NEGATIVE DEBATING TEAM MAKES WONDERFUL RECORD DURING YEAR

Team, Composed of Dale H. Gramley, Arthur H. Henninger, Clyde E. Hewett, and Paul Price, Alternate, Has Won Five Successive Victories Over Muhlenburg, Juniata, Elizabethtown, Westminster and Ursinus

Affirmative Team Closes Season To-Night At Bucknell

The Albright negative debating team closed a most successful forensic season when it defeated the Ursinus affirmative team in the College Chapel, Friday evening, March 20, winning the unanimous decision of the three judges. This victory was especially noteworthy in view of the fact that the Ursinus team had previously defeated the negative teams of Muhlenburg, Elizabethtown, and Temple.

Of the five debates in which the Albright negative team has participated this season they have won 13 of the 15 votes cast by the judges. This is remarkable for the team, especially since all the men are new in debating, not one of them having been on the intercollegiate teams last year or on the high school teams before entering Albright. There record is equal to any records which Albright teams have established in the past years. The members of the team are Dale Gramley, '26, Arthur Henninger, '25, Clyde Hewitt, '26, and Paul Price, Alternate.

The affirmative team will close its season tonight when it will meet the Bucknell negative at Lewisburg in a triangular debate between Albright, Bucknell and Ursinus. Though this team has not won a debate so far this season the efforts of the men have been far from unsuccessful. In fact, the season has been a success in that in every instance they have prevented a unanimous decision for their opponents. When it is realized that in the question debated this year in intercollegiate circles, affirmative victories have been rare and that negative victories have in the majority of cases been unanimous, the achievement will appear all the more remarkable. Another fact which adds to the record is the inexperience of all the speakers, all being new men on the team with the exception of Grumbling who participated in the Temple debate last year. The members of the team are Russel Grumbling, '25, Heil Gram-ley, '26, Kenneth Benfer, '25 and Milton Wilkes, '26, alternate. The question debated this year was "Resolved, that Congress should have the power by a two-thirds vote to declare effective a Federal law which has been pronounced unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States."

The argument of the affirmative was based on three main contentions: (1) The present system is unsatisfactory because the final power in legislation lies in the hands of the Supreme Court and not in the hands of the people. (2) The present system is undemocratic because the Supreme Court has defeated the will of the people by (a) debatable majorities' decision (b) class adjudication. (3) The proposed plan will place the final power in the hands of the people without creating new problems.

The negative speakers opposed the proposed plan on the following grounds, (1) The present system is satisfactory because the Supreme Court has not interfered with progress which the nation has made. (2) The proposed plan would disrupt the constitution. (3) Congress is not qualified to supersede the Supreme Court. (4) The proposed plan would make Congress too powerful.

GEO. HOLLENBAUGH, '26 NEW BASKETBALL CAPT.

At a meeting of the 1925 basketball letter men on March 20, George S. Hollenbaugh, '26, of Mount Union, Pa. was elected captain for the 1926 season. Hollenbaugh has been a member of the varsity basketball squad since his Freshman year, playing a guard position. He is one of the two three sport men at Albright at the present time and attained that distinction in his first year. He is recognized as the speediest man on the Albright athletic squads and played a half-back position in football, guard in basketball and, in baseball, has caught for the past two seasons. At the present time he is nursing an injured shoulder, hurt during the basketball season and may be out of the line-up for a time.

Hollenbaugh came to Albright from Mt. Union High School where he was captain of the basketball team that made such a great record during the 1922 season.

Paul Price, '26, has been elected manager of basketball for next year and already has several games lined up.

FRESHMAN CLASS AT ST. PATRICK'S PARTY

Misses Bittle, Wolf, and Ebling Entertain Frosh at Greystone Lodge—Pleasant Evening Enjoyed By All

On the evening of March 17, Misses Elizabeth Bittle, Irene Wolf and Maggie Ebling entertained the Freshman class at Miss Bittle's home, Greystone Lodge, in honor of St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. Zener was chaperone.

As an "ice-breaker", each girl was assigned four topics upon which she was to speak for two minutes with two other persons. At the end of that time, Mr. Glen Garrett and Miss Virginia Zener were chosen the two best conversationalists, and awarded prizes. Mr. Garrett was particularly good on the subject, "A Bit of Blarney".

