Washington Commentator-Journalist Features Second Cultural Program

Esther Van Wagoner Tufty, noted Washington commentator and journalist, will appear as the second speaker in Albright's 1946-47 Cultural Series next Tuesday, November 19 at 8 p. m. in the College Chapel.

Mrs. Tufty's syndicated column and her broadcasts about the news of the Capitol reach an enthusiastic audience throughout the nation. As a political observer, she has become a favorite with both Republican and Democratic congressmen.

A foreign correspondent before the war, Esther Tufty was the first American newspaper woman accredited as a war correspondent in World War II. International delegates, gave her special respect for her coverage of the San Francisco Conference, and she was the only newspaperwoman to accompany Thomas E. Dewey on his cross-country presidential campaign.

Mrs. Tufty's intimate association with the luminaries of Washington's social and diplomatic circles has given her ample opportunity to pick up the news behind the news, news before it occurs; and on more than one occasion she herself has dropped the conversational seed that has created news.

The commentator was born in Michigan, and graduated from the University of Wisconsin. One of her two sons served as a naval air cadet in the war. Mrs. Tufty has the unique position of honorary mayor of Transverse City, Michigan. In addition, she is associate editor of the "She" magazine, and former president of the Women's National Press Club.

Students and faculty will be admitted to the lecture on their activities books. The cultural Series are not open to the public.

Pi Gamma Mu Fraternity To Induct 13 Members With Traditional Rite

Thirteen new members will be initiated into the Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity, tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Lower Social Room. Among the pledges are Martha Herrick, Beatrice Ribner, Margie Handy, Edward Bigler, Minnie Silbermann, Ruth Rehr, Dennis Ertel, Robert Holtzapfel, Mary Jane Painter, Lynne Parr, William Ebert, Newell Wert, and Glenn Aderhold. Professor John Khouri will also be admitted to this group.

George Morfogen, president, will preside at the induction ceremony which is traditional to Pi Gamma Mu. Eileen O'Neil and Agnes Snyder, vice president, have charge of the arrangements for the ceremony and the refreshments which will be served.

After the service, papers will be read by Miss Snyder and Morfogen. The Albright organization is a branch of the Pennsylvania Zeta Chapter of the national fraternity.

I.R.C.'ers to Attend Vassar Convention

Delegates from Albright's International Relations Club will participate in a convention of I.R.C. clubs to convene at Vassar College November 30 and December 1. The representatives, Dennis Ertel and Geraldine Wentzel, president of the club, will participate in round-table discussions concerning the Near East and Europe.

Ertel, vice-president, related some of his experiences in the army in Europe to the members of I.R.C. at their meeting last Thursday in the Lower Social Room.

Professor: "I must beg you to give me your undivided attention. It is absolutely impossible that you can form a true idea of this hideous animal unless you fix your eyes on me."

Vesper Reveals "Arsenic" Cast

Play Concerns Story Of Two Mad Sisters

Nine freshmen and five upper-classmen have been cast in the forthcoming Domino production, "Arsenic and Old Lace", to be held December 13 and 14, announced Professor Annadora Vesper, dramatic advisor. The cast includes:

- Abby Brewster ..... Margaret Fisher
- The Rev. Dr. Harper ..... William Marlow
- Teddy Brewster ..... Stanley Taub
- Officer Brophy ..... John Spindler
- Officer Klein ..... Arthur High
- Martha Brewster ..... Beverly Bresler
- Elaine Harper ..... Violette Seibert
- Mortimer Brewster ..... Wesley Brown
- Mr. Gibbs ..... Arthur Lockner
- Jonathan Brewster ..... Norman Telsey
- Dr. Einstein ..... William Lewis
- Officer O'Hara ..... John Reside
- Lieutenant Rooney ..... Jack Snook
- Mr. Witherspoon ..... Ralph Stoudt

"Arsenic and Old Lace" was first presented on Broadway in 1941, after which it was made into a motion picture with Cary Grant and Boris Karloff. The plot of the play revolves around two, sweet Brewster sisters who try to make their home a lasting haven for lonely, homeless gentlemen. In a kindly way the sisters serve their old gentlemen homemade elderberry wine, made from this recipe: "For a gallon of elderberry wine take one teaspoonful of arsenic, then add just a pinch of cyanide."

The Brewster sisters and all their family are unusual people. One brother believes he is Teddy Roosevelt; the other brother looks like Boris Karloff. These extraordinary Brewsters make "Arsenic and Old Lace" a unique play.

At a meeting of the Domino Club held last Thursday in the College Chapel, Robert Dombro presented a report on the dramatics of Okinawa, India, and other places where Mr. Dombro was stationed while in the service.

Speech Students To Discuss Marriage In Chapel Program

"What Makes a Happy Lasting Marriage" will be the subject of the panel discussion to be presented in Friday's chapel by members of Professor Annadora Vesper's public speaking classes. Shirley Johnson will be moderator, while Sarah Davenport, Eileen O'Neil, John Snook, and Lee Adams will discuss the aspects of marriage problems.

Tomorrow and Thursday, Dr. Gerritt Memming, head of the German department, will speak in the assembly programs on liberal education and culture stressing that the truly educated person is not satisfied merely with acquiring the tools for making a living. It is his responsibility to develop, through sacrificial efforts, a well-rounded life. A cultured individual possesses forgiveness, tolerance, and love.

