DOCTOR J. STITT WILSON MAKES DEEP IMPRESSION AT ALBRIGHT

Students Are Privileged To Hear Nation-Wide Famous Series of Lectures

SENT OUT UNDER NATIONAL Y. M. C. A.

J. Stitt Wilson, evangelist, educator, author and former Mayor of Berkeley, California, spent Sunday evening and Monday, November 5-6, at the College, addressing and personally interviewing the student body under the auspices of the National Y. M. C. A. board.

The Sunday evening address, given in the local church, was in the nature of an introduction to his course of lectures. The keynote of Dr. Wilson's entire message was the solution to the economic problem of "The Just Use, Control and Administration of the Institutions of Property." That the human race is passing thru the most critical, crucial and tragic hour in history is the consensus of opinion; the problems are inter-racial; inter-national; economic and social; and spiritual, moral and personal. To solve these problems we must consult the "highest culture of our humanity" which consists of five great tributaries to the river of Truth. These are Science, History, Philosophy, Art and Revelation.

The Chapel address of Monday morning was the lecture on Science. The sermon that cold, calculating Science teaches is the unescapable tendency of animal life in the struggle for existence, to first struggle for self and then for others. The practical application was the lesson that monopoly and competition must yield to co-operation and fraternity, and that selfishness must give way to the principle of the common good. ### BISHOP MEADE GIVES ADDRESS IN CHAPEL

On Monday morning the Albright student body was privileged to hear another of the splendid talks which have been of frequent occurrence at Albright this year.

Due to the kindness of Mr. Mohn, of Reading, a warm friend and enthusiastic supporter of the Institution, Bishop Meade of the Methodist Episcopal church appeared before the student body and delivered a sincere, enthusiastic and inspiring message.

The theme of the talk was the wonderful opportunities which we as young people have before us, and very strongly emphasized the moral content of life; you may be dishonest in your work and drift along; you may be crooked in dealing with people and be popular for awhile, but when you face the realities of life you will be left by the roadside.

Bishop Meade is located in Denver, Colorado. He is an eloquent and forceful speaker. Thru the Bulletin, we express our gratitude to Mr. Mohn for making it possible for us to hear Bishop Meade.

WAR DAYS RECALLED BY ARMISTICE DAY

In behalf of the student ex-service men, and to commemorate the day in a fitting manner, the "Y's" were hosts at a party in Mohn Hall Social Room on Saturday evening, November 11th. The room was decorated with flags and national colors and a patriotic program was rendered. A community war-time singing opened the evening. All the old favorites, "Over There," "Good morning, Mr. Zip-zip-zip," and all the rest which every one remembered astonishingly well, made the room fairly ring.

JOINT ASSOCIATIONS HOLD ECHO MEETING

Rev. Hershey, Miss Ludwig, and Brown Are Main Speakers For First of Series

A joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. was held in the College Chapel, Tuesday evening, November 14th. The meeting was the first of a series of Wilson Conservation meetings and was in charge of Mr. Lackey.

After the Scripture reading, Rev. Hershey of the local United Brethren Church reviewed the lessons presented by Dr. Wilson. After checking up the important points in the different lectures, he introduced the question, "Is Poverty a Real Serious Problem?" In the first place, the causes of poverty were presented, namely sickness and accident, old age and unemployment. Then Reverend Hershey enumerated the misfortunes of the poor, emphasizing child labor and mothers in industry. He suggested some ways that poverty can be remedied are thru public and private agencies, thru wage scales and thru income tax returns.

Miss Ludwig spoke on the subject, "Blessings of Poverty." She took as her definition of poverty, a state a little lower than that of ease. She pointed out that during prosperous years there are ten million people in (Continued on Page Three)

FROSH EVEN STANDING WITH THE SOPHOMORES

Win Exciting Tug-of-War Over Canal in 59 Seconds

On Saturday morning, November 11th, the Freshmen evened up the point standing of the Freshman and Sophomore classes in their series of contests by winning the Tug-of-War with a vengeance. After but 59 seconds of the most strenuous kind of pulling by the six representatives of the "Cardinal and Steel", their "Brown and Buff" rivals landed in the middle of the old canal with a splash and some most vigorous yells of protest and discomfiture. The Freshmen and Juniors gave a few victorious cheers and then the 200 or more interested and excited spectators dispersed.

