Alpha Pi Omega Leases Olive St. Property as Frat Home

Alpha Pi Omega has leased the property at 1616 Olive Street for use as a fraternity house.

Leasing of the home was approved by the college Board of Trustees at its recent meeting. This is the first time in the history of Albright College that a fraternity has acquired an off-campus house.

Approximately 14 members of the fraternity will move into the home next September. The present owners, Mr. and Mrs. William

Rabbi A. Holtzberg To Address Assemblies

Rabbi Abraham Holtzberg, from Trenton, N. J., a member of the Jewish Chautauqua Society, will speak at the weekly chapel assemblies next Tuesday and Thursday in programs sponsored by Student Council in observance of Brotherhood Week. Rabbi Holtzberg's topic will be "The Meaning of Religion for Today." He will also address the combined Y organizations on Tuesday, and the regular classes of any teacher requesting his presence.

Publications Send Letters to Council

Letters from the Cue and the Albrightian editors, asking for the establishment of a campus award system to replace the former affiliation with the National Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities were referred by Student Council at Tuesday's meeting to the N.S.A. committee. This committee has been working for the establishment of a national recognition society for seniors of outstanding merit.

The next meeting will probably bring discussion on the Cue's request for the electing of next year's editor.

There will be a meeting at 3 o'clock today in Room 103 of representatives of all those organizations participating in Stunt Night.

The constitution committee reported it has made considerable progress and invited all interested students to attend the meetings.

The Celebrities have been made a sub-division of the social committee and will receive an appropriation from that committee.

There will be an all-school skating party on Friday, March 31.

During the week of March 13, nominations for Student Council

Woomert, will continue to live in the home as house father and mother.

The third floor will be converted into a dormitory. Study rooms, a spacious living room, a library, and a recreation room will be provided. New furniture and equipment will be purchased. To comply with state regulations, a fire escape will be built.

Frank Bird, former president of the fraternity, has stated that the use of the home will permit closer ties between the active and alumni members of the fraternity and strengthen the unity of the fraternity.

To Make House Rules

Bird said that since this is a new venture in the history of Albright's fraternities, A.P.O. realizes the importance of making it a success. Complete plans for house rules will be made this semester in cooperation with Dean Levan P. Smith. These rules, Bird emphasized, will be in harmony with the college ideals.

Since the end of the Second World War, A.P.O. has sought a fraternity home. The group was located in the present Chapel Dorm before they were forced out by the wartime army training program on campus. A.P.O. members have been housed in various off-campus homes since then.

At the fraternity's alumni reunion held last October, one of the alumni members suggested that the fraternity consider the rental of a home. High prices have prevented outright purchase. A house committee was appointed to investigate several homes in the vicinity of the college. The property at 1616 Olive was found to be most conducive to conversion into a fraternity home.

42 Members To Use Home

Alpha Pi Omega has approximately 42 active members. All of them will have access to the facilities of the home.

The property has been used since last September as a freshman dorm. Mr. Woomert is a retired businessman.

Robert Rosen was recently elected president of A.P.O. for the second semester.

Day Planned For High School Group

A College Day for high school seniors is being planned for Saturday, April 22, by faculty and student committees under the direction of the Office of Public Relations. The purpose of the special day's proceedings is to better acquaint high school seniors of Berks County and outlying areas with Albright College's programs and facilities.

In the morning from 9 to 11 o'clock, the senior guests from the county schools will be taken on conducted tours of the campus, buildings, classrooms and laboratories by college students. At 11 o'clock, an assembly will be held in Union Hall, following which, at 12:15 p. m., lunch will be served in the dining hall. The 23rd annual Berks County Scholastic Track Meet will begin at one o'clock and senior guests from other than the county will be taken on a tour of the college later in the afternoon.

Serving on the faculty committee are Mr. Lester L. Stabler, Director of Public Relations, chairman, Dean Ruth E. Williams, Dean of Women, Dean Levan P. Smith, Dean of Men, and Mr. Newton S. Danford, Registrar and Director of Admissions.

Albright Y's Host To Regional SCM

On the weekend of March 18-19, the Albright YM-YWCA will be host to the delegates from the collegiate schools of the Middle Atlantic Region of the Student Christian Movement at a conference on racial equality. Albright has been honored in being selected as a site for this project and conference. It will bring to Albright speakers and personalities of outstanding interest and experience in the field of race relations.

