

Prizes Awarded 22 At Assembly 73 To Be Graduated At Commencement June 5; 33 Plan For Graduate Education

Alumni Day Activities Scheduled For June 4

Twenty-two students received prizes and awards in the final Assembly of the year last Tuesday morning. Citations were also given to members of the Student Council, the Albrightian staff and the musical organizations.

David E. Frankhouser, '55, won both the Reading Chemists' Club and American Chemical Society Prize of $15. Mary Alice Althouse, '55 received the Pennsylvania Division of the American Association of University Women's gift membership and the local group's award.

Other seniors receiving prizes included Duane C. Goldman, the Matten award for a varsity athlete with high scholastic standing; Mrs. Catherine R. Minnich, the Speicher award for proficiency in languages; Patricia D. Wehner, the English fraternity award for proficiency in writing and high scholarship in literature.

Also Raymond D. Stoneback, the Class of '26 prize for scholarship, character, leadership and participation in athletics; Stella K. Tryka, for maintaining the highest average for advanced work in the department of sociology; Claire E. Spidel, a medal for excellence in social sciences; Harold G. Kretzing, the Pastorello prize for excellence in biology.

Also Henry A. Greenawald, the Delbert prize for outstanding work in anatomy; Jasper Dreibelbis, the society of public accountants prize for the highest grade in accounting.

Underclassmen Cited

Underclassmen receiving awards were Clair W. Matz, as the freshman who made the most worthy contribution to Albright; Rodney R. Bentz, as the junior member of any of the social fraternities whose academic record is highest; Helen C. Schoener, as the junior woman who has earned the highest scholastic average.

Mary Jo Wolf was presented an award to the woman of the sophomore class who maintained a good scholastic average and participated in social, religious and athletic activities at Albright. The freshman mathematics award went to Joan Adams. The award for the highest average in general biology was won by Lowell Perry, '57. Robert Blankenbiller was awarded the sophomore prize for the highest standing in pure mathematics.

Ahepa Greek Award

The Ahepa Greek award was won by Jonathan M. Hole, '58. The Kelchner Oratorical Contest Awards were won by Robert Blatt, '58, first; Wilma D. Rieser, '58, second; and Carlton S. Dodge, '58, third.

In presenting the awards, Dr. Harry V. Masters, president of the college, indicated that the special "Gold A" awards and the Alumni Graduation Honor would be announced at Commencement.

Student Council awards were indicated as follows to seniors whose contribution to the Council merits recognition: Alfred Berger III, John Bubel, Roslyn Cowen, Frankhouser, James E. Hall, John Jones, Jerome K. Lengel, and Miss Spidel.

Gold Key Awards for contribution to the Albrightian were announced as follows: Miss Wehner, editor-in-chief; Norman Ring, '56, business manager; David Widland, '55, two years' service. Rachel Kaebnick and Lois Hughes, juniors, received silver keys.

Mrs. Shirk, Hetrich Will Serve On Panel

The annual Alumni Day, which will be held this year Saturday, June 4, will begin with registration and reception at 10 a.m. The junior women of WSS will be hostesses at this time.

At 11 a.m. a faculty-alumni seminar will be held. The theme of the seminar will be "The College Man's Responsibility to His Society." Members of the panel are Dr. John W. Kopp, '29, from New Cumberland, Pennsylvania, who is the Chief of the School Building Program, Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg; Mrs. Annadora V. Shirk, assistant professor of English at Albright and a member of the board of directors of the Reading School District, and Paul R. Hetrich, '56, of Laureldale. The moderator is LeVan P. Smith, dean of men and head of the education department at Albright.

Mrs. Shirk will speak on the topic, "The Role of the Church Related College in Preparing a Responsible Citizen." "What College Has Done to Educate Me to My Responsibilities to Society" will be explained by Hetrich, and Dr. Kopp will speak on "How Well Is the College Man Measuring Up to His Responsibilities to Society."

'55 To Be Guests

The Class of '55 will be the guests at the Alumni Dinner at 12:30 p.m. Special guests are the Classes of 1895, 1900, and 1905. The speaker will be Dr. Homer Tope Rosenberger, '29, of Washington. Rosenberger, who is the Supervisor of Training, Bureau of Prisons, U. S. Department of Justice, is a candidate for an honorary Doctor of Laws degree at commencement. Kenneth A. Bergstresser, '34, of Hellertown, the president of the Alumni Association, will preside at the dinner. A business meeting and election of officers will be held at this time.

