ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM IS BEING PREPARED FOR ARMISTICE DAY

FRESHMAN—SOPHOMORE TUG-OF-WAR WILL BE A FEATURE OF THE MORNING

Game With Western Maryland In Afternoon

Armistice Day on November 11th promises to be one of the biggest days Albright has had for some time. A full day is expected starting with the second event of the Frosh-Soph series of contests, to be held in the morning. At 3 P. M. our boys will meet Western Maryland on the home field; and extensive plans for a celebration in honor of the ex-service students to be held in the evening, are being prepared.

It is not yet decided where the class contest is to be held, but the contestants will probably hold forth along the east canal. The meet is scheduled for nine A. M. The game with Western Maryland is one of the big games of the season and there is considerable interest and speculation on the outcome. The celebration for the evening has been put in charge of a joint committee from the Y. M. and Y. W. Definite plans have not yet been formulated but will be made public later.

Alumni and friends expect to be present at the big time. The game is a big drawing card and our boys will need support in the game. Let everybody put pep and the old time Albright spirit into the day and it can not help but be a roaring success.

ELECTS ACTIVE AND ACCESSORY MEMBERS

During the past few weeks the Male Glee Club has assembled in full force several times and has gained a good start for a successful year of glee club work. The outlook is indeed encouraging, only four members being lost through graduation, and the officers of the club, and Miss Phillips, the director, predict an unusually good year. As far as the Male Glee Club is concerned, everything can be said to point to a year of traditional Albright perfection along musical work.

At a recent meeting the following were received into active membership of the Club: Roland, Kyle, Bower, Benfer, Dietz, G. Raffensperger, and Kemmerer. Active membership is attained only through a year's singing and traveling with the Club, and these men have satisfactorily done this. At the same meeting E. J. Miller, Steltz, and Zievers, second tenors, and Yost, first tenor, were received as accessory members of the club. The new men were the pick of a group who tried out for positions on the Club, and are men who will work hard in the interests of the Club.

The Club, as it starts its season's work, is as follows:

President, J. Good Brown; Vice Pres., Harvey Kline; Business Manager, Willard Miller; and Secretary, Dave Sechrist.

First tenors: Kyle, Sechrist, G. Raffensperger, Yost, and Kemmerer.

Second tenors: Kreuger, E. Miller, Dietz, Steltz and Zievers.

First Bass: Roland, J. Raffens-

SPECULUM ANNOUNCEMENT

The management of the 1924 Speculum requests that all cuts for the year book be in not later than the period immediately preceding the Thanksgiving recess. To make the Speculum a success this is necessary. Do not delay in handing in your cuts.

Hallow'een Frolic Is Held In Old Gym

BEAUTIFUL DECORATION AND FANTASTIC COSTUME CHARACTERIZE ANNUAL MASQUE

"The fairies and witches all Did have a grand old ball."

Among eerie shadows and peering ghosts, in the old Gym, so transformed that we hardly knew it, the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s were hosts at a regular old-fashioned Hallow'een party.

A big camp fire burned all evening in the center of the room, and in a corner, obscure and mysterious, sat a pretty Gypsy fortune-teller with her bowl, brewing fortunes for the whole party. We could somehow see a likeness of this fair Gypsy to Sara Statler—we wouldn't like to say—

"Rip" was a very lively auctioneer and most of the fair ones brot quite high prices. Stunts and games livened up the evening and the contests were all of a novel character.

Prizes were offered for costumes and contests. In the biscuit duel Swank was the winner; in the marsh-mallow-eating race, Isabel King carried off the prize. For the most beautiful costume, Christine Borkey received the prize; for the most original, Bahney, and for the most ludicrous, Schich.

Plenty of apples, pumpkin custard, and orangeade were the refreshments served by the Freshman girls. The joint social committees had charge of the party, and the decorating was done by the Freshman boys, supervised by the Committees.

Sophs Win Field Meet From Frosh

ATHLETIC FIELD IS SCENE OF HOTLY CONTESTED MATCH

On the afternoon of Monday, October 30th, the Sophs and Freshmen met in the annual field meet between these two classes on the athletic field. The Sophomores won the decision of the judges, and consequently the contest, 26-16. All the Freshmen, and some more, will not yet acknowledge the supremacy of the 25'ers, and eagerly await the tug-of-war on Saturday.

