Foreign Student Program Debated By College Council

An investigation of the possibility of supporting a student from one of the foreign areas of the Evangelical United Brethren Church will be made by Student Council, according to action taken last Tuesday.

This action followed receipt of a letter from Dr. Carl Heinmiller, general secretary of the Department of World Missions of the E.U.B. Church. Doctor Heinmiller revealed that a plan has been formulated whereby each of the colleges and seminaries of the denomination can provide education for one student for one year.

According to the proposed plan, the denomination would be responsible for the transportation of the students to this country, their tuition and fees, and the student bodies for room, board, books and incidental expenses. Every student would be guaranteed a self-help job to apply toward his living expenses.

To Honor Grads

Doctor Heinmiller's letter was received by President Harry V. Masters and turned over to Council so that student opinion could be voiced. The motion to look into the matter was made by Vincent Gentile.

Marilyn Himmelstein reported to Council that the annual dinner in honor of February graduates will be held next Tuesday, January 16 at 6 o'clock at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room.

Cue Requests Material For Yearbook Write-up

All organizations must present a list of their officers, members, and events to the Cue staff before February 1 if they desire a write-up in the yearbook. This list should be put in Ben Reynolds' mailbox in the Albrightian office.

Danford Discloses Registration Plans

Registration for next semester will take place on Thursday, January 18 in Union Hall. From 9 o'clock to 12 noon there will be registration for seniors and juniors and the sophomores and freshmen will be able to register in the afternoon from 1:30 P. M. to 4 P. M. The procedure will be the same as the previous registration in the fall.

The letters "ab" on the schedule sheets indicate that the course is given throughout the year and the letters "a" and "b" indicate that the course will be given in the first and second semester respectively. Students should plan their schedule before registration and consult their advisor if they need help. There will also be a tentative summer schedule available at registration.

Mr. Danford, registrar, is planning to talk to all men who are eligible for military service under the Selective Service Act. He will outline the present regulations and practices of the draft boards and discuss the recommendations that have been made to congress for deferment of college students. Mr. Danford scheduled meetings with the freshmen and junior men yesterday and the senior and sophomore men next Tuesday at 11:10 A. M. in the chapel.

Albrightian Staff To Conduct Trial Editorship Period

All sophomores and juniors who are members of The Albrightian staff and desire editorship positions on next year's staff are requested to sign up for them in The Albrightian office before January 26. A notice has been posted on the office bulletin board.

There are openings for the following positions: editor-in-chief, managing editor, business manager, news editor, assistant news editor, feature editor, sports editor, copy editor, circulation and exchange editor and radio news editor.

The trial editor period, conducted under the supervision of the present editors will last from February 9 through February 23. During that time the trial editors will perform each week the regular duties entailed in the positions desired, and will be instructed by the present office-holders. Assistant editors will be chosen in the same way. Any staff member interested in learning the methods involved are invited to participate.

The new staff will officially take over the April 13 issue.

Interfrat Council Rates Fraternities

At a meeting of the Interfraternity Council on Monday, January 8 Ralph Wagner, president, told the members that the trophies which will be given for outstanding scholarship have been received by the Council. They will be awarded at the Interfraternity Council dance in April. Prior to this date they will be displayed in the library.

The Council is now compiling a list of contributions which the fraternities on campus have made to the college.

There was a discussion of a letter from the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees which stated that the committee on fraternities favors expansion of the fraternities on campus. They are in favor of fraternity houses and will do what they can to help the organizations in this matter. However, at the present time they do not feel that the fraternities should expand beyond the local campus although the committee promised a statement on this at a later date.

A proposal was made that the Interfraternity Council should award a trophy to the winner of the fraternity basketball league. No decision was made on this measure.

Spring Y Retreat Chairmen Named

Jay Shenk and Jean Magee with the approval of the Y Cabinet appointed the co-chairmen for the annual spring Y Retreat which will be held on April 28-29. Dean Hoffman and Pat Miller will take charge of the event. The date for the Sports Carnival was announced as Friday, March 9.

William A. Heck, Jay Shenk and Norman Snook gave reports of the Miami conference at the cabinet meeting on Tuesday, January 9. Mark Jordan was appointed as co-chairman with Evelyn Kressler for the Christian Faith and Heritage Commission. Ralph Stutzman has resigned his position.

Commission meetings will be held on Tuesday, January 16 at 7:30 P. M. Rev. Harry Dewire will speak on Christian Ethics at the meeting of the Christian Faith and Heritage. Geneva Bolton has resigned as chairman of the Racial Equality Commission and at the meeting on Tuesday night the group will elect a new leader and discuss plans for next semester gatherings. Percy Brown will lead the Social Responsibility Commission meeting.

Student Council Reverses Decision Made to Sever Relationship with N.S.A.