The movie, "It Happened on Thirteenth Street," will be shown at 2 p.m. Two athletic events will also take place at this time. An Alumni-varsity tennis match and an alumni-football soft ball game will be held. Raymond Loose, '26, and Robert Ruff, '51, are in charge of the tennis match. The co-chairmen of the soft ball game are Eugene H. Barth and Dr. James D. Reppert. Members of the faculty soft ball team are Clyde A. Harding, Ellery B. Haskell, Consulio R. Jordan, Levan P. Smith, Robert Smethers, Dr. Charles E. Kistler, Lewis E. Smith, Eugene L. Shirk, James A. Widdowson, Benjamin E. Brown, William R. Bishop, Charles A. Raith, and Dr. John Douds.

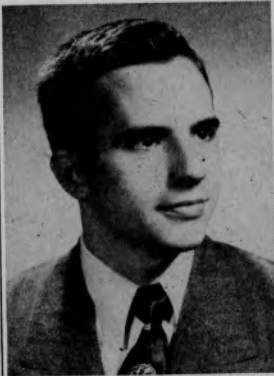

Alumni Team Members

Members of the alumni team are David Roland, '50, James R. Hevalow, '51, Alex Zervanos, '49, Harold Bieber, '51, Terrence Connor, '51, Lee Cappel, '51, Richard Witman, '52, and Leon M. Rothermel, '51.

Members of the Lancaster area club will be hostesses at the annual tea which will be held in Krause Hall at 4 p.m. The chairman of the committee for the tea is Marie Sourbeer Palmer, '19.

At 5:45 p.m. an accommodation buffet supper will be held at the college dining hall.

This year, for the first time, the alumni and their families will be accommodated over night. They will stay in Selwyn Hall, Teel Hall, and the Albright Court dormitories. (Continued on Page Four)

WAA Award Winners Named At Dinner

Carol Ringler, '55 and Stella Tryka, '55 received top awards at the annual Women's Athletic Association banquet Thursday evening, May 12.

Miss Tryka received the Women's Auxiliary award for being the outstanding senior woman athlete. Miss Ringler was given the trophy awarded to the senior woman who has contributed outstanding service to WAA.

Class numerals were presented to Nilda Calder, '57, Marie Lorchak, '57, Betty Miraszer, '56, Patricia Rentschler, '56, Naomi Robinson, '56, Gretchen Vogel, '57, Marilyn Wertz, '57, Cynthia Winner, '57 and Mary Jo Wolf, '57.

Letters were presented to Alma Grove, '56 and Jean Walker, '55.

Patricia Brown, '56, Miss Tryka and Beverly Walsh, '56 received sweaters.

Gold keys were awarded to Mary Althouse, '55, Miss Ringler and Miss Tryka.

Josephine Raepfel Earns Doctorate

Josephine Raepfel, head librarian at the college, will receive the doctor of education degree at the commencement exercises of Oregon State College, June 6.

Miss Raepfel completed her work for this doctorate last summer. After receiving the degree, she will travel to Hawaii. There she will study music and other subjects for six weeks at the University of Hawaii. During this time she will be staying at Hale Laulima, a dormitory connected with the university.

Services To Feature The Rev. E. Hangen, Norman Cousins

Baccalaureate service will be held Sunday, June 5, in Krause Hall. An academic procession at 10:45 a.m. will begin the service. At 11 a.m., the sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Emerson G. Hangen, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Long Beach, Calif.

Commencement exercises will be held that same day in the Physical Education Building, beginning with an academic procession at 2:45 p.m. At 3 p.m., the commencement address will be given by Norman Cousins, editor of The Saturday Review.

Conferring of degrees will follow. There are 73 candidates for graduation from the college. They are Thelma Arnold, John Bubel, Jack Clopper, Roslyn Cowen, Bethlyn Emmett, Edmond Ettinger, William Hess, William Hillyer, Raymond Kaiser and Peter LaRocco for the bachelor of arts degree.

Also, John Lewis, Charles Lovelless, William McHugh, Catharine Minnich, Dion Raudenbush, James Rogers, Roland Roth, Robert Rothermel, Orchys Rupp, J. Richard Smoker, Patsy Snyder, Claire Spidel, Theodore Tietge, Stella Tryka, George Updegrave, Jeanne Walker, Patricia Wehner, Patricia Weitzel, Demetrius Nick Zaferes.

