

COUNTY TRACK AND FIELD DAY COMBINED WITH SUB-FRESHMAN FUNCTION; 38 SCHOOLS INVITED

Stadium Will Be Scene of Annual Contests for Berks County High Schools; Medals and Cups Will Be Awarded to High Scoring Individuals and Schools; 250 Sub-Freshmen Will Be Guests.

FRATERNITIES ENTERTAIN PROSPECTIVE COLLEGIATES

Glee Clubs and Orchestra Plan To Aid in Making Day Successful

On Saturday, April 16, Albright College will sponsor the annual track and field meet for the High Schools of Berks County in combination with its sub-Freshman day. This athletic event, staged every year in the stadium, has come to be an institution in the eyes of the youthful county athletes and each year more schools participate.

The Albright Sub-Freshman day has become important also for many secondary schools. The Alumni committee in charge has invited thirty-eight to send pupils to be guests of the college for the day. These high schools are located in Pennsylvania and nearby states. The sub-freshmen will register at ten o'clock Saturday morning and will be shown around the campus and entertained by the fraternities until noon when they will lunch in the College dining room. This will be followed by a brief musical program by the Glee Clubs and the College Orchestra, and an address by Doctor Teel or some officer of the college. Cheer leader MacCarroll will demonstrate a few cheers at this time.

Track Meet Main Feature

The main feature of the gathering will be the track meet in the afternoon at which the little strangers will be guests.

The events of the day are as follows: 1000-yard dash 200-yard dash 880-yard run; mile run, and a mile relay; high-jump; broad-jump, and shot-put.

Besides these, there are added features for girls and Junior High Schools: for girls a fifty-yard dash, and a 440-yard relay; for Junior High School: 75-yard dash, and a 880-yard relay.

Individual prizes of gold, silver, and bronze medals will be given to placers. Cups will be awarded to groups averaging the greatest total of points.

Wally Spott's Original Ramblers Will Play for Junior Prom

The Original Georgia Ramblers will play for the Juniors when they hold their annual prom on the 29th of this month. Dancing will be from eight-thirty to twelve.

The Committee is composed of Stanley Brookes chairman; Joseph Eitz, Lee Keller, Ann Wetzel, Mildred Reber, and Irene Fray. The tickets for the affair were placed on sale this week and will nick each reveler the sum of two dollars and a half. The Ramblers are an exceptionally good band, much is expected from them. They will be at their full strength of ten men.

Theolog Students Burlesk Profs. at Annual Reception

Graduate and Undergraduate Ministerial Students and Faculty Enjoy Yearly Get-together

The Annual Reception for ministerial students in the College was held in the School of Theology, Thursday afternoon, April seventh. This affair is given each year under the auspices of the Divinity Students' Society for the purpose of establishing a closer relationship between ministerial students in the college, the faculty and students in the seminary.

Assembling in the chapel, the men heard greetings brought by Mr. Kelly, Vice-President of the Student Body, and Dean Kratz representing the faculty, they later gathered outside the building to have their picture taken.

The program in the Social Room, featured a little reproduction of class room scenes. Several of the seminary men impersonated the professors and brought to light many of the amusing characteristics which attract the eyes of their students. So cleverly was this done that the group was roaring with continuous laughter. One professor frankly admitted that he readily recognized a perfect impersonation of himself. The faculty men present laughingly promised to make an effort to avoid distracting mannerisms in the future.

Following a few songs, refreshments were served. Approximately thirty students and professors were present.

Nat. Philosophers Will Hear Papers

The Society of Natural Philosophy will hold a meeting Thursday, April 14, at 7 o'clock in the Physics Lecture Room. Wilbert Peifer will preside.

Papers of a scientific nature will be presented by David Savidge and Levi Snader.

Important business will be transacted and all members are urged to be present.

Native Gallilean Herdsman Addresses Chapel Flock

Dressed in his native costume, staff in hand, Stephan C. Hasboush described the business of sheep herding, in Chapel on Monday Morning. Mr. Hasboush is a native Gallilean and spent his life as a shepherd living exactly as the men of the old testament are said to have. He gave his listeners an idea of the Easterner's view of the scriptures. He also gave an account of his difficulty in learning the English idiom and grammar. This was cleared up he said by living in this country for a few years. Mr. Hasboush is noted for his beautiful interpretation of the Twentythird Psalm.

