SOPHOMORES MILES AHEAD IN SPECULUM ELECTION THIS WEEK

Miles, Brother And Sister Head Editorial and Literary Departments—McGuigan Business Mgr. and Stelts Artist.

AFTER EARLY START

Last Monday saw the beginning of another Speculum, for the Sophomore Class got together at noon and elected the staff for the "1929 Speculum." This election was perhaps held earlier than is the usual custom, but the Sophomores hope in this way to get an early start and not allow the work to pile up next year as is the usual case.

Nearly all of the Sophomores were present and participated in the election. Only five persons were elected to positions on the staff. The remainder of the staff will be appointed by those who have been elected.

This is the result of the election: Editor-in-Chief, Harold Miles; Business-Manager, Elwood McGuigan; Art Editor, Catherine Stelts; Literary Editor, Ellen Miles; Senior Advisor, Leon Hood. The class showed a very good interest in the election and it is to be hoped that the interest will continue until the completion of the book.

The new staff may well profit by the example of previous staffs and should without a doubt put out a better book than any other staff has ever done. To do this means progress. Not to do this means regression. The Sophomores must put out a better book and every loyal student must cooperate for the glorification of Albright. Think ahead! Look ahead! Go ahead!

CLASS BASKETBALL GETS A ROUSING WELCOME

Juniors Lead League With Two Victories—Look Like Winners—Games Closely Played

The class basketball league after getting off to a late start is well under way. All the teams in the league are well matched and it should be a close race. At present the Juniors with two victories and no defeats are leading the league, and in all likelihood will win the first half as their remaining game is with the Seniors, who have won and lost one.

In the opening games of the league the Freshman ran rough shod over the Seniors, defeating them 41-28. Sprague and Watson were the high scorers for the Freshmen, while Angle and Harriss were the outstanding players for the Seniors.

The Juniors barely nosed a victory over the Sophomores 25-21. Koller, Deckert, and Garrett were the big guns for the Juniors, while McGuigan and Bowman played best for the Sophs.

On Monday the second round of the league was played with the Seniors opposing the Sophs, and the Juniors playing the Frosh. The Seniors won their game by a margin of two points, while the Juniors won an easy victory over the Frosh. Harris and Angle were the Seniors' big men again, with McGuigan leading the way for the Sophs.

ALBRIGHT ENGAGES IN NEW STYLE DEBATE TONIGHT VS. TEMPLE

Albright Affirmative At Home In Open Forum Contest Against Strong Opposition.

EVERYONE A JUDGE

Tonight at eight o'clock Albright's affirmative debating team will debate in the college chapel for the second time this season with the strong Temple University team as their opponents. The biggest attraction of the contest tonight is the fact that it is an open forum debate—in which the audience will be the judges, instead of the customary three judges as has been in vogue ever since Albright began a debating team.

This new type of debate, only one of which was ever held in the Albright chapel, will naturally hold the interest of the audience far more than the judged debate. The audience will have to be awake and on the alert in order to vote intelligently. A larger audience than ever before should turn out, as each individual will have a direct part in the debate, and the ultimate result of it.

Open forum debating is right in line with the new style of debating which has for its real purpose the instruction and enlightenment of the audience, as well as the development of debating ability on the part of the contestants. It is an innovation, and should prove popular with the student body as well as the outsiders. One objection to the open forum debating has been overcome—that is the mutual shifting of one man from each team to the other, which will be eliminated for the debate tonight. There are scheduled several more similar debates for the coming year, which ought to add a great impetus to this forensic activity at Albright.

For the contest tonight, a ballot will be handed to every member of

S. O. S. HAVE FEED OVER IN MOHN HALL

All Have Good Time—Evening Spent In Hilarity—Jazz Artists Add To gaiety.

A chorus of melodious (?) whistles sounded forth from Room 1 on Wednesday evening, February 2nd. It was nothing less than the first feed of the S. O. Ten! This feed was a "pajama banquet" and would have put a French chef to shame. The evening was spent in much hilarity, and music was furnished by George Olsen and Paul Whiteman's orchestra, and numerous jazz artists (on the victrola). The S. O. Ten, as a whole, extend thanks to the kind donors of the salad, cake, ice cream and candy. In the future, contributions will be gratefully received. The girls are expecting to have many more feeds before the end of the year.

