Sigma Tau Delta Outlines Plans For the Year

Modern Magazines to Be Discussed at First Meeting on Nov. 10

The Rho Beta chapter of the national honorary English fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta, at Albright College, of which Charles Moravec, '37, is president, at the first meeting of the year held last Monday afternoon outlined its plans for their program for the coming year.

Meetings will be held the second Wednesday evening of every month, and tentative plans include a new type of program each month varying from discussions on present day and contemporary literature, original manuscripts of poetry and prose, and parodies and imitations about famous literary figures.

The highlight of the program will be the fifteenth annual game in the series between the Bears of Ursinus College coached by Jack McAvoy and the roaring Lions of Albright College under the tutelage of Clarence Munn.

Following the game the York and Berks county groups will act as hosts and hostesses at a reception in the newly opened Albright Alumni Memorial Library.

President Klein Announces Plans For Charter Day Ceremonies

REV. J. H. FLECKENSTEIN, Lewisburg, Pa.

Alumni Home-Coming Plans Announced

Albright - Ursinus Football Game to Be Feature of the Varied Program

The annual Alumni Fall Home Coming week-end will be celebrated in the Albright College campus in accordance with tradition on Saturday, Oct. 31.

Approximately four hundred alumni are expected for the celebration for whose entertainment plans have been made by the Berks County Alumni Association.

The committee planning this gala day consists of Elmer L. Mohn, Jan Van Driel, Charles Moravec, Mrs. Florence Schlegel Miller, Fred A. Howard, President of the Ursinus Alumni Association, Oliver M. George, Professor John H. Duddy, and Forrest W. Hunsicker.

Lewisburg Pastor To Be Guest at Chapel Service

Elaborate Program for the Whole Day Includes Many Features

ALL CLASSES SUSPENDED

Academic Procession, Tea Library Book Talk, and Dinner Planned

President J. Warren Klein announced yesterday the program and speakers for the annual Charter Day exercises to be held on Thursday, November 5, on the campus. There will be no classes on that day due to the heavy program including an academic procession, library tea, music by the college band, and the presentation of a play by a group of alumni under the direction of Miss Ruth Shaffer, dean of women and former faculty sponsor of the Domino Club.

The day's program will begin at ten o'clock with a concert by the college band under the direction of Forrest W. Hunsicker, assistant conductor and drill master. At 10:25 the academic procession will form at the Administration building and march to the college chapel while the heavy procession, including the Tanneheuser March by Wagner in the academic procession will be the members of the executive committee of the Ursinus alumni, and members of the faculty.

The guest speaker at the special chapel services will be Rev. J. H. Fleckenstein, now serving his third year as pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical Church, Lewisburg. The guest speaker is a graduate of Bucknell University and holds a degree in Theology of Susquehanna University. He is secretary of the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the Evangelical Church and director of Christian Education of the same group. His subject will be "A Balanced Education."

Miss Caroline Fox, whose work with the Music Club of Philadelphia has brought her recognition as an outstanding violin soloist, will be the guest musician of the evening. She has appeared before innumerable clubs, both music and civic, schools and colleges, winning honor and praise on her meritorious work.

Following a special anniversary dinner to be served in the college dining hall under the direction of Jan Van Driel will be a literary tea in the reading room of the Albright Alumni Memorial Library at 3 P. M.

The speaker at this meeting will be Rev. J. Niblo, of Norristown, who is a member of the Octavius Club of Norristown and a soloist in many of its presentations. She recently appeared in the octavius convention held in Ursinus College and received many compliments on her finished renditions.

Rabbi Regner Addresses Big Vesper Group

"We must have the intelligence to realize what things are goals in life and what things are only play to an end, and then we must have the courage to strive for the goals we have set." This was the keynote sounded by Rabbi Regner of the Reform Congregation, Ohef Shalom, in the Vesper service held Sunday in the School of Theology chapel.

The committee planning this 80th anniversary of the group, composed of the following: Dr. Graham Cook, chairman; Robert L. Work, Professor Clarence A. Horn, Dr. J. Warren Klein, Professor Oliver M. George, and Dr. F. Willibring.

STREAMLINED FRESHMEN

At Temple University freshmen have been hailed as regenerated with new and better parts. We publish the following from the editorial page of "The Temple University News" for your consideration and attention:

Bewildered, awkward, stary-eyed, frightened, and timid—that's the proverbial Freshman. But it seems that after many years of gradual change, the Freshman has discarded many of his rather embarrassing habits, and has emerged as an individual, higher in the social and intellectual scale.

