St. Patrick's Day Reception For President, Faculty, And 'Y'
Cabinets in Mohn Hall

DR. TEEL TALKS

The St. Patrick's Day Party, sponsored by the combined "Y's" was held in the Mohn Hall reception room, Monday night. This reception was given in honor of the Faculty and "Y" cabinets of Albright College, Reading. The object was to foster a friendly spirit of cooperation between these two organizations of Myerstown, and Reading, and thus pave the way for a successful combination of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.'s at Reading, next year.

The elaborate decorations, which carried out perfectly the St. Patrick theme, were beautifully arranged, and showed the result of much efficient planning and work on the part of the decorators.

The party began at 8 o'clock, after the Faculty and "Y" Cabinet members of Reading had been received by the local Faculty. The following well arranged and interesting program was given:

Address of Welcome—Dean Walton.

Welcome—Carl Gunther, Pres. of Y. M. C. A.

Vocal Solo—"My Love Is Like A Tear"—Miss Strasser.

Address—Pres. Teel.

Address—Dr. Gobbie.

Reading—"Little Yocub Strous"—Miss Hill.

Vocal Solo—"Mighty Like A Rose"—Miss Fridinger.

Selection—Girls' Glee Club.

Quartette—"Buddies".

Vocal Solo—"A Little Bit of Heaven"—Eva Laucks.

Selection—Men's Glee Club.

Skit—"Irish Legends."

Throughout the entire program was carried out the thought of uniting for a bigger and better Al-

PROFESSOR DECH LECTURES TO Y. M.

"Defeating God's Plan" Subject Of Discourse On Doing God's Will
In Our Daily Life

Tuesday, March 12, Prof. Dech addressed the Y. M. C. A. in its regular weekly meeting. The subject of his talk was "Defeating God's Plan." He based his remarks on an incident in Israel's history which brought disaster and untold suffering. It was the sending of the spies into Canaan, and the report which they brought back; twelve agreed that it was a wonderful land, but ten said that there were too many obstacles and the remaining two said that if God would favor them, the obstacles would be nothing. Then the Israelites cried for a leader to take them back to Egypt and not go into the Promised Land. By doing this they defeated God's plan for them.

God is Omnipotent only outside of human agencies. Here he was dealing with human agencies. He led them through the Wilderness by a strong hand and now he tells them to possess the land, but they rebelled and wanted to return to Egypt. For this he punishes them by destroying them. The path of the

GIRLS' DEBATING SEASON IS OPENED WITH ELIZABETHTOWN

Divide Dual Meet With E-Town Co-
Eds—Affirmative Team Loses
While Negative Wins

AFFIRMATIVE LOSES

The Girls' Debating season for this year was opened on the local rostrum, Tuesday, March 12th, in a forensic debate between the Albright Affirmative and the Elizabethtown Negative. The debate was on the question: Resolved that the American Jury System Should Be Abolished.

The Albright Affirmative was represented by the following girls, in order of their appearance: LeNora Hendrath, Myrtle Wolf, Norma Michael and Maud Sittler. In the course of their debate they contended that the Jury System should be abolished, and proved the following points:

1. The Jury System has gradually outgrown itself because of its inefficiency.

2. The Jury System is impractical.

3. The Judge is superior to the Jury.

The Negative was upheld by the Elizabethtown girls, who, in order of their appearance were: Frances Hershman, Evelyn Bell, Irene Royer, and Jessie Woodward.

It was the duty of the Negative to uphold the Jury System, and to prove its worth. This was done by the following points:

MEN ARGUERS WIN OVER LEBANON VALLEY

Affirmative Team Takes Decision of Judges 2-1 In Meet On A. C. Rostrum—Fair Attendance

The Albright Affirmative debating team defeated the Lebanon Valley Negative on the local rostrum Thursday, March 14th, by a two to one decision of the judges. Prof. Otto acted as chairman and the judges were Rev. Lockhart, Rev. Peters and Prof. Mitchell.

Members of the affirmative team were Lester Williams, Charles Katzman, and Harold Servey. Negative team included: Wayne Sparrow, Allen Klinger, and Alexander Grant.

