

Students, Faculty Mourn the Loss of Pres. W. F. Teel

Dr. Teel Prominent in Evangelical Church for More Than Thirty Years

He is gone from us. The silent messenger has summoned him hence. President Teel for over thirty years a prominent figure in the Evangelical Church an aggressive leader in the cause of Christian education, and an ardent friend of young people, died July 12, 1932.

The Late W. F. Teel

The returning students and faculty of Albright College this year have missed the hearty welcome of their beloved and highly esteemed president. In his death the church has lost a great leader; Albright College has lost her beloved and capable president, a great educator and the community has lost one of its most valuable citizens, always ready to participate in every effort to promote civic welfare; and an innumerable host have lost a warm friend.

Home, community, church and college greatly influenced his life. Through their influence his love for mankind and social interests were fostered, his high idealism, his lofty purpose, his firmness in the right and his religious fervor were engendered and deepened. His qualities for leadership were early gendered and deepened. His quality for leadership were early recognized. As a young man he was chosen as Sunday School superintendent in his home church at Ackermanville, Pennsylvania. Here his ardent, zeal, wholeheartedness, and enthusiasm were manifest. After deciding to prepare for the work of the Christian ministry he went to North Western College, where he took a prominent part in the religious activities on the campus.

The other fraternities and sororities rated in the order following—Phi Beta Mu Sorority, Pi Alpha Tau Sorority, Alpha Pi Omega Fraternity, Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity, Kappa Upsilon Phi Fraternity and Beta Delta Sigma Fraternity.

Fourteen per cent of the student body earned a position on the semester honor roll by maintaining an average of above B in all their work carried through the semester.

Y. W. Convenes In First Session

Devotional and Musical Program; Cabinet Announces Plans

The first Y. W. C. A. meeting of the semester was held Wednesday evening in the "Y" room of Selwyn Hall.

Sara Hoffman, (Junior), vice-president of the society, was in charge. The meeting opened with a worship service, which consisted of a hymn by the group, and Scripture reading by the leader, followed by appropriate comments on the text. A prayer by Mary Bowman closed the devotionals. Harriet Venus favored the girls with a piano solo. A short welcoming address was made by the president, Irene Fray, "Be Yourself" was the thought which she stressed.

One of the Freshmen girls, Grace Ketter, sang a solo. A humorous musical reading by Catherine Yerkes, with Ruth Turner accompanying at the piano, closed the program.

A meeting of the "Y" Cabinet was then held. Plans for the new year were discussed. It was decided that the Executive Committee amend the Constitution in such a way that the Junior girl in charge of the Freshmen Commission should be a cabinet member.

A change in the time of the Y. W. C. A. meeting was considered, but no definite action was taken.

The next Y. W. C. A. meeting will be held October 5. It will be devoted to Echoes from the Conference at Camp Whelan.

Albright Students Hear Impersonator

Max Montor Presents Dramatic Readings in Chapel

A large number of students attended the Tuesday morning chapel exercises which featured the appearance of Max Montor, German actor and impersonator. Those in attendance received a dramatic performance of rare value. Mr. Montor's program consisted of a group of readings from Shakespeare and Lessing in English and selections from Goethe's "Faust" in German.

Mr. Montor is in America under the auspices of the Carl Schurz Foundation and is in Reading as the guest of the Rotary Club. His chapel appearance was made possible thru the efforts of Prof. Von Aesch of the German department and Dr. Klein.

The actor was born in Vienna and studied there in the Imperial Conservatory of Dramatic Art. He made his debut in Zurich, Switzerland, as Mephistopheles in "Faust." Throughout his career he has portrayed more than 600 characters.

At a Student Council meeting, Friday, the Constitution was read and discussed. An amendment of one of the articles was considered in order to eliminate some of the unnecessary procedure through which some of the business must go.

It was decided that the Freshmen hold their nomination for class officers after chapel on Thursday, September 29.

The duties of various committees were discussed including those of the committees for the Girl's Dorm and Men's Dorm. It was urged that these

Lions Open Season With Victory; West Chester Bows; 38-2

Varsity Shows Power Against Weak Opponent; Hino, DeFranco and Orr Score. Line Is Strong

A powerful Albright football machine made its debut in 1932 competition by driving rough-shod over the West Chester State Teachers College eleven to pile up the crushing score of 38 to 2.