The Freshmen showed supremacy and class in the running and jumping events, and take the honors in these by virtue of three firsts to two for their rivals. Hollenbaugh, for the wearers of the "Cardinal and Steel", was the star of the meet. The results are as follows:

100 Yard Dash—Hollenbaugh, Fresh. first; Christ, Soph second; McFall, Soph. third. Time of winner, 11 seconds flat.

220 Yard Dash—Christ, Soph. first; McFall, Soph. 2nd; Clarke, Soph. 3rd. Time 28 seconds.

Standing Broad Jump—McHose, Fresh, 1st; Grumbling, Soph. 2nd; Zeigenfus, Fresh, 3rd. Distance of winner, 8 feet, 3 1/2 inches.

Mass Relay—12 men on a side, won by the Freshmen.

1 Mile Relay—Won by Sophomores. Time 5.10.

Shoe Fitting Contest—Won by Sophs.

Lackey, Kline, Sheeley, Kachel and Swank acted on the committee.

Say It With Flowers

Mr. Justwed: "I want a nice bunch of roses for my wife, how much will they cost?"

Florist: "I could tell you better if you'd describe the violence of the quarrel."

CHAPLAIN DEIBERT SPEAKS TO STUDENT BODY

On the morning of October 22, Chaplain Deibert addressed the school in a very entertaining manner. Chaplain Deibert was Rev. Heck's predecessor as pastor of the local Evangelical Church and as the professor in Bible. He has been a chaplain in the regular army for the past few years and has been doing a great work at Camp Dix.

His remarks concerned the work of the army chaplain, and he explained to us the kind of work that the chaplain does. More and more, the chaplain is being appreciated, and his influence upon the moral of the army is being felt. Once the chaplain was considered as so much excess baggage, but now he is sought after. It is only since the war that the chaplain has taken his true place in the life of the modern army.

The Chaplain's natty appearance in his uniform, and his business-like manner impressed the students, and gained for him an attentive and interested audience. His talk was most interesting and gave the student body a new subject for consideration.

Chaplain Deibert, in a few preliminary remarks, spoke of the many improvements that have taken place since he was a member of the college faculty. The progress and advance of Albright during the past few years has been marked and points to a further advance in the future. He wished us all the greatest of success in our work; and we, in turn, wish him the same in the continuance of his work in a new field of activity in Panama.

Budget Campaign Nets Big Results

NOVEL POSTER METHOD EFFECTIVE AND INTERESTING

"Pep" Characterizes Drive

Campaign Week for Y. M. & Y. W. C. A.'s Budgets ended Saturday, October 28th with results that far exceeded all hopes and expectations. It was a powerful drive attended by lots of "pep" and real hard work. The finance committees of both organizations drove hard for subscriptions, sending out appeals to Alumni, visiting personally townspeople and friends, and issuing strong appeals to the Student Body. The needs for money this coming year demanded that a high aim be set and to realize the goal, strenuous efforts had to be put forth.

From the treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. comes the report of the sum of $372.50, with the aim set at $350, showing that they have gone "over the top" to the amount of $22.50. This sum was gained from Alumni, Faculty, Friends and Students.

From the treasurer of the Y. W. C. A., Kathryn Billman, the report comes of $325. The goal was set at $350, but as yet no Alumni have been heard from, and the sum realized is gathered from students, faculty, and friends alone. The girls count on going "over the top" too (Continued On Page Two)

SCHUYLKILL SEMINARY CRUSHED UNDER RED AND WHITE'S POWERFUL OFFENSE

All The "Scrubs" Play In 61-0 Frolic

Saturday, Oct. 28th, 1922.

The Red and White team had little trouble in piling up a 61-0 score on the Schuylkill Seminary team at Myerstown last Saturday. Coach Benfer gave all of his substitutes a chance to get in the fray. Only during the last period, when all of the second string men were in did the Seminary lads threaten our goal, but the scrubs held and they lost the ball.

Seminary kicked to Albright's 15 yd. line, Dech receiving and carrying it back 10 yds. Miller ran 20 yds. off left end, and Saltern went for 5 yds. thru center. Dech then made a first down. Leinbach advanced the ball for a yard, and Miller gained another first down. On the next play he was thrown for a loss of 2 yds. Saltern gained 5 yds. on a right-guard play, but Miller was thrown for a loss and Albright was forced to punt. Schuylkill received on her 20 yd. line. She failed to gain on the first play and was punned (Continued On Page Two)

I. N. A. CONVENES AT MUHLBERG

About 40 students, representing 18 colleges and universities attended the Fall Conference of Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States, held at Muhlenberg College, October 20-21. "The Muhlenberg Weekly" was the genial host.