TWO MEN STUDENTS ENROLL FOR 2ND SEMESTER

We have two more men students added to our student body this semester so far. They are Messrs. K. W. Evans, and E. Willis Minnich.

The former was a student at Centre College, Ky., the first part of this school year, and is now resuming his Freshman work with us. His home is at Potstow.

The latter, is from Womelsdorf, and he is resuming his work in the Junior Class.

We hope that these men will enjoy the environment of Albright, and we wish theirs for further success.

HELP WANTED!

The cut of Mrs. Mohn which appeared in the 1925 Speculum has strangely disappeared. Since it was over in the Bulletin office last year, it is probably around the college somewhere. If any information about it can be given, it will be greatly appreciated by the 1928 SPECULUM staff which is very desirous of securing it.

NEOS HOLD HIGH SOCIETY PRESTIGE IN ANNIVERSARY

Program Best in History Of Organization—In Opinion of Faculty Critic. Well Varied.

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS

Last Friday evening the Neocosmian Literary Society was the centre of attraction. This men's society, celebrating its 69th birthday, staged the best program in a number of years, according to the faculty members of the college. Held in the college chapel, beautifully decorated for the occasion, the men went thru their program in great style.

The first number was naturally invocation, which was offered by Rev. Paul E. Keen, of the faculty, a Neocosmian himself. Following this, Russell Gotschall, vice president delivered the address of welcome, very briefly, yet clearly outlined the purpose of the society, and its plan for the program of the evening, and extended a warm welcome, especially to all the Alumni.

An instrumental trio fete by Glyn Morris, violin; Bernard Zener, cello and Charles Lehman, piano. It was a truly pleasing performance, "Moonlight and Roses" being played in splendid style. Hartwell H. Fassnacht, president of the society gave an eight minute talk on "The Able Man." Four essentials were emphasized by Fassnacht as prerequisites, which are that he must be capable, mentally and physically; Sociable; Serviceable and Honorable. If he is all of these, he is really able.

A piano solo was played by Chas. Lehman, who was at his best. A selection by the Neocosmian orchestra, Wadsworth, Wray, Lehman, Fassnacht, Gunther and Housen.

Part two was ushered in by a short snappy, up-to-the-minute talk by Leon C. Hood, who chose as his subject "The Mexican Situation." The most important of United States' most prominent problems, including the Nicaraguan and Chinese questions.

DR. AND MRS. LIVENGOOD TREAT BOYS ROYALLY

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Livinggood, both Albright graduates, now situated in Chestertown, where Dr. Livinggood is head of the department of education at Washington College, entertained the basketball team at an informal gathering at their home after the Washington game. It is quite evident that they knew how the boys like to be entertained—for they had some of the best. As the team had a long trip ahead of them, their stay with the Livinggoods was naturally rather brief—but very much enjoyed.

The team wishes to take this means of expressing their thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Livinggood.

The staff of the "Bucknellian" the weekly publication of Bucknell University is to be considerably augmented. It is now an eight page paper and many of the departments need more assistants.

GIRLS TRAMPLE SCHUYLKILL UNDER FOOT IN TRIUMPH

Exhibit Great Class In First Game On Home Court—Entire Team Stars—Uniforms Attractive.

"QUEENS" WELL COACHED

In the only athletic event of the Alumni week-end the Albright "Queens" took the measure of the Schuylkill "Lady Parsons" by a 27 to 14 score. At this time the girls made their debut before the home folks wearing their nice new suits.

The outfit, which is composed of white middies with red ties, red bloomers with white stripes running up and down each side, red and white stockings and white shoes, is very pretty, or as the girls themselves term it, "spiffy." The "Bulletin" congratulates the team on its fine appearance.

The game opened with both teams playing at a fast pace and neither getting an open shot; during the first three minutes there was no scoring, then Schuylkill got a foul and a field goal—thus taking the lead. At this time the game looked as though it would be a close one throughout. Before long, however, the Albright forwards found the basket and began to score and at half time the score stood 12 to 7 in the favor of our co-eds.

