THE ALBRIGHTIAN

READING, PA., OCTOBER 14, 1955

No. 4

Featuring students and faculty members from the college, the recitals sponsored by the music department under the direction of Dr. John of Home" by Fox.

Dean Morton lists the organ as an avocation. She studied with Miss Elizabeth Britton, L.R.A.M., of Bing.

A plaque commemorating the hamton, and Mrs. Mary Findlay Ades of Albany, N. Y. Attending Albany New York State Teachers' College, she minored in music under Dr. Thomas Frederick Handel Candlyn, recently retired organist direciyn, recently retired organist direc-tor of St. Thomas Church, New York City. Dean Morton has served as organist in churches in Bingham-ton, N. Y.; Albany, N. Y.; Sag Har-bor, Long Island; and Floral Park, Long Island. She was secretary of the Binghamton, N. Y., chapter of American Guild of Organists and is now a member of the Reading Chapter of the American Guild of

Dean Morton

The first part of the program will The first part of the program wii include the following selections: "Sarabande from the Sixth Sonata for Violoncello in D Major" by Johann Sebastian Bach; and "Andante from the Violin Concerto" by Felix Mendelssohn Bartholdy

Mendelssohn Bartholdy,
"Ave Verum" by Wolfgang A. Mozart and "Achieved is the Glorious Work" from The Creation by Franz
Haydn comprise the second section.
The third section consists of "Cathedral Prelude" by Gabriel Pierne: "Autumnal Beauty" by William A. Wolf; "Evening Theme" from the Second Movement of the Sonata-Rhapsody in Three Move-from the Second Movement of the Sonata-Rhapsody in Three Movements for Organ" by Thomas F. H. Candlyn; and "Grand Choeur" by Theodore DuBols.

Students Featured

The rest of the Centennial Series will include the following students: Robert Reeser, '56; Anne Young, '59; Sonia Flicker, '57; Josephine Seyfert, '58; Kathleen Forry, '57; Mrs. Gerritt Memming, special student; Shirley Schaefer, '56; Betty Mirawzewski, '56; and Barry Blatt, '58.

Others to be featured are: Charles Wolfe, Mrs. Barbara Hartenbauer; Cantor Benjamin Klonski; Mrs. Ella Lesher; Mrs. Eunice Maurer; Ben-jamin Maurer; and college Octet.

Speaker Announced

The Rev. D. J. Wetzel, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Read-ing, will speak in Chapel Tuesday, Oct. 18.

H. Duddy. Lee Kachel, baritone, will offer several solos: "The Twenty-Third Psalm" by Malotte; "The Ninety and Nine" by Campion; "Mountains" by Kasback; and "The Hills of Home" by Fox.

A plaque commemorating the founding of Albright College as Union Seminary will be officially presented to the community of New Berlin, Pa., tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. The board of trustees of the college received the plaque in the opening convocations.

The plaque which is 12" by 18" and mounted on granite contains a picture of the original building of Union Seminary and the following inscription:

Union Seminary was created by the Evangelical Association in the Evangelical Association in 1858, on a site approximately 150 feet back of this school. In 1887, Union Seminary became Central Pennsylvania College and later merged with Albright College at Myerstown. Pa., in 1902. Since 1929 Albright College has been located at Reading. Pa., where it continues to serve as an institution of higher learning of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The plaque will be erected near the entrance of the Western Area Joint School, about 150 feet from the site of the original building.

The highlight of the presentation service will be an address by Rev. E. C. Basom, of Yorkanna, at one time a student of Central Pennsylvania College, which preceded Albright at Myerstown.

Following the invocation by Rev. George L. Miller, pastor of Emman-uel Evangelical United Brethren Church, New Berlin, Albright President Harry V. Masters will greet the assembled group and introduce representatives from the college representatives from the conege.

The plaque will be presented to Preston Elliott, burgess of New Berlin, by Dr. Norman L. Hummel, of York, on behalf of the Albright board of trustees.

CPC Alumni
Dean George W. Walton, master of ceremonies, will then introduce the Alumni of Central Pennsylvania College. Following the introductions, Rev. Eugene H. Barth, of the college religion department and co-author of the history, will present copies of the official centennial history to the school district and the local historical society. Ellsworth Snook will accept for the school dis-trict and Ray Smith for the historcal society.

Dr. Reed O. Steely, superintendent of the Central Pennsylvania Confer-ence Evangelical United Brethren Church, will offer the prayer.

UN Trip Features Pleasure And Study

This morning at 6 o'clock a group of thirty-five students, under the leadership of Professor Charles Raith and Dr. Charles Kistler left Albright and traveled by bus to the Albright and traveled by loss to the United Nations building in New York City. The students are members of Professor Raith's United Nations Problems and American Government classes, and Dr. Kistler's Foreign Policy and American History classes.

Since a term paper is required of these students, the visit to the U.N. the First Reformed Church of Reading, will speak in Chapel Tuesday,
Oct. 18.
Student Council will be in charge of a pep rally at Assembly Thursday, Oct. 20.
History classes.
Interver sequired of these students, the visit to the U.N.
It brary, according to Professor and the U.S. Naval Meritorious Civilian Service Award in 1951.
Continued On Page Four)

Dean Morton To Present All-Campus Preliminaries Name Five Candidates First Centennial Concert To Compete For Centennial Homecoming Queen

Six To Be Granted Honorary Degrees On Homecoming Day

Five Albright alumni will be granted honorary degrees as part of the Centennial Homecoming Con-vocation, Saturday, Oct. 22. The featured speaker, Arthur S. Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, will also be so honored.