Y's Schedule Annual Sports Carnival For March 3; Two Trophies Offered

The Sports Carnival sponsored by the combined Y's will be held on Friday, March 3, at 7:30 p. m., announced Joyce Costabader and Jerry Pedota, co-chairmen of the Y Recreation Committee. This evening of fun was, as some Albrightians remember, originated by Frank Bird in 1948. It was on that night that the A.P.O.'s and Domino Club claimed top honors. In 1949 the contest also ended in a tie, this time between the A.P.O.'s and the Zeta's, the tie being followed by a ping pong play-off held to determine the winner, with the Zeta's capturing the crowning laurels for the evening.

Contests for the women this year will be ping pong, badminton, hop-skip-jump, tug-of-war, and Indian hand wrestle, in which Pats, Mus, Dorm and Daywomen will participate. For the men's organizations, which include the A.P.O.'s, Kappa's, Zeta's, Pi Taus, K.T.X., and Dorm men, the contests will be boxing, wrestling, ping pong, tug-of-war, Indian leg wrestle, and the fast moving horse-ride.

Trophies Displayed

This year there will be two trophies, one for the men and one for the women. These will soon be displayed in the Administration Building. Judges will be Coach Gullian, Coach Parson, Dean Levan P. Smith, Mrs. Eva Mosser, and Mr. Eugene Shirk. The announcer will be Bob VanHouten.

The program for the women is as follows: ping pong, Pats vs. Dorm, Mus vs. Day; hop-skip-jump, Pats vs. Day, Mus vs. Dorm; Indian hand wrestle, Pats vs. Mus, Dorm vs. Day; badminton, Pats vs. Dorm, Mus vs. Day; tug-of-war, Pats vs. Mus, Dorm vs. Days.

WSSF Pledges Support To Rangoon University

The World Student Service drive which is being held in conjunction with the New Building Campaign has pledged its support to the students of the University of Rangoon in Burma. Student Christian Work operates under great handicaps in Burma. First, there is a Civil War and second, the University of Rangoon is in danger of being closed.

Twenty members of the Burmese Student Christian Movement have been imprisoned for asserted breach of the Civil Defense Act. It is possible that they may be held in prison for an indefinite time without the benefit of a trial.

Music Dept. To Present Programs

The mixed chorus, under the baton of Dr. John H. Duddy, and the college orchestra, directed by Mr. Hans Nix, are scheduled to perform in a host of programs during the coming weeks.

In Union Hall on March 28 and 30, the boys' quartet, the Celebrities, and choruses will combine for a spring musical event, to be presented during the two chapel periods.

The mixed chorus is scheduled for the following appearances: Park Church in Reading, March 5; Immanuel E. U. B. Church in Reading, March 12; Ebenezer Church in Reading, March 26; Evangelical U. B. Church in Leesport, April 30; and the Adamstown Lutheran Church, March 14.

On the evening of March 23, at 8 o'clock, the college orchestra and the two choruses will present the "Spring Musical" in Union Hall.

Soloists David DeWitt and Thomas Jones will appear at the Mohn-ton E. U. B. Church on Palm Sunday when they will sing the "Crucifixion" by Stainer.

Alumnae Sorority Selects 7 Seniors

Saturday, February 18, seven senior women were inducted into Phi Delta Sigma, alumnae sorority of Albright. Each year a committee from the group selects the senior girls who are outstanding during their first three years at Albright. These seven women are: Beverly Bresler, Doris Chanin, Joyce Thompson, Sarah Davenport, Shirley Johnson, Clela Rein and Hazel Moerder. These seven will be initiated into the group the Saturday preceding commencement. Social functions are held semi-annually since widely scattered membership prevents more frequent meeting.

The alumnae sorority was organized in 1913 by a group of girls of Albright of Myerstown with the purpose of welding themselves into a friendship that could not be severed despite the parting of the ways after graduation. Their object is to keep alive in their hearts the college spirit of undergraduate days.

Phi Delta Sigma has shown its interest in Albright in various ways. Books have been purchased for the college library, furnishings given to the girls dormitory, and financial support to other projects. The sorority has instituted a loan fund available to a deserving girl of the senior, junior or sophomore class to help maintain expenses at Albright. Information concerning this matter is kept on file in the office of the Dean.

From Theory to Practice

This week, February 19-26, is Brotherhood Week. Recent world developments make it all the more imperative that we, as students of Albright College and citizens of the United States, remember those hallowed ideals expressed over 1900 years ago in a certain Sermon on the Mount by an Individual Who might well be discriminated against in our lofty country today.

Our Declaration of Independence asserts the belief in the fact that all men are created equal, both in opportunity and in respect to basic human rights. Also in the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution adopted almost one hundred years later following our country's great civil contest the Congress and ratifying states of the United States guaranteed that "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States." These two proclamations antedated any "civil rights program" and "Fair Deal."

