

STUDENT COUNCIL TO ENFORCE PARKING BAN AND NO SMOKING RULES; THREATENS "OSTRACISM"

Governing Body Hopes To Prevent Disfiguration of Campus During Spring Months; Has Novel Plans for Enforcements of Rulings.

MAY CLOSE ENTRANCES

The many violations of the campus rulings regulating the parking of motor cars and the use of tobacco in the buildings have precipitated action on the part of the Student Council. At its recent meeting that body determined on a program of enforcement of these regulations. According to Council President, Arthur Weiss, "We will not let up until these rules are obeyed."

Motor parking will be permitted on the campus only on the field to the northeast of Selwyn Hall Annex. Faculty members will still be given the privilege in the space at the tennis courts. If the violations continue, the campus may be closed to all motor cars, possibly by placing chain barriers at all entrances.

Smoking Problem Acute

The "smoking problem" is the most acute at the entrance and in the corridors of the Administration building. The council promises a campaign of "ostracism" against the offenders as well as against those who cut their own paths across the campus green. This last action was prompted by the fact that the new grass will soon appear and according to Council member Robert Work, "the new shoots must be given a chance."

Penalty Clause in Full

The penalty clause of the council's resolution is given below in full:

"For students who continue to be inconsiderate in the observance of these simple rules, the Student Council shall resort to a system of ostracism. Motorists and smokers who persist in being obstinate or defiant shall know just what such action entails when the Student Council mandates have been issued."

Professor Albright Will Fill Lenten Engagements Here

Church Historian Will Preach in Reading and Detroit

Professor R. W. Albright of the Department of Church History in the Evangelical Church in Reading. He will fill two important Lenten engagements this season. On Friday, March 11th he will deliver the sermon at the noon day Lenten service in Christ Episcopal church this city. From 18-27, Professor Albright will speak at a Lenten service in Calvary Evangelical church, Detroit.

For the past six months Rev. Albright has been the pastor of the Park Evangelical church in Reading. He assumed his duties immediately after the death of Rev. Dr. J. A. Wiegand, last July. At the sessions of the East Pennsylvania Conference meeting in Christ church, Reading, Professor Albright resigned his pulpit to devote full time to his chair in the Theological Seminary.

Nat. Philosophers Will Read Papers

The Society of Natural Philosophy will hold a meeting on Thursday evening, March 3 at 7 o'clock in the Physics Lecture Room.

Roy McNaughton and Franklin Miller will present papers on interesting subjects. Very important business will be conducted.

Chess Club Plans Large Schedule

The Chess Club recently held an important meeting. Several plans were discussed for the rest of the semester, including the scheduling of meets with several colleges. Negotiations are being carried out with Lehigh, Lebanon Valley, Ursinus, Dickinson, Haverford, Temple and other colleges. Meets are pending with Swarthmore.

PROF. VON AESCH TO SPEAK AT INT. RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club will meet Thursday evening, March 3, at 8 o'clock in the lower social room. Any student interested in Germany will be eager to hear Professor Gode Von Aesch speak about "Germany's Attitude Toward World Peace." All students are invited to attend this meeting, and all club members are especially urged to be present.

Y's Plan Elaborate Week of Prayer Here Rev. Schoerb Speaks

Albright Will Observe Annual Week of Prayer, on Campus, March 7 to 10

Rev. Roland W. Schoerb, preaching pastor of Hyde Park Baptist Church, Chicago, will be the guest speaker of the annual College Week of Prayer, to be held this year March 7 to 10, inclusive. Rev. Schoerb is well known in the middle west among students, having been active in the student Y. M. C. A.

The speaker is already thoroughly familiar with the Evangelical Church and its institutions, since he was born and reared in the church, graduated from North Central College at Naperville, Ill., as well as from the Evangelical Theological Seminary there, and Union Theological Seminary in New York City. He was for several years a pastor in the Illinois Conference of the Evangelical Church, his most notable pastorate being a seven-year term at First Church, Naperville, where he was well liked by the students.