Student Council reversed its decision of October 10 to disaffiliate from the National Student Association, in action taken last Tuesday. The decision was reached chiefly because of the incorrect understanding which Council had last fall of the relationship between student government organizations and N.S.A.

Action followed reports of the December meeting of the Pennsylvania Region of N.S.A. by Marilyn

Albright Rallies To Reverse Hawks

Coach Eddie Gulan's charges overcame a seven-point deficit last Wednesday night to defeat St. Joseph's Hawks in the last period, 61-74, on the home floor. The Lion JV's took the measure of Richard's Toys, 53-32, in the preliminary contest.

Led by Danny Bieber, Bob Ruoff and Al Pollack, the Lions surged ahead in the final chapter with a thirty point outburst to overcome a 58-51 third period deficit. As the heat of the battle increased six players, two of whom were Lions, took the long walk to the showers.

Bieber Tabs 19

Sharpshooting Danny Bieber led the Lion hoopsters with nineteen points on eight field goals and three charity tosses followed by Ruoff and Pollack who got fourteen markers each. Tony Papaneri led the visitors with twenty-one tallies for the high mark in the contest.

Lee Cappel and Ruoff netted two pointers as the final frame opened to cut the Hawks' lead to a 60-54 count. After Johnny Hughes sank a foul for the visitors Gerry Potts and Pat Bieber quickly canned aces for the hosts to narrow the margin to 61-58. Potts registered a deuce and Pat Bieber followed up with a free toss to cut the visitors' margin to 61-58.

Potts again canned a lay-up and Pollack exchanged baskets with Phil Brady to deadlock the game at 64-64 with less than four minutes remaining to play. Danny Bieber, Ruoff and Pollack then proceeded to go on a scoring spree to boost the Lions' cause and give them their final 81-74 margin.

Last Wednesday's victory was the fourth triumph for the Lions in a series that started in 1929. St. Joseph's quint has won ten of the previous meetings with the teams dividing counters last season.

Berks Alumni Plan To Meet Jan. 18

The newly organized Berks County Alumni Club will hold its first meeting in the form of a buffet supper on Thursday, January 18 at 6:30 P. M. Nominations and election of officers will be held at this meeting. Entertainment will consist of a one-act play featuring Kathleen Guenther, Alma Natanblut, Richard Stinson and Leonard Buxton, directed by Mrs. Annadora V. Shirk. The Albright Glee Club will sing several selections.

All Albright seniors of Berks County are invited to attend. Reservations must be in the Alumni office by Tuesday, January 16. The fee for the supper is one dollar.

Himmelstein and William A. Heck, Albright's delegates. Questions which the Council members had were answered by Kenneth R. Kurtz, president of the Pennsylvania Region.

NSA Benefits Told

Heck pointed out that there should be no distinction between the student government groups already in existence and the National Student Association. Programs of N.S.A. may be adapted to fit the needs and interests of each campus and carried out by standing committees or by groups specifically chosen for each activity. At the present time the Albright Council has two such committees—the faculty evaluation and World Student Service Fund groups.

The interchange of ideas among students from many colleges and universities is of great benefit, Miss Himmelstein told Council. John Wise objected that the cost of sending delegates to the various N.S.A. meetings was one of the chief reasons for Albright's disaffiliation. Kurtz replied that if not all of the conventions can be attended, benefit may be derived from the reports of them which are sent to all member schools.

Disaffiliation Not Filled

Albright's exact relationship to N.S.A. before the action to reverse the disaffiliation could not be ascertained definitely. A letter from Elmer Paul Brock, national vice-president in charge of student affairs, indicated that Albright's letter of disaffiliation would not be filed until the local Council had a chance to reconsider.

The motion that Student Council reinstate Albright College as an active member of N.S.A. was made by Vincent Gentile and seconded by Kathleen M. Guenther. The motion carried with little opposition.

College Enrollment Decrease Likely

A ten per cent decrease in enrollment during the second semester and a 20 per cent decline by next fall are anticipated by Albright College authorities because of the national emergency, Mr. Newton S. Danford, registrar, disclosed earlier this week.

"We are already making plans for curtailment of overhead expenses," he said. "Like many other institutions faced with smaller student bodies, we too are also faced with considering the size of our faculty for resulting smaller classes."

Mr. Danford revealed that the present enrollment at Albright is 684, of which 492 are men. One hundred and 74 of these are veterans, leaving 318 non-veterans subject to call by the armed forces. Since September 17 men have withdrawn for the service, including two who enlisted.

"We've been in constant consultation with our men students and have told them it is to their advantage and to the national interest to remain in school as long as possible," Mr. Danford said. "We stress that the nation's military leaders have repeatedly pointed this out."

"This is a day of specialization and the nation needs specialists. Apparently this is a long range program of military service and any wholesale depletion of the colleges would certainly work a hardship on the future of this country."