Lewis Edwin Smith, '21, a mem ber of the faculty since 1923, and present head of the political science department, will be awarded the degree of doctor of humanities.

Dr. Paul M. Fye, chief of the explosives research department, Naval Ordnance Laboratory, Silver Spring, Md., will receive the doctor of sciand, will receive the doctor of sci-ence degree. The doctor of letters will be awarded to Roland Edger Wolseley, professor of journalism, and chairman, magazine depart-ment, School of Journalism, Syra-cuse University.

Two D.D.'s

or of divinity degrees will be awarded to Boyd Ephraim Coleman, '15, pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren Church, Franklin, and Paul R. Wert, '28, pastor of to Church of the Covenant (EVG), Drexel Hill.

Drexel Hill.

Following his graduation from Schuylkill Seminary in $21 Smith went to Ursinus, where he earned the A.B. and to Commbia for his M.A. He began his teaching at Schuylkill College and continued on the Reading campus to the present day. He is a member of the United Nations, leading health of the Nations, leading health and the Nations, leading hursay and the Nations lecture bureau and the author of "Bicameral System of Legislation in Pennsylvania 1921-

Active in the local group of World Federalists, Professor Smith holds membership in the Foreign Policy Assn., the American Political Science Assn. and Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity.

Dr. Fye received the Ph.D. from Columbia in 1939 and taught chemistry subsequently at Hofstra Col-lege and the University of Tennessee. He served with the National Defense Research Committee from 1941 to 1947 and has been at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory since 1948.

The author of numerous publica

Albrightian Adds 41 Staff Members

Forty-one staff members have been added to The Albrightian staff, announced Marilyn A. Teeter. '57. editor in chief.

New reporters who will be working under the direction of Sandra Goepfert, '58, news editor, are Louis Rossi, '59, Barbara Rittenhouse, '59, Elizabeth Smith, '59, Clifford Franks, '59, Barbara Pelkus, '58, Anne Swiezak, '57, Joseph Zondlo, '59, Caroline Koontz, '59, Dorothy Spohn, '59.

Sports Staff

Philip Eyrich, '58, sports editor, selected the following new writers: Steven Nicolo, '5% Delores Kensler, '59, Jon Bradshaw, '59, George Lewis, '59, Charles Landesman, '59, Peter Soxon, '59, Louis Andre, '59.

Ne, feature writers who will be working under Jane DeWald, '56. and Phillip Goldfedder, '58, are Virginia Gilmer, '58, Dorothy Englert, '58, Janet Weil, '59, Wolfgang Schlaucht, '59, Kathleen Zellers, '59, Robert Peckham, '59, Jay Price, '59, Norman Nicholas, '59, Virginia Reed, '59.

Under the direction of Lester G. Deppen, '56, will be the following new make-up and headline staff members: Kenneth R. Bobb, '59, Clifford Franks, '59, Carl Sarfert, Jr., '59, Josephine Seyfert, '58.

Copy Staff

Betsy Reynolds, '57, Jane Shay, 57, Anne C. Young, '59, Pauline Ziegler, '59 and Patricia Krause, '59 compose the copy staff, headed by copy editor Janice Bertolet, '58.

John Ramsay, '58, typing editor, directs typists Elizabeth Trevaskis. '57, Blanche Merkel, '58, and Mary Bray, '59.

Saul Weinstein, '59, will assist photography editor Robert Fox, '57, and Alan Gibstein, '56, business manager, will be directing a staff including new members Sheldon Kaplan, '57, Carole Cagan, '59, Pamela Friedman, '59, and Stanley Or-

Voting Will Continue Until 3 This Afternoon

Candidates for the Centennial Homecoming Queen race were nar-rowed down to five in all-campus preliminaries held after Chapel last preliminaries held after Chapel last week. With any regularly enrolled woman student eligible, a tally of preliminary ballots named Barbara Ross, '57, Barbara Burbank, '56, Alma Grove, '56, Sylvia Greul, '56, and Judith Cohen, '57 to compete in the final election.

Voting began yesterday in the main hall of the administration building, and will continue until 3 p.m. today. The Centennial Homecoming Queen will be crowned by Dr. Harry V. Masters, president of the college, at the annual Ivy Ball, Friday evening, Oct. 21. The Queen and her four attendants will pre-side at Homecoming Weekend fes-tivities. She will continue to reign throughout '55-'56 as Centennial

Star Five

Miss Ross, a French major, hails from Reading. She is a member of Phi Beta Mu, has been president of French Club for two years, and was secretary of her class during her first year at Albright.

A home economics major, Miss Burbank calls Westfield, N. J., home. She has participated in sports, among them basketball and hockey. She has spent two years in Domino Club, and three in Heo Club. Miss Burbank is a member of Phi Beta Mu. She was runner up for Homecoming Queen in '53-'54.

Miss Grove, a psychology major, calls York her home. Sports such as basketball, tennis, and hockey were on her agenda. She is a member of Heo Club, and also belongs to the Pi Alpha Tau sorority. She ran for Homecoming Queen in '53-'54, and was runner up for that position in '54-'55.

Miss Gruel, a Readingite, is a member of Phi Beta Mu. She was formerly on the Albrightian staff, is a member of Heo Club, Student Council (having served as secretary of that organization during her jun-ior year), basketball, and cheer-leading. She is currently captaining

(Continued On Page Four)

Fireside Chats

If you want to become better acquainted with your professors by having an informal discussion with them and your friends, join us at "Y" Fireside Chats Tuesday. Oct. 18.