B.S. Candidates

Candidates for the bachelor of science degree are T. Rudolph Becker, Robert Berkstresser, John DeTurck, Jean Dirmitt, V. Richard Eshelman, David Frankhouser, Irwin Freedman, Duane Goldman, Henry Greenawald, Edward Charles Jones, Leonard Katz.

Also Neal Kaufman, Barry Koch, Harold Kretzing, Kenneth Nase, John Neilson, Jack Owen Peiffer, Robert Reller, John Sherman, Roger Spang, Raymond Stoneback, Herman Theodore Zweig.

The following are candidates for the bachelor of science in economics degree: Gordon Anke, Robert Beane, Alfred Berger III, Jasper Dreibelbis, Daniel W. Ebling, James Goss, James Hall, Robert Krize, Jerome Lengel, Edward McNeill, George Reiner, Carol Ringler, Richard Strauss, David Widland.

Candidates for the bachelor of science in home economics degree are Sarah Aicher, Mary Althouse, Joan Nielsen, Leda PasVotis, Ann Stalmecker, Genevieve Sweitzer, Lorraine Wagner, Theresa Winkler.

President's Reception Set For May 22

The President's Reception for the seniors and faculty will be held Sunday, May 22, from 3:30-5 p.m., at the home of Dr. Harry V. Masters, president of the college, 1605 Palm Street. The floaters for the affair are Anna Benninger, Elizabeth Burkey, Ernestine Elder, Mrs. Harold C. Jordan, Priscilla R. Morton, and Marie Kleppinger. Miriam L. Parker is in charge of the floaters.

Mrs. Thomas P. Merritt, Mrs. Warren E. Reese, Mrs. Edward Gulian, and Mrs. Paul Price are serving.

Art To Be Exhibited

An art display, sponsored by the Berks Art Alliance, will be featured on the balcony of Krause Hall from May 25 to June 6. The exhibit will include oil paintings, water colors and sculpture.

Of those completing their work at Albright this June, 38 have signified their intention of continuing their studies in graduate or other professional schools. Of the 73 who will be graduated, there are 33, or 45% who will continue. The percentage of the group finishing, including special students, who will go on will be closer to 49%.

Four business administration students will go to Indiana University Business School with scholarships. They are Robert Beane, Jasper Dreibelbis, James Goss and Douglas Ebling. Robert Berkstresser has a scholarship at Northwestern in physics, and Richard Eshelman and David Frankhouser have scholarships in chemistry, the former at Penn State and the latter at Illinois.

Pre-Med

Harold Kretzing has a scholarship to Temple Medical School, while Edward Ettinger will have a scholarship in history at the University of Connecticut. Edward Roth, a scholarship student, will enter either Georgetown or Catholic University, while John DeTurck expects to enter Wayne University in anatomy on the same basis.

Duane Goldman, Kenneth Nase, Raymond Stoneback, members of the graduating class, and Marcus Saltzman, a special student, have been accepted by Hahnemann Medical School. Others who will attend Temple Medical School besides Kretzing are Barry Koch and Roger Spang. Henry Greenawald is the lone pre-med who will attend Jefferson.

John Bubel, Raymond Kaiser, Charles Lovelless, James Rogers and George Updegrave will enter the United Theological Seminary upon completion of their studies, while Theodore Tietge has not yet decided on the theology school he will attend.

Pre-Law

John Lewis will attend Dickinson Law School, while Peter LaRocco has a scholarship to Villanova Law School.

Neil Kaufman, in the field of laboratory technology, will continue his studies at Reading Hospital, while Patricia Weitzel will attend Western Reserve University's School of Library Science, and James Zaferes will enter the Wharton Graduate School as a student in the Institute of Local and State Government.

Others who will be graduated in June who expect to continue their studies are Irwin Freedman, Temple University in biology; Claire Spidel in political science, William Hillyer in education, Leonard Katz in biology and David Widland in the field of business administration.

Special Students

Special students who will complete their work this June are Homer Angstad, who probably will enter Philadelphia College of Osteopathy; Richard Knoll, who will enter dental school; Yvonne Thur-nick, who will enter the physical therapy division at the University of Pennsylvania; and Phillip Edlin, who has been accepted by Temple Dental School.

