Culture Program Series Presents Robert McFerrin

Robert McFerrin, baritone, will be featured in the fourth cultural program of this year Thursday, March 11, in Krause Hall during assembly. A American-born and American-trained, Mr. McFerrin has a true musician's insight into style which makes his singing of German Leier and Italian opera as authentic and convincing as of folk-songs and spirituals.

Wins Awards

Born in St. Louis, Mr. McFerrin received the major portion of his training in Chicago, where, just prior to the interval necessitated by his army career, he won the Chicago Musicland Festival, a nationwide competition, and appeared as soloist with the Grant Park Orchestra. Ideally suited for opera, he was awarded a Tanglewood scholarship and subsequently appeared twice under the direction of Boris Goldowsky with the New England Opera Company, as Orestes in Gluck's "Iphigenia in Tauris" and, the first of his race ever to do the role, as Rigoletto in a performance of that opera.

Singer Featured On Broadway

His New York appearances have included lead roles in "Lost in the Stars," and "The Green Pastures," and the part of the voodoo priest in the City Center production of William Grant Still's "The Troubled Island."

"The finest work, in all respects, came from Robert McFerrin, whose Orestes was musically sound, dramatically believable, clear of enunciation and further boasted an impressive natural dignity," stated the Boston Daily Globe.

The last in the series of cultural programs will be presented April 22 when Richard Corson, actor, will be featured in assembly. His subject will be "Platform Portraits."

Graduate Record Exams Announced

All seniors will be given the Graduate Record Examination, consisting of a general education achievement test and a specialized test in the field of major concentration, during the last week of April. Sophomores were given a series of tests yesterday and this morning which covered the fields of English, contemporary affairs and general culture. These two testing programs, which were discontinued twelve years ago, were renewed last year.

In its freshmen testing program through the years and its previous senior-sophomore program, Albright College has maintained satisfactory standing in comparison with other participating colleges. In this program, all the tests will be administered by the Psychological Service Center under the direction of Dr. Geil, and, of necessity, will be established as academic requirements of the sophomore and senior years and as prerequisites for the college degree. No "passing grade" will be disclosed for the tests, but the results will be of value in subsequent personnel and advisory work with the student and in measuring the effectiveness of instruction and in evaluating academic growth.

Senior Women For May Court

178 State Preferences In Ballot This Week

One hundred seventy-eight students cast their votes earlier this week to elect six senior women to the May Queen's court of honor.

Winners in the election were Michelina Cacciola Dorothy DeLaney, Barbara Farris, Phyllis Gruber, Evelyn James and Virginia Marick.

The six women will attend Queen Annejeanette Innis when she is crowned on Saturday, May 8, at the annual May Day celebration. Carol Althouse will attend Miss Innis as Maid of Honor.

Walker, Locher Take Part

Nancy Lou Walker, Mistress of Ceremonies, and Margaret Israel Locher, Custodian of the Crown, will also take part in the ceremony. The former has charge of the day's program and the latter will crown the queen.

Miss Cacciola, a brown-eyed brunette, is a sociology major from York, Pa. A graduate of Wm. Penn High School, she is president of the Phi Beta Mu sorority and printing editor for the Cue. Also serving as president of Women's Student Senate, she is, in addition, a pledge to Phi Delta Sigma, honorary alumnae sorority.

Miss DeLaney, who hails from Sayre, Pa., has brown hair and blue eyes. A home economics major, she serves as editor of the Albrightian, president of the Home Economics Organization and president of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity. A member of the Phi Beta Mu sorority, she is also a pledge to Phi Delta Sigma, honorary alumnae sorority.

Farris, Gruber Named

Auburn haired Miss Farris comes from Chester, Pa., and is a sociology major. A graduate of Media High School, she is corresponding secretary of the Phi Beta Mu sorority, assistant editor of the Albrightian and associate editor of the Cue. She is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, and student council and is also a pledge to Phi Delta Sigma.

Miss Gruber is an English major from Robesonia with blonde hair and blue eyes. She serves as treasurer of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority, photography editor of the Cue, vice president of the German Club and secretary of FTA. She is president of Delta Phi Alpha, honorary German fraternity and a member of the women's varsity basketball team.

James Is Only Readingite

The only Readingite, Miss James is a business administration major from Wyomissing. With blonde hair and gray eyes, she is a member of the Phi Beta Mu sorority and the Daywomen's Organization.

Miss Marick is a sociology major from Havertown, Pa. and is a graduate of Upper Darby High School. This brown-haired, hazel-eyed secretary of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority is president of the YWCA and secretary of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity. She is also a pledge to Phi Delta Sigma.

