Council Asks Reserved Seats At Northwest

7:45 Would Be Deadline To Accommodate Students At Basketball Games

A special section of seats will be reserved for students at all future home basketball games if present plans of Student Council are approved by the powers that be.

The motion by Ray Swett to provide a reserved section for students at the next home game was passed by the student government at their Monday afternoon meeting. Tom Johnson was delegated custodian to keep the section clear of outsiders. The reserved section will be open to the general public after 7:45 p. m. Students desiring to sit in the reserved section must show their athletic pass to the student usher before 7:45.

The Council also went on record as favoring smoking in the Selwyn parlors. The next informal dance is scheduled for Friday, February 7.

Plan L. I. U. Trip

Plans for providing transportation tomorrow night to the basketball game with Long Island University were announced by Ray Swett, chairman of the newly-created transportation committee.

Vincent Rusbosin, council president, appointed Waldo Eshelman as a co-ordinator of council and the college cheer leaders.

Lack of definite information prompted the representatives to table a bill for student-government reorganization and the proposal to sponsor an all-college dinner-dance. A special meeting of the council will be called in the near future to consider the shelved items.

Alumni To Meet In New York City

Metropolitan Dinner To Be Warmup For L. I. U. Game

The Metropolitan Area of Albright College Alumni will meet in the Sloane House, at Ninth Avenue and 34th, New York City, at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow. The House is one block from the Pennsylvania Station.

A dinner and an informal program have been arranged. It will be held in conjunction with the basketball team's game with Long Island University at 8:30 p. m. Reservations can be made in the Public Relations office today. They are $1 per.

Business Club To Hear Pomeroy's Merchandiser

The Albright Business Club will hold its first meeting of the new year on Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the dining hall.

L. S. Hubbard, merchandising manager at Pomeroy's, will address the club on the subject, "Modern Merchandising." Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Federal Unionist In Chapel Tonight

Dr. Vernon Nash To Speak On World Government

A man who believes union of world states can be more than just an idea to be publicized by so-called political scientists, will speak on his pet plan in the college chapel tonight.

He is Dr. Vernon Nash, a member of the national executive committee of Federal Union, Inc. He will speak on "The Choices We Face," a topic that will meet current international and national problems head-on.

Dr. Nash has done a lot of traveling. He knows what a dictatorship is, not from reading news censored to the gills, nor from listening to lecturers like himself. He's been there to get his data firsthand. He has visited 20 different countries, and has spent at least one year on each of four different continents. Recently, he also visited every state in the United States.

Wants Union.

In his talk, Dr. Nash probably will discuss the plan advanced by (Continued on page 4, column 2)

Campus Sports Muddle—What's the Reason?

Carl Mogel, sports editor of the Albrightian, gives a clear-cut description of the inter-fraternity sports mess, in his column this week. In a summary of inter-mural competition, he tells of promises made to the non-varsity athletes years ago when baseball was discontinued, promises that were of the Adolf Hitler variety, promises of things that never materialized. An ardent sports enthusiast himself, Mogel has participated in the hectic program more than half of the boys on campuses are participating in. His information is first hand. Read it in his column on page three.

Irish Drama, 'White Steed,' Next on Dominos' List

Private Balthaser—Front and Right

Tomorrow is "Der Tag" as far as Earl V. Balthaser, flashy coin-handler of the treasurer's office, is concerned. He'll be heading for Uncle Sam knows where, to spend a year doing some hard work. Local Draft Board 5 told him to report at 9 a. m. There is a possibility, said Earl, that a volunteer may nudge him from the list this time. But he's not worried. He's been taking singing lessons—"We're in the army now."

Former President Dies Suddenly

Dr. John F. Dunlap Was Retired Evangelical Bishop

The Rev. Dr. John F. Dunlap, 75, retired bishop of the Evangelical Church and president of Albright College from 1909-1915, died suddenly last week in his home in Williamsport.