Stabler Appointed to Administrative Committee for Educational Series

Mr. Lester L. Stabler has been appointed as a member of a special administrative committee for the WFIL-TV "University of the Air" programs. The purpose of this committee is to decide and consider the problems of the policy concerning the current series of programs as a whole and also individual problems. The committee will make suggestions leading to program changes and improvements and study the whole problem of presenting educational programs through the television medium. Plans will be made for the 1951-52 series beginning in September.

This sub-committee is under a larger one composed of the 21 participating colleges and universities. Mr. Stabler is Albright's representative for the educational series.

Meritt Presents Course

"Nuclear Physics for the Layman," taught by Dr. Thomas Meritt, is being presented every Tuesday from 11:10 A. M. to 11:30 A. M. The "term" for the courses will consist of two series of eleven weeks each. "University of the Air" is designed to bring the classroom to the home five days a week in an area covering sections of three states. Mimeographed pamphlets for each program have been prepared and are available to viewers. Suggestions for note-taking will be made by the instructors on the programs.

Homework will vary with the course and instructor, and all pamphlets will contain information for those who wish to do outside reading in connection with the programs. No college credits will be given for the television education.

21 Colleges Represented

Colleges and universities which are represented in the first series of telecasts, and the subjects to be covered are the following: Albright College, "Nuclear Physics for the Layman"; Beaver College, "Understanding Economics"; Drexel Institute, "Understanding our Teen-Age Children"; Pennsylvania State

A Prayer for the New Year

Our Father in Heaven:

We began a new year here on earth twelve days ago—the brave new year of 1951. There were laughter and gaiety as we welcomed the first day of January . . . horn blowing and shouting . . . plenty to eat and drink . . . and, of course, the usual new year's resolutions. But as another year dawned, we all knew that our show of gaiety and our hopes for 1951 were but pitifully poor attempts to conceal the utter futility and deadly sense of not really caring which many of us felt.

We looked at this world which You created . . . and thought of all the people whom You put here to live with one another in mutually creative activities . . . and realized what a glorious mess we've made of everything. This thing we see around us is civilization, you know—progressive, triumphant civilization.

We've come a long way from the backwardness of the jungle where men killed each other with poisoned arrows. Now we do it humanely with atomic bombs that blot out thousands of lives in a matter of seconds. Thirty years ago we had just concluded a war to end all wars. Then five years ago we ended another one just to make sure. Well, what our boys are in now in Korea is just "police action," so I guess we shouldn't feel too badly. Our loved ones and friends are giving their lives in the desolation of Korea for an ideal that You told us about two thousand years ago, but we suppose even this won't teach us our lesson. You see, now we're preparing for peace—in the United States, and Russia, and elsewhere. Anyone who looks at all the guns and tanks and bombs we're stock-piling can tell that's what we're preparing for.

We don't want to be bitter as this new year begins. We don't want to be cynical, or despairing, or unconcerned. It's just that we're so dreadfully confused. We want to believe that our dreams may yet come true . . . that we can know and do the Right . . . that You'll give us one more chance.

Faith, courage and guidance—these are the things we ask You for as 1951 begins . . . faith that Right will yet triumph, that the aspirations of our highest selves will yet be realized . . . courage to live nobly even in the face of death, and perhaps the more difficult courage to pursue our daily tasks knowing that any day they may end . . . guidance to make order out of confusion, to know what is the Right, and to do it.

Grant us these blessings, we pray. Amen.

A Decision Reversed

The correction of honest mistakes should cause no one shame. In acting to reverse its decision to disaffiliate from the National Student Association, the Albright Student Council took a stand which will likely prove to be of great value.

There were very few students on campus last fall who understood that student government and N.S.A. are synonymous. The realization that they are gives value to affiliation with the national group which was previously lacking.

We commend Council for reinstating Albright College as an active member of N.S.A.

Finals Are Coming

Christmas vacation is past—gone, finished, kaput. My finances are past—gone, finished, kaput. The decorations are slowly fading from my eyes, and the world is beginning to seem real again. I've work to do, assignments overdue, bills to pay, people to say "Hi" to in the biting cold weather that would drive even a self-respecting worm back into his hole in the ground, a worm with an I. Q. of 10. But I don't mind, really, for I know, deep down, in my overworked and undernourished heart that the most grotesquely real "thing" I know of is about to happen. I do not call "them" (or it) by the name assigned to "them," for the mere writing of it makes me grimace until the enamel is grinding off of my first four incisors.

You know to what I'm referring—when the men walk around with bleak, coffee-stained eyeballs, wrinkled trousers, smudged collars, their hair greasy, and their feet emitting a ripe odor; and when their bobby-socks look as much like bobby as I do. People, their noses, eyes, and sagging eyebags dropped in open books where they collide with each other, muttering unintelligible groans. Friends become fellow course and crib-mates. Dogs become the personification of profs and receive savage kicks from students. Days and nights are reversed and sometimes become as the same nightmare. The world assumes an unreal aura, and our brains become foggy, confused, muddled and inefficient until we're not even certain of our names, our identities. We're the most persecuted persons in the world, and we steep ourselves in self-pity and now we'll admit that we don't care.