Timidity, one of the worst characteristic of this particular species, seems to have disappeared almost entirely, with the exception of a few cases.

He no longer bends like a drooping flower at the sight of a Sophomore, but has, in fact, developed a feeling of friendliness towards him. He is interested in extracurricular activities, and yet does good work in his classes.

EIGHTY YEARS

Eighty years ago several public spirited citizens of this Commonwealth met together and founded Albright College, an institution which from a small beginning has risen to a high pinnacle in the world of higher education in this section of Pennsylvania.

To be sure there are still many projects which must be achieved before a bigger and better Albright is a reality—not a vision of a few individuals. But, to have this reality all of us must get down to work and keep the name of Albright College before us so that the future will be what we would like it to be.

May the spirit of Charter Day impress us to such an extent that we shall strive to go ahead in spite of many difficulties and obstacles that may be placed before us.

WHY?

Why should the college authorities finance chamber music concerts when members of the student body and faculty interested in the cultural development of the college fail to support these events?

Why do students and faculty forget about the football team and the coach when the bell rings for an eight o'clock class on Monday?

Why don't the girls attempt to organize a basketball team and play a schedule as in former years with girls' teams from the nearby colleges?

Why should the cheer leaders persistently stand before one group of spectators at football games and neglect the paying patrons in other sections?

Why should men day students be denied the privileges and comforts that women day students have?

Why do girls stay away from participating in debating? Why is there so little interest in creative writing and literary development among the upper-classesmen?

Why did students fail to respond to the questionnaire sent out by the librarian for a rental library service?

Why should contributions for "The Albrightian" always be a day late?

Why should the freshmen football schedule be limited to so very few games? Why should band members feel that only the conductor and the officers are necessary for a regularly scheduled rehearsal?

Letters to the Editor On The March

To the Editor of "The Albrightian"

Sir: Having heard of your desire for comment on your publication as well as general topics of campus interest I have decided to send you this letter.

Being a transfer student last year I was not as much interested in campus activities as I might have been, and for therefore was not aware of some situations that prevail on the campus of our college.

The first day I arrived on the campus I could not help but be impressed with the sociability of the Albright students. I felt so much at home and was made to feel by all like an old friend returning to continue work where I had left off some time ago.

Harold is a member of the Alchemists Club and was a member of the staff of the yearbook of the junior class, "The Cue." May you find more time for pleasure upon graduation, and best wishes for a very prosperous and most successful chemistry profession.

HAROLD MILLER

Harold Miller, Wernersville, Pa., is one of the most successful seniors on the campus at the present time.

FACULTY

Capability and knowledge of the subject were chosen as the supreme qualities in a professor according to the results of a recent poll conducted by the WAGNER-JAN.

- 1. Capability and knowledge of the subject
2. Ability to interest.
3. Character.
4. Clearness.
5. Fairness.
6. Willingness to help.
7. Good nature.
8. Personality.
9. Power to discipline.
10. Sociability.

EXTRA-CURRICULA

Roanoke College recently founded an organization called the Goldfish Club. To become a member one has to swallow a live goldfish.

Novelty Note: "The decision by Coach Paul Stagg to appoint three seniors to act as captains in the game against Dickinson set up some sort of an innovation in football circles."

Would you believe it? Here we had thought that the literary lights had blown out of sports. Bill Shakespeare graduated from Notre Dame, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow left Northwestern.

BEWARE!

It may all be rationalization, but it will make many college readers feel good inside to learn that a psychologist at Oregon State University has just declared his conclusion that "B" students are the most successful.

BE SURE TO READ THIS!

DAY ROOM: "So you've been here before, eh?"
Senior: "Yeah."
Frosh: "How high can you count?"
Senior: "1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, Jack, Queen, King."

THE JOY OF BEING EDITOR

Getting out this little paper is no picnic. If we print jokes people say we are silly.

If we don't they say we are too serious. If we clip things from other papers we are too lazy to write them ourselves.

If we don't we are too fond of our own stuff. If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius.

Now like as not someone will say, "I wish you were in some other paper—WE DID."

Special Edition of "Student Mirror" Comes Out

Simultaneously on 750 college and university campuses in every section of the country, there was released on Monday, October 26th, a student published "Primer for Democracy" as a special edition of the NATIONAL STUDENT MIRROR.