Rev. R. S. Kresge, pastor of the Christ Evangelical Church, Reading, will address the assemblies next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Painter to Edit 1947 Yearbook

Mary Jane Painter will be editor of the 1947 "Cue", it was decided at a meeting of the senior class last week. The seniors selected Aaron Taub to be business manager of the yearbook.

Campus Ballot

As a result of a campus-wide ballot taken at the class meetings last Thursday, students agreed to have an amount, to be set at a later date, taken from their tuitions to finance the publication of a yearly "Cue."

In the past, the "Cue" has been published biennially. The ballot also revealed that students are willing to have an amount added to their tuitions to finance the increased publishing costs of The Albrightian.

Class Project

The class of '47 will assist Miss Painter and Taub in editing and producing the "Cue".

Work on the "Cue" will be started as soon as the publication of the "Cue" is approved by the executive committee of the board of trustees, who will meet December 1. Miss Painter stated that the cooperation of every member of the class will be necessary to produce the book.

Y's Appoint Lucy Smith, Robert Ziegler Heads Of Spring Retreat

Lucy Smith and Robert Ziegler will be the co-chairmen for the spring Y Retreat to be held on May 3 and 4, announced Agnes Snyder and Newell Wert, presidents of the YW and YM respectively. At a recent meeting of the Cabinet of the Combined Y's, Owen Henry was elected treasurer of the YMCA to replace Warren Pfost, who transferred to Springfield College.

Miss Miriam Faust, missionary to China for the past six years, spoke on behalf of the World Student Service Fund at the regular Y meeting last Tuesday, November 6, in the College Chapel. The program was in charge of David DeWitt and Thelma Degler. Miss Faust pointed out the need for unity among students of the world, and our responsibilities in helping them to attain their education.

Miss Snyder reported on the Area Conference of the Student Christian Movement which she attended with Thelma Degler on November 1, 2, and 3, at Cedar Crest College. Approximately fifty students were present representing Albright, Kutztown, Muhlenberg, Moravian, Lebanon Valley, and East Stroudsburg. The theme of the conference was "We Are a World Movement" and all aspects of the purposes, aims, and objectives of a college Y were discussed.

Theme for Education Week Will be "Atomic Age"

American Education Week will be observed during the week of November 10 when a display of educational literature will be placed in the Alumni Memorial Library. As the theme of this week, national educators have chosen "Education for the Atomic Age". Various aspects of this subject will be emphasized each day. Topics for the week include: practicing brotherhood, building world security, facing new tasks, developing better communities, strengthening home life, investing in education, and promoting health and safety.

Rural Life Institute To Open at Seminary Next Tuesday

Rural life and its problems will be the theme for the Institute on Rural Life to be held at the Evangelical School of Theology next Tuesday, November 19, by the Department of Town and Country Churches of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches. Local preparations are in charge of Dr. A. Roger Kratz, Dean of the Evangelical School of Theology, with Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary, serving as chairman in charge of the planning committee.

Rev. Earl S. Rudisill, Ph.D., Specialist on home problems and adult education on the staff of the Parish and Church School Board of the United Lutheran Church, will open discussion at 10 a. m. on the subject "Preserving and Promoting the Christian Family." The afternoon session will be opened at 1:30 p. m. by Dr. Hoover, who will speak on "The Assets and Liabilities of Rural Life," after which there will be an address on "Visual Education and the Rural Church" by Dr. Ralph D. Heim, of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary.

It Hurts Not . . .

"In most of our cities and towns throughout the nation, November is the month for raising Community Chest Funds. We have come to look upon our Community work as a very necessary element in meeting the needs in our community.

"On the Albright College campus the W.S.S.F. drive has become as meaningful as the Community Chest drive in the cities. Students the world over feel a greater unity of spirit and ambition than ever before. We who have the opportunities afforded by the best in education and physical comforts, cannot refuse assistance to the needy students around the world who are in desperate need of even the necessities for life.

"The goal established is within reach. With the full cooperation of students and faculty, it can be attained."

HARRY V. MASTERS, President

Members to Present German Club Program

A variety show featuring vocalists and instrumentalists will form the main portion of the program at the German Club meeting on Thursday at 8:00 p. m. in the Lower Social Room. Mrs. Erika Rothelml will render a piano solo after which Jerome Dersch will read humorous poetry. Vocal selections will be sung by Carolyn Powers and Dorace Hornberger and the serving of refreshments will conclude the program.

Dollars for Destiny

"The promise of tomorrow lies in the youth of this generation. Ours is a world which needs a new sense of values. Without enlarged ideals and deepened loyalties, the future seems hollow and joyless. To a large extent this impulse and power must come from the students of the world. There is a common brotherhood in the aspirations of students everywhere. Youth does not want pity, but decisive action in the building of world concord and a permanent peace.

"We at Albright are enjoying many privileges—fellow students from foreign nations are looking toward us for aid to assist them in their great educational tasks. The establishment of the World Student Service Fund is to give direct help to the less privileged brothers in our world of today. Many still possess memories from the occurrences of mass murders, starvation, and disease.

"In the name of brotherhood, let us give liberally to this fund which may rekindle the hope and promise of tomorrow through the students of today. Let us give in order that freedom of thought and the search for truth might continue. Let us give in order that future generations might live."

"Salute"

Here's an item that may interest some of you literary-minded vets on campus, in fact any of our former G.I.'s who have something to say on the current educational set-up, and would like to say it.

