Y Retreat Gets Under Way At Blue Mountain Tomorrow

Rev. D. Allen To Lead Seminar Discussions

Tomorrow morning at 11:30 A. M. those going to the "Y" Retreat will leave the college campus for the Blue Mountain camp site. Transportation will be provided and upon arrival box lunches will be given out.

The first seminar will get under way in the early afternoon under the direction of Rev. Dean Allen. The general theme of the retreat will be "Questions by the Great Teacher." The first seminar will begin with devotions under the direction of Barbara Bubel and Dorothy Lang. The topic of the first seminar will be "What is Truth?" A general discussion led by Rev. Allen will follow each seminar.

Following the afternoon seminar there will be a free period at which time canoeing, volleyball, table tennis, baseball and other activities will provide the entertainment.

After the evening meal a devotion program under the leadership of Evelyn Kressler and Virginia Marick will be followed by the second seminar, "What do ye say that I am?"

The social hour after the evening seminar will consist of games and singing. On Sunday morning the final seminar, "What shall I do to Inherit Eternal Life?" will be held.

The fall "Y" Retreat will come to a close with communion, at which Rev. Eugene Barth and Lloyd Sturtz will officiate.

Several different committees are responsible for the planning of the Retreat; they are: the program committee, William Glant, Ted Tietge, Lloyd Sturtz and James Rupp, who designed the cover of the programs; the recreation of which Patricia Eisenbise took charge; registration was headed by Neal Krape. Virginia Seems and Max Miller are co-chairmen of the Retreat. Miss Benninger and Rev. Barth will act as chaperones.

Campus Undergoes Improvements

Eugene Pierce announced several improvements of the buildings and grounds on campus. New electric scoreboards have been placed in the gymnasium and football field. The lounge in the basement of the girls' dormitory has been renovated and refurnished. Several offices in the Administration Building were repainted, and the table tops of the physics lab were refinished.

The painting and carpentry work in the lounge was done by the college. The furnishings were donated by the Berks Area Alumni Club. The painting was done in two tones, dark green and pearl white. Valances were put across the entire east end wall and the window. Fluorescent light tubes were installed, which light up the entire wall and picture. Ten light maple captain's chairs, 4 pieces of sectional furniture, new floor lamps and draperies were added. The coffee tables and book cases were painted black and green, and five pictures were hung on the walls. The electric scoreboards, which cost $2000, were donated anonymously.

Hoffman To Play At Annual Ivy Ball

The annual Student Council sponsored Ivy Ball will be held on Saturday, November 8, after the Lebanon Valley College football game. This dance, which will be held from 8:30-11:30 P. M., will be the first big dance of the year and will initiate the freshman into the social life of the student body.

Hank Hoffman and his orchestra will provide the music for the affair which will be semi-formal. It was announced by the committee that it would be a non-corsage dance. It was also announced that all members of the faculty will be invited and professors Harding and Gates will act as chaperones.

There will not be the traditional freshman entertainment because the dance will be held in the new physical education building and since there is no stage it was thought that it would be difficult to arrange for entertainment.

Robert Bieler is the chairman of the social committee of Student Council, and Gene Lang and Patricia Miller are co-chairmen of the dance committee. Dorothy DeLaney and Gordon Oplinger are in charge of decorations.

Fraternal Groups Plan Rush Dances

The Phi Beta Mu sorority held induction for their four pledges on Monday night, October 20, in Selwyn parlor. The girls inducted as pledges were: Roberta Crimbring, Bethlyn Emmett, Mary Althouse and Patricia Upczak, all sophomores.

Plans were discussed for the annual rush party which will be held on Monday Evening, November 3. Barbara Smith and Ann Stalneck are in charge of this party. Patricia Kennedy, chairman of the fall rush dance, told of plans for the dance and appointed the following girls as committee members: Kathryn Lyttle, Kathleen Carls, Dorothy DeLaney and Barbara Farris.

Freshman Women To Assist At WSS Afternoon Teas

Women's Student Senate with the co-operation of its advisor, Dean Eleanor Westberg, and its tea chairman, Micheline Cacciola, will sponsor a Social Training Program for all freshman girls. This type of program is being initiated for the first time by the organization.

The program will entail four specific goals: First, the girls will learn how to write invitations to special groups on campus, such as office girls, fraternities, etc. Second, they will be instructed in the best way to prepare the tea and other necessary refreshments. Third, they will learn the duties of a hostess, floater and pourer at a tea. And fourth, they are to be aided in acquiring social ease and poise. The project is entitled "Learn by Doing."