Quarterback Hino led the speedy quartet of first string backs in ripping through a yielding Teachers' line for 24 first downs and 6 touchdowns. Hino personally pierced the enemy goal line for three scores with the telling aid of sizable gains and good blocking by lateata and Orr. Hatton, too, tore off several shifty runs before retiring because of a hurt leg.

Even the one-sidedness of the final count, does not describe fully the story of the Lions' overwhelming superiority, for the winning margin might have been swelled by several additional touchdowns but for penalties inflicted at times of scoring opportunities; in fact, Hepler actually crossed West Chester's goal line in the fourth quarter only to be called back by a penalty for holding.

It was a safety, caused only a couple minutes after the opening kickoff by Orr's fumble and recovery behind his own goal, that furnished the spark which ignited the Red and White to the slaughter. Shortly after the opponents had registered these two points, Albright uncocked a determined attack which did not stop until the 60-yard march to Touchdown Town was climaxed by Hino's dash around right end. L. Hatton added the extra point by a place kick.

Three more six-pointers were made in the second quarter, StanHino getting the first two and DeFranco negotiating the third. The outstanding advances in these offensive marches were dashes by lateata for 15 yards, by Hino for 14, by Orr for 18 and 20, and a pass from Hino to Hatton for 25.

Orr entered the scoring column in the third period after F. Hatton recovered an enemy fumble on the Teachers' 30-yard line. Hino made good the try for extra point with a placement kick.

THE YEAR BEGINS

Registration, the familiar sound of class bells, receptions and other social events all herald the beginning of another scholastic year at Albright. THE ALBRIGHTIAN wishes each student the best of luck in the current academic term. We especially extend greeting to the freshmen who are just beginning the four year adventure which either "makes or breaks."

In viewing this year's possibilities the average student is wondering just what will he RECEIVE from college and its many-sided life. The better type of Albrightian is thinking of just how much he can GIVE to the present year's collegiate activity. Looking ahead we are reminded that "environment does not make a man, it just reveals him." Our college provides the environment, which in itself is of little value but that environment will be the revelation of every student. So let every student give his best, both in justice to the school and himself.

AN APPRECIATION

There is something superfine about a life that overcomes in spite of hardship and misfortune. Sad to say, these lives are usually given unselfishly without the acclaim of the multitudes and often in the face of popular ridicule. We all admire the man who decides his aim in life and allows nothing to deter him from his purpose. Reverses may come, bitter disappointments are swallowed, responsibilities are shouldered, friends forsake him, but still this type of man goes on to victory, gaining his soul's desire, and all with a smile on his face and good natured friendship for everyone.

James Ricchetti was that type of man. Those who knew him can appreciate the fullness of his life. Finally, after having successfully achieved his aim and in the moment of victory, when the long-sought prize was at last in his possession, comes the last hardship—poor health. Then death. Fellow students deeply regret the passing of a noble life.

LITERARY

Lives and Letters

(Rudolf Shook, '33)

This past Summer, in one of those intensely wakeful moods which follow amusing soirees, I was part and party to a discussion which circled around from a consideration of contemporary music likely to last to an effort to designate the outstanding woman of our generation. "There are several men", I said, "Who might be called the Outstanding, but there is only one woman—Greta Garbo." One of my friends, whose forte is to suggest inscrutability and ageless wisdom by seeming to bow before the mystery of the ages, declared that the Swedish Enigma might well be the One and Only, but that he, for one, would not make so bold to say so. I reminded him that I did not say she was a woman of history, and challenged him to offer another candidate for the eminence under discussion. He could not. Warning to my subject, I proceeded to say that he could not deny that it is she who has patterned the standard fashionable woman of today, with her broad shoulders, peasant clothes, and shoulderlength map. When he did deny this, I was suddenly reminded of a washerwoman we had long ago, who one day bemoaned the mob's stupidity by declaring "I get so tired of arguing when I know I'm right." So I recommended Grand Hotel and returned to my native heath. Incidentally, since that time I have discovered several distinguished people who agree with me, among them Neysa McMein, the artist.)