Arthur Hill, a graduate in June of 1954, has been awarded a fellowship by the mathematics department of Lehigh University, and will begin his graduate work in September of 1955, while George Spencer, who completed his work at Albright in August of 1954, will enter West Virginia University this (Continued on Page Four)

What Is There Left To Say?

That time has come again . . . the deadline for all Albright students is drawing nigh. For the Seniors, it's final exams and then the big plunge. In two weeks they'll be leaving the campus with lots of memories of tests and term papers, Y-Retreats and the Albrightian Office (for P. W.'s sake), fraternity meetings and the Sub. For the underclassmen it's the final exams in which they can either tie up a straight average, or pull the marks out of the narrow straits.

What we have learned in these past years however, cannot be tabulated by exams alone. Many of the seniors are aware of this now, some of us have yet to learn it. Impressions made by professors, friendships we have developed, ways of thinking cultivated over the years of contact with stimulating minds and situations will sustain us in the future, whether it be in the business world, establishing families, or with Uncle Sam in, who knows what part of the world.

Those of us who leave the Albright family in June will educationally, spiritually, and socially, utilize all the knowledge and experience that we have gained to make worthwhile contributions to ourselves and our fellow men.

Those of us who remain have a big space to fill. The new officers have assumed the responsibilities of our graduating seniors and now it's our job to carry on. The round of term papers, exams, athletic events, dances, bull sessions will continue to contribute to the final day when others stand in the place of today's Seniors.

A Good Showing

During the past year, a variety of stimulating cultural programs were presented in Assembly. David Frankhouser, '55 headed the Student Council committee in charge of planning these programs.

Probably the outstanding program of the year was presented by David Bar-Illan, noted pianist and recipient of Queen Elizabeth's Coronation Year Medal. Bar-Illan played selections by Chopin, Debussy, Lizet and Beethoven.

Dorothy Crawford, celebrated actress, kept the audience spellbound with her fascinating monologues and quick costume changes.

The American Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of Robert Scholz, performed the classical and preclassical compositions of Bach, Haydn, Mozart and their contemporaries in the authentic manner of their period.

Bob Gosch, '58 and several other young musicians presented a most enjoyable program of modern music. They explained the theory of modern jazz, and presented a number of original jazz concepts.

A noted explorer, Paul E. Victor, lectured on his expedition to the polar ice cap, and showed movies actually filmed during that dangerous expedition.

The programs presented by campus organizations were also excellent. The APO Variety Show was, as always, superb. Beautifully costumed and perfectly timed, it provided an hour of high entertainment.

Pi Tau Beta presented a well-executed and fast-moving show which was well received, featuring a very good Pi Tau combo.

These programs provoked a great deal of appreciative comment on the part of students and faculty. Thanks to Frankhouser and Student Council for a year of worthwhile cultural programs! With '54-'55 as a precedent, we are looking forward to '55-'56 for more of the same.

Mardi Gras Nobody Asked Me, But . . .

By Barbara Pelkus

Albright did it again last Saturday night with a big turnout at Mardi Gras. The fraternities, sororities, and other campus organizations really worked hard to make their booths attract attention and money.

"Give Krick a bath" was the Zeta cry. This most amusing event had Bernie Krick and cigar, both soaking wet, sitting under a pan of water waiting for someone to ring two out of three bottles in order to turn the pan over on him.

With the human targets oozing with tomatoes, the contestants at the Kappa booth were having a great time. The Kappa's Rat Race also drew a lot of attention. This reporter wouldn't get too near, but she did get close enough to watch the little beast crawl down a numbered hole to win someone a prize.

Palm reading was performed by two PAT swamies, and the neighborhood youngsters seemed to have found it worthwhile waiting in line for.

No one went hungry at this Mardi Gras. HEO, KTX, WSS and the Daywomen's Organization were selling all sorts of refreshments, including pizza pies. By 10 o'clock, the only things left to sell were four hot dog rolls, mustard, relish and paper napkins.

The Daymen-Daywomen Organization offered nice prizes at their bingo and golf games. In fact, every organization's prizes were very gay, consisting of colorful leis, straw hats, canes and trick cigars.

Another clever game was tossing water-filled balloons at a Pi Tau Beta target. What a wet way to have fun! Some of the other 26 booths were basketball shooting and penny-pitching, sponsored by ACS and the APO's respectively.

Adolph Butkys was kept busy at the checker board for the ACCA, and the combined Y groups raffled off an adorable toy dog, won by Audrey Boyd.

