

Reporter Reviews Quarantine Period: Novel Innovations

Professor Horn and Jan, the Chef Prove Leaders in Spontaneous Pastimes; New Spirit Among Students Created

Quarantine, the necessary evil, proved to be an unexpected good. The prevalent feeling of rebellion and dread, in the beginning, quickly gave way to one of good fellowship and a desire to cooperate. The ghost of the Albright Spirit, which had stalked the campus on various occasions, actually came to life and seems to have established itself permanently.

During the ten days of campus quarantine, the direction of the activities was placed in the capable hands of Professor Clarence A. Horn. Through various committees among the students and faculty, a most interesting program was planned. Activities to keep everyone busy were announced.

Monday, March 20, at 11 o'clock, marked the beginning of quarantine. Activities were not slow to begin. The girls took the initiative in the form of a fudge party on Tuesday evening. Jan, the Chef, who provided the greatly appreciated edible on all occasions, served a buffet supper after which the party began. A varied program was presented which revealed a great many hidden talents. Group singing, banjo and trumpet music, a quartet number, readings and a novelty skit comprised the program. Games of all sort were in order and exercise was provided in the form of beating fudge.

The dining room with red and white decorations was the scene of a card party on Friday evening. Jigsaws, chess, checkers, cards, and puzzles of any type could be used. Readings and music again made up a short program. A prize was awarded to the winners of

SENIORS PREPARE FINAL CLASS ACTIVITIES

The Senior Class is extremely active these days as the end of their college days approaches. The class is making complete plans so that this year's graduation week exercises will be distinct and appropriate. Class members are also answering the questionnaire given to each senior by President Klein. In recent class meetings the following bits of business was transacted.

The class president announced that each Senior would be assessed thru the college office to make up the Cue deficit from last year. Unpaid dues are to be collected in the same manner.

The leather and paper announcements were displayed and the class members were urged to place their orders in the near future. The rental fee for the caps and gowns was also announced.

The following Seniors were appointed to act jointly with the Juniors as a class dance committee: Francis Hatton, Robert Castetter and Geraldine Kershner.

The Senior play committee was named consisting of Mary Bowman, chair, Ida Glaimo, Russell Bohner and Robert Boyer.

The following members were given charge of the Class Night activities: Irene Fray, Reba Topper, Helen Buck, Stanley Brookes and Arthur Daub.

A committee comprising Mark Matz, Edith Smith and Maurice Male was appointed to arrange the annual tree planting ceremony.

Juniors Dedicate Class Yearbook To Prof. C. A. Horn

Despite Conditions, '34 Cue Will Be Worthy Volume; Group Picture Schedule Is Posted

The much discussed 1934 Yearbook is to become a reality. The Staff has completed the main organization of the volume, and with the exception of a few features and number of pages, the Juniors predict a book equal to those of past years. Due to the financial condition, no central theme will be used; in its stead there will be a very attractive design, which, although simple, we believe will meet the requirements satisfactorily. Group pictures for the Cue will be taken Thursday and Friday, April 20 and 21, at time specified by the schedule now posted.

As a result of the Junior Class election it was decided that the 1934 Annual would be dedicated to Professor Clarence A. Horn whose active interest in student functions of our campus has merited this honor.

AMERICAN CHEM. SOCIETY MEETS HERE APRIL 25th; DR. N. H. FURMAN TO SPEAK

Tuesday evening April 25, the Lehigh Valley section of the American Chemical Society will hold a joint meeting with the Reading Chemists Club at Albright College. Prominent Chemists from this section will be present for the two sessions.

At 6:30 the visiting chemists will hold their dinner in the college dining room. At this gathering, Dr. Graham Cook, head of the Chemistry department at Albright will be the "Over the Teacups" speaker. The subject of Dr. Cook's short address will be "Some Chemical Museums." A portion of the talk will concern the famous Deutsches Museum at Munich.

At 8:00 in the Science Hall, the body will be addressed by Dr. N. Howell Furman, assistant professor at Princeton University, on the subject "Some New Methods of Chemical Analysis." He will discuss the present trend in analytic methods including potentiometric titration, conductometric titration, and the polarographic method of Heyrovsky. Dr. Furman has served in chemical teaching at Leland Stanford, American University and Princeton. He is recognized as an authority in his field and is co-author of some books along the line of chemical analysis.

LLOYD HELT ADDRESSES SUNDAY BIBLE CLASS

The Albright College Bible Class held its regular meeting Sunday morning, April 9. The opening song service was in charge of Leroy Bringer. Prayer was offered by Carl Young. The Scripture lesson was given by Katherine Winter. Pres. Minnich appointed a nominating committee consisting of Irene Fray, Cynthia Wallace, Ralph Weigle, Russell Bohner, and Russell Bonney. Election of officers for next year will be held April 23.

