

Albright To Present Thorp, Heck With LL.D. Degrees

Albright College will award honorary Doctor of Laws degrees to Dr. J. Arthur Heck and Dr. Willard L. Thorp at the 91st annual commencement exercises on Monday, June 5.

Doctor Thorp is Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs. He is scheduled to deliver the commencement address. Doctor Heck is President and Professor of Systematic Theology of the Evangelical School of Theology.

A graduate of Reading High School, Doctor Heck received the A.B. degree from Albright College in 1916 and the A.M. in 1919. In 1927 he received the degree of Doctor of Theology from Drew Theological Seminary.

Doctor Heck was licensed to preach by the East Pennsylvania Conference of the former United Evangelical Church in 1911. He held pastorates in Richland, Womelsdorf and Pine Grove, Pa. From 1920-1924 he was Professor of English Bible at Albright College in Myerstown and pastor of the college church.

Following his services to Albright in Myerstown, Doctor Heck was appointed Professor of Systematic Theology and Old Testament at the Evangelical School of Theology, a post which he held until 1934. In that year he was named General Secretary of Christian Education of the former Evangelical Church, with headquarters in Cleveland. Doctor Heck has been president of the Seminary since 1941.

Holds Many Positions

Doctor Heck has held numerous positions of leadership in denominational and interdenominational organizations and his local church and community.

Among those which he holds at present are the following: Secretary of the General Commission on Ministerial Training of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the East Pennsylvania Conference (Ev), a trustee and treasurer of Christ E.U.B. Church, Reading; member of the Commission on the Ministry of the Federal Council of Churches, and member of the Commission on Educational Program of the International Council of Religious Education.

Organized Council

Doctor Heck organized the Greater Reading Council of Churches in 1947 and served as its president from 1947-1949. He is a charter member of the Albright College Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, and a member of the American Theological Society. He has contributed numerous articles to denominational literature.

William A. Heck, Doctor Heck's son, is a sophomore at Albright College. A daughter, Marian, graduated from Albright in 1938.

14 Organizations Will Participate In Mardi Gras

Mardi Gras, to be held on Friday, May 19, will feature a new idea this year. A hospitality committee, composed of sorority and fraternity members, has been formulated to take care of unescorted mothers, fathers and young people who attend the event. A booth and benches will be set up near the Chapel for this purpose.

Approximately 14 organizations will participate this year and will manage 20 stands. The midway will begin at the Chapel steps and run to the entrance covering about 300 feet. A spring theme will be carried out.

There will be dancing from 10:11-30 p.m. behind Selwyn Hall. The Celebrities will furnish the music.

An important meeting of organization representatives will be held Monday, May 15, at 4 o'clock in room 103.

Faculty members have been sent invitations to participate in the Parents' Weekend festivities. All students who wish to have corsages for their parents should contact the treasurer's office. The price is fifteen cents. Boarding students should get their meal tickets for the weekend at the treasurer's office before May 17.

Albrightian Given 'Excellent' Rating

For the second time in its history, The Albrightian has won a first class rating of "excellent" in the survey for college newspapers conducted by the Associated College Press. This award was given for the issues published in the first semester, 1949-50, at which time Robert Hoffman was editor-in-chief.

Approximately 384 college and university newspapers were studied by the judging committee. Items considered in the judging were news values and sources; news writing and editing; headlines; typography and make-up; and sports and feature pages and special features. The Albrightian received a rating of "excellent" or "very good" in all the classes except in second page make-up which received a rating of "good."

C. E. Hinshaw Urges Birth of New Civilization Through Faith In God

Approximately 75 students and faculty members attended the annual spring Y Retreat at Bynden Wood last Saturday and Sunday. Highlighting the weekend were four lectures by Cecil E. Hinshaw on the theme, "What Things Matter Most."

In summarizing his messages, Hinshaw said that man is at a period in history when the choice must be made between being truly Christian and perishing. "The practice of what Jesus taught is a real possibility for all," he said, "but it is not easy."

Hinshaw said that mankind stands today between a civilization which is dead and a new civilization which is waiting to be born. This new birth of civilization can come, he emphasized, if people have faith in God, in man and themselves.

