

Freshman Nominate Candidates For Office

By Jack LaHeman

On Tuesday morning, October 5, the freshman class submitted nominations for their class officers. The Albrightian has interviewed three of the four candidates for the office of President regarding their past activities in high school, proposals to be implemented if elected, opinion of the Albright Reform Movement, and opinion of the continuation of customs.

First to be interviewed was Tom Bowersox from Hanover, Pa. During high school he served several years as a representative to student council in addition to holding the office of secretary-treasurer of the varsity club and participating in football, basketball, and track.

Asked about the A.R.M., he stated, "Student protests should be channeled through the body reserved for that purpose, Student Council." Strongly in favor of customs, Bowersox saw them as the best way to develop unity and friendship within a class. He concluded, "All I can say is that I'll do my best to responsibly represent the class before the rest of the college and community."

Ida Udell, from Philadelphia, served several years as a student council representative in addition to participating in swimming and track. He feels the freshmen should sponsor a special event for the upperclassmen.

In regard to A.R.M., he stated, "Student Council should be the sole body for the airing of student complaints." Considering this year's period of customs a failure, Udell proposes a shorter period of ten days when upperclassmen would participate fully in the program.

Mickey Mustokoff, another Philadelphian, held the office of student council president as well as president of his junior class and participated in cross country, football, and track.

Commenting that he wishes to see more student spirit and will work toward this end if elected, Mustokoff also suggested a more intensified but shorter customs period. He said regarding the A.R.M., "It is the responsibility of the school's elected representatives to take care of any gripes by students."

Herb Rogove, the fourth candidate for President, was unavailable for comment.

Other officers and nominees include: Vice President, Edward Domers, Paul Balbresky; Secretary, Carolyn Borelli, Karen Kenny, Fred Silberman, Margaret VanDriel, and Ann Ulrich; Treasurer, Michael Albright, Kenneth Mallin; and Student Council Representatives (2), Richard Albright, Joseph Albright, Roger Mallon, Linda Peacock, and Ginger Strong.

The Y-Retreat, scheduled for October 9-10 at Camp Carson near Harrisburg, was canceled due to an insufficient number of students who signed up to go.

Dean Hellerich Discusses Academic Issues At Albright

By David A. Mink, Associate Editor

Dr. Mahlon H. Hellerich came to Albright as Dean of the College in 1959. He is also director of the Undergraduate Evening Division of Albright.

The Albrightian conducted an interview with Dean Hellerich in order to find out answers to some questions concerning the academic life of Albright. These are some of the exchanges which took place:

Question: What are some of the aspects of your job as Academic Dean?

Ans: The main purpose of my position is to oversee the total academic side of Albright. It is my job to select and orient the Albright faculty as well as to try to achieve an atmosphere conducive to academic progress.

Dr. Mahlon H. Hellerich

Question: What are some of the most significant changes on the academic side of Albright since you have been here?

Ans: One of the most important changes was a complete revision of course offerings. Every department has gone over its courses, adding new courses and dropping outmoded ones. Other changes are the growth of the faculty, improvement of the student body, more adequate laboratory facilities, and growth of the library.

Question: What plan is there for future changes?

Ans: There is continual concern with the total atmosphere of the college to make possible the development and maturation of the students. As a dean, I must be alert constantly for ideas to develop progress, often in cooperation with students, which will make for a healthy intellectual environment, social awareness, and moral responsibility.

Question: What is the biggest problem?

Ans: Other than the raising of funds, our biggest problem is faculty development. Up until the last five or ten years, the problem was getting enough students of high caliber. Now the quality of students at Albright is very high and many good students cannot be accepted. The problem is to find enough new faculty members of the same quality to teach them. We

Introducing:

The Four Seasons

(Editor's note: In conjunction with the Student Council presentation of The Four Seasons and Neil Sedaka at a special show in the Albright field house on Nov. 13, The Albrightian is featuring various articles on the musical achievements and backgrounds of these performers).

Comprising The Four Seasons are: Frankie Valli, first tenor; Bob Gaudio, second tenor; Nick Massi, bass; and Tommy DeVito, baritone. Actually, they represent a blending of talent from two other vocal groups. Frankie, Nick and Tommy, with the latter's brother, had enjoyed a modicum of success when they recorded under the name of The Four Lovers. Bob originally sang with the popular Royal Teens. He wrote the song "Short Shorts," which became an overnight sensation and gave the group its first hit recording.