Lloyd Helt presented the morning lesson which was based on Christ's familiar questions, "Whom do men say I am?" and "Whom do ye say that I am?" President Minnich also read a letter from the Redbird Mission concerning the Charles Shively Memorial Scholarship and also a letter from the student who is receiving the scholarship.

Science Open House Dated Fri., April 28; Sub-Frosh To Visit

Physics, Biology and Chemistry Departments List Educational, Mystifying and Spectacular Exhibits

The annual Science hall Open House will be held Friday evening April 28. The festivities will get under way at 7:30. There will be exhibits in Biology, Botany, Physics, Home Economics, Chemistry and Geology. An added feature of the evening will be in the nature of a sub-freshman event when high school seniors from Berks County will be entertained in the college dining room for dinner.

There will be interesting exhibits in each department. The Chemists will weigh your name, show a chemical garden, tell what's in a man, and "believe it or not" produce smoke without fire and bring in water by wireless. Other equally astounding features will include the passage of a current thru gases at low pressures and the transformation of single phase alternating current, thru a motor generator set, to direct current and 3-phase alternating current. Should the evening be clear you are promised a view of the planet Jupiter.

The Biology section will perform the dissection of crayfish, worms and cats. The live animal section will also be interesting and amusing. The embryology exhibits will show chickens and pigs. The preparation of slides will be demonstrated along with many other educational features.

DR. KLEIN PRESENTS GOLD 'A's' AND BAND AWARDS

At the Friday Assembly, April 7, Dr. J. Warren Klein, president of Albright College, awarded the Gold 'A' to three seniors. This award is given to students showing marked qualities of leadership in non-athletic activities.

The students who were thus honored were Reba D. Topper, Ralph Weigle, and John Bell. The Prize Committee annually presents for approval of the faculty the names of leaders in the Senior Class. The committee recommends the granting of the award after having decided that the student is outstanding in: leadership; scholarship; reliability; and personality. The Gold 'A' is presented to the Juniors at the Commencement Exercises, and to the Seniors during the winter term.

Following this presentation, the band awards were made. Robert Boyer, Vernon Heister, and John Bell received the Senior awards. Letters were presented to Joseph Vargyas, Franklin Reedy, Benjamin Funk, and Robert McHose.

JUN.-SEN. ORATORICAL CONTEST SCHEDULED

The annual Junior-Senior oratorical contest will be held in the college chapel, Thursday, April 27, at 8:00 P. M. Prof. Voight will be in charge. Marshall Brenneman and Edwin Minnich, by virtue of their victory in the Junior contest, will represent their class. The Seniors will be represented by Reba Topper, last year's winner Harold Rosen, and Robert Castetter.

John Wyle Named Editor; Board Sets Award Standards

Catharine Yerkes and Dorcas Haines Were Elected Associate Editors; Business Manager To Be Selected

At the regular monthly meeting of the Albrightian Board of Control, several important matters were discussed.

John Wyle was elected Editor-in-chief, Dorcas Haines and Catharine Yerkes as Associate Editors. The Business Manager will be elected in the near future.

It was decided that the gold award, in the form of a staff key, would be made for three years' service, and the silver award for two years' service. The awards will be based on the individual merit of the student and sanctioned by the Board of Control.

Next year the financial department of the Albrightian will be in charge of the Treasurer of the of Board Control.

Y. W. C. A. NAMES OFFICERS; P. A. T. SORORITY LEADS WEDNESDAY MEETING

A short skit, "Queer People" was presented by Jean Rosenkrantz, Marjorie Begleiter, Ruth Hicks, and Florence Howell.

The Y. W. C. A. Conference of the Middle Atlantic Division will be held at Hilltop, near Philadelphia. Delegate to this conference will be chosen later.

REV. G. F. SCHAUM TO LEAD PRAYER WEEK SERVICES; Y. M. C. A. SELECTS OFFICERS

The Week of Prayer which is conducted each year by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s. will be held April 19 and 20. The Rev. G. F. Schaum will be the speaker for the occasion. This year the Week of Prayer will consist of lectures by Rev. Schaum in the morning and evening of each day.

A more extensive program had been planned; however this was impossible because of the quarantine and other existing conditions.

Both the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. are anxious that the student body cooperate in observing this week at Albright.

