STUDENT COUNCIL WILL SPONSOR T.B. SEAL SALES

Student Sale of Tuberculosis Seals to be Handled by Committee Chosen From Council

All of you who were Albrightians near the close of the last school year remember the tuberculosis tests which were conducted on the campus by the Tuberculosis Society of the City of Reading.

How many know or have tried to learn the importance of these tests? How many of you have considered the expense necessary to carry out this program?

It has been discovered by means of these examinations that there are seventeen students on the campus who will develop active cases of tuberculosis within the next year or two if they do nothing about their present condition. This report was submitted to the University of Pennsylvania by Prof. Horn, and it was learned that Albright College is one of very few schools outside of the University of Pennsylvania making such examinations. This gives us a distinction among the colleges of the U. S. of which we should be proud. The tests are also for our own personal health and are, therefore, important to us as individuals and as a group.

In order to give us this distinction and protection, the Reading Tuberculosis Society has spent between five and six hundred dollars in addition to the amounts paid by faculty members and some few students.

Since they have gone to this great expense and intend to continue doing so, we as students and benefactors should feel it our duty to reciprocate by buying Christmas Seals. With this in mind, Prof. Horn appeared before the Student Council and asked its co-operation in putting on a sales campaign. Plans are being made for such a campaign, which is to be carried on among the four classes as a contest to see which class can sell the most tuberculosis seals. The following leaders have been appointed to take charge of the contest in their respective classes: Seniors, H. LeRoy Brininger; Juniors, L. LeRoy Stabler; Sophomores, Lloyd Helt, and Freshmen, Ansley Wyle. Definite plans will be announced from the chapel rostrum and an effort will be made to get everyone to co-operate and to make each individual realize that he must do his part if we are to fight this disease successfully.

NON-FRATERNITY GROUP SPONSOR DANCE, NOV. 18

The Non-Fraternity group will hold their first dance of the year at the Iris Club, in Wyomissing, on the night of November 18. The committee in charge of the dance are Chairman Melvin Lustig, Jay Fay, Howard Mayer, Samuel Halperin, Newton Danford, Ann Lawrence, Betty Goldberg, Sara Rosenberg, and Jeanette Maurer. All non-fraternity and freshman students are invited to attend the dance, and tickets may be secured from the committee for one dollar and a half. Dancing will start at 8:30 and continue until 12. It is requested that all those intending to attend the dance purchase tickets at once, as there will be no tickets sold at the door.

COLLEGE TO BE HOST AT ANNUAL YM CONFERENCE

Dr. Robert E. Speer Among the Prominent Speakers Obtained for Annual Conference

College presidents will be among the speakers at the conference of the Pennsylvania College Y.M.C.A., to be held December 8, 9 and 10 at Albright College and in various churches in the city of Reading.

Among the speakers will be Dr. J. Warren Klein, Dr. Robert E. Speer, of New York; Dr. Calbert N. Ellis, president of Juniata College; the Rev. John R. Hart, Philadelphia; Dr. William R. Lewis, president of Lafayette College, and Dr. W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg College.

H. LeRoy Brininger, president of the Pennsylvania student council, will preside at the opening sessions.

Saturday morning, December 9, Dr. M. E. Ritzman, of the Theological seminary, will be chairman of a discussion period on "Life and Vital Religion." Prof. Charles M. Bowman, of Muhlenberg College, will speak on "Will the Teachings of Jesus Work in Industry Today?"

Other plans are being made which will be announced later. The day students of Albright are asked to co-operate in rooming accommodations for the delegates to the conference.

DR. EUGENE PAGE SPEAKS TO QUILLERS

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 7, the Quill Club of Albright College held an open meeting in the Chapel with the president, Stella Hetrich, presiding. The program consisted of the reading of a poem by Jean Rosencrans; vocal solos, "Who is Silvia?" from Shakespeare, and "Two Hearts in Waltz Time," by Miss Violet Jenkins, Reading artist, accompanied by Miss Hetrich. Announcement was made of a request for poetry by Albright College students for publication in an American College anthology, after which the chairman outlined the purpose of the Quill Club. This was followed by an instructive talk on "Creative Writing" by the guest speaker, Dr. Eugene Page, Albright's recently appointed professor of creative writing. Chester Wittell, well-known Reading pianist, concluded the meeting with a composition by Rachmaninoff, also the "Rustle of Spring" by Sinding, which were well received.

