Women's Senate Outlines Plans For Student Government Forums

As the main educational project of the Women's Student Senate, that group will sponsor a women's student government conference on campus this spring, said Joy Cutler, president, and Dean Helen Cunliffe. February 17, February 26, and March 10 are the tentative dates for the conference. The preference of the invited guests and main speaker will determine the final date.

Tentative Schedule

All Albright women will be excused from classes to attend the forums at 10:40 a. m. The remaining forums will be attended by members of the Albright Women's Student Senate and delegates from the participating colleges.

The final details of the conference will be built around the following tentative schedule:

9:40 a. m.—The various types of Women's Student Government Organization.

10:40 a. m.—The Theory of Student Government.

11:40 a. m.—Two Discussion Groups.
a. Educational program of Women's Student Government Organization.
b. Social program of Women's Student Government Organization.

1:40 p. m.—Two Discussion Groups.
a. Dormitory Management.
b. Needs of Non-resident Women.

2:40 p. m.—A woman speaker of national importance to present "The Relationship between Experience of College Citizenship and the Responsibilities of the National and World Citizen."

4:00 p. m.—A formal reception given by the Senate for the guests of the conference.

U. of P. to Come

The following colleges have accepted the invitation to send representatives to the conference: University of Pennsylvania (Continued on Page 8)

Duddy to Lead Chorus In Cantata Tonight

Dr. John H. Duddy, professor of music, will present the cantata "Song of Thanksgiving" by Maunder tonight at 8:00 in the Dining Hall. The Y's are decorating in the spirit of Thanksgiving and the gifts for the Y family will be displayed. Caroline Powers, soprano; Paul Kimmel, tenor; and David Bailey, bass are the featured soloists. They will be supported by a chorus of fifty voices for this forty minute musical program.

Marjorie Christ and Robert Holtzapfel, worship chairmen of the Y.M. and Y.W. will conduct a short devotional service preceding the cantata.

Students and friends of the College are invited to attend this sacred concert.

New Heo Members End Initiation Period

Eight freshmen and transfer students were inducted into the Heo Club Tuesday, November 19 at 1:00 p. m. in Selwyn Cottage. The new members returned their pledge pins and received white chrysanthemum corsages with red ribbons as a symbol of membership in the club.

Displayed during the meeting were articles which the club will sell as a project to double their dues. These included stocking dolls, plaques, Pennsylvania Dutch piggy banks, pin cushions, and potholders.

The new members are Barbara Lichtenberger, Beverly Morgan, Ethel Hill, Janet Coombs, Frances Kowalsky, Betty Chellus, Fredabery Moyer, and Marjorie Boyer.

Sophs Will Receive Registrations for Dance And Hayride Today

Registrations for the coming Sophomore Class hayride on December 6 will be received in Chapel between 1:00 and 1:30 p. m. today and tomorrow. Elaine Huber, Richard Cattermole and Richard Hagmayer, committee in charge, will receive the registrations.

Plans call for a combination hayride and dance with refreshments at Edwin Bieh's farm about three miles from Robesonia. Single registrations will cost 75 cents and the cost per couple will be $1.25. Transportation will be provided by Reading Transportation Co. buses and will cost $.50 per round trip in excess of the hay ride fee.

A committee visited the farm last week to investigate the possibility of decorations and final arrangements. Shirley Miller is in charge of the selection of chaperones. Perry Matz, class president, suggested at the last soph meeting that class members see Richard Cattermole, treasurer, about their dues.

Rev. Daniell to Speak At K.T.X. Meeting

Rev. Joseph Daniell, pastor of the Eastern Orthodox Church in Reading, will be guest speaker at the December meeting of the honorary Pre-theological fraternity, Kappa Tau Chi. He will explain the ritual of worship of his church and its meaning as well as answer questions directed to him by those at the meeting. All pre-mins on campus are invited to attend this meeting.

Rev. Eugene Barth, advisor of the fraternity, led a discussion on the subject, "The Pre-Ministerial Student's Obligation to His College" at a recent meeting of the fraternity. Much interest was shown on the part of all those that attended the meeting. Among some of the pre-min's obligations mentioned by Rev. Barth were scholarship that is above average; leadership, an interest in extra-curricular activities; and a genuine sincerity to his calling. Several pre-theologians have become eligible for membership recently and it was decided to take these men into the frat at the next meeting.