The Y's are making intensive preparation for the visit of Rev. Schoerb to the campus, and are counting on the loyal support of the student body and faculty.

Albright Debaters Lose First Contest Under Oregon Plan

Debate American Cancellation of Reparations with Juniatians

Albright tasted defeat last week in the first intercollegiate debate of the season when its team composed of David Savidge and Leroy Brenninger lost a unanimous decision of seven judges to the Juniata team composed of John Wenger and Joseph MacCarroll. The debate was the first of a series of annual events to be sponsored by the Juniata Alumnus James Ambrose Shook, Principal of the Northeastern Junior High School, where the debate was held. The question was, "Resolved, that the United States should offer to participate in the cancellation of all inter-governmental war debts including reparations."

Charles R. Essick, president of the University Club, presided, and the judges, selected from organizations in this city, were: Mrs. Daniel S. Adams, Attorney Christian H. Ruhl; Charles B. Montgomery, Alfred D. Keator, J. Edgar Hilgendorf, Rev. Hermann F. Miller, Paul Hessemer.

After the debate a dance was held in the gymnasium by the 9A class of the school, with the January graduating class and the Albright College students at the debate as guests.

This was "College Week" at the Northeast Junior High School. It was featured first by a debate between Juniata and Albright, and second by a colorful college assembly, at which a play featuring college life was presented and college songs were sung. The principal's stage guests at the assembly were the Juniata College debaters and the Albright College students doing practice teaching in the school. The Juniata debaters were John H. Wenger, Joseph MacCarroll, Joseph Daler and Clarence Lecrone. The names of the student teachers are Pauline Richards, Miriam Reddig, Harold Weigle and Edward Andrews.

Tennis Schedule Is Completed; New Teams Matched

Villanova Will Send Five Here This Season; Squad Has Promising Material

With the rumors of several additional tennis courts to spur it on, another great Albright tennis team is shaping into form. The season is still some way off but the card has been completed and most of the squad selected according to manager MacCarroll.

The veterans of the Red and White squads of former years need not be introduced. They are Jeff Snader, Alan MacCarroll and Mark Matz. The other two positions have not as yet been filled but there is considerable material from which to choose. Especially promising is a young freshman, Oritsky, who went to the third round in the Junior National play last year.

Few Former Opponents

The schedule presents in its completed form few of the Lions' former opponents. Among those teams which will be met this season is Lebanon Valley which defeated the Albright men twice last year. Muhlenburg which won and lost in two matches with this school and Moravian, tied by the racketeers two years back.

The card:

	Home	Away
Lebanon Valley	May 23	May 31
Muhlenburg	May 4	May 18
Villanova	May 28	May 3
Stroudsburg	April 23	May 21
F. and M.	April 25
Moravian	May 25

Women Gleesters Announce Itinerary for Spring Tour

Music Club Will Revisit Scenes of Former Concerts; Will Travel by Bus

Following a group of home concerts to be given on the campus and in the various churches of the city, the Girls' Glee Club will leave the 28th of March for its biennial tour of Western Pennsylvania. Manager Wissinger has announced the following itinerary:

Monday, March 28th—Carlisle.
Tuesday, March 29th—Scalp's Level.
Wednesday, March 30th—Johnstown.
Thursday, March 31st—Johnstown.
Friday, April 1st—(tentative)—Somerset.
Sunday, April 3rd—Morning—Lemoyne.
Sunday, April 3rd—Evening—Lebanon.

A bus has been chartered to convey the members to the various places in accordance with former procedure, they will be entertained by the respective churches in which they sing.

Unusual finesse and interpretation of the works of the great music masters characterizes the performance of the club under the excellent leadership of Miss Margaret Geberich.

A meeting of The Albrightian Staff will be held Thursday, March 4, at 1:00 o'clock in Chapel. Important matters will be discussed—everyone please be in attendance.