The Zeta-Mu Variety Show was really tops with such talent as Bob Gosch at the piano, Jean Weik and Art Vellutato doing a pantomime, Bob Fiorando singing, and Patty Brown doing a dance. Jan Musser, the M.C., was up to his old tricks. cards that is, and the "Mu Crew" and the "Zeta Trio" sang.

To add to this splendid affair, even the microphones and loudspeakers were in working order all night long.

Women's Dormitory Councillors Named

Lucy Schuman, '57 has been elected president of Selwyn Hall and therefore vice president of the Women's Dormitory Council. Frances Stauffer, '57 will be junior council representative from Selwyn Hall.

Alma Grove, '56 was appointed senior representative to the council from White Chapel Hall, with Mildred Tims, '57 and Sheila Greene, '58 appointed junior and sophomore representatives respectively.

In Teel Hall, Shirley Raffensberger, '56 was chosen third floor senior representative, with Hisako Umemura, '57 and Mary Jo Wolf, '57 as junior representatives, and June Sneath, '58, Audrey Boyd, '58, and Bonnie Orr, '58 as sophomore representatives.

Installation of officers and other council members was held at the farewell to seniors party last Wednesday evening in the Pine Room of Selwyn Hall.

Prof just gave a quiz: "Trace the development of American Literature in its social, political and economic aspects as it enters the 20th century, including each writer's symbolic treatment of crowd reaction, violation of man's sanctity, the supernatural, folk legend, and the contrast of land and sea." I think I hit it for at least an F. I really should do something about this course, something like dropping it.

"Kilt him a bar

When he was only three.

Davey, Davey . . .

Yes indeed, I agree, Prof, France is an interesting country. As to its contributions to American Lit I don't know, but everytime I hear the word France I think of a story. Actually the story doesn't have much to do with France but it is a good story.

Saul Goldberg was born in a southern province of France. His was an unusually happy childhood. He ate regularly and had a bed to sleep in. Saul had lots of companionship since he lived next door to an orphanage. This being the case, all of Saul's young friends were orphans. Everything was going smoothly until one day Saul heard that the orphanage was going to have its annual picnic. Saul wanted to go, but was prevented from doing so because he wasn't an orphan. So Saul, being an average French youngster, made the best of the situation. He shot his parents.

We find Saul some twenty years later as he leaves the Bastille. Realizing that France was a relatively restricted country, he decided to leave for America, the land of the free. Once in New York, Saul set up a smoked herring shop on Fifth Avenue. For a time his business was booming and then some sort of a senatorial committee hit the town, and Saul's friends, fearing that Saul would be investigated because of his stock of red herring, urged him to drop his business.

A much discouraged Saul decided to get a further education, and upon looking through Elsa Maxwell's catalogue of Nationally Approved Party Schools, he chose Albright (mainly because the name was the same as one of his old orphan friends). Saul was an instantaneous hit at Albright. Everyone was charmed with his quaint accent and his unusual philosophy, and soon Saul Goldberg was well known by all the students.

By the time Saul was a senior his fame was far-spread and that was the year he met the Pope . . . but no doubt you've heard that story. In case you haven't—see Saul at Homecoming next year. And by the way, American Lit is the literature of the American people.

—Bitzy—

Bitzy, as he is called affectionately by his friends, or David E. Frankhouser, as he is called by his other associates, was born at an early age in Shillington, Pa. He attended high school and graduated, despite the fact that early in his junior high school career he set off a stink bomb in the local theatre, causing a minor riot in the lives of quite a few Shillington citizens.

Among Bitzy's many achievements in his high school career was his sterling performance on the trombone. His repertoire consisted of two songs, the difficult selections, "Jesus Loves Me," and "The Marines' Hymn."

Here at Albright, where Bitzy is a chemistry major, he has been active as president of the Daymen, chaplain of Pi Tau Beta, president of ACS, secretary of IFC and has also been a member of Domino, Student Council and the Chapel Programs Committee.

After graduation, Dave plans post-graduate work at the University of Illinois for a Ph.D. in organic chemistry. Other plans include a trip to the moon and an exhibition at the next world's fair of his one-foot-long incision.

Friday, May 27 will be the last day that copies of the CUE may be picked up in the Public Relations Office. Second semester students may obtain copies of the yearbook by paying $2.50 at the Treasurer's Office.

