Dr. Howard To Be Speaker

Otterbein President To Address Seniors

Dr. J. Gordon Howard, president of Otterbein College, will be the speaker at this year's baccalaureate service which will be held Sunday, June 8 at 10:45 a. m. in Krause Hall. The speaker has been president of the college since 1945. Before assuming the presidency, he was editor of church school literature of his denomination.

A graduate of Otterbein, Dr. Howard also holds degrees from Bonebrake Theological Seminary and New York University. He has also pursued graduate studies in Ohio State University.

DR. J. GORDON HOWARD

Dr. Howard is the author of four books and is an active member in the Ohio-West Virginia area of the Y.M.C.A., the Intercultural Committee of the National Council of Y.M.C.A., the Commission on Higher Education of the National Council of Churches, the Ohio Federation of Independent Colleges and the General Board of Christian Education of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. He holds membership in the Columbus Torch Club, the Westerville Lions Club, the Dayton (Ohio) Civitan Club, the Central Ohio Schoolmasters Club and several Masonic bodies.

Mack to Attend Dedication June 7

Connie Mack, former president and manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, will attend the dedicatory ceremonies for Charles S. (Pop) Kelchner Field on Saturday morning, June 7, college officials announced this week.

The principal address will be delivered by Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

14 Groups Plan For Mardi Gras

The annual celebration of Mardi Gras is scheduled to get under way tonight at 8:00 p. m. in the college stadium. Fourteen campus organizations will take part in the event which is sponsored by student council and is under the general chairmanship of Elliott Sauersteg and James Buch.

A variety of games and refreshments will be offered by the various groups, which will include the following: Women's Dormitory Council—scientific circle and the auctioning of two three o'clock permissions; American Chemical Society—a basketball throw; Kappa Tau Chi—a water dunk and French fries; Pi Tau Beta—a pie toss at Prof. Hollenbach, nickle toss into ashtrays and glasses, and dart pitch; Kappa Upsilon Phi—hammer and nails, dart pitch, ring toss, football throw, penny pitch, and ping-pong ball pitch; Zeta Omega Epsilon—nickel toss into milk bottles, baseball throw, cane pitch, and dart pitch; German Club—hot dogs; Pi Alpha Tau—"guess" cakes, and guessing beans in a jar; Women's Student Senate—shortcake and baseball pitch at milk bottles; Alpha Pi Omega—portable show, penny pitch, basketball throw, golf putt, and tomato toss; Daywomen's Council—lemonade and French fries; Phi Beta Mu—hot dogs, birch beer, and auctioning of argyle socks, HEO Club—"sweet" shop; Chess Association—chess matches.

The stadium midway will be decorated with Japanese lanterns and music will be furnished throughout the evening. Students are urged to attend the event and support the various organizations in this annual affair.

Doris Hill To Reign As Queen At Parents' Weekend Festivities

Coronation Set For Tomorrow Afternoon

The crowning of Doris Hill as Queen of the May will highlight the annual Parents' Weekend festivities to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 with 77 of Albright's women students participating. Reigning with Miss Hill as Maid of Honor will be Dorothy Deam, with Lynn Russo directing the affair as Mistress of Ceremonies. Margery Mansfield was voted Custodian of the Crown, in the W.A.A. sponsored elections by senior women. Named to the Honor Court in the same election were Jane Brozene, Helen Hasselgren, Ramona Latorre and Eleanor Williams.

The ceremony will begin with the traditional procession from the Library to the front campus. The group will include the pages, Carole Althouse and Patricia Kennedy, crown bearer, Margaret Israel, train bearers Bethlyn Emmett and Doris Stapleton, senior women, junior women and the dancers. Following the crowning of the Queen, the junior women will perform the maypole dance and a group of freshmen and sophomore women will present another dance.

Senior women who will form the arch through which the queen and her court will proceed are Jacqueline Artz, Dolores Bedding, Barbara Finch, Ingelore Gramm, Pauline Kenyon, Gertrud Kuecklich, Jeanne Maust, Evelyn Natz, Jessie Nucci, Mrs. Barbara Pomroy, Joanne Raffensperger, Ruth Rahm, Ruth Ann Schaeffer, Joyce Snyder, Mrs. Doris Weida Horwetter and Joan Williamson.

