Council Passes Motion Concerning Constitution

Thomas Stults, chairman of the student activities committee of Student Council, made a motion in council on Tuesday to the effect that a committee be formed to study the possibilities of amending the Student Council constitution in order to correct certain evident discrepancies. Then Stults pointed out certain things which council continues to do year after year which are not mentioned in the constitution such as the election of a corresponding secretary.

He continued to prove his point by listing various things which, according to the constitution, council is supposed to do but in reality never does. For example, the constitution states that a Cue is to be published only once every two years by the junior and senior classes; furthermore, the editor-in-chief and business manager of the yearbook are to be elected by council. After a brief discussion on the facts as presented by Stults, Student Council passed the motion.

Virginia Marick, corresponding secretary, read a letter from Harry V. Masters, president, in answer to council's request that all students have off on election day, November 4. Due to the fact that less than fifty students have to leave Berks County to vote and that one of the cultural programs is being presented that day in chapel program the request was turned down.

President Buch brought to the attention of Student Council that students were inquiring about the song, "At The Foot of Old Mt. Penn," by John McKenna, '50. Richard Adams, daymen representative, moved that council make that song the official '52 Homecoming song. Passing the motion, council decided to have copies of the song mimeographed in order that they may be distributed at the various events during this week-end.

'See How They Run' To Be Presented By Domino Club On Nov. 20, 21, 22

... female lead

The Domino Club's fall production will be presented before the public on November 20, 21 and 22 in the white chapel. The play, entitled "See How They Run," is written by Philip King and was a smash hit in London in 1947. This is the first time in six years that Domino has presented a farce

Welcome Alumni

Homecoming To Open Today

The gigantic '52 Homecoming celebration will begin officially today with registration of returning alumni from 4 to 6 p. m. in Krause Hall. Members of all campus fraternities and sororities will be in attendance at special booths set up for this purpose.

A buffet supper will be served in Krause Hall from 6 to 8 p. m. Following this, talent drawn from the student body will provide entertainment for a short interlude. Participating will be Mary Ellen Greth, '53 and David Lubba, '56, who will play a piano duet. A dance trio "Three Jacks and A Jill" of which Patricia Upczak, '55 is a member, will present several numbers.

Pep Rally

Our own Charles "Pop" Kelchner, '95, will lead the assemblage in one of his spirited pep rallies. Many alumni as well as students will remember the pep talks which he has given in the past before each Albright-L.V. football contest. The college band, cheerleaders, and the football squad will be on hand to assist "Pop" in directing cheers.

Queen Contest

A crowd of from 500 to 700 is expected to pack Krause Hall for dancing from 9 to 12 to the music of Johnny Barker's Orchestra. The height of the evening's program will be the crowning of Homecoming Queen, to be chosen from a bevy of five beauties contesting for the honor by a committee made up of alumni. The candidates, who were selected last week by the student body, are Carole Althouse, '54, Barbara Bliss, '56, Annjeanette Innis, '54, Margaret Israel, '54, and Patricia Upczak, '55. The judges purely for the enjoyment of the public.

Leading Roles

Cast in the leading roles are Annjeanette Innis, '54, Mahlon Gebhardt, '56, and Donald Hallas, '53. Other parts will be portrayed by Jackie Zwoyer, '54, Barbara Topken, Rodney Bentz and Raymond Horan, all '56. Two parts have not been assigned as yet.

Galloping in and out of the four doors of an English Vicarage are an American actor and actress (he is now stationed with the Air Force in England), a cockney maid who has seen too many American movies, an old maid who "touches alcohol for the first time in her life," four men in clergyman's suits presenting the problem of which is which, for disguised as one is an escaped prisoner, and another a sedate bishop aghast at all these goings on and the trumped-up stories that are told him. Said "Theatre World" an English publication when the play was first produced in London: "An apt title for an excellent farce of the most involved variety . . . Nor is there any offense anywhere in this admirably written play which deserves a long run for its rollicking good humor.

Mrs. A. Smith To Edit Activities Calendar

Mrs. Anna Smith, professor in the Home Economics department, is now in charge of the school activities' calendar this year, according to the administration. Last year, Miss Ruth Williams, Dean of Women, was responsible for scheduling activities.

Fraternities Prepare Welcome For Alumni

The A.P.O.'s are preparing for Homecoming by drawing and painting "welcome alumni" posters and then distributing them throughout campus. Eugene Lang, house manager, has been appointed to act as host for the fraternity alumni. The alumni members will all receive a mid-afternoon snack after they visit the APO's house. Active fraternity members also intend to enter a float in the Homecoming parade. A total of 25 APO's have reserved seats at the Homecoming banquet on Saturday night.

The redecoration plans for the fraternity house are to be directed by co-chairmen Thomas Pepe and Tony D'Apolito. These plans now include placing sound proof panels on the cellar ceiling, setting in of concealed light fixtures and painting the floors.