Shortly thereafter, the four met in New Jersey, where they were practically neighbors. Bob prevailed upon to resume performing and join the others in forming a new vocal group. He was also encouraged to continue his writing, with the idea that he might provide them with fresh recording material.

They began to perform in small clubs, and subsequently came to the attention of Bob Crewe, an independent record producer. He used them largely to provide vocal backgrounds for other recording artists. They did this for two years. Finally, in 1962 Bob Gaudio wrote a song that seemed just right for The Four Seasons. It was recorded and released on the Vee-Jay label in August. Within one month, it caught the ear of the public and became a national sensation. The song was "Sherry," and it sold over a million copies.

From then on, one hit followed another, most of which were written by Gaudio. These included such important records as "Big Girls Don't Cry," "Walk Like A Man," "Ain't That A Shame," "Candy Girl," "New Mexican Rose," "Stay," "Dawn," and "Ronnie," and "Bye Bye Baby." Their albums were equally popular, and by the spring of 1964 their record sales had exceeded seven million singles and two million albums.

This tremendous popularity resulted in extensive personal appearances throughout the country and overseas. They have guest-starred on the Ed Sullivan television show several times as well as such shows as Steve Allen, On Broadway Tonight and The Dick Clark Special, and also headlined at the Copacabana in New York, among the many important nightclubs they have worked.

In January of 1964, The Four Seasons were signed by Mercury Records to one of the largest recording contracts ever offered to a vocal group. Their records were released on the Phillips label, a subsidiary of the company.

YM-YWCA Opens New Coffee House On Campus

Do you ever get tired of the four walls? Feel like you need time out from the tedious "grind" of studying? Do you ever wish you had someplace different to go, just to relax? The Coffee House, sponsored by the YM-YWCA, is a place where you can get away from the room and books and into a pleasant atmosphere of relaxation and entertainment.

Last Tuesday, October 5, over 150 students, faculty, and administrators of Albright College met informally at the Why Not in the Pine Room for coffee or tea, served with cheese and crackers.

The coffee house idea was the product of a Y Leadership Conference attended by the YM-YWCA presidents, Bob Martin, '66, and Jeannette Scoglio, '66. They found that many other colleges represented at the Conference had tried projects such as this and were eager to try it at Albright. Scoglio and Martin

AN APPEAL

This is a special message to all Albright students from Emmett Venet, President of Student Council.

"It is imperative that all students of Albright College realize the importance of the Four Seasons Concert on November 13. If successful, this performance will set a precedent for future big-name entertainment on campus. Therefore every student should support this function by purchasing a ticket."

DAVY AND FRIEND—This is David Carpenter and one of his many friends on the Albright campus. Better known as "Davey, the Watchman," Mr. Carpenter is a popular figure with most Albrightians. Arriving at Albright in 1959, Davey confesses that he has thoroughly enjoyed his job of patrolling the campus. "I like it. I enjoy the work and meeting the people—especially students," he explains. Vivid proof of Davey's attitude toward Albright is his response to a question on retirement. "Retirement?" he said, "I'm not even thinking about it!"

LARGE TURNOUT HIGHLIGHTS FIRST IRC MEETING

The International Relations Club, advised by Professors William Bishop and Philip Eyrich, held its first meeting on October 6. Jose Sanchez, '66, President of the I.R.C., noted a larger student turnout than in previous years. "The club is on the upswing and will be more active this year than during the past two years," he stated.

All students are welcome to join the I.R.C., designed to give members a wider knowledge of political-social-economic events in the world today.

Two major projects are concentrated upon during the year. During the first Saturday of December the Berks County Model United Nations Conference is held on the Albright campus; from Berks and surrounding counties the I.R.C. invites various high schools who receive countries to represent.

The I.R.C. organizes the conference and advises in each of three committees where a specific world problem will be discussed.

Occurring during the second semester is the Collegiate Model United Nations Conference held in New York City. Albright is assigned a country, and several I.R.C. members will attempt to portray its policies accurately at the conference.