Speaking first on "The Choice Is Ours," Hinshaw stressed the need for making decisions in harmony with the dictates of conscience. In his talk on "The Price of Peace," he presented his plan of non-violent methods of attack. His other lectures were "The Birth of a New Civilization" and "The Call of God." Hinshaw said that the practical method of putting beliefs into effect is to unite in small groups with others of like ideals.

Four discussion groups met following the seminars. Faculty leaders were Prof. Ellery B. Haskell, Prof. Clyde Harding, Prof. Lewis Smith and Miss Ann Benninger. The student leaders were Jay Shenk, Joanne Schenkemeyer, Hazel Moerder and Elmer Good.

Jane Reynolds and Leonard Buxton were in charge of the worship services. Dave Fulmer planned the Sunday morning Communion service. Registration was directed by Francis Carney and recreation was in charge of Jerry Pedota. Kathleen Guenther and Norman Snook were co-chairmen of the retreat.

Original skits were presented Saturday night.

Plans Formulated For Alumni Day

Registration for the annual Alumni Day to be held on Saturday, June 3, will begin at 9 o'clock in Union Hall, announced Lester L. Stabler, director of public relations. The annual business meeting will be held at 10:45 a. m. in the College Chapel. A buffet luncheon following this will be served from 12:15 to 1:15 p. m. in Union Hall.

The afternoon program will include a baseball game between Albright and St. Joseph's College at 1:30 p. m. at home. At the Alumni Tea to be held at 3:30 p. m. in Union Hall the classes ending in the numbers 5 and 0 will hold reunions. The annual alumni banquet is scheduled for 6 o'clock in the Dining Hall. Dr. Dale H. Gramley, President of Salem Academy and College, will be the main speaker. All the classes meeting in reunion are to sit together.

The Honorary Alumnae Sorority, Phi Delta Sigma, will hold a meeting at 10 o'clock in the Wyomissing Club. An induction ceremony is posted to follow at 11:30 a. m. and the annual luncheon of the sorority will be held in the Wyomissing Club at 1:15 p. m.

Wide Open Campus

(One of the secrets of the success of any campus activity is the enthusiasm of its participants. The Mardi Gras festival, officially opening the annual Parents' Weekend celebration at Albright College, is no exception. Below is printed what we hope will be that needed shot of enthusiasm for everyone concerned, direct from the Publicity Chairman of the gala affair. Ed.)

The word is rapidly spreading, Albright's campus will be wide open. Faculty members are dancing on the green, and numerous other equally surprising events are to take place on campus. No need for the vice-squad, however, because it's all part of Mardi Gras, Friday night, May 19. Now this famous Celebration of Paris and New Orleans has found its way to our campus, and the originality of the event is only limited by the creativeness of the participating organizations.

Innovations this year will include a larger midway, a more colorful setting, and a dance under the stars. It is hoped that an attendance of parents and friends, even greater than that of other years, will be drawn from the Reading-Berks County area, as well as from more distant sections in response to an intense publicity program to be dispatched through the city and college newspapers, and over our local radio stations.

SUPPORT URGED

The campus will truly be wide open—because everyone old enough to walk across the campus and young enough to enjoy the color and atmosphere of the campus on Mardi Gras night is invited and urged to attend. People are the most colorful part of such an affair, so the Mardi Gras committee is counting on a tremendous attendance. Dancing on the green under the stars to the music of the Celebrities will bring a note of spring-time to the most arthritic soul within hearing distance. Exhibitors with a reputation like the Mus, the Pats, the Zetas, APO's, the Kappas, K.T.X., the freshman class, dorm girls, Spanish Club, German Club, Day Women, Heo Club, Women's Senate and the Vet's Wives promise to make Mardi Gras an unforgettable and all-around pleasant evening of fun. Richard Chambers, the Mardi Gras chairman, is planning for YOU. His committee, too, is there to serve the organizations participating, and to co-ordinate their efforts for the maximum enjoyment of all attending the event. Food, flowers, and entertainment will be plentiful, so why not be there to enjoy it. This is your celebration. Let's start the ball rolling and help us make this year's Mardi Gras the greatest one in the history of Albright College, and a fitting opening to the gala festivities of Parents' Weekend. How about all of us planning to attend the Mardi Gras and enjoying the change from the solemn academic air of scholarship to one of fun and hilarity on a "WIDE OPEN CAMPUS."