Prof. Hamilton's Spare Time Used in Research for Washington Pageant; Now Studying Lady Dunmore

The gay costumes witty conversation, gallant bows, and graceful sayings of the guests at "Lady Dunmore's Ball" will constitute one of the most interesting features of the Washington Bicentennial Pageant to be held here by Albright College and its Alumni on June 4. Professor Milton W. Hamilton, head of the History Department of the College, has made considerable research on this as well as other features of the pageant in order to make the representation as nearly accurate as possible.

Professor Hamilton has found, on his trips to Philadelphia Libraries, many significant incidents which will be incorporated into the piece.

In the dining room of the College, where the guests and spectators are to have dinner, there will be presented the three indoor scenes of the pageant.

The first scene will be a meeting of the Committee of Correspondence of the Provincial Assembly, a committee which was appointed at the Raleigh Tavern where the House of Burgesses had reconvened. It will be remembered that the House of Burgesses had been dissolved by Governor Dunmore because it had declared and kept a day of prayer and humiliation in protest of the King's treatment of Boston.

The famous "Lady Dunmore's Ball" will be the second scene. This social event was held the evening of the day following the dissolution of the House of Burgesses. Washington, in keeping with his social position, attended this ball even though he had observed the preceding day as the Colonists had intended.

The third scene is the Provincial Convention at Williamsburg. This closing episode depicts Washington's offer to raise one thousand men for a march to Boston, and the choice of delegates to the First Continental Congress.

The pageant will cover a period from 1774 to 1789. It is estimated by Mr. E. L. Mohn, Chairman of the combined College and Alumni Committee, that more than 450 will take part in the Pageant. Mr. Mohn has expressed his entire satisfaction with the whole-hearted co-operation of students, faculty, and Alumni and he believes, "That with this continued co-operation the pageant will prove to be an accurate portrayal of the historical events of a period that saw the laying of the foundation of our present government."

OSTRACISM . . . HOW NAIVE

In this issue we print the results of the most recent deliberations of that worthy body, The Albright Student Council. It has concerned itself with the enforcement of the campus parking and smoking rules. This is most laudable. As we remarked in an earlier number, the campus is at its worst during the Spring and Fall and any person inconsiderate enough to take advantage of it is contemptible indeed. With an eye to "giving the new grass a chance," therefore, the council has raised its voice.

Since its re-organization last year, the council has not succeeded in doing anything very forceful nor has it learned as yet that to achieve anything permanent eternal vigilance is necessary. Its effort at customs revival was splendid but the thing simply petered out after a few weeks, after the fashion of most revivals. Unless they look to it, the councillors will find the same thing occurring with their campaign for bigger and better turf. And just a few such brilliant starts and fizzling finishes will lower the organization to the level of a standing campus joke.

But this general appearance of futility is not entirely the fault of the well-meaning council members. There is something pathetic to the writer in the spectacle of Council's making such excellent resolutions and then planning to enforce them with a naive policy of "ostracism." We fancy it won't make a great deal of difference to the motorists if the four or five councillors refuse to play bridge with them. The pathos is occasioned obviously by the fact that the rest of the school will give these leaders very little support in this work; will be content to let the boys make a parcel of fools of themselves. Why must this be? We have elected them to their offices, why not get behind what they decide is good and obey it with an honesty and unselfishness equal to their own.

And there is more to be said. We seem to remember that the College itself tried this problem of motor parking before and with no startling results. It can't be that the administration is shelling responsibility. In other words, THE ALBRIGHTIAN would like to see the administration as firmly behind the Council as the student body ought to be. Altho placing barriers at entrances was suggested, it is unlikely, for example, that the school will take this step. Laws are discovered, not made. We need to consider the Student Council as experts who know what is good for this campus and then to support it in its findings. Until that time the Councillors can only go about "ostracising" those who won't play according to rules.

