

NEGATIVE DEBATERS INCREASE STREAK OF WINS TO SIX

Defeat Susquehanna Affirmative Team
—Have Perfect Record For Season
With Six Wins And No Losses

AFFIRMATIVE TEAM LOSES

Beaten At Selingsgrove Holding Up
Their End of Dual Match With Susquehanna University

Last Thursday night while the Affirmative Debating Team was holding up its end of the argument against Susquehanna University Negative Team at Selingsgrove, the Albright Negative increased its string of wins to six against the Affirmative representatives of Susquehanna on the Chapel rostrum.

Two weeks ago the Negative Team composed of "Big Ben" Wilkes, J. W. "Prince" Flory, and "Russ" Loucks journeyed to Muhlenberg and defeated their strong Affirmative. The same college's Negative did not appear in Myerstown last Wednesday to meet our Affirmative, and this debate will be held at some future time.

To date the Albright Negative has not lost a debate this season, having vanquished all its foes, including the strong teams representing the following schools: Gettysburg, Muhlenberg, F. & M., Susquehanna, Middlebury, and the Albright Affirmative.

The meet on Thursday was a dual affair, Albright and Susquehanna splitting even in the results, each school winning one. The teams met on the rostrum to argue the much debated question, "Resolved—that the Direct Primary for nominating state and federal officials should be abandoned."

In the debate against Susquehanna there was no stopping our boys. They refuted every statement made by the opposition in such a way as to leave

In the near future he will again speak before a number of senior groups, in order to interest some in coming to Albright College.

HERBERT C. HOOVER STUDENTS CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT

Wins By Large Majority In "Straw"
Ballot Cast Tuesday Morning In Chapel—Receives 96 Votes

"AL" SMITH SECOND

In the straw ballot which was cast on Tuesday morning in the Chapel under the direction of the class in government, to decide the students choice for president, Herbert C. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, won out with a large majority.

From the ballot it would indicate that the most part of the Albright students are Republicans. There were altogether one hundred sixty-six votes cast. Of this number one hundred twenty-nine were Republicans and the remaining thirty-seven Democrats. Included in these figures are eleven Republicans and three Democrat votes cast by the faculty.

Out of the one-hundred twenty-nine Republican votes cast Herbert Hoover received ninety-six, eight of which were faculty votes. The remaining thirty-three votes were distributed as follows: Curtis O. Dawes 20, Lowden 8-2 faculty, Norris O., other choices, Coolidge 2-1 faculty, and Foss 3.

KATHRYN DECH PLAYS FOR FAMOUS TEACHER

Thuel Burnham One Of Great Teachers
In Pianoforte, Also Teacher of
Mrs. Welker, Hears and Praises
Miss Dech

Miss Kathryn Dech, who graduates in piano this year, and whose graduating recital will be given on May 8th, was recently presented to Thuel Burnham, of New York City. Mr. Burnham is one of the greatest piano teachers in existence and at present our own Mrs. Welker's teacher. He was one of the assistants to Leschetizky who was Paderevsky's teacher. Miss Dech who played for Mr. Burnham at request of Mrs. Welker, is exceptionally talented in piano. Her playing is thought very well of in musical circles, both in the town and the college. She has a great future ahead of her if she continues to progress as she has since coming to Albright.

Miss Miriam Bowman, her first teacher, and who has always taken a great interest in Miss Dech, deserves a great amount of praise. Since then, Miss Dech has studied under Miss Leila Flory and Mrs. Welker who have aided her greatly in her work.

Mr. Burnham, whose judgment is considered foremost among the pianists of the world, said of Miss Dech in addition to general praise of her playing that she is "very musical."

The Bulletin wishes Miss Dech all the success in the world.

BACCALAUREATE TO BE PREACHED BY DR. J. L. FLUCK

Professor And Former Successful Pastor
Is Well Qualified To Deliver
Address

DATE IS SUNDAY JUNE 3rd

Dr. Bowman has just announced that Dr. J. Lewis Fluck, Professor of Physiology and Bible at Albright College will be the speaker of the Baccalaureate sermon Sunday, June 3rd. Dr. Fluck was pastor, for a number of years, of the Myerstown Reformed Church, which position he resigned to devote his time to his duties as Professor at Albright College.

As a professor he is one of the most learned men on the faculty, and has always been very loyal to the administration. He is a very good teacher, and his students are very fortunate to be able to sit under such a man as Dr. Fluck.