A church worker ever since he was licensed to preach in 1881 by the Central Pennsylvania Conference, the Rev. Dr. Dunlap headed Albright while it still was in Myerstown. He was a bishop in the merged United Evangelical Church and the Evangelical Association from 1922 to 1934, when he retired.

The Rev. Dr. Dunlap was graduated from Union Bible Institute, Naperville, Ill., in 1882. In 1891 he was ordained a deacon, and in 1893, an elder, by the conference. He was elected district superintendent in 1906 and reelected in 1916.

The Rev. Mr. Dunlap was a trustee of Albright College ever since 1907. He attended eight general conferences of the church, was a federal council representative, and was a member of several delegations to missions in China, Japan, and Germany.

Mary Dunlap, who graduated last June, is his daughter. Also surviving are two sons, Irving R., a Williamsport minister, and John K., a Philadelphia teacher.

Bible Class Resumes Weekly Services

The Sunday Bible Class will resume its services in the School of Theology chapel this week at 9 a. m. Paul H. Ackert, preministerial student, will speak, Doris Schlosser will be leader, and Dorothy Fox, soloist.

Services will be held throughout the month as scheduled. Woodrow Witmer, president, has announced a radical change in the program beginning in February. The present "church" type of service will be changed to a service more in harmony with the group study concept.

Club Schedules Two Presentations January 15 and 16

The Dominos are in the harness again. This time they're working night and day on Paul Vincent Carroll's "The White Steed." It will be staged in the chapel on January 15 and 16.

An Irish drama characterized by mood and fanaticism, the WHITE STEED tells the story of a forceful, bigoted minister, Father Shaugnessy, a new priest in the village, who upsets the community's life with his attempted reforms.

Taking the place of the Canon, a good-natured old clergyman who is paralyzed, Father Shaugnessy and a group of die-hard followers set things rolling in a direction that doesn't coincide with the ideas of Nora Flintry and Dennis Dillon. Result: conflict.

Henry Leads Cast

The cast will be headed by George Henry as the Canon, and Henry Hellstrom as Father Shaugnessy. Other members of the cast are: Margaret Thompson, as Rosicanne, the housekeeper; Donald Blackmore, Phelim Flintry; Margaret Hollenbach, Nora Flintry; Clement Boland, Donnachaid Mc-Giolla Phadraig; Jacob Wagner, Patrick Hearty; Emma Shenk, Sara Hearty; Helen Markey, Bridg Brodigan; Jerome Denner, Dennis Dillon; Warren Engle, Inspector Toomey; Ruth Ennis, Meg Magee, and Charles Miesse, Michael Shivers.

Tables Reversed, Profs To Answer Questions

Will Be Target of Queries In Chapel Next Week

The chapel programs scheduled for next week should answer the student clamor for variation.

An "Information, Please" program will be presented on Wednesday and Thursday with Dr. Masters presiding. The object of attack will be Professor Marcus Green, Dean George Walton, Professor Clyde Harding and Dr. Graham Cook. The John Kierans will attempt to answer any question but guarantee answers to only those in their own fields.

The religious phase will be taken care of by Rev. Richard H. Jones, of St. Peter's Methodist Church, who will speak on "Building a New World."

Trustee Dies In Pittsburgh Home

The Rev. G. A. Collin, Pittsburgh, a trustee of the college, died on December 21 in his home.

Dotpourri By ROBERT L. WORK

Twelfth Night ushered in another academic round for the gentles on many campuses. Here, in addition to resuming our studies, we sit and think, perhaps just read, about the man-made scourge of civilization that is gradually grinding age-old treasures into dust with a concomitant disregard of human beings. Those of us who are appalled by such unnecessary destruction are sharpening our wits by thoughtfully and critically reading a weekly article in THE CHRISTIAN CENTURY, which is featuring a series of contributions on the subject: "If America Enters the War . . ." Violent and non-violent Christian protagonists present their theses before the reader, giving him reasons for new evaluations of such things as the efficacy of, and the guilt for, war.