"Salute," a magazine produced by the former editors of "Yank" and "Stars and Stripes," is sponsoring a letter contest on the subject: Problems of the College Veteran.

This contest is intended to afford veterans attending accredited colleges and universities under the G.I. Bill of Rights, the opportunity of "sounding off" on their educational problems. From their opinions may evolve some good ideas or partial solutions to many of the major issues arising out of the great veteran influx in the nation's colleges. Perhaps one practical, constructive plan, which will be of value to the colleges as well as the students, may be initiated as a result.

Cash prizes to the amount of $750.00 are being offered to the writers of the ten most outstanding letters. First prize is $250; second prize is $100; and there are eight additional prizes of $50 each.

"Salute" says that the length of the letters should not exceed 250 words. All letters are to be addressed to the Contest Editor, "Salute," 19 Park Place, New York 7, N. Y. The contest closes January 10, 1947; letters may not be postmarked later than midnight of that date.

It seems like an excellent opportunity for some of you fellows on campus, so we're inviting all of you to join in.

Council Says

At Student Council meeting on Thursday, the following report on THE ALBRIGHTIAN and the "Cue" ballot was given by Agnes Snyder, chairman of the student activities committee: 176 voted in favor of having the "Cue" published yearly; 14 students were opposed to this measure. In favor of increased tuition for a more complete and frequent THE ALBRIGHTIAN were 164 students; against this movement were 26 students. It was also reported by Miss Snyder that only one-third of the student body voted in this election.

For the remainder of the football season, students may bring guests into the student section. Outsiders must, however, have reserved seat tickets, reported Gerald Laucks, chairman of a special committee to contact Eugene H. Shirk, faculty manager of athletics.

Gilbert Feeg was appointed chairman of the publicity committee of Student Council, to replace Umberto Tucci, who recently resigned.

The absentees at this meeting included Betty Burnett, Pi Alpha Tau; Gilbert Feeg, Pi Taus; Marion Fiedler, Daywomen; Umberto Tucci, Daymen; Gerald Hertzog, Dorm Men; William Heckler, Alpha Pi Omega; and Jeanne Flickinger, Phi Beta Mu. Also absent was Dean LeVan P. Smith of the faculty.

BY ANNE ONYMOUS

Letters have been pouring into Anne's office begging her to explain how our boss-lady got her nickname "Einell O'Leen." Well, I'll probably get fired for this, but here goes: it seems there was a certain sailor who got tongue-tied every time he saw her.

Virginia Fox mistook a jack-o-lantern for her boyfriend last week. She naturally burnt herself and now she believes that all men are "hot-heads."

"Admiral" Grubb is planning to sail away from the bevy of girls that hope to catch him today, but he better make allowances for Kitty Frantz, who is practically an "admiral" herself.

Fred Roland really took Anne's former advances seriously for he is now taking fencing lessons. In fact, a number of Albright's handsome Harrys are following his wise example just for protection.

Connie Ball, clever campus queen, and Lennie, her off-campus Casanova, would get Anne's vote for the cutest couple since Columbus if Connie could stop chewing gum.

Mary Bechtel, through a series of well-placed mistakes in her knitting, has discovered an insane new design for women's gloves and if fashion continues on its way to the asylum, no doubt she will soon become famous.

As for poor Sammy Orlando, every time he tries to knit, no matter what it is, he ends up with boxing gloves.

Heber Yeagley wanted his name connected with Jeanne Flickinger's last week and I want him to know that the typist lost the last page of the Snooper copy. Sorry, Heb.

Last week, the Pats were looking for freaks for the circus at their rush party. Seems funny enough to Anne—just that statement. Anne will probably be sent a saucer of milk for that crack.

Inquiring Reporter

With Tuesday, November 12, finally here, many "eager beavers" on campus are anxiously awaiting the much talked of Sadie Hawkins Day race. Hoping to uncover a few schemes to either aid the pursuing female or warn the pursuing male, your Inquiring Reporter unearthed a double-barreled shotgun and fired the double question to various Eds and co-eds. The query for the masculine side was: "Who do you want to be chased by on Sadie Hawkins Day?" And the feminine quarter was asked: "Who are you going to chase on Sadie Hawkins Day?" with the following replies:

- Jane Mellinger, '50, Lib. Arts—The slowest runner.
- Betty Savage, '50, Lib. Arts—Any male will do.
- Frank Kroenig, '50, Pre-Med.—My wife.
- Val Kolton, '47, Pre-Med.—If it's human it may chase me.
- Joyce Yocum, '50, Pre-Med.—Some black-haired guy in the freshman class that looks like L'il Abner.
- Joyce Thompson, '50, Lib. Arts—I'm going to set traps. I don't like to run.
- Fred Neuroth, '50, Pre-Med.—Daisy Mae, who else?
- Jerry Dersch, '49, Pre-Med.—Anyone but Lena the Hyena. I'm too young to die.
- Marie Courtney, '50, Pre-Med.—All eligible bachelors between the ages of 9 and 99.
- Mary Bechtel, '49, Lib. Arts—Any man with two broken legs who sits under my favorite tree.
- Sam P. Orlando, '49, Lib. Arts—Anything in a skirt—even Lena!
- Bob Ziegler, '48, Pre-Min.—The fastest girl.
- Rachel Ravitz, '49, Lib. Arts—I'm chasing Kilroy.
- Vivian Esslinger, '49, Pre-Nursing—Can I sit up in a tree and use a rope?
- Mervin Helfrich, '47, Pre-Min.—I'm going to be Old Man Mose. Anyone want any prophecies?
- Thomas Henry, '49, Pre-Med.—It's a waste of time! I came here for an education, not a wife.
- The Reporter asks: Are the Aleutians out of bounds?