A crossword puzzle occupied the attention of all for several minutes. The group led by Mr. Loucks won the prize for the correct solution in the shortest time. Various games were then played, which all enjoyed. The hostesses served ice cream, cake and candy—colored green in honor of the day. The boys receive (Continued on Page Three).

PI TAU BETA FRAT HOLDS ANNUAL PARTY

Celebrate St. Patrick's Day With Elaborate Banquet and Party in College Dining Hall—Interesting Program

Tuesday evening, March 17 the Pi Tau Beta Fraternity held its annual St. Patrick's party in the College dining room. Prof. and Mrs. Dech were the host and hostess of the evening and received the Fraters and their friends in the transformed dining hall at 8 p. m.

As the guests filed in they found one end of the room curtained off and transformed into a spacious drawing room with chairs and divans placed for their comfort. Floor and table lamps gave a subdued light with a piano and victrola to aid in the entertainment. The walls were decorated with College colors and the Fraternity pennants and banners.

The program included a discussion of St. Patrick's merits, several recitations both Irish and otherwise, an original crossword puzzle, stunts and jokes. At the close of the program all marched out into a small dining room. Here hearty appetites showed the appreciation of Miss Smoyer's and Mrs. Bicher's cooking. Toastmaster Benfer called on several of the ladies and Fraters for toasts. After the concluding speeches by Prof. Keen and Prof. Dech, all joined in a snappy song fest, climaxed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Those present were Frater in Facultate, Dech, Fraters Prof. Keen, Allen Dech, K. Benfer, H. Gramley, Hewitt, Kelly, Wilkes, E. Harris, Oswald, C. Miller, and Heisley; Guests, Messrs Schoenly, J. Smith, B. Zener, Morris, Mrs. W. J. Dech, Mrs. Keen, Mrs. Allen Dech, Misses Janet Kaitreider, Eva Wright, Mildred Lackey, Lena Bertolet, Thelma Kreiser, Mrs. Ed. Harris, Misses Avril Heikert, Mary Wray, Charlotte Walt, Dorothy Deibert, Kathryn McCurdy, Blanche McCauley, and Margaret Neast.

Football Schedule For Next Year Is Announced

Manager of football, R. F. Dubs, has announced the football schedule for the 1926 season. It will be noted that three new teams will be met this coming season—Gallaudet, Blue Ridge and George Washington University. A second game with William and Mary is an achievement. The other teams have been met before. The season will come to a climax in the L. V. C. game, Nov. 21.

- ### Football Schedule 1925
- Sept. 26—F. & M.—Lancaster.
  - Oct. 2—Muhlenburg—Allentown.
  - Oct. 10—P. M. C.—Chester.
  - Oct. 17—Gallaudet—home.
  - Oct. 24—Blue Ridge—home.
  - Oct. 31—Dickinson—Carlisle.
  - Nov. 7—William and Mary—Williamsburg, Va.
  - Nov. 14—George Washington University—Washington, D. C.
  - Nov. 21—Lebanon Valley—Lebanon.

SPRING FOOTBALL

Several footballs have been placed at the disposal of such men who desire to do some spring football training. Several of the men, including some of the varsity men who are not out for baseball have been taking light workouts daily since the field has been in shape. This is the first year that this has been tried out at Albright. No definite plan of work has been outlined. However, Jason Snyder, a varsity guard, has been in charge and has specialized in drilling the men in learning to handle the ball, run down punts, catch passes, etc.

OUTLOOK IN BASEBALL IS EXCEPTIONAL

Prospects For This Year's Team Is Even Better Than Last Year, And Team Should Have Another Big Year

EIGHT LETTER MEN FROM LAST YEAR AGAIN ON HAND

Pitching Department Strengthened, While Last Year's Infield Is Intact—Outfield Well Taken Care of While Loss of Hollenbaugh to Catching Department is Keenly Felt.

Coach Benfer's call for candidates for the baseball team has been answered with enthusiasm by a squad of about 25 men. The pitching staff has been working in the gymnasium since the middle of February while the whole squad has been on the diamond for two weeks.

There is no possibility of denying that Albright had a successful season last year. Therefore, in view of the fact that only one man, Captain "Deddy" Miller, has been lost to the squad the Red and White is sure to have another winning team.

The prospects are even better than last year, for Captain Yost now has a promising young lefthander to take turns with him on the mound. "Lefty" Shoap is the new man and continues to show the good form which has helped to defeat all teams which faced him, except one in the past three years. With Yost and Shoap on the mound there will be no lack of classy twirling at Albright this year.