At Dr. Geil's home, you will get in on a discussion about the trend toward liberal arts in the American colleges, or you can discuss with either Dr. Gingrich or Dr. Elmer Smith the Christian and the social mill on campus.

Other groups will be meeting at the homes of the Rev. Mr. Barth and Dr. and Mrs. Douds to discuss the preparation for life that a student receives. Everyone will converge in the Pine Room at 7 p.m. and from there adequate transportation will be provided to the respective meeting places.

DOROTHY ENGLERT Fireside Chats

The Right Foot . . .

Just a little past the starting gate, our academic activities are already picking up speed and on their way in a "work-hard" race towards a goal; a goal in the form of a blank check. For us to fill in the desired amount we only need to realize how important a good beginning is.

Each of us is a participant in this race and owes a victory both to ourself and to our team-Albright. Individual responsibility will play the greatest role in the final score and obviously this rests on our shoulders alone.

Let's remember that there is no "starter" waiting with gun in hand to give us the go-ahead-it's up to us to produce our own impetus. The reason for this impetus is obvious enough.

Starting off on the "right foot" is only part of the answer. If we could continue in this direction, such classics as Valentines' Day could be discarded forever! If lectures could mean more than fifty minutes of writing and listening to "get" the information that is necessary to "pass" exams and if studying were more than just completing the required amount of work we'd have a head start.

The greatest difficulty lies in the ability to cultivate a liking for a subject, for without this interest, courses would be nothing more than credits-theoretical intelligence. We all agree that this work has to be done anyway, so why shouldn't we put in that extra bit of enthusiasm that makes all the difference in the world.

With the dawn of a new semester, vast opportunities are available to us. Let's all join in the race for knowledge and start off on the "right foot" while the starting is good.

P. G. & I. D

Everybody Listen . . .

The Centennial Concert series will soon be inaugurated in Teel Hall. This year many new faces will be added to the program. Quite a few of the soloists will be Albright's own talent and in addition Dr. Duddy has scheduled some notable guests from the Reading area. Among these people will be Cantor Benjamin Klonsky, who is well known by many Albright students; Charles Wolfe, Reading Baritone, and Mrs. Barbara Hartenbauer, a pianist from Schwenksville.

Full student support is needed by the performers if the concerts are to be a success. Dr. Duddy and his guests will be devoting many hours in the presentation of these recitals and only if they are properly attended can they be properly executed.

The concerts will be scheduled at four o'clock, Sunday afternoons. This time was chosen as the best possible occasion for an affair of this nature. Surely we can spend a few hours in the company of really good music and add to our cultural store at the same time. Let's get behind our fellow-students and show our enthusiasm for their time and effort by bringing our friends as well as ourselves to these musical interims on Sunday afternoon.

J.D.

THE ALBRIGHTIAN Published by the students of Albright College, Reading, Pa.

....Editor in Chief Business Manager Marilyn Teeter, '57 Alan Gibstein, '56

Business Manager Editorial Board: Lester G. Deppen, '56, Assistant Editor; Sandra Goepfert, '58, News Editor; Jane DeWald, '56 and Philip Goldredder, '58, Co-Feature Editors; Philip Eyrich, '58, Sports Editor; John Ramsay, '58, Typing Editor; Robert Fox, Photography Editor; Janice Bertolet, '58, Copy Editor, Reporters: Louis Rossi, '59, Barbara Rittenhouse, '59, Elizabeth Smith, '59, Clifford Franks, '59, Barbara Pelkus, '58, Clair Matz, '58, David Lubba, '56, Cariton Dodge, '58, Anne Swiecak, '57, William Mays, '58, Mary Jo Barbera, '57, Rosalinde Naugle, '58, Joseph Zondlo, '59, Betty Schmick, '58, Caroline Koontz, '59, Josephine Polvino, '58, Nancy Fries, '58, Dorothy Spohn, '59, Gerald Zald, '56, Patrica Gregas, '58.

Gregas, 58.

Sports Writers: Lee Schwartz, '58, Mildred Folk, '58, Steven Nicolo, '59, Delores Kensler, '59, Jon Bradshaw, '59, George Lewis, '59, Charles Landesman, '59, Peter Sonon, '59, Louis Andre, '59, Charles Landesman, '59, Peter Sonon, '59, Louis Andre, '59, '59, Steven Writers: Virginia Gilmer, '58, Porothy Englert, '58, Billie Williams, '58, Ann Miller, '58, Patricia Nein, '58, Janet Weil, '59, Wolfgang Schlaucht, '59, Kathieen Zellers, '59, Robert Peckham, '59, Jay Price, '59, Norma Nicholas, '59, Virginia Reed, '59, Make-up Staff: Kenneth R. Bobb, '59, Clifford Franks, '59, Carl Sarfert, Jr., '59, Josephine Seyfert, '58, Virginia Frey, '58.

Copy Staff: Betsy Reynolds, '57, Jane Shay, '57, Anne C. Young, '59, Pauline Zlegler, '59, Patricia Krause, '59.

Typing Staff: Betty Trevaskis, '57, Blanche Merkel, '58, Mary Bray, '59. Photography Staff: Saul Weinstein, '59.