The Y. M. C. A. elected its officers for the coming year on Tuesday evening April 11, in the Chapel. The results of the election were as follows: Pres. Otho Hoofnagle; co-Vice Pres. Edwin Minnich and Lester Stabler; Sec. Kenneth Bergtresser and Treas. Paul Fye.

Senior Exercises Scheduled; Alumni Day Sat., June 10th

Rev. J. W. Thompson To Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon; Prof. Roosen To Write Alumni Pageant

The members of the Senior Class are already engaged in making plans for Commencement Week. A prominent speaker has been secured for the Commencement Exercises to be held Monday, June 12. The exercises will take place in the auditorium of North-east Junior High School at 11 o'clock.

The committee for Class Night is planning a program entirely different from those of other years. Class Night will probably be Friday, June 9, and every member of the Senior Class will participate in the program.

Saturday, June 10, will be Alumni Day, and the usual Alumni Pageant will be presented. The theme of the pageant this year will be Spanish and Prof. George Roosen is in charge of writing the production.

On Sunday morning, June 11, the Baccalaureate Service will be held in Emmanuel Evangelical Church. Rev. J. W. Thompson, of Lewisburg will preach the baccalaureate sermon.

COUNCIL APPROVES CLUB CONSTITUTION; PLANS TO BETTER SCHOOL SPIRIT

At the Student Council meeting, Tuesday, the constitution of the newly organized Varsity A Club was presented and approved by the members. Membership in this organization is open to athletes having two letters in major sports or one in a major sport and one in a minor sport. The purpose of the club is to promote better fellowship among athletes and improve their scholastic standing.

The contract for the standard college ring was read by the secretary. It was decided that the company should send a copy of the ring to be put on display in the Book-Store.

Mimeographed copies of the Constitution of the Student Council were presented to the members. These copies will be kept on file in the college office.

The new Albright spirit, which developed during the recent quarantine, was discussed. One of the ways for making this spirit permanent was a well-balanced social program planned for the entire year.

Class nominations of Student Council members for next year will be held in the latter part of April.

PROF. HAMILTON WRITES DOCTORATE ARTICLE

Professor Milton W. Hamilton, Head of the Department of History of Albright College, is the author of an article "The Spread of the Newspaper Press in New York Before 1830," in the April number of NEW YORK HISTORY, the quarterly journal of the New York State Historical Association. The article is based on research being done by Professor Hamilton for the doctorate at Columbia University, and is illustrated by a sketch map of the State, showing the westward movement of the printing press in ten year periods. It was presented to the Historical Association at its annual meeting last October.

EDITORIALS

A FINAL WORD

As we step out from the position of editor of the school paper we wish to leave a few closing words with our readers. A word of appreciation is due to all those who, during the past term, have offered kind services and rendered assistance at various times. We are also grateful to all persons who have comprised our faithful readers and have been constructive critics. So to all to whom it is due we say "Thanks."

When we assumed the control of the paper's production we had very decisive aims to be followed or accomplished. Conditions beyond our control made some of the aims and plans unattainable and are yet to be desired. Difficulties in the mechanics of production are still present and much improvement is possible. Our dream of smooth-working, systematic, clock-like methods in the production of each issue still remains as an aim worthy to be gained. Though conditions were not ideal, our staff made the best of things as they were and over-looked no available assets for improvement.

A word for the future. We have supreme confidence in the coming ALBRIGHTIAN. Few staff members graduate, leaving a good supply of experienced staff members, a fact which forecasts a well-written paper. The leadership of THE ALBRIGHTIAN has been placed in far more capable hands than ours and we predict decisive improvement in the all-around effectiveness of the future Albright weekly.

With a word of appreciation to the staff for their consistent support and earnest efforts, we bring our term to its end.

"SING ANOTHER CHORUS, PLEASE"

The above might be applied to any and every rendition of our Alma Mater. Believe it or not, students, there is a second verse to our Alma Mater, and it would no doubt sound as well as the first. For some unknown reason this second stanza is seldom sung and the refrain is repeated to give decent length to our Alma Mater.

Let's begin a custom of rendering our Alma Mater in complete form. Oh yes, this means one must learn the second verse, something new to most of us. Seriously, let's sing ALL of our Alma Mater at the very next opportunity.

A PERFECT CRISIS

For the first time since we have been setting forth our views in these columns we wish to indirectly say a word in our own behalf, but more so for the benefit of those who will follow. There is a movement at present to make the Albrightian a bi-monthly paper next year. To say that we oppose this step is putting it mildly. There is absolutely NO reason why a college with the student enrollment of Albright should not have a student weekly. The fact that many other small colleges have weeklies with special editions conclusively proves this. Financial conditions at these schools are no different than ours.

