High School UN Held On Campus

The second annual model United Nations General Assembly, sponsored by the International Relations Club, was held on campus last Saturday, Dec. 8.

James Wong, information officer at the U.N. headquarters in New York City, addressed the approximately 125 students from eight local high schools who took part in the all-day sessions in Krause Hall. His topic was "The Role of the United Nations in an Ever-changing World."

Native Of China

Wong was born in Nanling, China, and attended high school in India. He received a bachelor of arts degree from Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, and his master's degree from New York University. He is currently working on a doctorate in international organization.

Philip A. Eyrich, '58, served as secretary general, and Andrea Adams, a senior at Exeter Township High School, presided over the General Assembly. Faculty advisors were Charles A. Raith, assistant professor of political science, and William R. Bishop, assistant professor of history.

The three main topics under discussion in the committee meetings, caucus groups, and plenary sessions were: the Suez Canal question, the Israeli-Arab situation, and the peaceful uses of atomic energy. Two resolutions were passed in the afternoon plenary session: the first, calling for the U.N. to take positive steps to insure peace in the Middle East; the second, calling for world co-operation for peaceful use of atomic energy.

Albright Directory Being Sold In Sub

The first Albright Student Directory has been published this week by Student Council. The directory, a campaign promise of Clement Cassidy, '57, president of Student Council may be obtained for $1.00 in the bookstore.

The directory lists every student's name, class, school address, home address, and telephone number. In addition, the presidents of all the organizations are listed. There is also a list of faculty members and their telephone numbers. The telephone numbers of campus buildings are also listed.

Ann Miller, '58, was in charge of this project and she was assisted by Mildred Folk, '58, Audrey Boyd, '58, and Richard Wagner, '58.

This directory is expected to be a yearly project.

Christmas Party Held By Campus Groups

The combined Y's held their annual Children's Christmas party on Sunday, Dec. 9, in Krause Hall. A movie entitled "The Littlest Angel" was shown to a group of 100 children.

After the arrival of Santa Claus, who presented toys to the children, everyone participated in an afternoon of games.

A buffet supper was served at 5:30 p.m. after which the "parents for the day" returned the children to their homes.

Student Visits NAM Meeting

Representing Albright College at the 61st Annual Convention of the National Association of Manufacturers was James Kirkpatrick, '58. Over 5,000 guests representing educators, students, as well as leading manufacturers, attended the three day convention which ran from Wednesday, Dec. 5, through Friday, Dec. 7.

In addition to attending the convention, Kirkpatrick had the opportunity to visit numerous industrial displays that were part of the program and to attend all of the association's committee meetings.

Held In New York

While in New York, Kirkpatrick stayed at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel. All expenses for the trip were defrayed by the local organization, who sponsors a student from one of the area colleges to this convention each year.

In addition to Kirkpatrick, Levan P. Smith, principal of Reading High School, and former dean of men at Albright, attended the meeting as a guest of the local association.

On Friday, Dec. 28, Kirkpatrick will address the local group at a luncheon to be held at the Wyomissing Club and report on the convention which had as its theme "New Dimensions for America." At that time, he will discuss the keynote address made by General Alfred M. Gruenther, retiring NATO commander and recently-elected president of the American Red Cross.

Five Attend Meeting For Jersey Alumni

Five members of the faculty attended a meeting of New Jersey alumni last week at the Robin Hood Inn in Clifton, N. J. They were: Dr. Samuel B. Shirk, director of public relations; Anna B. Benninger, registrar; Eugene L. Shirk, faculty manager of athletics; James K. Spatz, caretaker; and Mary Fry Good, alumni secretary.

Pi Tau's Install At Rush Dance

Newly elected officers of the Pi Tau Beta fraternity were installed at the fraternity's annual rush dance last Friday night at the Goodwill Fire Company.

Richard DeLong, '58, succeeds Kenneth Greenawald, '57, as president. Other new officers are Albert Ellis, '58, vice-president; Thomas Grant, '59, recording secretary; Wilbert Wollenhaupt, '58, corresponding secretary; Robert Goldsmith, '59, treasurer; David Pettit, '58, chaplain; and Richard Kimmey, '58, houseman.