John Haynes Holmes, minister of Community Church in New York City, has a way of looking at Hitler which is just a bit different from the current offhand criticism. He does not see the Fuehrer in the guise of "a unique embodiment of wickedness, a monster intruded upon the earth like Satan come from hell." "To me," he says in THE CHRISTIAN CENTURY of December 11, 1940, "Hitler is all that is horrible, but as such he is the product of our world, the veritable incarnation of our nationalistic, capitalistic and militaristic era. Whatever is worst in our civilization seems to have come to a vile head in him. He is our own sins sprung to life, to confound us, scourge us and perhaps destroy us.

"It is remarkable that Hitler has done nothing not already familiar to us from direful example. Thus, he did not begin the persecution of the Jews, which has been a Christian practice for well-nigh two millennia. He did not originate the myth of race superiority, which has flourished for generations in this country in the relations of whites with blacks. He did not inaugurate the concentration camp, which the Spaniards imposed upon the Cubans, the English upon the Boers, and the Americans upon the Filipinos. He did not initiate the totalitarian state, which is only an extremity of tyranny as transmitted to our time by the Hapsburgs and the Romanovs. He did not invent the idea of the subjection of helpless peoples, as witness Britain in India, France in Morocco, and Belgium in the Congo. He did not even build his own military machine.

As the old saying goes, "No news is good news," so therefore, this column is exceptionally good this week. It is so good in fact that we have decided to name it "Good News of 1941." It seems that no one attempts to do the least bit of work during vacations—in fact, not even enough to give a fellow a good story. Now that we know where we stand, here are a few small tidbits we managed to salvage from the derelicts of 1940.

Donald Sands, a former student at Albright, is now employed by the Dupont Company at an explosive factory in New Jersey. Sort of a "touchy" occupation!

The Alchemists held a brief business meeting on Tuesday evening in the science lecture hall. The session was called to discuss a chapel program which the club is scheduled to present on February 10 and 11. From the present outlook we predict an interesting program.

People you should know: "Cy" Kawlogy, "General" Science, "Phil" Osofe, B. Awlwig—his brother G. Awlwig—and his sister "Sue" Awlwig.

What did the one rock say to the other rock?—"I want to be a little boulder!"—by G. Awlwig.

As this column goes to press, we have not heard the latest developments concerning Professor George's aviation class, but we wish him lots of luck. Most of you may not realize it, but that aviation program means a lot to Albright.

A hint to the Snooper: "Sargent" Bathaser of the treasurer's battalion is ordered to report for duty in Uncle Sam's army tomorrow morning at 9 a. m.

HERE'S HOPING DEPT.: A course for Frosh girls on how to get back high school class rings—a science, to say the least.

Acknowledgments to M. R. for an idea.

Allentown Co-op Trip Cancelled 'Til Next Week

The trip to the Co-op farm to be sponsored by the "Y" Social Action Committees this Saturday has been postponed until next Saturday. At 7:30 a. m. the group will meet behind the "Ad" building. They will go by car to Allentown where they will visit a producer's co-op—the Farmers' Produce Co-operative, which is part of the Lehigh County Co-op. This is another in a series of "Y"-sponsored trips to investigate local industries with special emphasis on the co-operative movement.

Meet L. I. U. in New York

The Christmas vacation has only served to solidify our past stand on various phases of the inter-fraternity set-up. For more than a year this page has been hinting to the school's athletic heads that inter-fraternity sports are being ignored. Now, the time has come to quit hinting and to tell the facts.

FIRST, two years ago the inter-fraternity sports program was real and exciting. The touch football schedule listed twice as many games as it did this season or last. The basketball games were properly officiated by not one good referee but two. THIS YEAR WE PLAY WITHOUT REFEREES AND WITHOUT DECENT BASKETBALLS.