After the intermission Albright started again on their scoring campaign and in this half they scored seven times from the field and once from the foul mark. And while this was taking place the Red and White guards held their "men" to one lone score from the field. The final score was 27-14, most of Orange and Black points coming from the foul mark.

For Schuylkill the right forward was the only one who was anywhere near the class of the Albright squad; Miss McFetridge was her name and

MEN'S GLEE CLUB WILL ENJOY FINE SCHEDULE

Manager Morris Arranges Numerous Week End Trips—To Tour West At East Program Will Be Excellent.

Manager Morris of the Men's Glee Club released the tentative schedule for the Club for the fore part of this week. Morris stated in an interview with a Bulletin reporter that he experienced no special difficulty, although as usual the arrangements involved considerable work.

The Club makes their debut in Ephrata the first day of March, just two days before the concert there by the F. & M. Glee Clubs. As the concert will assume the aspects of a contest, the boys will surely do their best, and the citizens of Ephrata are in for a real treat.

CLEFF CLUB WILL MEET FOR 1ST TIME THURSDAY

The first meeting of the Cleff Club for this year will be held in the College Chapel at seven o'clock on the evening of Thursday, February the seventeenth.

The Cleff Club is one of Albright's oldest organizations, and all the music students belong.

It gives an opportunity to our rising young artists to develop their talents and overcome any nervousness which may attend a public performance.

The first meeting will be an open one—it will be short and give all a chance to encourage latent genius.

ALBRIGHT DROPS HEART-BREAKER TO WASHINGTON

Shows Unexpected Ability Against Flying Pentagon Champions of Maryland—Game Fast and Furious.

MAKE BEST SHOWING OF ANY NORTHERN TEAM

Last week the boys basketball team journeyed about 150 miles to Chestertown, Maryland to play Washington College's "Flying Pentagon." The team left at two o'clock in the afternoon and returned at four the next morning—so you can see they gained no advantage from travel.

The final score of the game was 39-33, in the "Pentagon's" favor. But, considering everything—the trip and the opposition—our team made a very good showing. Four of the five men on Washington's team were of the same team which beat the Navy and won the championship of Maryland several years ago. And several of them could still remember administering the first defeat in five years to an Albright team on its home floor—this happened four seasons back.

The game, although well played, was marred at time by poor shooting on the part of both teams. This fact can probably be accredited to the terrific pace which was set with the opening whistle.

At the outset Washington took the lead, and, although trailed closely by the Albright five, never relin-

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE WILL PURCHASE PIANO

Unfavorable Comment Causes Girls To Abandon Radio—Will Redouble Efforts To Carry Out Original Idea.

With a splendid determination to surmount all difficulties, to crush down panic and fear, the Mohn Memorial Committee has resolved to pursue their original plans to the very end, and in some manner—undecided at the present—to purchase a piano, which opinion shows is the best, most fitting and proper subject for a memorial—especially to Mrs. Mohn, for many years instructor of piano.

With this announcement comes an urgent plea for help. A number of alumni have subscribed—but on the other hand quite a number have not. If all those who have not would chip in, the remaining $250 would not be hard to get. And there is still the opportunity to old subscribers to resubscribe! Several large contributions would almost put the project on Easy Street. However, a campaign is going to be inaugurated which will carry the fund over top if at all possible—and it is possible!

There is a pledge to the Bulletin now for five dollars. Who will keep the ball rolling? Any contribution at all will help. Let's see how many come in before the next Bulletin goes to press!

Another week—and the Neos and Excelsiors are no nearer the rostrum than last week. At the present, it seems that they can not be dragged together even with a four mule team. Since it is almost imperative that the debates be held, it will soon behoove the faculty to take the affair in their own hands, and compel action by threat of forfeit, undignified as that may seem. But at the present time, that seems the only logical course. It's up to you, men.

A RECENT EDITORIAL of the "Bucknellian" sets forth the fire hazard among the colleges. It is only too true that many of our schools are unable to check the first evidences of fire. Dormitories are in many cases fire hazards and fire traps. It is often indeed remarkable that there are not more fires in dormitories. We wish to reprint from "The Bucknellian"—

"Three educational institutions during the short span of a few weeks have been visited by that dire specter—fire. Mercersburg Academy, Randolph-Macon, and Westminster College have suffered irreparable losses in these fires. What could more forcibly bring to our attention the possibility of fire at Bucknell? If we had a fire, how could we fight it?