Kulp, Prison Board, Addresses Banquet

Pi Gamma Mu Fraternity Hears Civic Reformer at Initiation of of Thirteen Members

Reverend Darlington R. Kulp, Chairman of the Board of Prison Inspectors, spoke on the subject, "The Prison System of Berks County," at the Fourth Annual Initiation Banquet of Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honor Society, Pennsylvania Zeta Chapter (Albright), at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room, Thursday evening, April 7.

Reverend Kulp told of the work done by a group of local people to better conditions in the work of correction in the county, and of their success in spite of the opposition of politicians, the evidence of which is the new Prison Farm situated near this city. From the position of thirty-seventh in the state, the Berks Prison has become the second. A cordial invitation was extended to Albright students to visit the prison and make use of it as a sociological laboratory.

Greetings were extended to the initiates of the fraternity by J. Harold Weigle, president. Professor Henry G. Buckwalter responded for the new members. The speaker of the evening was introduced by Professor Milton W. Hamilton.

Those honored by membership in fraternity at this time were: Professor Buckwalter, Mr. Marcus H. Green, Instructor in Biology, Russell N. Bony, Jerome F. Diehl, Esther R. Fenil, Nul (Continued on page five)

"Y" Installation To Be Staged in Theo. Chapel Tomorrow

Professor Albright Will Install Association Officers with Im- pressive Ceremony

An impressive installation ceremony of officers of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. is planned to take place in the Theological Chapel at 7:30 Wednesday evening, April 13.

The guest speaker of the occasion will be Prof. R. W. Albright.

The new officers of each organization will be installed by the retiring presidents, Lydia Schober and Paul Gottschalk. The new officers are as follows:—Y. W. C. A.—Irene Fray, president; Sara Hoffman, vice-president; Ruth Turner, secretary; Mary Ellen Venus, treasurer; and Catherine Yerkes, day-student representative; Y. M. C. A.—Leroy Breiningner, president; Russell Bonney, vice-president; Paul Vanness, secretary; and Arthur Daub, treasurer.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by members of the Y. W. C. A.

The committee in charge of the program is S. Richard Wiley and Mary Bowman.

Bonney and Burg To Attend College News Convention

Editor and Business Manager Elect Will Spend Week-end on Haverford Campus

THE ALBRIGHTIAN will be represented at the Spring Convention of the Inter-collegiate Newspaper Association which will be held at Haverford College this week-end, April 15 and 16. The men are the newly elected editor Russell Bonney, '33, and business-manager elect, William Garg, '34. The Haverford "News" and the Swarthmore "Phoenix" are the joint hosts.

The association, of which THE ALBRIGHTIAN is a charter member, holds conventions each year to which member papers are permitted to send two delegates officially and as many more as they wish as observers. The Fall Convention was held at Dickinson College and was attended (Continued on page four)

Washington Pageant Will Display Original Flags

For the sake of accuracy, the Ladies' Auxiliary Society of Albright is sewing together no less than twenty-one flags which are exact replicas of the colors the American Colonials fought so gallantly to defend. These flags will be used in the various scenes of the pageant which will be the College's contribution to the demonstration the city is making in this, the 200th anniversary year of Washington's birth. The flags are needed due to the fact that several scenes in the pageant depict periods during which there was no national flag.

The director of the pageant, Alumnus Edwin B. Yeich said that the standards will include: The King's colors, the St. George Canton flag, the Taunton flag, the Newbury (Mass.) flag, the Continental flag, the Flag of June 17, 1775, the Bunker Hill flag, the Rhode Island flag, the Liberty Tree flag, the Bennington flag, the Blue Flag of the Thirteen States, the Colonel Gadsden flag, the French (Bourbon) flag, the Flag of South Carolina, the Grand Union Flag of Cambridge, the Colonel Moultrie flag, the White Canton English flag, the Blue Colonial Pine Tree flag, the Flag of New England, the Linked Hand flag and the Pine Tree Canton flag.