Frankly declaring its purpose was to get college students "lighting mad at the rot, cant, hypocrisy in government and in politics," the editors have procured the cooperation of President Roosevelt, Governor Landon, Norman Thomas and Congressman Lemke in what "serves all the most ambitious and constructive ventures undertaken by student editors."

The National Student Federation published the MIRROR—are taking this dramatic step to link up student interest with national affairs as the first major activity of the Federation under the administration of Arthur Northwood, Jr., its new president.

Most conspicuous among the non-political contributors to this "Primer" edition of the MIRROR are Charles W. Taussig, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the National Youth Administration; Herbert Agar, author of "Land of the Free" and "We, the People"; and member of the editorial staff of the Louisville Courier-Journal; Adolph A. Berle, Jr., City Chairman of New York City; Paul Clifford Yates, former White House correspondent; Robert Horton, a Scripps-Howard Washington correspondent; Morris Ernst, counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union; and Sumner Wells, assistant Secretary of State.

Having transferred from a rival school in both athletics and the academic fields, I am aware of some conditions of which the ordinary student is not.

There was, however, one thing which did not please me on the campus and which still seems to me a strange thing. I cannot help but feel that as a student body are entirely too childish in our actions.

As time passed another thing which impressed me on the campus was the infernal war continually waging between the science and literature departments.

As time passed another thing which impressed me on the campus was the infernal war continually waging between the science and literature departments.

In our editorial in the October 6th issue of "The Albrightian" we pointed out the lack of cooperation on the part of both the students and faculty in extra-curricular activities.

The first appearance of the band was an impressive one which far exceeded my expectations and I am sure that it was an example of the value of an active music department at Albright.

Let these humble phrases be a tribute to one to whom we, the band, owe so much, none other than our good friend and adviser, Professor Zener.

With patience, persistence and accuracy Professor Zener copied the Albright Alma Mater from Mr. Mattern's original arrangement, and with the delicate care which a ditto machine requires and with the untiring effort which such an undertaking requires, Professor Zener delivered fifty parts for each respective instrument in our band.

Only a man "filled to the brim" with school spirit could accomplish such a feat, so I say in behalf of the band which I represent "Our hats are off to you Professor Zener, and may our humble efforts belie the words of the motto which justify your fine contribution to us."

HENRY A. WALLACE, Secretary of Agriculture, Scribner's Magazine, July, 1930: "The doctrine of State Rights, now invoked by the Supreme Court, was a barrier to progress even in 1787, and was the cause of terrible conflict in 1861. Today the States mark no economic boundaries that make sense, and they provide only limited instruments for action to meet modern problems. The totalitarian or corporative state represents the ultimate in unity, but it also represents the loss of democratic privileges which we hold so dear."

GOVERNOR ALF. M. LANDON, Address at Portland, Maine, Sept. 12, 1936: "The Republican party denies that our present system has failed. It refuses to follow the present administration in smashing the rights of the States. It opposes the creation of a system of organized authority wielded by one man."

RESIDENT FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, Acceptance Speech, July 2nd, 1932: "I have favored the use of certain types of public works which would give us a means of stimulating employment and the issuance of bonds to pay for these public works."

GOVERNOR ALF. M. LANDON, Address, Abilene, Kansas, September 5, 1934: "Extravagant spending by the State Government rather than hasten our return to normal prosperity."

RESIDENT FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, Speech at Pittsburgh, October 9, 1935: "The one word in closing about this foolish fear and about the crushing load that will be imposed upon your children and yours. This debt is not going to be paid by oppressive taxation on future generations. It is going to be paid out of an increased national income and increased individual income produced by increasing national prosperity."

GOVERNOR ALF. M. LANDON, Speech at Abilene, Kansas, October 9, 1936: "But under this administration (Roosevelt's) fourteen bills increasing the tax burden have been passed. And they (the debts) have to be paid, not out of some impersonal fund known as 'national income,' but 'in the sweat of every man that labors.'"

It is possible, having incurred a very large Federal deficit, to pay off that deficit without levying additional taxes?