His sermon promises to be one of spiritual depths and also show great scholarly ability. It will be one of the best baccalaureate sermons that has ever been preached at Albright College. The class of 1928 can be proud to be able to listen to a sermon from the lips of such a man as Dr. Fluck.

The Baccalaureate sermon by Dr. Fluck and the Commencement address by Judge Wickersham assures us that the scholarly part of the commencement program will be a success.

GIRLS GLEE PLANNING FOR COMING CONCERTS

Next One To Be Given Week End Of
May 5th At Pottsville, Mt. Carmel
And Shamokin

PROBABLY FOUR OTHERS

The Girls' Glee Club is making plans for their remaining concerts to be given during May.

The first of these will be given during the week end of May 11th, at which time concerts have been scheduled for Pottsville, Mt. Carmel and Shamokin. Special Mother's Day music is being prepared for the sacred programs on Sunday morning, May 13th.

A concert will be given in Reading some time in May, although a definite date is not yet known. This is being sponsored by Rev. Heck, of Reading.

There will probably be a trip to Palmyra, although neither date nor the number of concerts has yet been decided upon.

The managers, in conjunction with Rev. Wilkes and Alma Loucks of York, Pa., are endeavoring to give a combined concert in York, which will be sponsored by all of the churches of that place, and will be given in the High School auditorium. These combined concerts always attract added attention, and prove to be very successful. It is also hoped that this combined concert may be given later in Myerstown.

MOHN HALL is at last witnessing the establishment of a much needed fire drill. The attempt was made last year to establish one, but because of the lack of a fire gong, the matter was dropped. The Executive Board, recognizing the necessity for a system of this kind, had a fire gong conveniently placed on the second floor of Mohn Hall. However, a fire gong was not all that was needed, for a workable system had to be devised which would do away with confusion. Miss Van Duzer very ably came to the assistance of the co-eds by forming a system which consists of a Captain, Lieutenants, and Monitors. Each officer has been assigned several duties and in a few days the girls will experience the first real fire drill with a gong ever tried at Albright. We are not pessimists when we say that a fire drill is a necessity, but destruction by fire has even been the fate of optimists, so it is with pleasure that we welcome the fire drill to Mohn Hall. We are hoping that the eds will follow the example of the co-eds for Main Hall is just as liable to fire as Mohn Hall is, if not more so.

TOO MANY TIMES within the past several years the question of limiting the extra-curricular activities that each student be allowed to participate in has been mentioned without any action being taken. In a great many instances action is absolutely necessary, for it is a tendency among a great percent of the students at Albright College to too heartily participate in these activities.

The result is that many students neglect their class and research work to a degree that hurts their scholastic record and maybe their future.

We agree that some participation in extra curricular is extremely helpful especially to future school teachers. But there should be a limit to the amount of participation. We may say that this will hurt the activities in which some of the more talented ones have been leaders and are forced to discontinue their activity.

The answer is this. We are building individuals and not organizations. The organizations will carry one just as well. There are people waiting to step into the places left vacant by others.

The limiting is inevitable. Why not now?

A SUGGESTION

Christian Endeavor meetings, which for a long time have seemed to lag, might gain an added interest if varied programs were presented. That is, let more than one special feature be an attraction. If not for every meeting, then for monthly meetings.

Probably a special speaker sometimes along with the musical number that is always so much enjoyed, would be a good idea; and perhaps a reading or some original feature that would surprise.

While the student talent is pretty well monopolized there are always a few who never get the chance to show what they can do. Why not let them be a part of your program. You will be surprised. You will be pleased, and you will find that your attendance has increased and your interest grown by leaps and bounds.

of the Ladies' Intercollegiate teams. Those honored by the T K A were: Russell Loucks, Jay W. Flory, Warren Hadsworth, Irene Wright, LeNora Hemstreet, Helen Uhrich, Henrietta Spangler, and Norma Michael.

Russell Loucks was specially honored, having not only been the Captain of the undefeated Negative team but the winner of the Oratorical Contest preliminary to represent Albright at the Eastern Pennsylvania Oratorical Union Contest this spring, at Muhlenberg.

An Irishman, who was an eligible bachelor, visited a widow in his district every evening and had tea with her. A friend suggested that he should marry the lady.

"I have often thought about it," he said, "but where should I spend my evenings then?"