The stage for the evening episodes of the pageant will be erected in front of the Albright Science Building which, is a replica of the first national capitol, the cornerstone of which was laid by Washington during his second Presidential term. The building was destroyed by the British in the War of 1812.

Floodlights will be installed by the city recreation department and provision will be made for seating more than 10,000 persons.

Int. Relations Club Prepares for Cuban Case Presentation

Group Engaged in Gathering In- formation Regarding Country They Will Represent

The regular meeting of the club was held on Tuesday evening in the social room. There was a general discussion on "Cuba."

Professor Hamilton read a letter to the club which had been written by Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, Executive Secretary of the International Relations Clubs and sent to all International Relations Clubs. Miss Jones is traveling around the world in a visit to all International Relations Clubs and when she wrote the letter she was at the Yamato Hotel at Mukden, where the independent state of Manchuria was declared February 18. She said that she had been heartily welcomed by Japanese students in Japan and they were eager to know what we Americans are doing in our clubs. She said that there is a very strict censorship in Japan and therefore there is no free discussion on the subject of Manchuria at the open club meetings. There is every appearance of complete support by the students throughout Japan of the present government policy, but there is no apparent nationalist feeling or movement among the students. The universities were functioning normally but there is obligatory military training in universities throughout Japan and Korea.

Jones said that the depth of the feeling of some of the Japanese for their life-long Chinese friends showed that Politics are not the only thing in the world.

Senior Dominoes Complete Cast In Play by Pollack

"The Enemy" Will Be Final Dra- matic Offering of Club; De- picts Tragedy of War

The senior members of the Domino Club will take a last bow so to speak when the Club produces "The Enemy" on the twelfth of next month.

The play was written by Channing Pollack noted American dramatist, author of "The Fool." It is a tragedy having to do with the World War and attempts to teach the importance of disarmament with all the subtlety for which its author is famous. It is said to have been a favorite vehicle of Fay Baynter.

The play has been cast entirely from the Senior members of the club, with one or two exceptions.

Carl Behrend	Wile
Fauli Arndt	Sally Verner
Baruski	Dolores Marconi
Bruce Gordon	Richard Rader
August Behrend	Allan MacCarroll
Jan	Marshall Breneman
Dr. Arndt	Carl Guenther
Mihzi	Winkelman
Kurt	Flora Lobb
Fritz, a child	Winkelman

There is some question where the affair will be staged. The committee composed of Howard Mayer, Betty Rimmelspacher, Kay Winters Edyth Smith and Victoria Orben is considering both the Womens Club and the Northeastern Junior High School. The Adviser of the Club Miss Schaeffer, is coaching this play.

This is the time of "season endings." A number of activities which have engaged our attention during the winter months are now being packed in camphor and forgotten. It might be well, however, if an effort were made to balance accounts before forgetting it all. Next year's enthusiasts must take a sport or activity just as we left it and if it has been neglected and abused a pleasure that might have been theirs is ruined.

Something of this sort existed here in Intercollegiate debate for a long time. When the school was lucky enough to have two or three persons who were capable and interested in the activity, it flourished with a false brilliance; when we had no such speakers, it flopped dismally. What was needed was an effort at cultivation, effective training, a reasonable encouragement but certainly something. And THE ALBRIGHTIAN congratulates the present coach of debating, Doctor Houk, on having perceived this need and having done so much to meet it. Very properly he has devoted much time to the first-year squad. Working up a big crowd of yearlings and keeping their interest is what we mean by cultivation. He realized too that with the activity gone to seed it was foolish to submit the teams to the demoralization of consistently lost decisions. So the Oregon plan of no decisions and no judges was adopted. In order to give the thing time to get on its feet, no debates were arranged for the first semester. Impossible demands were no longer made on the student's time and embarrassing bursts of publicity were avoided. Finally an attempt was begun to make possible a reward of scholastic credit for such work.

We don't know whether the Doctor sought the job of adviser and coach or had it wished on him, but we think, he has done very well by it. Future debaters will profit by his efforts.

LITERARY

LIVES AND LETTERS

By Rudolf Shook

I have, by this time, almost completely estranged myself from family and friends by sitting about gurgling secretively over, and hilariously reading aloud incomparable passages from The Diary of a Provincial Lady. (I have a dreadful feeling that I am about to become rhetorical about this book. I wish I could find another so amusing, so crowded with recognizable people and plights, so artistically satirical; and am suddenly appalled when I think of returning to books that talk about Life being The Great Drama.)