In reviewing books, I am often reminded of what our washer-woman said. The critic, no matter how lowly, is apt to get very tired indeed of arguing to people who will not, can not see that he is right. They will not understand his hauteur when they tell him that tastes differ. He retorts that what is good is good, and that any taste that will not denigrate it so, is not good. This would all be very well, and nice and easy did the reviewer take his own infallibility for granted. Too often he assumes either a Sphinx-like attitude toward the mediocrity of his own age, thus seeking to disguise an inward emptiness and uncertainty, or he may proclaim, without proper reflection, scores of new Couraids, other Huxleys, and suggestive-of-Hardys. From attack, however, he is impenetrable, because of the traditional and odd safety of the critic. Of these two evils, I think, the second is the lesser because it is at least positive. I shall try to avoid both. But at the beginning of the season I may say that I usually do not get tired of arguing, even when I know I'm right.

Where To Go and What To Do—

Grand Hotel—"Garbo" picture, yet including, incidentally, such not unknown players as John and Lionel Barrymore, John Crawford and Wallace Beery—Not to be missed—Loew's Colonial.

Horsefeathers—The Four Mad Marx Brothers go collegiate. Recommended and with lovely Thelma Todd.—Embassy.

The Crooner—Ann Dvorak, David Manners in a story of collegian turned singer. Vallee Crosby and Columbus panned—Also first-rate vaudeville—Astor.

Dixie on Parade—"Lucky" Millinder and his swell Chicago Cotton Club Orchestra and Arlen-Oakie thriller, "Sky Bride"—Park.

Fraternity Notes

PI TAU BETA

Another vacation time is over, and we are glad, for we are anxious to greet old friends and make new acquaintances. The Pi Tau Beta Fraternity takes this opportunity to welcome all newcomers to Albright's Campus and wishes them the best of success. The Fraternity also extends their best wishes for a successful year to the members of the Faculty, Sororities, Fraternities, other organizations on the campus, and to the student body.

The Fraternity announces their officers for the semester. They are: Russel Bohner, President; Kenneth Bergtresser, Secretary; and Carl Shaffer, Treasurer.

The Pi Tau's feel the loss of Frater Carlyle Van Aiken, who is attending the Wharton School of Finance in Philadelphia from which he has received a scholarship. We congratulate him upon his success.

The month of October will mark the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Fraternity and plans are being made for its celebration.

COLLEGIANA

One hundred and fifty co-eds invaded the leap year dance at the University of Oklahoma and formed an active stag line.

A recent balloting at Franklin and Marshall showed that fifty per cent of the seniors wore garters.

Just as a debate at St. Mary's College was about to begin, it was discovered that both teams had prepared the affirmative arguments.

According to statistics recently published the wrestling team had the highest scholastic average of any athletic group at Lafayette College. The football team had the lowest.

The English department at the University of Miami collected and classified all current student slang words. The results of the survey show 103 words that designate inebriation and the degree thereof; 56 ways of directing undesirables to take their leave; 174 deficient mental conditions, and 62 names for Fords.

A neophyte of a University of Texas sorority stopped a street car, thanked the conductor very kindly and returned to the chapter house.

Here's the dumbest coed trick we've heard of in a long time—a sweet young thing at the University of Utah tripped into the library and requested a copy of "Horse's Oats." After an unsuccessful but thorough search, the librarian returned empty-handed. It finally developed that the book she was really looking for was "Horace's Odes."

Bucknell University — A Bucknell student reverted to customs of another century when he paddled a canoe to college this fall. Upon his arrival at Bucknell, after a trip of 196 miles from Binghamton, N. Y., he was greeted by a group of enthusiastic fraternity brothers.

Dickinson College — The column, "Looking the Campus Over," in the edification of the Dickinson students definitions of some of the campus organizations. These are:

The Men's Senate:

A bawdy composed of the most brilliant men on the campus with a bird at the head. This group is of no consequence whatever, and is continually bothering the rest of the students with their silly decisions.

Fraternities:

Worthy organizations which develop fine character, outstanding personality, and bring out the best (?) in the individual.