Kappa's Homecoming

The Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternity will have its usual Homecoming celebrations even though they will not have their annual dinner dance. The fraternity house will be open to all Kappa alumni and their guests. The entire house will be open for inspection.

A larger alumni turnout than in years past, for which the "Kappas" are known, will be expected this year. The alumni meeting will be held as scheduled in the social rooms at which time the house will be temporarily closed to outsiders.

Besides the house decorations, the "Kappas" plan to have a float for the gala occasion. A committee of three, including Claude Walck, Bill Britton and Anthony

Hunter Announces Albrightian Staff

Additions to the staff of The Albrightian were announced by Phoebe Hunter, '53, editor-in-chief. Patricia Weiherer, '55, has been appointed exchange editor and Patricia Upczak, '55, has been delegated circulation manager. New members of the news staff are: Sally Lanz, Gerald Zaid, Rachel Kaebnick and Betty Williams, all '56. Those elected to the feature staff are: Helen Schoener, Paul Gehris, Mahlon Gebhardt, Sylvia Gruel, Jacqueline Martin, Lois Mednieck, Myrna Mengel, Virginia Mangin, Barbara Bliss, Robert Raverty and Jacqueline Ziegler, all '56, Harriet Brown, '55, Emma Seifrit, Pat Kravas and Lee Snyder, all '54.

Business Staff

Appointments to the business staff are: Joan Thomas, Sharline Hecht, Ruth Mengel, David Bleakman, William Lord, Gerald Silverman and Lois Hughes, all '56. Added to the sports department are: LeRoy Brendle, '56, John Price and Martin Rogovoy, '55, and Wendle Gower, '56. Joan Thomas and Lois Hughes, '56 will act as typists.

Mus Make Plans For Induction, Homecoming

Fall pledging bids to join the Phi Beta Mu sorority were issued last week to the following girls: Patricia Upczak, Mary Althouse, Roberta Crimbring and Bethlyn Emmett, all class of '55. The induction will take place Monday evening in the lower social room. Barbara Farris has been chosen as fall pledgemaster.

Sorority Week-end

Final plans for Homecoming are being completed by Ruth Fry and Barbara Ravel, co-chairmen in charge of sorority affairs for the Week-end. The sorority will decorate two tables for tomorrow afternoon's social hour in Krause Hall. Alumnae will be greeted in the lower social room and presented with a corsage.

Plans Listed For Saturday

Tomorrow, October 18, Homecoming Week-end is scheduled to resume, with numerous activities planned to round out a very full and interesting program. From 9 to 11 a. m. there will be registration and open house. At 11:15, the alumni will meet in Krause Hall for their Citation Luncheon. Rev. Paul Price is in charge.

Gym Dedication

The newly erected Physical Education building will receive formal dedication tomorrow afternoon at 1 p. m. Mr. George Bollman, president of the Board of Trustees and chairman of the athletic council will preside over the ceremony. The presentation of the building on behalf of the alumni and citizens of Reading will be made by William E. Maier, '51. Glenn K. Morris, '18, will accept the building on behalf of the board of trustees and alumni association. Eugene Shirk, faculty manager of athletics will introduce various guests of the sports world while president Harry V. Masters will present campaign leaders and special guests. The dedication ritual will be directed by Dr. Reuben H. Mueller, general secretary of Christian education of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The first athletic event ever to be held in the new gymnasium will be staged at the close of the dedication services. Headed by Robert Stout, captain of the United States 1952 Olympic Gymnastic team, a group of 14 gymnastic performers will take the floor. They are representatives of the Philadelphia Turners and the Langrest Gymnastic Team.

Informal Dinner

Following the gymnastic exhibition there will be a social hour in Krause Hall with the area clubs serving tea, coffee, doughnuts and shoe-fly pie. Miss Lillian Heller is chairman of the program. Active chapters of the college sororities are in charge of decorations.

At 5:15 an informal turkey dinner will be served in the Physical Education building by Hartestine's catering service. Fraternity members and other special groups will be assigned special tables so that they may sit together for the meal. Following the dinner and climaxing the week-end's events will be the annual gridiron contest between Albright and her rival, Muhlenberg College.

Pi Alpha Tau Inducts Four Into Pledgeship

The Pi Alpha Tau sorority inducted Jean Dirmitt, Stella Tryka, class of '55, Evelyn Weida and Janet Gehris, class of '54, into fall pledgeship last night at the home of Miss Consuelo Rodriguez.

Sorority alumnae returning for Homecoming will be greeted in the Dean's Parlor and presented with a corsage.

Senior members of the sorority will decorate the sorority tables for the afternoon social hour tomorrow in Krause Hall.

Welcome Home, Grads

Albright is happy to greet all of you alumni as you return this week-end for another Homecoming celebration. We are glad to have you back with us this very special Homecoming week-end and hope you will enthusiastically participate in all the activities planned for you.