THE INDIAN STATES

At least half the states of the Union carry Indian names, or names only slightly changed from the original Indian names. Here they are, with the meaning of the name: Alabama: "Here we rest." Arizona: "Place of little rain." Connecticut: "River of pines." Dakota (North and South): "Gem of the Mountain." Illinois: "Friendly men." Iowa: "Land beyond the river." Kansas: "Smoky water." Kentucky: "At the head of the river." Tennessee: "River of the Big Bend." Massachusetts: "About the great hills." Michigan: "Great Sea." Minnesota: "Cloudy water." Mississippi: "Great long river." Missouri: "Muddy water." Nebraska: "Water valley." Ohio: "Beautiful." Oklahoma: "Home of the red man." Oregon: "Beautiful water." Texas: "Friends." Utah: Named after the Ute tribe of Indians. Wisconsin: "Wild, rushing channel." Wyoming: "Broad valley." (Reprinted through the courtesy of "The Evangelical Crusader")

A Real Enthusiast

Everyone knows that in order to produce a band which can demand any recognition whatsoever, especially when such an organization is in its primary stage, music from which to read the notes is a great necessity.

Let these humble phrases be a tribute to one to whom we, the band, owe so much, none other than our good friend and adviser, Professor Zener.

With patience, persistence and accuracy Professor Zener copied the Albright Alma Mater from Mr. Mattern's original arrangement, and with the delicate care which a ditto machine requires and with the untiring effort which such an undertaking requires, Professor Zener delivered fifty parts for each respective instrument in our band.

Gridiron Gravy

By Walt Spencer
A battle of titans is in prospect for tomorrow when the Lions meet the Ursinus Bears from Collegeville. The Grizzlies have been doing right well by themselves in their last two frays, holding F. & M. to a scoreless tie and trouncing Doggie Julian's pets in their last two frays.

F. & M. Action About 1937 Game Arouses Fans

Alumni, Sports Writers, Students, and Public Displeased with Decision
"Much has been said and written about the decision of Franklin & Marshall College to drop Albright from their 1937 football schedule," states Elmer L. Mohr, president of the Albright College Alumni Association.

Fred A. Howard Announces Frosh & Varsity Games

Big Freshmen Squad Expected for Practice at End of Football Season
Fred A. Howard, graduate manager of athletics of Albright College, announced on Wednesday that the cage teams will play a total of twenty five games during the coming season, a lighter schedule than in the past history of the college.

At any rate, I'll take the Lions by two touchdowns in tomorrow's tilt. They are about due to turn in a decent game and I believe Ursinus is going to be it. The Red and White athletes have been displaying a bit more pep than usual in the practice sessions this week, and really have the stuff to take the fight out of the scrappy Grizzlies. The less said about my prognostications of previous games the better.

It looks very much as if we have another outstanding freshman team this year. That 29 to 0 win over Perkiomen Prep was the largest score any Cub outfit has run up against the Prepsters in recent years. Even the 1934 Lions, who compose the present varsity, couldn't do nearly as well. It is a darn shame that there is no college schedule for the Frosh. Just to paint a sorry picture, let me show you one former freshman practicing every day from late in September until Thanksgiving to play one game. Seriously though, it can't expense any spirit from football players if they are going to waste their energies on the practice field every day. After all, the big benefit in playing comes from performing before the crowds on Saturday, not before the managers and during the week.

In 1933 the Grizzlies turned the tables on the Lions who had grown accustomed to bringing home the turkey. On a field of mud, the Ursinus boys, led by Coach Aszman, sloughed through the Lions, and returned to Collegeville a little bit more like the Lion-tamer should feel with another victory 13-7 over the Lions.

thus far this season is expected to be in the starting line-up against the McAvoy Eleven. He has been in tugs during the past week and seems to be in excellent physical condition. Oslislo will be shifted to the fullback berth while Guidetti may be one of the starting guards. Paul McCormack, who has been laid up because of a minor injury early in the season, apparently is in fine physical condition and will substitute for Dick Riffle on Saturday. In last year's game against Ursinus it was McCormack who punted the ball for 92 yards, one of the longest punts throughout the nation last season.

OTHER STUDENT POLLS FAVOR GOV. LANDON
The results of some other college and university student polls are as follows:
Yale, Landon—1,814, Roosevelt—704; Harvard, Landon—1,384, Roosevelt—1,220; U. of California, Landon—1,058, Roosevelt—852; Dartmouth, Landon—1,019, Roosevelt—440; Williams, Landon—523, Roosevelt—140.

It is expected that Horowitz will be the leading contender for the center duties, a post occupied practically all season by Ross. Guidin was an outstanding court performer with the Reading High championship team and should see considerable action under Coach Hink. "Buck" McClintock, lanky tackle on the gridiron aggregation, played sensation ball in several of the games. He is counting on him to produce in his senior year.