6 Campus Organizations Scheduled To Take Part In Annual Stunt Night

Six campus organizations will participate in the annual Albright Stunt Night. The event is scheduled for Friday, March 12, in Krause Hall.

The participating organizations are Phi Beta Mu and Pi Alpha Tau sororities and Pi Tau Beta, Zeta Omega Epsilon, Alpha Pi Omega and Kappa Upsilon Phi fraternities.

Nat Wright, disc jockey from WEEU-TV station, will be the master of ceremonies. David Lubba will play the piano between skits. There will be a short intermission at which time refreshments will be sold for a Student Council benefit.

Raymond Horan is chairman of the evening's entertainment. The committees for the participating organizations include: APO, Roy Dragon; Pi Tau, Raymond Horan; Zeta, Peter LaRocco; Kappa, Peter Nicholas; Pat, Nancy Lou Walker; and Mu, JoAnne Duffy. William Corrigan is in charge of the trophy committee.

Glee Club Schedules Two Sacred Concerts

The Albright College Glee Club will present two sacred concerts on Sunday, March 7. At 3:30 p. m., the group will be at Park E.U.B. Church in Harrisburg and at 7:30 they will be at Centenary Methodist Church in Lebanon.

A special program for the sacred concerts included the following selections: "All People That on Earth Do Dwell," Tallis; "God Is a Spirit," Brahms-Duane; "To Thee We Sing," Tkach; "If Thou But Suffer God to Guide Thee," Thompson; "Jacob's Ladder," Wilson; "In Thee Is Gladness," Luvaas.

Also, "Sinner, Please Don't Let This Harvest Pass," spiritual; "Lord, I Want to Be a Christian," spiritual; "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," Waring; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach; "Eternal Life," Dungan; "Gloria" (from Mass in B flat), Farmer.

Dr. John H. Duddy directs the Albright College Glee Club. Ivan Moyer, Jr., serves as student director and Richard Smoker is accompanist.

Domino Lists Spring Cast

Casting for the second Domino Club play at Albright College, Andre Obey's "Noah," has been completed, states Mrs. Annadora Vesper Shirk, the director. The play is scheduled for production April 1, 2, and 3 in the White Chapel. A matinee performance will be staged Saturday afternoon April 3 in observance of Church Day.

The cast includes nine members. Noah will be played by Ivan Moyer. Playing opposite Noah is his wife, Mama, characterized by Nancy Dobbs, a newcomer to the Albright stage. Mahlon Frankhauser, playing the role of Ham, was seen earlier in the year in a one-act play. Neal Krapf has been cast as Shem. Neal, the treasurer of the Domino Club, has been active in many productions. James Rogers as Gaphet was last seen in "A Barefoot in Athens" last spring. More newcomers are Lucy Schuman as Norma, Scott Jonalmon as Sella, and Ed Stttinger as Man. Virginia Mangin, playing the part of Ada, has been seen in several one-act plays. Eight students will be disguised as animals which consist of a bear, lion, monkey, elephant, cow, tiger, wolf and lamb.

Gerald Sheffey and Lester McMakin are working on staging and lighting.

One-Acter Presented To Women's Auxiliary

A one act play, entitled "Country Mice in the City," written by sophomore student Helen Schoener, was presented at the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the college on Wednesday, March 3. Directed by Mrs. Annadora V. Shirk, the play's cast of characters includes Thelma Arnold, Claire Spidel, Frances Wolf, JoAnn Yobp and Gerald Sheffey.

Preceding the play, Mrs. Earl Huber, president, conducted a brief business meeting.

A Job Well Done

Sports Nite and Stunt Nite are the highlights of the year, since they provide an opportunity for all the Albrightians on campus to get together in a more informal way than at any other campus activity. Everyone is interested in watching the sports events, and everyone is interested in seeing who gets the coveted two o'clock permission or the pair of frilly step-ins, so everyone goes.

This year again Sports Nite was a big success. It didn't just happen that way. Even though every Albrightian is ready, willing and able to make a big thing out of Sports Nite, a lot of careful organization is needed to make it so!

The Sports Nite Committee worked hard and did a good job. The programs were a source of fascination, as they were carefully guarded until the actual time they were to be sold. The art work was cleverly done, and there was more than last year. The sports contests were well managed and followed one another so smoothly that interest seldom waned.

All evidence seems to indicate that Stunt Nite next Saturday will be just as much of a success as Sports Nite was. Many thanks to the Sports Nite Committee for a job well done, and good luck to the Stunt Nite Committee.