We are sincerely proud of the fine Homecoming Week-end that has been planned by Prof. Charles Hollenbach and his committee. Most of you already know that this is a new, a different and a stupendous week-end from its very beginning tonight. Our football team did a grand job against Gettysburg last week-end and we're counting on another victory to complete our perfect week-end. Professor Hollenbach says that there is something to do every minute while you're on campus. Be sure to take advantage of everything; you'll especially be interested in seeing the dedication of the new gymnasium on Saturday afternoon.

Can't Even Argue!

It becomes increasingly apparent that student apathy at Albright College is found not only in college functions, but extends as well into national affairs. The almost complete lack of interest evinced by students is both astonishing and alarming.

Along with this complacency there also seems to exist, at least to this observer, a smug feeling that college students are the intellectual upper crust and that the masses will probably elect the wrong candidate anyhow. Probably the opposite is true. Issues are being debated, conflicts are being brought to the surface, and the entire nation is in an uproar while Albright remains secure in its disinterest and possibly its ignorance.

It appears that we are entirely too secure in our presuppositions and are afraid to argue them out for fear we may possibly be swayed or rendered indecisive. One has to look far and long to find a stimulating political discussion in a year when the decision of the people will affect the lives of everyone. As November 4 draws near the situation may change. A mild stir may be created. I hope so, for apathy at this time may be disastrous.

Grab The Brass Ring

This is the last call for all students who are still "lost in the shuffle" and can't seem to decide in which directions they want to spread their talents. There are various clubs that parallel the courses offered at Albright, such as the Alchemist Club for the man who would conquer the world with a test-tube, the Skull and Bones Society for those who know their way around the inner chambers of a dead cat or crawfish, and Heo Club for girls who have an interest in home management and an eye to the future. F. T. A. also opens its portals to all aspiring teachers or people interested in the educational field. The professors of any of these respective subjects can give you further information concerning the clubs.

If you are interested in student government, why not "set your cap" for a position on one of the staffs of the legislative bodies around campus? Student Council, the Interfraternity Council and the Women's Student Senate need people who want to take active part in school life and promote the interests of the student body.

Radio Workshop gives its members an opportunity to participate in all phases of broadcasting, which include reading commercials, news announcements, dramatic skits and sports and disc jockey scripts. Mrs. Annadora V. Shirk and Mr. Lester Stabler are the advisors for this group.

So you see, it's all there if you only reach for it. The next time that merry-go-round stops, jump aboard, and really give that brass ring a whirl!—J.L.

A Naked Appeal For Typewriters

Yesterday afternoon I was walking down the path toward the Sub (Somehow I can't bring myself to call it Krause Hall) when I heard the familiar, "Oh, Mister Emery, I need another article by four today." (He never calls me anything as respectful as that unless he wants something.) As usual, I had no ideas at all about what, where or who I should write next. The (I feel a sore need for an adjective here, but I can't seem to find one which is applicable and printable both.) editor (for that is his title, feature editor) suggested that I make a plea to the pursestrings of the college for some new typewriters for The Albrightian office.

"Ridiculous," I thought, "There's absolutely nothing wrong with those typewriters." However, I finally decided to have a look at the machines. Not that I have any choice. (If I don't do as he says, he threatens to make me attend staff meetings, a fate worse than death.) I entered the office, shoved my way over to the typewriter which seemed the oldest, and (Yeah, I said shoved. I wrote 23,799 articles last year, and the wastebasket has long since overflowed.) started typewriting.

Feeling a bit foolish, I stopped typing, put in a piece of paper, and resumed. I discovered that just this little thing made a significant improvement in the quality of the work. I must do a paper on that. But not now. Something seems to have fallen out of the typewriter. A little, unimportant widget. I won't worry about it too much. I go on typing. The quick brown fox jumped over the igzy . . . Well, it seems the a-key type bar fell out, and someone replaced it with a "g". That makes for some interesting sentences. "Fourscore and seven yeags ago our forefathers . . ."

I gave up typing and began to examine the inner mechanisms of the machine. Where vital parts had failed, or dropped out, generations of typists had added various improvised gadgets to keep things working successfully. The shift to capitals is accomplished by pulling a string running out through a hole gouged in one of the side panels. The shift lock is merely a thumbtack in the desk, on which the string is hooked. Vertical adjustment is provided by knots in the string.

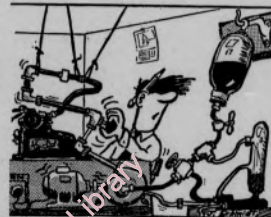

In any normal typewriter a large spring serves to move the carriage along as you type. Not on this little gem, however. A series of screen-door springs and paper clips does the job. Unfortunately, the springs are hooked also to a convenient doorknob. While I was typing someone opened the door and the carriage whirled around on the end of the spring and clouted the wall severely loosening several bricks. Completing its circuit, it hit me on the head, loosening several more bricks. (Note: this could be dangerous.)