Hollenbaugh has been nursing an injured shoulder since the early part of the basketball season and has been unable to report for practice thus far. His absence is felt, for he has caught well for two years. However, there are three men who are showing good stuff behind the bat; they are Angle, of Shippensburg Normal, Gross, of Northumberland, and Brown, of Wyalusing.

There has been no definite line-up for the infield as yet. However, last year's arrangement is still intact with Hartzell at third, Gasull at short, Kengle at second and Leinbach at first. New men striving for infield posts are Holvey, of Wilkes-Barre and a whole host of rookies. There are two lettermen still remaining for outfield grades. They are "Pog" Smith and Glenn Raffensperger. Griggs, who has been showing lots of stuff in the outfield and at the bat, will make a strong bid for one of the positions. Yost and Shoap also play in the outfield when not pitching.

The strength of a team lies in its ability to make runs. Last year the batting average of the team was approximately .305 which is far above the average hitting strength of most teams. This year the same sluggers are back and going just as strong as last year. They are also supplemented with Shoap, Angle and Holvey who have the hitting instinct developed to a high degree. There is an unusual amount of in-

Nine Letters Awarded This Year in Basketball

The following men were awarded the basketball "A" this year: Captain and forward, Glen Raffensperger, '25, Russel Zellers, '25, center; George Hollenbaugh, '26, guard; Stein Griggs, '27, forward; Paul Wissler, '28, guard; William Derr, '26, guard; Samuel Angle, '27, forward; Glenn Garrett, '28, forward, and Douglas Brown, '28, guard. Howard Clark, '25, was awarded a manager's "A" in basketball.

Manager of Male Glee Announces Easter Trip

Manager Oswald of the Boys' Glee has announced that concerts will be given by the Club in the following places during its trip through the western part of the State.

- April 3, Newport; April 4, Mifflin; April 6, Lewistown; April 7, Juniata; April 8, Windber; April 9, Lighter; April 10, Somerset; April 11, Scalp Level; April 13, Johnstown. The Sundays will be spent in the vicinities of Lewistown and Johnstown.

Other concerts arranged are Apr. 22, Shillington; April 21 or 30, Newmantown. A combined concert may also be given in Lebanon. The Club is prepared to give an excellent concert. A number of special vocals and instrumental numbers, as well as quartet will make the program highly attractive.

THEMISIANS ENTERTAIN

Thursday evening, March 26, the girls of group number three, with Eva Wright as leader, were entertained by their fellow Themisians at a party, in Mohn Hall reception room. This group was judged to have presented the best program in the recent series of special programs given by the Society.

Easter Trip of Girls' Glee Club Is Shortened

The concerts scheduled for the Girls' Glee Club trip during five days of the Easter vacation are, Friday, April 3, Wrightsville, Imperial Theatre; Saturday and Sunday, April 4 and 5, Red Lion, St. Paul's Evangelical Church; Monday, April 6, Berwick, Bowers Memorial Evangelical Church. The manager is awaiting an answer from Williamsport which may give the Club a concert at Troy, Wednesday, April 7.

The manager found it exceedingly difficult to arrange an Easter trip, because of Passion Week services. Excuses for not having the club, out of twenty two churches written to, were due to these services. The general opinion of the club seems to be that grant of leave from school by the faculty would greatly facilitate the manager's work and give more successful trips.

NEW FLAG FROM FROSH

A new, beautiful flag, the gift of the class of '28, has been floating from the flagpole since March 24. This fills a need long felt by all the students and is much appreciated by them.

TENNIS COURTS

The announcement made about a week ago concerning the apparatus for indoor tennis enthused all those who are interested in that sport. Already many have been using the gymnasium during their spare hours and are enjoying the sport to a great extent.

But while the indoor sport is in progress, wouldn't it be a good plan to begin getting the outdoor tennis courts in preparation so that they can be used when we return from the Easter vacation? It wouldn't take long to do the work if those assigned to do it would work willingly. The sooner the work is over the sooner will come the pleasure of playing on the courts. You know, work before pleasure, is a good maxim.

We expect to have tennis tournaments this season, do we not? And Albright's record in such will depend on practice. This means that we also expect our courts to be ready for use in the near future.

Let's get busy and pep up the tennis interest.