I understand that the graduate manager is having quite a bit of trouble scheduling games for both the Frosh and the Varsity. This is in evidence from 1931 to 33 when the Albright aggregations were positively lousy. West Chester found out at the last minute that they had a full schedule and would be unable to play our freshmen and Muhlenberg would have no parts of our games. For the varsity, there is the classic case of F. & M. The authorities of the entire matter is that the authorities of the colleges in question are entirely too narrow minded to be entrusted with the education of young men and women. They are always anxious to beat about sports, being for the most part, the minds and bodies of the athletes, and then are hypocritical enough to pull stunts like this.

The game last week with Blythe Township was cancelled at the last minute. Both varsity and freshmen teams were idle for the weekend, while many of the opponents of the varsity were victorious.

Under McAvoy's regime, the Ursinus eleven have done very well in the conference competition, having won twice and being in the thick of the race on other occasions. Two weeks ago they held the Diamonds of Franklin & Marshall, first and only conqueror of this year's Lions, to a scoreless tie. Coach Munn will continue intensive duty for the remainder of the week in preparation for that which will be the feature of the Home-Coming Day for alumni and the Lions will hope to have a few surprises with these new Minnesota formations. Tapping The Wires

President J. Warren Klein spent last week-end in New York City on college business. On Saturday evening he saw Helen Hayes in the stage success, "Victoria Regina."

That 'silver-statured' Junior certainly perfected her date at the Zoo party. When she slips them they stay that way!

Miss Ann Benninger spent the week-end at the home of Miss Selma Bagat, Califon, N. J.

Our prominent feminine Frosh flash has rather changed her attitude. It may be other influences, I don't know, but Alex her.

Roy Bloom, '30 and Charles Moravec, '37, attended the Penn-Brown game last Saturday at Franklin Field, Philadelphia.

That Senior man had his hands full when he had an unexpected visitor. Imagine his embarrassment—he already had a date!

Miss Marie Kleppinger spent the week-end visiting friends and relatives in Allentown, Pa.

That Junior girl whose name suggests a summer resort, some times flashes a diamond. Make up your mind, won't you?

Anthony Guidetti, Stan Kosel, Edward Cammarota, William Manotti, John Bell, Clifford Raffensperger, and Lawson Brown spent the week-end visiting their parents and friends in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

We see that Mu Senior is still continuing her affair for the third year—and after all she vowed. Guess there's only one answer!

Mr. Jan Van Driel attended the Hotel Exposition at the Grand Central Palace, New York City on Monday and Tuesday.

That talkative Frosh girl should be reminded that everyone has good hearing and we don't care to listen to her past love affairs—as she terms them!

Dr. Milton W. Hamilton addressed the regular meeting of the Reading Kiwanis Club on Wednesday. His topic was "The Romance of Newspapers."

Critics Acclaim 'Dream' as Greatest Film in History

Reinhardt Production Heralded by Press as Creating New Screen Standard

No motion picture ever filmed has ever received the acclaim awarded the Max Reinhardt production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," which Warner Brothers will present at the Astor Theatre on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for the first time at popular prices.

Critics in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Los Angeles and other great metropolitan centers in the United States, where the "Dream" was shown at prices ranging from $1 to $11 for the best seats, joined with reviewers in Montreal, Can., London, Eng., Vienna, Austria, and key cities in Poland, Finland, India, Australia, Italy and France in declaring it the greatest picture ever produced.

Before its public premiere, Louella Parsons, America's most famous picture critic said of it: "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is the most beautiful picture I have ever seen. It comes nearest to perfection of any motion picture yet produced."

The London "Telegraph," one of the hardest papers to please, declared it "dazzling, magnificent, overwhelming, with moments of visionary beauty such as the screen has not seen before. It charmed and amused and astonished the audience by turns."

Good Words from New York "Times" said: "The 'Dream' is a beautiful and interesting effort—achieves perfection in the clowning—a work of high ambitions and unflagging interest—a credit to Warner Bros. and to the motion picture industry."

The New York "Herald Tribune" called it "a definite landmark in the history and expansive spectacle of the motion picture industry—one of the most important Shakespearean productions of our time with superb work by the comica."

With a dissenting voice, Mr. ... (manager) says, the press of the entire world has joined in the chorus of praise. This it is said, has never happened before in the motion picture industry.

"There have been many good, and a few great, pictures," said Mr. ... "But 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' stands in a class by itself. It is superb entertainment, it is dramatic, it is robust, roistering comedy, it is fantasy and it is a pictorial marvel."

reveals him at his best. It was excellently received by the regrettably small audience which attended the concert.

