INDICATIONS POINT TO A suc-CESSFUL YEAR FOR SCHOOL

Changes and Improvements Have Made General Conditions More
Agreeable—Prof. Keller Succeded By Dr. Chislett—List of
New Students

There is in Roman lore an expression which says "All roads lead to Rome." That old saying, on a small scale at least could have been applied to Albright on Sept. 9, the day set for registration. Students, old and new, approximating the same number as last year, thronged the registration desk in "Old Main." All found an encouraging situation, for a number of slight changes and improvements have made general conditions more agreeable. All the new students have expressed themselves as being well pleased with the entire school. Generally it can be said that all the students are well situated and ready for a year the indications of which point to great success in all the activities of the student body. The opening of the year has been auspicious and we look forward to a bigger and a better Albright. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. I. C. Keller head of the English department at Albright for the past four years has been filled by Dr. Wm. Chislett, Jr., Ph.D., a graduate of the Leland Stanford Junior University of California, who has already taken up the work of the English Department.

The unusually large Freshman class speaks well for the progressive policy of the administration and also for the students and alumni who have worked to make their Alma Mater greater. A number of students have also enrolled in the other classes. The list of all new students follows:

Sophomore

J. Kermit Ebert, Northumberland.
Mabel Kelchner,.....Fleetwood, Pa.

Special

Harold E. Haas,.....Sunbury, Pa.

Freshmen

U. Samuel Angle, Shippensburg, Pa.
Elizabeth Bittle,.....Myerstown, Pa.

Prof. Keller Leaves Al- bright With Splendid Record

Prof. I. C. Keller '07, for four years Professor of English Language and Literature at Albright College, left on Friday, September 12, to take up his new duties at California State Normal School, California, Pa. Prof. Keller is an Alumnus of Albright, and has always retained a sincere interest in her welfare. In his work he has been untiring. It is due in a large measure to his enthusiastic guidance, that Albright has had her great success in debating the last three years. As Faculty Adviser of the Bulletin he will be missed, for his interest in it, and his advice to the staff were always such as to promote its standing.

Prof. Keller's new duties will embrace extension work as well as his regular teaching courses. Albright College extends to him heartiest wishes for great success.

FRESHMEN HOLD BANQUET IN READING

Large Class Enjoy First College Social Affair at Berkshire—Officers
Elected For "Green" Year

A sumptuous banquet was held by the Freshmen Class of Albright College at the Berkshire hotel in Reading, on Thursday night, Sept. 11th. Fifty students and invited guests assembled around the banquet table. Prof. and Mrs. Dech were the chaperones, Mr. Ruel Dubs, President of the Junior Class, and Miss Mary Mohn were the invited guests. The class got away on Thursday morning with few absentees.

Glenn Garrett, President of the class, acted as toast-master and gave an interesting talk. Russell Locks, Mr. Hood, and Miss Dice were also called upon to talk. Prof. Dech answered to a toast in a most pleasing manner.

After an enjoyable social time the class was ready to go home, but the truck could not be started, with the result that the class had to wait in Reading for a bus from Lebanon. At an early hour of the morning they arrived at school.

The officers of the Freshman class are: Pres., Glenn Garrett; V. Pres., Mike Wissler; Sec., Miss Zener; Treas., Mr. Smith.

Albright Bulletin To Be Bi-Weekly Again This Year

On the evening of Sept. 11, the first Bulletin Staff meeting was called. The first part of the meeting was strictly business, during which time it was decided to adopt a constitution in order to better define the duties of the Staff. It was also announced that the bulletin would be bi-weekly instead of a weekly as before planned. This latter change was effected because of the business slump which made the securing of a sufficient number of advertisements impossible. During the latter part of the meeting, Prof. Keller, former faculty adviser, addressed the Staff, giving his outlook for the Bulletin, and speaking of his interest in Albright and its paper.

"For Albright and a better Bulletin", seemed to be the keynote of the entire session.