THINKING

"I don't think." This expression should be taken quite literally at times. Relatively few worship at the shrines of thought. Thinking is regarded much as a side issue. "I am going to go up into my room to think," the writer told a chum of his a few hours ago. With eyes of wonder the chap blurted out, "How's that?" The question was asked of another who quizzically replied, "It can't be." Though humorous, this reveals much of the status of college thinking.

Several factors account for this deficiency. Outstanding among these, perhaps, is the misconception that we go to college primarily to acquire boundless masses of facts. This, partly at least, explains the failure, in life, of many valedictorians. They make themselves walking encyclopedias, but neglect the development of their thought life. The first should not be neglected; the second must not be neglected. Before the day of encyclopedias the stress was on the accumulation of facts. Now, however, we have an abundance of reference works, hence thinking should be stressed.

The fact that thinking is hard work further accounts for our thinking famine. Day dreaming is easy street in thinking, hence it has many devotees. Then too, there are many ready made and second hand thoughts that one may secure without the price of toil. This, however, robs one of the satisfaction of drawing water from his own cistern.

Slavish regard for authority in text books also impedes free thinking. This savors much of the Chinese attitude toward the Nine Classics. Let the student have a mind of his own, for text book writers are not always final voices.

Yet it is not enough to be a thinker, for some think in the lowlands, others think in the foothills, and a few rare souls in the heights. The heights challenge us.

Campus Chatter

Well, yes, certainly, spring was here two weeks ago, but it's still coming. It's rather surprising, when you stop to think, how much of spring there is to come. It doesn't run out but keeps getting better and better all the time and you never get too much of it. At least, the editorial staff can't remember ever having heard anyone say he was tired of spring. Can you?

And more remarkable than the simple fact that there is a large amount of spring to come, is the consideration that there is more of spring to come to us today than there was to come to our grandparents a hundred years ago. Oh, a great deal more, too, whether we enjoy our abundance more than our ancestors did their smaller portions, is another question. But just think of a few of the modern things that spring brings to us—Glee trips for one thing and for another a wide spread these agitation. (Our grandparents always had their theses finished by this time of the year and so, of course, never worried about them.)

Yes, from all observations, the Parrot has reached the conclusion that glee trips are one of spring's most important contributions to the life of Albright. It isn't so much the trips themselves that are so important, either, as it is the far reaching influence that these journeys put forth both before and after their accomplishment. We are in the pre-concert period just now, you will find, if you are paying any attention. This can be deduced by noticing all the new spring outfits that are making their appearance at present. No one would trouble to purchase an Easter outfit so long before hand if it were not for glee trips, surely. Even Miss Strasser is not shopping in Lebanon, we wish you to know. And as for glee practice, it's picking up speed and intensity these days, too. Everyone wishes God-speed to both Clubs, the Parrot is sure.

Spring is bringing us, too, an activity we never have had at all until this year, and that is spring football practice. It's to be hoped that our next season's eleven will benefit by this early start. And those who are interested in neither football nor the great diamond sport, baseball, are to have indoor tennis to beguile the crisp spring days. Will anyone dare to complain that Dr. Bowman and "Ben" aren't doing their best to keep Albright's physique in prime condition? Surely we can't deny that our campus has adopted the ancient slogan that is still growing in popularity today—a sound mind in a sound body. But a sotto voce remark from a campus philosopher is in order here, "Yes, the athletic instructor can help to make sound bodies, but it's up to each student himself to work for a sound mind". The Parrot says, turn that over in your head a moment.

The real racquet experts, however, aren't giving much encouragement to the indoor tennis project, but are daily watching the outdoor courts. Every few hours someone brings a report. The latest is that the ground is cracking, which means that moisture is disappearing, and there'll be games immediately after Easter. Miss Bertolet is responsible for this opinion, and she ought to know what she is talking about, so Parrot has passed it on to you.

And yes, there has happened at Albright lately a most unusual event, which is that the Deiberts, mother and daughter, have come from Panama to live with us for a while. It seems rather strange in Mohn Hall, that a girl's mother should be living there with her, but it is very pleasant to have these two wanderers from strange land among us. If we are wise, we will learn interesting things from them, for it is not everyone who has lived in Panama. Welcome to you, Mrs. Deibert and "Dot".