Prof. Smith, Shafer To Instruct Bible Class

Professor Lewis E. Smith will deliver the message and Jack Shafer will be student leader for Bible Class in the College Chapel December 8 at 8:45 a. m. At the last Bible Class, held November 24, the student leader was Robert Holtzapfel, and the sermon was delivered by Professor Smith.

The great big beautiful car drew up to the curb near where the cute little working girl was waiting for a bus, and a gentleman stuck his neck out and said: "Hello, I'm driving west."

"How wonderful! Bring me back an orange."

Christmas Seals

Tuberculosis is still on the rampage. In the United States alone it claims 55,000 victims a year. The Reading Tuberculosis Association revealed this fact in announcing the start of its annual Christmas Seals sale November 25. The goal is $42,300.

The association depends entirely on the Christmas Seal to carry out a year-round program, including free tuberculosis tests in schools and industries, an educational campaign to encourage the public to take advantage of medical knowledge for the control of tuberculosis, and nursing care for victims who are confined to their homes.

Traditional symbol of hope for TB sufferers, the colorful Seal displays a lamplighter illuminating the old-type street lamp. The Christmas Seal costs only a penny, but it packs a mighty wallop. Get yours today.

I.R.C. to Hear War Trials' Witness

J. Bennett Nolan, Reading attorney and eminent local historian, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of I.R.C. Club, December 5 at 8:00 p. m. in the Lower Social Room. Nolan, who has just returned from a tour of Germany, will tell about the Nuernberg trials which he witnessed. This meeting will be open to all students and faculty on campus.

Plans are under way for the participation of the Albright I.R.C. Club in the Model General Assembly to be held at Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pa., April 3, 4. Four delegates will represent the local group and all members who are interested in attending should notify Dr. Hamilton or Geraldine Weston, president.

Junior Class Suggests Trip to Hockey City

Plans for a class trip to a hockey game at Hershey were discussed at a meeting of the junior class social committee called by Marjorie Christ, chairman. No definite date has been set, but the trip will be scheduled for early in December, providing arrangements can be made. Among other class functions discussed were a Christmas party, a blanket party, and a co-ed swim.

Class president, James Brush, announced the addition of Esther Savidge, Betty Cusano, and Stanley Green to the publicity committee.

Government to Provide Emergency Building Space for Albright

College Hopes to Provide Reading Room, Rec Hall, Dance, Assembly Accommodations

Plans by the federal government to allot colleges emergency buildings will grant to Albright in the near future emergency space of some 6000 square feet which the College hopes to convert into a one-room building to be used as an auxiliary reading room, recreation hall, and assembly hall, announced President Harry V. Masters.

Future Student Union

The building space, which will be of wood construction, must be moved, and re-erected at the expense of the government. The college will provide architectural services and will make connections to the utilities.

Morgan Band Vocalist; Fenichel and Lykens Are Rulers of Jazz

Beverly Morgan was selected as vocalist for the College Jazz Band and Robin Fenichel and Donald Lykens were chosen as King and Queen of Jazz at the "Football" sponsored by the Freshman Class in the gaily decorated College Dining Hall last Friday evening. Megaphones were used as lampshades and goal posts were placed at either end of the room. The floor was lined off to represent a football field. Red and yellow crepe paper, signifying the colors of Pennsylvania Military College, was used to carry out further the theme of the dance.

Abe Markowitz and his Celebrities provided music for dancing and sponsored the contest for vocalist for their band. Through applause the audience selected Miss Morgan. Other candidates for the position (Continued on Page 8)

Campus Vets to Attend Thanksgiving Services

Commemoration of the sacrifice and devotion of the men in the armed services and their contribution toward the establishment of peace marked the spirit of the Thanksgiving chapel services on Monday and Tuesday mornings. Under the guidance of Reverend Eugene H. Barth, veteran members of the student body participated in these services. The underlying theme of these chapel services was remembrance and gratitude for the achievements of the armed forces and a rededication to the principles which are necessary for the procurement of enduring peace for which these men suffered and many others gave their lives.

This same spirit of thankfulness will be maintained in the Wednesday morning chapel.