TWO TRIPS ARRANGED FOR MIXED CHORUS

The Albright College Mixed Chorus is scheduled for two special trips during the year which will take them to York and Harrisburg, where the Central and East Penn Conferences will be held. Already the chorus, which is composed of thirty students, has made three appearances, and there are several other engagements to be filled. This organization has developed into one of the busiest on the campus. Regular rehearsals are held once a week.

COLLEGE BENEFIT, DEC. 6

Students are asked to keep in mind the benefit sponsored by our college chef, to be held at Maier's Bakery, December 6th at 8 o'clock.

SCHOOL SPIRIT RUNS HIGH IN FRI. PEP RALLY

Enthusiastic Students Parade Penn Street Led by Band and Cheer Leaders

The true Albright spirit made itself manifest on Friday evening, Nov. 3, when a large number of Albright students participated in the pep rally and theatre party. Led by the college band, in their colorful uniforms, assisted by the cheer leaders, the group paraded on Penn Street from Eleventh to Fourth and back to the Park Theatre.

A short cheer rally on Penn Street demonstrated to the people of Reading the excellent spirit of the student body. The parade ended at the Park Theatre, where the Albright football squad was entertained at the picture "Ace of Aces." The management of the theatre allowed the cheer leaders to conduct a short program between shows. This program consisted of songs, cheers and several selections by the band.

After the theatre party, a huge bonfire was held in front of Sherman Cottage. A new cheer, "Fight Team," was practiced and learned, and all old songs and cheers were reviewed. School spirit ran high, making the pep rally a complete success.

JUNIORS ORGANIZE 1935 YEARBOOK STAFF

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the 1935 Cue Staff, two additional men were appointed, namely, Theodore Purnell, who will serve as associate editor of athletics, and Woodrow Bartges, who will act in the capacity of advertising assistant.

The staff, under the direction of John Deininger, Editor-in-Chief of the 1935 annual, are finding similar difficulties as did the 1934 staff. However, the Juniors are placing a great deal of confidence in their book this year and expect to publish an annual worthy of the name "Albright Cue."

At the close of the school term last year the class of 1935 chose John Deininger and Gifford Webster, Editor and Business Manager, respectively. Since that time the staff has been completed as follows: Editorial Board; Madge Dieffenbach, Associate Editor, Mildred Rofarmel, Lester Stabler, John Halderman, Robert Shippe, Gladys Novaky, Alfred Kuhn, Elliot Goldstan and Bernard Levin; Business Staff, James Mohn; Advertising Managers, Harold Enders, Joseph Varygas.

NOTICE!

Tuesday, November 21, will be set aside for "Parents' Day." It is to allow the parents of the students to see the school and to observe the many functions that take place on our campus. An extensive program is being arranged, the details of which will appear later. Dr. Klein wishes to state that all school property will be thrown open for inspection, and dinner will be served free of charge to all parents attending that day.

LIONS HOLD VILLANOVA TO 3 TOUCHDOWNS

Brilliant Villanova Offense, Led by Capt. "Whitey" Randour, Features Saturday's Game

The Blue Menace of Villanova came, saw, and conquered a stubborn Albright eleven which battled for every inch of the many gained by their stronger foe. The final count, 21-0, indicates the game showing made by the Lions against a highly-touted squad which has picked up momentum with every encounter this season.

Paced by Captain Whitey Randour, who put on the most dazzling exhibition of high-powered running ever unfolded in the Albright stadium, the Philadelphia Wildcats gave the Lions a most instructive lesson in blocking and tackling. Villanova's interfering rarely failed to get Randour or one of his backfield mates past the home team's forward wall; in fact, the Red and White backfield made most of the tackles of the afternoon. Andy Conway, Stan Hino, and Tommy Iatesta had to play first-class defensive football to keep the main line juggernaut from a complete massacre.