The contest was marred only by the fact that the Sophomore class was unable to muster more than six men. These six were outweighed by the Freshmen who had sixteen men on hand ready to defend the laurels of their class. The Sophs came to the field of battle with the certain expectation of "going in" and this detracted from the victory and the contest.

The Freshmen who took part in winning the necessary 10 points to tie with the Sophs at 26-26 were Yost, Dale Gramley, Ziegenfus, Jas. Lackey, Clarence Miller and Hewitt, forming back of Yost, in the order (Continued on Page Four)

CAMBRIA CLUB REORGANIZES

At a meeting of the Cambria County Club held Thursday, October 20th, the following officers were re-elected.

President—Willard Miller.
Vice President—Margaret Hetrick.
Secretary-Treasurer—Sara Stalter.
Publicity Chairman—Newton Miller.

At present plans are being formulated for the coming year by the officers.

The ranks of the organization have been increased by the addition of several new members: Miss Eva Wright, Miss Ruth Thiele, Miss Mabel Gindlesberger and Mr. Clyde Hewitt.

GIRLS WILL BATTLE TO KEEP MUDGE CUP

By virtue of a win over the Excelsior Literary society in the preliminary debate for the possession of the Mudge Cup and the premier debating honors of Albright, the Neocosmian debating team will meet the Themesian team, present holders of the cup, on Friday night, December 15th, at 8:00 o'clock.

The question of debate which was selected only after much trouble is an interesting and instructive one and worth the consideration and attention of the student body and the community. The question, as it now reads, is "Resolved that the principle of the Kansas Industrial Court be incorporated into the Pennsylvania state legislation." The Neocosmian debaters will uphold the statement of the question by defending the affirmative, while the Themesians are preparing for a vigorous attack on the same by virtue of being on the negative.

The Neocosmian debaters will be Frank Kyle, Charles Raffensperger, Kenneth Snyder and Blaine Shick, alternate, the three debaters appearing in the order named. The Themesians and their probable order of appearance are, Miss Martha Shambaugh, Miss Phyllis Bicher, Miss Edith Rosser, and Miss Armita Miles, alternate.

EXCELSIORS ELIMINATED BY THE NEOCOSMIANS

Interesting Debate Held On Economic Problem

NEGATIVE WINS DECISION 3-0

But I will not keep you in any further suspense, and will now announce the decision of the judges. The judges have decided unanimously in favor of the negative side, debated by the Neocosmians. These were the closing words of Mr. Edw. Landis, of Myerstown, who presided at the preliminary debate between the Excelsior and Neocosmian Literary societies for the possession of the Mudge Cup.

The debate was held on the evening of Friday, November 3, at 8 o'clock in the College chapel and decided who shall meet the Themesians in the final debate on December 15th. The question of debate was a vitally important one and interesting, to say the least. It was stated as follows: "Resolved, that the closed shop would be a benefit to the American people." The arguments of both sides were well prepared and presented to the audience an abundance of material on both sides of this economic problem.

The debaters for the Excelsiors on the affirmative side of the question were Albert Swank, Charles Kachel, and Orville Bennett, who discussed and presented respectively the three points: (1) that the closed shop is necessary for the general welfare; (2) that the union shop is socially desirable and beneficial; and (3) that it is the practicable policy. The alternate was Ralph Kauffman, Frank Kyle, Charles Raffensperger (Continued on Page Four)

WESTERN MARYLAND SURPRISED BY POWERFUL OFFENSIVE OF ALBRIGHT IN SECOND HALF

CRIPPLED BACKFIELD WORKS WELL IN 20-0 WIN

Myerstown, Pa., Nov. 11th, 1922. Displaying an excellent assortment of forward passes, end runs, fake plunges and cross bucks, taught by the crafty "Haps" Benfer, Albright defeated the hard fighting Western Maryland team by the score of 20-0. Neither team was able to score in the first half, altho both goals were threatened. In the second half, however, the Albright machine got to working and rolled up three touchdowns. No one of them came easy. They were the results of line plunges and end runs.