So far as we know, there is no fire hose on the university property, although there was a hose at the stadium to water the grass. What are we going to do if fire starts in one of our dormitories? Of course we have fire extinguishers in every hall, but these would be pitifully inadequate if fire once made headway. If the fire was quickly discovered, an extinguisher would be O. K., but what good is a tiny extinguisher against a real fire?

How many fire plugs are on the campus? A hurried examination shows three; at the most there are probably not more than five. In case of fire the town fire department could not possibly reach the scene of the blaze on the Hill before ten or fifteen precious minutes had elapsed—a delay that might prove disastrous.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon student carefulness, but it is evident that there should be more adequate facilities for fighting fire right here on the campus. Why not organize dormitory brigades and provide them with the implements to fight fire effectively? Most assuredly there should be better fire fighting equipment on the campus.

Remember the fate of Mercersburg, Randolph-Macon, and Westminster. Don't let Bucknell suffer a similar one!

May we add "Protect Albright." Students of both dormitories should be especially careful in handling electric appliances, lamps, and all material which is dangerous if not properly used and cared for.

NOISE FROM ABOVE

Everybody likes harmony and symmetry apparent in the affairs of life. A good address is one which the points nicely dovetailing into one another. To see a girl well dressed yet uncombed is to see a wreck. An orchestra seeks to have all the instruments harmonized into one grand effect. One shrill or misplaced note depreciates very much the value of the rendition taken as a whole. (Anything out of harmony has a tendency to negative.)

Recently and quite frequently of late many noises have been apparent. At Mohn Hall they mean points. In Main they go by default. Yet those in Main may be of a much more serious nature. At both musicales held this year things went fine for awhile, until suddenly the noises came from overhead. Sounds of commotion, of stamping and running, of beds falling over, came down from above to blend in wonderful jarring discord with the recital.

This has been true in many of the "Y" meetings. The speakers task is hard enough without having to compete with such distracting conditions. One of the "Y" speakers, being a stranger here at Albright, desired to see the building and actually expressed a wish to see the gymnasium, which he thought was above the chapel.

While we are at it, we might make mention of the same disturbance in the class rooms in "Main." Some fellows delight in calling very loudly for a "buddy" when they get near the class room. The piano starts up in the next room, there is wrestling and boxing in the room overhead and sometimes the bouncing of a ball on the floor a couple hundred times, or the shooting in of coal, which comes with an awful roar. Of course some of these noises may be necessary, but to those who make the noise, many most likely unthinkingly, we would ask that they kindly refrain from disturbing any meetings. It is hoped that by calling attention in this manner the nuisance may be stopped, as other measures are not desired unless found to be necessary.

: Campus Chatter :

By The Parrot

Hu rah ray! Hu rah ray! Ray! Ray! Boom! What spiffy cheering folks! That was illustrious, and sure enough when L. V. C. hears that to-morrow nite, you can just count on it they'll see stars, and them same stars'll be in OUR crown! Come on, now, let's try it again:

Hu rah ray! Hu rah ray! Ray! Ray! Boom!

There! Parrot knows we will just knock the stuffin' out o' Lebanon Valley tomorrow nite. Oh, Boy! Parrot can hardly wait til he sees the "team," OUR TEAM come stepping out on the floor at the hour appointed for that spectacular rendezvous. Everybody go early, there isn't even goin' to be any standing room left, maybe. An' say, don't talk much til you get there, so as you can cheer and cheer and cheer to the last glorious finish. Ray! Boom! On to L. V. C.!

And wasn't that a terrible fire early Saturday morning of last week! Parrot knows of more than one person who was scared when the fire bell woke us, and then to see that great conflagration so near! Thankful are we that no lives were lost, and the students are especially interested in Dr. Stober's well-fare. Sometimes it seems that our load is almost too hard to carry, but we can always look up and smile, for if we live right God is ever willing to give us His helping hand. And now surely, in Dr. Stober's time of need, we'll do our best to tide him over in any way we can.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR IS DRAWING GOOD ATTENDANCE

Meeting Sunday Night Conducted by Kneller And Heckert—Interdenominational Fellowship Discussed.