W.S.S.F. Drive

Under the leadership of Doris Downes and Jack Shafer the World Student Service Fund realized a $523.25 in the recent Albright College drive. The freshman set the pace in class competition with a total of $156.83. The sophomores and junior-seniors contributed $111.37 and $88.77 respectively. The college teachers added the sum of $119 to the class totals. The goal for the drive was set at $666.66.

Church Group to Attend Rev. Moyer's Services

Gerald Hertzog announced that the Sunday church group will attend Rev. E. Moyer's services at Ebenezer Evangelical United Brethren Church, Ninth and Windsor Street, on Sunday, December 1.

On Sunday, November 24, the group attended services at Christ Episcopal Church at Fifth and Court Streets.

If possible, the College plans to have the building erected at the northeast corner of 13th and Bern Sts., said President Masters, and it may eventually be converted into a permanent Student Union. Shower rooms and lockers may be put in the basement of the building, and thus that floor might be used as a dressing room for women's phys ed classes. The main room of the structure would also be used for phys ed activities.

As an auxiliary reading room, the building would relieve the overcrowding of the College Library during its rush hours. After about 2 p. m. in the afternoon, it could be used as a recreation hall and in the evenings for College dances. President Masters also hopes that the building space will be large enough for all-student assemblies.

Enrollment Decisive

Albright's allotment of emergency space was determined by a formula based on pre-war student enrollment, present enrollment, percentage of veteran enrollment, and probable enrollment next fall.

Thompson and Evers To Convene With Vets

Mary Jane Painter Thompson and Robert Evers have been chosen to represent the Albright Veterans' Club at the Student Planning Conference which will be held at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, December 7. The conference will be attended by representatives from Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Originally this meeting had been scheduled for November 23.

Other business discussed at the November meeting of the Vets Club included plans for a membership drive. The membership fee will be $1.00 while in college and all veterans on campus are urged to join.

The next meeting of the Veterans' Club will be held December 4 at 1:00 p. m. in the Science Lecture Hall.

Mus Entertain Rushees At Formal Dinner

Phi Beta Mu's rush dinner will be held in the Colonial Room of the Abraham Lincoln next Monday, said the committee in charge, consisting of Louise Trostle, chairman, and Jane Bausher.

Invitations were issued to the following women: Betty Chellus, Joyce Costenbader, Ethel Harris, Gloria Landis, Alma McLaughlin, Jane Mellinger, Beverly Morgan, Beverly Reimsnyder, Clea Rein, Jane Reynolds, Jane Roney, Patricia Strickler, Joyce Thompson, Mary Vogel, Sara Walsh.

Thanksgiving Prayer 1946

We who were spared the assault of fire,
The searing fury of war's blight,
Whose homes still stand against the Wind,
Whose windows welcome light,
We who were spared—how can we speak
A prayer of thanks without a lie,
When millions hunger, thousands starve,
And children faint and die?
Let sharing be our gratitude,
Let sacrifice precede our prayer,
Giving ourselves, may we give thanks
To the God whose love we share.
Around our tables, simply spread,
Before the words of grace are spoken
May we remember him whose bread
Was, like his body, broken.
—Evangelical Crusader.

The Cultural Problem

Probably the greatest fiasco on the campus this year, even a worse one than at the first cultural program, was the attendance at last Tuesday's lecture. Obviously, this farce cannot go on. What is the use of scheduling speakers and entertainers when only about fifty people attend?

It stands to reason that there must be some good excuse, or excuses, why these programs are so poorly attended. Day students say they find it hard to come out to school in the evening after a long day of classes, and that they have tests to study for. Dorm students, too, have to grind away at lessons and cramming. Many of the men on campus have basketball practice in the evening. Many veterans have wives and families. The profs on campus, too, have a lot of class preparation and extra activities that fill their evenings.

The answer to this seems to be that the programs are scheduled at the wrong time of day. When cultural programs are worthwhile and educational, they ought to be held at a time when everyone can take advantage who wants to.

Maybe it is too late in the season to try to schedule the rest of the entertainers on the bill for daytime programs on the same day for which they contracted. At any rate, it is worth a try. Many people on campus feel that morning or early afternoon programs would be the solution to the problem. And if anyone protests that a class here or there might be cut out, he might consider that if classes can be excused for Sadie Hawkins Day, they can just as easily be excused for programs which contribute to better thinking and broader knowledge.