Flannagan kicked off for Western Maryland to Zeigler on the 5 yd. (Continued on Page Four)

HOLD SIXTY-SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM

All Participants Do Credit To Excelsiors

The sixty-seventh anniversary of the Excelsior Literary Society was held in the College Chapel on Friday evening, November 10. The Society has the honor of holding the first meeting of this kind in our magnificent new Chapel and all of the members who appeared on the program reflected credit on the work of the Society. The Chapel was decorated with a display of College pennants, and potted plants added to the attractiveness of the stage. The College Orchestra rendered several selections.

After the invocation by Reverend A. Heck, J. Good Brown, president of the Society, welcomed the students and visitors who had gathered in the Chapel to hear the program.

Glenn W. Raffensperger delighted the audience with a talented and pleasing rendition of Manasset's "Elegy". He also favored us with an encore.

The next number was an oration, "How to Get There," by Albert L. Swank. It was a forceful and eloquent appeal for higher standards and ideals in reaching one's destination in life.

Lloyd V. Kreuger read an essay, "What Do We Need to Succeed?" The essay was well written and effectively read.

John G. Raffensperger, talented reader, captivated the audience with a characteristic presentation of "White Azaleas." He read "Barbara Fritchie" for an encore number. J. Good Brown, violinist, played "Until" and a beautiful and expressive rendition of "Dreams" by Bartlett.

Ralph E. Kaufman presented an oration on, "America, We Love Thee," which was an inspiring and patriotic talk on the America and her ideals which we love.

The program was closed by the "Alma Mater."

The Excelsior Glee Club also made its initial appearance and delighted the audience.

Red And White Makes It Four Straight By 27-0 Win Over Heavier Ursinus Team

MILLER AND SALTERN LOST FOR REST OF SEASON

Saturday, Nov. 4th, 1922

In one of the best played games of the year, Albright defeated Ursinus College on the Albright gridiron by the score of 27-0. The victory proved costly to Albright for Saltern, the big halfback and star line plunger, was injured in the first play. Later it was found that his shoulder was broken. Miller, our lucky quarterback, was also taken out because of a sprained ankle. Dech, who piloted the team after the injury of Miller, did commendable work at quarterback.

First Half

Albright won the toss and chose to receive. Dech caught the kickoff on Albright's 10 yard line and raced it back 30 yards before being downed. Successive plunges, starting on Albright's 40 yard line, by Miller, Dech, Hollenbaugh and Zeigler, gained three first downs, and placed the ball on Ursinus's 15 yd. line, where Miller threw a beautiful pass to Zievers who was over the line. Miller gained a point in the try for goal by a drop kick. Albright again received. Again they took the ball down the field for three first downs, only to lose it when Dech fumbled and Evans recovered for Ursinus. After three attempts to buck the line had failed to gain, Faye kicked, an Albright man touched the ball and Ursinus recovered. An end run by Wisner gained 20 yds. The quarter ended with the ball in Ursinus's possession on Albright's 20 yd. line. Albright took the ball on downs. (Continued on Page Four)

FROSH GIRLS FETE BOYS OF THE CLASS

On the evening of Saturday, November 4th, at 8 o'clock, the boys of the Freshman class received a treat in the form of a party. The boys were the guests of the girls of the class in Mohn Hall reception room, which was decorated in autumn leaves and the class pennants.

Quite a large per centage of the Freshman class were present. They spent an enjoyable evening in carrying out, under the direction of Miss Helen Walbert, the fine program that the girls had prepared. Following the program refreshments were served by several of their class cousins, the Junior girls. These refreshments were the results of a busy morning of preparation on the part of the Freshman girls.

After the refreshments had been served the vice-president, Mr. Clyde Hewett, in the president's absence, thanked the girls, on behalf of the boys, for the privilege of enjoying such a pleasant evening.