Shook Seized with Disgust

With intense disgust I discovered, after reading the book, my very own adjective describing it, in Isabel Paterson's review on the back flap. It is "delicious." A. M. Delafield's book strikes me exactly that way. There are so many people one recognizes (and rejoices in seeing satirized), so much stupid conversation, so many comi-tragic situations. All this is hilariously done with a wit that suggests John Erskine, and a skill in revealing character that surpasses him. There are, in the life of this provincial lady, the many minor trials we delight in recognizing as the lot of another, like Art Exhibitions we must pretend we are anxious to see, books we must discuss without having read, breezy ladies who make us feel dated and inclined to homicide, and bereted, nature-loving young women who insist on hearing our reactions to Proust and Dostevsky. There is also present most charmingly, the provincial lady's honest and caustic comment and her occasional revealing of herself. This is one of the most delightful books I have read in a long time. I join Miss Paterson in feeling that anyone who does not like it should be speedily dropped from one's calling-list.

I have given but a poor idea of the charm, wit, and even brilliancy of this book, but am not particularly concerned about it, for the inimitable Diary must be read to be appreciated.

Noble Organization Founded

The S. P. O. F. G. (Society for the Prevention of Farrell and Gaynor) with R. S., president, heading the movement, is formulating a preventive petition inspired by the announcement that the two culprits are going to appear in Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm. Many of the members of this worthy organization lie awake in anguish all night, so terrorized are they at the ghoulish prospect.

The Cult of Cruelty

Seeing an article in the ever-venerable Bookman evidently written by a thorough shocked and revolted critic on the Faulkner novel, Sansretour, I read it through expecting to find its horrors overated, I was wrong. I can not understand how I have overlooked Faulkner for he has a magnificent style and this is probably his most amazing work. The theme is to put it mildly a hideous one and he develops it with an artistry that is gruesome. As the Bookman says, the reader is held, horrified but fascinated, like Coleridge's Wedding guest. Sansretour is recommended to give the most sophisticated shudder of the year.

Albrightians Go In For Rialto's Shows

Events of unusual dramatic significance are taking place for Albrightians these days. This week a number of people from the campus will make a pilgrimage so to speak to see the charming Miss Helen Hayes in the Molnar comedy, "The Good Fairy." This attraction opened today for two weeks at the Garrick Theatre in Philadelphia. The group is being organized by Robert Work and John DeMoss.

Helen Hayes, foremost of America's younger comedienne, brings to this role, which Molnar has imbued with all the glittering wit for which he is proverbial, the inalienable gifts of freshness and charm that characterized her performance in "Coquette," "Dear Brutus," "Caesar and Cleopatra," "Peticoat Influence," and "What Every Woman Knows." One of the rarest and most adroit actresses of our day, her range includes the most delicate fantasy, poignant tragedy, and gayest comedy. "The Good Fairy" provides Miss Hayes with a role rich in merriment and satire, which she plays as brilliantly as the mischievous Molnar has written it. The play has been one of the triumphs of the current New York season.

In the world of the theatre, Molnar's name is no longer merely a name; it is a symbol. It means polished and inimitable irony, a gentle undertone of witfulness, sarcasm that is biting, and pity too for the human puppets. It means technical perfection, versatile experiments that take the breath away, a skill that is uncanny, a knowledge of the theatre that even to the actor, the director, the fellow-playwright, seems magical.

New York Hit Comes to Rajah
Wilmer & Vincent announce an outstanding event of the current dramatic season, when Arch Selwyn brings Benn W. Levy's comedy, "The Devil Passes," with an all-star cast, to Rajah Theatre, Thursday evening, April 21, for one performance only.

Here is an interesting and provocative play which enjoyed a successful run at the Selwyn Theatre, New York, and is now making a limited tour of eight weeks, made necessary by the expiration of artists' contracts.

The cast, include Arthur Byron, Basil Rathbone, Mary Nash, Robert Lorraine, Diana Wynward Eric Blore, Cecilia Loftus, J. Malcolm Dunn and Gwen Day Burroughs.