The spools on which the ribbon was wound were missing, and the ribbon traveled back and forth on a pair of pencil-sharpener. The actual movement was accomplished by cranking the sharpeners, which also served in their original capacity. Not only does this do away with buying blue pencils (it colors any pencil blue) but it also eliminates emptying the sharpeners, since the cases had to be removed to allow the ribbon to be wound on the cutters inside. This whole arrangement, while somewhat bulky, is better than that which I found on the other machine. Here, the ribbon had disappeared completely, and in its stead was another improvised widget. (I say was, since then I have sent the whole shebang to the Smithsonian Institute.) In this case the type bars, when struck, caromed off, of all things, a stamp pad, and hit the paper, (placed upside down on the platen) on the rebound. The pad was moistened by a wick running from an old plasma bottle hanging on the coat rack. Very ingenious.

This second machine also had a peculiar device hanging on the back panel. It was a pair of bellows, connected by a tube to a

Echoes From The Stacks

Sh! "Please Be Quiet"—so the sign says—but don't let this frighten you away because my dear colleague, the library isn't such a bad place to browse around in, and it contains many things which we didn't know of and which can prove to be quite helpful.

As you enter the portals, you are struck by pictures of the smiling countenances of our profs and the administrative staff which were placed there in order to acquaint the student body with the people who keep Albright functioning.

Miss Raepfel, the college librarian, would like the students to know of the arrival of a set of 66 pocket size French reading books which include a variety of subjects, such as Adolescence, the U.S.S.R., Jeanne d'Arc, Earthquakes, Bio-chemistry, Tobacco, Logic, and Poetry, (What, no love?).

For language majors, the Bible can be found in foreign languages, and for those who would rather read the scriptures in everyday language, they can refer to The New Testament In Basic English and The New Testament In Modern Speech. Also the much awaited Revised Standard Version which was discussed in one of the chapel periods is now available to the students. The Pre-Mins. and any other interested students should be happy to know of the Hexaglot Bible which is written in Hebrew, Greek, Latin and English.

Don't forget to keep an eye peeled for the decorations on the mantel above the fireplace. Rumors are that they will be quite festive.

Any Flavor!

The way to a man's heart is through his stomach; however, if she can't cook, what's to be done? Naturally, this is just the evening to plan to eat dinner downtown, so let's see what the bill of fare has to offer. The Crystal restaurant, the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room and the dining rooms in the Abraham Lincoln and Berkshire hotels are perfect for food, and the wallet too.

For a delicious steak dinner don't miss Al Kline's Paddock; the wooden wagon wheels, sleigh-bells and the old leather saddles add to the atmosphere and will help make the meal a tremendous success. If you have wheels under you for the evening you might try Riveredge on the Bernville Road, or Leo's on the Allentown Pike. Both these places will leave a favorable impression with that special week-end date.

The Canton restaurant on North Sixth Street and the Santa Lucia restaurant serve food with a foreign flavor and at reasonable prices too. For that late midnight snack the Lincoln and Mount Penn diners are high up on the list. Back to the dorms and there you are—the end of a perfect evening. J.L.

Overemphasized?

Western Maryland College's newspaper, The Gold Bug, featured an article revealing the results of a national poll of student opinion. Fifty-three per cent of all college students feel that college football is over-emphasized. Several of the students interviewed blamed the over-emphasis on sports writers who "put too much stress on the game." Others said it was the fault of the public, which "rates colleges according to sports prestige."

To err is human, to repent divine, to persist devilish.

Evie

Y.W.C.A. president Evelyn Kressler holds the spot as Dandy Lion of the week. With quiet efficiency Evie has led the Y organizations since last February when, as vice-president, the job fell to her. As an active member in Y work Evie has done much for that organization and the campus as a whole.

While the job as president of the Y fills a great deal of her time, Evie has found time to participate in other campus activities such as Dorm Council and Women's Student Senate. An active member of Phi Beta Mu for four years, she was elected chaplain of that organization last spring. Working in the dining hall and taking part in intramural sports keep this sociology major and psychology minor quite busy.

Her Albright pep and spirit have been instrumental in making Evie one of the most popular girls at Albright. After graduation, children of all ages will come under her guidance as she goes into the field of child welfare work—V.M.

Which?

It has finally happened—what we've all been waiting for—yes, we got our Shirks mixed. We could have had Mrs. Shirk wearing a frosh tie, or freshman William Shirk teaching English, but instead we had Dr. Shirk (Samuel, that is) reviewing "Rediscovering the Bible." Actually, it was Eugene Shirk who reviewed the book on Sunday night and not Dr. Samuel Shirk at all (The Albrightian staff wishes to formally apologize at this time to the two persons involved for the mistake).

Now we can all look forward to the day when Albrightians will have Louis Smith teaching a cooking class, Elmer Smith telling about Custer's last stand, and Mrs. Anna Smith discussing skid row. P.E.

Gridders Host To Mules In Homecoming Contest

by Ken Hughes

Over The Hill

Coach Eddie Gulian's Albright Lions have successfully passed one of the main stumbling blocks on their 1952 schedule. It was a big feather in Gulian's cap to have beaten his Alma Mater, Gettysburg, especially after having been dumped by them last year, 21-20.