HINDU LEADER SPEAKS IN THE HIGH SCHOOL

On November 5th, in the High School Auditorium, Tarini Prasad Sinha, a young Hindu leader, gave a stirring description of the New India and its fight for social advancement. He uses excellent English and is a most eloquent speaker. Sinha, though young, has already made a record, having been a volunteer in the World War with service in France and Mesopotamia, being a keen student of world affairs, and having traveled more than ten weeks as a companion of "Pussyfoot" Johnson on the latter's recent trip thru India. ### THANKS

The football season is now over. Without a doubt it has been a successful season; and we are sure that its success will not soon be forgotten. Albright has made for herself a record which is worthy of praise. The Red and White battlers won five successive games which give them a final score of six victories out of eight games. Indeed, this is no little achievement, but means much to the athletic standing of the school.

To us no person or group of persons is given credit for the successful season, but, to all who contributed in any manner whatsoever, is given a proportionate degree of credit. First, it is inevitable that our coach deserves the most praise. Were it not for his untiring efforts, his great enthusiasm, his extraordinary skill, we feel that the record would not be as it now stands. At all times, irrespective of circumstances, we do not forget the part Coach Benfer plays in our athletic achievements.

Again, there are at least thirty boys upon whom we place medals of praise. We would decorate everyone with a victory cross; for, upon no one individual can be placed the entire credit. Star players, varsity men, and faithful scrubs—all, we say, deserve laud which cannot be over-emphasized.

Moreover, we would not dare to let the analysis stop at this point. It would be a hasty conclusion to say that no other factors entered into the successful season which has passed. There were two other factors which contributed largely—the enthusiasm of the students and the support of the Alumni.

The students performed a part which could not have been substituted by any other constituency. At times, perhaps, the students were somewhat slack in the manifestation of their school spirit; but, we are sure that in the heart of every student there existed a loyalty of spirit which connected itself vitally with the fighters on the gridiron. Worthy mention is especially due to those boys and girls who, night after night, cheered for the team as they scrimmaged up and down the field.

To the Alumni, we express grateful thanks for all the support which they gave. We are glad to say that the Alumni members attended the games very faithfully. It is an inspiration, not only to the players, but also to students, to know that the Alumni are backing up the Red and White with their undivided support.

We, as an editorial staff, take this opportunity to thank the Alumni for all the services they gave in helping to make the 1922 football season a success.

GEOLOGICAL TRIP

Prof. Walton in his senior class in Geology spent Tuesday, November 7, in a local geology trip, searching for interesting rock formations. Crystal Cave, near Kutztown, an ever-interesting rendezvous for geologists, was first visited and then the party crossed the country to observe the formations on the side of the mountain on which the Pagoda at Reading is situated. The next observation was made in the country side near Oley.

Besides making interesting and instructive observations, the class returned with several very specimens. The trip was made by motor and included Burgett, Krueger, Lackey, Kline, Brown and Prof. Walton.

Campus Chatter

By The Parrot

Albright is "getting up" in the world, that we all must admit. Past achievements as the Mohn Hall elevator, the Y. M. C. A. reception room, the installation of showers for the girls,—all these we need not mention, but as the latest report of progress, Mohn Hall offers the news of the installation of "one-way" telephones! There is one on each floor, and the exchange (?) is on the first floor. As, yet, the circulation is limited.

Eva Wright and Anna Ritter celebrated birthdays on Saturday, November 4th, not quietly as the journals say of some people, but in a way that we all could understand the slogan, "It pays to advertise". Anna entirely unbeknownst was the victim of a handkerchief shower, and received, h'm, let's see,—well we're sorry but at the last report she had lost count of them.

Eva, in a way befitting a freshman, entertained her fellow freshies at a midnight feed, who started the natives of the Hall with a tremendous "boom-yell" for Wright in the sma' hours.

The campus philosopher, by the way, an optimist, observed the other day that altho he realizes he is forced to accept the face that nature bestowed, yet he always thanks the gods that he can pick his own teeth.

To come down from the frivolous to that which is really serious, we are glad to have back with us again Margaret Hetrick, who recently underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils and adenoids. Dr. Kaufman performed the operation at his private hospital in Lebanon.

Among week-end visitors of November 5th, were John O. Hartzler '22, of Terre Hill, who at present is teaching in the High School at Keesport; Miss Eugenie Berger, of Schuylkill Haven, who visited Mary Woodring, '23; and Herbert Polk, formerly of 24, of Millersburg.