The Affirmative in upholding their side of the question presented the following arguments: It has deteriorated and we have outgrown it. It is grossly inefficient because the average person is not qualified as a juror to try facts. Able men are exempted when experts are needed. Jury responsible for delays of court system. This system is expensive and wasteful. The judge is superior to jury as a tryer of facts. The inefficiency of the jury system condemns it. The judge is superior to the jury, because he is trained in law, he is more responsible, and he

SMALL GROUP ENJOYS C. E. DISCUSSION

A meeting of the College Christian Endeavor Society was held last Sunday evening in the College Chapel, despite the fact that only a few were out. The topic for the evening's discussion was "How The Church Helps Us To Live The Christian Life", and the meeting was in charge of Richard McLain.

Five ways in which the church helps us to live a Christian life were discussed. The first of these ways was that the church proclaims the good news about God. The second sub-topic brought out the view that the church helps us to worship God. The third way showed how the church sets the standard of moral

WELL ATTENDED

The Male Glee Club opened its season at Shenandoah on Friday evening, March 15th, by giving a concert in the Bethany Evangelical Church before a fair sized audience.

The boys traveled in the large parlor bus of the Lebanon Auto-bus Co. and had awaiting them, in the dining room of the church, supper prepared by the ladies of the church. The boys did more than usual justice to the wonderful meal and during the concert many of them regretted the amount that they had eaten.

The Club was introduced by Rev. C. T. Arner, pastor of the congregation and proceeded to give a wonderful concert program. Little dif-

DR. C. A. BOWMAN RETURNS FROM EUROPE

Speaks In College Church Telling
Of Various Experiences of Trip

Dr. C. A. Bowman, who has spent the past two months touring various interesting parts of Europe, returned Friday, March 15th. During the course of his travels, Dr. Bowman visited the countries of England, Switzerland, and France, including such cities as London, Geneva, Nice, Paris and Sherburg. Members of the local college church were fortunate in hearing Dr. Bowman give a resume of his trip on Sunday night. In this he related interesting incidents of his two month tour, including a description of the famous Louvre Museum, where he saw the masterpieces of Art, The Angelus, the prow of an ancient Greek vessel and Venus de Milo, which was a prized possession of France. In his impressions of Geneva, he included the seven marvelous bridges, which now span the Rhone River, while in Caesar's time there was but one, thus pointing out

President of Harrisburg's Society Anti-Saloon League Shows Evils Of Pre-Prohibition Days

S. M. SHORT, '12 EXHIBITS PICTURE "LEST WE FORGET"

Thursday evening in the College Chapel, S. M. Short '12, lecturer for prohibition, showed a picture of five reels depicting the situation of the United States before the prohibition amendment was passed.

The picture showed a specific case in a western state, where a weakness for whiskey lasted down thru four generations, and how prohibition finally removed the temptation for drink.

The story of the picture began with a family whose father was a drunkard, his wife died, leaving her children to be scattered into different families. The oldest son is followed through life, his marriage and fall in morals for drink. He lost his job and name, because of this weakness. This man's son lived to be twenty years of age, when, because of open saloons, he was overcome by his hereditary taste for whiskey and finally ended with his becoming a murderer.

Mr. Short explained that the ob-

PROSPECTS PROMISING AS BASEBALL DRILL IS BEGUN BY COACH

Material Looks Good After First Week Of Practice—Many Fresh
Seeking Positions On Nine

As the days grow longer, so the baseball season draws nearer.

Coach Smith has been drilling the boys in the art of handling and fielding the ball, and the use of the bat. One practice game has been played, but no definite line-up was given or are any of the positions filled.

A great deal of new material can be seen on the diamond, and much of it seems to be "fair prospects." Many Freshmen are out to make the "varsity nine" and several of the Juniors and Seniors who have never shown their ability, have shown up, to earn their positions and earn them faithfully.

Coach Smith seems to have great faith in the incoming baseball season, and the material he has to build from. Several of the boys have had previous experience with the college nine, while others have the experience of local teams as their backing.