Business Staff: Dolores Schaeffer, '58, Jeanne Handorf, '58, Sheldon iness Staff: Dolores Schaeffer, '58, Jeanne Handorf, '58, Sheldon Kaplan, '57, Carole Cagan, '59, Pamela Friedman, '59, Stanley Order, '56.

Member, Associated Collegiate Press and Intercollegiate Newspaper ociation.

Entered as second class matter, July 15, 1941, at the post office, Reading, Pa., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription rate $2.00 per year.

Hockey Ho!

Bu Billie Williams

Every student at Albright is aware that 1955-56 is our alma mater's Centennial Year. We are constantly being reminded of the fact, through publicity from the Public Relations Office and in articles published by the Albrightian. Our school is more in the limelight now than it has ever been; therefore it is the duty of the faculty, administration and student body to be superior in their respective functions. The activities on campus have had a lot of jest and things are running smoothly in most quarters. However, take girls' varsity hockey for

Unattended Practices Three days per week are set aside for those co-eds interested in the active sport of hockey. The coach, realizing this consumes much time from a student's busy week, requires that the girls play for only two hours on each of those afternoons. The players, however, are so busy that they can't seem to spare those six hours on the field. One hour after the practice is alleged to be gin, the majority of players straggle in. Some are legitimately in lab until late, but most are too involved in extra-curricular activities to spend the time required to develop a team.

A Real Danger

After a period of skill, the girls are placed on the field to engage in some lively scrimmages. There is a short pause while the coach searches for enough girls to make two complete teams and then the action begins. Anyone who thinks football is a dangerous sport should take a gander at the Albright hockey team in action! A cleated shoe can do no more harm than an ill-driven hockey ball. Since the same people don't always show up for practice, the basic skills can't be properly learned and careless playing results in bruised ankles and shins. The fault is found in the non-existent enthusiasm of the girls. With each privilege comes a responsibility and, when either of the two is mising, the other will eventually deteriorate. This Centennia! Year is the last to see a girls' varsity hockey team in action on Albright's field. The tragic seain of a fine

Nobody Asked me, BUT...

By Jane DeWald

Feignmanship, as it applies to the classroom, is the art of circumventing the obviously-posed, direct question of an instructor. While there are almost as many approaches as there are possible questions, certain guiding principles have evolved; equivocable or irrelevant answers statistical abstractions, and circular statements, cover the main avenues of deceit.

Persons endowed with a high degree of fair play and sportsmanship conduct usually rely on the DI-RECT BLUFF, and are most likely to out do themselves when con-fronted with a direct "yes" or "no" answer. Then the instructor has a 50-50 chance to ensnare the student. The feigner considers this only fair and should he lose, he's never heard to complain. To him, the play's the thing. All the "A" students and half the "F" students fall into this category.

Another method, largely preferred colorful feigners. the RHETORICAL SMILE. After the question is posed, he passively sits there, his whole manner conveying the idea to everyone that the answer is so obvious to all that it certainly doesn't merit or need comment. The instructor who would never "talk down" to his students, self consciously reminds himself to ke his next lecture more stimu lating and pencils a "B" beside this discerning student's name. But doubts may still plague him. Did he even ask the question he had intended? The student has now won a decisive victory.

a decisive victory.

The IT'S NOT QUITE THAT SIMPLE approach is invariably chosen by the artful pedant. This person reasons correctly that the best way to kill a question is to broaden its scope. Statistics and broaden its scope. Statistic quotes are extremely useful,

The instructor must accuse himof over-simplification problem which he now realizes has no simple "black on white" answer. Perhaps better preparation for his next class will free him of his obvi-ous narrowness of viewpoint.

The gaming personality loves the DON'T SEE WHAT BEARING THIS QUESTION HAS to what has gone before. This is of course a direct slap to the professor's inteldirect slap to the professor's intelligence, organization, and general teaching ability. But that's the chance you take. Usually, however, the instructor becomes so confused that he begins to leaf frantically through his notes to see if he is, after all, on the right page. An early dismissed of the class is likely to be forthcoming—a most dramatic victory for the feigner.

Albright Personality · Bill Davies

Ry Kathleen Zeller

One of the most pleasant person alities at Albright is senior Bill Davies. Bill first came to Albright from his home in Peckerville, Pennsylvania, in 1952. Playing football took much of his time in his first took much of his time in his his two years. However, in addition to football and studying, Bill also found time to pledge the Pi Tau Beta fraternity, housed in the Albright Court Dormitory, where he is now living.

In his junice year Bill really made the grade when he was elected vice president of the junior class appointed chairman of the Mardi Gras and chairman of the Centennial Cand.

Now in his final year at Albright, bill holds down two very important jobs among others. Elected presi-dent of the senior class at the end of his junior year, he was also seor his junior year, he was also selected as president of the Y. These two jobs don't seem to be too much for Bill though, because he also acts as vice president of his fraternity and serves as chairman of student activities committee for the Student Council. A very industrious young man, Bill keeps a part-time job at the Food Fair on Perkiomen

Although he has trouble singling out any particular memories at Al-bright, Bill remembers the time he had five teeth "removed," not too gently, at football camp before the start of the sophomore year. If you happen to think of it while entering the Ad. Building, take a look at the bushes in front. It seems that one of them isn't as perfectly formed as the other due to a small accident our subject was involved in during his freshman year.

As an English major and a his tory minor, Bill is undecided about his future. He did mention though, that he'd like to be the first mate for Cap'n Jim Zafere's pirate ship, the Little Flower. Here's wishing one of the nicest guys on campus the best of luck.