The softball league had two halves and playoffs were held. The boys received the best equipment and excellent umpiring. The stands were erected for the fans who usually packed them to capacity especially for the twilight contests. Last season the poor umpiring just about ruined the whole works. And, mark you this and always remember, at the end of that banner 1938-1939 school year, an athletic head promised me an expanded inter-fraternity sports and activity program for the coming years. This promise was made just after baseball was dropped as a regular varsity sport. The money usually spent for baseball was to be used in the expansion program for a majority of students instead of just the few, I was told then.

SECOND, instead of receiving an expanded inter-fraternity sports program this year or last, the students were handed very much de-emphasized ones. Fewer games were scheduled, the equipment was not renewed, and the umpiring and refereeing were terrible.

THIRD, the incident that really was the last straw happened Wednesday night, December 18, just before school closed for the vacation. There were three inter-fraternity basketball games scheduled and no referee to handle them. And to top that, the boys were given two basketballs that even grade school lads would refuse to use.

It seems promises don't mean a thing anymore. We don't want to be ignored. We are only asking for a well-balanced and planned

Lions Return to Big-Time Tomorrow After Gettysburg Set-Back, 35-30

Sophomores Drop 1st League Start Wednesday Night

Suffering a tremendous letdown after whirlwind performances against Kutztown State Teachers' College and Rice Institute, the point-a-minute sophomores, playing under the name of Albright College, wound up on the short end of a 35-30 score in the initial Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate League fray at Gettysburg on Wednesday night.

The race-track stars must do some Superman rebounding to win the game with Long Island University in Brooklyn tomorrow night. The contest looms as Albright's stiffest battle of the current season. It'll start at 8:30 o'clock in the Brooklyn College of Pharmacy, Lafayette and Nostrand Ave.

Getting off to a sloppy start against Gettysburg, the un-roaring Lions registered only one point, a lone foul from the fingertips of Dick Shollenberger, while the Bulldogs shot the works for nine.

Spangler High With 8 Points

Sending the pill through the basket like a deadly missile that never misses (ow!), Bob Buyer and Russ Sohnleitner grabbed the scoring spotlight early and held it for 40 minutes. They clicked for 19 markers. The Shollenberger-Hopkins combination was good for only 12. Bill Spangler climbed the athletic program with a responsible person at the head—someone who'll do more than make promises.

FLASHES FROM HERE AND THERE: Our only regret at Hershey was that we did not have Franklin and Marshall as our opponents instead of Rice . . . Long Island University lost to Michigan State. Remember even the great New York team can be beaten . . . Kutztown attendance was disappointing . . . Freshman game, especially . . . They should have paid us for allowing them to play . . . Local teams would attract more attention and would cost nothing . . . Don't forget it's the local fans who support the team . . . The fans will be plenty angry when they learn that not a single Reading referee will officiate at any league game, home or away . . . Berks County has a fine reputation for basketball officials, you know . . .

Attendance Record

West Chester	1500
Villanova	2500
Kutztown	1200
Total	5200

Albright scoring ladder to lead the team with eight counters.

The sparks began to fly soon after the initial toss-up, when Harry Simon converted a charity toss. Sohnleitner and Al Murtoff swung into action as an encore to Simon's heave and connected on two long shots. Then Shollenberger breezed in Albright's lone first-period tally. Murtoff and Buyer supplied the other first-chapter ammunition.

Halftime: 16-7.

Spangler opened the second canto with a fancy flip and a foul. But Trimmer turned in an equal performance. Hopkins tried to open a scoring streak, but Buyer turned it into a mere fizzle with two tricky heaves. Hopkins made good a free toss just before the half ended. The score: 16-7.

Showing their best shooting form of the evening, the Lions outscored Hen Bream's passers as Shollenberger, Hopkins and Spangler registered. Sholly also made a foul shot. Gettysburg came back in the person of Sohnleitner and Gene Haas, sending the count to 28-18 as the third chapter closed.

Bullets Decide.