The jewelry committee of the Junior class has presented its report and samples of the ring and pin which they chose. The class is well pleased with the choice and has accepted the selection. Measurements have been taken and the order has been sent in. By Christmas time '24 will be proudly displaying its insignia!

At a dinner party given in honor of Samuel Mehaiffe's birthday on Wednesday, November 8th, Mrs. Bitte entertained a number of the students. Those present were Janet Kaitredre, Lois Helm, Grace Snyder, Violet Kinsinger, Mrs. Bittle and the three Misses Bittle; Kenneth Benfer, David Hoffman and Samuel Mehaiffe. Miss Moyer chaperoned the party.

Naomi Loucks, formerly of '24, now a Y. W. C. A. secretary in York, spent the week-end of the 11th with Anna Ritter.

Arthur Fahl, '22, who is at present following journalism on the Reading Herald, spent the week end back at his Alma Mater.

Mr. Mark H. Bennett of West Bangor, visited his brother, Orville, over the week end. Miss Letha Wolfe and Miss Bernice Turner, of Bloomsburg, spent the week-end with Miss Claire Dice and took in the Western Maryland game on the eleventh.

Eccentric

A patent medicine advertisement in one of our daily papers says, "Try this for dizzy spells". That is what the bootleggers are all saying.

We have heard that some of the students gave liberally to the prohibition movement in India after hearing Hashish al Horseradish in the high school. Come along Count de Coupons and Ivan Awfultruth and we will help to put down Vin Blanc and Vodka.

The local fire company responded to our alarm from the college on Hallow'en night but was disappointed to learn that the bucket brigade had the fire out when they arrived.

Evolution of a "ease"—Honey Honey, Matrimony, Ceremony, Testimony, Alimony.

"Newt" Miller says: "If you have anything to say to a mule, do not say it behind his back."

The game of checkers is becoming a popular pastime. Some of our "strong feeders" are coming into the dining room late since the new checker boards were put into the "Y" room.

Recent announcement: "Mr. A. is coming to Myerstown to speak on Alcoholism. He is full of his subject."

Bishop Meade's address in chapel last Monday morning was a double blessing to some of the boys who had a busy week end and failed to "brouse" over their Monday assignments.

SOCIETY AND CLUB

ZETA OMEGA EPSILON

The Fraternity entertained fraternal John O. Hartzler '22, over the week-end of the fourth.

Messrs. John Luckenbill, Fleetwood and Levi H. Dice, St. John's Military College, were entertained by the fraternity during the week-end, guests of fraters Luckenbill and Dice.

KAPPA UPSILON PHI

The following fraters were entertained by the fraternity during the past week-end; Charles P. Krum '17, Victor D. Helsey '19, Paul S. Deysher '20, and Rudolph A. Heisler, '20.

PI TAU BETA

Allen O. Dech, '19 was a welcome visitor over the past week-end.

THANKSGIVING

What will it mean to us? A certain satisfaction that we are not as others less fortunate than we in the world? A contented gratification that we have been granted happiness, the necessities and even a few luxuries of life?

We are fond of recalling the story of the first Thanksgiving Day. It is a delightful story, one of the first with which the American child becomes familiar. Over and over again we emphasize the fact that that Thanksgiving was not a time for feasting alone but a day of genuine "thanksgiving". But for what did the Pilgrim fathers give thanks? Was it merely for the material benefits, the personal blessings they had found and enjoyed in the new land? No, they were struggling, had sacrificed property, had broken old ties, had risked life itself for the high principles to which they had dedicated themselves. To them these principles were dearer than life. They inaugurated a public "thanksgiving" because they had realized another step toward the fulfillment of their ideals.

How many of us can truthfully celebrate this day as the mark of another step toward the realization of high, unselfish principles in our lives? We were very forcefully awakened during Dr. Wilson's addresses to our ignorance of the world problems swirling around us—We were forced to realize, and admit our lamentable lack of interest to the point of ignorance at today's world struggles of higher principles; of the дав, our unrecurrents swirling around us in our own nation.