That nattily-dressed attractive blonde senior you've been seeing lots of on campus is Betty Burnett. She hails from 'way out in Farmingdale, Long Island, but it didn't take her long to acclimatize herself at Albright. This is her third year in Pi Alpha Tau Sorority and this year she is president of said organization. Since she's a Lab Tech major, some of "Burnett's" many interests lean toward the scientific. The Alchemists have claimed her as a member since her sophomore year and in her third year of Skull and Bones, she is the club's vice-president.

Athletically inclined, too, this busy co-ed manages this year's girls' basketball squad, following up last year's job of handling the transportation and publicity for women's sports on campus. To top it all off, she is vice-president of W.A.A.

An active member of Student Council for her second year, Betty is also chairman of May Day this spring. How the versatile Miss Burnett maintains that wonderful sense of humor and engaging smile we don't know, but we'll wager that this gal will "go places". We only hope that one of the first "places" won't be the waiting-room of a dental office in Wilkes-Barre, come Thanksgiving vacation.

Letter to the Editor

Have we forgotten so soon?

Yes, I'm waving a flag—if that's what you want to call it—if that's your way of dismissing a national obligation, then I'm guilty of flag waving, so go ahead and ease your conscience—if you have one.

I've just realized that Albright College, an institution of higher learning, a place where people of intelligence gather to advance themselves in word, thought and deed, so that they may reap the fruits of a rich normal life, have been so busy gathering hard, cold facts, cramming their minds with formulas and figures, stuffing themselves to get a degree that they have washed into oblivion the events which horrified them just a year ago. Yes, we forgot. We forgot those men and women who didn't forget us—those men and women who gave everything to insure our happiness, freedom and security. We failed to realize that the graves of thousands of men have not even been decorated—not a blade of grass, not a flower, not a marker.

Is this their just desert, is this their heritage, is this their reward? Not a word, not a whisper, not a whimper did we hear from them as they faced death and destruction. They faced death and marched to God because they gave their most precious possession—they gave their life. And in retaliation, we, who comfortably sit by, selfishly guard our worldly goods; we utter not a word of prayer, not a whisper of thanks, not an inkling of recognition for the sacrifice and valor of these men. We forgot—You and I Forgot!

Yes, I'm waving a flag. The American flag and I'm proud of it.

Cultural Speaker Comments on Roosevelt's Press Conferences, Women's Place in Politics, John L.

Mrs. Esther Van Wagoner Tufty, noted Washington commentator-journalist, was the guest speaker in the College Chapel last Tuesday evening. The audience spent a most delightful hour listening to Mrs. Tufty relate informative, and, at times, amusing incidents concerning Washington luminaries.

She felt the late President was particularly wise in maintaining the press conferences. Mr. Roosevelt's answer the flood of questions put to him by the press, and his democratic procedure were most commendable from the reporter's point of view. President Truman, she commented, is very business-like and sincere in answering questions for the press.

Mrs. Tufty dwelt at some length on future political events. Will Mr. Truman attempt to save what is left of Mr. Roosevelt's policies or will he swing to the conservative side? Don't neglect the international scene, for events will be happening thick and fast the next couple of months. Our speaker emphasized recent happenings in India as vital to the peace of the world.

It was the speaker's conviction that more women should take an active part in politics, especially, in the making of the peace. "They care more about peace," according to Mrs. Tufty.

It is the duty of each of us to be well informed, to see events as a series and not as separate entities. "Violence will destroy civilization but we can make civilization destroy violence".

At the close of the hour, Mrs. Tufty held an informal discussion with the small group present concerning outstanding personalities in the news. A rather amusing incident she related was one concerning John L. Lewis. It seems that a few weeks ago, John wanted his house painted, but, of all things! The painters went on strike.

The hour spent listening to one of our most noted women journalists and commentators was well worthwhile. It is unfortunate that more of the student body was not represented at that time.

Lions in the Ranks

By Roy Fidler

Instead of the Albrightians in the service being the forgotten ones, it appears that the Albrightians in college are completely forgotten. Why don't you "guys" and "gals" in uni- write in to your alma-mater, let us hear about your latest experiences and tell us if you are receiving The Albrightian or not? No kidding!! We would like to keep the mail routes between you and us busy with two-way traffic. So sharpen your pencils gang; and we'll put an edge on the letter opener.