The spheroid tickled the net three times as Jim Kane and Raymer Kent converted on charity flips. Sohnleitner scored for his pals, and Bob Rhoads and Bill McKinney did likewise for theirs. But the time was too short for the Lions to overcome the 30-25 lead which eventually grew to 35-30.

Tomorrow night the locals will face a team rated as one of the nation's aces. Boasting a record of 10 wins and a loss, that at the hands of a cagey Michigan State outfit, Long Island U. played Rice Institute a few days after Albright met the Texas rangers in Hershey. The New Yorkers copped 51-57. The Rice-Albright score, you may remember, was 73-65.

Trim Kutztown, 58-38.

Since the last issue of the Albrightian, five games have gone by the board. One was the Gettysburg fracas. Another was the Kutztown scrimmage that Shollenberger & Co. copped, 58-38. Sholly led the way with 18 markers. Hopkins was runner-up with 14. Estrucka aided the cause with 13. A man by the name of Carswell who chucked field goals well—14 of them—sank the marathon-mites at Hershey on December 27. He played for Rice Institute and scored more than a third of their 73 points. Shollenberger led the Lions with 20, Hopkins, with 16, and McKinney, with 12.

Millersville Drops, 37-29.

Two other games were played the week before the vacation started. The one, at Millersville, gave the alma mater a 37-29 triumph. Shol-

The Kappa scoring machine went into high gear on Wednesday night when it raced to an easy 86-7 victory over the helpless Pi Taus. The A. P. O.'s kept a first-place tie intact by swamping the Frosh Dorm 40-13. The Zetas hung a 47-28 defeat on the Day Students.

"Plug" Eshelman and "Punchy" Gigli paced campus edition of the famous Regar Sweet Shop machine with 21 points each for the Kappas. Steve Plaskonis continued his scoring spree with 14 markers to pace the A. P. O.'s. The Zetas showed their first signs of a good team as Dick Weber rang up 20 counters.

In the games played before the holidays the Kappas spanked the Day Students 67-32; the A. P. O.'s squeezed out an amazing 11-9 victory over the Pi Taus, and the Zetas won from the Freshmen by a forfeit:

Sherman Cottage Gets Equipment

Bendix Washer, Ironer Used By Home Ec Students

Sherman cottage has been very busy converting the cellar into a laundry room and a recreation room. It will be a project of the home economics department to further improve the facilities of this room in the months to come.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Weller of the Weller Appliance Co., Mt. Penn. the cottage has a Bendix deluxe washer, fully automatic, and an Ironrite mangle ironer.

Girls to Do Laundry

These are facilities which were lacking in the cottage. The laundry for the cottage and the baby, and the linen used in class work will now be done by the girls in the cottage.

Two demonstrations have been given. The first, to a group of about 20 home ec majors, was the washer. It was conducted by Miss Reynolds of the Motor Parts Company, Philadelphia. The second was a demonstration by Mrs. Walker and assistant, concerning the operation on the ironer.

Plans are being made to conduct demonstrations for the benefit of the student body.

Potpourri

"The very weapons that Hitler has developed so formidably and used so fearfully have come from other nations—the tank from Britain, the bomber from America and France, the machine gun and submarine from America. This man, so cruel, so ruthless, so revengeful, is not alien to ourselves. He is the perversion of our lusts, the poisoned distillation of our crimes. We would not be so aghast at his appearance did we not see in him, as in a glass darkly, the image of the world that we have made. Our sins have found us out, that's all . . ."

