Juniata to be met in a single debate away. All will be on the primary system.

The F. and M. debate will be held Tuesday night, with the Albright negative team at home. The contest is called for eight o'clock in the college chapel. At the same time the affirmative team will be arguing it out with F. and M. negative at Lancaster. The affirmative team, with Wadsworth, Heckert, and Hood making the trip will leave Myerstown, Monday afternoon for Huntingdon, where they will meet the strong Juniata negative. So far this year the boys from the western part of the state have been going great. Muhlenberg, and Ursinus as well as others have fallen before their prowess. On the following day the Red and White will journey to Lancaster, completing a two day trip.

If present arrangements go thru, Elizabethtown, which boasts one of the best teams in this part of the state will be met on Thursday. This will be a dual debate also. Everything will be O. K. if the Hershey addition to the schedule for the contest away, which will probably see the Negative in action. If the hall can not be engaged, the debate will be held later.

DR. WEBER PREACHES IN COLLEGE CHURCH

Names Three Chief Sins In Sermon Sunday Evening—Speaks About "Second Mile" In Morning

MESSAGES APPLY TO STUDENTS

"Ignorance, Indolence and Immorality" are the chief sins of the world, said Dr. Harry F. Weber, last Sunday evening in the College Church before the largest audience this winter.

In bringing the message home Dr. Weber cited the relation of the recent campaign against "cribbing" at the College to these three major sins. The problem would not exist were it not for the laziness of the student, his lack of knowledge of the subject matter and the deformed ethical standard which allows this form of crookedness to continue.

Of the remedies that had been brought to his attention he reviewed several. Some claimed that an "educational campaign" would help, us (Continued On Page Two)

GIRLS SIX OUTPLAY READING Y. W. TEAM

Defeat Strong Reading Sextette By Large Margin—Perfect Brand Of Basketball Displayed

SCORE 39-20

Albright's swift sextette outclassed Reading Y. W. in a fast game on Saturday night and defeated them 39-20.

Mrs. Mosser, Reading's mainstay, started the scoring when she tossed the ball into the basket soon after the opening whistle. Doty retaliated with two points for Albright. Throughout the first half there was much scoring on both sides. Reading was in the lead, but the Red and White forged ahead. The Albright girls could not seem to get going, but at the end of the first half were leading 23-18.

After the ten minute interval the Van Duzerites came back on the floor determined to play basketball, and play basketball they did. They found themselves and scored 16 points to their opponents 2, both of which were foul shots.

HEADS OF 1930 SPECULUM ARE BUSY

Have Interviewed Several Concerns About Printing And Engraving—Contract Not Yet Signed

The editor and business manager of the 1930 Speculum have reported to the Bulletin that since their election they have been busy obtaining bids from various companies for the printing and engraving of the book.

Within one week after the election these two men had several interviews with representatives of various concerns, but as yet no contracts have been signed as they do not wish to sign up with any company without first finding out if that company will be able to give them the best service available.

On Washington's Birthday they took advantage of the holiday and visited the J. Horace McFarland Printing Company of Harrisburg, and with one of their men went through the entire plant thereby obtaining quite a bit of inside "dope" on the making of a year-book, which information they will stand them in good stead in their work on the 1930 Speculum.

"BUDDIES" FEATURING ALBRIGHTIANS A SUCCESS

Students And Alumni Play Leading Roles In Myerstown Legion War Comedy

Last Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, the Myerstown American Legion gave their play, "Buddies", before record audiences. It was declared by all that the performance was one of the best of the annual plays that the Legion has put on.

"Buddies" is a comedy in three acts, given by special arrangement with the Samuel French Co., of New York.

It is a story of the American Expeditionary Forces during its stay in France, after the world war.

The scene of the first act was laid in the court yard of the house of Mme. Benoit. Babe, an American soldier, played by Elwood McGuigan '29, is in love with Mme. Benoit's daughter Julie, played by Eva Laucks '31, but can't express his love. She tries to get him to speak. Alphonso Pettibois, the villain, played by Geo. Olwine, ex '28, come to Mme. Benoit, Ruth Livingston '28 demanded (Continued On Page Four.)