Home Ec Omelet

We'll bet most of you who attended the West Chester game last Saturday noticed the colorful corsages which many of the girls were sporting. The large white chrysanthemums were tied with red and white ribbons and really left no doubt in the minds of the onlookers as to which Alma Mater the wearers hailed. The Heo Club was responsible for making available this showing of school spirit. Club members hope to sell corsages at the rest of the home games, and there is a possibility that orders will be taken beforehand. Profits from the sales will be added to the treasury of the club.

The Heo Club's last meeting consisted of a pre-Christmas celebration and the induction of the following freshmen and upperclassmen: Elizabeth Chelius, Janet Combs, Ethel Hill, Barbara Lichtenberger, Beverly Morgan, Fredaberyl Moyer, Marjorie Boyer, and Hazel Calden.

In the past, the traditional, candlelight ceremony has been held at the first meeting. This year the induction was postponed in order that the new members might become better acquainted with the club.

The club is taking part in the World Christmas Festival. College home ec clubs all over the nation are participating in the festival by packing and sending boxes of clothing and other scarce items overseas to the needy. The theme of the program is "A century of peace—from today, through world friendship."

Sadie Hawkins Day

Today is Sadie Hawkins Day. When the women will run a race To catch a man and make him stay In spite of figure or face.

Handsome L'il Abner will be there To flee from our Daisy Mae sweet But we know that Al Capp will take great care. Not to let those favorites meet.

And Albright College on this day Will enact this wonderful scene; The men will try to get away But the women will be more keen.

Now my predictions I'd like to write Before the great moment arrives; Marryin' Sam will be in a plight For changing so many men's lives.

I say that Daisy Mae will chase Jimmy Brusck instead of Jerry, But maybe Elaine Huber's face Will make L'il Abner merry.

Though Marjorie P. could take her pick Since she runs more swift than the rest, She's sure to search for only Dick, And those two by Sam will be blest.

I do hear that poor old Hops Will be chased by gals thirty and three; He's planning on the help of cops, So what chance is there for me?

And there'll be competition when Chanin and Landis start To race today at 1:10; They're both after Stan Green's heart.

The puzzle of ye writer now Is—whom is A. Schell's pick? Will this lass of Pi Alpha Tau Chase Wagner, Lykens, or Glick? (Continued on Page 3)

Motorcycles, Shaky Men, Women, and Squirrels Break Loose in Sadie Hawkins Day Scramble

Today is the day when Albright's fair sex dons its seven league boots and pursues unsuspecting (that's what you think), but eventually willing males. It can be pointed out that it is unfair for the fellows to hide in any gopher holes they may happen to find on campus or for the girls to use Tommy Enoch's motorcycle while watching today's race one squirrel turned to the other and said, "They look more confused than the U. N. conference."

A group of energetic Dopatchers journeyed on bare feet, that is, to Reading to meet Mr. Capp in the authentic style of mountain folk. Of course, they rode back in class. They called the cab company, and asked for a yellow mule. The freshly patched Dopatchers who escorted the eminent cartoonist from the Berkshire Hotel to the campus (they were prevailed upon not to hog tie and drag him out) were: Daisy Mae, Jean Borgstrom; L'il Abner, Jerry Pedota; Mammy Yokum, Gloria McKittrick; Pappy Yokum, Newell Wert; Wolf Gal; Jeanne Schlegel; L'il Indian Joe, Ren Rudloff; Moonbeam McSwine, Beth Sanger; Hairless Joe, Benny Markowitz; Sadie Hawkins, Betty Burnett; Ole' Man Mose, Mervin Helfrich; Marryin' Sam, Evans Keim; Sadie Hawkins' father, Abe Markowitz; Al Capp, William Walb.

Fortunately, everyone was able to crowd in front of the Science Hall to hear Mr. Capp's interesting, and entertaining talk. Previous commitments prevented Mr. Capp from making more than one appearance.

The idea of furnishing the girls with simulated marriage certificates was quite clever. Of course, one girl is carrying things too far. She keeps dragging a justice of the peace with her.

As a climax to this gala celebration, the gals will escort the guys they have run down to tonight's Sadie Hawkins Day dance in which all the Dopatch characters will participate. Festivities get under way at 8:00 p. m. The girls will present their catches with home-made corsages. Anything unsightly will do—something like dried radishes tied with a shoe lace. In addition the girls will furnish the transportation to the dance, plus asking the men for all the dances. The men are requested to exhibit extreme introverted personalities tonight.

A five piece band will furnish the crescendos and diminuendoes for square dancing. Two instructors are engaged to teach all moves in this fascinating method of dancing.

Let's all arise to the occasion, dress in our worst rags, and turn out for the fun. Refreshments will be on hand, as per usual.

A professor of Greek tore his suit and took it to a tailor named Acidopolus from Athens. Mr. Acidopolus examined the suit, and asked "Euripides?" "Yes," said the professor, "Eumenides?"