Albright had by comparison few chances for offensive play. Randour's long, low, fast-rolling kicks and lengthy runbacks of punts kept Albright with their backs to the wall. Stan Hino had too little time to get off his passes, and the trick plays which worked so well against St. Joseph were smothered before they got started. Tom Iatesta was the real offensive threat. His peculiar leg-drive won most of the yardage, in fact, he was almost clear for a touchdown right before halftime, with a brilliant run along the sideline which was ended only by bugaboo Randour, playing safety-man.

Besides Randour, whose slashing thrusts and weaving broken-field dashes were responsible for two touchdowns, Villanova offered Joe Weisenbaugh and Harry Patzch, hard-plunging fullbacks; Bill Cavanaugh, a heady field general who experimented the first period and got results in the other three; Bernie Lee, place-kicker extraordinary, who added three straight points the eight out of nine he had garnered previously, and a well-balanced line whose speed and power destroyed Albright's attack in embryo.

DR. C. E. ROTH SPEAKS IN FRIDAY CHAPEL

The Friday morning Chapel period consisted of a special Armistice Day program, sponsored by the International Relations Club. Dr. Charles E. Roth, of the St. Andrew's Reformed Church, was the guest speaker of the morning. His subject for the occasion was "Why We Celebrate Peace."

The club held an important business meeting Thursday, Nov. 9, in the Administration Building at 1 P. M. Several important matters were discussed and plans were made concerning future programs.

DANCING

One of the widely discussed problems in connection with the social life of our campus is that of dancing. There seem to be certain factions connected with our school administration that prohibit this harmless form of recreation. We are perfectly willing to concede these restrictions if adequate and definite reason could be given us, however, there seems to be a general resentment throughout the student body as regards this restriction.

Recently an article written in connection with this matter was handed me by one of our prominent seniors. Whether it was intended as a sarcastic gesture in opposition to this particular regulation I am not able to say. However, read it and judge for yourself.

"Perhaps if we followed the rules for dancing as drawn up in the handbook of East Stroudsburg State Teacher's College, dancing would be allowed on our campus. Here they are:

1. There shall be no continuous dancing in the corners, that is, couples must follow the general line of direction, making a complete circuit around the floor while dancing.

2. The correct position is as follows: The leader places his right hand at the base of his partner's right shoulder blade and extends his left arm sideward, palm up. The girl stands a little to the left of her partner, rests her left hand on the right shoulder of her partner, extends her right arm sideward and places her right hand with the palm down on her partner's left hand.

3. Stand erect when taking the position for dancing, and remain in an erect position throughout the dance.

4. Only social dancing will be permitted. Stage steps, skipping, bobbing, wriggling, kicking, dipping, continuous spinning and other unnecessary movements of the body are to be strictly avoided.

5. In dancing always regard the comfort of your partner by maintaining the proper position.

Why dance? Hiking is less expensive."

REMARKABLE FILM SHOWN AT RAJAH THIS WEEK

"Maedchen in Uniform," the talking picture which has been the sensation of London, Paris, Berlin, and New York, where it ran for months at the Criterion Theatre, will be shown for three days at the Rajah Theatre, beginning Monday, Nov. 18.

This remarkable German film, which has received international acclaim from both press and public, has been called "something to revive one's faith in the cinema." It has never been shown in Reading.

"Maedchen in Uniform" (Girls in Uniform) is a German film with subtitles in English. It is based on the stage play "Yesterday and Today," by Christa Winslow. The action takes place within the walls of a finishing school for girls. The cast is composed solely of women, and the production was directed by the famous German director, Frau Leontine Sagan.

There will be four showings daily at the Rajah, at 1, 3, 7 and 9 o'clock.

Do not miss what has been called "the year's ten best pictures rolled into one."

Y. M. AND Y. W. EXECUTIVES HEAR MISS MARY MOORE

On Monday night Miss Mary Moore, who visited the campus before, talked with Y. M. and Y. W. executives about her work among the mountain people in North Carolina. It is through the untiring efforts and amiable disposition of this colored woman that a school of thirty children is supported almost entirely by outside help. She gratefully accepted some articles of clothing to take back with her. Both the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. hope to send her some financial aid in the near future.