COURTMEN SINK SCHUYLKILL IN THRILLING GAME

Horn's Sensational Shot From Mid-Court In Closing Seconds Proves Margin Of Victory 32-30

TEMPLE EXTENDED TO WIN

Red And White Surprises Strong Philadelphia Club In Rough Game; Owls' Foul Shooting Wins 42-35

In a finish that rivaled that of the football game, the Red and White took the first game from "Doggie" Julians Schuylkill court men, Horn standing back in the middle of the court with but seconds to go let fly at the basket, and after rolling around the rim, the sphere settled through the cords for the points that meant victory.

The game was nip and tuck thru the forty minutes of play, no team having more than a two point lead at any time, and the winner being always in doubt. The Albright team at half time was leading by one point, but Schuylkill came back in the second half, and soon tied it up and then passed the Wellermen, but only for a while. The Albright offense soon got started, and the battle was on once more.

Karlip, the flashy forward, was the bright star in the Albright attack along with Hughes and Sherid. Karlip accounted for fourteen of the Albright points, and was all over the floor on the defense, stopping the Schuylkill attack.

Yetzer and Norris played well for Schuylkill, and it was their timely scoring that kept the Schuylkill team in the running. (Continued On Page Four.)

GIRLS CLASS GAMES OPEN, JUNIORS WIN 2

Juniors Defeat Seniors And Sophs Down Frosh In Opening Games—Sophs Lose Second To Juniors

HELEN UHRICH STARS

The Junior girls defeated the Sophomores in their first contest in the tournament for the class championship. From the start till the sound of the final whistle both teams fought valiantly. Throughout the first half and the beginning of the second the Sophs led the scoring. When Shorty Wolf left the floor in the beginning of the second half the Sophomores' combination was broken up and the Juniors took the lead, and kept it till the end of the game. Helen Uhrich starred for the Juniors by her clean floor game and accurate shooting. Margaret Wolfe and Mary Spencer's defensive work was outstanding for the Sophomores. At the end of the game the score stood 24-8 in favor of the Juniors.

Line-up:
Hemstreet R.F. Hetrick
Uhrich L.F. Myrtle Wolf
Perry C. Michaels
Kaufman S.C. Marg. Wolfe
Flexer R.G. Spencer

Substitutions: Foster.
Field Goals: Hemstreet 3, Uhrich 8, Hetrick 2.
Foul Goals: Uhrich 2, Wolfe 4.

On Tuesday afternoon, in the college gym, a motley group of spectators gathered—some came out of curiosity, some came to razz and others really came to cheer.

Altho the Junior Class has furnished eight of the ten girls on the varsity squad this year, it still boasts an interclass team, which came thru with a 20-9 victory, over the Seniors. The center combination, Perry and Kaufman, attracted attention by (Continued On Page Four.)

THUNDER

Dr. Weber in Chapel last Monday answered another of Albright's problems, and that was as to the worthwhileness of the Chapel, Church, Sunday School Services and Prayer Meetings.

There are those who would go to a great and beautiful park and expecting great things, would claim that they were "stung" while others would rave of its beauty.

The multitude as spoken of in John 12; 28-29 were divided in their opinion as to the voice from Heaven, whether it was "thunder" or whether it had been an angel.

So it is with our Chapel, our Church, and our Morning-watch services. Some can appreciate their value and significance while others claim they are just "thunder."

SPORTSMANSHIP

Are women more antagonistic than men? We are almost inclined to believe so, as a result of the interclass basketball games begun recently by the girls' gym class. Should grudges be held when the scores of a game can make no serious differences? If the boys' classics are conducted with a minimum amount of ill-will, that is forgotten as soon as the players leave the floor, why then can we not enjoy the girls' contests in the same fashion?

Remarks have been made by the girls that are truly unsportsmanlike, and this is against the policy of the student-body as a whole. We think that if the girls are to be allowed to play class-basketball, it must be with the understanding that no personal feeling is to be harbored by any of the players. Because there are always two sides to the issue, and one side is never altogether in the right in a case like this.

TWO REAL SERMONS

The habit of cutting Church services netted an immense loss to those who were not in the College Church, last Sunday.

The two services conducted by our Dr. Weber of the College faculty which, the not of a typical theological type and up in the clouds were down on rock bottom, giving the simple lessons of the "Second Mile" and "The Pure Heart."