No matter how depressing a day may be at the office, however, it is always wise to stop for a bit of refreshment or pleasant company with friends. Londoners still find an hour or two to sit in on a play, and so do some of us. Les Dominos were represented in Manhattan during the Christmas week-end by an alert handful who found their way without THE guide into about five theatres. First of all on their lists is Ethel Barrymore in THE CORN IS GREEN, which gives its color to the eyes of this writer because he was at that time enjoying warm hearths in the Old Dominion. Next comes Ethel Waters in CABIN IN THE SKY with its galaxy of Todd Duncan, Rex Ingram and Katherine Dunham. Lest we forget, Helen Hayes and Maurice Evans are still revelling in Shakespeare's TWELFTH NIGHT. (In the Nation's Capital last week I stopped at the Folger Library to say hello to Brenda Putnam's delightful Puck and to stand in awe again before the First Four Folios with a glance at Anne Hathaway's chest.) And then, to keep abreast of the arts—as Frank Sullivan says: "We must be just; we must be fair. Mustn't we?"—Les Dominos went to see the cautiously pronounced FANTASIA. One wayward soul found his way into PANAMA HATTIE with Ethel Merman—in the show, she is. Oh, yes, and those who preferred not to be vertical customers at a legit performance, stood in line for almost three hours at the Music Hall—not Uncle Sam's, whose marquee last season blared: SHE GAVE

Federal Unionist

the F. U. I. to establish the satisfactory union of free peoples as the nucleus of the democratic world government

A journalist, scholar, religious leader, and traveler, all rolled into one, Dr. Nash is a pioneer in education for journalism in Asia, sponsored by the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri.

He is chairman of the speakers committee on international democracy of the Federal Unionists. And, in addition, he is lay minister of the White Plains Community Church.

Admission to the lecture will be free to college students. Others must pay 25 cents. Dr. Nash will begin his talk at 8:30 o'clock. The program will be sponsored by the cultural program committee of the college.

HIM ALL SHE HAD EVERY NIGHT INCLUDING SUNDAY NO MATINEES.

Returning home to classes, examinations, and reports, reminds us that a recent piece of Broadway is about to be presented on our campus. Next Wednesday and Thursday the Domino Club will present THE WHITE STEED, a modern Irish play by Paul Vincent Carroll, author of the earlier SHADOW AND SUBSTANCE. This play was first produced by Eddie Dowling at the Cort Theatre in New York on January 10, 1939. The frequency of production by college and little theatres since its release date attests to the fine qualities of this study of the would-be reformer and his problems.

Now to put the lid on. The following bit of verse is quoted without benefit of copy from the locally neglected Ogden Nash:

"One would be in less danger
From the wiles of the stranger
If one's own kin and kith
Were more fun to be with."

5 Albrightians Attend IRC Conference

Albright College was one of the sixty-three colleges and universities in the five Middle Atlantic States represented at the conference of the International Relation Clubs of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, held recently at Georgetown University.

Local delegates, who spent two days in Washington discussing questions of international scope, were: Patricia Smith, Paul Ackert, Christos Bratiotis, Seymour Mendelsohn, and Dr. Milton W. Hamilton.

Prof. Evans On Platform Twice Yesterday

Professor John C. Evans made two addresses yesterday. He spoke to the Reading Women's Club at 11 a. m. on the topic, "Dollars and Sense—Taxation."

He also addressed the Town Hall meeting in the Y. M. C. A. at 7:45 on "What constitutes the wrath of the U. S. A. and how it should be controlled."

Philosophers Discuss Ralph W. Emerson

Margaret Hollenbach was host to the Philosophy Club at her home in Reading last evening. She read a paper on the philosophical influence of Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Because of final exams, no meeting will be held until next semester, when George Epehimer will read a paper on John Harris, the first commissioner of education.

Lions Return

lenberger was high again, with 15, and Petrucka hung on with 10. In that conflict, Coach Harris started three subs—Sheffer, Petrucka, and Spangler—in place of the veteran performers.

The Villanova scrap on the 14th was really that. Engaging their "feline" opponents in the Northwest Palestra before a capacity-plus crowd, the Albrightians weathered a storm of smart basketball that ended 48-39. McKinney was hot for 11, and Hopkins for 10.

The Gettysburg score:

Albright	G. F. P.	Gettysburg	G. F. P.
Sholl'ger, f	2 1 5	Buyer, f	4 2 10
Rhoads, f	1 0 2	Trimmer, f	1 3 5