Yes, fellow sufferers, fill that pen and sharpen that pencil and catch up with your sleep, for final exams are a reality!

Science Slants

The Merner Pfeiffer Hall of Science has been a madhouse of frustrated individuals with the first semester coming to an end. Biology drawings to be completed, general unknowns to be analyzed, physical chemistry data to be tabulated and reported, all these and more constitute this pinnacle of confusion, yet out of this agony there arise those individuals with a few words of encouragement.

Most of the "good word" comes from the junior pre-med class in their attempts to cheer up the miserable ones. Elliott Sauertieg has always a pleasant smile and happy word about his state of affairs. When asked if he were busy, Elliott simply retorted with a cheery, "What do they think I am . . . an animal?"

Another member of the same class is a young lady not prone to profanity or anticlerical statements; and, when we asked Winnie if she were kept occupied, she moaned, "Death, where is thy sting!"

The senior pre-med class, having been vaccinated to this atmosphere purely by experience, takes this phase of college life with stoical good grace. Observing them as a group, you may see them syncope about with an expression of complete contentment across their countenance. (Syncope is a musical term referring to an oscillating movement from bar to bar.) This undoubtedly verifies their attitude toward final preparation for final examinations.

Escaping the pre-med group, one approaches the chem majors to seek their outlook on the finals. The opinion of Blaine Schmeil is of deep concern to us all for Blaine's pragmatic point of view may contribute much to this discussion. The only comment we could obtain from Blaine was, "Amen, brother, Amen."

Lew Krimen is a little elated over the conclusion of the semester. As we all know, Lew will leave Albright at the end of this semester to go to the graduate school of chemistry at the University of Illinois. We will not go into a lengthy discussion of Lew's achievements at Albright but will say, "Bon voyage, Lew!"

If one of our Liberal Arts students passes through our monastery, please do not gape at the haggard one you see there as you usually do, but remember it may be neither arts student taking Science Fundamentals.

The other day in English 4 an impromptu speaker was bemoaning the lack of rah-rah college life at Albright. Just in case you've got time between working, dashing off five or six term papers, sleeping now and mostly then, or attending an occasional class, how's about borrowing Dad's raccoon coat, buying an Arthur Godfrey ukelele, (it now has an automatic tuner for the tone deaf) dirtying your white shoes, and maybe dying your hair red with a narrow white stripe down the middle so we'll know you're true to Alma Mater. Then drop down to the nearest rathskellar (pub, ice cream parlor and similar synonyms) and proceed to compose some "old" college songs over a friendly stein of root beer.

Not too long ago Life did a story on the University of Miami. In case you saw the same pictures of these guys and dolls studying aboard plush lined surf boards or indulging in art appreciation of a pin-up variety, prepare to be disillusioned. This writer happened over Christmas

This week's Dandy, Barbara Miller, tells us that she, too, is stricken with that rare malady that inevitably follows a Christmas vacation—"don't-want-to-get-back-to-studying-itis." Hailing from Washington, D. C., Babs refers to the recent vacation with a faraway look in her eyes. But we know that secretly she's glad to be back, to chalk up one more semester's credit.

A senior, Babs is short, brunette, and is the possessor of one of the most friendly smiles and warmest personalities that grace our campus. For the past year Babs has been president of the Dorm Council, a job that she handles quite efficiently; constantly at the bat to maintain an understanding and promote friendly relations between the inhabitants of Selwyn Hall and the administration is quite a task.

We of The Albrightian have worked with Babs for four years, and this year are glad to have her performing in the capacity of News Editor. Babs sweats out the deadline every Wednesday night, but usually tries to see the basketball games whenever possible. A member of the Phi Beta Mu sorority for four years, she acts as corresponding secretary for this group this year. Another organization that claimed Babs was the Women's Student Senate in which she served for two years. Also, she is the treasurer of the Future Teachers of America chapter this year.

With her social science major, Babs has been a two year member of Pi Gamma Mu, and with a minor in history she plans to student teach at Northeast Junior High School next semester. We envy your students, Babs, for we know you'll make history come to life for them. Of all her courses Babs prefers political science so she can keep up with our changing world.

We wish you a successful life, Babs, and we know that with your outlook on life, you can't miss.

The Present Situation

Must liberty fail during the present international crisis? Are concepts this nation cherished since its unnatural birth in a world of conservatism going to be eventually discarded to meet a "logical" consistency for the general welfare of our people? These questions, nutely thrust into the background while the fight against international Communism looms predominant, apparently seem of so little current significance to the American mind that only occasionally are they mentioned by a representative segment of our newspapers. Granted, it is true, that between long periods of silence on the matter, our courageous press utters a few platitudinous warnings that we must defend our liberty in these stark days.