Private Oldrick F. Von Seekamm wrote in September and told us he was stationed in Camp Lee, Va. While on campus last week, he said he was on his way overseas. His army education, to date, had made a considerable impression; he learned to make his bed, to keep the barracks clean and to scrub pots and pans. There's nothing like a tidy home.

Private Lewis I. Krimen was a student at Albright during the past summer. The army grabbed him; and now Lewis is at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Franklin "Red" Seifert is stationed at Camp Lee, Va. He has completed basic training and is now in band training. Nice going Red; the band's a good racket. Also, nice going with the little lady. Red has been seen at the "Ivy Ball" and around town with charming Marie Henne.

So long, fellows, until more letters come rolling in.

BY ANNE ONYMOUS

The Owl and the Pussy Cat:

Agnes Snyder is eating carrots because she has been told they improve night sight, and she has been keeping company with one of our wise owls attending Albright's evening courses.

Has anyone noticed the latest diphthong on campus? Drace De Willer and Gavid Mitt. Somehow this reminds me of a Jorney Coke.

Coach Harris is setting styles on campus. If he wears an ostrich plume to school some day, "Hops" Guildin will have two on the next day. The fellas claim that he is even beginning to look like "Our Coach."

Did anyone notice Gloria Landis and Bob Reiser reminiscing over a dance at the Pat formal? Nothing like a formal to sneeze life into an old affair.

Tom Larkin has been playing cupid for his pal Dick Hackenberry and his sister-in-law, Dolores Rheinwald. Tommie is one of those who advocates marriage and if you've seen his daughter, Mary Kathleen, you know why—not to mention his wife, Rita.

If every football player carried his own cheering squad like Guy Wildermuth—the three Plowfields—we wouldn't have to worry about noise.

The Pats imported 17 cadets from the Pennsylvania Military Academy for their formal. Last week, freaks—this week, men. Watch out for next week.

The whole affair started when the Phys Chem students noticed a sharp decrease in the ice cube production of their refrigerator. Next, the organic lab assistant found four empty ginger ale bottles in the waste baskets. The climax came when Professor Danford found that ethyl alcohol was being used by the beaker for organic experiments. As a result, C<sub>2</sub>H<sub>5</sub>OH is doled out from the stockroom in 5cc. lots. This is particularly disconcerting for the "wets" of the class. (The "drys", of course, have noticed no difference). Beside being disconcerting, the effect obtained is definitely undignified. Have you ever seen a 215 pound chem major gently slipping C<sub>2</sub>H<sub>5</sub>OH from a semi-micro test tube with a pipette?

Prof. Danford tried to determine the culprits by smelling the breath of the students. This didn't work because half the "wets" were sucking on rum-flavored candy. An order was promptly dispatched to the book store to stop the sale of this commodity.

The chemistry department now feels as though everything is under control due mainly to the new safety feature. Every fifth lab period, all the students are given Bogan's test. Those students with an alcoholic blood content of more than 10% are subjected to a very complicated process. Blood is removed from the student in pint lots and is distilled. The blood is then returned to the student. It's a good "continuous process" for no alcohol is lost except that used in experiments.

The qual students are practicing up on their chess. Rumor has it that Professor Scoles is an ardent chess fan. What the outcome of the qual unknown a la chess influence will be, we do not know. The situation is one to watch and observe. Maybe next semester a course in chess playing will be offered to Chem majors.

Council Says:

At Student Council last week, an amendment to the Constitution was proposed by Dennis Ertel, chairman of the constitution committee, to permit the election of the "Cue" editor and business manager from the same class. The "Cue," formerly published every two years, had a member of the senior class as editor-in-chief and a junior as business manager. Since the "Cue" is now going to be published every year, it is considered fitting to have the staff composed entirely of seniors elected at the end of their junior year.

To accomplish this, however, it is necessary to amend the Constitution of Student Council. The proposed amendment, passed by Student Council, must be approved by a faculty group, posted for two weeks, and then voted upon by the student body. Finally after general approval, the amendment will be added to the Constitution.

Union troubles found their way into the Council discussion. Abe Markowitz's Jazz Band is slated to play at a sophomore hay ride and dance December 6. It was considered that since the band receives no pay, it could play at any function without interference by the Musicians' Union. Student Council, wishing to be certain of this, selected Gerald Laucks and a band member to speak with union representatives and make certain of the band's rights.