We feel that Albright does not realize the part which a student paper can play and the worthwhile use to which our paper could be placed. Do you realize that this year the only consistent outlet for student literary or journalistic effort has been THE ALBRIGHTIAN? Why deplore the low standard of Albright writing when we fail to use, or even encourage the little means which are available? By the use of alternating staffs approximately fifty students could do journalistic work. This year our pleas for candidates have been met by a deadly indifference and this lethargy will be present as long as our college maintains its present attitude toward its student weekly. Alumni, the administration and students can all be served by a live paper and can also use it to their own advantage. Staff work is excellent writing practice and staff membership should almost be a requisite for English majors and minors. The old literary societies have disappeared and practically alone remains the college paper. And we talk retrenchment! It is to the college's best interests to stimulate, foster, guide, and, yes, practically compel the production of a first rate college weekly.

Why not concentrate all efforts to place THE ALBRIGHTIAN at the top next year. We have supreme confidence in the staff and feel that with coaching, some real journalists would be developed. The actual production of the paper will present the least difficulty. Finances, alumni subscriptions, circulation and a staff room are the central paper projects which will necessitate interested and wide awake attention and supervision. The crisis is here and only two paths are open, constructive building or gradual decay. We sincerely hope it will be the former.

LITERARY

(Rudolf Shook, '33)

I can't think of anything to write about—the only interesting new book, E. M. Delafield's The Provincial Lady in London I have as yet been unable to get. Garbo is in Sweden and nothing happens during this season — so I'll have declaim about Katherine Hepburn. Miss Hepburn, my Vanity Fair informs me is the "logical successor to the Garbo Godhead." It adds, rather inadequately, that she is "young, crisp, and confident" and came to the stage from Bryn Mawr, via a stock company. "For a while she played understudies to stars who never missed a performance, and got brief roles from which she was always fired during the process of rehearsal. Two years ago, she was cast for the lead in The Warrior's Husband, one of those miraculous flashes of fortune. As a result of her success in that play she was given a picture contract. Her first film, A Bill of Divorcement, was a distinguished personal triumph. She was made a star and given a fine year contract. She has just finished her second picture, The Great Desire, from the novel Christopher Strong."

This vital information is topped by a picture of a bad-tempered young lady called "Heppie" who looks rather like a very young rural maid with freckles, on unchiseled nose and a big, sulking mouth. This is, presumably, Miss Hepburn in the raw. When one sees her cinema photographs she is quite unlike this, for more dazzling, yet the amazing thing about her is that even like this she completely wrecks you. She copies Garbo, yet she is a younger, more with-in-range Garbo. She has that much advertised quality called glamour, yet something more. Next to Garbo, she is the most intriguing woman in pictures. I realize now she's quite indescribable, after being nasty all season, to make my swan-song in a blaze of sweetness and light. I may again approve of something, the beautiful modern love song, Night and Day, from Gay Divorce. I have not asked Prof. Hunt whether it is music or not, and I don't much care. It is the most interesting popular song since Dancing in the Dark. The beating repetition of a few notes through it is most effective and while to some viewpoints it may even seem unmelodious, I think there is something naked about it that really means something. The words, quite unusually, are good, and a perfect accompaniment to the sound, Cole Porter, who also wrote Fifty Million Frenchmen, wrote both. I don't know anything about music, but, as some defiant soul once said, I do know what I like.

(I can see I'm quite unskilled in this sort of thing, and am growing dimmer all the time, so I'll stop before it's too late.)

Epilogue: I thank those of you who have ever read my column.

PI GAMMA MU TO HOLD INITIATION BANQUET

Pi Gamma Mu, the national honorary Social Science Society, will hold its fifth annual Initiation Banquet on Friday, May 5, 6:30 P. M. at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel. The following initiates will be honored with membership: Prof. Evans, Sara E. Hoffman, Wilson Carvel, Leroy Briningner, Harry Nengel, Sara Myers, George Deininger, John Fay and Clyde Mullen.

The banquet speaker will be Hon. Paul Schaeffer, President Judge of Berks County, on the topic "Law as a Social Science."

The Albright Science Club will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening at 7:00 P. M. Every member is urged to be present to vote on candidates for membership. The program will be of an informal nature under the direction of the program committee.