It is only a few cautious defenders of the nation's heritage that have the guts to tell this country it is drifting rapidly toward thought control to gain rallied enthusiasm for internal stability.

Lest a few college people receive the impression they have inherited the liberalism of the twenties, it is safe to agree with several prominent educators who say the current college group is remarkably apathetic about practically everything except mediocre aspirations and dangerous, unconcerned about their potentiality for leading the nations.

The "freedom in the absence of clear and present danger" concept is being outmoded by the exigencies of the past war era. As a method of combating sedition at home, we have had recourse to various "democratic" methods including guilt by association—loyalty boards—to Senator McCarthys, and the worst recent insult to dead Jeffersonians, the obnoxious McCarran Law.

The moot question we must decide is not whether we shall allow men belonging to a group committed to destroying the liberty which allows them to speak as they please, for that problem has long since been solved by history. It is the blundering illusion that we are more efficiently propagandizing the American mind by legally attempting to curb thought that succeeds in confusing and scaring poor John Doe who also read in his grammar school history that America is the land of liberty. The end result of all this legal nonsense incited by John Doe's politicians and newspapers and takers up by the learned men of the land is an overwhelming mass of negative dogma crowding out the positive creed on which the nation was founded.

It might perhaps be better to let a time proved postulate of democracy again take precedence in contemporary times lest the striking evidence of damage already done mounts simultaneously with the growth of a sickening reaction. Reaction here is still incipient but not without potentiality, amply demonstrated recently by the president of the University of Washington who declared serenely that there is every reason to believe that any person distressed with the race problem or the present inequality of wealth—that person is a Red.

GREYHOUNDS TO BATTLE IN LIONS' DEN

Victory Happy Lions Invade Annville, Take Lebanon Valley Tournament Trophy

The Lions invaded Annville on Thursday, December 28 to compete in the Lebanon Valley Invitational Tournament held in the new gym of Lebanon Valley College over a three day period and walked away with the trophy after downing Scranton in the finals, 76-65.

In the opening contest played on Thursday afternoon, December 28, the Cats rallied after a first half deficit to defeat the Greyhounds of Moravian, 64-61. They overtook the Greyhounds in the third period by assuming a 48-43 lead.

Potts Scores 33
Gerry Potts sparked the Albright rally by scoring thirty-three markers. In the final chapters the lead changed hands six times and the outcome was not decided until the final minutes. After breaking a 61-61 tie the Lions clinched the game on a free toss by Bob Ruoff and a deuce by Al Pollack.

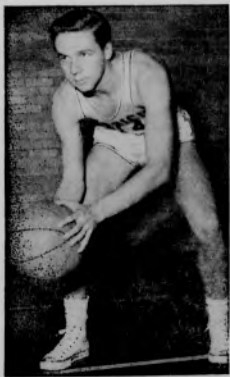

In the semi finals played at 7:00 P. M. the following evening, the Cats trimmed Elizabethtown, who had defeated Dickinson and P.M.C. the previous day, 47-39. After a first period deadlock of ten all, the Lions went on to grab a 22-14 half-time lead on sharp shooting by Gerry Potts, Ruoff, Dick Whitman and Pat Bieber.

Ruoff Helps Cause
Ruoff bounced back to net eleven markers in the third stanza to increase the Lions' cause by a wider margin. Potts again proved high scorer with fifteen points to his credit followed by Ruoff with thirteen.

The battle weary Lions entered the final phase of the tourney on Saturday, December 30 and went on to win the team championship trophy and individual player medals. The victory happy Cats trounced the Royals, 76-65, in what proved to be their best game of the season. The Lions successfully looped twenty-six of thirty-four free tosses attempted compared to Royals' nine.

Cats Command
From the opening minutes the local hoopsters commanded the contest and grabbed a first period 17-13 lead which they extended to 37-31 at halftime and 48-33 at the third quarter mark. In the third frame the Royals burned up the courts with a twenty-five point spree to cut the Albrightians' lead to a 60-58 count but were quickly held from any further successes. Lee Cappel led the victorious Lions with a total of eighteen points.

Forwards Bob Ruoff and Gerry Potts were voted to tournament all-star team along with Al Murawski of Lebanon Valley, Walt Lenz of F & M, and Tom Rittenhouse of Scranton. Murawski was named the most valuable player in the tournament.

Bieber's Ace Gives Cats Scranton Win

The Lions played four scheduled games during the Christmas holidays, dropping three to West Chester, Bucknell and Muhlenberg while downing Scranton's quintet in the fourth. During the same period the JV's won two of the three games that they played.

Last Saturday night at Allentown the Lions lost a close 71-68 battle to the Mules of Muhlenberg College during the closing minutes of play after gaining a seven point edge. The Mules grabbed two quick goals in the last 26 seconds of play to turn what looked like an apparent victory into a heart-breaking defeat.