Dr. Weber in his quiet and seemingly apathetic way has analyzed the local situation very well since his arrival as a member of the Albright faculty, last fall, and was able to hit the nail on the head, in both of his talks. He had the "dope" as it were, and was able to deliver his message in a straight-forward and interesting manner, which did not fail to grip his audience and bring home to them the practical value of some of Christ's teachings as they could be applied to college life, with all its diversity of problems.

The town folk, the faculty and the students could each, in turn take their lesson from Dr. Weber's messages. Especially in the evening service was the question of "honor" brought home to the students. According to the data he had collected there were at least 50% of the students who were "cribbers." These were not limited to one group, for there were Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen alike, religious and non-religious, ministerial and athletes, those who were indifferent and those who advocated reform were alike guilty. There had been a number of reforms suggested, probably the most basic was that the situation was the result of a faulty system. A system that places a premium on grades and Big Diplomats will make the poor students victims to keep on a par with the intelligent and the intelligent must participate in the practice to maintain their position above the inferior. The pupils who sat at the feet of the Master, the apostles, Plato and the great philosophers of the past had no problem of honor in this respect.

What could be done, the speaker pointed out, was not clear. However, this one thing was certain that a revised attitude and a pure heart would make the problem a minor, instead of a major one. We feel that in the past the emphasis has been on the wrong place. Our educational system isn't a vacation nor is it a four year period devoted to winning a "broad-side."

speaking in order named upheld the system on the ground that it is satisfactory, that it is being improved to meet new circumstances, and that it is better than any other system that can be advanced.

The boys below the Mason-Dixon line put up a very efficient refutation of the old Convention system which the Affirmative asserted was just as good as the present system. The affirmative admitted that the convention-caucus system had its evils, its machine politics and bosses, but that the Primary system did not overcome these evils, and that many eminent authorities advocated a change in the nominating system now used.

The judges of the debate were Frank Lehman, Dawson W. Light, and Charles Atkins, all attorneys-at-law in Lebanon. In a new style of ballot, which was used at Albright for the first time, it was revealed that the Maryland boys won only by a whisker. The ballot which was divided so that nine various phases of debating, four pertaining to debating technique, four speaking ability, and one favoring of both showed that although the Albright boys were a little better at analyzing the debate, their opponents were better speakers. A summary of the consensus of the judges ideas on these various phases gave Western Maryland four, Albright three, and two tie.

was the high scorer of the game, and was easily the outstanding player on the floor, the chubby guard was in every scrimmage and usually came out with the ball to feed it to his team mates or score for himself. He threw away several opportunities to score when he fed the ball to his team mates under the basket, when he was open himself. It was this team work that enabled the Seniors to come through for the league championship for they did not depend on the individual work of any one man, but worked in harmony throughout the season. "Ev" Hanev also played a bang-up game for '28, scoring baskets.

The Sophs worked under a handicap, when Sprague their star forward was thrown out of the game via the foul route. However this did not keep them from staging a game battle to ward off defeat. Alvin Youse had an on-night, as did Peckham, who together scored almost all of their teams points. Their shooting at times was scintillating, while their floor work at all times was very consistent.

The league this year has proved one of the most exciting, since class basketball was started, and all the teams in the league gave good accounts of themselves and next year should see it more flourishing.

boys on the team would have been quite willing to offer opinions and guesses, but still the Bulletin is right. Now for an explanation of this paradox.

Albright either won or lost, last night. It is safe to assume that both home teams won, since this was an open forum debate with the audience deciding the verdict. But now however, that little incidental matter is quite irrelevant. If Albright won, it stopped the Gettysburg boys, who because of their peculiar location on the most famous battlefield in America have acquired the subriquet of "Bullets"—Stopped the same way General Pickett was. On the other hand, if Albright lost, "bullets" were stopped the same as hot pieces of lead and shrapnel were stopped when the boys in Blue, or boys in Grey went over the top and struck bottom. Hence, here is one time the Bulletin fools 'em and writes an advance article correctly for a change.

The members of the Albright Negative team who traveled to Gettysburg are B. Garrison Wilkes, Jay W. Flory and Russel Loucks. Elwood McGuigan who started the season, dropped out of forensic work and did not accompany the team. His place as second speaker was taken by Flory. The affirmative team comprised Warren Wadsworth, Ernest L. Heckert, and Leon C. Hood.