Six To Enter Training

Six sophomore girls are candidates to enter nurses' training next fall. They are Nancy Cashin, Barbara Cruttenden, Jean Hagenbuch, Shirley Henry, Catharine Phillipson and JoAnn Yobb.

Shirley Schaeffer, '56 Talent Show Winner

Shirley Schaeffer, '56, was the winner of the annual Student Council Talent Show held Thursday, May 12. Shirley gave a vocal rendition of "Love Is Where You Find It."

Barry Blatt, '58, was the second place winner. The Mad Four, composed of Allen Lentz, '57, John Paolini, '56, David Pettit, '58 and Wilbert Wollenhaupt, '58, placed third.

—Witzy—

Witzy Widland, as he is known solely to provide a headline for this column, is Nutty, New Jersey's gift to humanity and Albright students. Champion of all sports writers everywhere, Dave served this year as the most dashing, most non-conforming sports editor in the nation. In a recent Gallop poll taken at all leading universities across the country, it was found that more sports writers write about sports than any other subject. This of course puts Dave in a class alone, as the only sports writer in—may be so audacious as to say, the world?—to spend the main part of his time making brilliant plans for the "Illustrated Albrightian" and drawing up exquisite architectural forms for the future Albrightian office.

Dave's many other talents (all too numerous to mention) provide him with the ability to write two term papers in one evening (both of them worthy of doctorate works) and manage to go steady with two girls at once (both of them worthy . . .)

Dave's plans for the after years include graduate work and then a job as college professor, the profession he claims to be best suited to his nature.

Library News

Josephine Raepffel, head librarian, recently announced the library's purchase of several new books. They are: 1001 Sandwiches—which gives recipes for everything from Prune Sandwich I to Mustard Sardine Sandwich; Folk Art Motifs of Pennsylvania by Francis Lichten; Peace with God by Billy Graham; Yield to the Night—a novel about the price of murder by Joan Henry; The Good Shepherd by C. S. Forester; How to Make Beautiful Gifts at Home by Raymond and Marguerite Yates; A Complete Bible Commentary by Mathew Henry, Thomas Scott, etc.; and The New Dictionary of Thoughts compiled and edited by Tyron and Jonathon Edwards.

The books have not yet been catalogued, but they may be taken out. However, Miss Raepffel said that all books borrowed from the library should be returned by May 27.

Bill Shirk Crowned MASC Champ In Two-Mile Run

In The Lion's Den

By Phil Eyrich

Good Hit, No Field

Errors, errors, errors—again last week, the miscues made the Lions a win. Although Tom Pollock, looking big-league all the way, managed to limit the Bullets of Gettysburg to just three singles, the Albright defense crumbled and allowed the winning runs to reach base.

Although Pollock's two balks did help to set up the score in the first inning, it was an error that ruined his chances of escaping unscathed. Even after Albright took a 2-1 lead, it was another error that allowed the tying run to score. Again in the eighth, an error put the tie-breaking runner on first base.

It was not the first game in which the Lions ruined their chances of victory with a few well-placed errors, but we hope the last, since the good pitching, hitting, and catching of the team has just been wasted and overshadowed by the miscues and blunders.

Thanks

We would like to recognize here the excellent work of Lee Swartz and Bill Davies as sports writers for this page during the past year.

Golfers Triumph

The Albright linksmen split three matches last week by beating Lafayette and Moravian before dropping a contest to West Chester State Teachers College. The golfers beat the Leopards 5-2 in a match at the Reading Country Club as Willie Smith, Bill Breneman, Mike DePaul, and Jack Lewis won for the Lions.

They also shutout Moravian 9-0 at Allentown with Bernie Krick and Ernie Broadbeck joining the list of above victors.

Bill Breneman gave the Lions their only score in Albright's 8-1/2 loss to State, as West Chester won the best-ball in all three rounds. The golfers completed their season yesterday at Muhlenberg. The summaries:

William Smith, A, defeated John McDermond, L, 1 up; Bill Breneman, A, defeated Harry Leader, L, 3 and 2. Lafayette won best-ball.

Rich Locke, L, defeated Bernie Krick, A, 7 and 6.

William Smith, A, defeated Lou Esposto, M, 6 and 5; Bill Breneman, A, defeated Rudy Kresh, M, 5 and 4. Albright won best-ball.

Mike DePaul, A, defeated Joe Rieger, M, 2 up; Jack Lewis, A, defeated Ken Skarvie, M, 4 and 2. Albright won best-ball.