They are the theory. But are they working in practice? Poll taxes plus many other "informal" tactics exist in the country today which seem directly to contradict these florid statements and ideals; and perhaps the worst of all the contradictions are the religious and racial barriers raised by the higher-educational institutions of the country regarding the types of persons who may enter them.

These are the supposed intellectual centers of the nation. Their policies are looked upon with reverence by the average American and yet they are one of the major racial and religious sore spots. Applications of "odd" races or sects are especially examined and a lower percentage are admitted, largely in professional or graduate schools. The complaint is not against church-schools who are supported by and therefore naturally favor a certain religion, yet without quotas, but it is against schools who are prejudiced to all. Applications for admission to a college or university should, according to our country's theory, be judged only on the basis of character, academic and extra-curricular activities in high school or college undergraduate work.

A good beginning in the practice of racial equality is open to all Albright students in the coming Middle Atlantic Region of the Student Christian Movement's conference on this very problem. Sponsored by the Albright Y's, this timely conference on March 18 and 19 will bring many authoritative speakers to the campus on the problem of equality.

We here at Albright can begin the next fifty-two brotherhood weeks by viewing every good citizen, excluding no race, color, or creed, as our world-brother. That's a big order and an ideal one. We are fortunate enough to be in an undiscriminating church-school, but the question is whether we are discriminating in our own ways, both in and out of school.

It is therefore our solemn duty now as separate individuals to begin awakening the sleeping sense of universal brotherhood of all men. R. S.

Read, Think—Act!

It is not new news to any of us that there is something lacking in the line of school spirit displayed by Albrightians. Too often we take the easy way out and don't bother coming out for activities if there is a good movie in town, and the cheering sections at away games barely rate mention. When it comes right down to it, it is a mighty hard task to get a representative section of the college out to back up their school in any of its endeavors.

Now we are faced with a challenge to erect a long-needed Gym Building . . . but before we can watch our team play on a home court next-door, why not see to it that the Lions roll up a scroll of victories this year too! The town will come out only to back a winning team, but all Albrightians, whether Dorm, Day, Veteran, or Marrieds, ought not to find it a hard job to stand behind the Red and White Saturday nights and the other times when the need arises.

Right now the hardwood Lions are experiencing a winning season under Coach Gulian. They are giving all they can to put Albright on top and in the news everywhere. We are proud of a triumphant team, and by rooting harder we can accomplish even more. Another MASC crown would look very handsome atop the Lion's mane, and that title is within our reach. A cheerleader, a spectator, and a varsity player have consented to voice their opinions below on this topic of school spirit.

Cheerleader

It has been said that a team playing at home has several advantages over its opponent. For one thing, they are used to the type of footing on that floor, and for another they are accustomed to judging their plays according to its size. Albright has a cheering squad because it is also felt that a peppy team leading an enthusiastic crowd can often act as the sixth player, which might help the team come out on top from a nip and tuck fray. The scores themselves do not argue to the contrary.

We want our colors to win, of course, but it is just as important for them to bow out fighting after repeated efforts. The cheerleaders have tried to fill their positions to the best of their ability, although it is only fair to consider that we run into stumbling blocks too. We are constantly subject to spectator criticism, and we do welcome it along constructive lines. Various comments about our draggy cheers reached our ears and as a result the squads have produced five new, peppier yells mimeographed for use at the games. This "spirit" injection can become potent only if the spectators will learn and shout them when called upon to do so.

It is certainly easier and more encouraging for us to do our best job when the crowd responds. A good squad can operate in a respected spot among our campus organizations if cooperation is made the byword.

Spectator

I definitely think the school spirit could be improved. The spectators, generally speaking, are with the team when they are winning, but when the odds are against them, or the home team is ahead by a large margin, the response, the cheers, and the temporarily assumed attitude toward Albright's players are usually forgotten. One thing I have noted is that there is a moderate amount of name-calling, or remarks directed toward the referees and visiting players. There could be still less of it.

As far as giving moral support to the team goes, we all like to have the feeling that someone cares whether we win or lose, even in the game of life, and in a basketball game or any other activity where competition is offered, the feeling is still the same. Everyone likes a player who practices the rules of good sportsmanship so to all spectators may I say, "If you can't play a sport, be one."

Varsity Player

There is no denying the fact that the sports rooters behind the Albright hoopsters will cheer loudly at home when the team is being challenged in the last minutes of the game. However, the reaction is not as favorable if the Lions are far in the lead or fifteen points behind. It would do a lot for the players to know that when the cheer leaders get out to lead a yell, the crowd would respond. The extra confidence and drive a spirited cheer can put into a team cannot be overemphasized.