Bible Class Notes

The opening meeting of the Albright College Bible Class was held Sunday the 18th. Lloyd Helt led the devotional period and Pres. Minnich welcomed the students and urged regular attendance. Dr. Gingrich was the speaker. He spoke on "Religious Heritage."

The Bible Class held its second meeting Sunday morning. Leroy Brininger was in charge of the devotional period. Wilson Carvel presented the revision lesson of the last quarter's international Sunday School Lessons.

GRIDIRON GRAVY

Captain Franny Hatton, Art Daub, Johnny Fromm, Bailey Gass, Hermie Suydam, Al Dittmann, Charlie Karlovich, Stan Hino, Larry Hatton, Jackie Orr and Tommy Iatesta.

There you have it the latest edition of Albright's football. The first seven men named formed the forward wall while the latter four mentioned were the starting backfield for Coach Frankie Whites Lions. This year's eleven gave us the impression that it will have accounted well for itself when the final reckoning of games won and lost are compiled.

For the information of those that missed Saturday's fray we'll tell you that Hino made the first Albright touchdown of the season. However, the former Shenandoah flash didn't stop there as he carried the ball over for the second and third of Albright's six-six-pointers.

Incidentally, DeFranco, roommate of Iatesta and Hino, chalked up two markers while Orr accounted for the sixth. It's no wonder that these boys performed so admirably together being that they live together.

Big boy Dittmann did some pretty booting on the kick-offs and did he look big in his new togs? I ask you it was no wonder that the Teachers made but one first down with Al and Charlie Karlovich flanking Capt Hatton. And when Karlo went out of the game his place was taken by another 200 pounder who goes under the flashy moniker of Adolph Cwiklinski. Whew!

Vince Grudzias was conspicuous by his absence in the Lion's lineup. We understand that Vince left school and collegiate football in order to play baseball. Fearing injury on the gridiron he thought it best to give up his college career. That will be missed is evident in itself and we regret his departure.

Referee Trimble brought the crowd on his head when he refused to allow an out-of-bounds play by DeFranco but the same crowd forget that a few minutes later when Trimble was knocked down while performing his duties. We think that he worked as hard as the players themselves.

Incidentally, unless memory fails us, this man Trimble was the main speaker at the football banquet last year. We enjoy his talk as well as we do his officiating.

Larry Hatton is nursing an injured right leg and rather than to take the chance of aggravating the injury, Coach White preferred to keep Galloping Lou out of the fray in the second half. Larry showed to advantage while in the game and we predict great things of the older Hatton.

Bobo Brooks is laid up with a twisted knee and Andy Lund has his ankle taped. Doc Hughes is kept busy by injuries and is a familiar figure during time outs. Talk about high knee actions.

Albright will pit its team against the Bucknell Bisons this Friday night at Lewisburg. We predict a great showing for Albright and nothing will surprise us. On to Bucknell!

By the way, Coaches Jimmie Snyder and Joe Norris are grooming the Freshmen into shape for their coming battle with the Allentown Prep grid-ders at the local Stadium this coming Saturday. Watch those Fresh go!

Captain Hatton. May you lead the Lions to a victory over those Bisons of Bucknell. Here's luck to you.

Freshmen Primed For Opener Oct. 8

For the second successive year it appears that Albright will be represented by a powerful Fresh football team. The candidates are all players of considerable experience and the coaches have good material for a fine team. About 25 Freshmen are participating in daily practice, striving for the varsity berths. Coach Snyder and his assistant, Norris, are working the boys overtime in an effort to have them ready to go on Saturday when they tackle Allentown Prep in the stadium. Snyder will select his varsity ends from Hinkle, Buechle, Frey and the Plotts brothers. Tackle candidates are: Pennypacker, Feggley, Ross, Riffe, Reis, Barnard Scholl and Epstein are after the guard jobs. Pagano and Moffatt are the centers. The list of backs includes: Reigel, Perrette, Schwenk, Jefferson, Carponis, Smith, Woods Fitzysaldi, Jacobac and Varner.

Lions Will Battle B. U. Fri. Evening

Albright Conceded a Chance To Win; Hard Fight Predicted

A fast shifty Albright team will face a Bucknell team minus the great Hinkle for the first time in three years, Friday night at the Christy Mathewson Memorial Stadium, at Lewisburg. Both teams started the season with victories against weak opposition and neither were forced to play anything better than straight football. The Bisons were victorious over St. Thomas last Friday night at Lewisburg, to the tune of 35-0.