McCarthy Meets Critics

Since McCarthy (remember the good old days when McCarthy meant Edgar Bergen's side-kick?) and education are two topics of interest at Albright second only to the weather, we have asked some of our professors their opinions of McCarthyism and its influence in education. Here are their comments:

Harding—I see no danger here at Albright College. However, any kind of an investigation which is in effect an attack in which you find out the facts later is dangerous. You accuse first and attempt to prove later. The McCarthy investigations are not investigations but rather trials in which guilt rather than innocence is assumed.

Raith—There is a very grave danger for us to bring accusations against American citizens without first of all naming the offense and secondly by proceeding through due processes of law. My opposition to McCarthy is that he does both in complete disregard of the American tradition.

Gates—I just don't know. When I come to the word McCarthy, I just go on to something else.

Rusby—McCarthy makes it necessary for us to fight anew the battle of Copernicus, Socrates, Jesus, Salem witches, and the teacher's Scopes case (Tenn.) The battle for academic freedom and presumption of innocence before trial has still to be won in America.

Kistler—I don't have time to answer the question now.

Shirk—I believe that any teacher who refuses to testify anywhere and in any way to what he knows to be the truth, however flimsy the pretext for cross-examination, is inviting trouble. He has a professional obligation to bring to light ideas and concepts. His circumventing inquiry leads only to clouds of suspicion.

Brown—I accept the lesser of two evils. I would rather lose the rights due to McCarthyism than lose those due to Communism. But if there is a better way to fight communism, we should try to find it rather than by sacrificing reputations.

Reppert—Whatever else one thinks of McCarthyism, the basic threat is external rather than internal. Further, the most remarkable aspect of McCarthyism is the failure of liberal opinion in both parties to meet its challenge to civil liberty.

There are the opinions, and a greater variety would be difficult to find, but in our opinion, no institution, not even McCarthyism, is above criticism in a democracy.

Much Ado About Nothing

While we're on the subject of nights (viz. Sports Night and the next big one on the calendar, Stunt Night) how about a Faculty Night Revue? It could even be held in the daytime. We've been plugging for this for four years with obviously no results. It still seems like a good idea. Can't you see it all now . . .

An early morning radio skit, A Breakfast Snack with Edith and Jack . . . a show-stopping rendition of the United Fruit Company's theme song (better known to us as "Never Put Bananas in the Refrigerator, No, No, No, No, No!") by one well versed in the Spanish tongue . . . Homely Philology and Pleasant Pedagogical Pedantry by a Smith named L.P. . . . recitations of humorous verse by Uncle Klyde in the Kiddies' Korner . . . an informative discussion of Amoebae I Have Known—and Taught by one not Green in his subject matter field . . . also "Dramatic Moments from the Life of a Drama Coach" or "How to Get the Most From a Two by Four-and-a-half Foot Stage" (using pygmies in the cast) by one who wouldn't Shirk this duty . . . ah, the possibilities of it all!

If it can't be done during the regular term, how about making it a part of the Senior Breakfast? Can't think of a more pleasant way to remember the faculty.

Trackman Tracked Down
Hans Glide had quite an experience last week. Seems he was trying to combine track practice and a trip back to campus in one sprint, but on the first lap around the Ad Building local gendarmes mistook him for a prowler and personally conducted him on a tour to City Hall. Truth, in this instance, did out. But take heed, trackmen. You'd better get the coach to issue "sprinting after dark licenses" or

Jack

Which senior can always be found zooming through the science building or the A.P.O. house? Yes, you guessed it! He's none other than Jack Sudol, that speedy senior, who, incidentally possesses the rare combination of "brawn and brain."

Jack finds time between his premed studies to participate in Skull and Bones and to be vice-president of the A.P.O.'s. Also, Jack is well-known for his sterling performance and the way he "fainted" at Sports Night. He has also spent four years on the football team. In 1951 he played defense on the Associated Press all Pennsylvania football team and this past year he was named as the most valuable player on the East. He ranked fourth in the nation in punting and first in the East. This past season, he was also co-captain of the Al-

A Merner Peiffer Trifle
According to our operatives among the denizens of the deep and mysterious depths of the science hall, experiments are now being conducted in the transfer of male hormones to female rats and vice versa. (And to think Christine spent all that money on boat fare to Denmark!)

"Is there any news nationally?"

"I dunno. I don't have time to read the papers, I don't have time for nothin'. Oh! I heard something that would'a made a good editorial, but you wouldn't want it."

Long pause.

"Why?"

"I'm Nobody; Who Are You?"

Do you frequently experience an empty feeling in the head? Fear not, sweet moron it's just that perhaps you're extremely realistic about your perception. According to the atomic theory, all matter is composed of atoms, which consist mostly of space. Being a form of matter, you therefore are mostly "nothing" and thus is explained the breezing you feel in the upper chambers.