Freshmen and sophomores who will participate in the dances directed by Lois Hiltz are: Shirley Slivka, Leda PasYotis, Joanne Duffy, Sarah Aicher, Ann Stal-

Albrightians Attend Chemical Conference

Five Albrightians, members of the American Chemical Society, attended the Middle Atlantic States Chemical Conference at Wayne University, Detroit, Michigan, on March 24 and 25. The group included Gerald Greth, '54, Andrew Catchmark, '53, Andrew Glovatsky, '52, Mariano Guiducci, '52, and Alex Stetzler, '52. During the conference the group visited the Cance Institute and the Ethyl Corporation.

The three seniors have obtained future positions in the chemistry field. Andrew Glovatsky will become an engineer for the Sylvania Tube Corporation, Mariano Guiducci has been given a fellowship at Lehigh University where he will continue his education and Ray Stetzler has a position at Atlas Potter Company in the analytical laboratory.

WAA Elects Cabinet; Miller to Head Group

The Women's Athletic Association elected Patricia Miller, '53, as president of their organization. Judy Leinbach, '53, was chosen vice president; Jean Hook, '54, secretary; and Stella Tryka, '55, treasurer. The results of the election were announced at the Cabinet meeting held last week.

Dorothy Kuettel, '53, and Lorraine Wagner, '55, will represent the senior and sophomore classes respectively next year. The junior class representatives will be appointed by the newly elected cabinet in September.

Spring Concert Program Listed

The combined musical groups of Albright College under the direction of Hans Nix and Dr. John H. Duddy, will present their annual Spring Music Concert on Saturday, May 10, 1952, at 8:30 p. m.

The program will begin with the symphony orchestra playing the national anthem, followed by "Processional" by Woodhouse. The choir will commence with "O Bone Jesu" by Palestrina, "Rejoice and Sing" by Bach, and "Cheribum" by Bortnyansky.

"Minuet from Military Symphony" by Hayden, and "Entrance of the Sirdar" by Ippolitov-Ivanow will be the next presentations of the orchestra. Three numbers, "Listen to the Lambs" by Dett, "Lonesome Valley" by Lynn, and "Set Down Servant" a Negro spiritual will be presented by the choir. The orchestra will continue the program with Tschaiakowsky's "Themes from the Second Piano Concerto." The choir's closing numbers will include "Ballad of Brotherhood" by Wagner, "This Is My Country" by Waring, and "Your Eyes Shine in My Own" by Straus-Ronell. The orchestra will end with "Hymn of Brotherhood" by Beethoven, "A Night on Bald Mountain" by Moussorgsky, and "Little Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin. The conclusion of the program will be the audience participation in singing the alma mater.

Sororities and Fraternities Choose Officers, Plan Social Calendar

Phi Beta Mu

Patricia Miller was elected president of the Phi Beta Mu sorority for the coming year at the meeting on Monday, May 5. Assisting Miss Miller will be: Patricia Kennedy, vice-president; Dorothy Kuettel, corresponding secretary; Patricia Shearer, recording secretary; Julia Leinbach, treasurer and Evelyn Kressler, chaplain.

The following pledges were inducted at the same time: Julia Leinbach, '53; Kathryn Lyttle and Ruth Fry, '54; and Kathleen Carls, Joan Nielsen, Barbara Smith and Ann Stalneckner, '55.

On Sunday afternoon, May 25, the sorority will hold a tea for alumnae members of the organization. The tea will be given in honor of Blandina Foster, founder of the sorority.

Pi Alpha Tau

At their meeting on Monday, May 5, officers were elected for the coming year. They are: president, Elizabeth Martin; vice-president, Nancy Lou Hawman; corresponding secretary, Marilyn Miller; recording secretary, Virginia Seems; and treasurer, Annette Deussen.

At the same meeting the following pledges were also inducted into membership: Sarah Aicher, Roslyn Cowen, Jean Filbert, Sheila Samuels, Claire Speidel, Lorraine Wagner and Theresa Winkler, all '55.

Final plan for both Mardi Gras and the sorority spring week-end at Byndenwood were completed. As part of the P.A.T.'s participation in Parents' Week-end Elizabeth Martin will conduct their annual tree-planting ceremony on Sunday, May 11.