This afternoon the W.S.S. will hold their initial tea in Selwyn parlor from 3 to 5 p. m.

Pictures To Be Taken For Cue Next Week

Group pictures will be taken next Wednesday and Thursday for the Cue. All men are reminded to wear coats and ties and women are requested NOT to wear anklets. Only those dressing according to specification will be pictured.

Club Sponsors LV Bowl Game

Albright College football team has been invited to play in the second annual Kiwanis Bologna Bowl football game against Lebanon Valley College. The game will be held November 8, at 2 p. m. in the Lebanon High School Stadium. Last year the game featured the University of Western Maryland against Lebanon Valley College, the team from Western Maryland being the winner.

One of the outstanding added attractions will be a group of football queens, one from each school that is invited to the game. Therefore, the Albright College football team will select a freshman girl to represent Albright in that group.

There will be a parade to the football stadium on the day of the game. This parade will include floats, many celebrities and lots of bands. Starting at 8th and Walnut Streets in Lebanon, it will proceed north on 8th to Lehman and then east two blocks to the stadium. The bands invited to participate in the parade are: all county and city school bands, two other Lebanon bands, Lebanon Valley College band, Reading American Legion band, Reading Catholic and Reading High bands.

Other special groups have been invited to parade also. They include the varsity football squads of the County and City, all Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, all members of the 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America, and Lebanon High School and Reading High School Key Club members.

The general price of admission is one dollar; reserved section, one dollar and a half; and student seats, thirty-five cents. All proceeds of this game will be used for the Lebanon YMCA Camp Kiwanis.

Council Names Committee For Constitution Revision

Domino Presents Plays Tonight

Tonight the Domino Club will present four one-act plays in the white chapel. The plays were selected from those written by sophomores in last year's creative writing class and will be student directed.

Patricia Wehrer's play, "Go Ahead, Sue Me," will find Joan Delp and Mahlon Gebhardt in the leads. Miss Wehrer's plot centers around a college newspaper office which is involved in a college scandal.

The second play, "Tea For Ski," was written by Donald Downs. Sally Aicher and Fred Hess are cast in the leading roles. "Tea for Ski" is a comedy concerning two sailors at a tea party.

"The Ice Storm," which was written by Roger Spang, will star Lois Hughes and Peter Schoffstall. Nancy Lou Walker will direct this drama of conflict between a mother and her children.

Claire Speidel and Donald Miller will have the leads in the fourth play, "Sophistication." This play was written by Stella Tryka. "Sophistication" tells all about a thirteen year old and her first date.

Students Hear Rep. Speaker

Chapel programs this week included a freshman induction ceremony and a political speaker. Dean George W. Walton was in charge of the induction on Tuesday. The guest speaker, Dr. Gaben Miller, executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education and Evangelism of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, talked about freshman induction.

On Thursday, James Bertolet, Republican candidate for congress from the 13th district, spoke about party aims.

The speakers on Tuesday, October 28, will be Rev. Eugene Barth and on Wednesday, October 30, Darlington Hoopes Sr., Socialist candidate for president of the United States will talk.

Second Attempt Is Made To Oust Outdated Laws

Student Council passed a motion to the effect that a committee be formed to re-write the Student Council Constitution. This was a result of Thomas Stults' motion, which was passed last week by council, calling for a revision of the constitution.

After investigating the need for amendment, the committee felt that it would be advisable to re-write the constitution. The committee presented their facts on Tuesday at which time council agreed with them and passed the motion to re-write the constitution. Mrs. Anna Smith, faculty advisor to Student Council, reminded council that this re-writing would be an extremely laborious job, due to the fact that council, faculty and student body must all approve the entire constitution.

This is the second attempt on the part of council to replace the present student government set-up with a more efficient system. The previous attempt was defeated by the student body in April of 1951. Actually, the Student Council began work on the first constitutional revision in October 1949, when a constitution committee was established under the chairmanship of John Kucha. The revision of '51 was defeated mainly by apathy on the part of the students.

Under the first proposed constitution, the main change was in representation. The four main divisions of the student body would have been—day men, day women, boarding men and boarding women who would have elected subordinate governing councils.

At the conclusion of the Student Council meeting, council approved the appointment of JoAnne Duffy, daywomen representative, and Irwin Freedman, Pi Tau representative, to council.