Bob Ruoff, Lee Cappel and Gerry Potts tabbed 15, 14 and 13 points respectively for the visitors in a futile effort to help the Albright cause. The Baby Mules reversed the Baby Lions, 49-46, in the final minute of play in the opening game. George Amole lead the Albright jayvees with seventeen points.

Out Shoot Royals

On Wednesday, January 4 the Albright basketweavers defeated the Scranton Royals in a scheduled Western Division, Middle Atlantic Conference league fray, 58-56, in an extra period on the Royals' home floor. In the preliminary battle the Baby Lions outshot the Royals' JV's in a close 53-52 duel. Connie Dettling scored seven points for the victorious Baby Lions.

After trailing by a 35-29 count at the end of the third period the Lions rallied and deadlocked the contest in the final seconds of play at 48 all on Ruoff's pushup from under the hoop, forcing the game into an extra frame. Al Pollack sank two deuces while Potts, Ruoff and Danny Bieber each had singletons. Danny Bieber's final two pointer on a lay up gave the Lions the smell of victory.

Bisons Win

On Wednesday, December 20 the varsity hoopsters lost their first hoop fray against Bucknell in ten years, 74-58, at Lewisburg. A twenty-one point surge in the first quarter and an identical mark in the second gave the Bisons an unsurmountable lead. The junior varsity did not accompany the varsity on this trip.

In this last contest before Christmas and the Lebanon Valley tourney, the tired "mailmen" were led by Ruoff with six two pointers and five free tosses for seventeen markers. Joe Gallagher headed the victorious Bisons with twenty-two points on five goals and twelve charity throws.

Lions Upset

West Chester State Teachers' College upset the Albright squad on Saturday, December 23 in a 63-53 brawl played on the Northwest floor before 1200 fans. The Baby Lions won, 48-33, to give the home fans some consolation. The Rams, who had a seventeen and two record last season, had sweet revenge on the Lions for last year's disaster.

The Teachers broke a 30-30 half-time deadlock to take a third period 46-36 advantage and held on for the remainder of the game. Gerry Potts headed the Lion hoopsters with fourteen points on four goals and six charity tosses. Bob Ruoff followed with ten points, all scored in the second frame.

Cats Seek Third League Win in Moravian Fracas

Werpehoski, Stengele Lead Coach Gil Gillespie's Squad in Scoring Ability

Albright College's contingent of hard fighting basketweavers is scheduled to face the Moravian Greyhounds for the second time this season tomorrow at 8:00 P. M. when the Moravian quintet will journey to the Lions' den at Northwest to avenge a narrow 64-61 defeat at the hands of the Cats in the early stages of the Lebanon Valley tourney. In the preliminary to the varsity event Coach Bobby Hicks' Baby Lions will face the Junior Greyhounds for the first time as neither of these teams participated in the Lebanon Valley tournament.

FROSH GUARD

Al Pollack

The varsity fracas will be the third league game for the Cats and in it they will also be seeking their third league win. The Lions have already defeated Lebanon Valley and Scranton in league battles, both of which were fought on the opponents' courts. In their first and only league contest of the season thus far the Greyhounds trounced the Scranton Royals, 73-57, on their home court last Saturday night.

Split Last Year

Last season's two contests with the Greyhounds resulted in one win for each of the league rivals. In the first contest at Northwest the Cats overpowered the Blue and Grey by the score of 75-56, but in the return fracas in Bethlehem the Greyhounds dropped the Cats from the league lead with a 76-66 victory. In this contest Moravian's Bill Werpehoski, then a junior, singlehandedly racked up 27 points for the victors.

The outstanding achievement in this year's tournament contest with Moravian was Gerry Potts' final box score of twelve field goals and nine foul tosses for a grand total of 33 points. In the third period the Cats pulled from a first half 39-27 deficit to a 49-49 tie and clinched the fracas at 64-61 with some rapid fire timely scoring in the final stanza. Top men for the Greyhounds in this contest were Willie Lobb with 19 tallies, Werpehoski with 15 and Johnny Stengele with 10 points.

High-Scoring Forwards

Coach Harvey D. (Gil) Gillespie boasts two high-scoring forwards in Werpehoski and Stengele. Last year, after three years of varsity play, Werpehoski had set a new Moravian scoring record with his total of 1,087 points in 65 games for an average of 16.7 points per game. Last season in 20 games Werpehoski tallied 279 markers for an average of 18.95 per game. His colleague in the forward slot, Stengele, racked up 225 points in 20 games last year for an average of 11.3 tallies per game.

Two other returning lettermen on the Blue and Grey squad are Lobb, high scorer against the Cats in the Lebanon Valley Tournament, and Hank Wieder, six foot, two inch pivotman and fourth man in the scoring department with the Greyhounds last season. The two outstanding performers in the guard slots for the Moravian quintet are sophomore Jerry Labanz and freshman Jimmy Smith, a brilliant floor player and push shot artist from Bethlehem High School.