Buch Names Council Committee Chairmen

The student council committee chairmen for the new year were named by president, James Buch, and approved by council at the meeting on Tuesday. Robert Bieler will head the social committee; Thomas Stultz, the students' activities committee; Patricia Miller, the publicity committee; N.S.A., Ray Weitzel; and Shirley Haskin and James Barrett, co-chairmen of the Chapel committee. The new judiciary committee was also set-up with Donald Grigsby as chairman and Patricia Miller, Mary Jane Titlow and Ray Weitzel assisting him. Ray Weitzel, chairman of the faculty evaluation committee, announced that the evaluation will continue until Monday, May 12, rather than end Friday, May 9, as was planned previously.

A Well Deserved Thank You

The Mardi Gras festivities tonight will usher in one of the nicest weekends held at Albright. All other social weekends are given for Albrightians, but this one is set aside especially for the entertainment of the parents. From Friday evening to Sunday afternoon all organizations will be working together to present the best Parents' Weekend to be held on this campus. On behalf of the students, faculty and administration The Albrightian wishes to extend a hearty welcome to all parents on this, their weekend, sincerely hoping they will enjoy the program planned for their pleasure.

Many students have been working laborously to make this weekend a true success. Few people realize exactly how much planning and preparation does go into a weekend like this. Along with the big jobs that have to be done there are always thousands of little details which have to be completed perfectly in order to make the weekend an enjoyable one. Everyone would feel a certain disappointment if someone would neglect to make preparations for the use of electricity at Mardi Gras, or if flowers were lacking at the May Day ceremony. Therefore, much appreciation should be given to those who have contributed their time and skill to make this Parents' Weekend.

One of the hardest jobs is that of being chairman of Parents' Weekend because with this responsibility comes the task of choosing capable persons to carry out the entire program. To Vincent Gentile, who has served Student Council well by doing such an efficient job, we extend a vote of thanks.

This year Elliot Sauertieg and James Buch, as co-chairmen of the Mardi Gras committee, have tried their best to bring everyone a nicer Mardi Gras by making preparations for it to be held in the stadium instead of on campus. This created many new problems, but the chairmen and their committee overcame the obstacles and are to be thanked especially for the grand job of organization.

Since the May Day ceremony is the specialty of the weekend it naturally requires careful preparations. Marilyn Russo, Mistress of Ceremonies, and Margery Mansfield, Custodian of the Crown, have been working months organizing the program. An equal vote of thanks goes to Lois Hiltz, who helped plan the dances, the dancers and all other participants who spent much time in preparing the ceremony.

The program Saturday evening will consist of a banquet which will be followed by a concert. Betty Martin, chairman of the banquet committee, the guest speakers, hostess and all those who prepared the meal deserve a lot of thanks. Appreciation also goes to Jack Greenspan, who is in charge of the concert, and to the musicians who will entertain.

The final touch will be added to the weekend with one of Ivan Moyer's and Reverend Barth's well-planned services on Sunday morning.

Current Tides

The attempted seizure of the steel mills by President Truman without approval from the Congress and solely on his own authority as Chief Executive has given to the federal courts a constitutional question of such far-reaching importance as has seldom been equaled in recent years. Bound up in the decision to be given by the Supreme Court is the whole problem of the proper arrangement of checks and balances in our government and of the need for an executive strong enough to act with dispatch in times of crisis and yet not so strong as to endanger democratic government.

The finding of District Judge John A. Pine was that the action of the President, aimed at averting a nationwide steel strike in a period of national emergency, was taken without authority of law or Constitution and was in violation of the Fifth Amendment, which provides that no person shall be deprived of property without due process of law. Accordingly, an injunction was issued directing that the steel mills be returned to their owners.

The government, in asking that the President's act be upheld, contends that the Chief Executive cannot be enjoined by the courts, that to do so would be to encroach unconstitutionally on Presidential authority. For this contention there is some historical sanction, though the courts themselves have never recognized any such principle. During the treason trial of Aaron Burr, President Thomas Jefferson was summoned by a federal court to appear at the proceedings and to present certain papers. The President ignored the summons; the Chief Executive, said Jefferson, cannot be at the command of the courts, else he is no longer Chief Executive.