For instance, away at Lebanon Valley the spectators razed our leading sharpshooters and they were too irked to drop those vital points into the basket. A few more Albrightians would have helped our cause a lot by counteracting L. V.'s jeers with healthy yells. When we met Moravian at the Front and Spring Gym, there was almost a dead silence while the Red and White were trailing the Greyhounds, although this was when we most needed a moral boost from the fans.

La Salle was in distant territory, as were St. Joe's and Scranton, but it does something to us when we hear the crowd shout for the opponent and no one there to pull for Albright. Thanks to everyone who cares enough to come out; but to the rest, try and put yourselves in our sneakers and think how we'd feel to know our school is behind us when we're trying hard. Let's see if we can get that MASC Trophy all together.

A Word to the Wise

During the past week, The Albrightian has conducted a campus-wide survey. The question asked was, "What do you dislike most about professors' teaching methods?"

The pet peeve is the professor who always saves the main point of his lecture until the end of the period. Usually, these words of wisdom fall from the professor's lips just after the bell has rung and are lost in the noise of rustling notebooks and scraping chairs.

Then, there is the professor who looks out the window when he lectures to his class. You can't tell whether he is talking to you or trying to teach his subject to the birds and squirrels who congregate in the trees. Naturally, these animals have their little notebooks so they can take lecture notes!

There is one in every college who lectures so fast that the only students able to take notes are the more fortunate people who have gone to night school and taken shorthand. By using a vocabulary and a form of English known

This week's Dandy Lion has the unusual, but pleasant interest in utilizing the beauty of one of the higher species of the dandelion order, that of working in floral design. Thanks to her father's florist shop, Vivian MacLachie has spent many summers in a world of flowers and foliage, wielding her green thumb to good advantage.

Butch, as she is called around home, plans to continue studying flower arrangements at special schools in New York City or Philadelphia after graduation in June.

We find evidence of her budding talent around campus too. The many responsibilities of the Day Women's Organization are sufficient to take most of her time between classes. As a valuable member of the Women's Student Senate, Vivian is especially interested in the welfare of the Senate's orphan. The Heo club claims her at its meetings and the Pi Alpha Tau sorority also finds her an asset in its campus activities.

On the lighter side, her interests incline toward sports. She is on hand whenever possible to support the Lion's basketball team, and finds time now and then for swimming, bowling, and dancing.

Practical Vivian is combining a Business Administration major with a Home Economics minor in preparation for work in her botanical career.

May this modest but noticeably intelligent Albrightian have a bright future amid the floral designs. Best wishes, blonde Dandy—we'll be watching for you.

Music, Music, Music!

The progress that we daily measure in science and invention is more and more vital in our lives as it affects us. To those who are affected by music, and all of us are at one time or another, the tremendous progress in this field of music is equally as vital.

Ludwig von Beethoven's music marked one of the most distinct changes in the evolution of the art of music. Probably the most significant factor which brought this change about was the fact that he was not employed as a court performer or composer as was the custom of the time. Most of his music was purely the expression of his own unique personality without the influences of the traditional musical forms of his time.

He was born in 1770 in Bonn, the son of Johann von Beethoven who perceived the potential greatness of his talented son. Johann cruelly forced his son to practice incessantly, while at the same time neglecting his general education. Being a neglected child, deprived of both education and love, Beethoven's musical expression served as the only release for his pent-up feelings.

It is our opinion that one must appreciate the childhood of Beethoven if one is to understand the nature of his work. Undoubtedly all musicians could be more accurately understood if a thorough knowledge of their background was known. However, Beethoven's childhood has a decided relationship with the ultimate impact of his artistic expression.

Beethoven's music is a direct expression of the profound emotion of man, perhaps because he experienced these emotions more vividly than most men. Consequently his music portrays one continuous epilogue of varying emotional experiences.

"In appearance Beethoven was a short stocky individual with a swarthy face, ugly but expressive." His manners have been described as uncouth and his dress untidy. One can readily understand how difficult it was for Beethoven, irrespective of his ability to be socially acceptable. One might say that Beethoven was socially immature; this proved to be a primary causative factor for his inability to receive the love and approval of those to whom he was attracted.