A STORM IS BORN

Just before the storm is born, the sky has an eerie hue;

My face wears a veiled look and I lie here thinking of you.

As lightning splits the heaven, I close my eyes to the glare, Must I close my heart to your love? Is it right—Is it fair?

We hear the way of society, It speaks of love and piety. But it cries—You are out of order! When you cross a thinly marked border.

Rebellion surging within me, I give way to frustration and wee

My tears and the raindrops mingle. Oh—how can others sleep? I hear rhythmic clashes of thunder rolling across the sky,

And I long to reach for the outstretched arm of a being wiser

If we emerge with little regret, We might not want to try to forget. Why is ours a love to scorn? Who knows why a storm is born?

-DEBBIE KLONSKY

Procession Will Initiate Weekend Convocation

Bu Clifford Franks

Very rarely does a mere procession to any event rate a solo build up but such must be the case for the academic procession scheduled for Albright's Centennial Homecoming Convocation. This occurrence, which will be held Saturday morning, Oct. 22, in the college gymnasium, will last a brief 15 minutes. In this time, however, numerous college and other educational society dignitaries will march down the aisle in α respectful salute to Albright's 100th anniversary.

Beginning at 10:15 a.m., the procession, which promises to be a col-orful spectacle, will include selected representatives from close to 60 colleges located throughout Pennsylvania and neighboring states. They will be garbed in multi-colored gowns, capes and hoods signifying the colleges they graduated from, the colleges they graduated from the degrees obtained, and their selected professions. Also, to add to the pomp of it all, many other learned societies and education organizations are sending select peo-ple to participate in the "entrance march'

Everything considered, the aca demic procession and convocation should rank as one of the more en-joyable and profitable activities planned for the homecoming celebration. Everyone should attempt to be there to share in honoring Albright on its fabulous Centennial

Alfred University Brings Undefeated Slate Here

By Phil Eyrich, Sports Editor

As the Lions prepare for their second home encounter of the year tomorrow night, they will also be looking for their first win of the 1955 season. Opening up the slate with Bucknell University, Muhlenberg College, and Gettysburg College on successive weeks, the Red and White find themselves with a 0 win, 3 loss situation as they point for their game with Alfred University tomorrow night. At this stage of the grid campaign, the charges of Coach John Potsklan need the support of the students even more than at any other time. The backing given the team at the Pretzel Bowl game was good, especially encouraging were the freshmen who showed fine spirit, but again this week we as students must give the team our solid backing.

Return To Own Class . . .

Albright will just this week begin to play schools in its own class and so the true relative strength of this year's ball club can really be But even this will not hold true completely because, thank playing schools already this season that have strongly emphasized football in recent years, the Lions are suffering from a plague of injuries that could prove disastrous with the "thin" squad that the Red and White has. How many of the squad will be able to play in the game tomorrow was not known when this article was written, but the injury list was a menacing one. Although the Saxons of Alfred are undefeated, the Potsklanmen can be counted on to give the New York Staters a good battle

Even in defeat the Lions have had bright spots on the pigskin scen during the initial three contests. Roy Dragon, Whitey Rightmire, and John Cunningham in the backfield, and several linemen including Jack Huntzinger, Fred Ardito, and Joe Kremer plus the ends have singled themselves out as talented performers for Albright and the cause of defeat thus far has not been that the Red and White aren't good, but that the teams they played were "out of our class" so to speak. This is not meant to belittle our team, but rather to show the results of meeting powerful grid juggernauts with an undermanned squad.

Despite the many injuries to the team, the Lions will have their air attack unit in top physical shape and thus will probably bank on it heavily to gain yardage against Alfred. The backfield showed versatility in last week's game as no less than six players attempted passes of which eight were complete, all of them thrown by Dragon. The only statistics department that the Lions were able to capture was in the yards gained the capture was in the yards gained through the air column.

Alfred will sport a moderately light, fast team when they invade Albright Stadium at 8 p.m. Saturday, and both have a ground and an aerial attack. The Lions' defense will in all likelihood be the key factor in the contest as they attempt to bottle up the Saxons' hard-hitting backs headed by fullback Jim Ryan.

Turning from the major fall sport here at the college to the "minor" ones, the Cross Country and Girls' Hockey teams either have begun or will begin in the near future their Centennial year competition. These sports, together with the students that compose the teams, deserve the backing of the students just as much as the major athletic teams because of the hard work many Albrightians put towards them and also because they are out to win for our school and enlarge its already fine reputation!

Girls' Sports Plans Made

Three weeks ago twenty-seven Albright women turned out for their first hockey practice. Under the leadership of Mrs. Eva Mosser, the girls began getting in shape for their first game of the season. Only their first game of the season. Only nine veterans from last year's squad returned. They are Alma Grove, Marilyn Wertz, Lynne Hagenbuch, Caroline Smith, Cindy Winter, Mil-lie Folk, Billie Williams, Barbara Kuehn, and Bonnie Orr.

New Members

New Members

Newcomers to the squad are Mary
Wolf, Je an Palm, Ginger Lloyd,
Sandy Geopfert, Cornie Blansett,
Jean Dufford, Betsy Dominick,
Stephany Bartolett, June Sneath,
Ann Swiezak and Mary Ellen Appleman. Several freshman girls, Barbara Cox, Jean Fink, Nancy Heron, Barbara Pathell Amelia Patteiger. Barbara Patchell, Amelia Potteiger, Martha Richards, and Frances Shearer also reported for practice.