LITERARY

LIVES AND LETTERS

By Rudolf Shook

The editor and I motored down to Philadelphia to see The Moon in the Yellow River, the Irish play that made its American debut in that city. The Theatre Guild produced it subtly and beautifully, with superb acting. The play itself, which discusses post-war Ireland and its problems, is "uneven" but very impressive, to me it has a universal significance in its presentation of those uncompromising idealists, like LiPo who died drunk. He tried to embrace a moon in the Yellow river. It is an exciting, intellectual fare, and is often very moving. It reminds one, vaguely, of Ibsen's The Wild Duck.

Tragi-comedy Unearthed

Tragi-comedy: The high-water mark in naive was reported to me last week by a lovely lady who is an inveterate prom-trotter. It seems that through a certain sophomore a local freshman made a date with her for a recent, and strictly formal, dance. When he had arrived at her home, and had been kept waiting the proper length of time, the lovely lady descended the stairs in full African field equipment (evening), an entrancing vision to be sure, to find a very young gentleman in a dark blue business suit, who did not introduce himself, but who suggested that they take a trolley, and speedily for they were late. The damsel raised her perfectly arched brows and asked, incredulous, whether the gentleman expected her to walk the streets in that costume. The gentleman replied in the affirmative. The damsel explained tactfully, the impossibility of such an action and her mother asked if she should call a taxi. The gentleman managed somehow, to convey the impression that he was penniless, that the taxi was unimportant to him, that he would, however, take it if the lady wished to pay. She (it was an unusual situation for my heroine, I assure you), looked puzzled when he graciously informed her that she need not feel obliged to go if she did not wish to. She changed her clothes and went to visit a friend. He accompanied her, asked if one had to have a ticket to get on the bus, and left her at the Berkshire, where the dance was given. She overcame by laughter, and perhaps emotion hastened to her friend's home. (No names will be given out in connection with this story.)

Sigrid Unset's Latest

Sigrid Unset's The Wild Orchid is an interesting novel about a young woman who falls in love with a girl beneath him in breeding and social background. The flower of the title is used to symbolize earthly love. Ms. Unset has another novel in preparation about heavenly love, symbolized as The Burning Bush. She shows again, in The Wild Orchid, her amazing insight into, and her masterly delineation of masculine character. This rather long novel is packed with observation and conflict. It is very readable.

Sorority Notes

PHI BETA MU

Phi Beta Mu takes great pleasure in announcing that it has received into honorary membership six of Reading's finest women: Mrs. Warren F. Teel, Mrs. Gustav Oberlander, Mrs. Willard Ziegler, Mrs. Milton Hamilton, Mrs. Joseph F. Knapper and Miss Elizabeth Miller.—Women believed to exemplify the high ideals of its order. This sorority has the distinction of being the first organization on the campus to enjoy the privilege of having other than student or faculty fellowship.

A delightful reception followed the impressive initiation services held in Selwyn Parlor on Wednesday evening, the twenty-fourth of February. The faculty advisors, Misses Gerberich and Culp, poured, Sorority colors, orchid and gold, were used in the decorative scheme. Corages of yellow roses were presented to the guests.

Saturday afternoon, February 27, five of the Phi Beta Mu girls were pledged to the Alumnae Sorority, Phi Delta Sigma, Misses Emily Yocum, Lydia Schober, Dolores Marconi, Irma Stahl and Mildred Wissinger.

Helen Buck was called home because of the death of her father, Rev. Buck of Erdenheim, Pa. The Sorority extends heartfelt sympathy to Miss Buck at this trying time.

PI TAU BETA

The officers elect of the Pi Tau Beta Fraternity are: President, Walter Hengen; Treasurer, Carlyle Van Aiken, Chaplain, Edwin Minnich and Secretary, Marshall Brenneman.

Plans for the Spring Banquet are under way, as well as for the 25th Anniversary of the Fraternity to be celebrated next October.

We wish to congratulate three of our brothers, Ralph Kresge, Carlyle Van Aiken and Jerome Diehl, as having attained an A average in their subjects for the first semester.