The mound position is being fought for by the following contenders, "Don" Savidge the "Frosh Flash," Brunner, and Strickler. Each of the twirlers having previous experience. Weiss and Thomas are contending for the receiving end of the battery.

The old material consists of

GIRLS' B. B. TEAM OUTSCORES OPPONENTS

Close Season By Winning "Little Three" Championship—Score 239
To Opponents 228

On account of the cancelling of the game with Slippery Rock, the girls' basketball season closed with the Lebanon Valley game. This is not only the culmination of this season but the end of basketball for Albright College at Myerstown.

Although successful from a sportsmanship standpoint the season was not so flourishing in victories as it promised to be. However the total points rolled up by Albright exceed those scored by her opponents, the sum total for A. C. being 239, and for the opponents 228. Then, too, the Red & White defeated Schuylkill twice, L. V. C. once, and tied once, thus winning the championship of the "Little Three" for the last time.

Many praiseworthy things may be said for the team as well as the individuals who composed it. Seven of the 12 members on the squad are Seniors and have played their last game for their Alma Mater. Of these "Dechie," "Roy J" and "Ditty" have been regulars on the court for four years. Dechie, a

DEAN EILLS SUFFERS NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Mrs. C. D. Eills, Dean of Women, was taken to the Lebanon Sanatorium, Tuesday, after an illness of several days. At present she is steadily improving under the capable care of the doctor and a private nurse.

Friends and students of Albright College regret greatly the illness of Mrs. Eills and extend every wish for a speedy recovery and return to her place among us.

Miss Lydia Moyer was elected to act as Dean of Women during the absence of Mrs. Eills.

INTER-CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY JUNIORS

Defeat Frosh Quintette 25-13 In Final Play-Off Game Thereby
Winning League Title

SEASON RESUME

Playing superb basketball the Juniors sent the Freshman down to defeat with an overwhelming score of 25-13. The Juniors led the league at the end of the first half of the playing, with three wins and no losses to their credit. Starting out the closing half of the schedule they again took the lead and continued to hold it until the "Yearlings" took their measure in the final game of the half. This caused a tie in the standing of the two teams, each winning a half of the scheduled games. A play-off was held last week and the Juniors laid claim to the championship, by soundly trouncing the Freshmen in the last and deciding game.

The Juniors started off with their heavy scoring combination of Youse and McLain getting shots and baskets from most any place on the floor. During the first period of play they scored almost at will, gathering enough points to give them a comfortable lead that was not to be overtaken throughout the game. The all around playing of the entire Junior team was to be commended upon for the great improvement shown since the previous game when they went down to defeat at the hands of the underclassmen. Their passing was so smooth and fast that it completely bewildered the Freshmen and enabled them to get the ball under their basket time and time again, only to have it ring around the rim and bounce out again. Had the "Upperclassmen" made but half of their shots good, the score would have been much higher.

Being unable to produce the brand of ball that they had been playing

FRESHMAN GIRLS INTER-CLASS CHAMPS

Finish Season By Defeating Strong
Senior Six 20-9—Have Won Two Lost None And Tied One

The Freshmen girls added another victory to their list, last Tuesday, when they defeated the strong senior team to the tune of 20-9.

The game was more or less one-sided from the beginning for the Frosh outplayed the Seniors, who couldn't seem to get adjusted.

The score at quarter time was 8-2, Frosh, at half time 14-4. Not till the third quarter did the Seniors seem to gather themselves together—then they showed some of their old spirit, though they could gain only 2 points. The score at the end of the third quarter stood 18-7. During the last quarter both teams were held to only one basket, leaving the score at the final whistle 20-9 in favor of the Freshmen.

The standing in the inter-class league at the present time is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Tied
Frosh	2	0	1
Junior	1	1	1
Senior	1	1	0
Sophs	0	2

Accordingly the Freshmen hold 1st place in the league and are entitled to the championship.

OUR POLICIES

1. Fair treatment for all.
2. Full support of all student enterprises.
3. Athletics for all.
4. Progress in all respects—curricular and extra-curricular.
5. Increased student activity and honor.
6. An Albright Individuality.