The question debated was "Resolved that the direct primary system of nominating state and federal officials should be abandoned."

ing posters and developing sentiment against the practice. Others shot the attention of the faculty should be drawn to have them exercise a greater vigilance. Some ask that the reform should begin in the home at childhood, where the lessons of truth should be taught and be continued thru the common and High School period.

The reforms suggested were however on the most part far from the kind that would solve the problem, Dr. Weber claimed. The thing hinged on the three sins of Indolence, Ignorance, and Immorality. The remedy must be an individual matter—there must be pure hearts.

Dr. Weber also spoke in the morning services, using as his subject, "The Second Mile." The lesson was given a practical application to his audience of students, faculty members and Myerstown residents. The real student is not the one who asks what is the least he must do to get credit or pass the course and does only what must be done, said Dr. Weber, nor is the teacher doing his duty when he just keeps his class the full period and ends his or her work there, nor is the resident a real citizen until he fulfils his obligations and goes the second mile.

The services of the Day were commented upon as being the finest heard in Myerstown for quite some time.

Of course, Albright, twenty years from now will be situated at Reading, and the Themisian Literary Society at that time will be so well known that the programs will be broadcasted. Many more interesting and amusing versions of Albright twenty years hence were shown to us. At the conclusion of the meeting, lolly-pops were handed out as the refreshments of the evening.

INTERESTING DISCUSSION IN CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Last Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor held a very interesting meeting in the College Chapel. The question for discussion was "Is Christ Wanted?"

Favorite selections were sung after which the lesson was read, and a number of short prayers were offered.

Bernard Zener played a very delightful cello solo accompanied by Dora Elizabeth Miller, which was enjoyed very much by the society.

After a brief exposition of the lesson by the leader, Warren Wadsworth, members of the society presented four ways in which the world wants Christ or Christianity:

1. Some want Christianity for the other fellow.

2. Others want Christ with reservations.

3. Others do not want Christ at all.

4. Others want Christianity in its pure form.

Following these talks the society discussed prerequisites for doing Christian work. First, one should be right with God. This can be done by prayer and by the study of the Bible. Next, become acquainted with the situation with which one will be confronted.

The chief reason, it seemed, for the conditions in religious work of the school is the fact that the students do not feel the need of Christ.

she has shown this year, being up on both her floor game and her shooting. Detteline, altho she played hard did not reach her usual standard. Steltz made a good showing in her first appearance at forward. Stauffer looked good in the center and was especially keen in breaking up passes. Flo Wilkes was on her toes and led her flashy little opponent a merry chase. Rae Painter and Clara Wilkes were back in their old places and exhibited such guarding that the Reading forwards didn't know what it was all about and were unable to make a single field goal in the second half.

The cooperation, speed, passing, and shooting on the part of the Albright girls showed Reading to be far outclassed and enabled the Red and White to bring home the bacon to the tune of 39-20.

YIENGST, McCracken SCORE TIES IN CHESS TOURNEY

Representing Albright in State Tournament, Play Brilliant Games With Experienced Rivals—Townsen Off Color

Representing Albright College in the state chess tournament at Philadelphia, last week, Marvin Yiengst and "Rudy" McCracken put up sterling exhibitions on the checkered board.

Playing the best game of chess of which he was capable, Marvin Yiengst, of Myerstown, held A. J. Simpson, one of Philadelphia's strong players, to a draw, Wednesday, after three hours of hard tusseling at the Mercantile Library Chess Club, Philadelphia. The Philadelphia player secured an advantage on the queen's side early in the game, but Yiengst put up a dogged fight and wardied off his opponent's attack.

After playing this brilliant draw, Yiengst dropped a contest to another foe. McCracken shared a fate similar to that of Yiengst's. Playing his first man to a draw, and then weakening a little, lost his second match. However, both of the men who beat the local boys were experienced chess players. The exhibition put up by the local artists was very creditable, considering that this is their first year at the game.

The performance of Townsen, the other strong local player, was singularly disappointing as he made even a poorer showing than his two under-studies from the college, resigning one game after 12 moves, and the other one after 17.

Summary of the playing of the Lebanon Valley players:

First round: W. A. Ruth, 1; A. N.

Towsen, 0. Harry Herman, 0; David C. Houck, 1. Haverling McCracken, ½; R. Rosen, ½. A. J. Simpson, ½; Marvin Yiengst, ½.