Even more significant was the almost unique handicap under which Beethoven labored during the latter period of his life. Beethoven was deaf, and deafness is to a musician in front of his composition as blindness is to the artist in front of his canvas. However, deafness only served to enhance his creative genius. This is exemplified by the complete freedom from convention which Beethoven displays in his great composition, "The Ninth Symphony." This pathetic state of isolation under which Beethoven developed his most magnificent composition was further complicated when Beethoven contracted dropsy. This painful disease proved fatal three months later. Ludwig von Beethoven died on March 26, 1827, exactly 100 years before the birth of the co-author of this article.

Beethoven "freed music" but enslaved himself to something which he can say more beautifully than we: "Music is the mediator of the spiritual and the sensual life. Although the spirit is not the master of that which it creates through music, yet it is blessed in this creation which, like every creation of art, is mightier than the artist."

only to his family and close friends, the good professor wonders why you can't take notes or understand his lectures.

Another fellow whom we can't pass by is the professor who tells his success story regularly every week. He usually has so many degrees that his nick-name could be "The human thermometer." O. K., but it was a try!

And then there are the professors who say they have the utmost faith in humanity, and when there is a test, the students are placed in alternate seats in alternate rows and then placed on their honor. Which reminds me, did any of you students know the boy who was kicked out of school because of cheating? He was caught counting his ribs in a hygiene test.

Of course, students realize that they have faults, too. Would one of you professors like to write an article about us?

APO's	0	7	.000
Cats	0	7	.000

The battling APO's threw the Fraternity half of the intramural basketball league into a two-way first place tie as they nudged the leading Kappas, 37-36, in a sizzling contest last Monday evening. It marked the second time this season that the Kappas tasted defeat at the hands of the determined APO's.

The former second-place Nohawks' win over the Cats plus a surprising Joy Boys loss to a fighting 16's quintet nudged the Hawks into first place and threw the Joy Boys down into a three-way tie for second place in the Independent Loop.

Dick Lee's cord swishing for five field goals led the APO's in their second surprise win over the Kappas. Wilson Serfass also hit the double column with 13 points for the losers and was seconded with Joe Czutno's nine tallies.

16's Upset Joy Boys

Ten tallies each for Ed Serfass and Frank Maurer sparked the 16's in their upset over the Joy Boys. Bill Moyer outdid both of them however with 11 points for the losers. Bob Johnston with 11 and Norm Dettra with ten points headed their Nohawk squad in their 34-21 victory over the Cats which automatically shoved them into first place in the Independent League.

The Red Rockets maintained their second place in the Frat League with a 62-12 victory over the still luckless K.T.X. hoopsters. Big Connie Detling and speedy Bill Mayers each racked up 13 tallies for the winners only to be outdone by their teammate Lewis Hallack's 14 points. Dick Stinson's six tallies headed the roster for the losers.

Pi Taus Keep Tie

The Pi Taus' 43-37 victory over the Zetas enabled them to keep in their second-place tie with the Red Rockets. Big Dick Chamber's big 24 tallies sparked the victorious Pi Taus while Dick Steeley's 10 cord-swishers topped the efforts of the losers.

Floyd Rightmire's 26 and Don Grigsby's 22 tallies overshadowed their teammates' efforts in their 61-9 swampt of the still winless APO's. Bob Farver racked up a majority of the losers' points by scoring three field goals.

Parsons Announces Schedule Changes

Intramural head Lloyd L. Parsons has announced that those intramural basketball games originally scheduled for January 23 will be played on March 1 and March 8. The Fraternity League contests will take place on March 1 and Independent League games will be played on the following Wednesday. All of these games are to take place in the 13th and Union gymnasium at the times originally scheduled.

Cats Top Lincoln In Extra Period For Twelfth Win

Albright's fighting Lions proved their mettle last Saturday night when they outlasted a flashy Lincoln University court combine, 69-66, in an extra period battle before a capacity crowd in the Northwest gymnasium to post their 12th win in 18 starts. Earlier in the week on Wednesday night the Lions were nudged 58-52 by a fighting St. Joseph's College quintet in a return engagement at Philadelphia.

Eddie Anlian's two charity chucks and one deuce in the overtime period provided the margin needed by the Gulianmen to rack up their 12th victory of the season at the expense of the Lincoln basketballers. The Lions' ace chalked up 23 digits in his night of play, thereby pushing his year's total to 317 and coming within five points of the coveted 1,500 point mark.

The flashy Negro visitors started off in a determined fashion as they grabbed a 15-12 lead at the end of the first stanza and a 32-29 halftime advantage. However, the Cats took over in the third period as they outfought and outplayed the surprised visitors by grabbing a 51-41 lead at the end of the third period.