Bernie Krick, A, defeated Frank Scholl, M, 3 and 1; Ernie Broadbeck, A, defeated Ron Rhen, M, 3 and 2. Albright won best-ball.

Fred Christman, WC, defeated Bill Smith, A, 1 up; Bill Breneman, A, and Bill Remley, WC, split even. West Chester won best-ball.
Eckeroth, WC, defeated Mike DePaul, A, 5 and 4; Tom Ramsey, WC, defeated Jack Lewis, A, 2 and 1. West Chester won best-ball.
Ron Blah, RC, defeated Bernie Krick, A, 2 up; Jess Rothenberger, WC, defeated Ernie Broadbeck, A, 6 and 5. West Chester won best-ball.

Bob Krize Named Top Athlete; Two Others Awarded Trophies

Dorm Women Win

At the awards assembly on Tuesday, Bob Krize was awarded the trophy given to the best male athlete of the current year, besides winning the Mulligan trophy for the top track and field athlete.

Duane Goldman received the award given to the senior member of either the varsity football, basketball, or baseball team who has the highest academic average. Ray Stoneback was given the award for the best all-around student who also competes in varsity athletics.

IFC Presents

The Interfraternity Council presented the trophies to the champions of the intramural football and basketball leagues to the Pi Tau and APOs respectively. Sports Night trophies were awarded to the Zeta fraternity and the Dorm Women for winning in that competition. Jack Clopper and Thelma Arnold accepted the awards in behalf of those two organizations.

Krize was a stellar lineman on the football team this past year, playing at end, and is currently piling up points in the discus, javelin, and shotput for the track team of Coach Gene Shirk.

Commemorates Student

The award for the athlete of the year is made in the name of Ken Gougler, a one time student of Albright who was killed while serving in the armed forces. The Mulligan trophy is given by Dr. Mulligan of this city in the name of Jimmy Mulligan.

Goldman is one of the first-line pitchers for the Lion diamondmen while Stoneback excels at football and baseball; in the latter he has played three positions during the current season.

Netters Beat Bullets; Defeated By Bucknell

The racketmen beat Gettysburg 6-2 last Saturday after having dropped two successive matches to Juniata and Bucknell. The Lions were paced by John Schiavo and Mike Daugherty, the 1 and 2 men of the team, in the match with the Bullets.

Schiavo beat Bob Race 6-0, 6-1, while Daugherty swept past Bill Hershey 6-1, 6-0. Jack Rosen and freshman whiz Charlie Sample also won singles matches for Albright. The Lions are now 5-5 for the current campaign.

Two Wins

At Huntingdon, Juniata whipped the Lions 5-2 as only Daugherty and Jack Rosen won for the locals. Bucknell just managed to slip by the Lions 5-4 in a very even match here on Thursday. Winners for the netmen of Coach Bloom were Schiavo, Rosen, and the doubles teams of Schiavo and Daugherty, and Rosen and Reusing. The summaries follow:

Singles—John Schiavo, A, defeated Bob Race, G, 6-1; Mike Daugherty, A, defeated Bill Hershey, G, 6-1, 6-0; Jack Rosen, A, defeated Dick Schiller, G, 5-7, 6-2; Wayne Smith, G, defeated John Reusing, A, 6-1, 6-2; Bill Martin, G, defeated Bob Brown, A, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3; and Charlie Sample, A, defeated Charlie Meyer, G, 6-4, 6-0.

Doubles—Schiavo and Daugherty, A, defeated Rice and Hershey, G, 6-1, 6-3; Reusing and Brown, A, defeated Schiller and Smith, G, 6-4, 14-12. Match No. 3 was canceled.

Baseball Team Loses; Record Stands At 6-9

The Albright baseball team lost three straight games last week to drop their season's record to 6-9. Monday, they were defeated at Dickinson 11-4, Thursday at Susquehanna 10-9, and Saturday at home 3-2.

Duane Goldman was the loser in the game at Carlisle as Dickinson scored in each of the first four innings to spearhead their 13-hit attack.

Lions Tie

Trailing 4-1, Albright tied the game temporarily in the top half of the fourth with a three-run rally but the Red Devils came back to take the lead for good with two runs in the same frame. Florindo, George Conrad, and Bob Kovack each had three hits.