The Student Council voted to send a delegate to the Chicago conference of The United Students' Movement, December 27-29. A nomination committee was appointed to nominate three people, one of whom will be elected by Council.

Herb Vogt, co-chairman of the social committee, reported that the Daymen will shift the date of their dance from February 14 to January 21 to permit the sophomore class to sponsor the Valentine Dance.

Absentees at this meeting were Virginia Woerle, Mus; and Professor John Khouri, faculty.

MORGAN BAND

were Patricia Strickler, Betty Thompson, Jeanne Schlegel, Joyce Ruth, and Esther Savidge. It was the band's first appearance at a public dance.

During intermission, or if you prefer, between the halves, entertainment was provided by the frosh. Stanley Taub acted as master of ceremonies and introduced Ronald Kalina, noted Reading tap dancer, who presented a skit and a dance. The entertainment was concluded with the jitterbug contest, for which Beverly Reimnsider and Kalina acted as judges. Miss Fenichel was presented with an Albright dog pillow and Lykens received a tie clasp. Others competing in the contest were Erma Seidel and Robert Reed; and Patricia Strickler and Paul Siegfried.

Refreshments, consisting of cokes, candy, nuts, and ice-box cookies, were served from tea wagons.

Miss Reimnsider and Taub were co-chairmen for the affair. The decoration committee was composed of Miss Strickler, Winifred Johnson, Wesley Brown, and Arthur Lockner. Joyce Thompson and Doris Chanin were in charge of refreshments, Jeanne Stalneck and Samuel Santaspirt of publicity.

Chaperones for the affair were Dean and Mrs. LeVan P. Smith and Professor and Mrs. John W. Khouri.

FTA Inducts Members In Traditional Rites; Bonner Presides

An induction meeting of the Future Teachers of America was held last Thursday evening in Sherman Cottage, with Marie Bonner, past president of the group and now a teacher in Kutztown High School, conducting the induction rites.

Those who were inducted are Victor Gigl, Marion Fiedler, Mary Ellen Hill, Mary Jane March, Jay Carver, Betty Shroyer, Marion Schwartz, Miriam Parker, John Kissinger, Margie Handy, Robert Mattern, Virginia Woerle, Louise Trostle, Carolyn Powers, Jane Bausler, Alice Albright, and Kenneth Good.

Following the induction ceremony Mattern, president of the organization, presided at the business meeting. During this session Mattern appointed Marion Fiedler to take care of the preparation of future induction ceremonies.

John Kissinger, head of the program committee, reported that the coming programs will include a discussion of teachers' codes of ethics; a speaker from the National Education Association, and talks by local teachers. It was reported by Dr. Russell B. Smith that the meeting in which the NEA speaker would be here would be utilized as an open meeting.

Glee Club Schedules Program December 15 At Park E.U.B. Church

Albright's newly organized Male Glee Club will lift the curtain on its 1946-47 season at Park Evangelical United Brethren Church on Sunday, December 15, at 7:45 p. m. They will present a diversified program of well known sacred and secular numbers interspersed with solos by members of the club.

The Male Glee Club, under the direction of Professor John H. Duddy, assisted by Allen M. Fisher, student director, Jacob Sklover, student business manager, and John Fausnaught, accompanist, also have several tentative engagements for the future.

The twenty male songsters have been working hard every Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. in the music studio in an effort to stimulate musical interest on campus. The project undertaken by these men is worthy of the campus' whole-hearted support.

Labor Question Tackled By Gates at Debate Club

"The Labor Question" a vital current issue, is the topic of discussion for the Debating Club this year, stated Prof. Willard H. Haas, the club's sponsor.

Prof. Donald Gates addressed the group on this question at their last weekly meeting.

Prof. Haas urges all those interested in debating to attend the next weekly meeting on Monday, November 25, 1946 to be held in Room 201 at 8:30 p. m.

Bouquets to Bandsters

As the gridiron season draws to a close, orchids are in order for Albright's excellent marching band that has graced the football team's home games with the stirring martial music. Their music at the game was indeed a treat for the fans and an incentive for our team.

A great deal of work lies behind a marching band, which is a fact many people overlook. It is a far cry from all play and no work. The half-time program is a result of the sweat of the members' brows and the able direction of Prof. Hans Nix.