On the Friday evening session a banquet was served in "The Commons". H. S. Mann, editor-in-chief of "The Weekly", served as toast-master, and introduced first: Dr. Ettinger, Dean of Muhlenberg, who welcomed the conference to the college. Jerry Wagner of the "Allentown Morning Call", who was then presented, spoke words of encouragement to journalistic aspirations. The main speaker of the evening, Royal J. Davis, of the New York Times, was introduced and spoke at length on journalistic tendencies that should be encouraged and avoided. He pleaded strongly for more forceful writing and greater standard of truth. Some informal entertainment brought the session to a close.

The Conference convened in the Chapel of the A. P. S. for its Saturday morning session. The meeting was called to order by President Jones, of Haverford. Business of the regular order was put through and the division of the literary and business departments took place. Interesting questions were discussed in both meetings. In the later joint session, the question came up of dividing the present Assn. into zones, each zone holding several minor conferences during the year, and one general conference to be held annually at some stated time. Definite action was deferred until the Spring Conference.

SUSQUEHANNA DEFEATED IN CLOSE GAME BY SCORE OF 6-0—OUR TEAM HANDICAPPED

Saltern Scores On Pass From Capt. Miller

Saturday, Oct. 21, 1922

In one of the closest games ever fought on Susquehanna's gridiron, Albright defeated Coach Peter's wards by the score of 6-0. Our team was greatly handicapped by the long, cold ride, the lateness of arrival, and eating too soon before the game. These factors were important, and kept the contest to such a low score. Failing to score in the first period when they had the ball on the 2 yd. line, and Bolig's slipping in the open field were the decisive points which cost Susquehanna a possible victory.

"Rogie" kicked off for Susquehanna, Albright fumbling the ball and recovering. Two line plunges and an end run netted Albright about two yds. Fumbling on the next play, Susquehanna recovered and Sweeney tried an end run, but fumbled when tackled, Albright getting the ball. Gaining very little on the next three plays, A. C. had to punt. Sweeney received, gaining five yds. on the first play, but lost on an end run. Rogie carried the ball for three successive plays for the first down. A forward pass failed. Rogie made two more plunges for another (Continued On Page Three)

STUDENT BODY HEARS LECTURE ON RADIO

On Friday evening, Oct. 20, Mr. J. Herbert Kissinger, head of the electrical department of the Practical Arts School at Reading, gave a very interesting talk on the Radio under the auspices of the Science Club. The lecture which was well attended both by students and by members of the Faculty, was held in the College Chapel.

Mr. Kissinger spoke on the two topics, "Essentials of the Radio," and "Operation and Functions of Vacuum Tubes." The radio station in the Practical Arts building of which he has charge, holds the world's record for distance transmission with the quarter kilowatt, having sent messages as far as Chicago, with this relatively small current. Consequently, Mr. Kissinger ranks high in amateur radio circles.

The talk was very instructive, both from a technical as well as from a practical point of view, for Mr. Kissinger supplemented his subject matter by blackboard illustrations and an exhibition of vacuum tubes, ranging from the crudest to the modern highly perfected and expensive. After the lecture, the speaker gave technical explanations of various features of the radio which were not very clear to some of those present.

May this lecture stimulate such an interest in the field of radio on the part of the students that it will speed the time when Old Albright will derive benefit from the possession of, at least a receiving set.

ARMISTICE DAY

The hands of Time move on. We have again made another circuit of the calendar of years which brings us to the celebration of Armistice Day. It has been almost four years since the final shot of the past war has been heard. It seems almost inconceivable that four years have elapsed since the close of the great World War; for, it seems but yesterday that the great strife, turmoil, and confusion were besetting not only our country, but the whole world.

And yet, to some people the World War seems but a myth. Many people have but a faint recollection of the past existence of such a catastrophe. Other people glory in the fact that such a great war existed. The sense of horridness of war has been dulled in the hearts of thousands of people because of the pecuniary benefits received therefrom. They forget the bloodshed which was caused in order that their own safety might be preserved.