TO M.—FUTILITY

Tears that I shed for you
 Are like the queer glassy eyes
 Of one who sits and stares
 Out a window
 Into the empty night—
 Straining his sightless vision
 To see, and missing not a thing,
 Because there is nothing to be seen.
 But, being blind, he does not know—

GUINEA PIGS

In the lee of the laboratory wall
 Where they get their daily rations,
 I heard the guinea-pigs, great and small
 Comparing inoculations.
 Said guinea pig One, as pert and vain
 As a girl in hat from Paris:
 "Your pardon, friends, if I seem insane,
 But I'm full of B Vulgaris."
 Said guinea pig Two: "You may shortly see
 A paper with me for a basis *
 As the living and breathing epitome
 Of virulent B. Anthracis."
 Said guinea pig Three: "A mammoth debt
 The science of medicine owes us
 Why look at me and the way I get
 With doses of B. Typhosus.
 Then guinea pigs both of lean effect
 And guinea pigs short and stocky
 Agreed "We are all of the high elect
 For we're primed with Streptococci."

Student Opinion

What is this thing that we call school spirit? I overheard someone say that they thought it was the "swinging of arms while they sang the Alma Mater, with the exception that it should be sung as was the "Stein ong" sung during quarantine.

Another tells me that maybe the "spirit comes in bottles, and that anytime, we can buy the sort of spirit we desire, that is, according to the price we want to pay."

Who's this coming? Why, it's the president of the student body. I think I'll ask him about it. "Well, to begin with, I don't think we ought to kid ourselves into the artificial sort of spirit. When we rah-rah, we surely ought to do it for a definite purpose, and not as an outlet for some senseless and surplus energy to work up the surrounding atmosphere."

Then along comes another of our pals. He tells us in perfect frankness that he believes "SPIRIT" an undefinable word, and even if it could be, it would be purely relative. Nevertheless there is a spirit, and if we can't see it, we should really try earnestly to find it, and thus, to become intimately acquainted with our college, so devotedly that we can and will have a more confined interest in her varied activity."

Our editor calls it "the active participation in and support of the various activities of the college, and the expression of our derived benefits in our conduct."

Few people have seriously asked themselves this question, yet, we feel we know its value in all its entirety. A true school spirit does not consist merely in dreaming or visualizing but in work that helps to bring about the hoped for results.

It is partly true what some have said: "The spirit is something we had during quarantine which we don't seem to have now" yet we must agree that a true spirit such as could be developed on Albright campus is "that dynamic that urges and enables student cooperation, integrating the best values existent in a college community."

These definitions are but the mutterings of a living spirit that lies within. Albright's spirit is not dead, it sleazeth. Just so much will a spirit benefit a college if it first is beneficial to the individual. What does it mean to you?

COLLEGIANA

With the permission we reprint the following letter written by a student as Lehigh:

"R. S. V. P.
 "Dear Mary: You are one of the three girls I am considering for Fall House Party this year. Without trying to be facetious, but merely frank, may I enquire how much of your own expenses you would be willing to pay, and whether or not you would consider it politic for me to pay your transportation? Do you think corsets are still fashionable? Does your father allow you the use of the family car?"

"Inasmuch as you three girls are all eligible, I am afraid I shall have to allow your responses to these questions to decide my choice. I am sure you will have a lovely time if you persuade me that the other two are expensive.
 "Love and best wishes—Eddie."

A professor of psychology at Sierra College required his students to swallow a wet wad of absorbent-cotton in order to demonstrate that pangs of hunger are caused by the walls of the stomach rubbing against each other.

Found in the Dickinsonian: Freshmen flee before the advance of mysterious maiden in Conway Hall. Conway is the dormitory for male freshmen and the presence of a female in the sacred domain of the freshmen is strictly forbidden. One of the upper classmen, disguised in female attire, entered the hall. Freshmen peered from the doors and were heard to gasp, "Oh, Bill, come here quick." "She has nerve." About this time the proctor appeared. The disguised student with hips awaying all the more, advanced on the proctor who retired to his room beyond all approach. All fear of this mysterious stranger was dispersed when someone discovered its big feet, but for the speed of which the upper classmen might have been seriously mangled.

A Wisconsin professor has come to the defense of "cramming." He maintains that material learned rapidly is retained better than that gained after hours of application.

It was recently discovered at the University of Michigan that smoking cools one's fingers and toes from one to nine degrees, but at the same time it increases one's blood pressure and pulse rate.

A college professor in a large mid-western university recently stated that the college man of today has but three desires: the pigskin, the sheepskin, and the skin you love to touch.

Allegheny college laments the fact that Darwin was not a woman. It took him a thousand years or more to make a man out of a monkey and "She" can make a monkey out of a man in a split second. Say are you telling me.