W. W. H.

That girl with the honey-blond hair, hazel eyes, and the winning smile, none other than our own Beverly Morgan, is this week's Dandy. Bev claims Plymouth, Pa., as her home, and—sorry, fellows, but we can't give you her phone number. Since her Albrightian days began, Bob has been the chief contender for her companionship.

Bev really adopted the spirit of the campus since her frosh days and has many accomplishments to her credit. Her Home Ec foods major enabled her to join the Heo Club, and she still speaks reverently of the weeks spent in Sherman Cottage. Claimed by the Pat Sorority when a freshman, she has been a staunch member, proving herself a capable wielder of the presidential gavel of this group during the past year. Besides being a pert class secretary for four years, she has also blended her lush soprano voice with the Mixed Chorus and the Women's Glee Club. And do you seniors remember when she sang romantic ballads with the "Celebrities"?

When not engrossed with her studies, she may be found in the "rathskeller" of the SUB drinking coffee almost as fast as they make it. Bev tells us she loves dancing, orchids, Frank Sinatra records ("no matter what anybody says"); and the current canasta rage hasn't passed her by either. Lately, however, she's been privileged to have an unlimited number of "twelves" due to last semester's "A" average. But we'll wager that the above activities haven't been too neglected.

And roll the drums, for May Day will find Bev on the queen's throne, an honor bestowed upon her by her fellow students. We're all looking forward to the big day, Bev.

With an eye on a career in the commercial field of Home Ec, Bev, we know, will attain the same success in the business world as she has at Albright. Best of luck, Bev, for you deserve it.

Counterfeiter Caught

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Charles Gordon, Albright treasurer, solved a problem which has been baffling government agents and Reading police for two months. Mr. Gordon apprehended the counterfeiter responsible for the bogus ten dollar bills which have been turning up in Reading and vicinity. The counterfeiter is Horace Gotbucks, an Albrightian living in Freshman House North. (We blush to admit it.)

Horace Gotbucks had attempted to pay his tuition installment with counterfeit bills, but Mr. Gordon, our alert treasurer, spotted the bills and detained Gotbucks until the police could be called.

Under questioning Horace told all. Investigating officers found in the basement of Freshman House North two gallons of green ink and an old fashioned quill pen with which Gotbucks had painstakingly etched the phony bills. In view of this overwhelming evidence, Horace faces a possible sentence of thirty days or ten lashes with a wet noodle.

The Albrightian, hoping to find a human interest story, sent a reporter to interview Horace Gotbucks, an Albrightian gone wrong. The reporter found Horace in the cell block of the local courthouse comfortably lying on his bunk. (Horace said his present living quarters compare favorably with his former ones.) Gotbucks blamed economic conditions for his misspent life.

"When I first came to Albright," Horace said, "I was honest but a little short of money. I thought that by careful budgeting I would be able to meet all expenses. The first blow came when the coffee shop started charging seven cents instead of a nickel for a cup of coffee. I had to sell my convertible. This wasn't enough. I started renting out my sport coats and was just making ends meet when tragedy struck—the administration increased the tuition by $25. I had to turn to crime."

"At first, I only pilfered the candy machines in the basement of the Ad Building, but those nickels and pennies were too awkward to carry around. I had to think of something else. I remembered that in Biology class I was noted for my diagrams of cells and plants and decided to put this drawing ability to a practical use."

"If it hadn't been for one mistake, I'd still be getting away with it, too. The light wasn't too good in the cellar where I etched the bills, and instead of putting Hamilton's face on the bill, I drew the picture of my biology prof."

Our reporter asked Horace if there was anything he could do for him. "Yes, there is," Horace said. "Last month I signed one of those $50 pledges to the building fund." He took out his wallet and handed our reporter $50. (In ten dollar bills.) "Will you give this to the committee? I wouldn't want to let Albright down."