And just a word of warning to anyone who will need it. Beware of what you do and say on the campus now, for the dining room sleuths will find it out and razz you about it before everybody. The boys who have shown lately is really astounding. If anyone does anything they think is peculiar, why there is nothing for it but that they must give that person a yell just as they are leaving the dining room. And what's more, if the D-R sleuths don't get you, the Sophomores will, they'll get you out in front of Main Building and make you pray for rain, that's what. The Parrot just wants to say, don't anybody think you can get away with anything around Albright now. You simply can't do it.

Au revoir till after Easter, folks. And when you go home, take advantage of the season and eat enough fried eggs to last you until June. You won't get anymore around here, you know, if you don't get up for breakfast of a Sunday morning. So happy Easter to you.

Eccentrix

The dope of Albright's baseball squad:

Captain Yost prefers to eat at training tables; would rather play clock golf than baseball.
Leinbach, the pride of the Womelsdorf's checker squad, does not care for any more girls for he has none.
Kengle, McKeesport's aristocrat, would rather dance on banana peels than slide into second.

Hartzell believes in hunting, with two arms, the "deer" in Cumberland valley; hasn't had an error this season so far. (First game after Easter).

Gasull prefers "Grace" at the table; believes in getting hit when you can't get out of the way of 'em in time. Angle, "U. S. A." or "Flash", loves to eat at a table when the rest are not feeling well.

Smith, three-letter man anywhere, argues that long drives hit into the next diamond are safe hits.

Griggs would rather attend the nichelette, in Myerstown then take in a good show at the Hippodrome, New York; believes in holding on to Johnny Smith's coat tail while going thru the crowded streets of New York, in order to insure his safe return.

Raffy prefers to sing to flies rather than catch them.

Holvey, only man ambidexterous ball player in school, had feature in early training which results in two sore arms in place of one.

Hollenbaugh, bad arm, too many sneaks; too many trips to Ephrata.

: Who's Who At Albright :

GRACE KLEINGINNA

She is a sweet little girl with an every-ready smile, a friendly disposition, and a charming voice which is shared with the students in society meetings. Grace is also a member of the Girls' Glee Club, where her voice is used to advantage.

There is one talent Grace possesses that has brought pleasant times to many Mohn Hall girls. They will testify to the fact that she makes a delightful hostess, and entertains callers at her home charmingly. She is also a splendid cook, and many a hungry Mohn Hallite came away from Grace's home with a deep appreciation of her command of that domestic art. We predict that she will make a fine homemaker some day, for she surely has gained an excellent knowledge of the fundamentals.

DONALD McFALL

This young man hails from Bangor. Happy-go-lucky, fun-loving, talkative—that's "Mac" all over. A real good sport, too, he is; always ready to bear his share of the work in whatever school activity needs it, "Mac" is always there to boost, and he can do it in a way that helps the cause along. He showed his faithfulness to his Alma Mater by going out for football and baseball, while his musical talent was manifested in the former College band and in church. That's "good stuff", Mac, and we like you for it.

McFall is also a member of the famous "Fourth Floor Five", where he spends most of his time. We hear that the rest of it is spent in the enjoyment of a certain day-student's company. Certainly, in this, gossip seems to have pointed right.

PADDLE TENNIS IS INTRODUCED AT ALBRIGHT

The Physical Education Department has installed in the gymnasium a new game which has been adopted by many schools for the purpose of affording good indoor recreation during the spring months. The game is known as paddle tennis and is played under the same rules as outdoor tennis. It is open for the use of all students and already has gained considerable popularity especially with the Co-eds.

DEATH OF ALLAN BRECHT FORMER STUDENT

Allan Brecht ex-'27, aged nineteen years and son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brecht of this place died at his home on Thursday, March 12 after a short illness. Due to ill health Mr. Brecht was unable to resume his studies last fall. Having improved in health since then he had planned to return next fall. He was a popular young man and was employed for some time at the Taste

At the left of this group is Lieut. J. A. Macready, U. S. A., former holder of the world's altitude record. Just behind the propeller you can see the G-E turbine supercharger which kept the Liberty motor running in the thin air, six miles high.

Over the mountain by a mile

Year after year, plucky explorers try to climb Mount Everest, the world's highest peak, 29,141 feet high.

With a G-E supercharger feeding air at sea-level pressure to the engine, an airplane can go far higher. Lieut. Macready has reached 34,509 feet over Dayton, Ohio. He would have soared over Mount Everest with more than a mile to spare!