We as students have dismissed distressing accounts of such moment with a temporary feeling of concern or a passing expression of sympathy. Secure in our present position, we have been heard to express our gratefulness that we have not been drawn into such grave situations. But are we apart from them? Can we be apart from them? World Fellowship Week is observed in November of each year thruout our institution. Now as our national Thanksgiving approaches, it is for us to decide whether it is to be a day of thankfulness for and contentment with our own present happy lot, or whether we will make our world-brothers' struggles and our national struggles for higher nobler principles—Our Own.

MR. TINKER'S TALK IN CHAPEL

"Know what you want and then go after it," was the subject of a live wire Chapel talk by Mr. Tinker, Wednesday, November 2nd. The address was opened with illustrations of the little dog who runs and barks at passing vehicles, and the prize fighter who trains and sacrifices because he knows what he is after.

Coming down to the practical illustrations from the Bible, we find Paul and the other disciples working with a direct aim, knowing what they wanted and then going after it.

Mr. Tinker visited the College under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. He is the International Student Secretary with headquarters in New York City and he travels over the Eastern States area of Colleges.

Y. M. C. A.

The "Y" convened in the College Chapel on Tuesday evening under the leadership of President Lackey. Kenneth Benfer gave a report of the Student Volunteer Conference at Ursinus College. He defined the term "Student Volunteer," gave a brief history of the Student Volunteer Movement, and then launched into a presentation of the report. There were thirty-five men, all serious and intent on business, in attendance at this conference. Their avowed purpose was to gain inspiration and clearer insight in order to better perform the King's work. Mr. Benfer concluded with a strong plea for participation in the work of carrying forward the program of Christianity on the part of the Y. M. C. A. constituency.

After the report, Rev. Heck and several of the students told what particularly, in Mr. Wilson's lectures had impressed them deeply.

Prof. V. C. Zener, local "Y" Secretary was present at the meeting.

Y. W. C. A.

The first of a series of three meetings on the subject, "When God is Victor," was held Tuesday evening, November 7th. Arnita Miles was the leader of the evening. The topic for discussion was, "How can I know the Living God?"

In the scripture lesson, the essential requirements for knowing the Living God were revealed. One must possess honesty with God, wholeness, will, teachableness, and quietness to be able to know God.

Then in an open discussion, the ways of knowing the Living God were brought out. God moves in nature. His plans are fulfilled in History. He is well known to those who study Scripture, intimately associated with those who pray, and finally we may know the Living God through Jesus Christ Himself who is the Living God.

Our knowledge of God grows as we continue active in His service.

REPORTS OF EXTENSION COURSE

From Secretary Gobble's office the report of the extension department comes, as being successful. The extension work was begun this year and of course is still in the experimental stage. The Saturday classes are the largest, altho during the week work is carried on in the various departments.

The department was inaugurated in order to serve those interested in extending their education courses to meet the latest State requirements. Summer work and extension work during the year will fit teachers to meet the requirements for a permanent certificate.

Th number enrolled is given sixteen, men ten and women six. These are about evenly divided in the various branches. Considering the experimental stage of the project, the size of the school, and that of the community, this seems to be quite a fair report.

AROUND THE TOWN

The second annual Farm Products Show of the surrounding community was held in the local High School over the week end of November 9 and 10th. The show was very successful and over forty dollars were distributed in prizes. The object of the show is to stimulate interest in producing better crops. A speaker from State College gave a wheat grading demonstration which was very instructive and beneficial. A lady speaker also from State College spoke on various phases of home economics. The fruit display was unusually fine. There were seven classes of exhibits, corn, small grain, fruit, vegetables, canned goods, cakes and bread and needlework. Fifty posters, the work of Mr. Musser, received much favorable comment for the attractiveness which it added to the occasion.

Dr. Nichols, a graduate of Dickinson College and Pennington Seminary and at present the pastor of a prominent Methodist Church in Phila. delivered a lecture on Thursday evening, Nov. 16th, in the High School Auditorium. This was the second number of an excellent Lyceum Course which Prof. Davenport has arranged for this season. Dr. Nichols is an author, writer, traveler and lecturer of note. His most popular lecture is "The Life and Laughter of James Whitcomb Riley."