"Parrakeet's Prattle"

Parrakeet positively can't keep quiet another minute—been just bubbling over all week. He's so anxious to tell you about the Frat pin. Of course he doesn't need to explain much 'cause everyone, 'specially Parrakeet, has been noticing Henrietta's blushes when people look in a certain direction and when people speak of engagements and when people mention the "Pi Taus." There must be heaps of things around here that remind "Spangler" of "him." Parrakeet knows that "he" is an Albright alumnus and besides, there is someone in the Junior class who is about as near a relative as possible. Parrakeet wouldn't dare tell even if it were Erma Kauffman. Congratulations!

Parrakeet was looking in the Y. W. window yesterday and saw just oodles and oodles of pretty dresses. Oh dear—he can scarcely wait 'till they are all worn on May Day. Won't it be beautiful!

Bang! Bang!—oh, that startled Parrakeet, but it was only the wind blowing a door shut. Wasn't it funny weather last week. Folks? Parrakeet thought perhaps he had slept through a whole summer and it was really winter again. Snow, sleet and slush made Parrakeet sneeze and cough. He wished he hadn't shed his warm feathers so soon.

Parrakeet's so sleepy. He'll have to fly around and find a comfortable place to rest before the sandman comes. Goodnight and pleasant dreams.

MARY WINSOR SPEAKS TO MOHN HALLERS

Miss Mary Winsor, of Haverford, Pa., chairman of the American Investigation Committee on Russian Women, who has recently returned from Russia, spoke to the Woman's Club, of Myerstown, and the girls of Mohn Hall in the Reception room of Mohn Hall on Monday evening.

Miss Winsor who came here under the auspices of the Myerstown Woman's Club, presented the subject "The Status of Women in Russia." In the course of her lecture she explained fully the workings of the Soviet government in Russia, pointing out the fact that men and women are legally, politically, and socially equal. The basis of everything is economics, and is being built on the cornerstone of the child, and the worker.

Following the lecture a general open forum was held in which various questions were asked and discussed.

As a special feature on the program Eva Loucks sang a very pleasing solo.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

NEGATIVE DEBATERS INCREASE STREAK OF WINS TO SIX

nothing remaining of them, not even a "shell." Susquehanna's arguments were knocked flatter than Tunny was when the famous "long count" was recorded. And their own arguments in favor of retaining the Direct Primary could not be refuted by the opposing team in any way which would prove convincing enough to warrant a judge's vote.

At the completion of all speeches both pro and con on the question, the judges, Prof. E. A. Boyer, Rev. J. L. Hynson, and Attorney H. A. Honker, were given a few seconds to cast their votes which resulted in a 2-1 decision in favor of the Albright Negative, thereby enabling them to keep up their season's winning streak.

The men making up the Susquehanna Affirmative were H. E. Ditzler, H. A. Hartley, H. E. Bobroski, and L. A. Wagner, alternate.

At the same time the Albright Affirmative Team met the strong Negative Team of Susquehanna University at Selingsgrove in their end of the dual match.

Those making the trip from Albright were in the order in which they spoke, Warren Wadsworth, Ernest Heckert, and Leon Hood.

The Negative team of Susquehanna was composed of Sieber Troutman, Merrill Sweitzer, and S. Walter Foulrod.

Both teams entered into the debate with the determination to win.

The affirmative team in the main speeches presented sound and convincing arguments as to why the direct primary should be abandoned. Among their points the following were included: The Direct Primary has failed to do away with the former evils and in addition has created new ones, it is not working, it is not representative, the future is dark with the direct primary, it will never work, etc.

Susquehanna's Negative speakers also presented very good points in their maintenance that this system should be retained. The statements which they made were that the D. P. is the best system yet evolved, it is in line with our democratic form of government, it is not to blame for the existing evils, it places responsibility where it belongs—upon the people, and that those favoring abandonment of the Direct Primary are merely schemers.

The Negative team also stated that if the direct primary is to be abandoned the general election must be done away with. That another system to take its place must be presented. To this the third speaker for the affirmatives gave answer stating that this is what they intend to do, and the direct primary was advanced. This system is being used in several states and Canada, France, Cheko Slavakia, the Irish Free State and other countries. To this the third speaker of the Negative made no reply in his main speech.

After a ten minute intermission the rebuttals were given in which both teams "cut-down" one another.

The debate was judged by three men from the vicinity of Susquehanna, two being from Sunbury. At the close of the refutation speeches the judges ballots were cast and it was a unanimous decision of 3-0 in favor of the Negative Team representing Susquehanna.

The Albright Debaters in their interview with the Bulletin Reporter stated that their trip was a very enjoyable one, and that they were treated in a very courteous and friendly manner by the Susquehannaites.