To us the eleventh of November carries with it more significance than ever before. We think of the lives that were sacrificed in order that Armistice Day could be made possible. We also think of the hearts that were saddened by the loss of loved ones.

Although we do not celebrate this day in any formal way, may it have a new significance in our lives. May we have it in the background of our consciousness an honor, respect and homage due our most worthy heroes. May the day bring to us a keener realization of the great sacrifice paid by our American boys.

CRAWFORD CURRY MEMORIAL

Patriotism in one of its noblest phases might be characterized as the vital spark of national honor that calls men to the defense of their country's ideals and rights upon the field of battle. The most beautiful pages of our history center around the patriotic deeds of our heroes. There is magic in the word which causes men to shrink from no sacrifice; to seek no reward save country's pride and country's honor.

Nearly four years have passed into history since the close of the greatest conflict that ever threatened the civilization of mankind. During the trying days of war every red-blooded American recognized the Supreme value of Patriotism and paid homage to her shrine as never before.

In a recent Chapel service, Reverend Deibert, who was formerly the teacher of Bible in Albright College and at present a Chaplain in United States army service in Panama, voiced a sentiment which struck a responsive chord in the hearts of many people connected with the Institution. It was noble tribute to a man who left the halls of Albright in response to his country's call more than five years ago. The speaker referred to Crawford Curry, the only one of Albright's representatives who paid the Supreme sacrifice in the performance of his duties upon the field of battle. Crawford was a member of Ambulance Company No. 2, and while carrying wounded soldiers from the front he sustained internal injuries from poisonous gas on October 2nd, 1918 and died November 9th, two days before the armistice was signed.

Recollections of his splendid character live on in the memories and hearts of Faculty members and students who were his associates, but as time passes on and new faces are added to the Institution this will become an abstract memory. As we approach the anniversary of the close of the Great War, we wish to emphasize Chaplain Deibert's sentiment,—that one of the windows in our new, magnificent, Chapel should bear the name of Crawford Curry as a permanent and fitting memorial for one of Albright's honored dead.

Let us keep alive the thought expressed by the Trojan warrior in Homer,—“O glorious is he, who for his country falls.”

TENNIS

Our system of gaining the right to the use of the various tennis courts, since Coach Benfer's latest addition, is as good perhaps as could be worked out. The courts, too, since the rain have been kept in fairly good condition. I would like, however, to call attention to the present maltreatment of the tennis nets. The rules provide that the persons using the courts during the last period of the day shall put the respective nets provided for that purpose. And yet, the nets are never put in the boxes over night. In fact, during the last season of rainy weather, the nets were in their customary position exposed to the elements. You may say that the nets are not of the best. That is so—but under the present regime, would the Athletic Association be justified in providing the best of nets? Most assuredly not. Once we show ourselves capable and willing to take care of the nets, better nets will, without a doubt be provided.

What is the remedy? As I see it, the designation that the persons using the courts during the last period of the day is not sufficiently definite. Its incidence is so uncertain. There may be no one using the courts during the last period of the day, or the weather may become inclement during the day. It seems to me that the Freshmen should be asked to care for the nets every evening and whenever inclement weather arises. This would provide for fixed responsibility with regard to the nets, and, I believe, they would be taken care of properly.

ECCENTRIX

Teacher, may I go out for the mail?

No, my darling daughter.

You can't get a letter every day,

Unless it's from the Pater.

No, Kipling didn't say “The female of the species is more deadly than her mail,” but judging from the way the latter is watched it must be somewhat dangerous.

Now that Armistice Day is approaching, let us not forget to honor the ship-yard and munition plant heroes who fought so valiantly to keep out of the war.

Mr. Wentzel's appeal for kind treatment of animals certainly was effective. Several Biology students resolved not to tease the frogs with their dissecting sets. Several of the boys did not send anything to the laundry for the fear that the clothes-horse might be over-worked, and two Latin students decided to give their ponies a rest.

The journeys to Lebanon to have photos taken for the College annual have begun. When the negatives arrive, we hear the fair co-eds consoling one another with such remarks as these: “That doesn't do you justice.” “That doesn't look like you, at all!” These remarks are quite true. Billy Sunday once told a photographers convention in Scranton that if they were to make pictures that looked like the people, they would all go to the poor house.