Despite this, "Man is wonderfully and fearfully made," says Dr. Clarinet B. Horn. Although there may be exceptions, this statement has become axiomatic to those who daily haunt and are nightly haunted by the Albright science hall.

So impressed is the conscientious science student that each morning he yawns in wonder as the alarm of his chronometer initiates those horribly sounding longitudinal waves which strike the pinna, are transmitted to the tympanic membrane whose vibrating sets up a reaction with the malleus, stapes and incus, and finally through the action of the tectorial membrane are carried to the under side of the brain by the eighth cranial nerve. (All this and anatomy, too!) Having recovered from the initial shock, this wonderfully made creature rolls over and goes back to the arms of Morpheus.

Perhaps he will decide to give the prof a break and go to his eight o'clock class. If so, he will extend and flex all his striated fibers several times and raise and lower his superior palapabrae by means of his levator palapabrae superioris. Of course his visual processes haven't yet begun to function, so he cannot make up his mind (Ask Dr. Geil for definition of mind.) whether it is AM or PM.

But at last his cones begin to function and he realizes the time has come to start his early morning ritual with the chlorophyll, antibiotic, enzymatic conglomeration of semi-solid as well as the bar of a sodium salt of a fatty acid containing hexachlorophene and perhaps various esters, plus a scent of lilacs, for amarus effects. Finally, with floundering

Spring Preview

Fashion has many new shapes this spring: The narrow look will make news in smart ensembles. Slender and shaped the straight line sheath with an air of elegance can be topped by either a fitted jacket ending at the waistline or a box jacket extending to the hip. Either way, you'll be in style.

The princess line, similar to the lines of grandma's clothes, is climbing high on the ladder of fashion. It is featured in dresses, skirts and suits. The princess clothes are given a lift by petticoats worn under the billowing skirts.

Some designers say that the little girl dress is THE thing. They feature puffy sleeves, smoked or tucked bodices, large sashes and bows and extra full skirts—accented by crinolines.

Navy blue again is at the top of the list of colors for spring. But navy clothes will have sparkling white accents of fresh pique or navy and white polka dots. Also to accompany this annual favorite are red accessories—shoes, bags, hats, etc. Other colors to watch for are the neutral shades: gray, beige, all shades of gold, especially the deep hues, and pinks, made popular by the coronation.

Last but not least, the newest in necklines is the stand-away neckline, sometimes called the boat neck. Besides being very attractive, it is cool and comfortable for the warm weather ahead.

Lions Close Against Diplomats Tomorrow Night

By Jack Lewis

Closing Time

Well it's about time to hang up the socks, another Albright basketball season will soon be a matter of records. Tomorrow night the Lions will complete their 1953-54 season against the Franklin & Marshall Diplomats—a season that did not quite live up to expectations, but that was through no fault of the athletes who were trying their best, every minute of every game—if they were allowed to play. The Dips just a few short weeks ago severely drubbed the visiting Lions and tomorrow night the Lions are not going to play the "perfect hosts," by returning the "favor." The Lancastrians still have the services of Gus Lovett, who scored 29 points in the game at F&M. The problem of holding him to a considerable smaller total will fall on the capable shoulders of Bruce Riddell. With Jim Croke leading the defense, the Dips scoring should be cut down. The sharp-shooting of DePaul, Conrad and company, will be counted on to boost the Red and White side of the scoring "ledger."

Moravian Jinx

The Moravian Greyhounds seem to hold a jinx over the Lions, at least the last few encounters between the two teams have seemed to indicate that such is true. The Lions had to wait until the waning seconds in the game at Bethlehem to prove that they had the victory "in their pockets". This same spell seemed to be cast over the Local Favorites in the return exhibition at the Albright fieldhouse. It seemed to be one of those games without excitement, in the main—one where you just sit back and patiently wait for the sudden scoring onslaught that the Lions are capable of delivering, but this time, it just didn't come. It remained for Bruce Riddell to throw in two charity tosses before the full fury of Albright's "cheering section" was turned loose in the hall. Zahm, subject of early ridicule to the fans, proved that he could use his six-six frame to its best advantage, by throwing through 15 points, before gathering four fouls in the first half of play. The fact that he failed to appear in the third quarter, may have been a godsend to the Lions. Mike DePaul outscored Zahm in the first half by two points to prove that the hosts could do with a little man what the visitors required ten more inches to do.

Sports Night

Another annual Albright Sports Night is written in the books—the controversy and re-playing will soon follow to a similar resting place. Most opinions that were subject to my attention seemed favorable. Only a few comments here and there seemed to indicate an actual hostility to the outcome of each of the many events. In winning, the APO fraternity grabbed six first places: ping-pong, horse and rider, boxing, wrestling, tug-of-war and leg-wrestling. The Dormitory Viragos compiled a grand total of 30 points through the last minute efforts of Bev Walsh's hop-skip-and-jump effort.