Outgoing officers, in addition to Greenawald, are Hans Gilde, '57, vice-president; Albert Ellis, '58, recording secretary; Philip Zullo, '58, corresponding secretary; Richard DeLong, '58, treasurer; Robert Fox, '57, chaplain; and Clinton Wallbank, '57, houseman.

The other three fraternities on campus elect their officers in the spring.

Spanish Club Plans Affair For Children

The Spanish Club, under the direction of Consuelo Jordan, assistant professor of Spanish, will hold a party for local Puerto Rican children, Saturday, Jan. 5, to celebrate Three Kings Day.

Spanish-speaking people celebrate Christmas as a solemn church day. The traditional merry-making and gift-giving occur on Three Kings Day, our Epiphany. Therefore, the club is holding its Christmas party on Jan. 5, the Eve of the Three Kings Day, in the Pine Room from 3-5 p.m.

Included will be Spanish games, carols, dances, refreshments, and a Mickey Mouse cartoon in Spanish. Nilda Calder, '57, president of the club, and Wilma Rieser, '58, are in charge of the party.

Campus IRC Sets Plans For UN

Albright College's International Relations Club has been selected to represent Poland at the annual model United Nations General Assembly for college students to be held at Princeton University April 5, 6, and 7. Numerous colleges and universities throughout the northeast section of the country will be in attendance at the three-day sessions.

Philip Eyrich, '58, has been named chairman of the national committee of the model United Nations by that body's continuation committee, which is responsible for organizing the meetings each year. Other committees will deal with economic, social, and United Nations Charter problems.

Albright Delegates

Members of the Albright IRC, under advisers William R. Bishop, assistant professor of history and Charles A. Raith, assistant professor of political science, will attend the Princeton sessions as delegates and alternate delegates to the four committees. Clement Cassidy, '57, is president of the IRC.

Participation involves studying the background and political stands taken in the United Nations by the country a particular delegation has been selected to represent. There will be general plenary sessions, committee meetings, and caucus sessions at the model United Nations, including an address by a nationally-prominent person. Professor Raith will serve as a caucus adviser.

Next Issue Jan. 11

The next issue of THE ALBRIGHTIAN will be published Jan. 11, due to the Christmas recess.

Council Passes Parking Motion

At a special Student Council meeting on Tuesday, called to discuss the college's parking regulations, the representatives passed a motion stating that (1) all fines paid to date be refunded, (2) better propagation of the regulations be carried out between the administration and Council, and (3) that persons having decals in the wrong place be so informed and issued new decals. The motion was made by Ronald O'Reilly, '58, and amended by Robert Van Hoove, '58, and Philip Eyrich, '58.

In response to a letter of Dec. 6 in which Council requested a full explanation of the parking policy, H. Eugene Pierce, superintendent of buildings and grounds, attended the Council meeting, in addition to replying to the Dec. 6 communique by letter. H. Tudor Westover, dean of men, also attended the session. The discussion arose over alleged confusion among the students concerning the parking regulations and fines imposed for violations.

Program's Aims

According to Mr. Pierce, "This program is for the benefit of the students and for the benefit of public relations in the community." Dean Westover added, "This is a matter of policy for the welfare of the student, although I find few students would admit that."

Allen Lentz, '57, stated that, "You say you have the registration to help students. The students here at Albright are not very well-off financially so why do you fine the students and deplete their funds?"

Clement Cassidy, '57, president of Council, offered, "Mr. Pierce, I think that by the student reaction to this, it is shown that perhaps if this whole policy . . . would have been brought to the Student Council and explained to them, and then conveyed to the student body, there would be no argument as to the payment of the fine."

In response to a question on the value of the program, Mr. Pierce said, "The only indication is that we know of at least 700 colleges who are doing it."