We urge the patrons of the Bulletin to remember the Lecture in the High School Auditorium on the 23rd of November by the Dean of the American Platform, Dr. Russell H. Conwell who is considered to be the greatest Lecturer in the world. He will deliver his world famous "Acres of Diamonds."

DR. J. STITT WILSON MAKES DEEP IMPRESSION ON ALBRIGHT

Revelation was the theme of the address in the Chapel at one o'clock. The clash of Church with Paganism was the sharpest clash that the world has ever known. Christ broke the back of History and freed the slave, set humanity on its feet and gave back lost respect and honor to the world. The institution of "human rights" had its author in Christ.

Dr. Wilson's last message at seven that evening was an appeal for action.—As the future makers of History, we as students must act. The challenge was thrown out in three ways, to stand for human values, to establish Christian Democracy and a missionary action. Not one who listened to Dr. Wilson could fail to respond to the challenge. As an economist he showed mighty knowledge and insight into the modern day problems, and as a teacher and an evangelist, he revealed a true, but practical Christianity.

The response to his appeal was ample testimony to the effective presentation, for about fifty men and fifty women signed the pledges, some one, some two, and a few,—three.

Arrangements for echo meetings and conservation of Dr. Wilson's message have been under way and definite instruction will no doubt be undertaken.

veteran of the twenty-eighth division, took charge of the program which consisted of a vocal solo by Luckenbill, a reading by Miss Sara Statter, Service Reminiscences by Swank, a vocal solo by John G. Raffensperger and several selections by the College Orchestra.

At the conclusion of the program, the call to mess was sounded and in true "Y" hut style we all passed to the serving room windows where the "Y" girls passed out doughnuts and cocoa. The Alma Mater and "Taps" ended the evening's entertainment.

The program committee of the "Y's" had charge of the arrangements.

WITH THE FACULTY

A delightful four o'clock tea was served to the lady teachers and wives of faculty members, at the home of Mrs. Zener, on Friday, Nov. 4th. Mrs. Zener was a charming hostess and the afternoon was pleasantly informal.

Miss Liela Flory entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Flory of Bangor, over the week-end of the 5th.

Prof. and Mrs. H. A. Benfer entertained the latter's parents, Senator and Mrs. Hoffman, of Bangor, over the week end of November 5th.

"Our Yesterdays" was the subject of the talk delivered by Dr. Gobble at a reception for the newly-elected Bishop Dunlap. The reception was held at Lewisburg on Thursday, November 17th, and was given by the Lewisburg District of the Central Penna. Conference.

A drive thru the autumn country side and a moonlight picnic was the pleasant experience of the lady members of the faculty on Friday afternoon and evening, November 4th. The trip was made in Miss Flory's car, and the party included Mrs. Ellis, Miss Garlach, Miss Moyer, Mrs. Hunt, Miss Flory and Mrs. Flory, who was the guest of honor.

Dr. Gobble attended the meeting of the Program Committee for Central Oak Heights Camp Meeting and School of Methods, held at Harrisburg, November 8th. The plans for the course of the summer of '23 were laid out and promise to be attractive.

Mrs. Mohn attended the State Convention of Deans of Women's Colleges, held at Harrisburg, in the Penn-Harris Hotel, Friday and Saturday, November 4th and 5th.

Among the courses which are being offered at the Night School of the Harrisburg Y. M. C. A., is one in Public Speaking which is in charge of Professor Keller. He reports about twenty-five business men in the class which he organized in Harrisburg on the evening of Thursday, November 9th.

the United States living in poverty. Are they in misery or are they blessed in any way? Abraham Lincoln, born and reared in poverty seems to have been prepared thru this training for the great service he did for mankind. Miss Ludwig in contrasting a wealthy family with a poor family showed the contentment and peace of mind with which the poor man is blessed. She also indicated that the honors in life are taken by the poor class of people who have been compelled to work hard. And finally, poverty teaches the greatest lesson, that of faith and trust in God.

Mr. Brown then spoke of the miseries of poverty. He depicted the life in the slums of the large cities. Among other things he depicted conditions where the families often live in one room, where children can not be reared properly and life becomes wretched.