At Susquehanna, the Lion nine produced fourteen hits and a seven run lead for freshman starter Frank Hoffman, but after narrowing the lead to 8-3, the Crusaders rallied in the sixth for five runs. Albright broke the tie in the eighth frame, but Susquehanna tied it in their half of the inning at 9-9. Tex Guinn, Albright's third hurler, absorbed the loss when he issued a game winning single to John Radkey in the ninth with a man on second.

Pollock Stars

Tom Pollock pitched his best game of the season for the Lions, limiting the opposition to three singles in the loss to Gettysburg, but as usual the Albright defense killed the Lion chances of winning with a few crucial errors. Dragon and Conrad each had two hits for the Lions; Conrad has hit the ball at a .588 clip in the last four games.

Three Others Place In Events

Track Team Places Sixth, Hawks Triumph, LaSalle Second

Bill Shirk of Albright won the Middle Atlantic Collegiate Track and Field championship in the two-mile run last Saturday at Lafayette, at the same time setting a new Albright record in that event with a time of 9:47.3.

Shown above is Bill Shirk, who recently set a new Albright record of 9:47.3 in the two-mile run.

Lion Ace

Ken Greenawald, Jack Huntzinger, and Rudy Becker also scored for the Lions, which as a team amassed 13 points for sixth place among the fourteen schools entered. St. Joseph's edged defending champion LaSalle 45-42 in the 43rd annual meet of the MASC.

Post Winners

Shirk became the first Lion MASC champ since 1953 when Pete Alberts, a senior, won the pole vaulting crown. Previous to that, Lee Cappel and Al Hamley had held the javelin championship, Hamley, at the time, set a new MASC record in that event.

Shirk outdistanced the field by 100 yards in his race, as Val Jennings of Lehigh copped second place. George Mack and Dick Thrasher placed fifth and sixth respectively in the Fresh Mile, both giving strong showings.

Close Races

Ken Greenawald, a straight-A pre-medical sophomore, placed third in both the 100-yard and the 200-yard dashes, each time finishing in nearly a dead heat with the first two runners.

Jack Huntzinger was fourth in the discus, won by Fred Stark of Lehigh, while Rudy Becker finished sixth in the mile run.

Coach Gene Shirk was well pleased with the showing that Albright made in the stiff competition afforded at Lafayette.

Haverford College won a triangular track and field meet over Gettysburg and Albright on Tuesday, May 10, at Haverford. The winners gathered 75 points on nine first places to 44 points for G-burg and 35 points for the Red and White. It was the first time this year that the Lions had finished last in a track meet.

Winners

Bob Hopkins, George Klotz, and Jim Alvord each copped two firsts for Haverford, Hopkins winning the 100-yard dash in 10.3 seconds and the 220-yard dash in 2.5 seconds, Klotz grabbed the 880-yard run in two minutes and two seconds and the one-mile run in 4:32.4 while Alvord took the broad jump at 23 feet 3/4 inches and the discus with a throw of 134 feet, ten inches. Dick Eckman was the only double winner for the Bullets, who took only three first places. He copped the 120-yard high hurdles in 16.0 seconds and the high jump at six feet.

Bill Shirk and Bob Krize took the only first places for Albright, Shirk winning the two-mile run and Krize the shot put.

Shirk Chosen To Head MASC Next Season

Eugene Shirk, Director of Athletics and coach of the track and field team here at Albright, was recently named president of the Middle Atlantic Collegiate Track and Field Association for the coming year.

George Bartelsman of St. Joseph's and Asa Bushnell of the Eastern College Athletic Conference were chosen as Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer respectively. Twenty-two colleges are members of the association, including such schools as Bucknell, Lafayette, LaSalle, and St. Joseph's, all of which field strong athletic teams annually.

Championship Here

It was also announced that the MASC track and field games will be held at Albright next spring at approximately the same date as this year's meet at Lafayette in which Albright placed sixth among fourteen entries.

With many of the Lion track team returning next year, the MASC meet at Albright may help them to better their fine standing of this year.

Home Economics 'Professional Reunion' Held In Selwyn Hall

The home economics department sponsored a "professional reunion" last Saturday afternoon for alumnae from the last three graduating classes.

Attending were faculty members Miriam Parker, Ernestine Elder and Mrs. Anna H. Smith of the home economics department, and the junior and senior girls majoring in home economics, as well as the following alumnae: Dorothy Robinson, a free lance home economist; Ruth Ann Schaeffer, '52, teacher at Topton High School.

Also, Patricia L.