MRS. MITCHNER SPEAKS ON W. C. T. U. AIMS AND PURPOSES

Instead of the regular order, the Sunday evening service of Sept. 13 was given over to Mrs. Mitchner, who for fourteen years has been State Pres. of the W. C. T. U. in Kansas. After she related the great changes and influence that have been exerted by Prohibition in Kansas during the last forty years, she spoke very highly of Frances Willard, the originator of the organization. Then she explained the motives of the different departments in the W. C. T. U. She impressed upon the listeners the fact of the bigness, the importance and need of the organization. The keynote of her address seemed to be "A cleaner, purer, more Christian nation and world." The future, she said can be purer only by a more universal purity in the present. The big thing for us as Americans to remember today is that "As goes America, so goes the world."

DOGGIE ROAST FOR NEW GIRLS

The Y. W. gave a "doggie" roast on the afternoon of Saturday 13th, down along the old canal. In spite of threatening showers each girl was in the spirit to enjoy herself and eat her full share of the lunch. The singing of College songs concluded the event and all girls left for Mohn Hall.

SOPHS ENJOY BANQUET AT PENN-HARRIS HOTEL

Make Enjoyable Trip To Harrisburg
By Auto Bus—Spend Afternoon
Sightseeing—Elect New Officers

The Sophomore Banquet was held this year, Sept. 10, at the Penn Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, with Mr. Gasull installed as class president. Mr. and Mrs. Keiss, chaperons, and Rodney Steltz, Senior class president, being guests of the class.

The day was altogether an enjoyable one from the moment the truck started until its return to Mohn Hall. The first stop was made at Hershey, where they obtained luncheon before continuing their trip. After arriving at Harrisburg the remainder of the afternoon was spent in going to the "Movies" and in sightseeing.

The evening was spent in playing games and in speechmaking by the new officers; namely,—Pres. Mr. Gasull, Vice-Pres. Mr. Fassnacht, Sec., Miss Kreiser, and Treas., Miss Herr. Mr. Steltz also gave a very enjoyable talk to the class. The party dispersed after singing the Alma Mater, and boarded the truck for Myerstown. They were all aboard for Albright and Mohn Hall once more.

Chas. Yost, '25 Elected Base- ball Captain For '25 Season

Charles LaVerne Yost, '25, the stocky athlete from Carlisle will lead Albright's baseball team next season as captain. He was elected to that position by the baseball letter men at the end of last year's successful campaign.

Yost is a pitcher and has been the star hurler for the Red and White teams for the past three seasons. Last year proved his best college season yet, winning six out of eight games, turning back City College of New York, 8-1; Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, 11-6; F. & M., 9-4; Muhlenburg, 4-1; Susquehanna, 5-4; and Albright's old rivals, Lebanon Valley, 7-2. He lost only to Susquehanna, 7-3 and a hard luck game to Swarthmore, 3-2.

Yost is also a star hitter and bats well around the .300 mark. During his first two years he was used in the outfield when not pitching, because of his ability to hit. He is a right-handed hitter and thrower.

Yost will make a good leader for the team as he has the confidence of all his teammates. He is popular on the campus and takes an active interest in all school affairs. He has the well wishes of the entire student body in his new responsibility and the Bulletin takes pleasure in congratulating him.

"GET-ACQUAINTED" PARTY

On the first evening of the school year, Tuesday, Sept. 9, the Y. W. C. A. planned a get-together party for the girls in Mohn Hall reception room. College songs and "get-acquainted" games were enjoyed by both new and old girls. After singing the Alma Mater and giving the old "Boo-hm yell" for the Freshmen girls, the party ended, having begun a better friendship between the girls.

Y. W. C. A. "KIDS' PARTY"

The Y. W. C. A. held a "Kids' Party" in Mohn Hall reception room, after Literary Society, Friday evening, Sept. 12th. Lois Helm took charge of the program, calling on various persons to do some stunt or other. "Farmer in the Dell," "London Bridges" and other games were played; then refreshments were served. The party dispersed after the "Boo-hm Yell" was given for the Y. W. C. A.

LARGE FOOT- BALL SQUAD HARD AT WORK

Preliminary Conditioning Work Gives Way to The Daily Scrimmage In Preparation For First Game

EIGHT LETTER MEN FROM
LAST YEAR BACK IN TOGS

Competition Keen For All Positions
On Team, Especially So For The Backfield Berths—Strong Schedule of Games Announced

Coach Benfer and his football candidates for the season of 1924 convened on Tuesday, September the second. On that day began the conditioning and hardening process so necessary to a football team. Instead of the long preliminary exercises the candidates were given early scrimmages; the first of which was held on Wednesday afternoon, September 10th. Since then they have continued daily.