Lions Defeat Moravian Five

Albright College's Roaring Lions, battling all the way down to the wire, defeated Moravian College's Greyhounds, 62-60, in one of the most exciting contests witnessed at Albright's 13th and Bern gym all season. It was the Lion's second win of the season over the hapless Greyhounds, the Red and White having previously been victorious in a hard-fought, 70-66 win at Bethlehem. Mike DePaul, the game's high scorer with twenty-five points, showed definite promise of returning to early-season form, which bodes ill for the remaining opponents on the Lion's slate.

Moravian Scores First

Moravian drew first blood when Russ Fegely, Reading High alumnus, scored on a long one-hander. Seconds later the Red and White evened the count when DePaul dropped in a set shot. Fegely came right back with another one-hander, and this time DePaul countered with two foul shots. A field goal and a free throw by Dick Zahm put Moravian in front again, 7-5. The Greyhounds gradually increased the margin, leading 20-15 at the end of the initial stanza.

After a brief rest the Lions poured it on and, when Jim Croke stole the ball and dropped in his first basket of the night, took the lead, 27-26. Zahm converted a charity toss to knot the count momentarily, but George Conrad's jump shot put the Lions back in front, 29-27. Moravian rallied briefly to regain the lead, 36-35, but DePaul's free throw tied the score just before the end of the half.

Third Quarter See-Saw Battle

In the third period the lead continued to see-saw back and forth, the Lions having the advantage most of the time and leading, 50-48, at the end of the stanza. In the final period Moravian took the lead four times, only to have the determined Lions knot the count each time. The score was tied, 60-60, when Zahm, driving in and scoring on a layup, was called for charging before the shot. With but three seconds remaining in the game, Bruce Riddell calmly proceeded to sink both charity tosses and ice the game for the Hungry Five, 62-60.

Fegely and Zahm were high scorers for the Blue and White, each sinking seventeen tallies. DePaul led the Readingites with twenty-five, followed by Jim Foreman with twelve and Riddell with ten.

Pups Claw Cubs

In the preliminary encounter, the Greyhound Pups eased by the Lion Cubs by a 53-50 margin. Ronnie Gift, Stan Kunkle, and Bernie Gawley each had twelve markers for the victors, while Ronnie Pisano led the losers with twelve, followed by Myron Hallock with eleven.

"LITTLE MAN, WHAT NOW?"

Mike DePaul seems to have nowhere to turn in this action shot in last Saturday's thriller with the Moravian Greyhounds. Last second foul shots by Bruce Riddell clinched a 62-60 victory for the Lions. Lions Stopped By LVC Five

Before a capacity crowd of frenzied fans at the Annville gym, Lebanon Valley's Dutchmen turned back the Albright College Lions, 69-57, although playing without the services of star forward Herb Finklestein.

Center Don Reinhard's jump shot opened the scoring for the Dutchmen, who held the lead until Bruce Riddell converted two free throws to knot the count at 10-10. Lou Sorrentino's driving layup a minute later put the Blue and White ahead for good, 12-10. From then on the Dutchmen gradually increased the margin, leading 16-11 at the end of the first period, and 39-20 at the half.

After the intermission, the Lions rallied in the third period, and closed the gap to twelve points, 54-42. In the final stanza, the Red and White pulled up to within six points, 62-56, but five quick points by Bob Nelson insured the win for Valley.

Reinhard led the victors with 18 tallies, followed by Sorrentino with fifteen. Bruce Riddell led the Lions with fifteen markers, while Jim Foreman and George Conrad each had 11.

In the preliminary encounter, the Baby Dutchmen defeated the Lion Cubs, 66-64, in a game marred all the way through by poor officiating. Leading by one point, the Dutchmen were allowed ten seconds to take the ball out of bounds, when by rights the Lions should have been given possession. Larry Mentzer was top scorer for the winners with 18 points, while Myron Hallock led the Red and White with 15 tallies, followed by Ronny Bernhardt with 13.

Ron Regar Sports Trophy To Be Given

Coach Eddie Gulian will close his fifth season as coach of Albright College's basketball teams tomorrow night as the Lions take on Franklin and Marshall College in a return engagement on the Albright court with starting time set at 8:30. Assistant Coach John Potskian will be completing his first year as coach of the Red and White JV's who will take on F&M JV's at 7 o'clock.