EVOLUTION

The freshman is a funny creature
 A problem to most any teacher:
 So simple, young and dumb, withal,
 'Tis wonderful, he lives at all.

A sophomore is not much better,
 Or shall we say a better petter?

The junior still is just a crust
 He's merely got a little bust.

The senior is a funny feller
 And though he thinks he's quite a heller
 He's simple, young and dumb withal
 I marvel that he lives at all.

When you first saw this
 You, like other suckers,
 Thought it was a poem,
 But we beg to say—
 It's not!

SPORTLIGHTS

LeRoy Garrigan

Handicapped by bad weather and a late start, the aspiring young Cobba, Paddocks, and Tildens are practicing diligently to be prepared for the opening of the Spring sports program. The veteran baseball team swings into action first when it meets the Hebron nine on April 22. The cinder and court stars do not meet opponents until April 26. East Stroudsburg State Teachers College furnishes the opposition for both teams, the track meet being held in East Stroudsburg and the tennis match on Reading courts.

Not only are we of Albright College fortunate in having athletics this Spring when many colleges are cancelling all Spring sports, but also are we fortunate in having three veteran teams which promise a most successful season. Al Dittman's veteran tracksters will meet their supreme test at the Central Pennsylvania Class B Meet which they hope to annex for the third time thus giving the Class B trophy, a permanent position at Albright. Four veterans form the nucleus of captain Matz's tennisers and with a wealth of available material on deck the tennis cohorts can predict nothing but a successful season. We shall be greatly disappointed if catcher-captain Larry Hatton does not lead his team through a practically perfect season.

Although basketball is hibernating till next winter, it is not inopportune to congratulate "Jimmy" Oslislo and "Radio" DeFranco who were placed on the first all-star quintet of the Eastern Pennsylvania Collegiate Basketball League. Big "Bob" Shippe was also honored with a position on the second all-star team. The two former lads have been elected to co-captain the Red and White five next season. Watch those Lions go after the championship next year! Will they win it? Foolish question No. 394861

Have you noticed how busy John "Fog" Smith has been? His latest duty was that of nurse-maid! The fellows are sincerely grateful for the pains Johnny has taken to provide campus sports for all, including basketball, volleyball, and baseball leagues. His latest wrinkle will be an inter-fraternity track meet. We would also like to congratulate Coach Smith for the fine manner in which he handled his position as president of the E. P. C. B. L.

Keep your eyes peeled for this inter-fraternity track-meet on April 19! Critics predict that the death-alon A. P. O. Champion, "Moon" Mullen, will find a worthy opponent in MacMillan, pride of the "angel factory." No hard feelings, and may the best man win!

SENIOR CLASS TO PLANT TREE FRIDAY MORNING

On Friday, April 21st at ten o'clock, the annual custom of planting a tree by the Senior Class on the campus, will take place. A flowering ash is the tree selected and along the Science Building walk will be the place. The program will consist of the singing of the Alma Mater, a prayer and the reading of a poem. The tree will be presented by Russell Bonney and accepted by the Dean, after which one shovelful of ground will be added by each Senior. The Committee in charge includes Mark Matz, Edith Smith and Maurice Male.

We cannot wish for that we know not.—Voltaire.
Virtue alone is the unerring sign of a noble soul.—Boileau.
Whoever lives true life will love true love.—Browning.

Nine Prepares For Saturday Opener

Prospects Bright With Veteran Material; Fresh Team Also Look Good

With their first scheduled game drawing near, the varsity tossers have been working out daily on the stadium diamond. Coach Johnny Smith has been practically fortunate in losing only one regular of last year's winning nine, and looks forward to another good season. Practice so far has consisted mainly in batting, and a crop of hitters have been rattling them off the wall consistently. The pitching staff is exceptionally strong this year, consisting of "Luke" Wenrich, "Bo" Brookes, "Joe" Betz and "Mac" McNaughton. The infield will present last year's line-up, namely, Oslislo, Orr DeFranco, and Hino; and the battle for a catching post is being waged by Captain Larry Hatton, Tom Hepler, Charlie Karlovich and Truck Yentch. The regular outfield will be chosen from Johnny Fromm, Franny Hatton, Irish Conway and Tom Halderman, all of whom are rated as sluggers as well as outfielders of no mean ability.

This year's schedule is exceptionally tough, since seven out of ten battles will be played on foreign pastures. The line-up of games is as follows:

- April 22—Hebron A. C.—Lebanon.
- May 1—Temple—Philadelphia.
- May 6—Lebanon Valley—Away.
- May 9—Ursinus—Home.
- May 12—Bucknell—Away.
- May 13—Juniata—Away.
- May 17—Drexel—Away.
- May 20—Mt. t. Mary—Away.
- May 27—Gettysburg—Home.
- June 3—Lebanon Valley—Home.