The I.R.C. conducts two-monthly meetings of a business and program nature. Various speakers, films, and discussions are planned for this year.

In one week the first regular meeting will be held, with time and date to be announced. All interested students are welcome to attend.

'SOLID GOLD CADILLAC': DOMINO CLUB CHOOSES OPENING FALL PRODUCTION

Eleven men and six women will be the fortunate cast members of the Domino Club's fall production, "The Solid Gold Cadillac" by Howard Tushman and George S. Kaufman. Headed by Dr. Samuel B. Shirk, the overall director, and Dave Martin, the technical director, this modern comedy will be produced on Dec. 10 and 11, preceding try-outs which are scheduled for Nov. 1 from 3 to 5 P.M., and Nov. 5 from 7:30 to 9:00 P.M. The cast will be announced in time for the first rehearsal Nov. 8.

The story centers around an inquisitive petite lady, who because she owns ten shares of stock, considers it her duty to investigate the chairman's salary. Disgusted at her incessant questions, the chairman offers her a phony job at $1.50 per week in an attempt to hush her up. However, she now becomes worse than before, writing personal friendly letters to all the stockholders.

The officers of the corporation are on the verge of firing her, when they discover that a small firm which General Products had forced into bankruptcy was their own subsidiary firm. Seizing this opportunity to prod the directors, this clever woman secures her own job, procuring also a raise for her secretary. The president, learning of this disastrous situation, resigns, leaving behind the fight for control of the business. Things appear dismal; the wretched directors threaten to triumph. Suddenly, the proxies of small stockholders start pouring in and eventually the lady and the president foil the wicked Board of Directors.

Hush, Hush, Sweet Freshmen

As usual, the most secret part of the ballot for Freshman elections were the names of the candidates. The new freshmen did not have ample time or opportunity to meet the candidates or familiarize themselves with their qualifications and policies. How can such poorly planned elections result in capable leaders?

The ideal plan for holding elections is to start with a logic type of nominating. Willing candidates should petition to have their name put on the ballot. This would eliminate popular but incapable students from being nominated by friends. The candidates should also have the privilege of giving a campaign speech before their class in order to express their aims and views. The members of the electing class would then know the candidates and be capable of casting a logical vote.

With this new type of election, the class and entire college would benefit with more willing and qualified leaders.

Interview With Dean Hellerich

 are fortunate to have a fine faculty here at the present time.

Question: How do you feel about the extra-curricular activities at Albright?

Ans.: I am happy to see that many of the extra-curricular activities are derived from curricular work. For instance, the International Relations Club carries on activities of the Political Science Department and the literary magazine, Agon, reflects creative work in literature. The classroom work spills over into the students' other interests. Interest in art exhibits, concerts, and foreign films demonstrate this.

Question: Are there any new areas which you would like to see Albright go into?

Ans.: I think we could pay a bit more attention to linguistics. Also I would like to see an expansion in the field of Logic, Dramatic Arts, independent studies from the freshman year up, and an increased honors system. We might expand our over-seas study program and institute a student exchange with Negro colleges. A student could then spend a semester at a college such as Morgan State or Lincoln University and then transfer his credits back to Albright.

Question: Will Albright expand into more practical studies such as journalism or advertising?

Ans.: No, we are trying to educate the whole man. We feel he will gain these other skills on the job. Our concern is with the person he will be throughout his lifetime. We hope, as well as being prepared in a field of study, that he will continue to read, participate in his community, and have an interest in the well being of others. We want to acquaint him with many different fields.

Question: What characteristics of Albright are most conducive for academic achievement?

Ans.: First of all, the quality of the students here. They are able and earnest, intelligent, and certain of their goals. Our faculty members are cultured and intelligent human beings, dedicated to their profession. Secondly, our physical facilities are excellent. We have a setting which is better than most colleges of a similar nature. Practically every building has been built or redone in the last five years. We have good leadership in the Board and new president and their goal is for progress.

Question: What characteristics are least conducive?

Ans.: The big problem is the lack of understanding between students and the staff. We are from two generations which often causes unnecessary misunderstanding and friction. Students are much better equipped than they were ten years ago. We must try to foster a new type of understanding to make Albright an even better community of culture and knowledge.