During the recent final examinations the students of Maryland committed burglary and petty larceny. In a vain effort to gain possession of the final examinations before they were presented to the classes, the students broke down doors, filed locks, ransacked desks, and went to extremes to get what they wanted. Perhaps these students might have received credit for a course in "modern methods of crime."

SPORT LIGHTS

(By Russell N. Bonney, '33)

The Lions are sure experiencing difficulty in prying open the baseball season. Two starts have been attempted and each has been prevented. The first inter-collegiate contest scheduled with Kutztown Teachers was cancelled by the Kutztowners on the ground that cold weather had prevented them from conditioning their club for the fray. The game is expected to be played at a later date. Saturday both Varsity and Frosh were ready to go but rain forced a cancellation. The Reading Dukes were scheduled to meet the Varsity while the Frosh were to play the Reading Ajax.

On Wednesday, the Lions will try again with Kutztown S. T. C. as the visiting team. Then on Saturday, the Lions will journey to Kutztown for a return engagement. Although the Varsity men have not yet shown great power with the stick this weakness will no doubt be offset by a high-class of hurling. We look for victories in the first two games.

The Frosh will meet their top opponent on Saturday, a Wyomissing club. The Frosh led by Capt. Gruzdias, will try hard for a victory in their opening engagement.

In casting about we noticed one game of interest to Albright followers. That was the 13-0 victory of Mt. St. Mary's over Temple. This at least gives us assurance that the Saints have a mean ball club and the Owls usually have good teams. Both teams play Albright this year. Coach Smith is trying hard to get the class league started. Managers were selected in each class and it is the duty of each class team to arrange their own practice sessions and have their teams ready for action in the near future. Games will be twilight contests, two evenings a week. The softball league will also function this year.

Track fans are looking toward the Berks County Meet in the stadium on Saturday. Many high schools entered and a big afternoon is in store for local high school track men. The meet presented some real stars last year and should do likewise this year. This meet is sponsored by Albright College and gold, silver and bronze medals will be presented by the college to the individual winners along with loving cups for team and relay winners.

Tennis again comes to the fore. All the candidates are entered in a play-off to determine the varsity men. Several veterans, including Capt. Snader, McCarroll and Matz, are on hand and they will no doubt repeat their fine work of last season.

So with the Spring program all set to go, all we can hope for is good weather.

Sorority Conducts Y. W. Meeting Here

The Phi Beta Mu Sorority conducted the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday evening. Sarah Hoffman, Soph., was in charge of the meeting with Mildred Wissinger at the piano. The Scripture was read by Mildred Wissinger after which Lydia Schober led in prayer.

Pauline King gave a musical reading entitled "Not Understood." This was followed by a solo by Mildred Wissinger, entitled "Cast Thy Burdens." Miss Margaret E. Geberich led the discussion for the evening. She talked on the subject of "Understanding," pointing out that we should refrain from expressing our dislike for anything which we do not fully understand.

KUTZTOWN OPENER CANCELLED, LIONS PLAY TEACHERS WED. AND SAT.; FROSH MEET WYOMISSING

Coach Smith Selects Fifteen Men for Varsity Squad; Light Hitting Team Expected To Improve with Daily Practice; Pitching Department Strong; Wenrich Probable Choice for Opener.

GRUZDIS SELECTED TO LEAD YEARLING NINE

The first game being cancelled, Coach Smith has been working hard with the varsity to get them ready for the next scheduled game on Wednesday when Kutztown S. T. C. nine will be met in the local stadium. On Saturday the Lions will again play the Teachers at Kutztown.

Coach Smith distributed fifteen uniforms during the past week to the men who will compose the varsity squad. They are: L. Hatton, Daub, catchers; Wenrich, Brookes, Betz, MacNaughton, pitchers; Oallio, Orr, Hino, DeFranco, Vanness, infielders; Andrews, Cruttenden, Hatton and Conway, outfielders.

The varsity is showing improvement with each workout. The pitching squad is exceptionally strong this year and Coach Smith has no worries in that department. The inner and outer works will also be manned by capable fielders. The receiving job will also present no difficulty. At present Coach Smith is emphasizing batting. Hits mean runs and thus far only few of the varsity men have shown a potent willow. Practice is expected to remedy this weakness.