The "Y" Column

With the arrival of each succeeding Freshman class, the majestic, somber tune of respect to upper classmen is resounded to every conceivable corner of the campus. The Freshmen become quite aware of their "bounden duty," so to speak. The thought, however, has often come to me: Do we as upper classmen have any right to this respect or do we merely arbitrarily demand such? Do we command respect by the nature of our actions, or seniority by academic time spent, as the only prerequisite for the obtaining of respect?

Do we ever stop to realize just how the "Frosh" reacts when his concept of an upper classmen become a disillusionment, and his gracious courtesies become but naive cynicisms with just a suspicion of sarcasm?

Men of Albright: Let us be real; may the respect that we expect be indicative of our purpose to arrive and be recognized as "gentlemen." Shall we prove on Albright campus that respect is not a platitude, but a reality?

Our readers, as they have pursued this column, have probably nodded their heads quite sagaciously, but at the same time have not been quite able to rid themselves of the thought that it all sounds very fine, but—

Hear ye: Within the next two weeks the "Y" will present a very practical application of our basic thought for the "Y" on this campus. A Fellowship of Research in the Process of Higher Education with special reference to Moral and Spiritual value. This column will reveal further details which concern each individual on the campus.

Dean A. Roger Kratz, of the Evangelical Seminary, was the speaker at the regular Vesper service held in the college chapel on November 3 at 5 P. M. The theme of this service was "Debtorship." A saw solo, by Alfred Kuder, was an added feature of the service.

At first Dean Kratz painted a picture of war as well as of the present day economic disorder. "What is needed?" was the question asked. Then, in answering, the speaker stated: "More and better leadership, more and better followers, and a strong spiritual sense of debtorship. Paul was a debtor to Greece, Egypt, his education, the Church, and our Saviour. How can we pay this debt? Only by self-support and sacrifice."

A fine group responded to the appeal of coming to these excellent services. There are many more free seats for you. May we extend our hand of friendship to you Sunday at 5 P. M.?

At "Y" meeting on Wednesday evening Dean Walton spoke on the subject of "Conscience." He interspersed his talk with apt comparisons in the field of natural science.

What next? December 8, 9, 10.

On Wednesday night the freshmen girls were in charge of the Y.W.C.A. meeting. For reflection on the Armistice, peace was made the theme word. High esteem for peace was emphasized by contrasting it with the detrimental effects of war. A playlet by several day students was presented.

In keeping with "Y" interests the Y. W.C.A. has sent financial aid to the Laurinburg Normal and Industrial Institute in North Carolina. It is a school for the training of colored young men and women.

Last week another successful food sale was conducted, successful especially from the standpoint of those who had pumpkin pie. Ethel Sprinkle was in charge and was assisted by Betty Rimelspacher, Grace Ketner and Cora Schankel.

This week the Y. W. plans to lend its best support to the Y. M. by attending their show on Friday night.

PROMINENT PEOPLE . . .

DORCAS HAINES

Space does not permit the enumeration of Dorcas' many activities. Some of the offices which she holds are: president of the Pi. Alpha Tau sorority, co-vice-president of the Student Council, associate editor of the ALBRIGHTIAN, vice-president of the Senior class and of Bible class, and treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. Regardless of her participation in these many campus organizations, she has always maintained an A average in her class work.

Teaching is the goal of this campus leader. Her education has enabled her to converse fluently in Latin, French, Spanish, and English. Her familiar laugh is a combination of all these languages.

Much of Dorcas' time is spent in counting the gray hairs due to her many campus worries. Quite frequently her week-ends are spent in East Prospect. She says she goes home to rest. We wonder.

As a reward for her contribution to the college life at Albright, Dorcas was awarded the gold A, at the commencement exercises in June. May success likewise attend her future efforts.

Jay Fay

This week we have the West Chester teachers with us again. They come back to the Lions' den a great deal stronger than they were a year ago. Last year we had very little trouble in convincing the Teachers that they were not in our class. This year there is a possibility that they are superior to us, at least on paper; but then again, on the gridiron, comparative scores have never stood for anything. West Chester dropped to LaSalle only six points and we took it on the chin for twelve. The Lions and the Teachers both lost to Villanova by the same score. The Lions have improved plenty since the LaSalle game, and they fought a great Villanova team to a standstill for a quarter. I think that the Red and White will come out of the fray with twenty points or better.