There was a very good attendance at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society held on Sunday evening in the College Chapel, in charge of Oscar Kneller and Ernest Heckert.

The meeting opened with a short song service and all present joined heartily in singing the hymns. Several of the members then offered prayer, which was followed by the scripture reading.

The lesson for the evening "Interdenominational Fellowship through Christian Endeavor" was very ably discussed by Kneller and his talk was interesting to every one present. Miss Gladys Jones then rendered a vocal solo which added much to making the meeting a good one.

Clippings embracing the following thoughts were then read by different members of the society: 1—How interdenominational Christian Endeavor is adaptable to all countries and people. 2—Organic Union of Christian Endeavor. 3—Interdenominational Relation. The following questions were also discussed: 1—How do our C. E. Unions promote Christian Fellowship? 2—What is the basis of Christian Fellowship? 3—What are the advantages of Christian Fellowship? 4—What forces work against our Christian Fellowship? 5—In what way can our society increase its fellowship?

Closing song and prayer by Dr. Gobble ended the evening's meeting.

The attendance at the meetings of the Christian Endeavor Society seems to be increasing and it is the wish of the leaders that all who have not been attending may come and help in the meetings.

ALUMNA ENJOYING FINE WINTER SEASON IN SOUTH

Irene Ibach, '23, Accompanies Father On Annual Trip To Louisiana—On Hunting Expedition.

A short time ago, Miss Irene Ibach, '23 returned to her home in Myerstown from a wonderful hunting trip in Louisiana with her father N. D. Ibach, which she describes in a letter to the Bulletin.

Leaving here in the latter part of December for the trip which is annual, they reached Calhoun, Louisiana, on the last day of that month, and immediately set out for camp by automobile with a company of thirty-five strong, their destination being Tenasas Swamp, seventy two miles ahead, in the land of cane sugar and forest. The hunting club consists of twelve prominent citizens of Louisiana, the rest of the group being guests of members.

In a ten day stay, replete with many experiences, ten deer, hosts of squirrels, quails, turkeys, wild cats, and diamond rattlesnakes were brought down. On the first day, Miss Ibach had the pleasure of being presented with a wild cat, and was lucky to see deer on the first deer stand.

Leaving Louisiana Jan. 18th, they made a tour through the mid-western states, stopping off with friends in Cairo, Ill. and Charleston, and St. Louis, Missouri, and arrived in Myerstown, January 22.

tions. He emphasized that America must guard against imperialism, which our Latin American neighbors are accusing us of and that we must not violate our old ideals.

Next was a vocal solo, Thomas' "The Willow", by Glyn Morris, the young red-headed Welshman, with an unusually pleasing tenor voice. This number was read. Jason Snyder followed with a reading.

The third musical number appeared at this phase in the form of a violin duo "Song of India."

Homer Heisley, president of the society, delivered the oration "Life's Real Treasures" in which he ably emphasized the value of friendships as of far greater worth than material wealth or riches. It was a fitting climax to a worth while program.

For the home club it is hard to pick out any one individual who would stand out above her teammates. Herr and Dech at forwards gained 13 goals from the field, "Leeny" getting four and "Dechy"

To Dr. A. E. Gobble.
Soul that is white, of steadfast worth;

Out from the endless march of days;
Down through the years that come and go,
Ever we'll search and yet not know
One who could fill your busy place—
Or if we could I'm sure his face
Never could wear the light, alone
Given by God to mark His own.

THOMAS ALVA EDISON

HIS FAITH unconquerable, his passion for work irresistible, his accomplishment not surpassed in the annals of invention, Thomas Alva Edison has achieved far more than mankind can ever appreciate. February eleventh is the eightieth anniversary of his birth.

Wherever electricity is used—in homes, in business, in industry—there are hearts that are consciously grateful, that humbly pay him homage.