Coach White is also bringing the Frosh along nicely. The yearlings have shown plenty in their practice sessions with the varsity. Gruzdias, the snappy second baseman, has been elected captain of the Frosh. The first year men meet Wyomissing in their first outside game on the 16th. Saturday's cancelled game with the Ajax will be played later in the season.

Cedar Crest College has a new version of the old, old fable, "Mary had a little lamb"—here's how it goes:—"Mary had a little calf, (With that you say "don't bore us.") All right, But that's the reason she can't get in the chorus.

The Targum of Rutgers University, New Jersey, tells of three Pasadena Junior College students who pleaded snow madness as an excuse for resisting police officers in a snowball riot. They insisted that they had never seen snow before.

Trackmen Shaping for First Contest

Andrews Captains Squad of Twenty-five Tape Breakers; Show Well in Work-outs

The Albright track squad has been holding daily workouts for the past two weeks in preparation for the coming campaign. Coach White is guiding the destinies of the track and field athletes and has about 25 men from which to select the entrants in each event. Capt. Andrews has his squad working hard so that each man will give his best in the first dual meet with Stroudsburg S. T. C. on April 22.

To Hold Trials Soon

Trials have not been held as yet and the men are not placed in their particular event. Trials will be held to determine the best men in each event.

Coach White has the following men for the dashes: Haines, latesta, Bolton, L. Hatton, Cooper, and Showalter. The quarter and half-milers are: Wyncoop Bartholomew, Bolton, Shippe, Manwiler and Reis. The mile and two mile possibilities are: Allyn, Bartholomew, Wyncoop, Reis and Manwiler. Capt. Andrews, latesta and Reis will represent the Lions in the hurdles.

Haines in all Field Events

Turning to the field events we find Haines as an entrant in every event. Other candidates in each event are as follows: javelin—Capt. Andrews, Van Ostrand and Gass; shot and discus—Dittman, Karlovich, Gass and Hepler; high-jump—Shippe and Smythe; broad-jump—Capt. Andrews, Smythe, Shippe and latesta; pole-vault—Shippe, latesta and Suydam.

Albrightians Will See Docs Grapple

Dr. Fred Meyer, physician from Chicago, will be seen in action at the Armory, Tuesday night in one of the preliminary grappling contests to the Hans Schroeder-Lee Wykoff finish. The Chicagoan will be opposed by another medical man, Dr. Leon Hall, a Buffalo, N. Y. surgeon.

Meyer, a former Olympic and national amateur champion, is looked upon as one of the most colorful grapplers in the country. During his five years of professional mat competition the brilliant Chicagoan has compiled a commendable record.

Meyer, known in grappling circles as the Hebrew Hercules, enrolled at the University of Chicago. In his freshman year he captained the basketball and wrestling teams.

As a sophomore Dr. Meyer made the Maroons' football squad. However, wrestling was his main interest, and in his junior year Freddy went out and won the Big Ten heavyweight championship.

Because ping pong is considered too dangerous, members of the boxing team at St. John's college in Annapolis have been forbidden to play the game.

Keep a Regular TELEPHONE Date with Home

JUNE... Commencement... the college year's over! Congratulations, Seniors, and good luck!

What a year it was! Remember those telephone chats with Mother and Dad? Those words of encouragement? That sound advice? You'll agree that of all the four years taught you, nothing means more to you than your appreciation of Home.

That's a worth-while lesson! Wherever you go... whatever you do... let the telephone keep you in touch with home. Share your news with Mother and Dad. They'll always be eager to hear your voice.

Now, and whenever you feel the urge, give the Operator your home telephone number. The thrill of "voice visits" never grows old.

FOR THE LOWEST COST AND GREATEST EASE

Set your "date" for after 8.30 P. M., and take advantage of the low Night Rates. (A dollar call is 60c at night; a 50c call is 35c.)

By making a date, the folks will be at home. Thus you can make a Station to Station call rather than a more expensive Person to Person call.

Just give the operator your home telephone number. If you like, charges can be reversed.