THERE ARE MANY CASES of disillusionment at Albright, and surely in calling attention to some of them no harm can be done. Of course only one of the major ones can be mentioned in this short article. The greatest, and existing in all colleges at the same time and perhaps in a greater degree, is the one which I shall call, "The Overconfidence in a College Education."

Many are of the impression that a college at once puts one on a higher plane than everyone who has not had the advantages which we have enjoyed. I have heard many an alumni on returning to the school remark that it doesn't mean a thing so far as the world is concerned. Except in certain fields where college graduation is a pre-requisite to even a start, the college man is put on the same level as a high school graduate. Regardless of your education you must make good. Especially in business is this true, for the business man demands production and doesn't care a hang for your past reputation. This is also true in a majority of the professions.

Many students believe that in succeeding in graduating from college the first great obstacle has been successfully conquered. They err there. By graduating from college they place themselves in a precarious position, for society demands more of them than of those others who have not graduated from college. They are expected to excel way above the others which in most cases is not entirely fair even though it is the prevailing condition.

A college education does not entitle one to believe that he has a handicap over others for he hasn't. His advantage is that better background upon which to base his reasoning and upon his ability to comprehend the ideas of others with whom he has come in contact in his textbooks.

The sooner a college graduate grasps the significance of these facts the sooner will he be able to take his rightful place in the world. The hard work really starts when one graduates and begins on a new job and is not encountered going through the curricula of the various colleges.

WITH THE RETURN OF SPRING comes also the return of spring fever, and with the return of spring fever comes the annual neglect of duties and tasks. Since we know this to be a fact it is up to us to do our part to remedy this great and prevailing menace. But how can such a rash thing be accomplished? Only by very, very strong will power can it be done. The way in which we can use the above-mentioned strong will is by doing the tasks assigned to us before the year passes any farther, and before the spring becomes much pleasanter than it now is. Or, as has been suggested, we might be different and not let the Spring affect us in the usual way. There is such a thing as receiving inspiration from the lazy warmth of the days, and fooling them at their own game, by giving something whereby they may be remembered, rather than letting them sap all initiative and get the best of us.

"STONE WALLS do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage." This was written in a prison room with the knowledge that execution was not so far off. If one can form a philosophy like that when death stares them in the face, then there must be something, after all, to this chaotic state of affairs that we call existence. Little pessimisms and daily depressing cares should vanish with the really good things that come our way. Blue skies should offset the gray and smiles should take the place of puckered brows. In the presence of something really big, little annoyances vanish—so, when things that bother come our way, we should remember that it is up to us to create our own worlds and act accordingly.

Passenger after the first night on board ship. "What's become of all my clothes?"
 Steward. "Where did you put them last night?"
 Passenger. "I hung them in that cupboard over there. The one with the little round glass door on it."
 Steward. "That isn't the cupboard. That's the port-hole."

"Boo-hoo," sobbed Frederick, "my collie is dead."
 "Shucks," said Billy. "My grandmother has been dead a week. You don't catch me crying."
 "Yes," said Frederick, "but you didn't raise your grandmother from a pup."

"Parrakeet's Prattle"

Quite a busy week, wasn't it, folks? Parrakeet's most fagged out. Wasn't the Party and Reception on Monday nite a big success? And the debate—were you there? Parrakeet thinks he's nearly qualified to be a varsity debater too. But he enjoys them, every one, because he can always learn something new.

Parrakeet wishes he could lay down on the job for a few days and go away for a weekend too. He noticed these little trips, here, there and elsewhere have rather unusual effects. Some like "Whitey" Lynn go to Lancaster and get "sleepy". Parrakeet can't imagine why. Some others like Hoey go away in a great bustle of secrecy and come back to report a wonderful time. Parrakeet doesn't know where Hoey goes but he's sure if you want to know specially, you can get the information direct. Still others like Maslow and Maggie go "home" and get "pinched." No foolin' they do.