KAPPA Upsilon PHI

The Phi congratulates the Junior Class on an excellent presentation of "The Good Hangs High."

Betty Roth, coach and teacher at F.A. Greenville High is taking extra work at Albright on Saturday morning in visual education.

With the approach of the Washington Bicentennial Pageant in June Kappa Upsilon Phi pledges its undivided support to the project. This pageant will be the biggest fete undertaken by Albright and we are glad that the organizations on the campus are in harmony with the activity. The success will undoubtedly be the outcome of unanimous co-operation.

Inspired Quintette Gets Fast Start to Drub League Leaders

SPORT LIGHTS

(By Russell N. Bonney, '33)

Another week of league basketball finds Gettysburg and F. and M. still leading the league, being hard pressed by our old friend Lebanon Valley. The standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Gettysburg	7	2	.778
F. and M.	7	3	.700
Lebanon Valley	6	3	.667
ALBRIGHT	5	5	.500
Drexel	4	7	.363
Ursinus	3	7	.300
Muhlenburg	2	7	.222

Games to be played this week are as follows:—Mar. 1. Gettysburg vs. Lebanon Valley; Mar. 2 Albright vs. Muhlenburg and Ursinus vs. Drexel; Mar. 5 Albright vs. Lebanon Valley; F. and M. vs. Ursinus; Gettysburg vs. Muhlenburg. Then the final game of the league brings together F. and M. and Gettysburg on Mar. 9.

Albright's victory over F. and M. sure tightened the league race. One can easily see the bearing that this week's games will have on the outcome. Either F. and M., Gettysburg, or Lebanon Valley can cop the pennant by winning their remaining games. With these teams playing each other it is highly possible that the final game will decide the championship. The schedule favors F. and M. as they will be favored over Ursinus thus keeping them in the money until the final game with Gettysburg. Gettysburg has to get by Lebanon Valley and Muhlenburg to insure them of a tie for first and three victories will clinch the pennant. Lebanon Valley has an outside chance if victorious in their remaining games. The closeness of the first season's race places the stamp of approval on the basketball league.

The Lions complicated matters with their Saturday victory. The play of the Albright cagers in the F. and M. contest made it evident that Albright has the best squad in the league but lack of consistency has been their downfall. Comparing the individual teams, our club ranks with any in the league and it is unfortunate that we will not get the first pennant. What we want is to finish the season with two more wins to give us a fair season as a whole.

The Frosh quintet have a good record for the current season, 9 wins and 5 losses. Several of the defeats were by the margin of a few points and the Frosh have come along nicely. Several of their boys will be welcomed additions to the varsity squad next year.

Now for the weekly football rule. One new ruling requires five men to stand on their own 45 yard line, 15 yards from the kicker, (on the kick-off) who may put the ball in play with a place kick, drop-kick or punt. This rule is designed to stop the formation of the flying wedge by the receiving team. We think this rule will not accomplish its aim as the receiving team will still be able to form a protective wedge around the ball carrier. A good punter will also give the kicking team a decided advantage as a long high punt will make run-backs much harder. We don't expect this rule to work so well in actual contests.

Albright's Team Play Finally Perfected To Give Home Quinters Smart Edge Over Former Conquerors

MAKES FIFTH LEAGUE WIN

Capt. Horst, Smoker Hold Visitors Together with Good Floor Play

Playing sensational basketball the Albright Lions decisively defeated the league leading F. and M. club by a 46-38 score. The game was fast and exciting from start to finish and the Lions always kept just a step ahead of the hard-fighting visitors. The game was Albright's fifth league victory and victories in the remaining two contests will give the Lions a creditable showing in the league's first season.

Albright started fast and took the lead but F. and M. came from behind on two occasions to knot the count only to have the Lions spurt ahead again. The first half featured fine shooting by Oslalo and Andrews for the Lions and by Smoker for the visitors. The half ended with Albright holding a 25-22 lead.