Last week we saw a fighting and determined Lion team go down in defeat to a fast clicking Wildcat eleven. Without a doubt that Villanova team is the best eleven ever to have trod on the Albright Stadium. They gave us an exhibition of tackling and clipping that one only gets when he observes a Notre Dame coached eleven on the field. I do not want to take any credit away from "Whitey" Randour and his brilliant playing, but it seems that any back with the interference he received could go places and do things.

At last Sophs and Frosh will come to blows. On the morning of the Lebanon Valley game at the Eleventh and Pike Street grounds they will tangle in a soccer game. Reports from both camps seem to indicate that it will be another one of those nice, CLEAN(?), FRIENDLY(?) games. Now what do you think?

Last week, while roaming around during the half, I saw many who have made football history at Albright. "Doggie" Julian, Albright's greatest coach, was being welcomed on all sides, and it seemed as if he would lose his arm with the enthusiastic handshaking. Franny Hatton was there with a grin all over his face; what a game it would have been with him at center. "Frankie" White was also present, but didn't have much to say about Sunbury. Albright's grand old man, "Pop" Kelchner, was present and was making the rounds. "Eddie" Andrews and "Yank" Emmett were also present.

There is no doubt that we were given a treat to some excellent broken field running in the person of "Whitey" Randour on Saturday, but there is one thing I would like to call your attention to—did you notice the interference that he received on every play that he ran. If he is given any recognition on the All-American selection he should thank each and every one of his teammates for it. If Albright would give some of their backs this same kind of interference, we would see the same thing.

The touchball league is tightening up and the rivalry and interest is running high. The game is getting down to real facts, and at the present time the large scores that were run up in the first half are not showing up in the second half. On Tuesday two games ended in scoreless ties, and from all indications they will not be the last. At the present time the Zetas and the Non-Fraternities are tied for first place.

SCHEDULE FOR SECOND HALF OF TOUCHBALL LEAGUE ANNOUNCED

A great deal of enthusiasm is being shown in the second half of the Interfraternity Touch Football League. The Kappas having won the first half of the series, the other groups are out for their scalp with the intent of making a play-off game for the league championship. So far the teams have been remarkably matched in their games, the Zeta fraternity having a slight edge on the others, having won their opening game from the Kappas. On Nov. 7 the A. P. O. vs. K. U. P. and Z. O. E. vs. N. F. both battled to a scoreless tie. It's any man's league this half.

In connection with inter-mural sports, it is worthy to note the fine trophies that the Athletic Council have purchased not only for the Touch Football League reward, but for all other interfraternity athletics as well. If you have not already done so, drop into the book store and look them over.

The schedule for the second half of the Touch Football League:

Nov. 7—APO vs. KUP; ZOE vs. NF.
Nov. 9—APO vs. ZOE; KUP vs. PTB.
Nov. 14—NF vs. APO; PTB vs. ZOE.
Nov. 16—NF vs. KUP; APO vs. PTB.

The Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity will hold a dance this Saturday evening at the Mt. Penn Auditorium. Music will be furnished by Boyd Gaylord and his orchestra.

There's a plan afoot to silence the blatherings of that dark-haired girl who is continuously batting off in classes. She can claim the doubtful honor of being the reason for so many of our lads cutting classes. They don't want to hear her.

The Alpha Pi Omega fraternity will hold open house for the Senior girls, Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, from 7 to 10 P. M.

I wonder if that Senior is really gone on the Frosh girl, whose hair is slightly tinged with red, or if the attention he is showering on her is just the indication of a passing fancy.

We were surprised and pleased to note that the splendid Villanova Band, which played at the game Saturday, was led by none other than Paul Teel, '30.

Rumor has it that one of our recent class presidents is completely gone on a gal back home. He gets a letter every day and reads them in seclusion; and does he burn up if any cracks are made about his puppy romance?

Pi Alpha Tau sorority held a house warming Tuesday evening in their sorority room in Selwyn Hall. The alumni present were: Ann Benninger, Kit Roth-ernel, Mrs. Daniel Rothermel, Helen Freeman, Katherine Humma, Dorothy Fessler, Ella Ungstadt, and Mrs. Helen Kummerer.