Lionesses Attend Girls' Hoop Clinic

The annual basketball clinic for high school femme hoopsters was held for the surrounding high schools on Wednesday, December 13, at Mount Penn High School. The annual clinic was sponsored by the Berks County Women's Officials' Association and was attended by girls' varsity squads from all the Berks County High Schools.

The president of the Women's Officials' Organization opened the clinic with a few remarks and then introduced the guest speaker, who discussed the fundamentals, rules, and techniques of girls' basketball. The Albright femme squad followed her talk with a demonstration of the fundamentals of basketball, and then showed the techniques of footwork and shooting. The Lebanon Valley girls' squad, which was also present, demonstrated the various fouls and the techniques of preventing them.

A scrimmage between the Lionesses and the Lebanon Valley femmes was the closing event of the clinic. Two eight minute stanzas were played from which the Lionesses emerged victorious by the 6 minute score of 7-6.

The first scheduled fracas for the Albright lassies is against the Alumnæ on Friday, February 9. Meanwhile Coach Eva Mosser is putting her charges through their paces at Northeast Junior High.

NCAA Holds Conference on Sanity Code, TV, Bowl Games and Spring Practices

Hundreds of Coaches and faculty representatives from colleges large and small have gathered in Dallas, Texas, to discuss such vital topics as the sanity code, television, bowl games and spring grid practices that will be of importance to college sports during the coming year. Heading the agenda of the committee is a scheduled debate on the controversial sanity code.

The sanity code, which deals primarily with financial aid to college athletes, has been attacked by many members of the NCAA since its adoption three years ago. Six amendments have been proposed to modify the Code which range from the abolition of it entirely to "slight changes aimed at seeking enough border-line votes for gaining a two-thirds majority necessary to make the code effective."

Aside from the regular NCAA meeting other groups scheduling sessions were the American Football Coaches' Association, the National Collegiate Track Coaches Association, the American Association of College Baseball Coaches, the American Public Relations Association and the National Football Hall of Fame board of directors.

Other items on the agenda are the discussions of whether to permit televising major college grid contests since the 14.88 drop in attendance last season, whether or not to permit post season bowl games, and the abolition of spring football practice.

There will be a luncheon at which Tris Speaker will be named as the first member of the Texas Sports Writers' Association's Hall of Fame. At the Scripps-Howard newspapers' annual coach of the year dinner Princeton's Charley Caldwell, who was named coach of the year, will be honored.

S.C.A.M. Confab at Miami U. Draws Significant Conclusions

By Jay R. Shenk

Norman Snook, William A. Heck and Jay Shenk represented the Albright Christian Associations at the National Assembly of the Student Christian Association Movement held at Miami U., Oxford, Ohio from December 27 to January 2. Approximately 1500 students and faculty met together for mutual fellowship, insight, and inspiration as well as to determine what should be the guiding principles of the movement over the next four years.

The student delegates heard some of the best informed persons of the world and nation speak to them on such topics as "America and the World Struggle," "The Christian Faith" and "Christian Vocation." Some of these persons were Vera Micheles Dean, Director of Research Department Foreign Policy Association; James A. Pike, Chaplain of Columbia University; Alexander Miller, former General Secretary of New Zealand SCM (Lex also recently spoke at an Albright Y retreat and last summer was professor of Christian Social Ethics at Union Seminary where Jean Magee and Jay Shenk attended Leadership Training School); Kirtley F. Mather, Harvard professor and President of American Association for the Advancement of Science; and many other outstanding world Christian leaders.

Each morning the delegates spent a period in Bible Study followed by corporate morning worship under the leadership of Joseph F. King, Homiletics professor at Oberlin Seminary. Then the delegates separated into various smaller groups to deal with the problems of what God requires in personal life, higher education, the Church, the nation and world and to prepare and present to all the delegates in a legislative session their conclusions and recommendations to guide the program of the SCAM for the next four years.

High worship experiences of the conference were the Sunday morning communion observance led by Herbert King, pastor of a large Harlem Church, and the New Year's Eve Watchnight services. The New Year was brought in with the hymn "God of Grace and God of Glory." The rest of the night was a gay celebration with music and dancing in the streets of Oxford going on into the wee hours.

When the statements from the various groups were brought to the floor and presented to the delegates for debate and action it, was evident that all those present were vitally concerned that the results would be as close as possible to what God really required. Significant conclusions reached by the Assembly were that Christian students should have a better understanding of the doctrines of the faith, that Christian Associations should present a forthright Christian witness in colleges and universities and that more Bible study should be done.

To attend this Assembly was to have one's hope renewed. There are many students, leaders today and tomorrow, who believe that the good news of Christ is relevant to our present personal and world problems; and they are totally committed to following Christ as Lord, to loving all persons, to living sacrificially. There are students truly seeking to do what God requires; and rather than serve the idols of prestige, success, wealth, fame, self-satisfaction, they seek to serve the One God who has showed man what is good . . . to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with God.