Day Students Plan Dance For Dec. 28

The Day Students are sponsoring a semi-formal dance, Friday, Dec. 28, from 9-12 p.m. The music is being supplied by Harry John and his orchestra.

Tickets for the dance, which is being held at the Orioles' Home, 37 South Eighth Street, Reading, are on sale at $2.50 per couple. They may be purchased from Clement Cassidy, '57, Richard Ebricht, '57, Clair Matz, '58, Marilyn Grill, '59 and Nancy Heilman, '60.

General chairmen for the dance are Janet Weil, '59, and Wilbert Wollenhaupt, '58.

Masters To Entertain At Dinner Tomorrow

All the members of the Albright College faculty have been invited to be the guests of Dr. Harry V. Masters, president of the college, and Mrs. Masters for the annual Christmas dinner tomorrow night at 7 p.m. in the college dining room.

This traditional dinner is an annual event begun by the Masters several years ago. Since this is one of the only times the faculty and their families meet together, the evening will be predominantly a social gathering.

An Open Letter

My Fellow Students:

At the request of The Albrightian, I will attempt to explain as clearly and briefly as possible the nature of the most recent developments in Student Council. Last week, in a regularly scheduled Council meeting, the question of the school regulation concerning automobile registration and sticker requirements was brought up. As most car-owning students know, the regulations stipulate that a small, red and white decal with a number on it be placed on students' cars, ostensibly for identification and protection purposes. In the discussion that followed, Council members brought out that the regulation was not sufficiently explained to the student body and that as a consequence, the majority of students have misconceived and conflicting ideas about it. It was also revealed that quite a number of students had been fined by the administration for violation of this regulation. As a result, a motion was passed requesting that the administration clarify what was apparently a misunderstood and cloudy rule.

The administration replied in a most commendable fashion, not only sending Student Council a letter specifically outlining the regulation, but also an administrative spokesman (Mr. Pierce) to answer any doubts still existing. This response was the substance of the Special Council meeting called this week. At the conclusion of this meeting, all Council members were fully aware of the specific nature of the regulation. They also felt that the administration was in error for not informing you, the student body, adequately. It was therefore moved and approved by Council that the administration repay all students fined as a result of the rule and that the Student Council, in cooperation with the administration, bend all efforts towards explaining the regulation to the student body, after which no excuse of ignorance will be valid. The outcome of the motion is as yet undetermined.

I sincerely hope that we have acted as you would have us act in the capacity of your elected representatives. It is also my hope that you are 100% behind us in the stand we have taken.

Sincerely,
CLEMENT J. CASSIDY, Student Council President

Resolution

Why is Christmas such a wonderful season of the year? Other holidays are gay and enjoyable, but none of them carry the glow associated with Christmas.

We have a different feeling toward each other at the Yule season. We send greeting cards and spend hours choosing presents to give. We exhibit a cheerfulness and happiness toward everyone.

We find life exciting at this holiday season. We are no longer bored by the routine of everyday life. We even find pleasure in the things we dislike the rest of the year.

We also have a different attitude toward God. We are reminded by the well-known manger story that Christ too lived in the world. This story also reminds us of Christ's humility, something which we might practice more often.

Yes, Christmas is a wonderful season. But what happens to this wonderful season? By New Year's Day, we have forgotten about that loving spirit, we have forgotten about that enthusiasm for life, and we have forgotten about God.

Actually, these things could be applied to our lives for the entire year. Wouldn't they make life more worthwhile? Life would not only be more worthwhile for ourselves, but for the entire world!

Let's not celebrate Christmas on one day this year! Let's celebrate it every day!
S.J.G.

Slurvanian

By George Withers

Nowadays everyone in the United States speaks "Slurvanian." Slurvanian is the art of talking so rapidly that all words are slurred together. A typical student would say to a friend, "Yagointothedancetnight, Joe?"

Joe replies, "Idunnoyet."

This is unintelligible, but it still remains the universal language. Slurvanians themselves complain that it is difficult to comprehend, but it would be sacrilege to suggest giving up this manner of speech.