V + A = Fashion

Sweaters are one of the most exciting items in the fashion world this fall. They can be found in the regular pullover styles, ranging from snug orlon to the big-collared or V-necked bulky knits. A favorite sweater on college campuses this year is the not-so-bulky V-necked cardigan.

Pictured here is a V-necked sweater which comes in a variety of solid colors. It is worn with an A-line plaid wool skirt. A matching turtle-neck-collared "dickey" gives the impression of two sweaters being worn and adds a very smart touch to the outfit.

Match the sweater with knee socks of textured nylons, and match the dickey with a color in the skirt or match the sweater with the skirt and the dickey with the knee socks.

This style of sweater is a great addition to the wardrobe of school classroom attire and can be easily worn with bermuda shorts, stretch slacks or regular slacks.

Students To See Two French Plays

A group of about one hundred Albright French students and professors and local French teachers will be traveling in two buses to Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, to see two French plays. The trip, scheduled for Monday, October 25, will begin about 5:50 P.M. from the Albright campus and will terminate around midnight. The plays will begin at 8:00 P.M., in Irem Temple, Wilkes-Barre.

Reynard's "Poll de Carotte" and Feydeau's "Feu La Mere De Madame" will be presented by the French theatre company known as Le Treteau de Paris, now on its eighth annual American tour. The presentation is sponsored by the Foreign Language Department of King's College.

"Feu La Mere De Madame" is a hilarious "perfect" one-act about mis-matched conjugal life. "Poll de Carotte" describes the life of a child with carrot-colored hair disparagingly named "Carrot Top." These two plays are now on sale under one cover in the college bookstore.

S.E.A. LEADERS DISCUSS GOALS

The Student Education Association, headed by Diane Rae Glowinski, '66, president and George Gamber, '67, vice president, endeavors to present the experiences, realities, and tribulations of professional teaching.

The highlight of this year's activities will be a convention scheduled for the second week in December. All delegates will attend classes at Albright. In addition, there will be group discussions on liberal arts, (its advantages and disadvantages,) and speeches by the deans.

All S.E.A. meetings are on Wednesdays at 7:00 P.M. in Teel Hall. The dues are $3.00 per year and five meetings are scheduled for the year.

Lions Shot Down As Ward, Brewer Lead Bullet Win, 22-14

Two Gettysburg College Bullets, quarterback Jim Ward and defense halfback Bill Brewer, combined to steal the show in a 22-14 victory over Albright's hustling Lions.

The defending Middle Atlantic Conference (University Division) champions outlasted Coach John Potsklan's undermanned forces to the delight of 5,900 partisan Gettysburg rooters.

Ward, a Little All-American choice, passed for one touchdown, scored another, gained 62 yards rushing and punted for a 43 yard average in six tries. Brewer was a standout at the defensive halfback position as he intercepted three Albright passes, returning one all the way back for a score.

Roy Shellhammer, the sparkling Red and White sophomore quarterback, topped Ward's passing yardage (173-105) on four less completion (9-8). Roy drew first blood when he connected with Tom Huntzinger for a 62-yard TD pass in the opening stanza.

The "home run" came after the Lions had taken over on their own 38 and G-burg not suspecting the bomb, allowed Huntzinger to roam freely. Tom Bowersox added the extra point with 7:29 left in the first quarter.

After the Gettysburg offense stalled in its first series of plays, Albright pushed from its own 22 to the 40-yard stripe on three running plays. But on the next down, Shellhammer rolled right and fired a pass which was picked off by "Big Bill" Brewer who returned it for a Gettysburg touchdown. Ward found Dale Boyd open in the end zone and the home forces led, 8-7.

It didn't take Albright long to regain the lead with Frank Herzog slanting off tackle for the go-ahead six pointer. Bowersox again converted. However, a Ward-to-Tom McCracken TD pass deadlocked the totals. The Bullet try for the PATD went sour and the halftime score remained 14-14.

After a scoreless third period, George Gamber recovered a Gettysburg fumble, ending a 34-yard drive for the Blue and Gold.

Unfortunately for the 'Bright, though, Brewer proceeded to regain the pigskin in a hurry by stealing another Shellhammer missile. Ward paced a 31-yard drive which ended with his sneak for a touchdown. The senior signal-caller also ran for the two points.