Although Drexel Institute of Technology was dropped from the schedule of meets, the squad faces a rigorous schedule. The schedule son will get underway on Oct. 25 with two games being played. Albright is instituting a new proach to the hockey season this year. All those girls who don't par-ticipate on the girls' varsity hockey squad will be active in intramural hockey. The girls will be divided into four red teams and four white teams. Two one-hour games will be played on Tuesdays and Fridays at 3 p.m. and 4 p.m. The first of these games will be played Oct. 25. On Oct. 28, Nov. 1, and on Nov. 4 the remaining games will be played.

ON DECK

Saturday Oct. 15, Football, Al-

Wednesday, Oct. 19, Cross Country, Lafayette, Away

Wed., Nov. 2-Millersville home 3

Sat., Nov. 5-Lebanon Valley away at., Nov. 12—Cedar Crest away playday 10 a.m.

The girls' intramural hockey sea

fred, Home (8 p.m.)

Two all-star teams will be chosen; Sat., Oct. 15—Moravian away, playday 10 a.m. (Postponed).

Tues., Oct. 18—Elizabethtown away 3 p.m.

Gettysburg Downs Lions Hampered 46-6 In Pretzel Bowl

Bullets Capture Shrine Trophy As Dragon, Lebo Are Named Most Valuable Players

Gettysburg College handed an outmanned Albright College grid team a 46-6 loss in the fifth annual Pretzel Bowl game last Saturday night in Albright Stadium. The Bullets, possessing their best football squad in the history of that school, ran through, around, and over the Lions for four savage periods of play in the annual Shrine classic. Gettysburg College, sporting the results of a stepped up athletic program, fielded a team that in the eyes of most observers, "had everything".

The Lions showed a few bright spots in the game as both Whitey

Rightmire and John Cunningham averaged over seven yards per carry from scrimmage, and Roy Dragon

the Albrightian's Player of the Month for September, completed 8 out of 16 passes. Aside from the scoring march, the Lions did move into Gettysburg territory again but

Score First

Receiving the opening kickoff, Gettysburg marched 78 yards for their initial score, crossing the goal line on an off tackle slash by Bruce Pieper. Dave Lechtenfield kicked the extra point for the Bullets.

Moments later quarterback Frank Gagliardi pushed over from the 2 yard line for Gettysburg. Again the PAT was good and the Lions trailed 14-0, the last score coming after an exchange of punts.

ing up the ball, raced into the end-zone for the third Bullet six pointer to make the tally 20-0. Taking the

it across to put Gettysburg ahead Lions Tally was short and the halftime score was 28.5

The visitors pushed over two where touchdowns in the third frame is boost their margin to 40-6. Both tallies came on runs, one for 64 yards. A pass interception gave the Bullets their final tally of the evening in the fourth quarter and made the final score Albright 6 and Gettysburg 46.

Early in the second qua Gettysburg's Bob Lebo blocked Tom Pollock's attempted punt and, scoop were stalled each time

From The Sidelines . . .

Last week's fifth annual Pretzel Bowl game saw 7.500 fans out of the 8.769 people who bought tickets fill Albright Stadium for the yearly Shrine spectacle. Besides the game, several other events, both planned and spontaneous added color to the event. Fire, pretzels and music were the main attractions (or distractions) for the fans during the night.

Judy Kenney of West Chester High School won the baton twirling contest and was crowned by last year's queen, Patty Eastman, of Lancaster. Other contestants were from Laville, Easton, Bethlehen, Caldwell, Center Valley, Harleys-ville, Lancaster, Lebanon, and Read-

Prior to the game, the Reading Fair Band, the Reading High School Marching Band, and the Lulu String Band of Philadelphia performed for the audience. The high. ight of the Reading High School Band's performance, a demonstra-tion of fire baton twirling by three majorettes precipitated the first dis-ruptive event of the evening. In attempting to extinguish them, the cans of gasoline on the sidelines were set aflame and the benches of the Albright team were "warmed' ahead of time

The perennial "pretzel drop" at The perennial "pretzel drop" at halftime threatened both teams with devastation as after making two "drop runs" with pretzels and gift certificates over the grandstand, the pilot dropped a mass of parachutes on the playing field which prompted hundreds of youngsters to rush onto the playing field and disrupt play in the second half of the game.

A INTRAMURALS

The intramural football league is scheduled to end its firet half play on Monday, Oct. 17, was the Kappa vs. APO and Dorro s. Zeta games.

The six teams conseed in the competition are Pi Tau, APO, Kappa, Daymen, Zeta, and Dorm. All games started at 4:15 in the afternoon during the first half.

The following games were played during the past week: Pi Tau vs. APO; Kappa vs. Daymen; Zeta vs. APO; Dorm vs. Daymen; Kappa vs. Pi Tau; APO vs. Daymen; Zeta vs. Pi Tau; Kappa vs Dorm; Daymen vs. Pi Tau. The members of the non-playing teams serve as officials during the game.

Tennis Begins

Intramural tennis began its elimination play during the past week, and plans for a bowling league are also being formulated. Prospective participants are asked to watch for an announcement in the near future. The standings follow:

Team	Won	Lost	Tie
APO	1	0	0
Pi Tau	1	.0	0
Zeta	1	0	1
Kappa	0	0	1
Daymen	0	1	0
Dorm	0	2	0

By Injuries In Bid For Upset

Albright College and Alfred University meet tomorrow night at Albright stadium in the third game of their football series. Thus far this year, the Saxons have defeated Brockport 54-0, Cortland 12-0, and St. Lawrence 38-0.