The main factor leading to the Bullet's defeat was the hard charging Lion defensive line, which consistently rushed quarterback Berkey Ward. The Red and White forced Ward to hurry his passes to such an extent that he only did damage with a few flat passes.

Next Victim

It is hoped that the Red and White will continue to play heads-up ball against Muhlenberg tomorrow night. The Mules showed they are not to be taken lightly as they held Rutgers to a 19-19 tie in their opener, and then last week swamped Lafayette 37-0. However the Cardinal and Red was beaten by Bucknell 46-12 two weeks ago.

If one goes by comparative scores the Mules will show a little more kick than they did last year.

If the Lions get by Muhlenberg tomorrow night for their third straight win over the visitors from Allentown, the Gulianmen will have a breather when they take on the Franklin and Marshall Diplomats.

Same Story

It looks like Gene Shirk's cross country team is going to turn in a repeat performance of last year. Unvictorious last year, the thinclads continued their losing ways in their only two meets this year. One bright spot is record-breaking Bill Shirk, who finished first against both Scranton and Haverford, and lowered the record each time.

The biggest disappointment so far is sophomore Don Seltzer. Seltzer, last year's star, has been troubled by a bad shoulder and finished fifth against Scranton and ended up far back in the pack against Haverford.

We are looking forward to the Lions breaking their string and romping home with a surprise victory up at Allentown this afternoon.

Co-Captains

Albert "Blackie" Weidman, defensive guard and Robert Zapora, offensive tackle, both seniors, were selected as the new co-captains of the football team succeeding Tom Savage and Charles Martone. Zapora, an experienced performer, stands 5'10" and weighs 198. Weidman, 5'10", 189 was considered as the best defensive lineman to face Temple all last year according to a veteran Philadelphia sports writer. The "Goldust Twins" have held the Lion forward wall together for the past two years and are expected to continue turning in such fine showings as they did in last year's Scranton game.

A 22-yard pass from freshman quarterback Bob Carney to end Bruce Eickhoff in the end zone was the margin of victory last Saturday as Albright's Roaring Lions tacked a 7-0 defeat on the Bullets of Gettysburg on the losers' field.

Sharing the honors with the touchdown combination were the members of the Lion defensive array who, besides helping to snap a seven-game Bullet victory string, also performed the equally amazing feat of holding the Battlefields scoreless for the first time since 1947.

To do this, the Red and White defense knew it had to stop the accurate passing of little quarterback Berky Ward, and it proceeded to accomplish this task. The Lion defensive linemen spent a good part of the afternoon in the Bullet backfield, either forcing the little redhead to hurry his tosses or bringing him down for large losses.

Receivers Covered

Meanwhile the G-burg receivers were being closely covered by an Albright secondary bolstered by the return of Jack Sudol, last year's All-Pennsylvania defensive right halfback. Both Sudol and Jack Peiffer also shone with their sharp tackling, oftentimes being the last ones between a Gettysburg runner and the goal.

The only score of the afternoon came with 40 seconds to go in the first quarter. After the play had see-sawed back and forth early in the period, the Lions got the ball on the G-burg 20-yard line on a pass interference penalty. Sudol, who did double duty during the afternoon, then circled right end for an apparent touchdown, but the play was called back and Albright lost 15 yards for holding.

Two plays later Carney faked back and threw a long pass which Eickhoff grabbed on a spectacular catch in the midst of four Bullet defenders. Tony D'Apolito added the extra point from placement.

With the touchdown on the scoreboard, Coach Eddie Gulian proceeded to put all his eggs in the defensive basket. He frequently rested Sudol on offense to save him for his important defensive work. Meanwhile the Lion offense was finding the going much tougher as the G-burg forwards braced to stop the runs of Bruce Tenley, D'Apolito, and Sudol.

Gettysburg never penetrated the Albright 20-yard line, although they twice reached the 30. The Bullets' longest drive of the day came in the second quarter. It started on the hosts' 16 and reached the Albright 30 but came to grief there when Lion lineman Fred Strahlendorf fell on Bob Epleman's fumble.

Zetas, Pi Taus Forge To Front In I-M League

If the first games were any sign, the intramural football race should prove to be an exciting one. In their initial engagements all the teams played headsup ball. While the Daymen were downing the Kappas last week, 6-0, on an intercepted pass, the Pi Tau's eked out a 7-6 win over the APO's. In two other tilts the Frosh overpowered the Wildcats, 18-6, and the Rebels and Jerseyites fought to a 12-12 tie. Townsey was the scoring show for the Jerseyites, scoring twice on passes.

Last Monday's action saw the champion Zetas overpower the Daymen, 20-7. The Zetas have been undefeated for the past three years. The APO's knocked off the Jerseyites, 12-0, with Hall and Kretzing scoring.

The Wildcats forfeited to the Kappas on Tuesday while the Rebels came back strongly in the second half to edge the Frosh, 7-6.