Date For Speculum Play Definitely Set

Inability To Secure Auditorium Again Causes Postponement—Will Be Held Feb. 24 and 26 Without Fail

PLAYERS COMING ALONG IN GREAT SHAPE

The date for the Speculum play has been finally set for Thursday and Saturday evenings, March 24 and 26th. "And Home Came Ted" the play which the Juniors are giving to benefit their Year Book was postponed several times due to an inability to secure the High School Auditorium, but the date is now sure and arrangements have been made with the T. S. Dennison Company of Chicago to produce the play those evenings. Everyone who has been waiting to see the production will have their patience rewarded on the last Thursday and Saturday evenings of this month.

Mrs. Landis has been working hard with her group of actors and claims they are acting as well as or better than any cast she has ever coached. Each person is really living his or her part and in rehearsals each character is going over big.

The business end of the production is planning a big campaign to sell tickets to every family in Myerstown and within a day or so will begin their work. The play is being held on Thursday evening instead of Friday, so that all the students, especially those who go home for the week-end, may be able to attend. Capacity houses are practically assured for both evenings.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB WILL ENJOY FINE SCHEDULE

The first week-end trip will come on March 11, 12, 13 and 14th, singing at Wrightsville on Friday the 11; at Columbia, Saturday, and York, on Monday. Sunday will probably be spent in York.

The following week end the boys make their second trip, to Nazareth on Friday evening the 18th, and at either Bangor or Fleetwood the next evening. The last week end trip will include Schuylkill Haven on April first and Arislet the second.

The big Easter Trip will be taken westward this year, going as far west as Pittsburgh, with a total of seven concerts. The arrangements are not final, but according to Manager Morris the schedule will probably be as follows: Monday, April 18th, Newport, Pa.; Tuesday, Lewistown; Wednesday, Altoona; Thursday, Nanty 'Glo; Friday, Johnstown; Saturday, Pittsburgh or possibly Salix; Sunday, Pittsburg; and the last concert will be given Monday night at Lemoin.

All the trips will be taken in the big pullman bus from Lebanon. The meistersinger, Miss Josephene Strasser, is shaping up the club members, and according to those who have heard them in rehearsal, a very fine program is assured for this year. Besides the regular club numbers a skit will again be featured, as well as several instrumental numbers, solo and duet. One of the special features will be the appearance of the "Red and White" Quartette which has become so popular this winter in musical circles throughout eastern United States.

quished it. At half time the score stood 21-13 in favor of the Chesterton Collegians—due mainly to the excellent work of Dumschott and Carroll.

In the second half, Albright outplayed their opponents, scoring 20 points to 19, but the lead was too great for the Red and White. Griggs, Sherrid and Kunzler contributed most to this second-half rally. Their brilliant play was, however, overshadowed by that of Dumschott and Carroll, who were the real stars of the game. Dumschott, who is rated

Who's Who At Albright :

S. KATHALEEN MILLER

As "Red", the boy-friend in the case, would say, "Good things come in small packages." If this be true, and we believe in proverbs, "Katy" can readily be classed among the good things, for her size certainly qualifies her. But of course we have made it clear that that particular qualification holds nothing against her nor does the fact that she comes from the famous city of Johnstown.

Just now when one thinks of girls' basketball one thinks of "Katy". You see she is manager of our Girls' Basketball Team and has proved herself very capable and efficient in arranging a good schedule and carrying it out well.

"Katy" is well liked by everyone because of her cheerfulness and happy smiles. Those smiles have been very compelling to a certain young man, and it is no longer strange to see that certain young man and "Katy" together quite a bit.

Besides all this she still finds time to sing in the Girls' Glee and to perform a lot of work in the Y. W. She also sings in chapel and church some times, and we always are glad to hear her. She is preparing to teach when her days at Albright are over. We feel sure that she has the ability to accomplish well anything she may put her hand to, be it teaching or house-keeping. When all is said and done, she is a "small package" made up of cheerfulness, kindness, friendliness and usefulness.

as one of the best forwards in collegiate ranks, scored eight times from the field. He was like a rubber ball—bounding everywhere. Carroll counted for five double-deckers—most of them from outside the foul ring—and did excellent dribbling and floor-work. He and Dumschott, as well as two others of their team, come from Waterbury, Conn. High School.

On the whole the showing of Albright's representatives was satisfactory, they played the best game of any school north of the line that has invaded the lair of the "Flying Pentagon."