Jacobs—How's your boy getting along?

Appel—Oh, the little rascal gets to look like me more and more every day.

Jacobs—I wouldn't go telling it around if I were you. Give him a chance to make his way in the world.

JUNIORS AND FROSH LEAD INTERCLASS LEAGUE

During the past weeks there has been more spirit and pep around our campus than has been known for some time. This is for the greater part due to the inter class games in indoor base-ball that have been played. Much enthusiasm and interest has been manifested in the four games that have been played and it is hoped that the same spirit will be shown in the remaining part of the schedule. One thing that would better the games the whole way around is that each team have a score keeper at each game his class plays.

Last week the Seniors and the Frosh met in the first game, and at the end of seven innings the game was called a tie 12-12. The Seniors were away in the lead from the start and held a five run margin up until the last inning. The Frosh came to bat in their half of the inning with a five run handicap. With one out they started on a batting rampage and tied the score before the Seniors realized that they were so close. Here the game ended on account of darkness.

The next evening the same two teams met again, with the Frosh administering a severe defeat to their older brothers with a score 11-2. This game was exciting all the way through with the yearlings having things pretty much their own way.

On Thursday evening the Juniors and Sophs. tangled with the Juniors

DR. HARRIS E. KIRK TO PREACH IN REF. CHURCH

The Rev. Harris E. Kirk, D. D., pastor of the Franklin Street Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, Md., will preach in the Myerstown Reformed Church, Wednesday evening, May 9th, at 7:30. Dr. Kirk is an internationally known divine and distinguished preacher. Last year he was called to the Brick Presbyterian Church, New York City, but so great was the demand of the Baltimore newspaper editors and Christians of all faith that he declined the call.

The invitation to Dr. Kirk to preach in Myerstown was extended in pursuance of a policy of the Reformed Church to give the students and citizens of the community opportunity to enjoy certain cultural advantages of a Christian character. The students and the faculty of Albright College are cordially invited to attend this service.

22 NEW VOLUMES HAVE BEEN ADDED TO LIBRARY

The past few weeks have been busy ones for the library staff. Several students were added to the force for the time being in order to withdraw the old catalog cards, replace the old book-plates by new ones in the books that have been re-cataloged and to place the books on the shelves in their respective classes.

Two thousand four hundred books, exclusive of reference books and magazines, are now available on the shelves, catalogued and classified according to modern library methods. As the new catalog is growing its help in the use of the library is seen and appreciated more each day.

The following new books have been added recently:

Stackpole—The New Humanism.
Mills—Romance of Geology.
Fabre—The Mason Bees.
Morley—Plum Pudding.
Thomas and Paul—Atlantic Prose and Poetry.

Henderson—The Order of Return.
Quayle—In God's Out-of-Doors.
Osler—The Old Humanities and the New Science.

Denby—Problems of Modern Science.

GIRLS HARD AT WORK ON MAY DAY PLANS

Don't forget May Day, folks! All Mohn Hall is in a hustle and a bustle over the coming event.

May Day this year promises to be a clever and interesting fete. With Mother Goose as it's theme and the color scheme of pastel shades, a picture that is sure to win your hearty admiration, will be presented on the campus May 19th.

Miss Clara Wilkes who has charge of the dances, has chosen them, as well as the girls who are to participate in them, and practice has already begun.

Miss LeNora Henstreet who is in charge of the costumes, has the plans all made for them and with her committee has begun to work for this coming attraction.

May Day is sure to be a success and especially so, if every Albrightian will back us up and attend May Day.

Fred—So it is. You see I accidentally got into the wrong berth.

NEW CLASS IN JOURNALISM PROVES HUGE SUCCESS

One of the most informal, inspiring and interesting classes at Albright College is the weekly class in Journalism, which meets every Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. room, with Dr. Chislett as instructor.

The class has made a study of newspapers, from the time and event is covered by the reporter, through the setting up of type, to the finished product of one of the many dailies. The various types of newspaper writing have been presented by members of the class and the teacher, very often spoken from actual experience along this line.

An intensive study of the leading dailies from New York to Los Angeles, has been made, and criticism offered, both constructive and destructive. The policies of the most important papers were studied, as well as the general trend in Newspaper lines.

Following the hour devoted to Journalism, there is usually some time given to creative writing. The latest efforts of the young writers, whether short stories, poems, essays or plays, are read and criticized, and it has been amply demonstrated that there is real talent at Albright which is constantly being developed.