The government's case, moreover, is grounded in the need for prompt executive action in times of emergency. The United States is engaged in a campaign in Korea the successful prosecution of which depends upon an uninterrupted flow of steel to manufacturers of war material. A cessation of this flow would not, it is true, be likely to result in the complete downfall of the United States; but it is conceivable that a situation might one

Get Busy Frosh

A recent Associated Collegiate Press poll came up with these interesting, if not intriguing, answers to the question: Aside from mid-term week and final exam week, how much studying time do you estimate you spend during a normal week? The replies:

- 10 hours or less 28%
- From 10 to 20 hours 45%
- From 20 to 30 hours 16%
- 30 hours or more 5%
- Don't know 6%

Those who "don't know" claim a very irregular schedule. Says one student, "I've never had a normal week." However, this is the one that tops them all. A senior in social work says, "I work 52 hours a week and squeeze my studies in whenever I can." And you frosh think that you have a lot to do!

Graduate students seem to study most. Thirty-five per cent of them put in more than 20 hours a week, as opposed to 19 per cent for freshmen and 23 per cent for seniors. Had Albright been included in this poll, we're sure the figures would have been different. The question is—which way, up or down?

Charlie's Tours of Albright

Part Two—The Library

Last week we visited the "Ad" Building, as you may remember. This week let us examine a large brick building of rather dubious architectural descent known as the library. (I don't remember the official name for it—Memorial something or other—and I'm too lazy to walk out and look, so we'll just call it the library.)

Inside, smack-dab in front of the door where everyone can fall over it is a quadrangle formed by four brass posts swiped from George Washington's bed and velvet ropes probably spirited away from a theatre downtown. In the center of this mess, set into the floor, is a seal of sorts. Tradition has it that this is the Albright College official seal, but I suspect it was swiped from the cornerstone of the courthouse in Deaf Smith County, Texas. After all, it is printed in a foreign language.

If you can disentangle yourself from this obstacle, we will proceed to the desk. Here are bins

Bucky

For the benefit of you readers who don't know Leonard Buxton personally but have seen his performance as the dour, kilt-swirling Scot in "The Hasty Heart," we'd like to set some things straight. Lennie does NOT speak with a Scotch burr, nor play the bagpipes (but the piano and ukelele), nor is he difficult to get to know, thanks to his friendly personality.

This pre-ministerial student, who is a psychology major and English minor, plans to attend the Evangelical School of Theology. He has been active in the Y as Social Responsibility chairman and director of the Y choir. Other activities that keep him busy at K.T.X., Domino Club, Sigma Tau Delta, Glee Club and the Sunday night Y radio program, of which he is director.

Leonard, who comes from Harrisburg and lives in the Freshman House South, is twenty-one, has brown hair, light brown eyes and a liking for records and the theatre. His memories of Albright have been "all pleasant," especially the one about the Moravian raid.

containing red, white, green, fuscia, chartreuse, mahogany and shocking pink slips of paper, each for a particular purpose. The students write names and numbers on the slips and once a day Abis Minker sends a messenger to collect them.

On the back-bar behind the desk are shelves of books. These books, called "reserved books" have slips of paper sticking out of them. These slips have fictitious names on them and are designed to keep the books in the library, thus saving wear and tear.

Over in one corner is the "magazine rack," a series of empty shelves bearing various appellations such as Basket Weaver's Journal and Daily Polyanthelism. Near this are a few over-stuffed chairs containing devices closely resembling sleeping human beings. But don't let that fool you, the moss and dust show they haven't been disturbed for centuries.

Like any cheap hotel, the library has a dumbwaiter. The only distinction it can claim is that of having an intelligent dumbwaiter. It has a clever series of friction devices so arranged that whichever direction you wish to move it, it becomes completely impossible, although it moves quite easily in the other direction. Thus all you have to do is attempt to raise it and it will fall at a virtually supersonic velocity fracturing your skull in a neat, snowflake pattern.

Before we leave, we must visit the card catalog. This is a filing system, containing thousands of small cards. Each card bears the name of a book which the library staff has lost in the "stack," a place where books and elephants go to die. It is probably the most unusual lost-and-found system in the world.

Well, since we're safely back at the door, let us conclude this week's tour with a sad aloha to the sleepy little madhouse called the library.

Quote of the Week

"If we cherish freedom, we accept controversy. Therefore, an educational program that confines itself only to that which is 'safe' to teach is an insidious enemy of democracy. The Nazis did it. The Communists do it. If we follow their example we shall no longer be a society of free men."