Have Speed

The team is of moderate size but packs speed and hard driving backs. The latter are headed by fullback Jim Ryan. Albright will be hampered by injuries to several key players, including Willy Smith, Whitey Rightmire, Chris Wenger, and others. Whether or not they will be able to play tomorrow night was not known at the time of publication

In 1929, their first meeting, the Lions, who finished with a 7 and 2 record under Coach "Doggie" Julian that year, defeated the Saxons 73-0. Last year, at Alfred, New York, the Saxons evened the count by defeating the Red and White 12-0.

Good Record

Good Record

Coach Alex Yunevich is starting his fifteenth year as head football coach at Alfred. Over the years, Yunevich's charges have compiled a .755 winning percentage with seventy-one victories, twenty-three defeats and five ties. Last year the Purple and Red won six and lost two, defeating Brockport, Cortland, St. Lawrence, Albright, Ithaca, and Buffalo; and losing to King's Point and Hobart. This year's schedule is and Hobart. This year's schedule is the same as last year's for the ball on their own 38 a few minutes later, the visiting aggregation drove to Albright's 15, where Lebo took Saxons.

With seventeen returning lettermen, Alfred should do well with their schedule. They sport a light, fast backfield averaging 168 pounds and a solid line averaging 185 pounds. Al Moresco, a 5' 8", 160 pound junior will direct the team at quarterback with sophomore full-With time rapidly running out in the first half, Albright got their first and only sustained drive under way. Passes from Dragon to Cun-ningham, who made two great catches, wrapped around a 20 yard land jann by Bightwing gays the back, 164-pound Jim Ryan and jun-ior halfbacks Jay Abbot, 150 pounds and John Zluchoski weighing 172 catches, wrapped around a 20 yard land jaunt by Rightmire gave the Lions a first down deep in Gettys-burg territory, "a ze Dragon cracked over for the lone Albright score. Rightmire's attempted conversion pounds, rounding out the backfield.

Seek Victory

Seek Victory

The Albright Lions, looking for their first victory of the season, have dropped decisions to Bucknell, 25-14, Muhlenberg, 26-13, and Gettysburg, 46-6. However, the Lions schedule is considered to be much tougher than that of the Saxons. With F. & M., Moravian, Lehigh, Lebanon Valley, and Scranton remaining the Red and White will. Lebanon Valley, and Scranton re-maining, the Red and White will have to be at their best to make this season a successful one.

Top Gridders

Shown above are Bob Lebo of Gettysburg and Roy Dragon of Albright tey received the awards for the most valuable players of their respec-teams in the Pretzel Bowl.

(Photo By Bob Fox)

Campus Organizations Plan Autumn Activity Programs

Plans for the fall season rolled into high gear this past week as various campus organizations met to schedule their autumn activities.

Men's Dormitory Council

Albert Ellis, '58, was elected president of the Men's Dormitory Council at that organization's first meeting last Monday evening.

Last week's issue of the Albrightian erroneously announced that Robert Miller, '56, had been reelected president of the Council. Miller was instead elected senior representative to the Council.

Other new officers are Pat D'Esposito, '57, vice president; Bernard Gissen, '57, secretary; and Charles Sample, '58, treasurer.

Skull and Bones

The first meeting of Skull and Bones was held Wednesday, Oct. 5, in the science lecture hall.

The president, Robert Erb, '56, opened the meeting with greetings to old and new members. A film on medical technology was shown. Dr. Clyde Vogel gave a lecture and showed a film on chiropody.

This program was followed by a business meeting at which time the date of the next meeting was announced as Nov. 2.

Debating Squad

The regular meeting of the Debating Club was held Wednesday, Oct. 5. The debaters had a preliminary discussion on Euthanasia, which is mercy killing. New topics that will be investigated for possible debating are Federal Aid to Public Schools, Civilian Conscription, and Legalized Horseracing in Pennsylvania.

The club has permanently set its meeting time at 3:10 p.m. every Wednesday.

One new member, Ann Swiezak, '58, was accepted into the organization.

Mrs. Geras Returns

Ann Kontis Geras, secretary in the Public Relations Office, recently returned from a honeymoon trip through upper New York and Niagara Falls. Mrs. Geras was married to James Geras of Reading on Sunday, Sept. 18.

ISC

Inter-Sorority Council held its first meeting for the year last Tuesday. This organization is composed of two representatives from each sorority and the presidents of the two sororities. Representatives of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority are Jeanne Palm, '57, Bernadine Klinikowski, '58, and president Helen Schoener, '56. Representatives of Phi Beta Mu sorority are Barbara Ross, '57, Cynthia Winner, '57, and president Sandra Smith, '56.

The council and Priscilla R. Morton, dean of women, had a sorority briefing yesterday after Chapel with all freshmen women and transfer students.

Homecoming Queen

(Continued From Page One) the cheerleading squad for the second consecutive year. Miss Gruel was presented with the Student Council Activities Award. She is a home economics major.

Miss Cohen, a member of Phi Beta Mu, is also a psychology major. She hails from New York City. In her freshman year, Miss Cohen was on the staff of the Albrightian. She is also on the cheerleading squad. She was last year's Homecoming Queen.

Beneath the realm of Krause There sits Albright's Noble Coffee House

ALBRIGHT CANTEEN

Bard's

Birch and Amity

GOOD SNACKS
SANDWICHES and
FOUNTAIN SERVICE

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"I'VE WAITED FIVE YEARS FOR SOMEONE TO ASK ME THAT QUESTION."