Some of the “cases” at the Halloween Party had difficulty getting together because they could not recognize each other.

CAMPUS CHATTER

We can't tell you whether this is going to be a hard winter or not. Don't be misled. We weren't speaking of climatic conditions or snow storms or anything like that. We were thinking of mid-year exams, and one can't usually prophesy about them so long time ahead.

The other night at the Halloween party the fortune teller told “Dettie” Miller that he was cut out for a lady's man. To tell the truth, we never did believe to a very great extent in the occult science and somehow or other, now, well—

Kenneth Snyder says that barber shops are the worst place for gossip that he knows, but Mr. Bennett says that Ladies Aid Societies are far worse. To know Mr. Bennett is to wonder at this statement because he seems to be interested so little in ladies aid and their habits.

Mr. Frank Kaltreider, of Red Lion, visited his daughter, Janet on Saturday, October 28th, and took in the Albright-Schuylkill Seminary game.

Misses Nona Kahler formerly of the '23 class, and Helen Weber of Mt. Carmel, spent the week-end with Verda Wetzel.

Sara Stoner '22, spent the week-end, Oct. 28th with her parents in town. She is engaged in teaching in the Pine Grove High School.

Rev. and Mrs. Hangen, of Allentown, visited their daughter, Grace Hangen '26, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 26th.

This little poem
Is put in this here place,
As just a little object
To help fill up some space.

BUDGET CAMPAIGN MEETS BIG RESULTS

when all subscribers have been finally heard from.

The interesting feature of the drive was the novel method employed in getting subscriptions. A large poster on which was represented a wide gateway with two posts, each post supporting a wall which stood for Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. respectively, was placed on the bulletin board of Old Main. The walls were composed of bricks, each brick selling for $3.00. As a brick was sold it was chalked off in red crayon. The development of the brick selling was watched with a great deal of attention.

Both organizations desire to thank most heartily all those subscribers who aided in realizing the success of the campaign. A generous response was met in every instance and the pledges represent more than a monetary value. They show that a real, live interest on the part of all those connected with the organizations, is backing up the work.

alized five yds. for off sides. She was forced to punt on her 15 yd. line. Albright received on Seminary's 45 yd. line. Dech got 8 yds. thru tackle, but Saltern failed to get a first down, Miller, however gained on an end run, Leinbach fumbled, but recovered. Two plunges gained 7 yds. and on the next play Miller went over. He also kicked the point by a field goal. Albright kicked. A pass and two plunges failed to gain, and Schuylkill was forced to punt. Miller received and carried the ball to Seminary's 25 yd. line, where Dech tallies on an end-run, Miller added the point by a drop kick. Prigg kicked to the 15 yd. line where it was run back 10 yds. A pass and two plunges failed and A. C. was forced to kick, but recovered when an Albright man, touched the ball. Two plunges and a pass netted a loss of 6 yds. and Seminary was forced to punt. Plunges by Miller, Saltern, and Leinbach carried the ball over. Saltern getting the touchdown. Miller drop kicked the point. Prigg kicked off. A plunge and two passes failed and Seminary kicked. Five first downs followed in rapid order. Miller, Saltern, Dech and Zeigler carrying the ball, Zeigler scoring. Miller kicked the goal.

Prigg kicked. On an end run and a pass, no gain was netted and Seminary kicked to Miller who ran back 15 yds. Four plunges failed to gain a first down, and Schuylkill took the ball. After two plunges, a pass was intercepted, but on the next play Kreuger fumbled and Schuylkill recovered. A pass gained a first down, but the after two plays, Benfer picked up a fumble. Edwards made a first down. Two plunges by Christ and two by Edwards gained another touchdown. Miller drop kicked for the point. Prigg kicked and the half was ended.

Prigg kicked. No gain on the first play. Leinbach intercepted a pass and carried the ball to Seminary's 30 yd. line. On two runs by Dech a touchdown resulted. Miller drop kicked the goal. Prigg kicked. The kick was run back 27 yds. Two plunges and a pass failed to gain, and the visitors kicked. Successive plunges by Miller, Dech, and Kreuger, and two passes gained four first down and a touchdown. Miller added the point by means of a drop kick.

After Prigg kicked, Seminary threw a pass which netted a first down. Two more passes failed, and Seminary kicked. Three plunges by Miller and Kreuger gained a first down.