Week-end Draws Record Attendance

A record crowd of alumni and guests returned to the Albright campus last weekend for the annual Homecoming celebration. The event was highlighted by the election of a queen to reign over the festivities and the exciting football victory over Muhlenberg came as a fitting climax to the week-end's activities.

Patricia Upczak, '55, was chosen to reign over the celebration at a dance held on Friday night in Krause Hall. Annjeanette Innis, '54, was named maid of honor. The selections were made from five student contestants by a panel of five judges drawn from the alumni fraternity groups. The queen and her attendant were each presented with a trophy and all the contestants received gifts donated by the Reading merchants. The royal party were special guests for the remainder of the week-end.

Following the alumni citation luncheon on Saturday, the new physical education building was formally dedicated. The program was as follows: invocation, Dr. Joseph W. Krecker, '20; introduction of special guests, Dr. Harry V. Masters and Mr. Eugene L. Shirk; (Continued on Page 4)

Our Hats Are Off

"How many dinner tickets have you sold? What? Only thirty? You're coming, aren't you? How about your parents? Your aunts and uncles? Your cousins? Your brothers and sisters? And by the way, did I tell you about my ideas for . . . (this excerpt is taken from a speech by the one and only paramecium lover, Professor Hohenbach).

Yes, there were many other speeches also. The earliest ones were heard in the past June and the speeches went something like this.

Are you coming to Homecoming this year?

Well . . .

What do you mean? Well . . .

is it early this year or something, I did want to . . . In October, but we're getting started a little early this year.

Well I just wondered if . . .

That's fine, now talk it up a little, will you?

And so on.

With this kind of enthusiasm our Professor Hohenbach pushed the Homecoming Week-end to heights which it never reached before. Of course without the help of alumni, friends, students and faculty it never would have been successful. However, since we chose a Homecoming queen, I'd like to nominate Professor Hohenbach as the Homecoming king who was responsible for a royal week-end. Yes, our Homecoming Week-end of 1952 will go down in the history of Albright College.—P.L.E.

With Throttle Wide Open

Last Saturday, on a casual stroll around campus, I saw quite a few alumni, many of them wearing perplexed glances. I asked one particularly puzzled looking woman what was wrong, and received this reply, "Everything has changed so much."

It then occurred to me that there had been many changes which would confuse returning grads. A short walk across campus will confirm this.

Coming down the path from Fourteenth and Union Streets, you will notice that something seems strangely missing. Oh yes, where are the trees? Many a graduate has memories of slipping on wet leaves lying along the path, and sliding along down the steps to be dumped unceremoniously in front of the Administration Building. The trees were cut down last spring for reasons and uses unknown.

Glancing to the left of this path, you see that the porches of the two houses standing there are no longer decorated with the laundry of freshman men, but with fraternity signs.

Proceeding on to the library, you will notice a great innovation—the open stack system. No longer will you take out a book on "Basket Weaving Among the Ancient Polynesians" because you've already had the librarian bring out forty-seven books that you didn't care for and you feel like a heel if you don't take any out.

On the baseball diamond, you will notice a very imposing marker. Fear not, all rumors that the baseball diamond has been turned into a cemetery are absolutely false; so you can just give a withering glance to the wag who tells you that Who's buried at first. The baseball field is now known as Kelchner Field in honor of "Pop."

While wandering around, you may have heard the unfamiliar name Krause Hall, and wondered where it was, since the Physical Education Building is the only new structure on campus. The imposing sounding Krause Hall is none other than the Student Union Building of former days.

These changes and many more, some subtle and some obvious, have been made in the past year. Although some seem tradition-breaking, they also represent progress. So if anyone tells you that Albright is a stagnant college, here's a comeback. We are moving, and we're going somewhere too.—E.S.

Echoes From The Stacks

Here we are again this week with more information about the new additions to our library stacks. We have just received, quite generously, from the Jewish Chautauqua Society a set of the Universal Jewish Encyclopedia which includes ten volumes plus a "Reading Guide and Index." This is a beautifully illustrated "authoritative and popular presentation of Jews and Judaism since the early times."

Something new for the students listening enjoyment is "The People Act," which is an interesting "series broadcast" dealing with national affairs and problems, and includes: "An Airbase and a Community Work Out Their Common Problems"; "The People Act Throughout the Nations"; "A City Unites to Reduce Mass Unemployment" (Scranton, Pa.); "A College Town Becomes a School of Practical Politics"; "A Community Provides New Life for the Handicapped" and "A Community Confronts Alcoholism."