Helfrich to Discuss Spengler at Meeting

A paper on the Philosophy of Oswald Spengler will be presented by the Philosophy Club president, Mervin Helfrich, when the club meets at the home of Dr. Morris Greth in Allentown next Monday, Dec. 9. Dr. Greth, a former Albright professor and now a member of the Muhlenberg faculty, will preside over the meeting.

Several new members of the club will also be initiated at this time.

The active chapter and the Alumni of the APO fraternity will hold their fall reunion at the Reading Country Club December 7 in the form of a turkey dinner and dance. Favors for the dance will be necklaces with gold locks bearing the frat seal, said Waid Rowland, chairman of the reunion.

KAPPAS

Last Saturday evening, November 16, the Kappa fraternity extended a welcome-hand to the Alumni of the fraternity with a home coming dinner at the Penn Temple Restaurant. The dinner was followed by dancing. The success of the affair can be credited to John Rudzinski and a committee of the Alumni.

PI TAUS

Heber Yeagley, as "Available Jones," had a highly successful Sadie Hawkins Day, making it his business to see that the ladies caught their men. Yeagley, in his "tux", gave a sharp-character representation for the Pi Taus, said Gilbert Feeg, president.

ZETAS

The Zeta fraternity celebrated Homecoming Day last Saturday with a fraternal get-together after the game and a semi-formal "rush" dance at the Berkshire Hotel later in the evening. Dances, to the music of Louis Fisher, of Zetas and their guests extended a cordial welcome to the returned Alumni and their guests. Professor and Mrs. Donald S. Gates and Professor and Mrs. Newell Danford were chaperones.

Albright Is Initiator

Deans and student government leaders of the various colleges contacted have expressed their appreciation for the fact that Albright has sensed the need to promote finer integration of student government programs throughout the state.

Ed. note: This week's Lion Tales is written by a well-known personality, who generally coaches Albright basketball teams. Guess who?

Football Firsts

Now that the curtain has been drawn on the 1946 football season after our last game with P.M.C. on Saturday, it will be interesting to sit back, relax, and analyze situations and personalities which were responsible for the tremendous amount of work and planning necessary to carry through a football schedule. It will be probably more interesting to note the fact that there were more "firsts" this season than any time in the history of the sport at Albright.

In-so-far as situations are concerned probably the top first in this department would be the tremendous amount of free painting we received before the Gettysburg game. It was Gettysburg's first visit to Reading to compete with Albright in football. The new press box is the first adequately equipped facility to accommodate the press, photographers, telegraphers, and scouts. It is the first time that every piece of both practice and playing equipment was absolutely new. It is also the first time (that I can recall) that we did not play a Thanksgiving Day game.

Some of the innumerable firsts in personalities connected with the sport are: It is Mr. Shirk's first year and first attempt at scheduling and managing a football schedule. Coach Strong is finishing his first year as head coach of the gridirers. Coach Smith likewise is here for his first season as line coach. It is the first year that Jim Spatz is having so much trouble in keeping the gridiron carpeted with green. Our new equipment manager, Joe Rouse, is matching his wits against the players for his first season to determine where most of the equipment will be after the last game. Most of the players are here for the first season and Bill Beyerle our trainer is back for his first season since the war disrupted our program. The only first we can dig up about Coach Harris, who seems to be a fixture around Albright, is that he is the first man we have ever met who can attend so many football games each season without ever paying admission, and

Sports in General

Maybe we have several firsts in this department too. That intramural volley ball league we have been telling you about is the first men's volley ball league in the school's history. Those hardy participants surely are to be commended upon their splendid attitude and co-

Fisher Beats Dohner For Top Tennis Rung

Allen Fisher, junior sportsman, finally brought the men's tennis tournament to a conclusion when he defeated the freshman star, John Dohner in straight sets 6-2, 8-6, last week. Fisher and Dohner gained the final berths by defeating James Brusch and Jackie Kissinger, Fisher defeating Brusch in close scoring 7-5, 6-3, and Dohner ousting Kissinger 7-5, 6-0.