Hell Week Ends

Tramp, tramp, tramp the boys are marching. Now that Hell Week is past, ex-pledges can look back at forced marches and laugh, but at the time it was anything but funny. Those pieces of paper can be awfully hard to find by moonlight. A topographical map may see class Mt. Penn as an old worn down mountain, but in the wee hours of the morning when your legs are about ready to drop off, it seems like Pike's Peak. And that beautiful, scenic skyline drive, too. When you're in a car it seems almost level, but on foot you notice that it's more like a roller coaster.

Students will have to start wearing watches again. The young man in the classy burlap outfit with the stovepipe on his head no longer shouts the time from his perch between the Ad Building and the Library. This was a real public service that should be continued.

The other gents in burlap who graced the trees on campus last week are reported to have had some trouble with a curious squirrel. What was the matter with that squirrel? Didn't he recognize an owl when he saw one? Most people thought the Kappa pledges sounded very realistic. Whoo! Whoo! Whoo!

According to college policy, Sylvan Lake is reserved for the fish and algae. Unless pledges class pledgemasters as some form of alga, there will be a minimum of dunking this year. The Pi Tau pledges did make good use of Sylvan Lake, though. Bucket by bucket, they almost emptied it. In spite of the rather doubtful contents of that water, the cars did look cleaner.

All pledges thank professors who postponed tests during Hell Week and call down fire and brimstone upon the heads of those who gave tests. It's all over now for another year. Pledges can put away their shoe shine kits and paddles and go to Chapel only once a week. Peace returns to Albright.

Sex and Scholarship

Great things are happening in the world of education. First science discovers you can learn while you sleep and now something which is bound to make all student's eyes light up.

Contrary to the opinion of most people, dating doesn't lower a student's marks but raises them. Dr. Lowrie discovered that the students who have the most dates generally have the highest marks. He says that dating "releases a youngster's mind from the cramped confines of shyness and self-doubt that have kept it from ranging abroad in new interests." (We'll overlook being called youngsters.)

If you're an only child or the youngest child in the family, though, you needn't try this painless way of raising your grades. It just won't work. Dr. Lowrie says you're probably so self-centered that dating wouldn't set your mind "ranging abroad in new interests."

This system has great possibilities. It could revolutionize student life. Instead of psychological clinics, there'd be dating clinics. College newspapers would devote a full page to dating tips and advice to the lovelorn. The college libraries would suffer a drop in business, but the local luncheonettes (at least those selling nickel cokes) would be deluged by couples earnestly trying to make the Dean's List.

Here at Albright the situation would be pretty tough for the males, though. There just ain't enough girls to go around. Does that mean that Albright's academic average is going to remain at the "C plus" level? Maybe some money in the treasury could be used for scholarships for girls. All in the interest of learning, of course.

With educational theories like this being developed, it seems as if we were all born 25 years too soon. College should be a wonderful experience in 1975.

On Wednesday, May 3, the meal planning class began a series of meals which is being run for a period of two weeks. The girls are given a budget and they have to abide by it very strictly. Our home ecers have to buy the food, prepare it and serve it. The lucky guests at these meals are members of the sophomore nutrition class, but all is not that easy. The girls have to check the market lists and evaluate the meals.

Mrs. Anna Smith represented Albright College at the workshop on higher education sponsored by the Home Economics Association held at the Hotel Statler, New York City. The appraisal of departmental teaching was the topic of the workshop.

Arts and crafts classes are putting out some very attractive projects which were commented on by the high school guests who visited the home economics laboratories. Some of these eye catching works are burnt cork placemats, scrapbook covers, linoleum blocks, hemstitched tablecloths, needlepoint and painted glasses and teacups.

On April 24, Mrs. Thomas of the Metropolitan Edison Company of Reading demonstrated the latest equipment for kitchens.

TOSSERS OUT TO RECOVER WIN STRIDE

Golfmen Post Four Wins, Two Losses

Cop Last 3 Matches; Face F&M Tomorrow

Coach Paul Matten's Lion golfmen have posted a four win, two loss record in their matches thus far and are scheduled to face the Franklin and Marshall linksmen in a match at Lancaster tomorrow. In their last three matches the golfmen have posted a perfect record in defeating Bucknell, Dickinson, and Ursinus.

A 5-4 victory was the result of last Tuesday's meet with Bucknell on the Berkshire Country Club greens. Earl Langford was low for the match with a 76 and was seconded by Joel Gilbert's 79. Langford with a 72 and Ken Dougherty with a 78 lead the Cats in their 3-2 conquest of Dickinson College at Carlisle last Monday.