There will be several joint Echo meetings to follow this one with the object of threshing out and impressing still further the problems to which Dr. Wilson directed us.

and Kenneth Snyder presented the arguments against the statement of the question for the Necosmians and gave a more organized and uniform debate. They debated in the order named and the first speaker gave the point that the closed shop would not benefit society, and divided society into the capitalist and laboring groups. The next speaker showed that the closed shop would not benefit the public in general because, (1) it creates a vicious circle; (2) it is detrimental financially; and (3) it causes hardships. The last speaker proved that the closed shop is not the most effective plan, since (1) it is un-democratic; and (2) the principle of the industrial court plan would be a better plan. Blaine Shick was alternate for the winners.

During the debate the two contending societies sat grouped on opposite sides of the chapel to furnish moral support to their respective champions; and when the opportunity offered itself in the time between the main speeches and the refutation speeches, they gave voice to their support and encouraged their respective representatives.

The judges who so kindly served thus for the debate were: Attorneys Bowman and Bickel, and Reverend line. Albright proceeded to make two first downs in a hurry. Hollenbaugh fumbled and Davis recovered for the visitors. Two plunges by Davis and Long failed to gain. An exchange of punts followed giving Albright the ball on Western Maryland's 20 yard line. Albright made three more first downs, and then a pass was intercepted on our 32 yd. line. Western Maryland made three first downs, and it was Albright's ball on their 20 yard line. After carrying the ball to Western Maryland's 32 yd. line Ziegler fumbled, giving them the ball. Here the half ended.

After Western Maryland kicked off, Albright made five first downs on an assortment of plays—not many long runs, but short knife like plunges thru the line. On the last play Dech went across for the first score. He also added a point when he dropkicked the try for the point. Albright received. Dech fumbled, but Edwards recovered. Albright again took the ball from her 45 yd. line over the goal on straight plunges. Zeigler made the touchdown. Dech dropkicked for the point.

The fourth period was full of thrills. Both sides opened up. Near the beginning of the period, Dech threw a pass to Zievers that was good for 25 yds. Dech then fooled the opposition by faking a pass, and then darted around the opposite end for 25 yds. A pass went out of bounds behind the line. Western Md. got the ball on the 20 yd. line. On their first play Robinson picked a pass out of the air and ran to Albright's 3 yd. line before he was downed. On the next play, Dech went over. The try for point was missed.

After many passes had fallen on both sides, and neither side was able to advance, the game ended with the ball in Albright's possession on Western Maryland's 35 yd. line.

RED AND WHITE MAKES IT FOUR STRAIGHT BY 27-0 WIN OVER URSINUS

Carrying it up the field for a first down, Albright fumbled, and Mann recovered for Ursinus. Faye and Miller both lost on attempted runs, and Miller was forced to punt. Again Albright made a first down on plunges by Miller and Dech, but an Albright pass was intercepted by Eckert on our 14 yd. line. On the next play Eckert lost 5 yds. and Ursinus was forced to punt. Miller racing the ball back to their 24 yd. line. On successive plunges by Hollenbaugh, Dech, and Miller, Miller carried the ball over. He missed the try for point. Albright kicked off. Ursinus gained 4 yds. on three plunges and was forced to punt. The half ended with the ball in Albright's possession on Ursinus's 35 yd. line.

bright, Ursinus was unable to advance the ball and was forced to kick. Albright took the ball for 4 first downs and scored when Dech threw a pass to Edwards. Zeigler kicked the goal. After Albright kicked off, Ursinus was again unable to make the necessary distance and was forced to kick. Albright was penalized and the ball given to Ursinus. Again she was forced to kick. This time the kick was blocked, but the alert Faye recovered. On three plays she was forced to kick, and Albright got the ball on her own 30 yd. line. Albright gained two first down, but lost the ball when Dech's short pass was grounded. Prigg then grabbed a Ursinus pass out of the air and was headed for the goal line when a sole Ursinus man stopped him. Plunges by Hollenbaugh and Dech carried it over. Dech added the point by a drop kick.

Ursinus received, and after three unsuccessful passes, punted. Plunges by Hollenbaugh, Derr, Dech and Kemmer placed the ball on Ursinus's 28 yd. line when the whistle blew.

Score—Albright 27. Ursinus—0.