Since this is a long playing record, and our library doesn't have an LP machine, the record may be borrowed by faculty and students at any time.

Special Display

Politics will invade the library this coming week when there will be a special display of the Eisenhower and Nixon story in the showcase along the rear wall.

Afterwards

F. and M. vs. Albright (of course we won!), so now back to Reading for that after-game dinner. Just point the car toward old Mt. Penn, and drop in at the Chat-a-While, where the chops and steaks are superb, especially when they are served with one of Nick's famous Greek salads. Soft music, candlelight and silver—who could ask for more?

If this happens to be the day when only real Italian spaghetti or ravioli will satisfy that ravenous appetite, be sure not to bypass "Mom" Chaffee's Cellarette in West Reading. It may be a bit out of the way, but a lot less to pay!

Wanderlust got you? Then let Le Van's Old Mill near Kutztown be your destination. The delicious food and the friendly atmosphere will make your journey well worthwhile. However, if those hungriest seem to be getting the best of you, try Reeser's Restaurant on the Fifth St. Highway, where the home-style cooking will offer keen competition for those family dinners in "your town."

When that new hour starts approaching, Fete's is the perfect place before taking that 100-yard dash across the campus. Pizza pie or a California Hamburger should fill that empty corner in your stomach, and the crew is sure to be there for that last celebration of the big day.—J.L.

Going Places!

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! We would like to inform you of the doings and whereabouts of a few of our graduates.

Dorothy Deam after spending a delightful summer working in Atlantic City is back at the books, that is, as librarian at the Reading Public Library.

Jacqueline Artz can be found hiding behind test tubes at Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia as a student laboratory technician. Robert Batdorff has handed his golf clubs in for a gun in Uncle Sam's army.

Readers Write

Directed to our Student Council president:

Dear Mr. Buch,

The main purpose of this letter is to criticize your speech to the freshman class. Your opening comments were all well and good. Granted they did not all abide by customs but why should you, an individual, carry this to unnecessary extremes.

We sincerely doubt that the fraternities and sororities will remember five months from now who wore and who didn't wear customs. Perhaps it would interest you to know that all of the 197 freshmen will not be interested in sororities and fraternities nor will be able to join because of the quota system.

We believe that you are a member of a fraternity and feel that you of all people should be trying to set an example for your organization and not try to hold a whip of "we'll get even" over their heads.

As for your reference to vocational opportunities we doubt that the intelligent employer would place emphasis on wearing freshman customs rather than on respective ability.

Besides these points, Mr. Buch, as Albrightians, we strongly resent your attempted humor at a respectful, serious occasion. We are proud to be Albrightians and feel that we should make the class of 1956 proud to become members of our college family and not have a farce made of their induction.

We firmly believe that the class of 1956 has brought much spirit and should be encouraged to maintain it and not be criticized by your opinion (a one man's opinion).
 —Enraged Albrightians

Bob

President of the YMCA, Robert Myers, is our Dandy Lion of the week. Hailing from South Fork, Pa. (near Johnstown) this active senior has been planning the Y program for this year since this summer when he and the YWCA president attended Presidents' school at Columbia University.

Band and glee club are on Bob's list of activities for the fourth year as is KTX, the pre-ministerial fraternity. Last year Bob became a licensed minister and after graduation he plans to enter the seminary. Upon graduating from seminary Bob has his eye on the position of navy chaplain.

What Are We?

College! What a thrill to be able to partake of its intellectual air! Of course, the first week had somewhat of an inebriant effect upon me, but I'm slowly floating down to earth again.

During the blackest hours of my freshman orientation, I was reminded that everything would be fine and dandy after I became better acquainted with the other students. Try to understand your fellow Albrightians, and it will be easier to make friends, I was told. So, that's exactly what I'm attempting to do. With the aid of the dictionary I intend to solve the problem in a simple scientific manner.

It seems most logical to start with my own class—the freshman. Exactly what kind of creatures are they? By careful analysis of the term "freshman," I expect to discover an answer.

"Unwithered" is an interesting definition for "fresh," but doesn't clarify the understanding too much. "Unwithered" means "not drooping" or "not allowed to hang listlessly." According to Funk and Wagnall, "listlessly" is "heedless of what is passing." A freshman then is someone who is not allowed to hang, heedless of what is passing.