'Cue' Seeks Pictures

The Cue urgently needs snapshots. Please leave the negatives or shots in Dorothy Stavrides' mailbox in the Cue office. Individual pictures for the fraternity and sorority pages are being scheduled.

Debaters to Meet Two State Schools

Albright upheld the negative side in a debate with Lafayette College in Easton on January 5. Albright's debaters were Russell F. Weigley and Raymond C. Schlegel. There was no judge.

Musical Organization Constitution Adopted

The Albright College band and orchestra have held two special meetings to form a new musical organization on campus. The purpose of the organization will be to promote tours and more activities for these organizations. The business manager of the Glee Clubs expressed the opinion that that group would not be interested in joining the new organization. A constitution was adopted for the group at a meeting on Wednesday, January 10.

Seniors Reminded To Bring Pictures

Senior women are reminded to bring their pictures next week and give them to Nan Heckman or Kathleen Guenther for May Day elections.

Seniors Protest Graduation Date

Jay Shenk, president of the class of '51, appointed Terry Connor to schedule a date on the college calendar for the annual senior spring dance.

Lee Frankfort suggested that instead of giving a senior gift to the college this year, the class give money for a scholarship fund which would draw interest, and each year the interest would be an addition to the financial report. It was decided that the committee on the gift mimeograph further suggestions and hand them out to the seniors during a chapel program.

Grads To Be Informed

Ray Schlegel made a motion that the February graduates be kept informed of the class activities by letter until June. The motion was carried.

Marilyn Himmelstein and Terry Connor were appointed to have a meeting with President Masters to register a protest of the class of '51 about having commencement exercises on a Monday. It was pointed out that it is too late this year to be able to change the date; but since this objection was raised last year, it is hoped that succeeding classes will be helped.

An appeal was made for snapshots and patrons for the Cue. John Savidge reported that progress was being made on the yearbook.

Ten Grads Invited To Council Dinner

Albright's Student Council will give a dinner for the February graduates on Tuesday, January 16 at 6 o'clock at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room. Marilyn Himmelstein, social chairman of Student Council, is in charge of the dinner.

Invitations were given to the following students: Gerald Oblinger, Oldrich Von Seekam, Stanley Boczar, Robert Finger, Roderick Horning, Lewis Krinen, Harold Altenderfer, Howard Bell, Donald Walter and Guy Wildermuth, Jr. Mrs. John Marquette, the former Katherine Collins, will graduate in February but will be unable to attend the dinner.

Dean Ruth E. Williams, Dean George W. Walton, Dean LeVan F. Smith, President Masters, Mr. Newton S. Danford and Professor Clyde A. Harding have been invited as guests.

Following the dinner there will be a few short speeches by the president and dean of the college and the president of Student Council, Raymond Schlegel.

'Yours Is the Land' Programmed for Chapel

Mrs. Anna H. Smith, professor in the Home Economics course, will present a film, "Yours Is the Land," during the chapel program on Tuesday, January 16. The film will be sponsored by Maier's Bakery. Mrs. Smith works in the public relations office of the bakery.

Dr. Merritt Offers Meteorology Class

Dr. Merritt has announced that Introduction to Meteorology (Physics 10b) will be offered the second semester of this year provided a sufficient number of students indicate an interest in the course. It is believed that in view of the impending international situation many wish to supplement their curricula with this course, which presents the fundamentals in this field both from the theoretical and the practical angle. Since weather analysis and forecasting are of inestimable importance during war time, the science student with some fundamental knowledge in this field may find that he can work into positions otherwise closed to him. Knowledge in this field is invaluable to pilots. The prerequisite for the course is physics lab.

was announced that because Lewis Krinen, club treasurer, is entering graduate school in February Alan Kascur would be the treasurer during the second semester. Plans were discussed for the possible presentation of several Fasnacht plays.

Women's Student Senate

A meeting of the Women's Student Senate will be held on Wednesday, January 17. Reports will be given on the sale of Christmas cards and on the dance given for the benefit of the war orphan. Plans will be discussed for a rummage sale to be held in February also for the war orphan fund.

Future Teachers of America

The regular meeting of Future Teachers of America was held Thursday, January 4 in the Lower Social Room. Speaker for the evening was Robert Mayer, a student at Millersville State Teachers College. Mr. Mayer, who was a delegate to the Mid-Century White House Conference on Children and Youth, gave a report on the highlights of the conference.

Alchemists

There will be a meeting of the Alchemist Club on January 17 at 7:30 P. M. in the Science Lecture Hall. A special showing of "Glass for Science," a documentary film by Corning Glass Works, will take place at the meeting. The new constitution of the club will be read and election of officers will also be held.