The Albright golfers were led by Earl Langford's 76 in their 7-2 victory over Ursinus at the Jeffersonville Golf Club, Norristown, on Friday, May 5. At the Berkshire Country Club the previous Thursday Langford tallied a similar score but was overshadowed by Ray Karody's par 72. The Lions were defeated in this match, 5 1/2-3 1/2.

The Cat golfers also lost to the "Big City" La Salle team by a score of 5-2 on Thursday, May 2. In their opener on Wednesday, April 26, Coach Matten's golfmen got off to a good start with an 8-1 victory over Scranton on the local Reading Country Club greens.

Bloom's Courtmen Win Three Straight To Better Record

Coach Leo Bloom's tennisers have racked up three wins in as many starts in recent matches to boast a 7-3 record thus far this season. In coming battles they are scheduled to face Ursinus, away, tomorrow afternoon; Moravian, away, next Tuesday, May 16; and Drexel, away, next Wednesday, May 17.

Last Friday afternoon at Selinsgrove the Lion netmen shut out Susquehanna University, 9-0, in spite of the efforts of the hosts' Barbara Staggs—the only feminine member of an otherwise all-male college tennis squad and the granddaughter of Amos Alonzo Staggs, noted football coach. She was defeated in singles competition by Paul Siegfried, the Cats' number four player.

A 4-2 singles advantage gave the local collegians their winning margin in a 5-4 conquest of Elizabethtown on Thursday, April 27, on the foreign courts. Jim Mengel, Paul Kissingner, Siegfried, and Don Er mold provided the singles victories while the Ruoff-Kissingner doubles combine garnered the only victory in that portion of the match.

On Wednesday, April 26, the Cat netmen copped nine games in straight sets from the Muhlenberg Mules to shut them out, 9-0, in a match played at Schlegel Park.

Intramural Meet To Be Held May 18

The annual intra-mural track meet will be held Thursday, May 18, at 4:15 p. m. in the Albright stadium. All non-varsity trackmen are eligible to compete in this meet in which all event winners will be awarded a medal. All entries are to be turned in to the physical education office with one person being limited to two events. There must be at least six persons entered in an event to have it take place.

The events which will be included in the meet are: 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard run, half mile run, shot put, discus, and broad jump. The high jump will start at 4 feet, 6 inches and will move at three inch intervals until five feet when it will only advance by one inch.

Shirk Admires Four Track Stalwarts

Cindermen Cop Fifth Win Upsetting Diplomats, 73-53

Harnly Heaves Javelin a Record 204 Feet; Shirk Sends Ten Delegates to MAS Meet

The 38th annual Middle Atlantic Track and Field Association Championships today and tomorrow, May 12 and 13, at the University of Delaware are next on the agenda for Albright's cindermen who have racked up a commendable 5-1 record in dual meets thus far in addition to participating in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia. Next Wednesday, May 17, the Lion cindermen will face Ursinus in a dual meet in the Albright stadium.

A decisive 73-53 victory for the Lion thinclads was the result of their meet with Franklin and Marshall last Tuesday afternoon on the Dips' home grounds. Gerry Potts did his dual part in the discus and shot put competition as did lanky Lee Cappel in the two hurdle events. The only other cinder victory for Albright was Howie Brenner's win in the 100 yard dash. Co-captain Ed Anlian did his bit in the 440 and 880 yard dashes with a second place in the former and a third in the latter.

In the field co-captain Al Harnly copped the spear event with the colossal toss of 204 feet, eleven inches, the best of his intercollegiate career. Brenner nabbed his second first in the broad jump while Pete Alberts lead in the pole vault. A severely sprained ankle entailed by Brenner in his second jump attempt may hamper his services in the MASTF meet.

Ten Albright trackmen will represent the Red and White in the 38th annual Middle Atlantic Track and Field Association Championships to be held today and tomorrow on the University of Delaware's Frazer Field. A record field of 22 colleges and universities is expected to enter the meet. Defending champion of the MASTF meet is St. Joseph's College of Philadelphia, again the biggest threat this year; while La Salle, Lafayette, and Alfred College are expected to offer stiff competition.