The magnificent Mendelssohn Trio in D minor followed. A majestic work with a monumental piano score, an excellent foil for the artistry of Mr. Wittell, the trio's four movements were given a spirited, glowing reading. This was especially true of the first and third movements.

The third portion of the program was devoted to several shorter and rather prosaic works: Haydn's "Menuet," Greig's "Solveig's Song" and the Sixth Hungarian Dance of Brahms. For an encore, the ensemble played the latter Fifth Hungarian Dance.

The second concert of this series will be presented on Tuesday evening, December 8 in the little theatre. The program will include the music of Beethoven and Brahms. The final concert on Tuesday, February 9, 1937, will include compositions of Mozart and Chaussou.

Tickets for the remaining concerts are now on sale at the library desk.

Opening with Haydn's Trio in C major, the musicians displayed their usual versatility. Conventional, typical Haydn, this work

First 'Y' Forum

Addressed by Mrs. Elliott

Large Groups Discuss Family Relationships With Noted Author

The first "Y" forum held two weeks ago presented to the students of Albright College Mrs. Grace L. Elliott, author of "Sex Life in Youth" and "Understanding the Adolescent Girl."

All of the sessions addressed by Mrs. Elliott were well attended and aroused much comment in the open discussion periods which followed.

Some of the remarks made by Mrs. Elliott follow:

"Jealousy tends to break up a relationship quicker than any other trait of a person. As soon as one person becomes jealous of the good points of another, he starts the decline of his relationship with that person."

"I seriously doubt," said Mrs. Elliott who came to the campus through the courtesy of the Student Christian Movement of the Middle Atlantic Area, "whether the youth of Europe will live long enough to fulfill what they are thinking about. If we, as parents, in America wish to pass over to the youth of our nation the job of remaking what needs to be remade, we must all pass on to you the responsibility accompanying such a task."

In speaking of family relationships, Mrs. Elliott stated that it is difficult for young people to live with old parents, but that together we must live. The difference in age causes tension and conflict, and there is no such thing as a perfect family. College students are not the same persons they were before they entered college. Things change in perspective and a misunderstanding leads to conflict and strains. Parents want to get grades for you and the grades which they did not get because many times they stopped their education before the college age. We must not confuse a college education with a college degree. There are many people without college degrees who can do more for you than those possessing a good many degrees. Phi Beta Kappa keys are not always comfortable to live with."

In addition to addressing the filled chapel, Mrs. Elliott spoke to small groups of men and women in the afternoon and evening individual conferences and dinner. An open discussion period followed the evening meal.

London Leads Student Poll This Week

Students Present Reasons for Their Choice of Next President

During the past week students and faculty have been arguing from early morning till evening about the election of the next president of this nation. The final tabulation of votes cast in the book store before this edition went to the press gave Governor Alfred Landon, Republican nominee 98 votes to Roosevelt '37, Norman Thomas, the Socialist candidate, has received the support of three Albright students while Earl Browder, the Communist nominee, wins two votes.

In checking over some of the reasons why students have indicated their choice we find the following: For Landon—1. To stop excessive governmental expenditures; 2. because he will try to substitute a better plan of mass relief than the W. P. A.; 3. Roosevelt used government money to build up the Democratic party. Money was wasted instead of being spent economically.

For Roosevelt: He kept the country from going entirely to the dogs; he has been restoring prosperity and will finish the job after election. 2. He is the first man to attempt a cure for our economic troubles by attacking the causes of a break. 3. The poor man might get a break.

"Poland Today" Discussed by Peace Group

Miss Skarbovitz Presents Interesting Lecture of Her Native Land

The International Relations Club of which Dr. Milton W. Hamilton, head of the history department, is advising held its second meeting last Thursday evening in the faculty lounge of the Administration Building with Miss Irene Skarbovitz as the guest speaker. The topic presented that evening was "The Poland of Today."

Before discussing the present day Polish people, the guest speaker presented a historical background of the customs and thoughts of the inhabitants of Poland prior to the World War. For this presentation of background, succeeded by a clear definition of conditions existing in present day Poland, Miss Skarbovitz rendered a worthwhile hour's discussion of significant worth. Over twenty students were present at this informal meeting.

Plans are now under way for the first public forum to be held under the auspices of the group in the college chapel on Friday evening, December 8. The speaker, a noted authority will speak on "Conditions in Eastern Europe Today." Also under consideration is the annual meeting of the Middle Atlantic States Conference of International Relations Club to be held at the University of Delaware early in December.