Second round: Drayson, 1; A. N. Towsen, 0. Marvin Yiengst, 0; David C. Houck, 1. Haverling McCracken, 0; J. S. Jackson, 1.

Third round: David C. Houck, 0; D. J. Weiner, 1.

Over 30 players entered the tourney, and of these approximately one-half have been eliminated. Houck is still in the race, but will not be able to return for the fourth round Saturday, because of pressure of business.

"NIGHT OF LOVE" COMES TO MYERSTOWN

Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky, lovers in three films, come to the Myerstown Theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday in "The Night of Love", Samuel Goldwyn's production of George Fitzmaurice's production of a tale based on the feudal "right to the first night."

Mr. Kreiser, manager of the Myerstown Theatre declared his theatre honored with his opportunity to offer its patrons so satisfying an entertainment as "The Night of Love". United Artists Corp. released the film.

John Gilbert and Greto Garbo appear in "Love", Metro Goldwyn Mayer's spectacular screen version of Tolstoy's "Anna Karenina" because of his mastery of the spectacular in pictures. The new play is a vivid romance of Russia, before the revolution, with John Gilbert and Greto Garbo in the principal roles, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, next week. Coming March 16-17, Lon Chaney in "London After Midnight."—Adv.

"CHOP SUEY" TO BE PRESENTED BY 'Y'

March the 22nd, has been set for the date of the Y. M. C. A. Chop Suey Program. This affair is an annual occurrence and has proved to be very popular. This year the committee has been working out plans for the evening of entertainment and fun, so that it will equal if not supercede the excellent performances of the men last year, if we can judge by the amount of work done so far.

The program as tentatively arranged will include an harmonica band, the famous "Penn Sereaders," the Albright "trio", "Henry" the magician, the dirty "Red and White," and other acts.

Galley Slaves

Chained to their seats, cringing under the lash, the galley slaves slowly propelled the heavy hull of a Roman warship.

Today, the electric motors of an American battleship have the energy of a million men, and drive thousands of tons of steel through the water at amazing speed.

Man is more than a source of power in civilized countries. Electricity has made him master of power. In coming years, the measure of your success will depend largely on your ability to make electricity work for you. Competition everywhere grows keener, and electricity cuts costs and does work better wherever it is applied.

In industry, transportation, the professions, the arts, and in the home, you will find General Electric equipment helping men and women towards better economies and greater accomplishments.

COMPLIMENTS OFBANBURY BAKING*COMPANY*ALBRIGHT-SCHUYLKILL*MERGER APPROVED

600 students in the combined college.

Before the merger becomes effective the question will have to be acted upon by the Pennsylvania conferences. It is expected that the merger will be ratified during the next few weeks.

There were separate meetings of the four boards here today. Each approved the merger of the colleges and then a joint session of the boards approved it.

It was announced here today that the East Pennsylvania Conference, and the East Pennsylvania United Conference will meet next week at Reading, to take action on ratification of the merger. Sessions of the Central Conference and the Pittsburgh Conference will be called later.

Albright College was organized by the United Evangelical Church, and Schuylkill College was the property of the Evangelical Association prior to the merger of the branches of the Church into the Evangelical Church in 1922.

The college buildings at Myerstown will be used as an orphanage or for other Church uses.

Recommendations made here today provide that the college be managed by a Board of Trustees, not exceeding sixty-two members. Eight trustees are to be elected from each of the East Pennsylvania, East Pennsylvania United, Central Pennsylvania United, Central Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, as well as the Atlantic Conference of the Evangelical Church.

2000 francs, which he claims her son stole from him. Julie comes in, finds her mother weeping, discovers the fact that Pettibois wants money. As her father and brother are dead and Babe won't speak to her, she speaks to Sonny, Rodney Steltz, '25, and he offers to help her by becoming engaged to her, and everything is all right.

The second act takes place in the same place as in the first act.

Louise Maitland, Blanche Bordner, '25, arrives at Mme. Benoit's house. She is engaged to Sonny, but when she sees Julie hanging on Sonny she loses faith in Sonny, and becomes engaged to Babe. Julie learning who Louise really is, says she will marry Pettibois to satisfy the debt, the Buddies say that she won't marry him. Julie tells Louise about her and Sonny, and then goes to get ready for her marriage. She dresses up in her brothers uniform and appears before the Buddies. Her appearance at this time causes one of the Buddies to recall who Pettibois really is. He is the one who had accused a Frenchman, Julie's brother of a theft, which Pettibois had committed himself. The Buddies do away with him.