This supercharger is a turbine air compressor, which revolves as fast as 41,000 times a minute—the highest speed ever developed by a commercial machine. It is designed and made by the General Electric Company, which also builds the big turbines that supply electric light and power.

If you are interested in learning more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

The tasks attempted for centuries in almost every form of human endeavor have been conquered with the aid of electricity, with more than a mile to spare.

The impossible today will be accomplished by men and women now in college. The scientist and engineer are doing their share. It remains for men and women entering upon their life's work to profit by the new opportunities that are constantly appearing in every profession and vocation in the land.

Since I have left the U. S. I have seen no living being except what is on our own ship. I saw two ships at a distance, but they were too far away to see anyone. Oh, I forgot about the two sea gulls that follow the ship. Just now the Indian missionary and the Persian boy are talking in their Hindustan language. Practically all the crew on the ship aside from the officers are Indians. One would think they would freeze for they are so poorly clad. I wish you could see them, they eat on our deck. It seems they have no special time to eat. At any time of the day one can see several of them squatting in a circle. In the center is a dish of rice and a dipper of curry. The curry is poured over the rice and then there is one grand rush when all around begin to stir the food with their fingers and with the same tool they take the food to their mouths. The men that cook the food have only pieces of cloth wrapped around their bodies. Their limbs are perfectly bare. Most of the deck crew are barefooted all the time.

We sailed 269 mi. to-day. We are now 898 mi. from the Azores, 1711 mi. from Gibraltar, 3621 mi. from Port Said, our first stop. We have had fairly easy sailing and no stop since our river pilot left us. We have rain almost every day and sometimes we wonder why there should be rain on the ocean instead of the Sahara Desert. We average only about 263 mi. a day. Now since we had no automobile accident to-day, and since the traffic cop has not held us up at any time, and since the public park is closed for the winter I

OUR FACULTY

JONATHAN LEWIS FLUCK

Dr. Fluck has an imposing number of degrees attached to his name: A.B., A.M., B.D., and a D.D. from Ursinus College. Although pastor of the local Reformed church, he finds time to teach Psychology, Ethics, and Economics at the College, a position which he fills admirably.

The students usually enjoy the classes in the social sciences immensely, for there is always humor there, spirited arguments, jokes and discussion to keep the mind of the student interested and alert for the lesson. When there is any undue amount of hilarity proceeding from that classroom, it is safe to bet that someone has pulled a "wise-crack" in the course of the discussion, and has done his bit toward the general class interest. Dr. Fluck is a teacher who arouses interest, so it is no wonder that his classes are so interesting.

have no more news to give you, so I bid you good-night.

Sunday, Nov. 23, 1924

We had church services in our Music Room to-day. We had the first class passengers come to our house as we have more room. Besides church services there was nothing of special interest except a short concert we had this evening when the missionaries related some thrilling experiences through which they had passed.

ed in the field. Another 270 mi. is passed over.

Mon., Nov. 24, 1924

This was blue Monday. But we folks decided that we would not have a blue Monday so we did not go out for a good time last night. Nothing exciting has happened. We received news that Mrs. Harding died, but none of us want to go to the funeral. I am trying to imagine you folks busy at your duties at this present moment. We are almost ready for bed while you folks are still toiling in the heat of the day. I had duck for dinner to-night. Can you beat that on land.

Take A Weekly Trip Home—Over The Telephone

"It's Jim . . . Telephoning from College!"

Jim hasn't a motor-car. Jim hasn't a Phi Beta Kappa key. He isn't what you would call a Social Lion. Neither is he a star athlete.

Yet, if you were to ask the first man you met on the Campus . . . who is the best-liked man at college . . . he would, in all probability, mention Jim's name!

Because Jim has a reputation for being a good-fellow . . . one of those jolly, hearty, kind-hearted chaps who figure that the other fellow's feelings come first.

That this reputation is well founded, is proved by the fact that every week of his College Life (and he is a Senior now) he telephoned his Mother and his Dad. A worthy habit . . . a mighty worthy habit.

If you only knew how much your Mother and Dad would enjoy a weekly telephone chat with you, if you only knew how much you would enjoy these little chats yourself . . . you would certainly emulate the example of the well-liked Jim!

This little folder has been distributed on the campus. It tells you how low the rates really are.

If your home town is not included in the list, see the front pages of the telephone directory.

The Long Distance Operator will give you rates not shown there