A ladder has been set up for spring tennis activities. Positions on the ladder were determined by tournament results, starting with the finalists, semi-finalists, etc. at the bottom. Those participating are C. Kachel, R. Dombra, R. Rothermel, C. Killian, R. Thomas, W. Voigt, H. Zimmerman, D. Haller, J. Corking, J. Mengel, A. Voigt, E. Kalbach, D. Voigt, J. Bowe, B. Krecher, R. Harp, W. Rowland, W. Carson, P. Siegfried, A. Taub, S. Taul, L. Woodring, J. Woyanowski, F. Gable, J. Kissinger, R. Miller, J. Patricia, J. Brusch, A. Fisher, J. Dohner.

operation in making this venture a success.

Harris Works

The tennis league was concluded its schedule and the sole survivor is Mr. Fisher. We wonder how it happened that Mr. Fisher won? Was it because he was so instrumental in the league's formation and success? (All in fun, Allen). By the way it was a first intramural tennis league too.

Basketball candidates are reporting regularly for practice and the Coach is enthused about their attitude and willingness to work harder than required. Say, fellows if you are working harder than Coach Harris requires you to work you surely are slaves. That's the spirit fellows, let's put out to produce a winner.

Memming High Scorer; Gates Again the Goat; Capt. Walton Slumps

Our red-hot pros continued merrily on their way, again burning up the alleys last week. The Herr Doktor once more took top honors, rolling a triple 530. The Doc, after a slow start, really got rolling and blazed out a torrid 194 in his final game. Prof Khouri, after much ribbing in this column, has finally hit his stride, taking second place honors with a 158 average. He even managed to lead Doc Memming for the first two games, but slipped badly in the last game to lose his lead.

Dean Walton, captain of team Two and usually big scorer, was unable to click in his personal match with Doc Memming. The Dean, after a slow start, rolled two 162's, but could not overcome the Doc's early lead.

Recess from our southern friend, Doc Jacob, indicated that he is steadily improving. After being the goat of the first match, he has improved each week, knocking out a 119 average. The biggest mystery of the entire league has been where Prof Gates' ball will hit next. It seems the southpaw has quite a curve (ball that is), and there is no telling where it will break next.

Prof Widdowson turned in the biggest upset of the week. Considered a weak player, he joined the stronger second team and promptly threw four straight strikes for a 193, second high single game of the day.

Team	Game			Total
	I	II	III
Team I	338	372	392	1102
Team II	417	488	465	1370

Player	Individual Scores			Ave.
	I	II	III
Memming	149	187	194	176.6
Khouri	164	173	138	158.3
Widdowson	193	116		154.5
Walton	125	162	162	149.6

Jacobi	113	131	114	119.3
Gates	100	79		89.5

P.M.C. BEATS ALBRIGHT

Albright College dropped its last game of the season to a previously winless P.M.C. eleven, 6-0. Both teams played a Junior High brand of football, P.M.C. scoring in the third quarter on a blocked punt.

Runners Edge Delaware; Break Even For Year

Albright College harriers defeated the University of Delaware, 25-31, today, with Ed Anlian, Lion star, pacing the field over the three-and-one-quarter-mile course in 17:35.

It was the final meet for Coach Gene Shirk's Red and White runners, who finished the season with a .800 percentage. The Lions defeated Quantico Marines and Juniata College and bowed to West Chester, Lafayette and Franklin and Marshall College. The hill and dale squad was the first in Albright's history.

Third for Anlian

Eddie Anlian registered his third victory of the campaign by negotiating the distance in 17:35. Anlian paced the 15 starters most of the distance but Jimmy Delp, who finished second for the visitors, had to put on a spurt in the final 400 yards to beat Tom Galley, of the Blue Hens.

Fred Roland and Joe Van Houten finished in the first ten for the Albrightians. Other Albright finishers were Stewart Beyerle, basketball star; Charley Stump and Walt Koneki. The summaries:

- 1—Anlian, Albright, 17:35.
- 2—Delp, Albright, 17:51.
- 3—Galley, Delaware.
- 4—Roland, Albright.
- 5—Lyman, Delaware.
- 6—DeShan, Delaware.
- 7—Van Houten, Albright.
- 8—Stabler, Delaware.
- 9—Schaeffer, Delaware.
- 10—Bergman, Delaware.
- 11—Beyerle, Albright.
- 12—Harding, Delaware.
- 13—Stump, Albright.
- 14—Koneki, Albright.
- 15—Everett, Delaware.