Trackmen Oppose Ursinus Tomorrow at Stadium

In the Lion's Den

By Tom Masters

Baseball Banter

Now that the season is well under way, some of the weaknesses and strengths of Eddie Gulian's squad are beginning to show up.

In the pitching department Gerry Potts was in great form last Monday as he poured the ball through the strike zone and held Moravian to six hits. His former tendency toward wildness didn't show itself as he didn't walk more than two in one inning all afternoon. Incidentally, he took three second places in the field events last Saturday in Philadelphia.

The team's hitting has also perked up since the beginning of the season. Blackie Moyer has been a really tough customer for opposing moundsmen here of late, not only in getting on base but in driving in runs as well. Tony D'Appolito's bat has also begun to do steady damage and Ray Stoneback is getting his share of bingles. The hitting in the Bucknell game wasn't as weak as the score indicated, for the losers got as many bingles as the winners. The only difference was in how they were bunched. "Hook" Martone sailed along till the fifth inning when his arm got gold in the bottom half of the frame and a three-run outburst was the result.

Tennis Topics

Albright's tennis team is in for brighter days since the close of the disastrous southern trip. Since getting home the Red and White netters have just about broken even, along with suffering two more of those 5-4 reverses. If only these decisions can start going the other way, the net men will no doubt close out the season with a winning record. The St. Joseph's match was an especially tough one to lose as it was decided in the final doubles match. The Lions, however, can be consoled with something of a moral victory as the Hawks were highly favored.

Tough Sailing

The MASC golf tournament tomorrow will bring together some of the best golfers in eastern colleges on the Juniata College course. This annual event has always been tough for Albright golfers to do well in, but they will be back at it again this year. In recent years, however, at least one Albright player has managed to finish high up every time. He is, of course, Bob Batdorff, who has been playing some of his best collegiate golf this year. He figures to give the rest of the boys a real run for their money again tomorrow.

During the second week of the intra-mural league the Pi Tau fraternity took the first-half lead. The crucial game between the A.P.O.'s and Pi Taus with three wins each ended in a Pi Tau victory by the huge margin of 10-0. The A.P.O.'s defeat thus set them back to second place. Lou Hallock pitched a beautiful game in giving a scant two hits to the A.P.O.

Hawks, Dips Take Golfers' Measure

Play in MASC Tourney Tomorrow at Juniata

Albright's golf team travels to Juniata tomorrow afternoon for the annual M.A.S.C.A.C. tourney.

Next week the golfers have a busy time as they meet Juniata on Monday and Bucknell on Tuesday on the home links. On Thursday they travel to Philadelphia to oppose LaSalle.

In recent action the Matmenmen dropped matches to St. Joseph's, 7½-1½, and F. and M., 5-4. In the match with the Diplomats best ball of the last foursome went to F. and M. to decide the issue. Bob Batdorff carded a 71 on the enemy course against F. and M.

Albright Netmen Post 3-11 Record

Tomorrow the tennis squad invades Bethlehem for a return match with Moravian. In competition next week the netmen will travel to Philadelphia on Monday to meet the LaSalle Explorers.

In their most recent outings the Lions have posted one win and two defeats. The victory came last Monday against Moravian, 8-1, while St. Joseph's won Saturday, 5-4, and Bucknell triumphed Tuesday, 9-0. Albright's record now stands at three wins and eleven losses.

Girls Bow to Drexel, 16-8, in Season Opener

The Albright Lionesses were defeated by the Drexel lasses 16-8 on Thursday, May 1. Freshman pitcher Jean Filbert didn't have much to work on as the Red and White was never ahead. Albright's poor fielding was laid to the fact that the line-up was stocked with freshmen. There is a lot of potential, but inexperience is the Lionesses' greatest drawback. The next game is May 15, but Coach Eva Mosser hopes to get in a practice game before then.

The losing hurler was Max Nuscher.

On Monday evening the Franks defeated the Rebels by a 10-6 score. Bob Dey led the winners by pitching an excellent game as well as with the bat. John Jones was the losing pitcher.

Aim for Sixth Dual Triumph Against Bears

Juniata Latest Victim Of Cindermen, 81-44

The Ursinus Bears travel here tomorrow afternoon for a dual meet with the Albright Lion thinclads at 1:00 o'clock. The Lions will be seeking their sixth straight dual triumph.