The freshmen also look forward to a good season, with a large squad of promising players. Infield candidates are Ehrhart, Hinkle, Peretti, Woods, Snyder, Doyle and Fitzipaldi. The pitching staff consists of Fely, Jacobac, and Carponis, Outfielders are Hornish, Bernard, K. Flotts and Jefferson. Catchers are H. Plotts and Sholl. Coach Smith feels that the freshmen are due for a good year, since they have showed up well against the varsity in several practice tussles. We feel that with such a squad of real ball players the Lions will again bring home the bacon.

Varsity Track Team Rounds Into Shape

Hope To Gain Permanent Possession of Cup and Rank Class A

Due to the inclement weather, the track practice has been hampered, but will soon get under way.

We compete this year for the trophy which is in the library, and which will become a permanent possession of the school if we win this year. Winning this cup means that we advance to Class A and compete with schools such as Bucknell, Gettysburg, Franklin and Marshall, Muhlenberg, Ursinus and Dickinson. At present we compete with Class B teams as Drexel, Juniata and Susquehanna.

Our chance of winning depends on the ability of the old men to retain first place. It is also hoped that there will be new material developed from the inter-fraternity meet, which will fill the vacancies on the varsity squad. Left from last year are: Dittman who handles the shot put and the discus, Goss, the javelin, discus and shot, Shippe, the high jump, broad jump and pole vault, Bartholomew, middle distance and half-mile run, Oslislo dashes latesta, low hurdles, dashes, and Cooper the 440-yd. dash.

The schedule is as follows:
April 26—East Stroudsburg—Away.
May 6—Shippensburg—Home.
May 10—West Chester—Away.
May 20—Central Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Meet—Away.

Racquetees Have Bright Prospects

Tennis Strength Expected of New Students; Opener With East Stroudsburg

Albright's Tennis Team, which is now in the process of formation for the season of 1933, seems to be headed for a campaign as nearly successful as the crack 1932 squad, which turned in ten victories out of eleven starts. Last year, under the leadership of Jeff Snader, the racquetees trounced such sterling competition as Lebanon Valley, Muhlenberg, and East Stroudsburg, each twice; and split two matches with Villanova.

The Red and White will no doubt miss the services of Captain Snader and Allan MacCarroll who played at numbers three and two in the singles and teamed to form number two spot in doubles play. Both of these stars graduated with the Class of June, 1932, but Captain Mark Matz feels that he will have adequate replacements by April 24, when the squad plays the first match against East Stroudsburg. Great things are expected of Ray Hoffman, Harold Brossman, Leroy Garrigan, and Ronald Snyder. Hoffman is a Sophomore transfer from the University of Pennsylvania, while the other three boys are Freshmen.

Four members of last year's squad are at hand. Herb Oritsky, third ranking Junior in Eastern tennis, Berks County, Junior and Senior Champion for 1932, and one of the best racket-wielders ever to represent Albright College, will of course be at his customary first position. The redhead lost only two tiffs last Spring, and later revenged both losses. Captain Claude Dummoye, Lebanon Valley, and Captain Sol Burman, of Villanova, were the only players to turn in victories over Albright's Freshman ace. With Captain Matz, Stewart Wick, and Willard Burger, all of whom proved their ability last year, Albright College should surely cut a large swath in 1933 inter-collegiate tennis.

Initial Inter-Frat. Track Meet Friday

Winners To Qualify for Varsity Cinder Team; Leg Trophy for Team Winner

The inter-fraternity track meet which was to be held Wednesday April 19 has been changed to Friday April 21 and Monday, April 24. This action was taken by the faculty in order to avoid any conflicts with class work. This meet will be held previous to the Varsity meets in order to give any one who shows ability an opportunity to occupy a position on the Varsity squad. Coach White feels that there is plenty of hidden material in the school which will reveal itself during this meet.

The prize, a leg trophy, will be awarded to the Fraternity scoring the most points. Varsity Lettermen are not eligible to compete, but will act as officials. Organizations may enter no more than two men in any event. The contestants may enter any number of events they desire. Scoring will be determined by 5-3-1 point system. The I. C. A. 4 rules will govern the meet. The schedule is as follows:

CHESSMEN TERMINATE SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Albright Chess Team is nearing the close of its 1932-33 schedule. This season has been one of the most successful in the history of chess at Albright College.