Oh, my! There must be a hidden explanation in those words. "Hang" is defined as "to support by attachment." Hm . . . perhaps as in marriage where a woman is supported by "latching on" to a man. Gee, that must mean then that freshmen are beings who are not able to support wives—heedless of what is passing.

That last phrase doesn't seem to make sense. It could be a special condition, meaning "unless he is aware of what is passing." "What is passing" really means "what is dying." Since no one could ever be aware of every dying thing, a freshman, apparently, never is able to support a wife! (What a discouraging theory!)

One of the definitions of "man" (the remaining half of "freshman") provides similar proof. It states, "Man is an adult male servant." I see it all now. A freshman is a person who if he were to marry would live in the following way: The husband would "serve" by doing housework while the little woman worked to support the family.

You see, understanding people is merely a matter of bringing to light the basic facts!—H.S.

The Roaring Lions of Albright College added a Frank Merriwell finish to a history making Alumni Homecoming Week-end as they defeated Muhlenberg College, their traditional football rival, 13-7, in a spine tingling home opener played under the lights at the Albright Stadium.

5,500 in Stands

An estimated crowd of 5,500, the largest to watch the Lions here since the college resumed varsity football in 1946, was on hand to see the Lions notch their third consecutive victory of the season on a 72-yard scamper by Bruce Tenley, and a 20-yard touchdown pass from Bob Carney to Bob Krize.

The contest was typical of a rival game and was thrill packed from the opening kickoff to the finish. The climax of the game was when lineman Jack Jordan broke through and blocked Jack Sudol's punt on the Lion 20 and then recovered it on the four.

With one and a half minutes remaining and goal to go Coach Eddie Gulian's defensive platoon stood up and held Muhlenberg for four downs, ending the Mules scoring chances. Albright took over and ran out the remaining thirty

Harriers Defeat Muhlenberg, 22-35

With Bill Shirk and Don Seltzer showing their heels to the field the Albright College cross country team defeated Muhlenberg College 22-35 on the losers four and a half mile course last Friday for the Lions first win in two years.

Shirk and Seltzer ran neck and neck throughout the entire race. They finished well ahead of the first Mule runner in 25 minutes and 14 seconds. Roger Davenport was the first Mule across the line. He finished in 25:49. Albright freshman Bob Miller placed fourth in 26:11. His fourth could have easily been a third had he started his drive a little earlier.

Tom Hancy and Wally Loy, both Muhlenberg, finished fifth and sixth respectively. Albright took the next three places as Jim Rocktashel finished in 26:53, followed by Mahlon Frankhouser, 27:12 and Dick Flammer, 27:29. Other Lion finishers were Clip Muller, Paul Gehris, Tom Savage and Russ Orlando. Muller finished with a burst of speed in 28:26.

Tenley Heads List Of Ground Gainers With 4.3 Average

Bruce Tenley, speedster from Doylestown, is leading the Albright Lion offense after four games. Tenley has 250 yards in 58 carries for an average of 4.3 yards per try. He boosted his average considerably in the Muhlenberg game with 105 yards in 11 carries.

Jack Sudol is second highest man with 235 yards for a 3.9 average.

The Lions, as a team, have out-gained their four opponents 654 to 463, with an average of 3.2, as contrasted with the opponents, 2.7.

The opposition holds the edge in passing. They have completed 33 passes in 78 tries for 238 yards while the Red and White has completed 11 out of 40 for 152 yards.

Sudol raised his punting average by kicking eight times last week for a 38.7 average. His eight punts included one 62 yarder and a 50 yarder.

Sturdy Defense Wins for Lions

Line coach Harold "Truck" Yentsch should be very proud of the fine showing turned in by his proteges in Albright's 13-7 win over Muhlenberg College last Saturday night.

When Jack Sudol's punt was blocked and recovered by Muhlenberg on the Lions' four-yard line the Albright defensive line had to put on another of their famous goal line stands in order to pull the contest out of the fire.

Led by co-captain Blackie Weidman and freshman Ted Kujawski the Lions forced the Mules back to the seven on the first play and then held them to a two-yard advance on second down. Without huddling, the Cardinal and Grey then threw a pass into the right flat which was batted down by halfback Jack Peiffer. With 30 seconds remaining the Mules looked like a sure bet to score. But once again defensive back Peiffer batted down a Skidmore pass in the end zone to end the Muhlenberg threat.