Pronunciation

Many students, acquiring Slurvanian in grade school, never learn to pronounce final t's and other consonants in words. This results in misspelling and mispronunciation. Instead of really, it is relly, instead of history, it is histry, instead of geography, it is gogfry, and instead of sit down, it is sidown.

Slurvanian was introduced into this country ten years ago by Dr. Slurr. As head of the English department at Princeton, Dr. Slurr developed and expanded his unique theory on speech habits. He said that Americans were developing strains from careful pronunciation in everyday speech. This led to nervous tension and stuttering, so he recommended that people relax when speaking to reduce this nervous tension.

Misunderstanding

Americans have followed Dr. Slurr's advice with the result that no one can understand what others are saying. A television commentator will say, "Ladez and genlemen, thelatestnews." After the news report has been presented you still don't know what condition remains between Russia and Hungary. Next you hear a Jeanne Jim's record of "Cryin'theblues." Since you are unable to distinguish the words, you try conversation. After "Whatd'ya say" throughout the evening, you give that up.

National Problem

Since speech has become such a national problem, Congress has recommended to reduce the use of this dialect throughout the country. The bill consists of two parts: "1) It is, henceforth, unlawful to slur words; 2) Anyone guilty of slurvanian shall be fined and sentenced according to the legislature of his state government."

This bill is not to force people to speak Oxford English, but only to curb lingual laxness. No one expects perfect enunciation and pronunciation, but one does have a right to expect meaning that is clear, quick, and clean.

Poem

Students return to the city,
And welcome again the home town;
Neighbors deserve lots of pity,
When the parties start rolling around!

Meditation

"Twist-myth is here!" exclaimed the little child. For us Christmas (kris-mas) is easily pronounced, yet in the "pronunciation" of the often misunderstanding, the word is often mispronounced. The "Christ" is twist-ed into a forgotten myth behind our vivid desires. The correct pronunciation is "Christ Celebration."

Albright Personality

Bob Fox

By Billie Williams

What Albright may have lacked in color four years ago it certainly gained when Bob Fox, better known as "Foxy," arrived here as a Freshman. With his unceasing vitality and vibrant personality the campus will never be the same after he graduates.

Bob came to us from Fountain Hill High School in Bethlehem. His freshman year he went out for the cross country team. When he was a sophomore, he entered activities more wholeheartedly. He pledged Pi Tau Beta social fraternity and became a member of Kappa Tau Chi, honorary pre-ministerial fraternity. He joined the Domino Club and the Y. M. C. A. cabinet at this time.

Honors

As a junior, Bob was a representative on the student council and was elected chaplain for his fraternity.

The Albrightian staff has benefited from his talents since he was a sophomore. Last year he became photography editor of this publication. Evidences of his work appear in nearly every issue of The Albrightian.

A Real Christmas

By Edward Traves

Christmas signifies more than the time for giving and receiving presents, the time for parties, or the time to take a vacation from the workaday world. Christmas, in my mind, signifies brotherhood, peace and goodwill toward men. The students here at Albright, have the fine reputation of being a friendly college. I think that this reputation has been brightened in the city of Reading through acts such as the one last Sunday — the Christmas party for underprivileged children.

New Venture

The Christmas party was a new venture for me and I can say it was an enriching experience. The true spirit of Christmas was exemplified by the students of Albright through repairing toys, providing transportation for the children, and taking care of the numerous tasks that come with a job of this type.

I have heard many remarks by some students who had kids at this party and the general trend went like this. "It feels good to help someone else." Anyone who has ever done such a thing acquires a sense of pride when he sees a person succeed or enjoy himself because of his help.

True Meaning

The Christmas of these kids has been brightened by the unselfish donation of a little time and effort on the part of some students who care to help them out. These students realize the true meaning of Christmas.

The children at this party appreciated the toys that were given them, the attention and kindness extended to them. The students of Albright made their Christmas a more enjoyable one. I would like to express what I feel Christmas spirit is, "The spirit of Christmas is the spirit of giving."