With eight of last year's letter men again in the uniform of the Red and White there is every indication of success and, in the words of President Bowman, "the vanquishing of all our gridiron foes for this season". The above mentioned letter men are Kengle, fullback, Hollenbaugh and Leinbach, halfbacks, Gasull, quarterback, Dodd and Griggs ends, Snyder, guard, and Everett, tackle. With these as a nucleus and the new material which has answered the call of the Red and White Coach Benfer will put out a winning combination. In fact the competition is so keen that it will be a hard task to select a winning combination. Rivaling Hollenbaugh and Leinbach for the halfback positions are Ebert, Holvey, Harris, Derr and Shirk. "Shorty" Gasull the fast little quarterback who took the post after "Daddy" Miller was injured last year is putting up a hard and game fight to retain his position from Garrett, Angle, and Raffensperger. With Kengle, Haas and Henninger as aspirants for the fullback position plus the wealth of material for the other backfield positions, nothing short of a fast and powerful line bucking machine will be produced. This year the line possibilities are greater than ever before. Frock, Wissler, Noss, Loucks, Brown, and Ross are new men who are persevering to locate themselves on the line. Smith and Schoenly hold a monopoly on the centre of the line; both of them are hard working and reliable men.

Albright College extends a hearty welcome to Professor William Chislett, Jr., A.M., Ph.D., of Berkeley, California. Prof. Chislett will take the position of Professor of English Language and Literature, which was formerly occupied by Professor Keller.

Dr. Chislett is a graduate from Leland Stanford Junior University, and has also been an instructor there. He has had experience as teacher in the College of Puget Sound, and is highly recommended. It is solely to his desire to become connected with an eastern institution that Albright owes her good fortune in securing him.

At the beginning of this, the new college year, the student body and faculty extend their hands to you in hearty welcome to Albright.

You have now become a part of the student body and as such you have an important place to fill and an important task to perform. The thing to do is find out what this task is and faithfully do it.

Of course you will receive rules and regulations which must be obeyed. Do not look upon the carrying out of these as an especially hard task or duties given you as hardships, but attack everything with a vim and vigor worthy of you. You can do it. Wisdom will not tell a Freshman to sidestep the regulations. Three years from now you will pride yourself in having obeyed and say to yourselves "What good sports we were!" Do not persist in disobedience of the rules, or you may drift into ostracism. Your own classmates and the students of higher classes will think more highly of you if you obey the rules given you. Just put down that the rules were made to be obeyed and not to be broken.

Often on first entering school, Freshmen feel a certain sense of restraint which draws them into their own shell and leaves them there for some length of time. This should not be the case at Albright for everyone is trying to make you feel at home. Of course, there is no reason why a Freshman should purposely push forth and make himself known to everyone the first few days. But, furthermore, there is no reason why acquaintanceship should not spring up as time goes on,—why every Freshman should not learn to know every other student. It is certainly no hardship for you to nod to everyone you meet and be agreeable. Get into the spirit of Albright.

As a class, seek to have "cooperation" the keyword. It has always been known that great bodies can work together only when considered as a unit. The happiness and success of a class as a class throughout the entire four years of college life can be traced to unity achieved in the first year. Let each classmate stick together on various issues which come up. You are together only four short years, and in this time you can make a reputation which will leave a lasting and favorable impression upon your Alma Mater.

MAKE THIS YEAR COUNT

The opening Chapel Service of this year made most of us think. We have entered another year. We have started another period of training. To some it is the beginning of a new life; to others of us it means the second mile in the race; to others it means the third lap; and to the Seniors it means the home-stretch. Yes, the new year has started and the wheels of the Albright machine are beginning to move. What are our thoughts as we adjust ourselves to this new environment after the summer months, and what attitudes of mind have we as we settle to the touring and discipline of another year? There is only one thought, one spirit, one mind to have. "MAKE THIS YEAR COUNT."

To whom am I speaking?—To ALL. Everybody is included—Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.