Lions Bid for Fourth Win Against F&M Diplomats

Sponaugle's Club is Undefeated in Three Starts; Gulian Hopes to Score Third Victory Over Foe

With a record of three and one for the season, the Albright Lions are out to make it four in a row by beating Franklin and Marshall tomorrow afternoon at Lancaster.

Although the Diplomats are unbeaten this season, the Roaring Lions are favored to take this 23rd annual classic. The Dips hold an overall series edge over the Lions with 15 triumphs against five defeats and two ties, but the Albrightians have the upper hand in the four year rivalry since Coach Woody Sponaugle and Coach Eddie Gulian took over at F & M and Albright, respectively.

The four year series stands at two decisions for Albright, one for the Diplomats and one tie.

Of late, the F & M-Albright tussles have been low scoring affairs with only four touchdowns in four games. In 1948, the first year the teams met under their present tutors, the ball game wound up a 0-0 stalemate. In 1949 Albright triumphed 7-0, and in 1950, when the Diplomats went unbeaten and untied, they took Albright 14-0. Last fall the Lions came through with a 6-0 victory in the Homecoming tilt with Willie Smith scoring the touchdown.

Lions Favored

The Dips are anxious to even the modern series but all the odds favor the Lions to make it two straight. The Lions have already beaten Lafayette, Gettysburg and Muhlenberg, while holding Temple to a close game, whereas the Diplomats have not met any one in the class of these four teams.

In backs, Wally Witmer, Ken Davis and Bob Green, Coach Sponaugle fields a trio of capable ball handlers, while Dave Ritter calls the signals.

The line should stand up well with Ted Rabuck at the pivot post, flanked by Koch, Schlager, Mussell, Ziegler, Reinhard and Frantz.

The Lions will probably field the same team that downed Muhlenberg. The forward wall will consist of experienced performers: Bob Zapora, Jack Clopper, Len Zahurak, Norm Ruppert and Fred Hess who will team with Bob Krize and Bruce Eickhoff at ends. It will be either Bob Carney or Mike DePaul calling signals, with veterans, Bruce Tenley, Tony D'Apolito and Jack Sudol filling out the backfield.

The defensive lineup will see Joe Rayick and Ed McNeill at ends, Ted Kajawski and Herb Weidman at tackle, Blackie Weidman and Fred Strahlendorf at the guards, and Ray Stoneback at center. Veterans Jack Pieffer and Bill Locher plus Freshman Jack Huntzinger and Sudol make up the secondary.

Zetas Register Third I-M Triumph

APO's Take Second Spot with 3-1 Record

Having beaten the Rebels 27-0 on Tuesday, the Zetas strengthened their hold on first place in Coach Bobby Hick's Intra-Mural football league. The Rebel game was the third victory of the season for the Zetas, who are undefeated.

On Monday the Frosh evened their record at two and two by knocking off the Pi Taus. In another game on Tuesday the APO's eked out a 6-2 win over the Kappas.

Coach Hicks announced that the freshman Wildcats have dropped out of the league. Each team on the Wildcats schedule will receive an additional win.

The Daymen were scheduled against the Rebels on Wednesday while the Frosh were slated to try for their third win against the Jerseyites.

Yesterday the Pi Taus met the Kappas, while the champion Zetas put their title on the line against the APO's.

The standings as of October 21:

	Won	Lost	Tied
APO's	3	1	0
Daymen	2	1	0
Frosh	2	2	0
Rebels	1	1	2
Jerseyites	1	1	1
Kappas	1	2	1

Charlie Martone Gets Position at Swedesboro

Charlie Martone has stepped into one of the finest football coaching jobs in South Jersey. He accepted a position at Swedesboro High School, which last year tied for the South Jersey Group I championship. They should repeat again this year under Charley's guidance.

"Hook" not only co-captained the football squad but also captained the baseballers and was the outstanding pitcher and hitter for the past two years.

The Pi Alpha Tau sorority held their annual rush party for freshman women on Monday evening, October 20, at Baer Park Field House. Members of the sorority put on a skit relating to the theme of the party, which was Robin Hood.

Prizes were awarded to Sally Lanz and Sylvia Gruel for the best costumes.

Alpha Pi Omega

Fifty-five Alpha Pi Omega alumni plus their families attended the APO open house held last Saturday afternoon at the fraternity house. Each guest was welcomed by the active brothers, escorted around the house and served a light snack. The alumni re-organized themselves more effectively to aid the active fraternity. Plans were made for future alumni functions, financial matters were settled and old times discussed.