Lions Pour It On

The victors seemed to be well on their way early in the fourth period as they began to pour it on the invaders and built up a 57-44 lead. But an unsuspecting Lincoln freshman, Jimmie Moore, came out of what seemed nowhere at this point to rack up ten consecutive points and pace the losers' counter-attack which ultimately tied the score at 61-61.

With 90 seconds remaining in the regular game the Lions had a two-point lead and attempted to maintain the margin by freezing the leather. But Bob Brown, stellar Lincoln forward, dispelled any Albright hopes of winning right there as he grabbed the ball from Anlian and flipped it to Lloyd Thornhill who layed it in the basket as the gun sounded.

Brown started proceedings in the extra period with a set shot, but Ozzie Mogel broke loose for a lay-up to even matters at 63-63. Anlian then gave the homesters a two-point lead by duplicating Mogel's feat but was promptly countered by Thornhill who evened the count with a long shot.

The deciding break came shortly afterward when Anlian drew two foul shots and calmly dropped both of the conversions. This same Albrightian, after the Lions had staged a successful freeze, broke through the opponents' defense for an insurance two points.

Hawks Revenge Defeat

In their revenge for an earlier 50-46 defeat at the hands of the Lions, the St. Joseph's Hawks tallied five straight free throws in the final minute of play after the Cats had managed to creep to within one point of the ultimate victors. Paul Senesky grabbed a big 27 points to head the evening's scoring in the St. Joseph's field house and was ably seconded by the 24 point scoring effort of the Lions' Anlian.

Femmes to Oppose G-burg Gals Today

Subdue Drexel, Sweep Playday at Kutztown

Following a 50-36 victory over Drexel and a clean sweep of the Basketball Play-Day at Kutztown the Lionesses are host to the femme passers from Gettysburg. If last year's game is any indication, the femme Cats will have a tough battle on their hands as the Battleground Gals will be coming here to revenge the 39-36 reversal handed them on their home court last year.

In that game the Lionesses displayed a magnificent ball freezing act in the waning seconds to cement their victory margin of three points.

The G-burg lassies will have two reasons for wanting to register a win, as the Baby Lionesses duplicated their sisters' feat when they turned the tables on the G-burg J.V.'s, 31-25. However, the Junior Lionesses are determined to go out after win number one this year after having dropped decisions to the Jayvees of Ursinus and Drexel.

Meet Beaver Monday

On Monday Mosser's charges will hit the trail for Beaver for a twin-bill encounter, and their seventh game of the season. With the Beavers having the advantage of their home court, the Lionesses will find that they have a job cut out for themselves if they intend to repeat last year's overwhelming victory they posted here by a score of 43-29.

The Lionesses, not to be outdone by their male counterparts, the Lions, returned from their first road trip with a convincing 50-36 victory over the Dragonettes of Drexel. The femme Cats found the band-box at DIT rather troublesome for the first three quarters of play.

The Drexel lassies took advantage of their home floor by posting an 11-8 first quarter advantage and held the Mosser charges to a 17-17 halftime stalemate. The third period found the battle to be just

Meet Here Tomorrow Night; Aces, Zilling, Overholt Lead Red Devil Scoring Parade

Bucknell, Juniata Slated on Road Card Next Week for Gulian Basketeers

On tap tomorrow night at 8 p. m. in the Northwest gym is a return encounter with the Red Devils of Dickinson. The Albright Lions were caught on the short end of the deal in the first game on Tuesday, January 10, and are seeking revenge in this fracas. The Gulianmen take to the road on Wednesday when they travel to Lewisburg to tangle with Bucknell and swing over to Huntingdon on Thursday to play Juniata.

Thus far this season, Coach Chick Kennedy's quintet has run up a convincing nine and four record with a game with Gettysburg still on their schedule before they invade the den at Front and Spring. The speedy Devils from Carlisle bowed to Wagner in the season's opener by a 39-44 score. The University of Virginia took measure 62-79, G-burg ground them under 66-95, and low scoring F & M surprised them last Friday 51-68. Victims besides the Lions were Bucknell, 60-56, Western Maryland, 70-57, Allegheny, 66-58, F. & M., 66-58 (the first time), Johns Hopkins, 72-58, Juniata, 73-69, E-town, 80-72, and Susquehanna, 84-60.

As of February 14, Dick Zilling was leading the tribe with 211 points, followed by Captain Wes Overholt with 193 markers. In the first Red Devil-Lion battle, Zilling sparked the Devils with 23 tallies and Overholt trailed with 21. Coach Kennedy has a speedy workable five in Overholt, Zilling, Bill Kinsella (no relation to Larry Kinsella at L.V.), Jack Slike, and big Jim Abbott. Last season the Lions lost at Carlisle, 56-46, but came back with a roar, 42-61, and hope to do the same again.