The third act takes place in a barn and at last the lovers are united. Julie and Babe and Sonny and Louise.

Martha Higgins and Dot. Dunlap take the part of two French girls, Marie and Babette.

The acting of Adam Hoffman was outstanding during the play, keeping the audience in constant laughter at his actions and humorous sayings.

Eva Laucks portrayed the part of Julie with unusual talent. Her acting and singing made her easily the star of the evening. McGuigan played his part exceptionally well.

Among the musical numbers there were three selections by Eva Laucks, and one by McGuigan, which were very well rendered and were appreciated very much by the audience.

"Jones and his wife seem to be getting along so much better. Had you noticed it?"

"Yes. It all happened after he went to his old home back East this summer and saw the girl he had been dreaming and talking about the last 20 years."

Who's Who At Albright:DOROTHY DUNDOORE

Tall and comely is this quiet member of the Senior class. She entered Albright in '24, after having won the Valedictory in Myerstown High School. From the beginning Dot has been modestly retiring, taking little active part in the busy life of the college.

During her Junior year, she became a member of the girls' glee club, and has been a very efficient addition to the soprano ever since.

We regret the fact that we do not know Dorothy more intimately, for her friends tell us she has a very loving disposition. As to her plans for the coming year, she says that she does not expect to teach, but will remain at home. Perhaps she has other ideas concerning her stay at home, but we sincerely hope she will be happy (there being no doubt about the success of any of her undertakings) whether she works at home or enters a home of her own.

Temple Has Tough Sailing

In a rough and tumble game, intermixed with an exhibition of "manly art," Temple bowled over Jake Weller's crew 42-35.

Temple did not have so much of an edge over the Weller's, and at times Albright flashed a game that Temple found difficult to cope with, but the Temple players' ability to make good five fifteen foot line was the undoing of the Red and White.

Temple is classed with the best teams in the East, and the remarkable showing of the Albright clan speaks well for them.

Litwick, who is classed as one of the greatest guards in the game, was the outstanding star of the game for Temple, while Karlip and Sherid played well for Albright.

MARGARET EBLING

"Maggie", as most of us call her, is one of Albright's well-known Seniors, and a member of Chi Sigma. For four years she has been among us, and we shall regret to have her leave our midst in June, for we like her genial personality and dignified ways.

We are not over-certain about that fact or suggestion that Margaret will teach next fall, tho she gives promise of being a lovable "school-marm." Because there is one among us who requires a great deal of her time, and whom we wish a lot of luck in this matter. However, we shall see what we shall see.

As a reader Maggie deserves considerable merit, for she possesses an unusual talent along that line. Everyone remembers, too, her splendid version of the negro-mummy in "And Home Came Ted," for the part required plenty of acting. Margaret is also a fair student and will be a success as a teacher, if she decides to be one.

The second game of the series was a quick and snappy one, between the Sophs and the Freshmen. The Sophs put it over the Frosh by a 25-14 score.

Norma Michael's good work in the center with Shorty Wolfe as her "side-kick", enabled the Soph forwards, Hetrick and Wolfe, to show their ability to "hit the bucket."

The close guarding of Spencer and Ansel kept the Frosh forwards from rolling up a higher score, otherwise Flora's shooting would have probably brought a Frosh victory.

Grace Seibert's work in the center proved that it pays to come to varsity practice, and we see possibilities of a big jump-center for the fair co-ed's varsity in a year or two.

Friend—How in the world did you ever get that old maid to confess to an age like this?

Insurance Agent—When I wrote up the policy I told her I would give her a kiss for every year.

Al Falfa—Can I get a new Ford here on monthly payments?

Agent—Sure thing; sign on this dotted line.

Al Falfa—How much do I get paid each month for driving it?

Agent—Get paid; what do you mean? You have to do the paying.

Al Falfa—Oh, in that case I don't want it. I thought I got paid for it.

"Aren't you afraid of seasickness on your honeymoon voyage?"

"Oh, no; love is the best cure for seasickness."

"Yes; but how about the return journey?"

Jack—Where did you get the bumps on your head?

Bill—Had appendicitis.

Jack—Appendicitis?

Bill—Yeah, the doctor ran out of ether.