But here's the best report. Straight from Mr. Abel himself. Do you know him? Sure, he's the "big shot" from third floor. Well, Parrakeet overheard a certain important interview in which Abel remarked, "Yes, I feel fine and will be in great shape to win the opening game for Albright." Remember folks, Abel is an outstanding contender for an Albright suit, but Parrakeet didn't realize he was a candidate for hurling honors. The press management is grateful for this report and will continue to publish remarks by our outstanding diamond heroes. Step right up, Athletes, Parrakeet says, "Here's a chance to get your name in the papers."

Isn't it fortunate that Mim Reddig's aunt lives in Reading? Parrakeet's sure that Dick Bollman appreciates it. Wouldn't it be interesting if Horn and Johnny Davis spent all their spare time in Reading too? But then, Parrakeet heard someone say, "It's a great life if you get over the week-ends." He quite agrees.

Parrakeet sincerely pities the Freshman lads but what can he do? He's only one and some rules are enforced. But what with getting into fistie bouts with notables like McCracken, and being forced to arise in the wee small hours of the morning (5 a. m. to be exact) there is a hard path to travel. Even this does not hinder a few of the more stalwart lads from completing their social obligations. Max Fellen, Bittner, Ranald, Shorty, Cruttenden, Ernie Thomson and several others find plenty to do to be agreeable and entertaining to one or more coeds. No seriously, of course, but still where there's a date Cupid has his eye. So does Parrakeet.

What a lot of fun the Kappas are having just now! Yes, it's most time for their banquet. In fact, they'll be hustling around all day because tonight's the nite. Parrakeet would like to tell you who the fellows are inviting but then the fun would be over. As it is, it's just beginning. You can get the news first hand this time and find out just how much fun Parrakeet has collecting news himself.

What? Another organization! Parrakeet heard someone say "Ookie" Kanouff has been made an active member of the "Mos-Cow-Moo" club. Just what is it? and why? Perhaps Paul can explain. But Parrakeet must needs say "good-bye" and leave you to do some "detectiv" work on your own.

 But when half way around bright. In Dean Walton's address he compared the event to a death of the old prejudices and jealousies of the two former institutions, and a wedding—the joining of the two Albrights into a Greater Albright, a fitting occasion for celebration. Dr. Teel, in his address, referred to the outstanding and recognized qualities of the two institutions, emphasizing the fact that the uniting of these two forces could only make for greater success in every way. Dr. Gobbie, who has been the string by which the various institutions of the present Greater Albright have been tied, traced in a brief form the development through Union Seminary, Central Pennsylvania College, Albright at Myerstown, and now the Greater Albright at Reading. In this, Dr. Gobbie has been an instrument of unestimable worth.

Following the very interesting program, everyone was served with delicious refreshments, consisting of chicken sandwiches, ice cream, punch, candy and peanut butter nuts. The Freshman girls did the serving, making a very attractive appearance in their green and white outfits. During the time music was furnished by "Eubies." After refreshments were served, the Alma Mater was sung and the Bhoom Yell given, thus closing one of the most successful parties ever sponsored by the "Y" Associations of Albright College.

IRISH LEGENDS

Long ago it was in Ireland
That the Shamrock took its place
By the walls and quaint old buildings
And the hearts of the Irish race.

"Spuds" which grace our daily table
In old Ireland find their name
Carved in every hill and valley
On the wayside or the plane.

Snakes are common things in Ireland
Oft in legends they appear
Never once in fun and frolic
Do they cause the children fear.

Every Irish son and daughter Sometime in his life must pay
Reverence to the Stone of Blarney
On this great St. Patrick's Day.

The song to which all Ireland listens
And harp which every child has Combine in magic notes so loyal
In "The Wearin' of the Green."
—Norma Michael.

SPRINGSONG

O Pussy Willow,
Moon's quick-silver
At your furry throat,
I wish your heart
Could sing for me
One little purring note.
A song of brown-striped Overcoats,
Of breaking through to see,
The soft blue skies
That laugh above,
The wistfulness of me.