To Engage Bisons

Shifting into high gear, the Lions start down the home stretch of their road travels as they go out to engage the Bisons of Bucknell whom they defeated last year. In 15 starts this season, the Lewisburg aggregation has copped only four. This in no way indicates the strength of the Blue and Orange, because they are a young, up and coming team that has averaged 60 points a game against tough opposition.

The Bisons bit the dust against Dickinson, 56-60, were walloped by W. & J., 45-56, tripped by Rutgers, 83-88, pushed aside by G-burg twice, 71-73 and 65-69, smacked by mighty Molenberg, 80-92, trampled by Lafayette two times, 49-61 and 67-88. They suffered poundings by Rhode Island and American U. 78-88 and 62-79, and were pummeled by the Navy, 54-71. On the bright side of the ledger are wins over Juniata, 60-48, Lehigh, 71-52, Lehigh again later on, 60-41, and F. & M., 98-54.

Bucknell seems to have suffered from graduation blues as the names of many of last year's players are no longer on the team roster. Missing are last season's high scorers Johnny Mosny and Jack Lose, who had 230 and 162 as totals with 11 and 18 garnered in the Northwest gym. Others not back are Bill Woodcock, Art Raynor, John Hess, and big Jim Conferdor. Big scores in the last Lafayette game were Gallagher and Rogers, who had 12 and 11 points respectively. Returning is slippery George Lavin, Craig Hall, and Mike Schaub.

Juniata Follows

From the high mountains, the Lions will swing into the valley to combat the Indians of Juniata. Under a new coach, Dr. T. A. Greene, a dentist, it has been like pulling teeth to get a win with the combination he had to re-build around the four lettermen from last year. So far the Huntingdon doctor has four wins and ten losses, with games with L.V. and F. & M. coming up before the Albright encounter.

Shining out are victories over Allegheny, 54-48, Susquehanna twice by scores of 59-42 and 58-35, and in their second engagement re-

Kittens Notch Win Against Lincoln; Face Devils Next

Tomorrow evening Albright's junior varsity aggregation will face the junior Dickinson Red Devils in their second meeting of the season after breaking a losing streak against the Lincoln U. reserves last Saturday. In their first engagement at Carlisle on Tuesday, January 10, the Baby Lions dropped a 75-57 decision to the host quintet.

Following a three-quarter scoring dearth the Kittens came from behind in the fourth stanza to trounce the visiting Lincoln junior varsity squad, 45-39, in the preliminary fracas at Northwest last Saturday evening. Earl Gernert and Rod Shippe led the hosts' attack with ten and eight points, respectively. They were seconded by Don McCarty, Roy Boush, and Blackie Moyer, who each tabbed seven tallies for the winners' fifth win of the season.

versed E-town, 62-57. On the debit side are Lyeoming, 38-42, Bucknell, 48-50, E-town, 53-67, Susquehanna, 59-42, Geneva, 46-69, Dickinson, 69-73, mighty St. Francis, 49-76, Westminster, 52-92, L.V., 51-64, Drexel, 37-64, and Ursinus, 68-83.

Returning lettermen are Holmes Ullsh (last year scored 298 points), John Stayer, Ray Korody, and Stan Welch. Juniata is really building for the future with all the big men they imported to their campus and will someday be a great scoring threat.

Dr. Holdeman, Dr. Deever Pay Visit To College Campus

As part of his visit to campus, Dr. O. T. Deever, Associate Secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, spoke during the chapel program on Tuesday, February 21.

Accompanying Dr. Deever was Dr. Ralph Holdeman, General Director of the Departments of the Board of Christian Education. The two officials were sent by the general church to observe conditions on campus and become better acquainted with the needs of the college. The EUB denomination sponsors and gives aid to seven regular colleges and one junior college.

In his talk, Dr. Deever praised Albright students for having the good sense to attend a small church-related college where contacts with professors are more direct and social ties stronger. He also spoke of the valuable opportunities a college such as Albright has to present the highest in moral and spiritual ideals.

The two visiting church representatives attended the faculty meeting on Monday. Holdeman emphasized the fact that an instructor's character and ideals leave a greater impression with the students he teaches after they leave college than do the courses taught. Deever discussed the mutual responsibility between the church and the college.

Final Efforts Made For Heart Drive

Virtually every community in Pennsylvania has started an all-out drive to make the 1950 Heart Campaign a success. Eleven major affiliates of the Pennsylvania Heart Association, representing 46 of the 67 counties, have set up campaign committees to raise $440,000, the state's quota in the coast-to-coast drive.