Yes, Freshmen, you are in a new environment. You have come from various prep schools where you have left places of leadership positions of importance, and stations of authority and prestige. You have left the old home town and the congenial surroundings of a good home. Now you are at Albright. Forget all the past. Forget who you are or what you were in the past. Forget what you were back in prep school. You are a Freshman at college now. Act and behave like one. Enter this year with the idea of making good. Let nothing stand in your way. From the start get your vision of school life and its activities. Enter all those activities. Become a "real collegier." But ever remember to "Be True To Self and Your God."

Is there anything to say to the Sophs? Yes, much indeed. You have been here one year. Did you make your Freshman year count? Have you reached the goal that you set when you first entered Albright? Has your first year at college moulded your character for the better? Have you caught a vision of life? Have you become better men and women because of your first year here? Answer these questions and see if you made last year count. If you did not then resolve to make this year count.

You are next, Juniors. Now you stand at the midway. Two years have passed. Two of the greatest years of your lives. Two years of study and college life. Were they nothing more than the securing of credit in studies and the passing of examinations? Have those two years been empty and devoid of purpose? Are you no further on in your life than when you entered as a Freshman? Are you still without a goal in life? Have you caught no vision of your work in life? Get awake Juniors. Come from your sleeping of two years. Look about you and see the opportunities of this year, and the years ahead. Then "Make This Year Count."

Seniors, you are now on the stand. What can you say for your selves? What have you been doing for three years, merely taking courses or have you been preparing for a life's work? For three years have you been indifferent to the responsibilities of life? For three years have you been floating and drifting with the crowd? Have you been true to yourself and to your God? Arise! Arise! Oh Seniors! Arise to the possibilities and the opportunities and the responsibilities of this and other years to come. But one step and you enter the world "on your own."

There is a challenge to all of us this year. There is a personal challenge. Make this year count. Make it count in all ways. Albright College needs students who are sincere and earnest. Albright College needs men and women with determination. Albright College needs more than anything else men and women with visions, men and women with purposes, men and women with goals in life. Albright College needs men and women who will "Make This Year Count."

Campus Chatter

Well, well, well, howdy, everybody! Isn't it great to be back on the Campus again! Seems as though the year's starting out splendidly now that the first week of rain and cold is over, and we have a heart-warming sunshine again.

Even the Freshmen are wearing a brighter expression as the memory of the day after the Banquet fades. They're a good bunch of Freshmen alright; they proved themselves so by the manful way in which they took their initiations. The parrot for one, is glad to see a class of good sports such as they are take its place at Albright. We hope that in all their activities they'll show the spirit of sportsmanship. Congratulations, class of '28.

The parrot would like also, to be permitted to extend greetings to the new member of faculty, Dr. Chislett, although, because we have enjoyed pleasant and progressive studies under Prof. Kelcey, we are sorry to have him leave us; yet we know that Dr. Chislett comes to Albright with an enviable previous record, and we are sure that his courses will be as pleasant as any that we have pursued. Cordially we welcome you, Dr. Chislett.

This year, according to the excellent students' handbook prepared by the Christian Associations, there are to be some new departures in athletics. The girls are to be offered the opportunity to win letters for both basketball and hiking. This incentive surely will give an impetus to athletic interests among the co-eds. Judging from conversations overheard among them, there is hardly any doubt that at the end of the year Albright will send home a crowd of girls, the slimmest, the strongest, and most graceful possible, for with the three-fold goal of gaining poise, good health, and an "AC" everyone is planning to go out enthusiastically for those two sports.

Speaking of sports brings to one's mind the Tennis courts. Is it true that they were leased for the summer as hay fields to some of the near-by farmers? That is one of the explanations that was advanced for their disreputable appearance when school opened, but some of the Seniors consider it questionable. At any rate, we hope that the Sophomores will soon put the Freshmen at the job of getting them into condition, for without tennis, Albright is not herself.