The Class in Journalism and Creative Writing is indebted in no small amount to Dr. Chislett, who has taken an active interest in his under-studies. The class, which is just as interested, is composed of Bulletin

When Dad was a "Modern Youth"

BICYCLES, stove optic lectures, and the "gilded" youths with their horses and carts; at night the midnight oil burning in student lamps while the gas lights glared and flickered across the campus—the gay nineties when Dad was in college seem primitive to us to-day.

Now it's sport roadsters, the movies, and radios. At night the MAZDA lamp replaces the midnight oil in dormitory rooms, while modern street lighting sheds its friendly glow over the campus.

Without electricity we would have none of these improvements. To-day's marvel of electrical invention becomes to-morrow's accepted utility. In the coming years, by taking advantage of new uses of electricity you will be able to go so much farther that the "tearing twenties" will seem just as primitive as the "gay nineties".

Scientists in the research laboratories of the General Electric Company keep G.E. a leader in the field of electrical progress. Skilled G-E engineers develop each latest invention. The G-E factories carry out the engineers' designs with high-quality material and expert workmanship.

DR. WEBER PREACHES IN LEBANON

Sunday morning, April 22nd, the United Protestant Church, Lebanon, Pa. celebrated Boys' Day in their Sunday School. Dr. Weber was the speaker, and, in a most inspiring manner, presented his subject "The Royal Challenge."

In the course of his address he discussed the fact that we are living in a great material age:

"The material age rolls on but what we need is character.

There are many things to be done in this world. It is not a sorry, not a hopeless, pessimistic life that we are to live. He (God) shall give light and you in turn place in that life, character and service. The challenge comes then for us from the royal household, 'I will give you two thousand horses if thou on thy part be able to set riders upon them.'"

"ADAM AND EVA" CAST BEGIN REHEARSALS

Corinthia, his parlor maid—Loretta Eisenhower.

Clinton DeWitt, his son-in-law—Charles Dunlap.

Julie De Witt, his eldest daughter—May Cooper.

Eva King, his younger daughter—Dorothy Dunlap.

Aunt Abby Rocker, his sister-in-law—Katherine Kulp.

Dr. Jack Delamater, his neighbor—Warren Wadsworth.

Horace Pilgrim, his uncle—Homer Wonder.

Adam Smith, his business manager—Glyn Morris.

Lord Andrew Gordon, his would-be son-in-law—Samuel Ettleson.

The play will be produced May 30 and some time during commencement week.

"Eva King," portrayed by Dorothy Dunlap, conveys the impression of the charming but wilful and spoiled rich man's daughter, who has grown up with several distinct methods of obtaining her immediate wants; cajoling, tears and tantrums seem to have all been used among her methods of approach. Yet grown, although still wilful, vain and extravagant, "Eva" has a lovely, sweet and unselfish side to her character which supposed necessity and love alone bring out.

"Adam Smith," taken by Glyn Morris finds and develops unconsciously "Eva's" charming characteristics. "Adam" in an odd mixture of practicality and idealism. Never having a home of his own and spending a great deal of his life in the far away Amazon he has idealized the home with all of a poet's zeal. He thinks of the home as a "hallowed circle" and other equally charming similes which the "King" family finds utterly preposterous and amazing.

coming out on top with a score of 12-9. From the start the Juniors began a rally and were never headed from then on. They scored eight runs in the first inning before the Sophs were awake to the fact that the game had started. In the second inning the Sophs recruited some more men from their ranks and from then on were able to hold the Juniors in check, besides getting nine runs off the delivery of Gunther and Gibbens, the two star pitchers of the third year class. The first inning proved to be the fatal one for the Sophomores.

The standing of the teams now show that the Juniors and Frosh are in a deadlock for first place in the interclass league with the Seniors and Sophs holding down the cellar with two losses to the credit of each.

Juniors	2	0	1.000
Frosh	2	0	1.000

BERNARD E. ZENER

A serious-looking person, a serious-minded person—at times. Being Prof. Zener's son, he would naturally have to be a witty person—and he is—though perhaps not all of us have caught a glimpse of him without his cloak of dignity about him. And above all—a friendly person.

Bernard's interests are many and varied, with the sciences given preference, and music and art close seconds. His abilities have secured for him a place in extra curricular activities—a member of the Men's Glee Club, cellist of the instrumental trio, which features in the Glee concert, member of the Y. M. C. A. quartet, member of 'Y' cabinet, assistant art editor of the 1928 Speculum—to mention his major participations. He is a Neocosmian, and was principal of the Albright High School. Zener is also one of those persistent Donald Brush salesmen. He certainly does not believe in wasting any precious moments idly sitting by. His time is filled with active participation in things worth while.