Six To Be Granted

(Continued From Page One)

Wolseley earned the B.S. and M.S. in journalism from Northwestern at which university he later taught before assuming his present position at Syracuse. He organized the department of journalism at Hislop College, Nagpur University, Nagpur, India, in 1952-53.

He has been a staff member of numerous magazines and periodicals and has authored several books on journalism. In 1948 he served as president of the American Assn. of Teachers of Journalism.

Following his graduation from Albright in Myerstown in 1915, Rev. Mr. Coleman studied at the Biblical Seminary in New York and later at the University of Pittsburgh. After serving several c h a r g es in New York and Pennsylvania, he came to F i r s t Church, Franklin, in 1922. Since his service as Conference Superintendent in 1943, he has been located in Franklin.

Six terms president of the Franklin Ministerial Assn., he served as president of the conference board of Christian Education.

Rev. Mr. Wert

Rev. Mr. Wert received the B.D. from the Evangelical School of Theology, formerly located in Reading, the M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania, and the S.T.M. from the Graduate School of Mt. Airy Seminary.

Before his assignment to the mission charge in Drexel Hill, he served churches in West Lawn, Lebanon, and Allentown. He was a member of the General Board of Christian Education of the EUB Church for eight years.

Flemming, on leave from his position as president of Ohio Wesleyan University, will be awarded the doctor of laws degree.

The convocation, part of the Centennial Homecoming celebration, will begin at 10:30 a.m., Oct. 22.

Carry all your Toiletries?

Use the convenient . . .
handy . . . safe Decorated

BATH KIT . . . $2.75

Plain $2.25

STERNBERGH GIFTS

Union at Hamiden

we calor to the college man...

> WEINER'S 759 PENN ST.

MEET THE GANG

College Inn

14th and UNION STS.

Sanwiches and Fountain Service

Italian Sandwiches

hes Ham on Roll

31 Freshmen Will Vie For Class Offices

A total of 31 candidates were nominated to run for freshman class officers Oct. 6 at a freshman class meeting after Chapel. Elections will be held Thursday, Oct. 20.

Nominees for president are: Louis Benedict, from Reading, a business administration m aj or; R on a l d Brown, Wantagh, New York, also a business major; Robert Flanagan, Reading, pré-chiropody; Ronald Kolker, Arlington, New Jersey, premedical; Paul Marrella, Reading, pre-engineering; Vaughn Mervine, Reading, liberal arts; Robert Peckham, Fleetwood, pre-law; D a n i e l Skeath, Jr., Barnesville, pre-theological; Larry Stoudt, Temple, pre-theological; and John Walton, Lansdale, a business administration major. Those vying for vice-presidential honors are R obert Blood from Newark, New Jersey, business administration; Fred Dietzel, Ephrata, 1 liberal arts; John Frank, Reading, business administration; Larry Henry, Reading, pre-engineering; George Kilburg, Hillside, New Jersey, pre-medical; Charles Kyle, Baltimore, Maryland, pre-engineering; Katherine Radcliffe, Moorestown, New Jersey, a history major; R al p h Swenarton, Interlaken, New Jersey, business administration; and William Taylor, Folcroft, a pre-engineering major. Candidates for treasurer are Mimi

Candidates for treasurer are Mimi Bray, Oreland, a home-economics major; Amy Weaver, Reading, a math major; Sheldon Foreman, Philadelphia, pre-dentistry; Richard Kelly, Fanwood, New Jersey, liberal arts; Jon Bradshaw, New York City, liberal arts; Edward Cali, Pen Argyl, New Jersey, business admin-

Chapel Absences Reduced To Three

Because required Chapel attendance has been reduced to only one day per week for this current year, three absences per semester will be allowed to cover emergencies; and because students are expected to keep their own records of absences, no warning notices will be sent.

own records of absences, no warning notices will be sent.

Names will be posted on the Registrar's bulletin board in the Edministration Building immediately after a third absence has been taken—this will represent the official "limit notice" and any absence taken by that student thereafter will be an "overcut" which will carry the penalty as prescribed by the faculty—one extra hour of credit for graduation for each overcut.

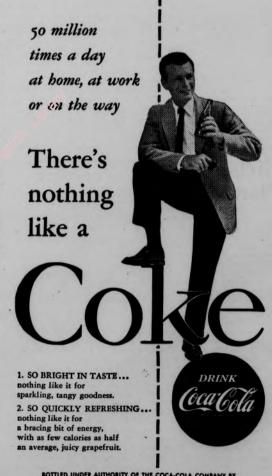

anon for each overcut.

In order not to penalize a student who may have exhausted his absence allowance entirely through extended of illness or through participation in approved group activities which have necessitated absences from the campus—all such cases will be given individual consideration for waiver of penalty if overcuts result from continuance or subsequent occurrence of those same situations.

GEORGE W. WALTON,
Dean of the College

istration; Roger Goldberg, Elizabeth, New Jersey, predentistry; and Nicki Donnay, Baltimore, Maryland, social work.

land, social work.
Secretarial contestants are Albert
Castello, Reading, business administration: Nancy Carleson, West field, New Jersey, home economics;
Barbara Cox, Coatesville, liberal arts; and Jean Fink, Pequea, laboratory technician.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY Reading Coca-Cola Bottling Works, Inc.
"Coke" is a registered trade-mark.

© 1935, THE COCA-COLA COMPANY