Al Harnly, defending javelin champ and record holder in that event, will head the Albright contingent to the tourney. Lee Cappel, who placed fifth in the javelin event last year, will participate in that event plus the high and low hurdles. Jack Snook will also do his bit in the two latter events.

Anlian in Two Events

Howie Brenner, a sixth place holder in last year's broad jump finals, will enter this competition in addition to the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Co-captain Ed Anlian will be in the quarter and half mile events while other runners for the Cats will be Charlie Zellner and Dave Fulmer in the mile and two mile runs; Kenny Kohl in the 100 and 220 yard dashes (plus the discus); and Dave Roland in the low hurdle and 440 yard run. Gerry Potts will enter the pure field events of shot put and discus.

Co-captain Harnly starred as usual in Albright's return to the win column with a 99-27 victory over Drexel Institutes' trackmen in the Albright stadium last Saturday afternoon. He took a clear first place in the javelin event, tied with teammates Paul James and Rod Shippe in the high jump, and tied with Elwood Alberts in the pole vault.

Zellner, Cappel, and Potts also posted double wins. The first romped to victory in the mile and two mile runs, the second broke the tape in the two hurdle events, and the third copped the shot put and javelin events. Other Albright firsts were by Bruce Tenley in the 220 yard dash and Brenner in the broad jump. Drexel monopolized the track division of the meet with three firsts, two seconds, and five thirds for a total of 26 points.

A first place in the final broad jump event enabled the Dickinson Red Devils to nose out the Lion cindermen, 64-62, in the meet at Carlisle on Tuesday, May 2. Jack Overhalt's clear victory in this last event of the day turned the tide against the Cats for their first loss of the season.

The only Albright victories in track events were Anlian's in the 880 yard run and Zellner's in the two mile. The Lions captured all of the field events except for the fateful broad jump and the high jump in which two Dickinson men were tied with Rod Shippe for first place. The event winners were Potts in the discus and shot put, Alberts in the pole vault, and Harnly in the javelin.

Harnly Places N'ch

A rain soaked field proved to be Harnly's undoing in the javelin event at the Annual Penn Relays in Philadelphia on Saturday, April 9. His toss of 194 feet, 4 1/4 inches garnered him only fifth place in the event in which he placed second last year. Defending champion Bob Kirk nabbed first place again with a heave of 200 feet, eight inches, a mark which Harnly has bettered in MASC and MAUA competition.

None of the other Albright entrants were able to qualify in their respective events and the mile relay entry, outclassed in its heat, finished last. The Lion entrants and their events were: Potts, discus; Brenner, broad jump; Cappel, javelin; and Tenley, Ed Oberly, Dave Roland, and Anlian in the mile relay.

Another new record for Harnly was the result of Albright's 76-50 win over PMC on Wednesday, April 26. His heave of 199 feet, ten inches set a new record for the PMC track. The other outstanding result of this cinder gathering was Zellner's double win in the mile and two mile events.

Drop Contests to Ursinus, Wagner; Seek Wins Against Susquehanna, Greyhounds

Lions Sport 7-4 Record After Absorbing 15-7, 14-2 Drubbings by Bears, Seahawks

Albright's diamondmen have hit tough sledding in their recent games which they dropped to Ursinus on Monday by a score of 15-7, and to Wagner last Saturday by a score of 14-2. However, these losses were overshadowed by the four previous victories over Elizabethtown, Moravian and Lebanon Valley. In coming games the Cats are scheduled to face Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove tomorrow afternoon and Moravian at home next Tuesday. The Lions boasted a seven win, four loss record last Monday.

Zetas Take Lead In I-M Baseball

Notch Five Victories; APO's in Second

Boasting a record of five wins and one tie in intramural baseball competition up to last Monday, Zeta Omega Epsilon Fraternity has taken the lead in league standings with only postponed games remaining to be played. Close behind the Zetas are the Alpha Pi Omega tossers sporting a mark of four wins in six starts.

In pushing to the fore, the Zetas tripped the Daymen, 8-5 and 7-6, won two on forfeits from the KTX and Pi Taus, and clipped the Kappas, 15-5. An earlier encounter in the first half play with the Kappas resulted in a 5-5 deadlock called after seven innings because of darkness.