The line-up:
Albright Washington
Griggs R.F. Geraitno
Kunzler L.F. Dumschott
Sherrid C. Seib
Wissler R.G. Carroll
Weaver L.G. Cavanaugh
Summary: Field Goals—Griggs 1; Kunzler 4, Sherrid 5, Weaver 1, Geraitno 3; Dumschott 8, Seib 1, Carroll 5, Lunderberg 1. Foul Goals: Griggs 5 out of 7; Kerns 2 out of 2; Sherrid 4 out of 6, Geraitno 1 out of 3, Carroll 2 out of 4. Substitutions—Albright: Kerns, Clemens; Washington—Alexander, Calloseuto, Jacobs, Ussilton, Chapman, Nenor, Dobson, Carrington, Lunderberg. Referee, Ogden, Swarthmore.

Literary Rambles To Be New Bulletin Feature

Helen Uhrich, Writing Criticisms of Literary Works Which Will Be Printed in These Columns

There is a new attraction in the Bulletin this week. It comes in the form of resumes, criticisms or synopses, or whatever one prefers to call them, which will be printed in the Bulletin from time to time.

The director behind the guns in this case is Miss Helen Uhrich who has been a rather regular contributor to the Bulletin this year. Besides writing a number of news articles, she has also had a short story selected by the English department to be published in the Bulletin. Her high qualifications will be easily demonstrated as her works are printed from time to time. Below is the first one. The official title is "Literary Rambles In Our Library." The one this week is "Adventures In Friendship by David A. Grayson." These rambles will help keep the students better acquainted with the best and the newest books in our library, and will also have a healthy influence on literature and literary criticism on the Albright campus.

The stage is now set—It gives us great pleasure to present

LITERARY RAMBLES IN OUR LIBRARY

Are you tired of work, tired of studying? Then how about a trip back to the country,—to green pastures, to cool woods and best of all, to the finest persons whom you could wish as friends.

Such is the treat in store for you in David A. Grayson's "Adventures In Friendship." With each new adventure there is a new slant on life and when the book is finished you will realize clearer than ever that there are countless roadside prophets who have been benefited by a chance sign "God is Love," that every community has a Miss Aiken, who is ever willing to minister to someone, and that every open road has its adventure in friendship if you are only willing to seek it. Searching, in a spirit of fraternity, you will find it and will profit thereby.

Such is Grayson's novel of friendship. This exposure of contentment and the friendly road has a story that is written for YOU, that will give you a simple pleasure in the clean joy of living.

Why not seek it?

FRATERNITY NOTES

Kappa Upsilon Phi
The fraternity takes great pleasure in announcing the active membership of Mr. Harold Miles of the class of 1929. Frater Miles is popular as an accompanist for all occasions and is interested in many of the school activities.

Fraters Dale Gramley '26, Franklin Hartzell '26, and Reuel Dubs '26, spent the last week end as guests of the fraternity. Frater Arthur Henninger was present for the anniversary of the Neocosmian Literary Society.

Frater Rodney Steltz '25 has recently resided in Myerstown and has accepted a position with the Painter Foundry Company as a clerk. Frater Steltz is welcome in our midst.

This is an invitation to all fraters to spend the coming week-end at Albright. The first of two basketball games with Lebanon Valley College will be played at Lebanon tomorrow evening. There will also be a debate with Temple University tonight, which also promises to be a good attraction—especially for the alumnal debaters.

Pi Tau Beta

Over the last week-end Fraters Hummel, Roth and Dech attended the Alumni meeting. Frater Hummel, President of the Alumni Association, was elected Alumni Trustee.

On Friday evening Frater Roth treated the fraternity and the occasion was very much enjoyed by all. Brother Klingeman spent the week end at Paxtonville, and had both a pleasant and restful time.

The Lebanon Valley College Glee Club has been successful in scheduling concerts for Reading, Harrisburg, Red Lion, Lebanon, Dallasburg, Hanover, Washington, and Baltimore. An endeavor is being made to start co-ed debating at Lebanon Valley.

—Indications are congress has all it can attend to this winter, but there are no indications that it will attend to it all.