CLASSY DOINGS

CLYDE GUIDES

James Brusch was elected president of the '48 at the last meeting of the junior class. Professor Clyde A. Harding was selected as class advisor. The social events of the juniors will be planned by Marjorie Christ with John Patrician, Gerald Laucks, and Jean Borgstrom assisting. The publicity will be in the hands of Margery Plowfield, chairman, Gilbert Feeg, Charles Stump, and Anne Wickhaman.

The Juke Box Jamboree dance in the College Dining Hall last Friday was sponsored by the Junior Class.

GOOD TIMES AHEAD

Under the direction of the social committee, the sophomore class is scheduling a hayride and barn party for December 6. There will be music by the College Jazz band, entertainment, and refreshments.

In charge of the sub-committees for the affair are Mary Fry, transportation; Vilma Griesemer, refreshments; Howard Guldin, decorations; David DeWitt, entertainment; Richard Hagmayer, registration; Dorothy Hohl, publicity; and Shirley Miller, chaperones.

The class of '49 is also planning a trip to the Hershey Ice Capades.

Other members of the social committee, which is headed by Jean Long, are William Marlow, Helen Ross, Richard Cattermole, Robert Snyder, Kenneth Lieb, Elaine Huber, Eugene Shollenberger, Joseph Kubisen, Robin Fenichel, Claire Porter, President Perry Matz, Joyce Ruth, Virginia Fox, Miriam Hellman, and Marie Delle Palme.

FRESHIES DANCE

The freshman class held its first class meeting last Thursday. Frank Bird, class president, presided over the meeting.

The social committee, under the direction of Stanley Taub and Beverly Reimsnyder, announced that the tentative date for the frosh Friday night dance would be November 22.

Dues of one dollar per year was set by the class of '50. George Baumgartel, treasurer, will collect the dues.

Deans Plan Orientation For Evening Students

Dean Helen L. Cunliffe and Dean Levan Smith are planning to set up a modified orientation program for the students who are attending night classes at Albright. The purpose of this program is to familiarize these students with the aims and objectives of Albright so that they, too, can become an integral part of Albright.

On November 1 and 2, Dean Cunliffe attended a conference of the Pennsylvania Association of Women Deans, held in Harrisburg at the Penn Harris Hotel. The program consisted of speeches given by outstanding guidance leaders in the country.

Frosh Guidance

Friendships

By Herb Vogt

To have a friend you must be a friend. And the simplest manner which can be employed to achieve that aim is by putting into practice the principle emphasized by the Golden Rule.

Everyone has heard and repeated this ancient and simple phrase, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you". Yes, it's simple as that and yet the wisdom embodied in those few words can be the stepping stone to success socially, while a student on campus and later in the business world.

Friendship is not a common thing to be picked up in the street. It would not be worthwhile if it were. Like wisdom, it must be sought and to keep it demands care and thought. Most people make friends easily enough, but few keep them. They do not give the subject the attention it requires and deserves. We want the pleasure of society without the duty. We would like to get the good of our friends without burdening ourselves with any responsibility about keeping them.

The choice of friends is very important because the people with whom we associate reflect and affect our characters. Often we make connections and acquaintances and call them friends. This is superficial and shows poor training on our part. A man is known by the company he keeps. His thoughts, desires, and ambitions are revealed here. A man is moulded into the likeness of the lives that come nearest him.

If every evil man is a center of contagion, then every good man is a center of healing. On the other hand, it is not wise to be too exclusive and too aloof in our cultivation of friendships. Yet, we must be aware of the tendency which prompts us to make friends without much consideration of quality.

One of the primary requisites for making friends is trust. There must be freedom from pettiness and there must be open mindedness before friendship can be formed. Kindness, little acts of consideration, little confidences are all that are needed to keep a friendship alive and blooming.

The ideal friendship is grounded on what is permanent, on goodness, on character. It is a slow growth, since it takes time really to find out the valuable things in life, but is lasting since the foundation is stable. Anyone who has basked in the sunshine of a friendly smile discovers that somehow it is restful and somehow it is overpowering with a feeling of companionship, a feeling that we understand and are understood.

If the subject matter of this article had escaped you, because of lack of exposure to these simple phenomena, just wander among the smiling faces of the groups here at Albright. Join the merry throng and laugh with them. I have never found a palace where the evidences of friendliness and congeniality are more exemplified than right here on campus. You are part of that prevailing spirit, capture it. It is a vital phase of your education.

THE SNOOPER

Bill Ebbert and Harold Cooper have trouble figuring out the color wheel in Introductory Psych, but Christy has double trouble — she can't even stay awake.

So Miss Rodriguez is now playing cupid—One of her presents, Harold Bare, was married to the former Patricia Stearns on November 2 in the Little Church around the Corner in New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Bare met each other last year in one of our professor's evening Spanish classes.

Brothers and Sisters

SKUNK HOLLOW BOYS

At the Zeta meeting at which President Dennis Ertel presided November 4, it was announced that the fraternity Home Coming Day would be set for this Saturday. Immediately after the football game with Gettysburg, there will be a fraternal get-together of new and old members. The day will be climaxed by a semi-formal rush dance beginning at 8:30 p. m. at the Berkshire Hotel.

It was announced that the Zetas plan to represent the fraternity as the "Skunk Hollow Boys" at the Sadie Hawkins affair today.

MOON CALLS PATS

"Harvest Moon" will be the theme of Pi Alpha Tau's fall rush formal next Saturday, November 23 in the Walnut Room of the Berkshire Hotel. Herb Smith will furnish music for dancing at the formal, which will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Jeanne Schlegel, chairman, Eileen O'Neil, Lunne Parr, and Margaret Walton are in charge of arrangements, announced Betty Burnett, president of the sorority.