No players will be lost because of graduation in the season's finale. Jim Croke, a 6' 2" guard, is a three year man, but he is expected to be around next year. Pending the outcome of the game played in the Lion's gym on Wednesday against Lehigh, Gulian and his squad will be seeking a win in the last game for a winning season. The win over Moravian last week put the Albright record at 11-12. In the four previous seasons under Gulian the Lions posted two winning seasons and two just below the .500 mark.

The task of acquiring a win over the Lancaster Countians may be quite a tall order, for F & M handed the Lions their worst beating this year 102-75, two weeks ago at Lancaster. Albright was never in that game after the first quarter, but a last period collapse caused the one-sided score. Mike DePaul scored 25 points in that game and then hit for the same number against Moravian last week for the third time this year. Bruce Riddell had 15 points and George Conrad collected 14 against the Dips.

Mike DePaul was a cinch to surpass his 383 points that he collected last year to lead the Albright scoring. He went into the Lehigh game on Wednesday with 382, and probably will break the 400 mark against the Diplomats. George Conrad bettered his 237 points of his freshman year by 140 points with his present total of 377.

Freshmen Bruce Riddell and Jim Foreman continue to display a promising scoring punch. Riddell's eight points against Moravian raised his total to 275, giving him a fair chance to top the 300 mark. Foreman has 183 markers to date. Capt. Croke, the Lion's playmaker, has 120 points.

The Diplomats will bring one of the best shots in the East in the person of "Gus" Carson Lovett, a nemesis to Albright. Lovett scored 29 points against the Red and White in the last outing, which was the same number of points he scored against the Reading collegians on the Albright court last year.

Franklin and Marshall will have Hen Eberle and Dale Ritter at the forward posts and these two divided 22 markers at Lancaster against the Lions. Kenny Davis, senior playmaker, and Lee Pitock will be Coach Woody Sponaugle's guards. The pair combined for 39 points in the previous game against the Lions.

Albright's JV's will be looking for revenge for its 65-56 loss to the F & M Frosh two weeks ago. Ron Pisano and Lou Hallock were high scorers in that game with 12 and 14 points respectively. The Baby Lions haven't fared too well this year, having posted a 6-13 record.

Albright	F & M

Warriors	148	149	2	3	.400
Kappa	76	129	1	3	.250
*Jacksons	0	0	0	6	.000

The APO men edged the Warriors 44-43 in the "A" league to knock them out of first place and go into that lofty spot themselves on the strength of a 4-0 record, which includes a forfeit win over the Gayblades on Monday. The Warriors secured their fourth win by defeating the Kappas 46-39, and they virtually assured them of third place.

The Zetas took over second place behind the APO's in the "A" loop by dumping the Gayblades, 53-40, and the Pi Taus, 54-34. Bob Krize scored 18 points in each of these games, but Dick Ebricht was top scorer for the Gayblades with 20 points. The Pi Taus squeezed out a 3938 win over the Kappas.

In the "B" league the APO's gave the Zeta team quite a scare by forcing the game into an overtime, only to lose 36-35 on Ted Kujawski's successful shot. The win enabled the Zetas to hold on to first place, having only to face the second place Stags on Monday to win the second half.

The Stags forged into a second place tie with APO by sweeping past the Kappas 35-20, and then upsetting the Warriors 45-30. The Warriors suffered an earlier loss at the hands of the Zetas, 44-39.

Action in the "B" league will end next week and the "A" loop will close the following week. Coach John Potskian announced that a volleyball league will get under way next Thursday. The four fraternities will have teams entered and the six team league will be rounded out with freshmen and daymen squads.

Dorm Women, APO Capture Trophies In Sports Night

The dorm women and Alpha Pi Omega Fraternity walked off victorious last Friday night by winning the annual Sports Night trophies.

The crowd witnessed several exciting exhibitions of competition in the men's events. The struggle between Jim Goss, for the Zeta's, and Dick Bell, representing the freshmen, in leg wrestling was a long battle before Bell finally took two out of three contacts. The horse and rider competition between the freshmen and daymen represented well-planned strategy until the freshmen were finally forced to give-in.

Boxing Draws Interest

The first of the boxing matches proved to be the most exciting. Jack Sudol, of the APOs, took the first round; the second went to Joe Czutno of the Kappas. It was the final round that decided the match in Sudol's favor.

Other victors in men's events included: ping-pong, APO, Kappa and Pi Tau; tug of war, Zeta, daymen and APO; horse and rider, Zeta and APO; high jump, daymen, Zeta and Pi Tau; leg wrestle, APO and Kappa; boxing, Zeta and daymen; wrestling, Pi Tau, Zeta and APO.

The APO's took first place in six events. Second were the Zetas, with fifty points. Next in order were the daymen, Pi Taus, Kappa and freshmen.