Jim Kearns made a desperate bid for a touchdown in the last quarter when, after scampering to the Bullets' 40 with a Shellhammer pass, he was slowed down by a leg cramp and tackled.

The loss made Albright's over-all record 1-2 while G-burg is 1-3. The Lions' MAC report card remained at 1-1.

You are never happy when you lose, but as Coach John Potsklan said after the Gettysburg game, "We had good spirit and put out a good effort." Gettysburg is a much better team than the records show. They have all but four men returning from last year's championship squad plus a freshman team which went unbeaten. By the middle of the second half their platoon system wore us down—the tackles were not as sharp and the holes were not filled as quickly. It is almost impossible for the same line to go the full 60 minutes and maintain the same caliber of performance.

Tom Lugg, '68, tore the ligaments and tendons around his right ankle and may have to sit out the rest of the season. Bill Kopp, '66, did not play, but might return to his line-backing chores this Saturday. Steve George, '68, who has been hampered with a damaged knee, saw limited action against G-burg and might be back in the starting line-up this week also.

Cliff Green, '68, and Frank Pasculi, '67, did a fine job as line-backers against the Bullets. They haven't had much experience in the post, but filled the positions more than adequately.

Against Gettysburg, we used a 4-4 defense and did stop Quarterback Jim Ward's accurate throwing. He likes to throw to his flankers, but we limited this play very effectively.

On Saturday we used a wingback in offense. This is the play in which the halfback is split wide and the end is in a slot position. It is better for passing and used as a variation. It looks quite different although it doesn't really change the blocking assignments.

Lions To Face Young Aggies In Annual Pretzel Bowl Game

The Delaware Valley Aggies will bring a big, young squad to the Albright Stadium gridiron Saturday afternoon for the annual Pretzel Bowl game.

The Aggies are trying to improve on last season's 3-5 record for second-year coach H. W. Craver. Coach Craver has begun a large-scale recruiting campaign and his freshmen have showed great promise in their first three games.

The 14 lettermen and 21 freshmen on the team average 215 pounds in the line and 185 pounds in the backfield. Co-captain John Cottrell, 6-3, 245 pound center, has been leading a tight defense and a hard-charging line. Two freshmen tackles, Tom VanDoren and Gerry Smith, should be watched closely.

Harriers Rebuilding; Promising Freshmen Added to Lion Squad

Although football takes up most of the fall sports spotlight, cross country provides the opportunity for intercollegiate competition for many interested Albright students. Jim Garibay ('68) and Doug Rankin ('66) head this year's team as co-captains and are expected to pace Coach George Mack's harriers to victory.

Cross country is a sport of endurance and stamina. To better condition the squad, Coach Mack has employed a moderated training program in which the team runs a distance, rests, and then finishes the course. This differs from the strictly endurance running, but it tends to develop more speed and sprinting power.

Scoring in a meet is based on the lowest time turned in by a runner over a four to five mile course. The Albright course is 4-2 miles in length. A team consists of 12 men, but only five of these are involved in the scoring. The other runners, however, play an important role in team strategy, since they displace two opposing runners.

Coach Mack has labeled this season a "building year." A good cross-country team takes time to mature.

Student Council Hears Comments By Dean On Women's Dress Rules

By William R. Maslo

The Student Council meeting of October 5 was highlighted by Dean Doris G. Manzollilo's comments on women's rules and regulations. Homecoming Queen nominations, the songfest, the Cue, and the impending concert by the Four Seasons were also discussed.

Dean Manzollilo feels that the girls in the dormitories should discuss changes in dress regulations and relay their desires to the administration. She also stated that although the demerit plan has some drawbacks, it is a vast improvement over previous systems.

Nominations were received for the Homecoming Queen. The Queen will reign during Homecoming Weekend, October 30-31. The following girls were nominated: Hope Schweitzer, Marge Kachenash, Leslie Kepler, Diane Polites, Mary Abrams, Jean Wilkins, Ellen Kadell, Denise Nappe, Bonnie Delozier, Leslie Martinborough, Barbara Allison, Alfric da Keigler, and Pat Cariest.