When Bob finds time on his hands, he has fun putting around his car. He also seeks enjoyment with his camera—a hobby which is both expensive and rewarding.

Vacationtime

During the summer, Bob took a real vacation. If you were at Ocean City last year, you probably saw an ice cream cart riding down the boardwalk. It wasn't motor-driven. Bob Fox was hiding behind it, pushing hard and eating up the profits!

After leaving Albright, Bob plans to continue his studies at Princeton Seminary. His goal is to enter the Presbyterian ministry.

Santa Vs. Christ

By Kathryn Weiss

The Christmas season is again making its annual appearance. As we walk along the main streets of towns all over the United States, we can see many gaily decorated store windows and brightly colored lights lining the streets. There are many shoppers who are bustling through narrow, crowded store aisles and making a valiant attempt to do their Christmas shopping. Everywhere we see Santas asking little kiddies what they want Saint Nick to bring them on Christmas Eve.

Bing Sings

As we are in the car, slowly making our way home through endless congested traffic, the strains of Bing Crosby's immortal "White Christmas" come over the radio. Then the residential section comes into view, and the lights, of beautifully ornamented trees and homes reflect on the ice-covered snow. Wreaths of pine and spruce are found on every door.

Inside we can visualize mothers baking their family's favorite Christmas cookies. Big sister is patiently wrapping those gifts she chose so carefully. Little Johnnie and Susie are having a conference on what is inside that big box Papa just carried up to the attic.

Missing

All these things tell us that Christmas is near, but one thing is missing, the most important thing. It is the reason we celebrate Christmas today. It is the portrayal of the birth of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Santa is slowly taking Jesus' place in the limelight of the modern Christmas. Is it possible that we may be commercializing Christmas too much and forgetting the main reason for celebrating this holy day?

Candlelight

Instead of going to a big party this Christmas Eve, why not try going to a candlelight service at the church of your choice? Perhaps, if we take just this one hour to listen again to the story of the birth of Christ, sing a few carols, and offer a prayer of thanks, Christmas will have a deeper meaning to us than the arrival of Santa and his reindeer, and the giving and receiving of gifts.

Put Christ back into Christmas!

Lehigh, Seton Hall Face Lions After Holidays

Lions Defeat Dickinson; Three Losses Recorded

Albright's basketball team brought its seasonal record to two wins and three losses last week when the Lions defeated Dickinson 82-45, but lost to LaSalle 75-52, Muhlenberg 83-55, and Lebanon Valley 74-68.

On Wednesday, Dec. 5, the Lions played host to LaSalle College of Philadelphia. The Explorer five showed a classy, experienced team with ample height and good rebounding and shooting. They led 39-23 at halftime with Bill Katheder's 14 points topping the list. The second half showed Al Lewis and Bill McConigal each scoring 10 points as LaSalle pulled farther ahead to finish 75-52. Katheder's 20 points were high for the game with Bruce Riddell throwing in 18 for Albright.

Friday night found the Lions in Allentown playing a strong Muhlenberg squad. The Mules, one of the top teams in the East, even outdid themselves. Shooting with uncanny accuracy and clearing the boards at will, they built up a big lead early in the game. This, plus the fact that Albright had its worst night of the year from the floor, hitting only 20% of its shots, spelled a Muhlenberg victory, 83-55.

Top Dickinson

On Saturday, Albright returned home and blasted Dickinson 82-45. The Red Devils of Carlisle never could get started as Jim Foreman and Fred Dietzel led the Lions to a 39-20 halftime lead. The second half showed Albright playing as if a 0-0 score existed as Bruce Riddell's scoring and rebounding built up a 40-point lead. Riddell led all scorers with 16 points as the Lions placed four men in double figures for the first time this year.

With Lebanon Valley boasting a 42-game winning streak on their home court, the Lions invaded Annville on Monday. Before a screaming hometown crowd Albright took a 36-33 halftime lead as Bruce Storms led the Lions with 10 points. In the second half, Merrill Eckhart, Dietzel and Kelly pulled the Lions to a 59-47 lead. However, Albright's offense stalled as the Dutchmen scored 14 consecutive points to take the lead. The game ended with the score 74-68 in favor of the Flying Dutchmen.