Daywomen, Pat's Tie

In the women's events, the daywomen and the Pats tied for second place, followed by the Mus. To cop first place, the dorm women beat the Pats in volleyball, the Mus in badminton and the daywomen in hop, skip and jump. They lost to the Mus in ping pong and to the Pats in the relay.

Other victories included daywomen over the Mus in volleyball; daywomen over Pats in badminton; Pats over daywomen in ping-pong and the Pats over the Mus in hop, skip and jump.

During the intermission Dean LeVan Smith auctioned goods donated by the faculty. The proceeds of this, plus the money from the programs and refreshments totaled approximately $110 and was donated to the WUS drive.

Pi Alpha Tau Dance Slated At Galen Hall

The annual spring dinner dance of the Pi Alpha Tau sorority is scheduled for May 22 at Galen Hall. The Pat week-end, to be held on the 21 and 22 of May, will be at Blue Mountain.

At the last meeting of the sorority on Monday evening, Sharline Heath was chosen pledgemaster for spring pledge season.

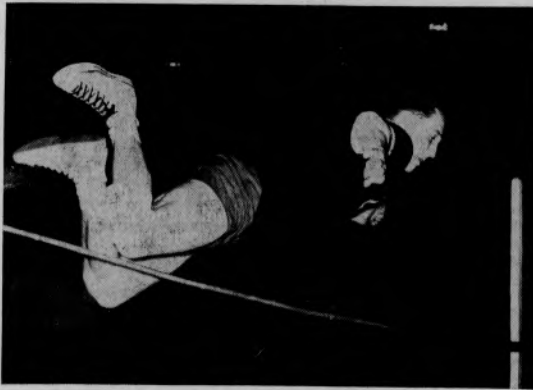

Lucy Schuman Prepares Sunday Vesper Service

Lucy Schuman, a freshman, will speak at the Sunday evening vesper service on March 7. She has prepared her talk on the subject, "Your Life." In comparing life with a journey, Miss Schuman will emphasize the responsibility of each person to be not only a pleasant traveler, but also to give of himself through the will of God. One of her main points will be based on the question, "What are we going to do with our lives?"

Conducting the mid-week vesper service March 10 will be Ivan Moyer, senior pre-ministerial student. The above services will begin at 7:00 p. m. in Sylvan Chapel.

Students are reminded of the cell group held each Tuesday morning in the employees dining room in Selwyn Hall at 7:30 a. m. Everyone is invited to attend these vesper services and cell groups.

Toeing The Mark

Although the Sports Night trophies were awarded to only the two top winners last Friday night, the evening produced many memorable moments for the other participating organizations as well. Pictured above is Pete LaRocco in the act of completing a high jump which gave his team ten coveted points.

Y To Present Fashion Show Tuesday; Male, Female Models To Participate

"What Not to Wear" is the topic for Y night, Tuesday, March 9, when a fashion show will be staged in the lower social room at 7:30 p. m. The models will include four boys and four girls. They are Walterine Szalay, Frances Wolf, Cynthia Winner, Janet Lanfranke, Theodore Tietge, Robert Fox, Allen Lentz and Oscar Benson.

Elizabeth Weilenmann will play the piano during the modeling and Lucy Schuman will be the commentator. Refreshments will be served after the show.

Co-chairmen of the evening are Lucy Schuman and Jonathan Kurtz.

Last week approximately fifty filled the lower social room to hear Dr. Dorothy Kleppinger, a Kutztown doctor, speak on "Love, Sex, and Marriage." She was assisted by a representative from Planned Parenthood Association in Reading.

Mealtime Prayer Cards Introduced

"Faith in God is the rock on which rests the freedom, progress and brotherly love among the peoples of the world." "This sort of thing" is a standard fixture on all tables in all Illinois Central Railroad dining cars. "This sort of thing" is printed on little cards, 3 inches by 4 1/2 inches, in cerise, chartreuse, pale green and gray. What they consist of are messages from the President of I. C., Wayne Johnson, an intensely religious man who believes in the power of prayer, and mealtime graces written for the cards by ministers of the three great faiths in America.

The prayer cards have been introduced on Albright campus and at all eating places appear these little printed cards for individual use. It was introduced last Wednesday at the beginning of Lent.

The idea of the prayer cards for use originated in a St. Louis restaurant. The idea has grown until last year, some 3,500 cards were placed on hundreds of tables of hundreds of dining cars. Printings have stepped up from 5,000 a month to 7,000 and no one knows where it will ride from there.

The prayer cards have encouraged young people to make up their own prayers. People are receptive to prayer while dining so for this reason students eating on Albright campus have found a unique item on the menu of late.