The standings to date:

	Won	Tied	Lost
Rebels	1	0	1

blocked Sudol's punt and covered on the Albright 30. So after four downs the Bullets had been pushed back to the 35 and the Lions took over.

Albright had another opportunity in the third period when Blackie Weidman pounced on Ward's fumble on the G-burg 23, but three passes by Carney were incomplete and the threat died.

An early-morning rain made the field soggy with the result that there were six fumbles in the game.

Each team now has a record of two wins and one loss for the season. It was Albright's second win over Gettysburg, both under Gulian, as against seven losses and four ties.

G-Men Put Two-Game Streak On Line Against Invaders

Contest Figures To Be Close And Hard-Fought; Visitors Drubbed Lafayette Last Week, 37-0

Coach Eddie Gulian's gridders will climax a gala Homecoming weekend by playing hosts to Muhlenberg College tomorrow night in the 29th renewal of a gridiron rivalry that began back in 1902 when the Albrightians romped to a 52-0 victory, the first of eleven triumphs in a series of 28 games.

Riding on the crest of two consecutive wins, 33-6 and 13-9, over their Allentown rivals, after being shut-out in four previous engagements, the Lions are hopeful of extending the string to three in a row over the Mules and the same for their 1952 schedule.

The '52 classic appears to be as tough a game to predict on a comparative basis as well as impossible on the traditional basis. Coach Tom Triplett's Mules looked very impressive in tying Rutgers 19-19, a team which only lost 13-7 to Colgate last week, but they were mauled 46-12 by a good Bucknell team.

Last week the Allentownians took advantage of three Lafayette fumbles and five intercepted passes and defeated their Lehigh Valley rivals 37-0. In the Bucknell game halfback Dave Ehlers galloped 100 yards for a TD after taking a punt, and in the Lafayette game Larry Dotter was the hero by scoring their first two TD's, each on a line-back.

Record Impressive

Co-Captains Bob Zapora's and Al Weidman's Lions go into the game with an equally impressive record, for they have defeated the Leopards 28-6 and Gettysburg 7-0, after losing a hard fought opener, 21-0, to Temple. Two freshmen, Mike DePaul and Bob Carney, will handle the Lion's quarterbacking. Both have shown improvement recently, with DePaul having scored a touchdown at Easton and Carney having passed to Eickhoff for the only score at Gettysburg.

Tony D'Apolito's accurate extra-point kicking may be a vital factor. He's converted 5 for 5, whereas the Mules are 2 for 11. D'Apolito, Sudol and Tenley complete the speedy backfield which will try to outwit the master quarterbacking of Jim Skidmore, a superb passer, who passed for and scored a TD against Lafayette. He also was in Albright's hair last year, passing for the Mules lone TD, and being largely responsible for their 273 yards gained passing.

The Albright defense, however, has given great account of themselves in all three previous games. They held Gettysburg scoreless for the first time in 40 games. Weidman, Stoneback, Strahlendorf and Mackler are outstanding, but it has been the whole defensive unit which operates so well.

Ladder Replaces Fall Tennis Tourney

Because of the lateness of the season the plans for a fall tennis tournament have been abandoned by the tennis team. In place of the tournament a ladder has been set up with the returning veterans from last year occupying the top five positions.

Four men, Robert Brown, John Schiavo, John Price and Thomas Masters vied for the sixth position on the team. Masters defeated Price and Schiavo downed Brown in matches played on Tuesday. Yesterday Schiavo and Masters met to decide the holder of sixth position. John Reusing, Donald Ermold, Donald Grisby, Bruce Weeber and Richard Stambaugh are the top five men.

Shirk Breaks Record As Thinclads Bow, 20-39

Freshman Bill Shirk broke the Albright College cross country record for the second time in as many meets, as he raced home in 18 minutes and 41 seconds to shatter the 19:01 record he set last week as the Lions bowed to Haverford, 20-39. Haverford took the next six places before Dick Flammer and three other Albrightians plodded home. Chip Muller and Don Seltzer were the other Lion winners who finished.

The top five finishers for Haverford were Stein, Klots, Hinshaw, Gage and Seely. Their times ranged from 20:18 to 21:13.

Scranton Defeats Harriers, 22-36

Coach Gene Shirk's cross country team suffered their first defeat, in as many starts, last Friday at the hands of a strong Scranton University squad. The score was 36-22.

The one bright spot for Albright was Bill Shirk's record breaking effort. His 19:01 for the three and a half mile course was 18 seconds faster than the old record. However, close behind Shirk came Joe Zola, 19:13; Walt Conrad, 19:58; and Charley Barrey, 20:01; all of Scranton. These men proved to be the deciding factor for the Royals.

Don Seltzer, last year's Lion star, undoubtedly bothered by a bad shoulder strain ran the course in 20:22 for fifth place.