The second half was harder fought than the initial period. Capt. Horst of the visitors was forced to leave the game with a bad knee. The Lions soon piled up a ten point margin as Capt. Haines started hitting the cords. Horst returned to the game and the visitors staged a rally which reduced the Lion margin to five points. A last minute drive by Oslalo resulted in giving the Lions an eight point lead as the gong sounded.

The Lions played their best game of the season. The first half slump was missing and the boys started with a bang and maintained the pace throughout. The team play was of a high order with every man giving his best. Oslalo was the leading light for Albright College. The fighting guard played every minute of the game and always supplied the necessary punch to hold the game for the Lions. Capt. Haines and Andrews also played fine games and their point-getting was effective. Fromm and DeFranco likewise played fast games.

Capt. Horst was the center of strength for F. and M. His floor play kept the visitors together. Smoker led the visitors in scoring with 12 markers.

St. Mary's, G'burg Subdue Lion Five

The Albright Lions journeyed to Gettysburg, Wednesday evening and sustained another league loss by a 28-23 count. The loss was the sixth defeat of the season. The defeat diminished Albright's chances of finishing up with the leaders.

Inaccuracy from the foul line cost the Lions the game. The Albright team was awarded seven free tosses and could convert but one. Gettysburg took an early lead and led at the half 15 to 7. The Lions outscored the home team in the final period but their closing moment rush was not enough to offset the Bullet's early lead.

Capt. Haines with 10 points led the Albright offense while Dracha and Howard played good ball for Gettysburg.

St Mary's Game Slow

On Thursday evening the Albright cagers took their fourth straight defeat at the hands of Mt. St. Mary's, 38-17. The Lions put up a terrible article of basketball and the home club had no difficulty in recording their tenth straight victory. The Emmittsburg boys played a superior brand of ball and gave the visiting Lions their worst defeat of the season.

The game was slow and uninteresting. The Saints always had a commanding lead and the margin increased as the game progressed. The home club led at half time, 18-7.

J. Lynch and Bonner at the guards were too much for the Lions amassing 26 points between them. Capt. Haines, with eight points, again led the Lion scorers.

Women Basketeers Win and Lose Two

Basketeers Divide Double Bill; Wittman, Deck and Landis Make Fine Showing

By score of 24-20, Albright's sextette beat the Moravian Girls' team in basketball on Friday afternoon in the Reading Y. W. C. A. Leah Deck, Albright's right guard played a wonderful game. The snappy passing and fast playing of the Albright co-ed, together with the accurate shots of Landis and Wittman, forwards, made possible this second victory of the 1932 Girls' Basketball Team.

Enthusied by their victory of the previous afternoon, the Albright Girls' Basketball Team met Cedar Crest's sextette on Saturday morning in a close but losing battle. Deck again played an outstanding game for Albright.

The final score was 18-16, Landis being responsible for 11 of Albright's 16 points.

Yearlings Victors in Tough Contests

First-Year Passers Emulate Varsity Against F. and M. First-Year Squad

The Frosh cagers returned to their winning ways this past week by notching two more victories. On Friday evening the Frosh trimmed Fleetwood High School by a 27-14 score. The Frosh played their second team most of the contest and won easily. Cox and Heppeler led the Frosh.

Feast on F. and M. Lads

Saturday evening the Frosh scored a sweet victory over the F. and M. Frosh. It was the first defeat of the season for the F. and M. boys and the win revenged a previous defeat which the Lion Frosh sustained at Lancaster. Shippe played an excellent game for the Frosh while Slack and Heppeler also turned in good performances.

Keep a Regular TELEPHONE Date with Home

NOW MORE THAN EVER... with the college year ending... Mother and Dad are eager to hear from you. What of your exams... when do they start? There are countless details they're anxious to know.

Busy? Of course you are. There's little time for letter-writing! Then reach them by telephone... pay them a "voice visit." It's the quickest way home with the satisfaction of a race-to-face chat.

And here's a tip... file it for ready reference. There's nothing to equal a regular Telephone Date with Home each week. Start the habit this evening! The thrill will last all week!