If that pre-med, whose nickname is the last word in the title of an ancient negro song, thought this column was referring to him last week, he compliments himself. He doesn't rate a crack.

On Tuesday evening, November 7th, the Kappas held a smoker in their fraternity headquarters. Guests included twenty-five freshmen and several upper-classmen.

The Frosh who visit that girl who lives in Wyomissing needn't be afraid when they hear a noise upstairs; it's only her brother and he's not so big.

Betty Rimelspacher attended a dance at the Phi Beta Pi fraternity of the University of Pennsylvania on Saturday evening.

Was that football man incensed when he had his girl down for the game, and he didn't get in it?

Gladys Novaky was the week-end guest of Jean Goodling at her home in Seven Valleys. Both are members of the Phi Delta Beta sorority.

I wonder if that rather blonde young woman knows she is getting the run-around. The lad who told her he would give her an assignment for the paper is really indulging in a bit of prevarication.

Plans are being formulated by the Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity for a semi-formal Christmas dance to be held in the middle of December.

A certain football man's time is being beaten by a transfer from F. and M. I wonder if he knows it.

Irene Fray, past president of Pi Alpha Tau sorority, is expected to visit the campus over the week-end. Mildred Wissenger, another alumni of Albright, is also expected to return.

The Pi Tau Beta fraternity will hold open house on Friday evening, November 17th.

This may sound like a gag, but it's true, s'elp me. One of the campus watchmen actually eats yeast to give him vim and vigor on the night shift.

Freshman Howard Barnhart attended a dance at Wilson College on Saturday.

The report has reached my ears that a curly-haired transfer eats codliver oil pills to give him weight. Sounds rather fishy!

Leroy Garrigan has been pledged to the Alpha Pi Omega fraternity.

These Frosh put on a good show at the Villanova game, but, as some wag remarked, we would have enjoyed it more if the girls had played leapfrog with them.

Freshman John Bostwick had as his guests Saturday the principal of Sayre High School, Professor Kast, and Coach Young, also of Sayre High School.

Altho the author of this bit of literature(?) prefers to remain anonymous, the more astute readers of this column should discover the identity of the author with no trouble.

Bang * X—O Bang! Bang! Into his room he quickly goes. What is the reason? Nobody knows. Into the armchair he takes a flop, He mumbles and spits out phrases in wop.

After a while, when the coast is clear, Then we sneak in and find Bot-tiglier.

He's fast asleep and snoring aloud. We wake him, and when he sees the crowd,

Bang * * O Bang! He's off again; To calm him down it takes six men. The story is told. What a trick. He swears he'll kill the Irish-mick. But then, after all the things I did, We're the best of pals. How about it, kid?

Pi Alpha Tau sorority is making plans for a dance which is to be held in the near future.

Joseph McGovern, former Albrightian, and now a member of the Villanova football squad visited the Zetas after the game on Saturday.

Mrs. Alvin Julian, an alumnus of Pi Alpha Tau sorority, visited the "Pat" room after the game on Saturday.

Football men of Shenandoah and Sunbury High School were the guests of the college at the game.

Charles Barnard entertained Frank Brandenburg, of Kearny, N. J., over the week-end. Brandenburg expects to enter Albright next fall.

Margaret Maurer and Mary Waxman, both members of the Sophomore class, have been pledged to the Phi Beta Mu sorority.

Dorcas Haines entertained her parents and friends at the Albright-Villanova game.

You'll agree, once you've tried it, that half past eight is the time to telephone home.

At half past eight the day's rush is over. Your time is free for a leisurely telephone chat.

At half past eight the same is true at home. It's the best time to catch the family all together.

At half past eight (and this is most important) low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. You can then save as much as 40% on your call. For example: If your home is 100 miles away, a three-minute connection will cost only 35 cents!

TO TAKE ADVANTAGE of the LOW NIGHT RATES...

Call after 3:30 P. M., and be sure to make a Station to Station call.

That means, ask the Operator for your home telephone, but not for any specific person.

If you've fixed a date in advance, the family will be sure to be there.

Charges may be reversed.