With his intense interest in life, his keen observance of what goes on about him, his earnest desire to seek for himself and others the things that are higher and better, we feel assured of Bernard's success in the teaching profession. Our best wishes attend his efforts.

Albright has been noted for graduating pupils of exceptionally ability in the voice and piano departments, and much of the credit for their success goes to Mrs. Jennie Welker and Miss Josephine Strasser. The recital on Tuesday evening was a credit to their respective departments and to the pupils who participated.

NEW CLASS IN JOURNALISM PROVES HUGE SUCCESS

writers, past, present and possibly future, and they in turn should develop into newspaper editors of no mean importance.

"Tell, Nicolai, why did you not marry with Marie Stanislauskaskinivonitch?"
"Well, Petroushka, to be frank, it took too long to introduce her to my friends."

JAY W. FLORY

And here we have one of the two representatives of Pen Argyl, (U. S. A.) in the form of the "Prince" as he is affectionately known by the boys. Prince seems to be quite popular among his fellow students and to those that know him is a real friend.

Besides being a good student, he is quite capable in other lines. His worth as a debater has already been established and as to his management of football, one can proudly say that "Prince" has convinced us that he knows how to manage an athletic team. The Bulletin Staff also has had the honor of his presence as Sports Editor for the past two years.

As yet, Prince has not succumbed to the wiles of the other sex, but we do know that he makes frequent trips to Reading for unexplainable reasons.

Jay expects to enter the teaching profession and with his past experience and pleasing personality we know that he will make good. We wish him the best of luck in whatever line he may undertake and hope that success may always crown his efforts.

CHAPEL SERVICE LED BY REV. W. J. THRUSH

Also Delivers Lectures To Junior and Freshmen Classes—Spoke in Chapel Upon Overcoming Difficulties

Last Thursday the chapel service was conducted by Rev. Wilbur J. Thrush, Th. M. Rev. Thrush is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary, and is at present pastor of the Ansel Memorial (Presbyterian) Church, Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, Pa.

Rev. Thrush delivered two lectures here. One was to the Junior class in Bible upon the subject, "The Character of Paul." The other was given to the Freshman class in Bible, the topic being "Solomon's Temple."

In the chapel service Rev. Thrush brought out the idea of conquering difficulties. He used the passage of Scripture in Joshua 14, which tells of the choice of Caleb, one of the spies sent to Canaan by Moses, when the land was divided. He chose the hill country of Hebron, which was inhabited by the Anakim, a powerful people. Caleb recognized the challenge of a hard situation, but felt that because during his life he had wholly followed Jehovah, that he would deliver them up to him.

The teacher had given a lesson on the Woes of the Roses. "What do you know of Margaret of Anjou?" he asked.

"She was very fat," said Billy.

"How is that?" inquired the teacher.

"Because," he replied, "I read that she was one of Richard's stoutest opponents."

GROWTH AND DEATH

Beyond,
On yonder hill
I see a house-top rise
As I approach . . . Time also makes Dreams grow.

Behind
On yon hill passed
I see a house-top set
As I descend . . . Time also makes Dreams die.

—Helen B. Uhrich '29.

MOUNTAIN-TOP—AFLAME

The Mountain-Top . . . aflame,
At the golden set of sun,
The Mountain-Top . . . an aim
To the height of God's well done.

The Mountain-Top . . . aflame,
Is it not a wondrous sight?
Ideals complete . . . not fame?
But the Heaven of our delight.

CLAIR KEAFER LEADS REFORMED CHURCH OF E. E.

Spoke On "The Abundant Life"; Blanche McCauley, Albright Posters, Read Several Original Compositions

Last Sunday evening Clair Keafer and Blanche McCauley participated in the Young Peoples' meeting of the Myerstown Reformed Church. Clair Keafer spoke on the subject of "The Abundant Life." He stated how foolish it is to rely on earthly things for happiness. It is not the outward life, but the inward life that counts in obtaining eternal life. Happiness is obtained through life in a higher realm.

Miss McCauley, the poetess of Albright College, read five of her original poems: "Silver Lining," "God," "I Would Be Strong," "A Prayer," and "The March of Truth."

"So you want a position as stenographer, young lady? What are your qualifications?"
"Well—my father is a bad shot."