Last Tuesday's trip to Huntingdon was successful as the Shirkmen came home with an 81-44 victory over the Juniata Indians. The Red and White victories were evenly divided between the track events and the field events.

The Lion cindermen defeated F. and M., 67-59, on April 30. The meet was not decided until baseballer Lefty Leitham took second place in the broad jump.

The Lions suffered their first defeat of the season in a triangular meet with St. Joseph's and Haverford at the Haverford campus. Albright tallied only 32½ points to place third behind the Hawks, 75½, and Haverford, 46.

The only leading runners to place were freshman Harold Kretzing, who took second place in the 440 and fourth in the 220, and bespectacled Rae Hoopes with a third in the 220 low hurdles.

However, the Lions fared much better in the field events. Co-captain Ken Kohl, discus, and Pete Albert, pole vault, were the only winners for the Shirkmen. Co-captain Gerry Potts placed second in three events to round out the scoring.

G-Men Lose to Bucknell, Beat Dickinson, Moravian

Potts, McNeil Garner First Victories of Season; Face Greyhounds, LaSalle Away, Royals at Home

By scattering six hits Gerry Potts picked up his first win of the season over the visiting Moravian Greyhounds, 8-3 last Monday afternoon. Although also held to six hits the Lions gathered five runs in the fifth inning, a pair in the sixth and the final counter in the eleventh. Potts looked strong the whole game but the Greyhounds got to him for a singleton in the third and then dented the plate for two more in the ninth on two walks, a hit and a bad throw by Willie Smith.

Moyer Shows Way To Lion Stickers With .448 Average

Robert "Blackie" Moyer's .448 batting average on 13 for 29 leads the Albright diamondmen's hitting for the first seven games of the season. The only other Lions hitting over .300 are Tony D'Appolito, Captain Hook Martone and reserve outfielder Jack Sudol. Moyer leads the hit parade with 13 while D'Appolito and Martone follow with 11 and 10 respectively. Moyer also leads in runs scored, averaging one in each of the seven games. Key-stoner Mickey Harbach and D'Appolito trail Moyer, each with six runs. D'Appolito and Martone were both up 28 times, one less than Moyer and firstsacker Connie Detting. Pitcher Martone, leading the team with a three and one record, has hit in all the games so far.

The Lions as a unit are averaging 9.2 hits a game for a team average of .276. They also have given their pitchers an average of six runs a game, compared with 4.2 runs per game for the opposition.

Action at Third

Ed McNeil and Jim Bachman combined efforts to defeat Dickinson College, 9-7, here last Saturday. The Lions scored a run in the first, two each in the third and fourth innings and the winning markers in the sixth. McNeil was touched for all seven Dickinson runs before being relieved by Bachman in the seventh. The Red Devils scored once in the fourth and then collected three runs in both the sixth and seventh innings. Two of the runs in the seventh came on Catcher Bill Stark's third hit of the day, a booming triple to center field.

Bachman entered the game in the seventh with two down and two on. He retired the side on an easy bouncer. Portsider Bachman, making his first appearance of the season, struck out four men in a row, walked one, k.o'd the next, walked another and then was saved as Ray Stoneback picked the man off first to end the game.

Blackie Moyer with four hits and Tony D'Appolito with three led the Lions' fourth hit attack off Bob Hawley.

Bisons Beat Martone
The Bisons of Bucknell handed Eddie Gulian's ace, Hook Martone, his first loss of the season, 5-2, last Friday at Lewisburg. Albright's two runs came in the fifth inning driven in by Martone with a single. Bucknell bunched four of their nine hits in the bottom of the fifth for three runs. The final pair of runs for the Bisons came in the eighth on fielding lapses by the Red and White. Two of the Lions' eight hits were doubles by Connie Detting and D'Appolito.

Albright again faces Moravian at Bethlehem tomorrow afternoon to try to make it two in a row over the Greyhounds.

The Lions take on LaSalle's high flying Explorers at Philadelphia on Monday and then face the Scranton Royals at home on Wednesday, May 14.

Additional Draft Deferment Test Listed May 22

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, has announced an additional Selective Service College Qualification Test to be given Thursday, May 22 at 1,000 testing centers, including Albright College, for the benefit of students prevented by illness, emergencies or other reasons from taking the test on December 13, 1951, or April 24 of this year.