The parrot received one great shock, though, during the first few days of his arrival. There was hardly one among all the returning girls whose appearance reminded him of former times. All seemed strange and new about them. To quote the fashion journals, the silhouette was changed. For, instead of long, shiny tresses, held smoothly under confining nets, the observer beheld crowning almost every head a mass of tumbled, flying hair, short, and turning wherever the wind might blow it. We do not wish to insinuate that the change was unbecoming—not at all; but it was very unexpected—yes. All things come to him who waits, however, and conservative Albright has been always very patient. In that particular, at least, we are now on the white list of colleges, for we have the accepted percentage of bobbed hair students.

The class of '26 has finally passed the mid point of its career, and it is hoped that its members will now prove real assets to the College life. There are some signs of budding wisdom to give reason for this hopeful attitude, one of which is a passage of conversation that took place between two Juniors during the first week of school. Said the first Junior, Miss Wagner, by name, "Next summer I'm going with my father and mother to Bermuda." And replied the second, Miss Illick, "Oh, won't that be splendid then you can visit with all the other onions." We've noted this as a sample of Junior intelligence—the first original wise crack of the season, it may be. Doesn't it show promise?

ECCENTRIX

The astronomy students of last semester have reported the discovery of great areas on Mars, but they have not decided whether they are Baseball diamonds or Football gridirons.

It is a pitiful sight to see the town "studies" begging rides from automobile drivers, as they are of course unable to walk from school to their homes.

The student of Albright who claims to have made the Track team may simply have been referring to his summer's work on the railroad track.

The Presidential candidates all claim to be standing on their platforms but some of them seem to be in danger of breaking through.

Just as soon as fair co-ed gives a brief synopsis of her past there are many who hasten to work on the continuity.

"Ra," our new freshman waiter, had not been on the job more than five meals before things started to break for him.

NOTABLES ON THE CAMPUS

Yes, this is Rodney Steltz, present president of the Senior Class, and a good all around fellow. Look him over girls. That is all you may do for Rodney is already appropriated.

Rodney is well known to every one at Albright, and a summing up of the activities of this young man leaves us with the impression that he has done a little bit of everything. He is a member of the Boy's Glee Club, which last year he managed through a very successful season, is the varsity cheerleader, and was vice-president of the Excelsior Literary Society during the winter term. He plays at athletics and studies when it is convenient. He is always ready for a good time, and always a good sport, characteristics that are appreciated anywhere, and especially at a College where the personality of a student is such a big factor in the college life.

Although Steltz did not enter the class of '26 until the Sophomore year,—having from Allegheny College to make Albright his Alma Mater,—he speedily made his presence felt. Albright is very glad to number him among her students, and will miss him when he leaves.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS VESPER SERVICE

The opening of the College year in the Y. W. C. A. was held on Sept. 16, with a very impressive vesper service. At the beginning of the meeting, three girls sang, "God is in His Holy Temple". This gave to the service its key note. The scripture and nature poems then read by the President and other girls of the organization brought home three lessons. First, the greatness of God as portrayed in nature, and comparative smallness of man. Secondly, the close contact the Christ held with nature. Thirdly, the call of nature is service and that service is to be given to God and our fellowmen. The service was fittingly closed by the singing of "Follow the Glean" and the Y. W. C. A. "Benediction".

STUDENTS ENJOY FOURTH ANNUAL MYERSTOWN DAY

On Saturday, Sept. 12, the 4th annual Myerstown Day was observed. The people from surrounding towns streamed in by machine and truck for this Liebovitz celebration. At one o'clock they formed in line and paraded with their respective bands. In the afternoon an interesting program, including an address by Pres. Bowman was given, followed by various contests by local amateurs, including tennis and ball game. The usual free supply was served to hundreds of people in the evening. This gala celebration attracts not only the town people, but the students as well enjoy it.

THE RETURN

Back in old Mohn Hall again,
Back at classes too;
Back to meet old friends so dear,
And back to greet the new.

Back to work with renewed zeal,
With spirit all aflame;
Back to greet with smiles each task,
And back to play the game.

Back beneath each nodding tree,
Back on each graveled walk;
Back to mount the winding stairs,
To laugh, to tease, to talk.

Back to touch each dear old book,
To make each room a home;
Back to do our very best,
Beneath God's arching dome.