The Pats will hold their rush dinner next Monday, November 18 in the Garden Room of Whitner's Tea Room.

Members of the freshmen class and transfers were entertained last Monday at the Pat "county fair" rush party at the Y. W. C. A. Each sorority member operated a booth or concession like those found at typical county fairs. Taking part in the entertainment following the square dancing were Dorothy Moyer, Miss Burnett, Miss Schlegel, Gloria McKittrick, Miss Parr, Miss O'Neil, Faye Sheetz, Jean Schwartz, Marjorie Christ, and Helen Ross.

BACK TO SCHOOL

The Kappa Home Coming Day will be this Saturday, at which time some of the charter members of the frat are planning to return for the reunion. President Russell Guensch announced that the Alumni are in charge of the arrangements. The highlights of the reunion include the football game to be followed by a fraternal dinner in the evening. Kappas on campus are to contact John Rudzinski for further information.

DINE AND DANCE

An alumni and active chapter reunion will be a feature of Alpha Pi Omega's fall affairs. The reunion will be climaxed by a dinner-dance at the Reading Country Club. Waid Rowland is chairman of the affair, said George Morfogen, president.

Last week an informal reunion was held in honor of Bill and Dick Riffle, Art MacKay, Joseph Bond, and Bill Maier.

MUS PRANCE

Approximately sixty Albright women and their guests attended the Phi Beta Mu semi-formal dance held last Saturday evening in the College Dining Hall. Louis Fisher and his orchestra furnished music for dancing from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. The purple and gold color theme dominated the dance, which was the second Mu rush party for freshmen women and transfers. Dance favors were in the form of folders containing the signatures of all active Mus. Chaperones for the occasion were Professor and Mrs. John W. Khouri and Professor and Mrs. Charles B. Hollenbach.

S.T.D. Takes Pledges; Dec. Banquet Planned

Nine pledges were inducted into Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, last Wednesday evening, according to Marian Fiedler, president. The new members are Rosemarie Behler, James O'Connell, Robert Binder, Dorothy Hohl, Dorothy Seisler, Rachel Ravitz, Mary Bechtel, Mary Stokes, and Henrietta Morrison. Carolyn Powers and Jean Fehr will be initiated at a future meeting.

At the business meeting held after the pledge service it was decided to plan for a banquet for the December meeting. Miss Hohl is in charge of arrangements for the dinner. Jeanne Schlegel will handle plans for Sigma Tau Delta's chapel program in the near future.

The initiation charge of the new pledges is to write a short story or a poem of not less than twelve lines. They will wear the cardinal and black pledge ribbons during the pledge period.

Tau Kappa Alpha Inducts New Members

Tau Kappa Alpha, National Honorary Forensic Fraternity, inducted three members into its fellowship last Wednesday in the Dean's Parlor. Dr. C. E. Kachel, a charter member of the fraternity, conducted the impressive initiation ceremony in which Robert Holtzapfel, Geraldine Wentzel, and Henrietta Morrison were recognized as active members. Dr. John Douds and Donald Blackmore were the members attending the meeting. In the business session which followed the induction ceremony, Holtzapfel and Miss Morrison were elected president and vice-president, respectively. Dr. Douds serves as secretary. The new members were presented with certificates of membership.

Win or lose, it's all in fun To participate in this play, So be prepared for the sound of the gun On this great Sadie Hawkins Day.

RURAL LIFE INSTITUTE

Local people who will participate in the morning discussions will be Verna Criss, home economist of the County Agricultural Office, and Rev. Dr. John K. Stoudt of Leesport.

Dr. Ivan M. Gould, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Council of Churches, will bring greetings to those attending the conference.

A cordial invitation is extended to local pastors and all others interested in rural life and its problems to attend the institute.

A student bank is being opened at Baylor University where students may deposit personal funds at the office and withdraw them as desired, according to the Baylor Lariat, official publication of Baylor University. The service is being offered free to the student body to eliminate the necessity of keeping extra money in rooms or in a local bank account and paying bank service charges.

F & M Blanks Lions 12-0; Quick, Monaco Pace Dips

Albright's roaring Lions were white-washed for the second straight time last Saturday as the Diplomats of F. & M. blasted through to win 12-0. The setback was the fifth of the season for our team and the fourth in a row.

Albright as usual started out like a house afire. Davis, on the opening play, uncorked a long 60 yard pass to Kenny Kohl, who was halted on the F. & M. 23. The Albright cheering aggregation, anticipating a score, ground their fingernails to a butt, only to see their champions lose the ball on a costly fumble.

F. & M. Smashes Through

That was Albright's last threat in the first quarter, as the Diplomats began a long drive late in the opening frame. Sweeney, starting from the F. & M. 20, bulled over for a first down. A beautiful pass, Hornfeck to Karl, landed the Diplomats on the Albright 18, and with the second quarter only a minute old, Sweeney smashed through to paydirt. F. & M.'s conversion was shy and the Lions were trailing 6-0.

Midway in the second quarter, Albright launched another drive. A blocked punt recovered by Jerry Pedota gave the Lions the pill on the Diplomat 28. A pass, Maracani to Pedota, put the Lions in scoring position on the F. & M. 16, but the Diplomat line stiffened and took over on downs.