The season opened with a practice game with the team of Reading High School. This match was easily won by the collegians. There then followed a tournament with the Drexel team. Again the Red and White came out on top. The final score stood at three to two. The same day in Philadelphia the Albright team came to grips with the exceptionally strong team of Temple. Although Albright's men could not win they were highly elated to have the match end in a draw.

The fourth game of the season found its setting in Reading. Again the Temple team was the opponent, but the results were not the same. This time Albright representatives came out on top by a three-two score.

The last match of the season will be played in the near future. The Drexel team will supply the opposition. Having suffered one defeat at the hands of the Albright team, the Philadelphia lads are determined to even the season.

As a reward for faithful service on the chess team, and to all those who have competed in three inter-collegiate tournaments a special and unique honor is given to such members. All those meeting such requirements will have their names engraved on the beautiful chess table in the Administration building. Until the final match of the season is played it will be impossible to list such members who will receive this award. However, this year will find more names engraved on the table than ever before.

PROF. HUNT CONCLUDES UNEMPLOYED LECTURES

Prof. Hunt's Monday talk on "Music Appreciation" brought the series of unemployed lectures to an end. Dean Walton announced that, the reduced attendance and the necessity of the various professors making up the regular classwork lost by compulsory quarantine, justified this action. Unemployed are still permitted to visit the regular day classes as they did previously.

a bridge tournament conducted in the various dormitories on the campus. Jan came up onto the scene with his act which was well received.

Saturday night the habitual moviegoers were not obliged to forgo their usual pleasure. Four feature movies were presented in the dining room consisting of several reels of war pictures and three comedies: Albright College, Ben Turpin and Harry Langdon. Jan was there too.

A worship service of a type all its own, was held in the College chapel, on Sunday morning, as well as a Vesper service at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Special music formed a large part of these services which were inspirational in nature. After an attractive buffet supper the chairs were arranged around the fireplace in the dining room and everyone joined in an old fashioned "Sing" by the light of candles.

Stunt night was introduced into the activities of the College on Tuesday night. Every group on the campus was represented in some sort of a performance. An excellent one act play began the program. A trumpet solo, impersonations, jokes, vocal selections, tricks, and a Mock wedding were other features of the evening. The program was presented in the chapel with continued festivities in the dining room.

The climax of the quarantine was reached when it ended with a banquet on Wednesday noon. The victims of strict quarantine were present which completed the group. Professor Horn, in his accustomed place as master of ceremonies, asked several students for reactions on quarantine. Favorable responses were given with various suggestions as to an annual voluntary quarantine and measures to keep the revived spirit alive. The singing of the Alma Mater and Blot Be the Tie that Binds, with joined hands, marked the end of the quarantine.

The desire to cooperate was never shown to a greater extent on any campus and the feeling is contagious. The close fellowship has brought about new social activities on the campus. A committee is being formed to help perpetuate the revived and new-found spirit, and to sponsor an atmosphere of sociability and good fellowship on the campus. The quarantine has worked wonders for the good of campus life at Albright.

He who has once been very foolish will on no other time be very wise.—Montaigne.

That is a good book which is opened with expectation and closed with profit.—Alcott.

For variety of fmeere nothings gives more pleasure than uniformity of something.—Richter.

... THE COLLEGE MEN'S TELEPHONE HOUR!

HERE'S a college tradition that's one of the best... "Half past eight is the time to telephone home!" It's not in the Freshman handbook; it's not in the Rules. But here's the reason for its popularity:

At 8:30 P. M. low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. These are calls for a telephone (like a local call) and NOT for a specific person.

Take advantage of the saving—just give the operator your home telephone number. The folks are probably at home at 8:30 P. M. But best of all, and to make doubly sure, keep a regular date to telephone home each week. Then you can always make use of the inexpensive Station to Station service.

Who's Who

JOHN H. BELL

Presenting Mr. John Bell, genial red-head who spends most of his time alternating between the Science Hall, the A. P. O. dorm and Selwyn Hall—which he visits at meal-times. He is a member of the Senior Class, holder of a Gold "A" and prominent in many campus activities.

John hails from Windber and was a graduate of the high school there. Despite the fact that he comes from the western part of the state, he has an intense interest in the eastern city of York. He is one of Prof. Horn's prize pupils in the Science Department and is preparing to enter dental school.

This energetic red-head is most active in campus affairs. He was president and manager of the band for the past two years. Last year he served as secretary of the A. P. O. fraternity and this year he was vice-president. During his Junior year he was a member of the Albrightian Board of Control, and this year he is president of the board and has made some very fine innovations. He has been a member of Skul and Bones for the past two years.