NECOSMIANS OPEN YEAR WITH INTERESTING PROGRAM OF TALKS

The first meeting of the Neocosmian Literary Society was held in Neo Hall, Friday evening, Sept. 12, with Pres. Henninger in the chair. After the usual opening Pres. Henninger gave a most interesting address of welcome. A five minute talk by Clyde Hewett on "Our Common Responsibility" was exceedingly appropriate and was well received by the society. The football outlook for this year was discussed by Paul Price. Mr. Dale Gramley delivered an interesting talk on "The activities of the school outside of the classroom."

The critics remarks by Dietz followed.
Pres. Henninger then installed the following officers who were elected last term:

Vice Pres.—Clyde Hewett.
Rec. Sec'y.—Hartwell Fassnacht.
Cor. Sec'y.—Fred Glosser.
Chapman—Homer Heisley.
Reporter—Gordon Oswald.
Poet—Charles Lehman.
Treasurer—Richard Schoenly.
Critic—M. K. Dietz.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

EXCELSIORS INSTALL OFFICERS AT FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

The Excelsior Literary Society met for its first meeting in Excelsior Hall, Friday evening, Sept. 12. Pres. Raffensperger immediately installed the following officers:

Vice Pres.—W. H. Kelly.
Rec. Sec'y.—H. R. Gasull.
Cor. Sec'y.—S. J. Mehaffie.
Critic—Russell Grumbling.

After the devotional exercises which were led by Kenneth Benfer, the following interesting literary program was enjoyed by everyone.
Current Events—Clark.
Talk—Grumbling.
Address—Miller.
Criticism—Grumbling.
The society then welcomed Messrs. Eberts, Haas and Noss into membership.

FACULTY RECEPTION

The Faculty received the student body in Mohn Hall reception room on the evening of September eighteenth. The room, beautifully decorated in red and white crepe paper and pennants, formed a pretty nook for the affair.

The formalities over, the time was spent in a social and "get-acquainted" manner. Added to the usual interest in the new students, was the interest in the new Faculty members, Prof. Keen and Dr. Chislett, thus brought formally before the students for the first time.

The Senior Class performed the courtesy of presentation in a pleasing manner. In the course of the evening delightful refreshments were served. The Alma Mater, and the old 'Boom Yell' for the Faculty, ended the first affair of the year which included the entire student assembly.

MISS HERR '21, KILLED

Miss Amelia Herr, aged 24 years, a member of the Class of '21, was found dead, Sept. 10th, along a railroad track near Sidney, N. Y.

Miss Herr left her home in Lebanon, Pa., Sept. 4, to resume her duties as a teacher at Bloomsville, N. Y. There being no one to witness her death, the cause is not exactly known. It is believed however, that she was struck by a train while on the way to her school.

The funeral services were held at her home, Saturday, Sept. 13th.

—The wages of sin is death. And most of us are glad that pay-day is a long way off.

THE BAND ORGANIZED

A meeting of the Band was held in Excelsior Hall, Wednesday, Sept. 17th. A list of available musicians in the student body was made and it was found that there is a nucleus for a good band. It was decided to have a conductor who is not a member of the student body. The management of the Band has the name of several men up for consideration and will announce its selection at an early date.

The following were elected as officers for the coming year: President—Russell Grumbling.

Vice President—George Weiss.

Secretary—Fred Glosser.

The Band lost heavily last year by graduation, leaving the following to form the nucleus of a band: Grumbling, Weiss, Dubs, Hollenbaugh, Clark, Fassnacht, Shewell, Glosser, N. Miller and C. T. Miller. The band will be greatly strengthened by the addition of Holvey, Garrett, Kermit Smith, John Kleinginna and Neil Gramley. In addition to these there are several others who will take up some instrument. All students playing any wind instruments or who desire to learn to play any instrument should consult the President of the Band, Russell B. Grumbling.

"Y" DOGGIE ROAST

Time—Evening of Saturday, September twentieth.

Scene—Athletic field, with a huge bonfire for a background.

This was the setting for the annual, all-students "doggie roast". Every old student looked forward to this time, for fun and good fellowship reigned supreme. Much of the natural restraint of the new students and of bashful (?) old ones, who broken down when they surrounded the roaring fire, with sticks crowded out by the "all-fired hot dogs".

To add to the interest games were played, and one may be sure that the "casses" did not lack a good time. And, as was predicted some new hearts were caught a-flutter.