On paper the Bucknell team appears to have the edge on the Lions. Albright is outweighed on the line seven pounds to the man. The only position on the line where the Lions are heavier are the guard positions. The Bisons backfield outweighed Albright twenty-two pounds to the man. The Albright backs can be considered the superior because of the fact that they are four of the fastest and shiftest backs in Central Pennsylvania.

The outstanding men on the Bucknell team are: Vetter and Meyers, backs, Dempsey and Capt. Neid, tackle and Dorman, end. These men have all had varsity experience and saw service last year. Bucknell was weakened by graduation last year such stars as: Crowe, Endler, Fry, Goodwin, Heydrich, Hinkle, Hoak, Master, Meze, Priest, Ruch, Stonebaker and Trudnak being among those who have answered the call.

Albright has a great eleven this year and this is the first time since 1928 when "Doggie" Julian's great team held them to 7-0, that Albright has a chance to beat the Bisons. Albright fought a great game that day but was defeated by a greater Bucknell team. This year we have an experienced line that is heavy and fast. The backfield is experienced and when they get in the open they just go places and do things. All we can see is that if the Lions' line will open holes for the "Ponies," Albright will come back with a victory.

The result of former games with Bucknell.

Y. M., Y. W. Plan Joint Activities

Religious Groups Assist in the Freshmen Orientation

This year the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. organizations again plan many interesting and beneficial activities for the student body of Albright College. Their presence on the campus has already been evidenced by the publication of the new and improved handbook for the incoming Freshman class. This book is an excellent guide for the Freshmen and they will find it very helpful to them during the first year of their stay with us.

The Faculty Reception to the student body which was given on Thursday night, September 22, with the cooperation of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. organizations was a great success. We believe that more functions such as this should be held during the scholastic year and that, if this were done, the social life of Albright College would be raised to a higher standard than it has ever here-to-fore attained.

In conjunction with this idea, plans have been made to hold a Freshman Get-together on Tuesday night, September 27 for the Freshmen class and the members of the "Y" Cabinets. It is hoped that all Freshmen will attend in order to become better acquainted with those people who will be their close associates and friends for the years to come. It is the desire of both the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. that this be a great success and that they have the cooperation which will make it such.

Plans are being made for many other interesting activities which will be announced later. The two organizations will work hand in hand during the entire year in order to render the best service possible to the students of Albright College.

LIONS OPEN SEASON

Coach Frankie White used his second varsity for the final quarter, and the reserves added one extra touchdown, with DeFranco taking the ball over. DeFranco with Andy Conway Slack, scintillated on the offensive in the last period.

Nearly every man on the squad was able to distinguish himself against the inferior opposition. West Chester made only one first down—and that because of a penalty—though a stone wall Lion line. Suydam and Gass, burley tackles and Captain Hatton at center won special honors on the defense.

The line-ups:

WEST CHESTER	ALBRIGHT
C. E. Sweikert	Fromm
L. T. Bennett	Gass
L. G. Hudicka	Karlovich
C. Warvel	F. Hatton (Capt.)
R. G. Gerner	Dittman
R. T. Putsavage	Suydam
R. E. Watson	Daub
Q. B. Johnson	Hino
L. H. B. Sasso, (Capt.)	Iatesta
R. H. B. Robinson	L. Hatton
F. B. Woodcock	Orr

Score by periods:
Albright 7 18 7 6—38
West Chester 2 0 0 0—2
Touchdowns—Hino, 3; DeFranco, 2; Orr.

Points after touchdowns—L. Hatton, Hino (place kicks)—Safety—Orr. Referee—J. R. Trimble, Dubuque. Umpire—C. A. Eberle, Swarthmore. Head Linesman—C. N. Gault, Muhlenberg.

Gettysburg College—Not long ago a sundial was constructed on the Gettysburg campus. Now college detectives are looking for the person who detached from it the motto, "I Record Only Hours of Sunshine."

New among campus organizations this year is the Freshmen Commission. This consists of the Freshmen girls Mary Yohn, '34, is the advisor of the group.