Albright Seeks Second Over Lehigh Quintet

Following last night's game with the St. Joseph's five at the Penn Palestra, the Albright basketball squad began a 19-day holiday lay-over until it resumes its 1956-57 campaign against Lehigh on Jan. 2 at Bethlehem. The Lions defeated the Engineers 54-45 in their first game, but since then Lehigh has bounced back to top Army 63-60.

The Renkenmen will travel to South Orange, N. J. for a contest with the highly-regarded Pirates of the Seton Hall on Jan. 5. In early season play, the Pirates picked up easy wins over Toronto and Roanoke, but were trounced by Niagara 83-63. Led by All-American candidate Dick Gaines, the Seton Hall courtmen were placed as high as eleventh nationally in some pre-season rankings.

Good Height

Teaming with Gaines, 6-9 Tom Cross, 6-4 Charles Lorenzo, and 6-7 Marty Farrell are expected to give the perpetually-powerful Pirates an even stronger team than usual. Rebounding strength and fine all-round play are expected to be the chief assets of Seton Hall this season.

West Chester will provide the opposition for the Lions on Jan. 7 at West Chester. In their last meeting, during the 1954-55 season, the Rams downed the Lions 67-59. A good small-college team, West Chester is a power in the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference. The games with Army, Wagner, Hofstra, and Lafayette loom as the top contests for the Red and White following the Seton Hall and West Chester encounters. Bucknell, on the schedule for two games, is rapidly improving in basketball circles, as evidenced by its opening-game 60-54 victory over Cornell. Sporting improved height this season, the Bisons are possible trouble for all of their opponents in 1956-57.

Play Juniata

Albright will resume basketball relations with Juniata near the tail-end of the season. The Indians from western Pennsylvania and West Chester are the only new teams on the Lions' court schedule this year. Of the remaining contests, Franklin and Marshall looms as possibly the best of the quintets that will invade the Albright fieldhouse. Experience and generally improving overall court play gave the Diplomats substantial 79-69 and 91-69 victories over Juniata and Western Maryland respectively in their initial two games.

Wrestling Squad Trains For Test With Delaware

Albright's newly-created wrestling team is now engaged in daily practices in preparation for its opening match on Jan. 12 when the Red and White matmen will invade Newark, Del., for a contest with the Delaware Blue Hens.

The squad is engaging in a practice program of running, calisthenics, drills in wrestling fundamentals, and actual practice wrestling since the first formal practice session three weeks ago. Despite a late start and a definite lack of experience, Coach Gerald M. Bargar is pleased by the spirit and zeal of the team.

Riddell Paces Albright Five

Senior Bruce Riddell from Lansdowne leads the Albright Lions in scoring and rebounding after the first five games against Lehigh, LaSalle, Muhlenberg, Dickinson, and Lebanon Valley. The 6-4 center has amassed 63 points for an average of 12.6 points-per-game. He has gathered 55 rebounds for the Lions, an average of 11 per game.

Captain Jim Foreman is second in scoring with 56 points in five games for an average of 11.1 per-game. Foreman also has 22 rebounds to his credit thus far.

Sophomore Merrill Eckhart has scored 41 points in five games for the Lions. His best all-around performance came Monday night when he scored 18 points against Lebanon Valley.

Team Totals

Altogether, the Lions of Coach W. G. Renken have scored a total of 311 points in five games against their opponents 322 points. The individual high is 82 points against Dickinson, and the low is 52 against LaSalle.

In rebounding, the Albrightians as a team have amassed 199 rebounds in five games as against 175 rebounds for their opponents. The highest number of rebounds per game is against Dickinson where the Lions took 58 off the boards. Riddell has the individual player high in a game with 15 against Lebanon Valley.

The individual high for points scored against a team in one game is 19 by Foreman against Lehigh.