With songs and exchange of many pleasantries, the students returned to the dormitories and homes.

THE POLITICAL CLUB MEETS

The Political Club held its first meeting of the year in Neo Hall, Thursday evening, Sept. 18, with President Grumbling in the chair. Instead of having the customary discussion of a leading topic of the day the meeting was given over to the purpose of laying plans for the coming year. The Club whose rise during its short three years of existence has been nothing short of meteoric until today it ranks with the best in the organizations of the College and has received official recognition from the Faculty.

JOKES

Anna Benfer on her way to college, meeting Grace Snyder coming up from same—"Is the circus over?" Grace—"No, it is just beginning. The animals are just coming now."

Ruth Hetrick—"I was going to get a radio, but now I'm not."

Mac (McCurdy)—"Why?"

Ruth—"Well, M-a-c is broadcasting all the time now."

ZETA OMEGA EPSILON

The Fraternity is pleased to announce the following pledges:

Hartwell H. Fassnacht, '27, and Henry R. Gasull, '27.

Fratr C. E. Kachel '24, pastor of our church in Mahanoy City visited the fraternity Sept. 18th and 19th.

Good Business

Pat having just arrived in New York was taking in all the sights. He wandered around looking in all the business places. Arriving at a law office he put his head in the door and ask, "Sure, soir, and what do you sell here?"

"Blockheads," answered the lawyer.

Pat: "Faith, and you must do a foins business. I see you have 'only one left."

Dusting Off an Old One

The honored guest arose to speak, and was greeted with a cheer that shook the room. Some way or other, that after cheer, he never could get some of the guests quieted down again. A half dozen or so of them insisted in talking loudly among themselves. The speaker could scarcely make himself heard. All at once, one man who had had more than enough to drink and had fallen asleep, began to snore loudly. There were laughs, and the speaker looked greatly annoyed. Reaching for his gavel the toastmaster rapped upon the table for some semblance of order. But in his enthusiasm he rapped entirely too hard and the gavel broke in two. One piece bounced across the table and struck the sleeping member squarely on the head. He roused a bit, looked about him, and then shouted:

"Hit me again! I can still hear him!"—Journal American Medical Association.

Easy To See That

The young man had taken his old grandmother to a picture gallery. She had never been in such a place before and accordingly she was very critical of all that she saw. Together they wandered round looking at the paintings with interest.

Finally they stopped before a canvas which showed a man seated in a high-backed chair. Tacked to the frame was a small white card.

"What does it say on the card?" asked the old lady.

"A portrait of F. E. Jones, by himself," replied her grandson.

The old lady went closer to the picture.

"What folks these art people must be!" she muttered. "Any fool can see that the man is by himself; there's no one else in the picture."

His Idea of It

A little negro was seen eating a big watermelon. He was uncomfortably full, and much of the big melon remained.

A white man, observing the situation, said to him: "Robert, the watermelon is too big, isn't it?"

Robert promptly replied: "No, sah, boss; not too big a watermelon, but too little a nigger."

Satire or Irony?

Landlady: "You say you've been hearing suspicious noises around your apartment. What did they sound like?"

Tenant: "They sounded like heat in the radiators, but, of course, it couldn't be that!"

Blue Tencil

Neighbor: "You're looking more and more like your father every day."

Smal' Boy: "Why shouldn't I? They make me wear the old man's clothes cut down."

Uncle Eben

"I likes to hear a speaker use long words," said Uncle Eben. "Even if I don't git much out of 'em dey soun's like he was givin' me credit foh bein' purty smart."

Mother (from upstairs)—Pauline dear!

Pauline—Yes, mother, what is it?

Mother—Don't think of letting Mr. Neverleve go out on a cold morning like this without first taking breakfast with us.

Dear Mrs. Smith

Smith: "You surely have a fine lot of stenographers here. Where do you find them?"

Head Steno: "Usually back in the corner arranging their hair."

Attraction

Ella: "So you punished Charlie by sitting on the opposite side of the table? What was the result?"

Stella: "It seemed to have rather a far-reaching effect on him."

There are said to be 24 political parties in Germany now. Over here we have but two—the ins and the outs.