So Pussy Willow
Leaning out
Across the garden fence,
If you have ever
Used your voice
Relieve my quick Suspense,
And sing for me
As kittens do,
The funny purring
Song of you.

PROFESSOR DECH LECTURES
TO Y. M.

Church is strewn with bodies of the people who have defeated God's Plan.

Prof. Dech told of a man who was a wonderful speaker and was very talented along other lines and was called to be a minister, but he turned to business instead. The bottom fell out of his business, and he failed completely. He had defeated God's plan for him.

Open rebellion is best way to defeat God's plan.

What would the kingdom of Israel have been if God's plan had not been defeated? Their disobedience of God's plan was the curse of the Israel.

One way to defeat His Plan is to use our opportunities. We have a chance to go to school, but yet we do not try to get the best out of ourselves. We defeat Him when we fall short of being exponents of the Christian life. If we don't live up to God's will, our testimonies will not amount to anything.

We defeat His will by not knowing what it is, not knowing His spirit, and by getting ourselves entangled up in the world and depend on ourselves instead of God. We defeat Him when we sin when we know that it is sin.

All are called to do God's will,
but few do it. Loss of life is nothing to the loss we sustain by defeating God's plan.

GIRLS' DEBATING SEASON IS OPENED WITH ELIZA-BETHTOWN

1. Fundamentally democratic as a protection against the ambitious persecutor and the indignant press.
Not inherently defective.

2. The Jury System is fundamentally sound.

3. No effective substitute exists.
The debate, as a whole, was very interesting, good debating being done by both teams, and close competition existing. The debate was judged by: Rev. Ackey, Mr. Beekey and Miss Leah Hoffman. The result of the debate, as judged by the three judges, was a 2-1 vote, favoring the Negative.

Following the debate the debaters were entertained at the Taste
Good Shoppe by the local team.

NEGATIVE WINS

The same evening the girls' negative team journeyed to Elizabethtown, to return victorious with a 2-1 decision. The girls upholding the affirmative side were Fannie Ruth Heisey, Gertrude R. Madeira,
Ruth H. Henry (Captain), Ruth A.
Nedrow (Alternate). The girls who represented Albright were:
Helen Uhrich, Martha Yagle, Irma Stahl, Orpha Hangen (Alternate; Captain).

The judges were Robert Rupp,
Attorney-At-Law, Lancaster, Pa.; A.
N. Gingrich, Supervising Principal,
Neffville Junior High School; A.
M. Hinkle, Principal, Hershey High School. The chairman was a professor from the Elizabethtown High School.

After the debate, the visiting team was entertained at a reception and during the course of the social hour refreshments were served. The evening, debate and all was thoroly enjoyed by the participants of both sides.

MEN ARGUERS WIN OVER LEB-ANON VALLEY

can give better verdicts. They presented the following system: One judge for civil trials under $1,000, over $1,000 a judge and two assistants, and for criminal cases five judges.

The negative stated that the jury system is an outstanding principle of democracy. It safeguards the rights and privileges of the individual. It is the best instrument for the administering of justice from man to man. It is fundamentally sound, for it is capable of rendering justice, it is a cross section of the community. The faults are due to legal system in general. Jury system can be improved and therefore should not be discarded.

SMALL GROUP ENJOYS C. E.
DISCUSSION

life. The next thought was that the church inspires its members for right living, while the last point explained how the church is constantly building a better civilization.
The last stanza of a poem that was read in the meeting exemplifies the attitude that too many of us take toward the church. It was:
"Let us honestly consider why this difference we find.

Between our church relations and every other kind.
Our business obligations must be met, the laws provide;
But the church is not insistent; so we let the matter slide."

This little verse can also be applied to the Christian Endeavor meetings, to show the lack of interest that many of the students have in Christian Endeavor work. Too many would sooner knock than boost. Next Sunday evening will be the last meeting before Easter vacation. Help the leader by making it your duty to be there at the proper time, and don't wait for a special invitation.

MEN'S GLEE GIVES CONCERT
AT SHENANDOAH

ficulty was experienced in pleasing the audience for the program of the Club this year is such that will please everyone and is suitable for any occasion.