During the week-end, Dr. and Mrs. Nace revealed to the APO's that a modern germicidal ultraviolet lamp would be given by them to the fraternity. This device will be installed in the sleeping quarters in order to prevent colds. Modernizing the cellar into a game room will start sometime next week.

Kappa Upsilon Phi

The second regular meeting of the Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity was held Monday, October 20. Plans for the annual fall rush dance were discussed. They set Saturday, December 6, as the date for the dance and appointed the following committees to plan for the dance: Peter Nicholas, location for the dance; Bruce Eickhoff, decorations; Donald Ermold, band; Chris Walck, favors and programs; Andrew Catchmark, refreshments; and William McHugh, invitations.

Robert Zapora, house manager, commended the members of the fraternity on their work on the house and grounds in preparation for Homecoming.

Zeta Omega Epsilon

The Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity held an alumni meeting at 4:30 in the Zeta house on Saturday of the Homecoming Week-end. Plans for the future of the fraternity were drawn up. Mr. Glenn Morris, Zeta alumni president and president of the Germantown National Bank, conducted the meeting of 150 alumni and the active members.

The Zetas have also appointed their fall rush dance committee consisting of: Sheldon Brook, Joseph Kierstead, Norman Ruppert and James Goss. The dance will be held Saturday night, December 6.

Pi Tau Beta

115 Pi Tau Beta alumni returned on Homecoming Week-end and were greeted by the active members at their suite in the Albright Court Apartments, reported William Schmidt, '52 president at the meeting on Monday night.

Bert Pergola will be in charge of the fall dinner-dance which will be held on December 12. Lee Snyder and Michael Scarpignato are co-chairmen for the spring dinner-dance.

Le Cercle Francais Meets

Le Cercle Francais met at the home of Mrs. Edith Douds last week. At this meeting which was conducted entirely in French by Marilyn Yatron, president, the members voted to invite all second year French students to the club.

Harriet Brown was named chairman of the cake sale committee for Wednesday, October 29. Anne Lanz sang several French selections and refreshments were served.

The November meeting will feature a French movie.

'Local Boy Makes Good'

Week-end Draws Record Attendance

presentation of keys, Mr. Edward A. Reider, Jr. and Frederick R. Shenk, who represented the construction company and the architect; presentation of the building, Mr. William E. Maier, '31; acceptance of the building, Mr. Glenn K. Morris, '18; dedication ritual, Dr. Reuben H. Mueller; prayer of dedication, Dr. Levi H. Zerr, '19; benediction, Rev. Rollin T. Reiner, '41. Mr. George C. Bollman, '21, was the master of ceremonies.

Gymnastic Entertainment
Entertainment was afforded the audience following the dedication by a gymnastic exhibition which was conducted by two gymnastic teams from Philadelphia. Robert Stout, captain of the 1952 U. S. Olympic Gymnastic Team, was a member of the group and several other performers were also members of the Olympic team.

Refreshments Plus Dinner
Refreshments were served from 4 to 5:30 by the alumni women in Krause Hall. An informal dinner was held in the physical education building preceding the football game.

Reading Merchants Contribute
The following Reading merchants contributed gifts for the queen and her court: Beverly Shops, Kins, Hollywood Film Service, Jeannette Shop, Kay's, Warner Theatre, One Hour Martinizing, London Women's Shoppe, Tyack Jewelers, Bab's Shoppe, Memo Shoppe, Leslie's, Smart Accessories, Brakelmann's Jewelers, Feel Fine Hosiery, Stern's Dept. Store, Parisian Shoppe, Bonds, Chiarelli Brothers Music Store, Famous Maid Shop. The Pi Tau Beta fraternity donated an orchid corsage for the queen.

and Dorothy Kuettel made the goals for Albright.

The other two games were both losses. Kutztown won 1-0, and Moravian won 3-1 with Pat Miller scoring the only goal. The Albright defense was weak because several of the varsity members did not make the trip.

Dr. Mueller Addresses Y's And Reading Group

Dr. Reuben H. Mueller, general secretary of Christian Education and associate secretary of Evangelism of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, of Dayton, Ohio, was the speaker at the combined service of the Y's and the Reading area Evangelistic Mission last Tuesday. Dr. Mueller spoke on the subject "The Galilean Accent," emphasizing the accents of faith in God, prayer and conviction by truth.