THE CINEMA

"SKY DEVILS" AT LOEW'S

"Sky Devils," the Howard Hughes production at Loew's is easily the laugh sensation of the year. More than that it is the most spectacular production seen hereabouts in many months—its amazing air scenes unmatched since "Hell's Angels."

Here is a sure cure for the hard times blues. No matter how depressed you might be, this slam-bang comedy of the air will lift you to roaring heights.

Literally and figuratively, "the sky was the limit," when Howard Hughes produced this one.

AT THE ASTOR THIS WEEK

The Astor Theatre presents "Beauty and the Boss," the Warner Bros. picture co-starring Marian Marsh, the first star of 1932, and Warren William, with whom she appeared in "Under Eighteen."

The new vaudeville program starting Monday, with the screen attraction "Beauty and the Boss," will be headed by Tommy Monahan and His Co-Eds in a scintillating array of singing, dancing and amusing "Musical Comedy Revue." The supporting program follows:

Francis and June Parks in "Characteristic Melodies."

Hal Hazel and Cassel in "What is the Answer?"

Barney Grant and Company in "Heigh-Ho Missouri."

"Juggleland," a novelty.

MARCUS PLAYERS AT PARK

The greatest single day's attendance since the Marcus Players opened at the Park Theatre three weeks ago witnessed, the new classy musical comedy revue, "Scandals of 1932," for the first time Saturday. It is a fitting climax to their last week's stay at the Park, after which they start on a road tour. While some of the players are not new to local theatre-goers, these popular artists, numbering over 50 people, have gained a large following, who regret their leaving.

Owing to the great length of time needed for the stage production, only short film comedy and news features will be shown on the screen.

EMBASSY THEATRE THIS WEEK

Sparkling entertainment with a champagne-like quality of buoyancy is afforded in "Lady With a Past," Constance Bennett's new contribution to the screen.

The golden-haired star steps forth with a new characterization refreshingly different from those she has been given in her recent films, and it is one in which she is entirely at home.

Ben Lyon gives a thoroughly delightful performance. Here is one of the best parts written in many a day and Lyon does it full justice. David Manners, as the young New Yorker, who proves a poor judge of girl values, is also outstanding.

AT THE STATE THEATRE

"Hell's House," deals with unusual background which is being shown at State Theatre.

There is no fuss nor foibles to "Hell's House," yet it packs a punch that leaves its audience keyed to the highest pitch of excitement, and Junior Durkin and Junior Coghlan, the two youngsters of the story, make Pat O'Brien and Bette Davis fight for honours.

Ten dollars in cash prizes will be awarded to the four best essays on "Hell's House." On the stage Monday and Tuesday nights, Capt. Smiles O'Timmins, daring parachute jumper at Whander Field.

Starting Wednesday, "Broken Wing," with Leo Carrillo and Lupe Velez.

MEET

VERNON T. HIESTER

This is a genuine introduction as Hiester has been absent from the campus for a full year touring with a band in New England and the Mid-Atlantic States. Vernon is a popular member of the Betas and his return to the campus will be good news to his many friends. His specialty is musical work, having managed the orchestra and led the band while on this campus last year.

Hiester has also been doing a deal of work in publications in the county writing for the Lebanon Valley Tribune and the Reading News. He has been attached to the ALBRIGHTIAN on the strength of this important experience. Hiester is a member of the Skull & Bones Society.

BONNEY AND BURG, ETC.

by the retiring editor and associate, John R. DeMoss and Luther Fritch.

The convention will be marked by a number of excellent speakers both in the conference room and at the concluding banquet.

As previously announced, the principal speaker will be Dean Carl W. Ackerman, of the Columbia University School of Journalism. Ackerman has written several books, and has been a correspondent for the United Press and several newspapers and magazines.

Another guest will probably be Will Irwin, famous war correspondent. Irwin has written about thirty books and pamphlets, has been made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor, has received several medals in the course of his work, and is now president of the American Centre of the P. E. N. (Poets, Playwrights, Editors, Essayists, Novelists) Association.

To Give Cups for Best Work

At the banquet there will be awarded the Association's cup for general excellency, and the cup for the best editorial. Dr. George Douglas, chief editorial writer for the Public Ledger and head judge, will present the cup.