Application blanks for the May 22 test may be obtained by students from the nearest local board, Hershey said. Application for the May 22 test is to be mailed to the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J. Applications post-marked later than midnight May 22 will not be accepted.

To be eligible to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test, an applicant, on the testing date (1) must be a selective service registrant who intends to request deferment as a student; (2) must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course—undergraduate or graduate—leading to a degree; (3) must not previously have taken the test.

Theodore Tietge Wins Kelchner Speech Prize

The Charles S. (Pop) Kelchner Oratorical Contest was held Wednesday night in the chapel with Theodore Tietge, '55, receiving the $15 first prize. Tietge spoke about "John L. Lewis" in conjunction with the theme of the contest, "Contemporary Political Leaders of the United States."

Second place was awarded to Nancy Lou Walker, '54, who delivered her oration on "Eleanor Roosevelt." Miss Walker received $10. Gordon Oplinger, '55, received third place honors and a cash award of $5.

Other contestants were Jack Fetterman and John Russell, '54, and Michael Silberkleit, '55. The speakers were introduced by the chairman, David Frankhouser, '55. Judges were Mrs. Jean Voss, former speech teacher at Albright, Prof. Clyde Harding and Dr. John B. Doubs.

Before the announcement of the winners, Kelchner gave a short talk in which he praised speeches made and urged more people to participate in next year's contest.

Kressler, Myers Name Y Cabinet For '52, '53

Evelyn Kressler, '53, and Robert Myers, '53, the newly elected Y presidents, have named their cabinet for '52-'53. Those chosen were: Christian Faith and Heritage Committee: William Glant, '53, and Richard Kressler, '54, co-chairmen; Social Responsibility Committee: John Bash, '54; Freshmen Committee: Kathryn Lyttle, '54; Personal and Campus Affairs Committee: Theodore Tietge, '55; Recreation Committee: Merle Thorpe, '53, and Patricia Miller, '53, co-chairmen; Publicity Committee: James Rupp, '54, and Kathleen Carls, '55; Y Library and Files: Lloyd Sturtz, '53. In charge of Big-little Sister Committee are Barbara Farris and Evelyn Weida, both '54. Richard Adams and John Fetterman, both '54 are in charge of the Big-little Brother Committee.

On Tuesday night Mr. Pierce led the Y group on a song-hike to Bernhart's Dam where a doggie roast was held.

Miss Innis Goes To Conference; HEO Holds Festival

Miss Florence V. Innis attended the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association held at the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh on May 2 and 3.

The juniors are in the midst of a meal-planning program during which time each girl will plan and make meals for a two day period. So far, the girls have planned and made two formal dinners, a buffet luncheon, and a formal luncheon.

The HEO Club will sponsor a strawberry shortcake festival in the Ad. building on May 21.

F.T.A. Holds Dutch Luncheon

At the last meeting of Future Teachers of America, all those interested in teaching plus student teachers, master teachers, principals and superintendents of schools in the community will be invited to attend a dutch luncheon and panel discussion of student teachers on their problems and suggestions. Joanne Raffensperger, retiring president, is in charge of arrangements for next Wednesday's affair.

Dinner Meeting Scheduled

Members of La Sociedad Cultural Espanola will conclude the year's series of meetings with a dinner meeting at the home of their advisor, Prof. Consuelo Rodriguez, 1603 N. Twelfth Street next Monday at 5 p. m. President Barbara H. Finch, '52, will conduct the election of next year's officers.

Auxiliary Sponsors Party

The Women's Auxiliary of Albright College will sponsor its annual garden party on June 3. The party will start at 12:00 noon and continue until 8:00 p. m. during which time a lunch and buffet supper will be served.

From 6:30 p. m. to 7:00 p. m. an auction sale will be held. Among the other features of the show will be a fashion show and a special sale of hand-made articles. A fishpond and movies will be an added attraction for the children.

Hunter Edits Paper

This issue of The Albrightian was edited by Phoebe Hunter, '53, next year's editor-in-chief, with the assistance of the newly-appointed staff.

Retreat Speaker Calls Choice Of Faith or Despair Crucial

Sororities, Fraternities

Says Doubt of God Is Most Devastating

The most crucial alternative of life is the choice between despair and faith," Dr. Arthur R. McKay, chairman of the department of philosophy and religion at Russell Sage College, Troy, N. Y., told approximately 50 students and faculty members at the spring Y retreat at Blue Mountain Camp last weekend.