He stressed that today one should have belief in God, always poised spiritually and constantly praying. If a person does this he will be moved by deep conviction in all human relationships.

Next Tuesday the Y meeting will be held in Krause Hall at 7:30 p. m. The recreation committee is in charge of this Hallowe'en affair.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Albrightians,
Words can not express my appreciation for your cooperation, which was responsible for the success of our Homecoming Week-end for '52.

I can only say thank you; thank you for a task well done.
Sincerely yours,
Charles B. Hollenbach
Chairman for '52
Homecoming Week-end

Going Places!

that cute marine lieutenant was at the Homecoming game, it was Vincent Gentile who is in Marine Corps Officer Training at Quantico, Virginia.

William Heck, Francis Carney and John Rhoads are beating the books at Indiana University and Western Reserve respectively where they find everything new and interesting, but have an intense dislike for those night classes.

Marie Kaputo and Dolores Bedding are working away quite happily in Pomeroy's under the Executive Training Program.

Mrs. John McKenna, Doris Hill to you, and Margery Mansfield are working at the Philadelphia Electric Co. as economists.

Marilyn Russo's long hours in the science building were rewarded with a position as technician in the biological department of the School of Public Health at Columbia University.

Don't fret if your friends' names haven't been mentioned for we shall have more news for you in future editions.

National Council of Churches To Sponsor Essay Contest

Plans for a nation-wide essay contest on the Point IV Program with prize awards totalling $1,800 have been announced by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

The contest, which opens Nov. 1, 1952 and closes at midnight, March 31, 1953, is open to all Americans between the ages of 15 and 23. Both students and young people not in school are eligible, according to Ernest Lefever, associated director of the National Council's Department of International Justice and Goodwill, sponsor of the contest.

Prizes will be awarded to two groups consisting of high-school age contestants, 15 to 18 years, and college-age participants, 19 to 23. Names of winners will be announced about May 15, 1953.

In addition to the two first prizes of $400 each, there will be two second-place awards of $200, two third prizes of $100 each, and twenty other prizes of $25 each.

Essays on the subject "The United States and the Underdeveloped Areas," may be submitted at any time after November 1. Basic purpose of the contest, said Mr. Lefever, is to stimulate active interest of young Americans in the problems of the Point IV Program and our relationship with the economically less developed countries of the world.

Explaining that "Point IV is a two-way street," Mr. Lefever said, "We are naturally concerned with pointing up U. S. responsibility to underdeveloped areas in Asia, Africa and Latin America. But we are equally concerned with recognizing our dependence upon these areas for raw materials and markets, to say nothing of the ideas and values we may learn from them."

Chief requirements of the contest are that the essays be kept to one thousand words or less and deal with the moral responsibility of the U. S. and the underdeveloped countries. The contestants may choose any phase of this topic as the subject for their essays.

Judges of the competition will be Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America and chairman of the International Development Advisory Board for the Point IV Program; Mildred McAfee Horton, former president of Wellesley College and a vice president of the National Council of Churches; and Dr. John C. Bennett, a professor of Christian Ethics at Union Theological Seminary, New York City.

Made possible by the Zelah Van Loan Fund, the contest has been officially endorsed by the Council's United Christian Youth Movement. Contest instruction leaflets and posters announcing the contest will be sent upon request by the Point IV Essay Committee, National Council of Churches, 79 E. Adams St., Chicago 3, Illinois.

Lion's Den

Clean Sweep Over Mules

Sophomore Don Seltzer returned to form at an appropriate time. He and freshman Bill Shirk tied for first place last Friday as the Lion thinclads won their first cross country meet in two years.

The double victory on Homecoming Week-end, over Muhlenberg, Albright's traditional rival, must have been especially pleasing to the many returning alumni.

Lions Face Undefeated Opponents

Tomorrow, when Coach Eddie Gulian's gridders invade Lancaster to face Franklin and Marshall, they will be out to hand the Diplomats their first loss of the season. F and M beat John Hopkins 19-13 in their opening and then ran away with Dickinson 33-21 in the Chocolate Bowl. Last week Drexel bowed to the Dips by the score of 31-13.

It looks like it will be a close game, but it will be one of the easier ones remaining on the Lion's schedule. Of Albright's next five opponents Scranton and Lebanon Valley both have strong teams and both are undefeated so far. Moravian looks like the weakest team the Lions will face.