Albright made a first down on an end-run. Miller ran for 60 yds. on a run around right end. A touchdown resulted. He missed the extra point when his kick went wild.

Miller kicked off. Two Seminary passes failed. Zeigler then intercepted a pass and run for 60 yds. before he was thrown. On the next play Miller went over. He missed this goal also.

Miller kicked off. After two passes failed, another pass gained 9 yds. Seminary then punted. On the first play Albright was penalized 10 yds. and then lost the ball by fumbling. Seminary's pass failed, then Derr caught the next and ran 30 yds., but Albright again fumbled, Seminary recovering on Albright's 15 yd. line. After working the ball to the 10 yd. line, two passes failed and the game was over.

After minor business of a general nature had been transacted, the Conference adjourned.

In answer to a generous appeal from Haverford the I. N. A. will convene there in May.

The Albright Bulletin representatives were the Editor-in-Chief, Miss Miles, who is also the Secretary of the I. N. A., Verda Wetzel, Exchange Editor, and Mary Marquardt, Activities Editor.

Thanks and appreciation are extended through these columns for the splendid spirit of hospitality displayed at Muhlenberg, and congratulations are given to all those who made the Conference a success.

FRESHMAN POEM

When Minnie wants meat, chickens, or cats,
Ask Mrs. Mohn for our old bear traps,
Set them by night, watch for their tails,
Sprinkle with salt and hammer with nails;
Watch when the flag turns green and gold,
Then you'll know you're no longer bold.

One thing more we ask you to share,
The fun we want no matter where,
If it's sing a song or wear a smile,
You'll be willing if it's not in style.

Don't hesitate to lend the way,
Go on if it's a rainy day,
Laugh and sing when things go wrong,
Soon redress will right by song;
Smile and tackle every prize,
If it leaves some dimmer eyes.

If any of these pointers refuse to tell,
Down go Freshmen, they go to—the cell,
It now abides within these walls,
In our cellar, thru the cold earth crawl;
It won't be pleasant to make your abode
In such a place or in such a mode.
I just advise you as a kind dear friend,
To do some better your wants to amend.

AROUND TOWN

During the week of October 16-20, the local schools were closed for the Annual session of the Lebanon County Teachers' Institute. All the teachers and many students from Albright College attended sessions of the Institute. Many speakers prominent in the educational field, were on the program and the teachers and students report a very profitable Institute.

The annual Hallowe'en celebration is a long looked for event in the life of Myerstown. This year the celebration was held on Tuesday evening, October 31. The big parade was the biggest feature of the evening. Ghosts, goblins, and almost every known creature reputed to be abroad on this night, were represented in the parade. The parade was characterized by the many original costumes and devices of masquerading. Several "Schnitzelbunk" bands competed for the prize offered. An interesting program was carried out on the school grounds and many prizes were distributed. Young and old alike turned out for the celebration and spent a pleasant evening.

One of the big events of the year will be the lecture in the High School Auditorium on November 23, by Russel Conwell. He will deliver his famous "Acres of Diamonds" and already many people are arranging to get seats for this famous lecture.

On Friday evening Oct. 20, Messrs. Kyle and Roland, of Albright accompanied the Acme Band to Womelsdorf where the band filled an engagement at the Carnival of the Volunteer Firemen.

first down. Sweeney advanced the ball for eight yds. on two successive end runs. Two more plunges by Rogie gained another first down. Rogie again hit the line for eight yds. Held by Albright for downs. Albright was given the ball and was forced to punt, Sweeney received the ball and carried it across the goal, but was declared out of bounds. After "Rogie" gained on an end run, Sweeney lost. Susquehanna failed to get her first down. Albright received and kicked out of bounds. A triple pass, "Rogie" to Brouse to Sweeney gained fifteen yards. End of first period.

Susquehanna was forced to give up the ball on downs. Making a first down on plunges, Miller advanced the ball for thirty yds. on an end run. Three more plunges gained another down. By another series of plunges by Morrison and Saltern, the ball was on the 8 yd. line where a completed pass from Miller to Saltern gave Albright their touchdown. Drop kick after touchdown failed. Albright kicked off, Bolig, substituting for Brouse, received and ran thru the defense to the 45 yd. line where he stumbled in the open field. Bolig fumbled on an end run, and Albright recovered. Hartman substituted for Bannon. Albright gained on an end run, but was penalized for holding. Two plunges were stopped, and two passes were incomplete. End of first half.