Speaking on the general theme "Living Beyond Frustration," Doctor McKay declared that the most devastating doubt of all is doubt of the ultimate purpose of God, which, he said, lies like an "appalling weight" on multitudes today. He attributed this doubt to the findings of science, the condition of the world and the problem of suffering.

"We may be confident that God rules by life's mightiest force, the power of love," Doctor McKay said. Declaring that the cross is the "ground-plan of the universe," he said that the power of God is evident in nature, history and the character of men who have consciously sought to follow Him.

Doctor McKay explained that frustration and insecurity result from "a cleft in our wills." Therefore, he said, neither education nor more time can save the world.

At the closing session Doctor McKay discussed techniques for spreading the Christian influence on the college campus.

day arise in which the very existence of the nation would hang on some extraordinary executive action.

The action of a President in such an event might not be within the strict limits of the Constitution; but as Abraham Lincoln pointed out, whatever the wording of the Constitution, it is reasonable to assert that no government was ever established with the intention that it should be helpless to prevent its own collapse. And although the chances of collapse of the government are in the present case exceedingly remote, it is obvious that a prolonged steel strike would seriously hinder the operations of our troops in Korea and might result in unnecessary loss of life.

In the past the courts have tended to be unfriendly to extraordinary executive action. In the case of Ex parte Merryman the Supreme Court declared unconstitutional President Lincoln's suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, a step taken in circumstances similar to those confronting us today. Lincoln defied the ruling, and a strong argument can be produced to show that except from the strictly legal standpoint he was justified. In times of crisis there is a need for vigorous leadership; only the President can give such leadership, and he must somehow be allowed to do so.

Smell It, Eat It Or Wear It—Home Ec Does All Three

By Patricia A. Schearer

Did you ever sit in the administration building poring over one of Napoleon's pursuits when all at once there came to you the odor of broiled liver smothered in onions? Perhaps that day the smell was more that of burning hair!

The first odor can be proudly attributed to Mrs. Anna Smith's cooking classes working diligently in the basement cooking laboratory. The later odor issues from a second-floor clothing laboratory where Ernestine Elder's girls are testing fabrics by burning. Both of these laboratories are part of Albright's pride and joy—the Home Economics department.

Service for 30

The cooking laboratory proudly boasts of a modern kitchen complete with electric range, refrigerator and dishwasher recently installed at a $2,500 cost. To complete this kitchen setting is an electric roaster, a modern china closet with complete service for 30 and a dining room cleverly decorated with vines and brightly-colored dishes.

As a companion to these two rooms there is a complete laundry room with Laundramat, gas dryer, ironer and various handirons, where the dormitory home economics girls do their daily duffin'. The department boasts "we do our laundry by recipe," meaning that guess-work in laundry work is taboo. All soap and water amounts are carefully measured according to rule.

The main laboratory where the cooking classes work as a whole contains eight gas stoves, eight sinks, tables, a refrigerator and an electric freezer valued at $400. Supplies are stored in the department pantry, chief among these foods being canned fruits, jellies and vegetables canned by classes in experimental foods.

Beware of Soft Drinks

Of special attraction to this reporter was one of the several nutrition exhibits showing the corresponding values of a serving of milk, soft drink and coffee. For those of you thinking of reducing, "Beware," says the home economics department, "... soft drinks have very little nutritive value, mostly caloric value, that being three-fourth the caloric value of a corresponding serving of milk."

huge cheerful room with sewing machines, dress forms and mannequins. In this room one will find all the essential sewing materials... four electric sewing machines, a treadle machine, steam irons, tailors' cushions and garment closets.

If you ever hear a loud whacking noise coming from this room, it is not a torture chamber but a large pounding board, nothing more than a wooden instrument which flattens out materials put under steam for pressing.

At the end of the room is a fitting room, complete with full-length mirrors and platforms and a $25 dress form of plastic material made for one student who did original designing. Foot-high wooden models scaled to size and called mannequins display costumes designed by students of one clothing class. Then there are the usual charts which are placed throughout the room illustrating the dress projects underway.

Indeed, work done by these girls illustrates the advantages and craftsmanship possible with top conditions and the utmost in modern equipment found in our home economics department.