FOR THE LOWEST COST AND GREATEST EASE

Set your "date" for after 8.30 P. M., and take advantage of the low Night Rates. (A dollar call is 60c at night; a 50c call is 35c.)

By making a date, the folks will be at home. Thus you can make a Station to Station call rather than a more expensive Person to Person call.

Just give the operator your home telephone number. If you like, charges can be reversed.

THE CINEMA

ROBINSON AT ASTOR

Robinson comes to the Astor Theatre this week in his latest characterization, that of the heroic Wong Low Get in "The Hatchet Man," the thrilling scenes of the melodramatic romance are laid in China—at Hankow and on the Yangtze River—and in the Chinatown of San Francisco. Mr. Robinson who won recognition as the greatest character actor of the screen in "Little Caesar," "Smart Money" and "Five Star Final"—presents an utterly different character in "The Hatchet Man." Starting Monday and continuing Tuesday and Wednesday, the Astor presents an entirely new vaudeville program, headed by the Mayo and Marie Revue, a gorgeous array of dance and song hits and other headline acts.

WONDER DOG AT PARK THEATRE

The world's only mind-reading dog, said to be the most sensational animal attractions ever brought to the stage, thrilled and amazed patrons of the Park Theatre, where he opens a three-day engagement.

The animal was the hit of Atlantic City last Summer, and recently was the talk of New York and Philadelphia, where he completely mystified spectators.

Other five acts of vaudeville are Bob and Lucy Gillette, in "Cleverness and Foolishness;" Bernard Weber and company, popular radio recording artists; Billie (Swede) Hall, in "Three, But Not of a Kind;" Francis and Walley, in "Glorified and Petrified;" and "Educated Feet," syncopated song and dance revue, with youth and personality.

BROADWAY HIT AT LOEW'S

"The Greeks Had a Word for Them," now at Loew's. Ina Claire now becomes one of the most eminent screen comedienne, Joan Blondell and Madge Evans are the three lucky ladies.

They quarrel, they cry on one another's shoulders, they pursue the hapless millionaire in company and singly, and all the while they live up to their nickname of the Three Musketeers of Riverside Drive in penthouse apartments, speakeasies, trans-Atlantic liners and taxicabs.

This trio of hilarious characters last year made the Zoe Akins play, from which the picture was taken, one of the smash hits of New York.

STATE OPENS ONCE MORE

The new popular price policy at the State Theatre was greeted with great crowds Saturday afternoon and night, when Wilmer & Vincent inaugurated a first-run attraction, "Charlie Chan's Chance," a thrilling picturization of thrills, mystery and adventure, with Warner Oland as the Chinese-Hawaiian detective.

Warner Oland, as the suave and self-effacing Chan, gives one of the most polished performances of his career.

The program includes Jimmy Gleason in an RKO comedy, "Battle Royal," and Pathe News. Wednesday an RKO first run picture, "Panama Flo," with Helen Twelvetrees and Charles Bickford. A brand new program will be presented at the State each Wednesday and Saturday.

NANCY CARROLL AT EMBASSY

"They call me 'wayward,' but they've got me wrong. 'I'll admit I like my fun, but after all, what girl doesn't want to get around to see things, to do things? Even so, she can still be a good wife and mother—if society will let her live as love commands. Can't she?" That's the story of "Wayward," the Paramount picture adapted from "Wild Beauty," by Mettel Howe Farnahan and starring Nancy Carroll, Pauline Frederick and Richard Arlen, now at the Embassy.

ARCADIA—Wednesday and Thursday—"The Last Ride" with Charles Morton and Dorothy Revier; a thrilling gangster drama. Friday and Saturday: "The Two Gun Caballero" with Robert Frazer and Bobby Nelson with an added attraction Wheeler and Woolsey in "Oh, Oh, Cleopatra." Sunday: "Emma" Prize winning characterization of Marie Dressler's.