The hit of the evening was as expected, "Buddies." They captivated the audience, and although they did not branch forth into the familiar jazz, for which they are noted, rendered their novelty numbers in such a way as to call for repeated encores. Dave Thomas as "Tillie", in the review, took the house by storm for he acted as well as sang the part of a typical "Tillie."
Not enough credit can be given to the members of that organization, for they displayed on every occasion, something unique and original.

The trip homeward after the concert was not so pleasant for the dense fog, and the unfortunate accident when a spring on the bus was broken made the trip long and tiresome despite the elation of the boys. Each trip of the Glee is always a thing to be remembered as a pleasant occurrence.

S. M. SHORT, '12 EXHIBITS PIC-TURE "LEST WE FORGET"

ject of the showing of the picture was to place before the public, scenes of pre-prohibition and the question: "Is the United States in a better condition now than in days of open saloon?" As far as the picture was concerned he said the question answered that question better than words could describe, for without the saloon all temptation is cast aside, thus removing the greatest evil this country has ever known.

The "lecture in pictures" impressed everyone present, for there are few college students who remember the reign of the saloon, and the picture was especially interesting in that it was an actual case of the havoic that whiskey played in many families.

The Colonel came down to breakfast with a bandaged hand. "Why, Colonel, what's the matter?" said the friend. "Well Sir," said the Colonel, "We had a little party last night and one of the younger men got intoxicated and stepped on my hand."

Mike was trying to pass an examination as poundkeeper. To the question of "what are rabies and what would you do for them" Mike answered—"Rabies is Jew priests and I wouldn't do a dam thing for them."

all through the second half of the schedule the Frosh weakened in the playoff and thus lost the claim to the Class Championship. Fighting hard from the first whistle until the closing of the game the "Yearlings" tried hard to stage a comeback, but were unable to cope with the fast pace that had been set by the victors at the start of the game. Early in the game Katzman, the big center for the Frosh was forced to retire from the game with a blood clogged nose. This weakened them at the pivot position and the Juniors had everything their own way from then on. Cruttenden the Freshman flesh all season, continued his fast pace in the final game by scoring half of his team's points. The rest of the Frosh team played well and gave a good account of themselves by their breaking up passes time after time.

The line-up and score:

Juniors	F.	Cruttenden
Youse	F.	Weiss
McLain	F.	Waise
Hangen	C.	Katzman
Malone	G.	Thompson
Houseal	G.	Reitman

Field goals: Youse 4, McLain 3, Cruttenden 3, Katzman 1, Malone 1, Hangen 1.

Foul goals: Malone 3, Weiss, Light, Youse 2, Houseal, Hangen, Katzman 1.

Referee—Clemens.

Class League Statistics

Last week marked the close of another successful season in the inter-class league. The games were all well played and keen interest was shown throughout the entire schedule, with many spectators turning out to cheer their respective teams toward victory and the coveted Championship of the league. Statistics have been compiled and a complete resume of the scoring for the season has been totaled up, along with the team averages.

Who's Who At Albright

PAULINE ELIZABETH SWANGER

A distinctive walk, a distinctive hold of the head, a distinctive smile, all mark Polly Swanger as a charming individual as she trips across the campus, alone or otherwise. Petite, chic, attractive, set Pauline aside as one of the outstanding Albright coeds. Polly is a day student and as such is a member of Chi Sigma, the Commuter's Organization which she has served faithfully in a number of responsible capacities. She is always a cheerful, jolly person in the Chi Sigma room or at any of its functions. This past week she has shown herself a charming hostess and it was quite evident that her role of receiving augurs well for the future.

Ranking high in the scholastic realm, Pauline Swanger became a charter member of Pi Gamma Mu, the new Social Science Fraternity. Next year Polly is going to teach and we may expect her to put her stuff across in the lines of History and English. In addition, Polly is quite capable of entertaining by giving readings and is just as proficient on the stage. She puts her personality across just as faithfully as she enacts her interpretive parts.