F. & M. began blasting away for No. 2 late in the first quarter and drove their way to the Albright 18, but it was the stout Lion line and a holding penalty which drove them back for their last threat in the first half.

F. & M. Collects No. 2

But the scrappy Diplomats were not to be denied. Albright hooped to open the second stanza and F. & M.'s Karl returned to their 28. From there big Bill Monaco blasted his way on two straight first downs to the Albright 49. Monaco's running mate, Johnny Quick, lived up to his name and scampered through the Lion line for two more first downs. The Dips were banging away at the touchdown door as first Monaco and then Johnny Quick added another first down. The Albright line, with their backs to the wall, couldn't stop jumping Johnny Quick, as the slippery Diplomat knifed his way through the big Lion line to another score. Quick's boot was blocked, but it really didn't matter since this was the clincher as far as the Albright hopes were concerned.

Only once in the closing minutes of the third quarter did Albright threaten, and then they only held their ground as far as the Diplomat 46. The Lions managed to halt the Dip attack, but the Lion offensive, never very powerful, bogged down almost to a halt. A few desperate aerials by Davis in the last frame gave the Albright fans plenty of excitement, but the game ended with the Diplomats in full control of a 12-0 verdict. This was the last road trip for our tame Lions, as they will wind up the season with two more games in their home den.

F&M Outruns Lions; Miller Paces Runners; Anlian Leads Lions

As if the football victory wasn't enough, the Diplomats of F. & M. poured on more coal by beating Gene Shirk's cross-country proteges in a meet held at F. & M. The final score for the 3 1/2 mile course was F. & M. 22; Albright 33.

It was Miller, Boardman, and Lunquist, all Diplomat boys, who set the pace, and finished one, two, three. Trailing them was Eddie Anlian, Jimmie Delp, and Freddie Roland, all of Albright.

Bob Miller, the speedy, pace-setting Diplomat, finished the course in 21.16. This brings the Lion harriers' record to one win and three setbacks.

West Chester Wallops Lions

West Chester's rough-riding harriers utterly crushed the Albright aggregation in a track meet held at West Chester last week. So complete was the West Chester triumph that the Rams permitted only one Albrightian, Eddie Anlian, to finish in the first eleven places. By winning the first five places the West Chester cross-country boys had little trouble in cruising to a 14-40 victory.

First place honors went to fleet Bobby Kerper who raced through the course in a beautiful 14:48.3 finish. Eddie Anlian, speedy vet from New Jersey, came through in No. 6 position in 15:21 for the Lions.

Albright Hockeyettes Play Beavers To-day

Albright's hard-slugging hockeyettes will play host to the Beaver lasses today when the two schools meet on the green for the first time. The contest is scheduled to take place on the new hockey field at three o'clock.

Having two games tucked under their belts, the red and white clad gals hope to give the superior Beaver crew a spirited fight. After the encounter at Ursinus when the Lionesses went down to a terrific 8-0 count, Mrs. Eva M. Mosser's team learned that physical education schools such as Ursinus and Beaver come under the heading of heads-up in hockey contestants with dazzling passes, beautiful scoops, and hard-hit goal smashes.

The Albright team, however, taking advantage of past defeats, has launched a full-scale drive with renewed vigor. In daily practices, the hockeyettes have shown considerable improvement so that the Beaver eleven will have a struggle on their hands.

BROTHERS and SISTERS

Elaine Schwartz was chairman of this affair and was assisted by Jane Bausher, Mary Louise Schappell, Jean Borgstrom, Jeanne Flickinger, and Ruth Rehr.

PENGUIN DANCE

Gilbert Peeg, president of the Pi Taus, revealed tentative plans for a formal fraternity dance to be held in December.

Peeg announced that the fraternity will operate an "Available Jones" bureau today for Sadie Hawkins. Man-catching bar traps will be available for a price.

G-burg Bullets Enter Lions' Lair As Favorites

Albright's football team will get some more rough handling next Saturday when Gettysburg's high powered Bullets invade the Lion's stadium. Although Gettysburg holds only two victories in the six games they have played so far, their record will still make them heavy favorites over Albright's battered Lions.

The Bullets opened the season with a 19-14 victory over Lehigh, and then lost their first game to a powerful Western Maryland squad 18 to 6. Regaining their winning stride, they posted a 27 to 14 victory over Lafayette, which Muhlenberg beat 32-20. This score alone makes the Bullets heavy favorites over the Lions. Since then the Battlefield Boys have dropped successive games to Delaware's undefeated squad 27-6, NYU 12 to 7, and Bucknell 19-0.

Like Albright, Gettysburg did not have football during the war. The Bullet squad is composed mainly of veterans and freshmen, headed by Joe Servino, a 176 pound fullback from Haddon Heights, N. J. Cervino most likely will be the only 1942 letterman to see action, as guard Bill Hartman and tackle Jim Lewis are reported to be out of action for the rest of the season. However, their team has eight return squadmen from 1942 who will probably see plenty of action. Vacant spots will go to freshmen who are good enough to escape playing on Gettysburg's Junior Varsity.

Probable starting lineup will be:

Albright	LE	Gettysburg
Pedota	Bird	Cauffman
Fromouth	LG	Schlegel
Wagner	RG	Lebknecht
Delawski	RC	Rokozmic
Uroswich	RT	Reece
Labutsky	RE	Reisler

Khouri Burns Alleys; Douds Loses Lead

A miracle has happened!! Our erstwhile professor of facts dead and dying, John W. Khouri, suddenly came to life after being the "zoo!" of last week's bowling league. This week he burned up the alleys, rolling the high game of 181. After the smoke cleared away, only Herr Doktor and Prof Scoles led the ancient professor in the average column.