Reverend C. Derk To Speak Tuesday

Reverend C. Lamar Derk, pastor of St. Matthew's Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be the chapel speaker on March 9. A cultural program will be given by Robert McFerrin, baritone, on March 11. Mc McFerrin will present selections from German Lieder and Italian operas.

On Thursday the Pi Tau Beta fraternity sponsored the program, which featured the professional hypnotist, Mr. William Ernst. Several Albrightians were used as subjects during the course of the demonstration. Reverend Rollin T. Reiner, pastor of the West Lawn E.U.B. Church, was the Tuesday chapel speaker.

Cotton Usage Is Topic Of Textile Lecturer

"Cotton, New and Better Uses" was the topic Charles J. Kintner spoke on at the second in a series of lectures on textiles last Wednesday, March 3, in the Science Hall. The series is being sponsored by the college home economics department, of which Mrs. Anna Heere Smith is the head.

Nylon and wool are among the subjects of the remaining lectures by industrial representatives.

Dandy Lions

This New Jerseyite from East Rutherford has fond memories of "all those summer football camps" and all the new freshmen and people he meets each school year. He even expressed the opinion that he would definitely come back again to Albright if he had to.

Jack plans to enter Hahnemann Medical School in Philadelphia this fall after a summer of working at the DuMont Television Laboratory and spending his leisure time dancing and fishing at the shore, besides just having fun.

Jack says he's the very serious and quiet type. Following this remark, though, he said his life's ambition was to become a "missionary witch doctor in Africa." We wonder! Regardless of what his ambition, we wish luck to one of Albright's Dandiest Lions.

appendages and sagging mandible, he trudges his way to the dining room to refuel with carbohydrates, proteins, and fats. Then, as he reposes on his gluteous maximus, he vigorously sets his cupidus into motion by means of his masseter. With the help of ptylin, his food is gradually prepared for peristaltic movement in G minor. Eventually, his smooth gastric collagenous fibers begin their contractions and at long last his Rice Crispies are all ready to pass on through his pylorus after which he will feel quite content. He will then don his woollens and go out into the elements and on his way to the other school (the Ad building).

In conclusion, always remember—"The ontology of the individual is but a recapitulation of the phylogeny of the species."
Class dismissed.

Via The Mail Bag . . .

News in the brief from other colleges has brought to light some highly interesting and several astounding bits of information.

It is now possible for a six-year-old to attend the University of Southern California. He may enroll in courses in rhythm, piano and orchestra.

A professor at the University of Indiana has solved the cheating problem—at least temporarily. He placed classroom desks in a horseshoe arrangement around the room, about three feet apart. Then he left, telling the students they were on their honor. But—if anyone tried to look on another person's paper, everyone else would see him.

Enterprising juniors at the University of Utah have produced what is believed to be the most unusual junior prom in the country. The big dance, top social event, was held in the historic rotunda of the Utah State Capitol.

Sauerkraut Supper

A sauerkraut supper will be served in Krause Hall preceding the Franklin and Marshall basketball game Saturday, March 6, from 5-7 p. m. Students, their parents and families are invited. Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 60c for children.

Phi Delta Sigma Inducts 7 Senior Women As Pledges

Annual induction ceremony was held last evening in Selwyn Parlor for Phi Delta Sigma pledges. Phi Delta Sigma is the women's honorary alumnae sorority, and pledges are chosen each year. Inducted in last evening's service were Michellina Cacciola, Eleanor Dick, Dorothy DeLaney, Barbara Farris, Margaret Locher, Virginia Marick and Jacqueline Zwoyer.

WUS Speaker

Albrecht Bendziula, recent visitor to the Albright campus in conjunction with the World University Service Drive, was guest speaker at last Thursday's convocation. Serving as secretary of the WUS National Committee, he was influential in our own fund raising campaign.

UN Conference to be held at Alfred University. Albright's delegation will represent Yemen. The club was also informed of the formation of a Berks County Chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action. If any member of the student body is interested in joining this political action group contact Mahlon Frankhauser.

Octet To Be Guests On Television Sunday

The Albright octet will be guests on a WEEU-TV program on Monday evening, March 8, at 7:00 p. m. The numbers presented will include "Come, Come Ye Saints," Cornwall; "Jacob's Ladder," Wilson; "I Believe," Drake, Graham, Shirk and Stillman; "Set Down Servant," Shaw; "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," Mason.

J. Bash To Read Paper At Philosophy Meeting

John Bash will present his philosophy of life at the regular monthly meeting of the Philosophy Club, Monday, March 8, at Prof. Haskell's home.

Also to be discussed are the final plans for a proposed trip to Yale University in the beginning of May. The club, going for a two day trip, will speak with Dr. Calhoun, noted philosopher and theologian, at the university. This trip will take the place of the annual spring banquet.