From the State Capitol in Harrisburg came the plea of Governor James H. Duff that all Pennsylvanians participate in the campaign. Governor Duff said:

"Diseases of the heart and blood stream constitute one of the greatest medical and public health problems in the nation today. Together, they affect more of our citizens than any other disease and lead all in causes of death and disability."

"In recognition of this, the American Heart Association and the Pennsylvania Heart Association have instituted the 1950 Heart Campaign during the month of February. This campaign is designed to focus public attention on this great problem, as well as to secure the public's financial support so necessary to continue research into the causes of these diseases and to further programs of education and service in full cooperation with all scientific, governmental, health, and social agencies."

June Christman, and Pete Young are transforming the cellar into a workshop and recreation room for inter-racial and inter-faith high school groups. Latest reports confirm the fact that the Fellowship House's children's chorus sings louder and lustier and better every day under the inspired direction of Geneva Bolton. And that click, click every Thursday afternoon is the sound of the nimble little fingers using knitting needles. The instructors are Ruth Tyson and Ginny Kitzmiller.

A slight beginning has been made in moving toward equality, but the present situation remains shameful and the issue must be faced and the responsibility shouldered by intelligent persons. A nucleus committee has been carrying on the work, members of which are Phoebe Hunter, Ted Whitby, Lois Gehris, Geneva Bolton, Jay Shenk, Ronald Sweetapple, Pat Peirce and the Rev. Eugene H. Barth. Much remains to be attempted.

BROTHERHOOD WEEK

Lent Begins With Special Y Service

Albright opened the Lenten season with a special service held Tuesday, February 21, at the regular Y meeting. Dr. Ralph Holdeman and Dr. O. T. Deever were the featured speakers of the pre-lenten service.

Joyce Costenbader opened the service by reading the scripture and leading the prayer, followed by a reading of "The Meaning of Lent" by Pete Young and the singing of "Beautiful Savior" by the Y choir. The speakers, introduced by Ralph Stutzman, gave their outlooks concerning Lent. The Y choir concluded the service with the singing of "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

Rabbi Holsburg from the Jewish Chautauqua will address the Y group at the next meeting, Tuesday, February 28. Plans are being made by Dave Bailey for a future Y meeting at which time the group will discuss summer projects.

NSA to Reduce Membership Dues

Student governments will probably pay less next year for membership in the U. S. National Student Association.

"Lower operational costs and strict economy will make possible a recommendation from the NSA national staff to the 1950 Congress that member dues be reduced," NSA president Robert A. Kelly said.

"However, no exact reduction has been worked out on paper," Kelly explained. "The cut shall release additional money for local student government activities."

NSA has a tradition of voting a dues reduction each year at the annual Congress, which this year will be held August 23-31, at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The Association operates on a $33,000 annual budget. Each year a greater share of the budget comes from revenue-producing projects and a lesser amount from student governments. NSA's budget is 4 cents per member-college student. Dues account for 2½ cents. The remainder comes from projects of the Association, including the sale of publications, and advertising in the NSA News.

Guidance Confab To Be Open To College Students

The faculty division 16, headed by Prof. Lewis E. Smith and Mr. Charles L. Gordon Jr., continues to lead with a total of $27,512. Mrs. Margaret V. Osman's ladies' division reported a second-place total of $24,225.

The annual banquet of the Kappa Tau Chi pre-ministerial fraternity will be held Thursday, March 2, at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room at 7 o'clock. The Rev. Mervin Heller, Executive Secretary of the Greater Reading Council of Churches, will speak on "Standing in the Living Present." Robert Pike will be the master of ceremonies and Ralph Stouff will give a reading. A quartet will sing.

Robert M. White, president of Student Council, read a paper on "The Relationship of Religion to Personal Living" at the regular meeting of K.T.X. last night. In the business meeting that followed, the group concluded plans for its part in the Sports Carnival and Stunt Night.

Speaking at the reception given K.T.X. by the Divinity Students Society of the Evangelical School of Theology, Prof. Harry A. DeWier urged that convictions be carried out by giving one's allegiance to a denomination.

Prof. DeWier discussed several improvements which would ease conditions. All persons should declare themselves in a denomination, because human nature expresses itself through different common systems. Ministers should recognize each other for what they are and overcome the uneasy feeling between each other.

All the senior pre-theological students of Albright College have been invited to the annual dinner given by Dr. J. A. Heck, president of the Evangelical School of Theology. The dinner will be given on Wednesday evening, March 1, at 6 o'clock in the Wyomissing Club.