At the beginning of the second half, Albright kicked off. Keebler fumbled, and Albright recovered. Two line plunges netted a first down. Two more plunges failed to cover the distance. Thomas knocked down a pass, Susquehanna received the ball. Bannon punting. Albright tried an end run, but was thrown for a loss. On the next play Albright fumbled but recovered and ran for 10 yards. She was penalized on the next play. A pass then netted 6 yds. A plunge thru tackle made another down. Sweeney picked a pass out of the air and ran for 8 yds. Bannon was forced to punt. Two plunges and a pass failed to gain and Albright was forced to punt. End of third period.

An end run by Sweeney, a triple pass, and a pass gained 12 yds. A plunge and a pass failed to gain, and Susquehanna punted. By a series of plunges by Saltern, Miller, Edwards, and Morrison, Albright carried the ball dangerously near the goal, but Susquehanna stiffened and held her for downs. After three plays Susquehanna was forced to punt. The whistle blew with the ball in Albright's possession on our 38 yd. line.

Capt. Miller and Saltern starred for Albright, while Rogawiz was the Maroon and Orange's star.

WITH THE FACULTY

Deepest and most sincere sympathy is extended to Miss Ella M. Phillips, head of the Vocal department, in her recent bereavement, the death of her father, Mr. J. B. Phillips, of Lebanon. The news of his death came as a shock, for although Mr. Phillips had been ill for a number of weeks, the dangerous part of his illness had supposedly passed and his recovery was expected.

of October 9-13 at the Sullivan County Institute held at Dushore, where he occupied a prominent place as lecturer during the program. In his absence classes in English were conducted by Mrs. Keller.

On Wednesday evening, Oct. 18, Dr. Bowman addressed the alumni of Millersville Normal who were in Lebanon for the annual session of the Teacher's Institute. The meeting was held in Moyer's banqueting hall. Dr. Bowman spoke on the subject, "Reaching a Standard." Five faculty members and forty alumni were present at the banquet.

Thursday noon, Dr. Bowman was the speaker at a noon day luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Hotel Weimer. Dr. Bowman spoke on the European situation. The luncheon was attended by more than a hundred of its members.

Among other speaking engagements which Dr. Bowman has recently filled was a rally day service in Ephrata and an Odd Fellows anniversary service in Jones-town.

Mrs. Garlach, of Gettysburg visited her daughter, Miss Elsie Garlach, for several days.

Rev. J. A. Heck, College Pastor, served as the principal speaker on the Rally Day program at Mt. Carmel Evangelical church, Nov. 5th. Prof. Dech conducted services in the local church in his absence. The Kiwanis Club of Lancaster was entertained at luncheon on Friday, October 27, and listened to a lecture by Prof. Keller on "The Man On His Feet."

At the twenty second meeting of the Keystone State Library Association, held at Altoona, Oct. 24-27, Dr. Gobble represented the College. He attended the Round Table Conference of the College University, and Seminary section held in the Penn-Alto Hotel.

ALUMNI DEPARTMENTAn Open Letter

Myerstown, Pa., Oct. 31, 1922.

Fellow-alumni of Albright College:

By permission of the editor and by your own indulgence I am constrained to give expression to a personal sentiment, which I hope may find a most hearty response on the part of the alumni of Albright College. There is danger in these days that vision may be so clouded by prejudices of various sorts and so blurred by misconceptions and misinterpretations that we shall be unable to see either clearly or straight.

Without fear of unpopularity, nor yet with desire to curry the favor of anyone, I want to speak a word to our many alumni upon absolutely my own initiative and with no official authority to give prestige or force to my message.

Contrary to the opinion of a few who look upon the future of Albright College through exceedingly dark glasses, I am convinced that our Alma Mater faces the richest opportunity and brightest future that she has ever faced, and that before long our many alumni will see possibilities of which we have not recently been dreaming, and we shall find in process of gradual achievement a program and development of which we will all be proud. Of course, the realization of all this is conditioned upon a few factors not yet fully determined, but assuming that reasonable response, support, and enthusiasm will be met throughout the eastern part of the Evangelical Church—and under proper conditions it will be met—I have no hesitancy in registering my prophecy nor have I doubt in regard to its fulfillment.