The biggest disappointment came when Doc Douds skidded to a 136 average, after leading in last week's games. Poor Prof Stutzman for the second straight week brought up 22. Oh, well, maybe he doesn't bribe the pin boy enough.

Team Host to Duquesne, Detroit; LaSalle, St. Joe's Again on Deck

St. Joseph's, University of Detroit, Duquesne University, LaSalle, Scranton and Franklin and Marshall will headline the opposition for Albright's 1946-47 basketball team, announced Gene Shirk, faculty manager of athletics. The fighting Lions under the leadership of Coach Neal O. Harris, will play a twenty-one game schedule, beginning with Elizabethtown College on the Northwest floor Saturday, December 14. The following Wednesday the Lions will play host to St. Joe's powerful Hawks at home. Last year St. Joe's broke the Lions' six game winning streak, defeating them 59-41 in Philadelphia. St. Joe's always play some of the best teams in the country. This year, aside from playing the Lions, they play such powerhouses as Temple, Wyoming, St. John's, N.Y.U. and Brigham Young.

Rams Buck Lions; Passes Turn Tide As Visitors Win, 26-0

The future physical education instructors from the West Chester State Teachers College, living up to post-game billing, drilled out a 26-0 victory over our aggressive Lions last Saturday afternoon.

With a crowd of 4,000 homecoming fans shouting inspiration, Coach Dave Strong's boys combined a quick offense with three superb goal-line stands to hold the persistent Rams scoreless until the last 28 seconds of the first half. After having seven previous passes knocked down in the end zone by Albright's alert backfield, West Chester's Walt Blair finally hit Sonny Leonard with an eighteen yard toss which Jim Maracani almost batted down. Leonard scampered another five yards for a touchdown. DiSerfino missed the conversion, and the half ended with Albright's hopes still soaring high.

After the Roaring Lions showed some consistent offenses early in the third quarter, the Teachers began to click and take advantage of intercepted passes and fumbles. Paul Zickenbach of Shillington, stole an Albright pass on his own 10 and raced 83 yards down the field before being brought down from behind by George Baumgaertel. Two plays later O'Donnell crashed through to make it 12-0. This DiSerfino converted accurately. Sparked by Al Harnly and Baumgaertel, the Albrightians marched twice to within striking distance of the Ram goal-line only to be repelled by intercepted passes. Rambling 52 yards on one of them, Art Hulme was tackled from the rear by Rinaldo Ridolfi. Harnly saved another score by checking O'Donnell after a 54-yard sprint.

West Chester added three more touchdowns in the last quarter, one six-pointer being eliminated by a holding penalty, however. An intercepted pass put O'Donnell in position to chalk up his second score for the afternoon by storming through left tackle from the eight yard line.

In the last second of play, Bob Urbani, failing in two attempts at the hard-charging Lion line, found Hank Boney on the goal-line. DiSerfino missed his second conversion and the score remained 26-0.

Score by Periods:

West Chester	0	6	7	13—26

Just before the Christmas vacations, the University of Detroit will make its first appearance in Reading. However, this will be the second meeting between the schools, for Albright defeated the Motor City team 39 to 33 at the Boston Gardens in Boston, Mass.

At the start of the new year, F. & M. will visit Northwest in what is always a traditional battle. The last time the two teams met, two years ago, the Lions in both games had to rally in the second half, winning 40-31, at Reading, and 52-49, at Lancaster in a game that went in an extra period.

Lions Face Duquesne
Albright will add another big team to its already long list of "name" schools played when Duquesne University of Pittsburgh will be here March 1. This will be the first time that Albright has engaged the "Dukes" in any sport, and the Lions most likely will have plenty of trouble with them, for Duquesne has a very impressive record in basketball and football.

Two teams that dropped double-headers to the Lions last year will again appear on a home-and-home schedule. Albright edged Scranton 41-35, and 40-32, and in two high-scoring contests, LaSalle lost two, 63-59, and 67-61.

Other traditional rivals to appear on the schedule are Lebanon Valley, who twice defeated the Lions, last year, 67-47 and 44-33. Kutztown and Elizabethtown both lost two games to us last season, Kutztown dropping two close decisions, 39-38 and 52-48. Elizabethtown, who has never beaten us almost turned the trick last year, but still could not break the Albright jinx and lost 49-32 and 65-55. The Lizzies were on their way to drubbing the Lions last year at Elizabethtown, and led 33-20 at the half, but were unable to stop a torrid second half scoring spree by the Red and White.

J. V.'s Scheduled
Another old rival to reappear on the schedule after a four year lapse is Moravian. Four years ago Albright won easily in Reading but lost a close contest in Bethlehem. A newcomer to the schedule is Juniata, who for the first time this year is enacting the Lions in sports.

At Gettysburg, another bitter feud will be resumed with Gettysburg's Bullets. Last year the Bullets handed Albright one of the worst defeats ever suffered by the Lions on the home floor 52-25. Two years ago Albright took two close decisions 47-44 and 61-41.

For the first time in four years Albright will field a Junior Varsity squad. This schedule is not as yet complete, but the baby Lions will play the preliminary games against most of the J. V.'s of the schools played in the main event.