The APO's moved into the second slot by virtue of victories over the Kappas, 17-14, KTX, 10-5 and 20-7, Pi Taus, 7-0 by forfeit, and losses to the Daymen, 9-4, and in a return game against the Kappas, 11-10.

Lionesses Winless In Tennis, Baseball

The Albright Lionesses' baseball and tennis squads have been wholly unsuccessful in their spring sports season thus far with each of the squads losing two out of two scheduled games. The diamond lassies will face Temple in their finale tomorrow on the home field at 10:30 a. m.

A 16-8 loss to Drexel was the outcome of the femme nine's first game of the season on Friday, April 28, on the home diamond. Nancy Buers was the winning pitcher while Nancy Stump, Nancy Leymeister, and Nancy Young attempted to stem the tide on the part of the losers.

On Friday, May 5, the Lionesses sustained their second defeat at the hands of Ursinus on the foreign field by a score of 17-4. Spencer was the winning tosser while Stump again served duty for the Albright femmes.

Tennis results were even more pathetic with both matches resulting in shut outs for Mosser's courtsters. The two matches were with Temple at home on Monday, May 8, and with Ursinus at Collegeville the following day. The netwomen representing the Red and White Coached by Bob Bastress, Susquehanna University's diamond squad tallied a four win, seven loss record last year, the Lions not appearing on their schedule. Starting lineup for tomorrow's game will, with the exception of the pitcher, probably be Chet Rowe on third base, Ken Orris on second, Ed Wollaston at shortstop, Ed Menapace on first base, Don Wissingner in left field, Gene Fenstermacher in center field, Don Berninger in right field, and Al Martin in the catcher's slot.

Pitcher Ed Kline lead his Bear team to their 15-7 conquest of the Cats last Monday afternoon. His grand slam homer in the fifth stanza contributed to a big, five-run inning. The Bears also scored two in the first, five in the second, one in the third, and two in the eighth to rack up their total of 15 runs.

George Baumgartel served mound duty for seven innings after which he was succeeded by Wilson Serfass. The Lions scored two each of their runs in the second and fourth innings and a futile three more in the ninth.

Sixteen hits from the Lions' pitchers Paul Muller and Floyd Rightmire proved the deciding margin in the Wagner Seahawks' 14-2 conquest of the Albright squad on the home diamond last Saturday afternoon. Three runs on four hits in the first inning opened the game in typical form for the visiting Wagnerians. They followed this early barrage up with two in the fourth, five in the sixth, and two each in the eighth and ninth innings.

Millard Opens Hitting

Albright scored its two runs in the first and seventh innings. Russ Millard opened the first stanza hitting for the Cats with a three-bagger and was brought home by a timely double by Hook Martone. In the seventh Millard again started things off with a walk after two men had already gone down. A wild pitch nipping Martone moved him to first and Millard to second from where he scored on "Big Jim" Fro-muth's double. Johnny Santo's fly out to right ended the Lions' action for the day.

Six runs in the first two innings set Albright's ball rolling in their 7-3 win over Elizabethtown in the home fracas with the E-towners on Friday, May 5. The Cats also scored an insurance run in the eighth, while the visitors notched their tallies in the fourth and ninth stanzas. In the two opponents' first battle on April 27, pitcher Martone proved the whole show for the eventual Albright victors as he slammed a two run homer in the first inning and drove in Russ Millard in the ninth with his third hit to enable his squad to eke out a 4-3 victory.

The Moravian Greyhounds will be seeking revenge next Tuesday afternoon for the 6-3 defeat which the Cats inflicted on them at Bethlehem on Saturday, April 29. Albright snapped out of a 2-0 cellar position in the third frame when they nabbed all six of their winning runs.

An 8-4 victory for the Lions was the result of their meeting with Lebanon Valley on Friday, April 28. One run in the opening stanza, five in the third, and two more in the sixth proved to be the margin for winning pitcher Paul Muller.

are: Jean Magee, Joan Betty Peck, and Jane Pollack in singles; and the combines of Marge Sternberg-Pat Miller, and Eleanor Spring-Anona Serfass in doubles.