The purpose of the Commission is to promote a general fellowship between the Freshmen and Upper Classmen, and to attempt to solve the own personal problems of the new students. DR. W. F. TEEL

His work in the ministry was limited to one charge which he served for less than a year. However, the eight months. He served as pastor of the Pen Argyl church gave every promise of a very successful ministry. While he served no other church a pastor in the years that followed he did a great deal of, preaching. His effectiveness and forcefulness as a public speaker were widely recognized and he was in great demand as a preacher on special occasions and for addresses at assemblies and conventions.

Doctor Teel is best known, however, as President of Albright College. For over thirty years he was head of the Church's eastern educational institution, first as principal of Schuylkill Seminary, then president of Schuylkill College, and since the merger, president of Albright College. He was widely recognized as a great leader, and an indefatigable worker. Every achievement was only the starting point of a new advancement. Under his administration Albright College became an accredited college with an enrollment of almost five hundred. At Fredericksburg there was only one seminary building with a campus of eight acres; there are now eight modernly equipped college buildings with a campus of thirty acres. At the beginning of his administration there were only the most meager resources, now the assets and resources have mounted to over $2,000,000.00. While he was compelled by circumstances to give much of his time and energy to the material resources, he was deeply interested in the spiritual life of the institution. Whenever he was at home he never failed to attend the religious gatherings and in many ways encouraged the religious activities on the campus. His fervor, strong, simple faith, and beautiful Christlike life were an inspiration to the large number of young people who came under his influence.

Though the college responsibilities were always heavy and demanded much of his time and thought, he did not neglect the interests of the local church and community. He was president of the official board of Immanuel Evangelical Church, teacher of the Men's Bible Class, President of the Board of Directors of the Homeopathic

Hospital, and active in many religious and charitable movements in the community. He never shirked a great responsibility nor an unpleasant task. Difficulties did not dishearten him. They only served as a challenge and incited him to more heroic endeavor. He flung his whole self into the performance of the past. He never did anything half-heartedly. On every side the remark is frequently heard: "He burned out his life, in the service of his fellow-men."

He was a great lover of mankind. He was tender and sympathetic. Like Lincoln, he was always ready to "Pluck a thorn, and plant a rose wherever he thought a rose would grow." To countless numbers he ministered by word of cheer, a word of encouragement, or a helping hand. He recognized no class distinctions. He was friendly to all alike and the students and the people of the community not only admired and honored him but loved him.

CLASS OF '32

Undergraduates who are pursuing their scholastic activities elsewhere are: Carlyle VanAiken, U. of P.; Ruth Knoblauch, Temple; Aurile Landis and Miriam Moyer, Kutztown S. T. C.; Mary Cutlip, Bethany; Robert Smythe, Temple; Clifford Collyer, Drew Sem.; and Sara Mensch, Children's Hospital Phila.

According to a recent survey conducted at the University of Washington "Ballyhoo" and "Hooey" occupy second place in student sales, the first is held by the "Saturday Evening Post."

Jewish leaders of four nations joined recently in celebrating the seventh anniversary of the founding of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

The entire student body of the Mexican Indian Agricultural School went on strike as a protest against new methods of studies, whereupon the school immediately advertised for a new student body.

"The University Hatchet" of George Washington University published a rotogravure supplement showing pictures of the campus and prominent members of the student body.

RALPH E. WEIGLE

Presenting Ralph E. Weigle, football player, President of Student Council, and an officer or member of almost half the major organizations on the campus. Quietly and unassumingly this young man showed his ability to work and his willingness to fulfill the duty demanded of him during his three years on the campus.

Ralph hails from Johnstown, Pa., and is a graduate of Windber High School.

At the close of last year, he was chosen by the newly elected Student Council to lead their body. Alpha Pi Omega, to which he has belonged since his Freshman year, selected him to go from the position as vice-president to that of the presidency during this year. Elected a member of Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science fraternity during his Junior year, he was chosen as president for his Senior year. Besides this, he holds offices in the International Relations Club and Bible Class, is a member of Skull and Bones, editor of the athletic section of the Frosh Handbook and plays a steady, careful game at tackle on the football team, having won his letter in his Junior year.