Polly is not afraid of anything, not a thing, but of course, there's no telling. She may be a Coward some day.

center in high school, has during these years developed into a star forward. She has won much deserved renown for her athletic prowess. "Ray J", likewise a high school center budded forth into her heritage as guard in defense of her school. The girls recognized her ability, and chose well when they elected her for captain, to guide them through their last year. A capable running mate for Ray J was found the following year in Clara Ray. The united efforts of these strong guards have many times in the last three years downed their opponents and spelled victory for Albright. Ditty is a natural born side center and has served her alma mater well in this capacity. In the last two years she has also been called upon to play forward and center, both of which she played well. For three years Guke and Steltzie have been faithful, willing and competent side centers when needed, and Orpha has served in a like capacity as guard, and many times holding her forward to a minimum of points.

The Juniors have contributed two very important members to our squad, both of whom have played throughout their three years. Dety has proved herself a worthy forward and has won considerable praise. Flo's versatility has been tested as she has been shifted around as side center, forward, guard and has ably stood the test.

Leah Deck, Mim Youse, Bill Kutz were those of the new recruits who merited places on the varsity this year. All have acquitted themselves well, and promise great things for the organization of the girls' team at Reading, next year. Much credit is due, too, to Teddy Immel, for her faithfulness despite her inability to

JOHN GORDON COWARD

New Jersey produces besides bigger and better mosquitoes, attractive, pleasant men like Coward, and sends them to Albright. Earned friendliness, a decisive air of capability, complacent manner of bearing, characterize him as a typical Albright man, worthy of all that Old Albright tradition and custom can give him for a background.

As a student, Coward lives up to the standard of efficiency and ability set by the many who have in years passed crossed our campus and helped make college tradition to him his Alma Mater is not something to be revered, but something to be revered, something to work for, to win honor for. He has done all he can to uphold the glory of Old Albright, especially as a Glee Club member, and as assistant football manager.

What's in a name, anyway? We can't exactly say that Gordon is cowardly, for certainly it takes a brave man to woo a fair lady. Like many others, he has wandered over the Duck Path, and we do like Polly.

play on account of an injured knee. Although the girls' season did not meet the expectations of some of us, we feel that it has been a success. The Albright girls met stronger teams than ever before, they played hard, and altho they did not always win, they played like true Albrightians, which after all is what counts.

FRESHMAN GIRLS LEAD Y. W. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday night was sponsored by the Freshman girls, with "Sally" Varner in charge. The topic was "Dress." The following program was given:

- Song: Scripture.
- Origin of Dress—Leader.
- Prayer—Esther Dettlerine.
- Vocal Solo—Mildred Wissinger.
- Tableaux:
  - School and Sport Clothes—Portrayed by Kathryn Kutz and Mabel Immel.
  - Supper Clothes—Portrayed by Margaret Strauss and Mildred Wissinger.
  - Evening Clothes—Portrayed by Gladys Baker and Miriam Heddig.

An interesting discussion followed the program, the key note being that its good taste not to dress to be conspicuous; but to dress to be attractive, and according to the occasion.

The score program was well played and given in an interesting manner.

Tom was broke. He made up his mind he would call Bill up on the phone and see if he could arrange for loan of ten dollars. The following conversation took place:

"Hello Bill. Is that you?"
"Yes, this is Bill."
"It doesn't sound like Bill."
"Well, it is Bill."
"Are you sure this is Bill?"
"Yes, it's Bill."
"Say, Bill, listen. I'm broke. Can you loan me ten dollars?"
"All right, I'll tell him when he comes in."

The good fairy offered one wish to the Catholic, Protestant and the Jew. The Catholic wished for glory. "You shall have it," said the fairy. The Protestant wished for money. "You shall have it," said the fairy. And then turning to the Jew she said, "And what do you wish?" The Jew replied, "I think I will save my wish for some later date. All I want now is the address of the Protestant."

"Can you loan me five dollars?" said Jones.
"Sure," said Smith. "Would you rather have an old five or a new one?"
"A new one of course," said Jones.
"Here is the one," said Smith. "I'm four dollars ahead."