The other runners in the order of their finish:

- Matt Brown (S) 20:43
- Stan Strojney (S) 20:51
- Dick Flammer (A) 21:01
- Ed Ruddy (S) 21:13
- Jim Rockthassel (A) 22:00
- Bennie Lukauskie (S) 22:30
- Chip Muller (A) 22:49
- Jack Ruddy (S) 23:42
- Paul Gehris (A) 23:57
- Tom Savage (A) 24:15
- Russ Orlando (A) 26:43
- John McAdams (S) dropped out

Kappi Tau Chi Panel Discusses Spiritual Life

At a meeting on October 15 of the Kappa Tau Chi fraternity, the honorary pre-ministerial fraternity, a panel discussed "The Development of the Pre-Theological Student's Spiritual Life." President Harry V. Masters, Rev. Eugene Barth, and Prof. Louis Smith took part in the discussion which took place in the Dean's Parlor.

At an organizing business meeting on October 8, committee heads were chosen for the coming semester. They are as follows: Program Committee, George Rankin; Welfare Committee, James Frazier; Athletic Committee, Robert Walker; Sports Carnival Committee, Robert Meyers and Robert Walker; Banquet Committee, Richard Kressler and Gordon Oplinger; Field Trip Committee, Ivan Moyer and Raymond Horan; Stunt Night Committee, James Rogers; Mardi Gras Committee, John Bubel and Raymond Kaiser; Deputation Team Committee, Max Nuscher and David Lubba; Mid-Week Vespers Committee, David Serfass; and Project Committee, Lloyd Sturtz and Albert Dietz. The Project Committee, which is new this year, has as its purpose the setting up of a project which is designed to knit all of the members of the fraternity closer together.

The fraternity's officers for the current semester are: William Glant, president; George Rankin, vice president; Raymond Kaiser, secretary; and Ted Tietze, treasurer.

A Freshman Rush Party was held on September 24 which consisted of a worship service at the seminary, refreshments, and a general get-together. The freshmen pre-theological students are to be officially inducted into the fraternity in January. Freshmen pre-theological students are invited to attend all regular meetings, at which refreshments will be served.

J. Wolff Graduates With High Honors

Joseph H. Wolff, a 1951 graduate of Albright College, graduated with high honors recently from a special division of the Army Language school at Monterey, California.

Wolff is at present home on furlough before overseas assignment. A pre-law student at Albright, Wolff plans to enter law school in 1954.

Organizations Send Fall Pledgeshops Bids

The first meeting of the Spanish club, La Sociedad Cultural Espanola, was held last Monday from 12:15 to 1:00 in room 307. Members brought their "alonuerzo" and ate while Spanish music was played. Dolores High, president, conducted the business meeting in Spanish and advisor, Miss Consuelo Rodriguez, led round-singing.

The next meeting, November 10, will feature the induction of new members. The club will provide the lunch meal for those attending.

Those sent bids were: Kenneth Bright, Edgar Wanner, Peter McCuen, Betty Miraszewski, Mary Ellen Greth and Ruth Saylor.

Sigma Tau Delta

At the first yearly meeting of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity, the yearly program was planned and bids were sent to new members. Membership is open to all English majors, either juniors or seniors with a B average, who are then selected by the

Fraternities

Ammirato, have volunteered to take care of the float.

All the active members of the fraternity, not on the football team, will take their places, with the alumni, at the "Kappa" table for the banquet on Saturday night.

After the game, all of the alumni will return to the house to reminisce about their days as active "Kappas."

Pi Tau Beta

Several committees have been appointed by the Pi Tau Beta fraternity. The house manager is Irvin Friedman; Dale Gaul will head the Homecoming activities committee and Harry Houck will head the committee to investigate national fraternity possibilities.

A fraternity flag has been ordered and other improvements in the house consist of a newly-bought 20" TV set. Work is continuing on the recreation rooms and a snack bar is being built.

Zeta Omega Epsilon

At the last meeting of the Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity the annual fall rush dance committee was appointed: George Amole, James Goss, Joseph Kierstead, Edward McNeill and Norman Ruppert comprise the committee for the dance which will be held Saturday night, December 1.

The fraternity house will be open during the entire Homecoming Week-end to alumni and friends.

Women's Senate To Sponsor Weekly Teas

The first in the series of weekly teas, sponsored by the Women's Student Senate with Michelina Cacciola as chairman, will be given Friday, October 24, in Selwyn parlor. Shirley Haskin, representing the dormitory council and Mary Jane Titlow, of the day council, are co-chairmen of selling Christmas cards and stationary. Each chairman has three non-senate women helping them. Through a special project, with Arlene Yeager as chairman, the senate will undertake to meet a need either on or off campus. Lorraine Warner is chairman of Sadie Hawkins Day to be held sometime in November.

The senate meets every third Wednesday, with Dean Westerberg as advisor. The next meeting is November 19 in Selwyn Parlor. This year the senate wishes to stress more co-operation between the day and dormitory groups.

Staff Specifies Student Dress

All students are again reminded that in order to appear in the Cue as members of any organization, class or fraternity, they will have to dress according to the specifications set by the staff.