Whatever may be the detailed character of that future educational plan and program which shall best conserve the larger interests of the church, I am convinced that the recommendation of the recent General Conference is just and wise. Let us be disillusioned. There is no immediate change of location of the college contemplated—immediate consolidation of the institutions now located at Myerstown and Reading is impossible for very obvious reasons. Again let us remember that no one contemplates any waste of property at Myerstown, whenever in the future it may seem feasible to consolidate. Those who have liberally contributed to the program of enlargement at Myerstown may be assured that their contributions will be respected and honored, no matter what course educational developments of the future may take.

We need the spirit of unselfishness. My highest and deepest interests have been in Albright ever since my own student days. Since returning to the school to occupy a more vital and direct relationship to her life and progress, I have borne greater cares and endured more anxiety than anyone knows. Far be it from me to suggest that I am unique in this, but I say this to enforce the truth that I am profoundly interested in the future of the college. I speak not as an unaffected outsider. Moreover, I believe in the town of Myerstown and love its people, so that nothing I say concerning our educational program of the future is designed to reflect upon anyone or any place.

But the interests of the great church of which we are now a part and the interests of the greatest institution of the church in the east—Albright College—demand that smaller issues be set aside unselfishly that the larger be conserved. Are we big enough in heart and mind to do this?

I am addressing alumni primarily, therefore I say first, let every graduate stand with the program of the church and back up and boost his Alma Mater as he has never done it before. We are not dead, nor dying; but are moving on to fuller life than we have ever known.

If I had the space and felt it wise, I would like to lay a few personal suggestions—however little they might be worth—before the supporters and friends of the college for their consideration.

The day for the most aggressive and optimistic leadership available has come. We want to see that we are getting somewhere, and we want to know where we are getting. How we alumni have longed and pleaded for a program—a live, optimistic, challenging, big program. To this day it is not above the horizon. Methinks, by some sweet gift of vision I see it now just beneath the skirting hills. Shall my—shall your dreams come true?

I would like to say that I believe an immediate co-ordination (not yet consolidation) of the work of Schuylkill Seminary at Reading and of Albright College at Myerstown should be effected. What is more, I am convinced that it can be effected under sympathetic, energetic, and aggressive direction. Do the present authorities realize the great responsibilities and opportunities of these days, and will they exhibit that genius and vision which will provide satisfaction of our fondest anticipations.

As just one lone alumnus, I say to my alumni friends, we must have a definite, large, challenging program which will give us something to work for, and which will assure us of a new, larger, better Albright ten years hence of which all of us may with justice be proud.

I have a picture in my mind, a hope in my heart, a conviction in my soul, which makes me happy in prospect of that which under God will come to pass.

Very respectfully yours,

J. A. HECK.

PERSONAL

Denton M. Albright, '15, instructor in mathematics in the Technical High School, Harrisburg, Pa. for the past five years, received his A. M. degree from Columbia University in October, in mathematics and educational psychology and philosophy. He also received a diploma for High School Principal from Teachers College, Columbia University, having specialized in educational measurements, supervision and administration during four Summer sessions in graduate work.

Wedding bells continue to ring. Early on the morning of October 18, Miss Miriam L. Tice, '15, of Myerstown, Pa., was married to Mr. Geo. S. Karsnitz of the same place. The latter is a teller in the Myerstown Trust Co. The ceremony was performed in the Lutheran Church. Among those in attendance was Miss Emily Brenner, '09. The honeymoon consisted of an auto tour through Maryland, Virginia, and District of Columbia. We extend to Mr. and Mrs. Karsnitz our happiest felicitations.

HIKED TO CARLISLE

Henry Ward Beecher and Albert L. Swank hiked to Carlisle to see the F. & M.—Dickinson game, Saturday. They said it was really Kingsley playing Dickinson, for the former Albright fullback was a great factor in keeping the score as low as it was. Time after time the big fellow would make remarkable tackles, and was the only one of the F. & M. team that could gain thru the line. His forward passing was the essential feature in the scoring of F. & M.'s only touchdown.

COACH'S STATEMENT

After the showing of the Albright team against Franklin-Marshall and Dickinson, and the three victories over Juniata, P. M. C. and Susquehanna, I am confident that the squad will give a good account of themselves in the remaining games, which will close another successful football season at Albright.