Bill Stoyko, chairman of the big name entertainment committee, reported that contacts have been made with all Berks County high schools in reference to ticket sales. Stoyko stated that with the cooperation of the Albright student body the Four Seasons Concert on Saturday, November 13, will be a success.

Appointments to Traffic Court were also approved. Named were: Joseph Gerber, Thomas Dondore, Barbara Smith, Roger Mallin, and Walter Joachim. The court is expected to begin functioning next week.

William Gay, editor of the Cue, announced some changes in the format of the yearbook. Senior pictures will be classified by majors instead of the alphabetical order used in the past. The theme of the 1966 Cue will be informality on campus.

The Continental Dance Studio has offered ballroom dancing lessons to Albright couples at the rate of two dollars per couple per lesson. Student Council agreed to sponsor the lessons.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir,

I would like to thank all those who had a part in making the Orientation Program for the class of 1969 a success. Many hours of hard work were willingly completed by Orientation Committee members, faculty members, and administrative members of the college. For the first time in many years all three of these groups were able to concentrate their efforts to develop the best program possible.

The success of the job performed by these people was not noted just by me. I have, on behalf of the committee, received compliments personally from freshmen, parents, faculty, and administrators.

Particularly satisfying was a personal letter from the Vice President of Mary MacIntosh Services, a visitor to our campus on Thursday, Sept. 16, who stated "My work takes me to colleges in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Florida, and I've had ample opportunity to observe many and varied methods of greeting new classes. The friendliness, warmth, and sincerity with which Albrightians greeted the families is a unique distinction of which you should be proud."

May I also add my congratulations and thanks to the members of the Orientation Committee for the outstanding service which they have performed for the College.

FROSH UPSET UPPERCLASSMEN IN IFC TUG

A fired-up legion of freshmen pulled their way to an astonishingly easy victory over an All-Star upperclassmen squad at a special Customs' tug-of-war last Friday night.

Highlight of the pep rally-dance sponsored by the Interfraternity Council in the Albright field house was the long-awaited "tug" by winning, the frosh team officially closed the customs' period for its class. An upperclassman victory would have extended customs for another week.

A best-of-three series was waged for the "tug" title and the freshmen made it in two tries. In neither contest could the upperclassmen stage any kind of opposition. The fact that none of the members of the football team was allowed to participate seemingly weakened the upperclass team. "Let's face it," rationalized a disappointed loser, "with some of those big linemen pulling for us, the frosh didn't have a prayer."

"If the frosh think they have such a good team, let's see what they do in Sports' Night," challenged another sore upperclassman. The freshmen, of course, had no complaints.

"We won it fair and square," beamed a dink-less frosh. "It's too bad the upperclassmen never seem to get organized."

The pep rally featured film highlights from last year's football game against Gettysburg. The Venturas provided the entertainment for the dance which followed.

organized it and they were not disappointed by Tuesday night's success. Among future plans for the Why Not are a possible switch from Tuesday to Friday nights, the use of two nights, and the addition of pretzels and mustard to the menu.

The program on opening night featured Karen Cuper, '66, singing vocal selections. Other programs planned are films, speakers, group discussions, and seminars. If anyone is interested in participating or helping to organize the programs, please contact either Miss Scoglio or Mr. Martin.

Why Not is a refreshing change for Albright's students. It acts as a cultural, social, and intellectual center all in one big happy evening.

Biologists Meet:

Skull & Bones Club Holds First Meeting

Members of the Skull and Bones Club saw a film dealing with open-heart surgery at the groups' first meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 6. The movie stressed the fact that this field of medicine has made great strides within the past few years. Today it is possible to re-route the blood through an artificial heart-lung machine, while at the same time the heart can be stopped completely as surgeons nimbly and swiftly make repairs.

Following the film, two medical students presented a lecture and discussion entitled: "The Production of Experimental Heart Blocks in Dogs." Dr. Raymond Trues, a graduate of Gettysburg College, and Dr. William Kothe an alumnus of Allegheny College, are third-year students at Temple University Medical School. For the past two summers they have been working with the problem of nervous stimulation of the heart muscle and the pattern of heart beats. Assisting in the program was Dr. Robert Balforth, Albright '61, also a medical student. Their work is supported by grants from the National Institute of Health and is coordinated by Temple University Summer Research Program.