Ronald Schlossberg, photographic editor announced that men must wear ties and coats, while women are requested not to wear anklets. For senior portraits, men's attire will remain the same, women being requested to wear dark dresses either of blue, red, purple, brown or black.

Picture taking will begin the last week of October and continue into November.

are: Howard Leiphart, Alpha Pi Omega alumni president; Fred Howard, Kappa Upsilon Phi alumni president; John Wise, Pi Tau Beta alumni president; Glenn K. Morris, Zeta Omega Epsilon fraternity alumni president; and Eugene Dechert, president of the Lancaster County Area Alumni Club. The queen will be chosen on the basis of points, with 15 points awarded for appearance and 15 points for poise and grace. Robert Waldner, '53, will act as master of ceremonies while the contestants are interviewed. James Koller, president of the alumni association, will officially crown the queen and award her a trophy. The second place winner will also receive a trophy and will attend the queen during the remainder of the festivities. All the contestants will receive gifts.

(An interesting side note concerning the refreshments for the dance is the fact that 14 bushels of apples were donated by Mr. H. E. Hershey of Hamburg and these in turn were turned into a barrel of cider containing 50 gallons. None should go thirsty!)

Prof. Charles B. Hollenbach, '40 is general chairman of the committee in charge of Homecoming Week-end. Other members consist of alumni presidents of the sororities and fraternities and June Yokum Greth, '40, secretary of the alumni association.

Dr. D. J. Wetzel Speaks To Chapel Group

In the chapel worship service last Tuesday, Dr. D. J. Wetzel, pastor of the First Reformed Church in Reading, spoke on the subject, "The Open Door." Dr. R. H. Mueller, denominational director of Christian Education and Evangelism for the Evangelical United Brethren Church, will be the guest speaker in chapel Tuesday, October 21. The second in a series of addresses made by representatives of the three major political parties will be given in chapel Thursday, October 23, by James Bertolet, Republican candidate for congress. Mr. Bertolet will speak about the things his party offers.

3 Students Attend F.T.A. Convention

Attending the Eastern Convention District Convention in Allentown last Friday afternoon were Donald Downs, Jean Hook and Patricia Scheerer. They accompanied Dean LeVan Smith as representatives of the Albright Chapter of the Future Teachers of America Club.

Dean Smith addressed the group of approximately 100 members of the five neighboring county chapters pointing out the current supply and demand of elementary and secondary teachers and the need for professional attitudes.

At an election held, Miss Scheerer was elected 1952-53 president of the Eastern Convention District group. Paul Kissingner, '52, held the post last year.

Practice Debate Held On 'Wage, Price Control'

A practice debate will be held this afternoon on last year's question "wage and price control." Ray Weitzel and Robert Berkstresser will take the affirmative and Michael Lafferty and Edmund Ettinger will defend the negative.

Organization To Publish Economics News Letter

Induction of sixteen girls by a candlelight ceremony highlighted the first monthly meeting of the Heo Club on Monday night, October 13, in Sherman Cottage.

Nancy Loose, club president, made an introductory welcoming speech in which she outlined the program for the ensuing year.

Then the following freshman girls, who received small corsages, were installed as members: Barbara Burbank, Alma Grove, Joyce Gundy, Sylvia Greul, Dorothy Hartzell, Athalinda Hershner, Rachel Kaebnick, Dorothea Lang, Jeanette Mayer, Ruth Mengle, Shirley Raffensperger, Karen Saul, Ruth Schaumburg, Sandra Smith and Beverly Walsh. Jane Zenke, a sophomore, was also inducted.

After the ceremony, refreshments were served.

News Letter

The Heo Club of Albright is scheduled to publish the first November issue of the state home economics news letter, Miss Florence V. Innis, club advisor, has revealed. The publication, which appears four times a year, contains news of all the college home economics clubs in Pennsylvania.

This will be the first time in the past two years that the Albright club has published one since each college in the state is alphabetically scheduled to publish an issue.

New Stoves Installed

Installation of nine new gas stoves in the home economics foods laboratory in the administration building and one in Sherman Cottage has been announced by Miss Florence V. Innis, home economics instructor. This was a result of a replacement plan whereby old stoves are replaced by new ones.

Miss Innis To Judge

Miss Florence V. Innis, home economics instructor, has been selected as a judge of the state wide food contest being held tomorrow at Lemoyne High School near Harrisburg.

small whistle. I found that this replaced the bell, which had fallen off and was serving as an ash tray. A flywheel supplied the power necessary, and a kick now and then on the foot treadle kept the flywheel spinning merrily. An oil change every thousand miles was the only attention required.

(There was talk of fitting the machine with a whole series of whistles and playing it like a calliope.) A noble and courageous solution to the old problem of where to dump cigarette ashes.

It must be conceded that the machines are in poor condition and would bear replacing.

If we don't get help soon, the confounded typewriters will be too complicated, delapidated and (must be some word ending in ated, but I can't think of it) that mere mortals like us will be back to the goose-quill and pen-knife stage. Help!—L.E.
